Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

This is election year—a mighty good reason for being sure you have that poll tax receipt before the deadline, January 31. We missed the tax collector's crew when they were in Munday several weeks ago, due to our forgetfulness and a glance at our finances at the time, so it necessitated a quick hop to Benjamin for the purpose of paying taxes.

This we did last Monday. Although in a pretty big hurry, we got wind of some political activities soon to be shaping up. So our guess is that the man and woman who pays out the $1.75 for a poll tax receipt will get value received, come election time.

Most every year, whether an off-political year or not, usually gives us something to vote for—and it's a privilege we like to exercise most of the time, and one in which most everyone should take a certain amount of pride. The freedom of voting exactly as you desire does not exhibit in every place in the world.

Going over to Benjamin, we noticed cattle kicking up the dust as they walked over the wheat fields in search for some sort of grazing. We noticed tractors raising a big dust as farmers continue putting land into shape to receive that good rain we hope to get sometime. So it's not at all surprising that people's minds are on the weather and when it's going to rain, rather than future politics.

Chances are, however slim at the present, that we'll have both rain and politics before the July primary. With several offices in both county and state level to be hotly contested, we still think that $1.75 for a poll tax receipt will be money well spent. But do it before January 31.

Another campaign is under way this month, but it is much deeper than political. It's the March of Dimes drive, a campaign to raise money to fight infantile paralysis, or polio. Great strides have been made in combating this disease, among which is the Salk polio vaccine, but we still have polio and the threat of polio and need funds to carry on the fight.

Mrs. L. A. Parker of Benjamin, who is county chairman for this drive, has her community chair selected and ready to carry these little jars, placards, and out inviting you to help in this fight. Knox County always have, and they will have, too.

Looks like this will be a year of further diversification. Reports are that this area will a title over double its acreage in puds, with around 285 acres being planted. Then the possibilities of increased acreage in watermelons and cantaloupes are in prospect, with maybe some farms planting the lowly blackeyed peas. Most of these are crops at come off in early summer, with money therefrom coming in the tills when it's most needed. Farmers should be thinking of these possibilities.

WING FESTIVAL, REACHING SERVICE HELD ON SATURDAY

Some 33 relatives and friends assembled in the J. B. Goggans home on Saturday night, January 7, for a song festival and preaching service.

Preaching was by Elder Ramon Inch, after which sacred and fresh songs were sung for about two hours—songs that our hers and mothers sang long ago.

The occasion was enjoyed by anyone present and promoted good will and friendship among friends from Dallas to Commerce, Texas.

M. A. Bumpas Seeks Re-election As Tax Official

M. A. Bumpas, Jr., on Tuesday authorized the Munday Times to make public his announcement for re-election to the office of tax assessor and collector of Knox County, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primaries. His statement follows:

"I am deeply grateful for the privilege of serving you as your tax assessor and collector, and my first desire is to express to you my appreciation for the confidence and support given me and for the many pleasant associations with the citizenship of Knox County. Whatever measure of success I may have had, I owe much of it to the fine co-operation of the people of this county.

"With the capable assistance of my deputies, I have endeavored to render efficient and courteous service. I have made mistakes, and I will probably make others; but I believe that the experience I have gained has better qualified me for the office. The office belongs to you, and it is only at your hands that I can expect to continue my service.

"If you feel that I am worthy and the record I have made merits my continuance in office, I will greatly appreciate your vote and influence in the coming primaries. As time and the duties of office will permit, I plan to make as intensive a campaign as possible in order to thank you personally for your past support and to solicit your continued friendship and support."

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

Plans are coming along good for the Knox County Junior Livestock Show which will be held on Saturday, January 21, 1956.

The show will be held in Munday this year. Jack Bourlan, one of the top livestock judges of the state will be on hand to place the classes. Mr. Bourlan is with Swift & Co. of Fort Worth.

The show is expected to be one of the largest held in the county with about 185 head of lambs, 22 head of nurse fed beef steers and 15 head of fat barrows.

As many of you know the first County Soils Testing Laboratory in the state has been established at Seymour. With the coming of irrigation and a more wide-spread use of commercial fertilizers I think this laboratory can be of great service to farmers and ranchers in our county. The soils test can't tell us when it is going to rain, but it can tell us the exact amounts of soil nutrients we have and how much fertilizer is needed to produce a good crop under average conditions. This will greatly help to take the guess work out of fertilizing.

Open house is being held at the laboratory on Friday, January 13, starting at 9:00 a. m. I think it would be of interest to all farmers to see just how the soil samples are run. Everyone is invited to attend this open house any time Friday.

I would like very much for a car load or two of you to go with me to the opening. I plan to leave the courthouse about 8:30 a. m. and I would like for anyone interested in going to meet with me at that time.

They are asking you to send in your contribution of your own accord if not contacted.

Soil Testing Laboratory At Seymour To Hold Formal Opening On January 13

Ceremonies marking the formal opening of the new Baylor County Soil Testing Laboratory, located in the City Hall at Seymour, are scheduled for 9 a. m. on January 13. Baylor County Agent Roy L. McClung is to be in charge of the lab with Mrs. Mary Boone serving as technician.

According to M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, the new facility is equipped to make the same soil tests as the State Laboratory at College Station. These include organic matter, available potash, phosphorus and lime, harmful salts, pH or soil reaction and available nitrogen is estimated from the organic matter. The fee for testing will be the same as that charged by the State Lab, $1.00.

Local finances made the laboratory possible. It was located at Seymour to better serve farmers and ranchmen in the area which covers some 15 to 20 counties. "It was the belief of those working for the establishment of the lab," says Thornton, "that soil testing should be the basis for programs which are aimed at soil improvement."

Taking part in the opening ceremonies, which will be held at the laboratory, will be Thornton, Director G. G. Gibson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, District Extension Agent J. A. Scofield and local representatives who had a part in establishing the facility in Seymour.

Those interested in seeing another way in which science works for the farmer are given a special invitation to be present for the program and see the equipment which is required for soil testing work.

TOO HIGH A PRICE

The Herald, of Brownsville, Texas, has printed a thoughtful editorial on the farm problem and its political repercussions. It touches on the situation facing livestock producers and other farmers, and on the varied stratagems with which the major political parties are seeking to gain the farm vote. Then it says: "Certainly we would like to see some system which will insulate agriculture against catastrophic drops in net income. Above that, however, our farmers generally feel that our best bet lies in free and untrammelled production. We know that any government program which attempts to maintain prices through artificial juggling of the laws of supply and demand and interlocking price relationships inevitably brings with it some type of production or marketing controls.

"This in turn hamstringing the productive genius of our farmers and removes the privileges of adapting our production and distribution methods to the demands of the market place. This is too high a price to pay in order to assure the prosperity of some farmers."

It could be added that the kind of "prosperity" that government aid and controls produces is a frail reed indeed, subject as it is to the ever-changing political winds. And it is certainly evident that the taxpayers of the country cannot forever subsidize farm production which goes into storage, not consumption. The bill for that now has run far into the billions and the whole surplus problem is extremely critical.

The ultimate solution to the farm problem will be found within, not without, the world of agriculture itself. Political "solutions" usually just make bad matters worse.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Aledo, Ill., Times Record: "The combined CIO and AFL would be wise to see that they don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg. When factories shut down, strikes and wage demands seem pretty puny. If business suffers, labor will suffer even more."

Anaheim, Calif., Bulletin: "It may be well for the public power forces to glance toward the State of Washington, long a citadel of their philosophy. Just recently the voters of Stevens county decisively rejected public power in favor of a private utility. The issue, briefly, was: should the private utility buy out the public utility district operations, or vice versa? The question of rates did not enter into the picture. It was strictly an ideological question—private enterprise vs. public control."

GOOD HEALTH TO YOU!

The vast economic progress that has taken place in this country in late years has been accompanied by comparable and perhaps even more spectacular progress in another vitally important field—the public health.

A Newsweek article sums it up in this fashion: "Thousands of American citizens who would hardly have had a prayer of surviving a mere ten years ago are alive and well today.

"That simple fact tells the wondrous story of how medical progress has helped shape a new America since the second world war. During four wartime years, American medicine advanced 25 years. More startling still, in the postwar decade of great prosperity, medical research has brought about the greatest progress in health ever compressed into such a span of time.

"The result is that most of the onetime killers have been robbed of their terror. Any hour, any day, a new solution may be found for a problem that has baffled centuries of scientists. It is literally true, as a famous medical man said. . . that 'the longer you live, the better your chance to live longer.'"

The American people owe a debt of lasting gratitude to the doctors and other scientists who have been responsible for this magnificent achievement—and who are now working against the killers which have not yet been conquered. And the American people should not forget that it all has been done under a system of free medicine and free research—not a system of socialization or government domination.

GOVERNMENT WINS AGAIN

The government hit the jackpot again on December 6.

On that occasion, an attractive young woman Ph. D. won $64,000 on the enormously popular TV show, "The $64,000 Question." She did this by answering an almost incredibly difficult series of questions concerning boxing, all the way from ancient Roman gladiatorial days to the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

Just how much she must pay in income taxes can't be detailed exactly. However, a single person with an income of $4,000 who won the $64,000 would have a tax bill not far short of $40,000. Inasmuch as the young woman winner is a practicing psychologist and her husband is a medical doctor, it may be presumed that the $64,000 will push their total taxable income into extremely high levels. Yes, the government is the real winner!

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

CAN WE AGREE?

ONE LORD
Next, we are in agreement—there is ONE LORD, the Son of the living God. All who believe in the New Testament believe in the one Lord. The same author, Paul, in the same book, Ephesians, in the same chapter, 4—who declared there is one God, also revealed in verse 5 there is one Lord. We are in agreement that he is the only mediator between God and man. There are many speculations about Christ, but speculations about truth will never save any body. We must agree that the Lord Jesus is the one foundation of all faith and hope. The belief of this great truth, that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, if followed out completely will save the sinner.

ONE SPIRIT
Not only are we in agreement that there is one Christ and Lord, but we must agree there is ONE HOLY SPIRIT, the comforter, who inspired all the prophets and apostles—the Spirit of all truth and all divine revelation! Why do we agree? Because the same inspired author, who declared there is one God and one Lord, also in the same letter, the same chapter and verse 4, declared there is one Spirit. No one, who believes the New Testament, speaks of two HOLY SPIRITS. We are in agreement—there is one!

ONE BODY
Our agreement continues, if we believe the Bible. There is ONE BODY of Christ. Again, the same author, in the same book, chapter and verse, who declared there is one Spirit—also revealed there is one body. We must agree! The body of Christ is the church of Christ. The same inspired author, Paul, in the same letter to the Ephesians, chapter 1, verses 22 and 23, declared that the church is the body. We believe the word of God, therefore, we are in agreement. No person, regardless of how badly he may be perverted, speaks of the bodies of Christ, of the kingdoms of Christ. The Lord has one church—one body. To Peter, our Lord declared, Matt. 16:18, "Upon this rock I will build MY church." We agree the church belongs to Christ. Then why do we not always speak of it as such?

There is a church membership about which there is no doubt or dispute, that church membership consists of baptized believers. There is no disagreement about church membership of one who comes to Christ by faith and in obedience to the commands of Christ. Jesus commanded "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved", Mk. 16:16. Peter commanded, "Repent and be baptized for the remission of sins", Acts 2:38. The saved, whose sins have been remitted, are added to the Lord's church. Acts 2:47. Every one must agree that a person who is a true believer in Christ, who has repented of his sins and has been baptized into Christ, is a member of the Lord's church. We agree! Then there is no ground for disputation. The penitent, baptized believer is a member of the church of the Living God. No one will question that fact. Then, why should man take a chance on the destiny of their soul, when there is a way that is so right that it can not be wrong and I believe all are in agreement to that effect.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

On January 3rd, the second session of the 84th Congress convened. It will probably be several weeks before any legislation comes to the floor due to the fact that it will be necessary for the Committees to first pass on the various bills. A great deal of legislation has been held over from the last session. This is true of the amendments to the Natural Gas Act, the agricultural program, and others.

On January 5th, the President sent his annual message to Congress in which he outlined the Administration's legislative program for this session. The message was in very general terms and did not go into detail as to many of the programs that the Administration will advocate. The program, as outlined in this message, briefly is as follows: It calls for the enactment of a semi-permanent foreign aid program which would exist over a number of years, the passage of a Federal aid-to-education program and a Federal health insurance plan, the extension of the coverage of the Wage-Hour Law, the creation of a Federal commission to see that desegregation is carried out throughout the country, expansion of the public housing program, providing for a National highway system, balancing the Budget, the enactment of the new agricultural program, as well as maintaining substantially the same spending for National defense. There were, of course, many other items mentioned in the message; however, these were the most important ones.

Recently a Congressional Subcommittee has been holding hearings on the post-war trend in automation. The most disturbing thing among their findings was that this country is faced with a threatened shortage of scientists and technicians which could cost us our technological superiority in the world. The Committee found that professional engineers are being graduated in Russia at twice the rate they are in this country and that the Russians are turning out technicians at thirty to forty times the rate we are. The findings of this Committee have been confirmed by the Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Admiral Strauss, as well as the National Science Foundation. If we are to maintain our leadership in atomic development, it will be necessary that we encourage more and more of our young people to go into the scientific field and also provide more facilities where they can receive training.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

GIFTS — HOW MUCH DO THEY COST?

Since thoughts of gifts come quite naturally to mind during the Christmas season just passed, the subject of gift taxes may be a timely one. Although it may surprise some people, the federal government levies a tax which applies to gifts made by one person to another.

However, the government has no desire to tax ordinary birthday and Christmas gifts. The law therefore excludes from taxable gifts the first $3,000 given to each individual in each calendar year.

The law also excludes from taxable gifts, gifts to the church, community chest, and similar charitable organizations, and allows each given an exemption of $30,000—before the tax applies.

The tax applies whether the gift is of money or of property. If it is of property, the tax is computed in the fair market value of the property at the date of the gift.

The purpose of many gifts is to remove the property from the taxable estate of the giver at the time of his death. This may or may not be accomplished. The federal law provides that transfers made within three years before date of death shall be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death and shall be taxable in the estate of the one who dies.

It may be advisable to "look a gift horse in the mouth" for the gift may cost the one who receives the gift in income taxes as well as the giver in gift taxes.

For income tax purposes the cost basis of property received by gift is the cost to the giver regardless of the fact that the giver may have paid a gift tax on the gift. The other rule is that in case of property received by inheritance, the cost basis is the fair market value at the date of the decedent's death.

An example will show the application of the rules. Suppose a farmer acquired his land in the early days at a cost of $10,000. This property is now worth $50,000. The farmer wishes to retire and to escape estate taxes, so he gives the farm to his daughter.

Although he may pay federal gift taxes totaling several thousand dollars, when the daughter decides to sell the farm for its $50,000 value, she still has to pay income tax on $40,000 profit (difference between the sales price and her father's cost of $10,000.)

On the other hand, if the farmer had not given the farm to the daughter, but had left it to her under his will, he would have saved the gift tax. The daughter would have taken the property at a cost basis of $50,000, so upon

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — "Health examinations won't prevent old age, but many tens of thousands of persons, whose records of these examinations have been studied, have not only been helped to live longer, but also be sturdier and healthier, and enjoy more comfort and happiness by following the advice of the physicians who have made such examinations."

the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

declared Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health.

Once the individual leaves school, he assumes the responsibility not only for his choice of work and method of living, but also for his continued good health. But he often fails to apply the available methods of preventing disease and prolonging life. Hardly a day passes in which our attention is not called to the untimely death of some prominent person or acquaintance, which may be attributed to a preventable disease. So something should be done in the way of educating the adult group of the population, so they will voluntarily carry out those measures which prolong life and maintain good health.

It is our firm belief that if the diseases of the gastrointestinal tract, which includes the lips, tongue, teeth, mouth, stomach and bowels, are recognized in their early stage, their progress may be curtailed, adequate treatment advised, and many deaths prevented.

Today the medical profession realizes that many childhood diseases are now under control and that our present problem must center about the adult, encouraging periodic check-ups. Is semi-annual consultation with your physician too great a premium to pay for many years of additional life, freedom from suffering and consequently short periods of hospitalization?

the sale she would not have had to pay any income tax.

Of course, there would have been some estate taxes and administration expenses in the father's estate, but that would have been much less than the taxes which resulted from the gift. However, depending upon indi-

Miss Annette Brewer Marries Kenneth Stubblefield In December Church Rites

The First Baptist Church was the scene Tuesday evening, December 27, 1955, for the wedding ceremony read to unite Miss Annette Brewer and Kenneth Stubblefield in marriage. The Rev. Robert H. Lloyd officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brewer and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stubblefield, both of Munday.

Baskets of pink gladoli and an arch of greenery and gladioli formed the nuptial setting. Branched candelabra holding the burning tapers flanked the altar. Miss Charlotte Hannah was pianist and Mrs. Byron Frazier of Haskell, aunt of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me". White tapers marked the pews the entire length of the aisle to the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, A. M. Moore, was lovely in her frock of beige imported nylon lace of gardenia pattern over taffeta. The street length dress was a molded bodice with a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. It topped the full ruffled skirt of deeper shades of beige. Her accessories were amber and beige. She carried a white Bible topped with two purple throat orchids with white carnations and white satin love knots. For something old was a white gold bracelet set with rhinestones and pearls belonging to Mrs. Frazier. Something new was a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. Borrowed was the white Bible from Miss Sandra Stubblefield. She wore a blue garter and a penny in her shoe.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Stubblefield

Miss Shirley Hill attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a beige brocade cotton satin dress with brown accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rose buds.

Little Penny Metzger of Knox City, cousin of the groom was flower girl. She was fashioned in a white wool dress and carried a basket of sweetpeas. Master Gregory Kuehler, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Candle lighters were Miss Patsy Parks and Miss Sandy Stubblefield, sister of the groom.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts for the reception in the social hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with white net over satin. Pink bows of ribbons tied into love knots were scattered over the cloth. The cake of white with pink rose buds, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the table. The bouquets of the bride and maid of honor were on either side. Crystal holders and pink candles completed the decoration. Pink punch was served from a crystal service by Mrs. Glenn Ray Morrow, sister of the groom. Mrs. Wilburn May, sister of the bride, served the cake. Mrs. Everett Kuehler, sister of the bride, registered the guests.

Following the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip. For her going away suit the bride wore a brocade sheath dress of beige and gold cotton with a matching duster. She wore

Tax Information Days Being Held At Wichita Falls

Taxpayer information days in the Wichita Falls office are being held on each Monday, it was announced by C. B. Dixon, administrative officer in charge. These information days were started on January 9th.

The "do-it-yourself" program of group instruction which was so successful last year will be continued and improved, Mr. Dixon said. Taxpayers will be assembled into groups, furnished forms, and will prepare their own returns with help from Internal Revenue employees.

"The basic function of Internal Revenue is to audit returns and collect taxes. Last year the time saved during the filing period resulted in increased revenue of 7 million dollars in our District. This is more than the cost of operating the entire Revenue Service in North Texas for the whole year," he said.

"The majority of taxpayers found that preparing their own returns was not a difficult task. More than ever before, taxpayers read their instruction booklets and filled out their forms without help. Once a taxpayer relieves himself of the mental hazard and sets himself to the task of preparing his return, he is amazed at the result and takes pride in his accomplishment," Mr. Dixon pointed out.

"While going to a Revenue Service office will not speed a refund nor eliminate a future audit, the Revenue Service will furnish any information needed to prepare a return. The group method is an educational program to help taxpayers understand their own tax affairs. Forms will be prepared only for persons physically or mentally unable to prepare their own. Taxpayers with business-type returns or with complicated problems should seek professional tax help.

We know the "do-it-yourself" approach makes sense to Texans, because for every hour of an employee's time spent in preparing a tax return, he could be getting in additional revenue for our government. This is the big reason we take our agents off their regular work only one day each week. We think the people of Texas would prefer we spent that time seeing to it that every one pays his fair share.

Chevrolet Introduces Restyled Corvette

Chevrolet adds another chapter to its prestige achievements with a new Corvette in the road car field. Among principal features are a power-actuated fabric top lift and a removable solid ton, which like the body is built of reinforced glass fiber plastic. The car has been completely restyled and offers either a manual or Powerglide transmission coupled to a V8 engine of 235 horsepower. In appearance the latest Corvette may be readily distinguished from previous models. Rear fenders sweep downward and the sides of the body carry a sculptured depression. Exterior color choices list black, green, copper, red, blue and white, with the cockpit color-keyed in beige.

Farmers To File Tax Information On Ag Employees

Farm operators who have paid as much as $100 in cash wages to any farm employee during the year 1955 should file an employer's tax and information return for agricultural employees, C. B. Dixon, Administrative Officer in Charge of the Wichita Falls Office of Internal Revenue, announced today. This tax return should be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas, together with the social security taxes on the wages shown on the form.

Dixon emphasized that this annual report of wages paid for agricultural labor must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service before January 31, 1956. The return must show the name, social security number, and wages paid every employee whose cash wages from the same farmer amounted to $100 or more.

Farmers, who must make these tax returns and have not yet received or written for the proper forms, should write the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, immediately in order to be sure of getting the report filed before the January 31 deadline, Dixon urged.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out For A Two-Pocket Program For Bringing Much Relief To The Farmer

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has a typical idea on farm relief, his letter this week reveals, but he's on a cold trail.

J. A.

Dear editor:
I read with a lot of interest yesterday an article in a newspaper which I found near my neighbor's mail box, it could have fallen out of his box but I didn't see it fall and there are enough major problems to think about in the world today without wasting time on the minor ones, where there's a race on in Congress to see whether the Republicans or the Democrats can be the first to bring some relief to the farmers.

The thing was referred to as "an election year race to see which party can bring more money to the farmer's pocket," and I'll admit it makes a farmer feel good to be so well thought of.

However, there was one part of the article which disturbed me. Further down in it one Congressman was quoted as saying there ought to be bi-partisan action on the farm problem. Both sides ought to unite on one program right away and get some action, he argued.

Some smart aleck is always trying to put in his two-bits worth. Bi-partisanship is for foreign policy and opposition to sin, not the farm problem.

The farm problem is in such condition it's gonna take two prescriptions, not just one, to get the patient well, and what I'd like to see is two separate relief programs passed by Congress, one by the Republicans, one by the Democrats, and both designed to put more money in the farmer's pocket. Why not? After all, I've got two pockets. Why practice favoritism? I'd like some added to each one.

In fact, I will be glad to keep strict account on the programs, putting Democratic relief in my left pocket, Republican in my right, and which ever weighs the most at the end of the year, that is the program I favor most. If my right side is pulled down, the Republicans are ahead, if my left side, the Democrats, and if both come down equally, so what? Looks like the farmer was fixing to lose his pants anyway.

Let's get this race underway. I've done my part. I've got my pockets ready, my belt tightened and my suspenders hitched.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Who says a joke has no practical value?

An oil man had two leases side by side. He was obligated to drill a well on each tract by a certain time—and he had only half enough money. Then he remembered a little story he had heard your columnist tell. It went like this:

Cisco and Parks Camp were playing a baseball game one Sunday afternoon. (Parks Camp is or was, a few miles south of Breckenridge and had a fast, semi-pro club.)

The score was 3-3, Cisco at bat, first half of the ninth, no one on, two out. The sky had been getting darker and darker and now a black cloud was hovering over the scene. The batter hit a terrific drive and, while the ball was in mid-air, there came a bolt of lightning which cut it in two.

The centerfielder caught one hauf but it looked as though the other half would hit the ground and if it did it would roll so far that the batter could circle the bases. This would give him a home run—and wouldn't that be a score to report to the newspapers; 3½ to 3!

Also Cisco would have only two and one-half outs and of course a team is entitled to three outs. But if another player was retired, that would be three and one-half outs and Parks Camp certainly would be entitled to object to that.

All this was rushing through my mind as the outfielder raced toward the caught of the ball, made a dive and caught that half, too, retiring the side.

That was the story. The oil man (remember him? he was away back up the line) recalled this highly truthful narrative of the baseball being cut in two and it suggested a solution of his problem. He persuaded the

BACTERIA WARFARE ON TEXAS COTTON PESTS

The dread pink bollworm, Texas' most destructive cotton pest, may fall prey to a kindly new "bug" that thrives on insects—especially serious ones.

A bacteria-carrying type nematode, discovered about a year ago, has so far proved deadly to some of our worst crop pests, including the codling moth, the corn earworm, and the two scourges of Texas cotton—the boll weevil and pink bollworm. The nematode is harmful neither to man, plants, nor animals.

If preliminary findings are upheld in research projects now underway, the disease-carrying bug may have a broad-scale application and value to American agriculture in controlling insect pests.

The bacteria-carrying nematode releases its disease by piercing the intestine of the insect larvae or adult. The bacteria multiply rapidly and quickly kill the insect—usually in less than 24 hours. They also serve as a source of food for the nematodes, permitting them also to multiply rapidly.

60-70 Per Cent Control Possible

The parasitic nematodes have been produced in early tests by using larvae of other insects as hosts. Each larvae can produce about 150,000 nematodes, which can be maintained in the body of the host or in jars of pure water that are refrigerated or aerated. Limited field tests indicate that 60 to 70 per cent control of some insects may be possible with the nematode-borne disease. The disease-carriers have proved hardy to unseasonably hot and cold temperatures, but are most active when temperatures are moderate.

Moist conditions are also important because the nematodes move about in a film of water and cannot survive drying. However, they can live through long periods without rain by remaining in the host insect, in the soil, under the bark of trees, or in the stems of plants where moisture is available.

The nematode in its infective stage can survive long periods without food. This permits survival when hosts are not available.

They are resistant to most insecticides in common use and can be applied through high-pressure spray nozzles without too great a degree of mortality. This makes it likely that both the nematode and insecticides could be used simultaneously for insect control.

Despite the promise of a successful "bacteria war" on serious insect pests, a lot more research must be done before it can become of real value to farmers. Much remains to be learned about the best time, mode of treatment and eventual effectiveness of the parasitic nematode in protecting our crops.

THE BEL AIR SPORT COUPE—one of 19 high-priced-looking Chevrolets, all with Body by Fisher.

Whether idling at curbside or cruising, this new Chevrolet talks in a well-mannered whisper. You scarcely ever hear more than a soft undertone of power from its deep-chested V8. (One reason is the hydraulic-hushed valve lifters now in all Chevrolet engines—V8 or 6.)

Soft-spoken, yes—but this handsome traveler packs a wallop that ranges up to 205 h.p.! It's charged with sheer action!

Action that can save you precious seconds for safer passing on the highway! Action that lets you take steep hills in stride!

Action that helps you zoom out of trouble spots almost as quickly as they develop!

And action isn't all. Chevy holds the road like part of the pavement! You feel added assurance in the way it clings to curves.

Of course, Chevrolet brings you the security of safety door latches in all models. Instrument panel padding and seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, are offered at extra cost.

Come in and drive a new Chevrolet. We've got one ready and waiting for you.

Grand Champion Barrow

WISNER, NEB.—For the first time in the history of the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago a Nebraska Hampshire was crowned grand champion barrow over all breeds and weights at the 1955 classic. This 204 lb. bundle of top quality lean meat, "The Dark Horse," achieved the honor for George McGuire of McGuire Hampshire Farm here and after his victory went on to shatter all existing sale records when he was auctioned to the Agar Packing Company of Chicago at $19.25 per pound, a total of $3,927.00. "The Dark Horse" was a typical example of superior lean-meat production and was a grandson of America's first Certified Meat Sire, King Edward. Acclaimed as one of the greatest specimens ever to gain the supreme honor at this show, this champion embodies the topmost strains of proven meat hog breeding in accord with the epochal program of meat-hog improvement as sponsored by the Hampshire breed. The Agar company announced the champion would be donated for the benefit of a Chicago Boys' club.

Mrs. Tom Burns of Waco and Mrs. Fay Hughes and Mike of Rule were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zane Franklin on Wednesday night of last week.

Mrs. Della Parnell left last Saturday for a two weeks visit with her daughter and family in Midland and with her sister in Seagraves.

FARM OPERATORS MUST PAY SOCIAL SECURITY TAX BEFORE APRIL 15

Self-employed farmers and ranchers can become eligible for insurance benefits under the social security law by mid 1956 if they have earned as much as $400 from farming in both calendar years 1955 and 1956. A. B. Wooten, extension economist, reminds Texas farm operators.

Along with this goes the responsibility to report earnings from farming and pay the 3 percent social security tax not later than April 15, 1956. The Social Security Administration has suggested that payments be made as early as possible after January 1.

The form for making a report and remitting the required tax for social security insurance (Schedule SE) comes with the Federal Income Tax Return, Form 1040. If your net earnings from farming were as much as $400 in 1955, you are obliged to fill out and file this return and pay the social security tax, according to Wooten, even if you do not owe any Federal income tax for 1955.

Older farmers—those 65 or over—can retire after mid 1956 and start getting monthly old-age insurance payments if they have met the earnings requirements and paid their tax. Other farmers, regardless of age, will acquire family protection in the form of monthly payments to surviving dependents in the event of their death, provided they meet the same requirements.

In either case, the payment of the social security tax must accompany your income tax declaration or return. This responsibility is required by law.

Further information on social security taxes may be obtained at your nearest Internal Revenue Service office or from the local county agent. Information about benefits can be obtained from your social security district office. If you do not know where these offices are, your postmaster can tell you, says Wooten.

Telephone Employees Return To Jobs As New Contract Concluded With Union

SAN ANGELO—General Telephone Company of the Southwest employees were back on their jobs this week after a six-day strike throughout the Company's five-state territory ended with the signing of a new contract between General and the Communications Workers of America last Friday (Jan. 6).

The new contract, which will be in force 15 months, includes the following major changes over the old contract:

1. Wage increases totaling $175,000 annually which, when added to the wage adjustment granted in November, 1955, result in an hourly increase per employee equivalent to the wage increases received throughout the telephone industry.

2. Different plant areas for wage schedules were established. The number of traffic and commercial areas for wage schedule purposes were reduced.

3. Increases in the board and lodging allowances for unlocated construction personnel of $1 per week.

4. Increases from 75 per cent to 100 per cent in on-the-job injury benefits.

A Company spokesman said the new contract is substantially the same as that which was offered by the Company prior to the strike. He estimated employees not working lost $25,000 per day in wages during the strike.

The strike started at midnight December 31 when the former Union-Company contract was terminated by the Union. It was the first authorized Company-wide strike in the history of the Company.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Bishop Urges Support Of CROP

Bishop William C. Martin of the Methodist Church this week urged continuing support of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) in a statement to the Texas Christian Advocate.

The bishop, a past president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., stated: "Christian compassion in action" would be an accurate description of CROP. The record of generosity which has been written by Christian farmers and ranchers in Texas is the best answer I know to the cynical statement that "nobody gives anything without expecting something in return."

"I have been told that one of the hindrances to the wider effectiveness of this relief agency is the conception, on the part of many people, that the need for these supplies has become less urgent. Nothing could be further from the facts, much as we wish it were true. Any one of four or five areas of need, such as Korea or Greece, could absorb all we are giving without adequately meeting the need. Korean winters are cold and many children are still hungry."

"In the spirit of gratitude which is uppermost at the Thanksgiving Season, our people are asked to keep on giving to the limit of their ability."

Texas CROP is currently conducting canvasses for rice, cotton, and maize in 20 Texas counties. Additional information can be secured from Texas CROP, 504 West 24th Street, Austin, 5, Tex.

Magnet on Paint Paddle
To avoid the nuisance and wastefulness of removing the paddle after every stirring of paint, obtain a small magnet and attach it to the paddle. When in contact with the metal paint can the paddle stays in place at the side, out of the way of the brush. The magnet should be located so the bottom of the paddle doesn't touch the bottom. It may be fastened with a rubber band or attached permanently with cement. — Illustration courtesy Popular Mechanics.
