"First Day of Summer Arrives Quietly."

This was a headline we noticed in a daily paper last Monday. Chances are the first day of fall will arrive the same way, as well as the first day of winter.

It's hard to hear the break of dawn.

Mainest thing about the arrival of various seasons of the year is that the seasonable weather arrives ahead of the appointed day.

Here we've had summer weather for some time—and summer didn't get here until Monday.

For your information, summer was here for us—if it hadn't arrived sooner—last Friday afternoon when the air conditioning system failed on a bus we were riding.

While attending the convention of the Texas Press Association in Fort Worth, a bus trip was arranged for press people in the packing plants. Our bus went to Armour & Company.

It was nice going out, but after being served lunch and then a conducted trip through the various departments of the plant, we again boarded the bus to find it hot and sultry.

After a hot trip to Bell Aircraft Corporation, we were ushered into a conditioned building and served a big glass of ice cold punch.

This ran our temperature down considerably, but it had to be followed by more walking on a tour through the helicopter plant. Finally, we wound up on the heloramp, facing a broiling hot afternoon sun to watch a helicopter demonstration.

A ride in the whirly-birds had been advertised, but at the plant we were informed that only three helicopters were available for that purpose—all the others belonging to Uncle Sam.

These were small ones, too. Only room enough for the pilot and two passengers. As we watched the demonstration and glanced over the crowd of 400 or more people, we figured it would be some time before they would get to us with only six persons going aloft at one time.

So we gave up the idea of a ride and headed back to the shade. Just at this instant one of the bus drivers was wanting to fill his air conditioned bus and get back to town. The missus and I co-operated with him with pleasure and before too long were enjoying the comforts of the air conditioned Texas Hotel.

An interesting feature of the packing plant trip was a "tour" through the blood bank. "You folks should feel honored," our conductor said, "this is the first group to visit our plant to ever be taken through the blood bank."

We saw hundreds of pints of human blood being processed into blood plasma, serum albumin and gamma globulins. All that network of machinery and equipment and all those people working day in and day out processing that human blood to help save human life.

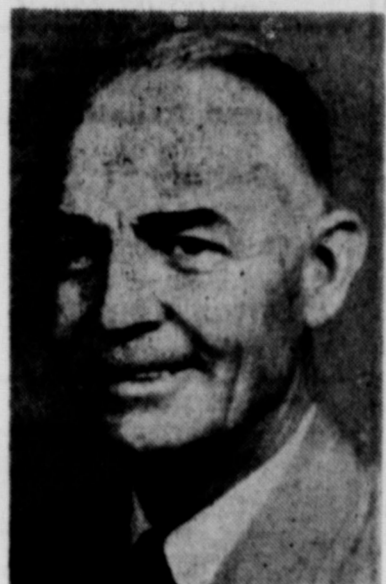

Even though we saw it, we can't tell how it's done. It was an interesting and mystifying process.

The entire program of TPA was interesting and entertaining, with such speakers as Governor Shivers, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Louis P. Throgmorton, Paul Crume, who writes "Big-D" in the Dallas News, and others.

This was our first time to attend a TPA convention, and we thoroughly enjoyed it. We sandwiched in time enough to visit two brothers who live down in that neck of the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Kuehler were in Graham last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Kuehler's brother, Mr. Chess Forehand.

Awarded Ford Agency In Munday

J. E. REEVES

BILL MORRIS

A partnership has been formed between J. E. Reeves and Bill Morris, and these men have been awarded the Ford agency for the Munday area. They will continue to operate under the firm name of Reeves Motor Company. Formal opening of the new Ford agency is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 25 and 26, at which time a showing of the various styles of 1954 model Ford cars and trucks will be held. The building has been remodeled on the inside in preparation for this new dealership, and the name "Ford" has been painted in various places on the outside so the dealership can be easily identified by tourists and others seeking their services. Mr. Reeves and Mr. Morris cordially invite the people of this area to attend their showing this week end.

Portable Library For Hospital Goal Of Church Circle

At a recent meeting of the Methodist Church's newest circle, the members discussed the need for a cart library for the county hospital patients. It was agreed to begin a collection of books, new magazines and newspaper subscriptions, so that the library may be put into use in the early fall.

Persons who have desirable books they wish to donate may leave them at the Chamber of Commerce office. Subscriptions to magazines and newspapers are also desired, and money can be sent directly to the publishing company with instructions to mail the magazine to Knox County Hospital. It was emphasized that the library will not be large enough to accommodate old magazines. Most people have either been a patient themselves or have accompanied one of their family, and can appreciate an adequate supply of reading material, so donate a book and help solve a pressing need.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

The use of herbicidal, naphtha oils were found to be cheaper and more effective in controlling Johnson grass in cotton than hoeing this past summer at the Experiment Stations.

Application of an effective herbicidal oil to the crowns and the first few inches of the stems of established Johnson grass kills this grass to the ground line. Repetition of such treatment at intervals of 10 to 15 days, as needed to control regrowth, will eradicate root-stock infestations of this grass in a single season. About six consecutive treatments are usually required at College Station, but we might get by with less here.

Cotton cannot be expected to survive the spot oilings required for the most effective treatment of established infestations of this grass. Basal treatment of the grass, however, can be successfully made in cotton rows with the accidental spraying of only an occasional cotton plant. Knapsack sprayers have proven satisfactory for use in making treatments of this type. The nozzle should be equipped with a 50-mesh screen and a fan-type Teejet 8002 nozzle tip.

Stems of established Johnson grass can be "cut" with oil applied from a hand sprayer faster than they can be cut with a hoe. Also, repeated oilings eradicate established Johnson grass. Hand hoeing, as done by an ordinary field hand, only temporarily delays the growth of the grass. The oils suggested for use in spot treating are volatile and have little or no residual effect on the soil.

The oil costs about 20c per gallon and about five gallons are usually required per acre.

Anyone interested in more information on this, please call on me.

THE "NEW LOOK" IN AGRICULTURE

We hear much of the great efficiency and productive power of American industry. We do not hear as much as we should of the efficiency and productive power of American agriculture.

Farm Journal recently said editorially, "Farmers produce so abundantly that 85 per cent of the population can now choose other kinds of jobs. If farmers were not so efficient, a lot more people would have to go to work farming. This in an efficiency that since before the war has increased far outpout by about 40 per cent, and does it with 17 per cent less labor.

That speaks well for the progressive spirit of the American farmer. It is also a tribute to tools and techniques, often actually revolutionary in effect, which have been his allies. Electric power has been a tremendous force for better living and working on the farm. Chemistry has provided fertilizers and weed and insect killers of remarkable potency. And the farm equipment industry has come along with machines which produce more crops at a declining cost in time and money—and which are invaluable in the equally important task of conserving the land not only for future years but for future generations.

It is no exaggeration to say that the machines and the other tools do much to make the difference between an exceedingly well-fed nation on a subsistence or a near-famine basis. This will become all the more evident as the years roll by and there are millions more mouths to feed each day.

THE KEY WORD

A business leader said this the other day: "We need more frank and basic discussion in defense of private capitalism—not in terms of bath tubs and washing machine, but in terms of sound fundamentals." If that can be achieved on a big enough scale, he continued, civic meetings and social gatherings "no longer would be ready-made platforms for the promulgation of ideas and theories alien to human liberty."

The material fruits of the capitalist system—the bath tubs and washing machines and everything else—are enormously important. They mean that our living standards are the envy of the world. But those fruits are the result of something still more important, which can be described in the single word, freedom. The implications of that word need discussion and understanding.

MORE ON SOVIET LIVING STANDARDS

A number of analyses have been made of living standards in Soviet Russia. One of the most thorough and authoritative was conducted at Columbia University, and its conclusions have just been released.

The researchers studied the prices Soviet citizens pay for goods in the state stores and related them to income, and thus arrived at these citizens "real wages." The conditions obtaining in various periods, beginning with 1926, were compared. Here is a summation of what was learned: "According to our calculation, the Soviet worker after the five-year plans has never been as well off in terms of real wages as he was in 1928. One of our calculations, perhaps theoretically the more defensible, shows he is still far worse off than in 1928."

Many reasons can be advanced why this should be so. One of the most important, certainly, lies in the very nature of the communist economic philosophy. The state owns or controls all the agencies of production and distribution. It sets by fiat the price the shopper must pay, and it normally includes a huge profit in order to siphon off purchasing power. There is no competition in any reasonable sense of the word.

That is a sure way to hold down living standards. By contrast, the highest living standards exist here in America where all enterprise, starting with producers and winding up with retailers, is in everlasting competition for consumer favor.

SO THIS IS SLAVERY!

The very substantial increases in wages that have taken place in the postwar era are not the limit of labor's gains.

Preliminary reports from a Chamber of Commerce of the United States survey indicate that fringe benefits costs—employer payments for social security, pensions, vacations and other purposes—amounted to $737 per employee in 1953. The figure is $95 higher than that obtained in a similar survey, covering the identical firms, made two years ago.

This, it might be pointed out, has occurred while the Taft-Hartley law, which Union leaders still monotonously call a slave-labor act, was in effect. Some slavery!

"The one result the Welfare state never achieves is welfare. It gives people more dollars to handle by making each dollar worth less and less."—William E. Jenner, Senator.

HOW TO BE UNITED IN CHRIST

Perhaps there are few who would deny that religious people should be united as God and Christ were united. This was the prayer of the Son of God. (Jn. 17:20-22) Christ prayed for this perfect unity. "That the world may believe." Hence, unity is essential to world conversion, for no one can be converted to Christ with out faith.

All believers are to be one in the same way that God and Christ are one. Jesus prayed, "That they may be one, even as we are one." (Jn. 17:22.) That is possible or else Jesus prayed for an impossibility. But this unity must be on the basis of loyalty and obedience to God. There could be no point in all uniting in error, or in disobedience to the plainly revealed truth of the gospel. Jesus did not pray for that kind of unity. Hence, all are to be united in obedience to the commandments of the Lord. Following the guidance of the Bible is the only way to have the unity for which Christ prayed.

By Walking In the Light
"But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his son cleanseth us from all sin." (1 Jn. 1:7.) Note that those who "WALK IN THE LIGHT" are the one who "HAVE FELLOWSHIP ONE WITH ANOTHER." Those who walk in the light and those who walk in error can have no fellowship or unity. To walk in the light is to walk in the truth. (3 Jn. 4.) Then in order to have "fellowship" we must walk in the light. This "light" is God's word. (Psa. 119:105.) Hence, the word of God is the only basis of unity for which Christ prayed. There can be no unity unless it is built on the doctrine of the apostles. "Mark them which cause divisions and offenses CONTRARY TO THE DOCTRINE WHICH YE HAVE LEARNED: AND AVOID THEM. FOR THEY THAT ARE SUCH SERVE NOT OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST." (Rom. 16:17-18.)

Let us all "Contend earnestly for THE FAITH which was once delivered unto the saints." (Jude 3.)

PAYNE HATTON, Evangelist

Charles Lamb said that Samuel Coleridge was the most profuse talker he knew; all that Coleridge needed was a listener. His favorite attitude was to clutch the unlucky victim by a coat button, close his eyes the better to think, and talk and talk.

One morning, so Lamb related, as he was walking through a park, Coleridge nabbed him. While the poet held on to a button on Lamb's coat and talked, with closed eyes, the listener slowly drew his knife, cut the button loose and slipped away.

Late that afternoon, going back through the park, Lamb heard a droning sound, investigated—and there stood Coleridge, holding on to that button, eyes closed, and still talking.

The horse and mule live twenty years
And know nothing of wines and beers.
The goat and sheep at twenty die
And never tasted of Scotch and rye.

The cow drinks water by the ton
And at eighteen is almost done.
The dog at fifteen cashed in Without the aid of rum and gin.
The cat in milk and water soaks
And then at twelve short years it croaks.
The modest, sober, bone-dry hen
Lays eggs for nogs, then dies at ten.
All animals are strictly dry;
They sinless live and sinless die.
But sinful, ginful, rum-soaked men
Survive for three score years and then;
And some of us, though mighty few,
Stay pickled till we're ninety-two.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

About this time every year there is a great deal of speculation about when Congress will adjourn. Anyone in Washington now will hear any number of rumors about when the adjournment day will be; however, I doubt if anybody really knows now just when this session will come to a close. All indications are that every effort will be made to end the business this session of Congress somewhere around the first of August. The two big pieces of legislation that the House has yet to consider are first, the Agriculture Bill which will provide for the agricultural program. This matter is still before the Agriculture Committee. Chances are that it will be some time before they report a bill to the floor of the House. Second is the Foreign Aid Program which is now being considered by the Foreign Affairs Committee, which has not completed its work in this legislation. After these two matters are reported on the floor of the House and are acted upon, all of the major legislative proposals that have a chance for action this session will have been passed on. I believe that most members of Congress will welcome the end of the session so that they will have an opportunity to get back to their homes and spend the late Summer and Fall; however, some of the committees will function right on through to the first of the year which will mean that even though Congress is not in session, there will still be a lot of work going on.

I have just been named to a Special Subcommittee that is charged with the responsibility of investigating alleged labor racketeering. In all probability this Committee will hold extensive hearings this Fall to inquire into this question. Even though it will mean a lot of work, I am hopeful that we can do a constructive and worthwhile job.

This week the House acted on legislation that will make it possible for some of our agricultural surpluses to be sold abroad and, in some instances, to accept foreign currencies for their sale.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—This is the season of the year when an increase in poliomyelitis can be expected and Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, is urging the public to cooperate in helping to prevent the spread of this crippling disease.

Legislation of this kind has been needed for a long time because of the fact that we have practically had an embargo on the sale of American agricultural products in the world market for the last several years. If this program is operated successfully, it should have the effect of reducing some of our surpluses and help the agriculture generally in this country.

Visitors from home this week were: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McDuffie, Miss Eileen Carson, Mr. Lloyd Kee, Mr. Francis Harvey, Mrs. Roma Hall, Mrs. Hazel Fanning, of Wichita Falls; Mrs. J. S. Gilliland, Mr. John S. Gilliland, Jr., of Quanah; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Richardson and children, Glenn, Frances, and Kenneth, of Henrietta; and Mr. Ray Nichols of Vernon.

"Children should not visit homes where poliomyelitis or symptoms of this disease are present. Promptness in diagnosing poliomyelitis is one of the most important factors in its control," Dr. Holle declared.

"Direct contact between persons is the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis and since carriers are difficult to determine, it is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts during any outbreaks of this disease."

Dr. Holle stressed the fact that insect transmission has not been scientifically demonstrated but pointed out that sanitation is always advisable in controlling disease and that filth is likely to prove dangerous.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, unusual drowsiness, irritability, followed by stiffness in the neck and back.

Children under five years are most susceptible and all children under twelve years should be watched for suspicious symptoms. Dr. Holle urged that a physician be called immediately if infantile paralysis is suspected. If the disease is definitely diagnosed, local health authorities should be contacted immediately and patients isolated for at least 21 days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cude visited their son, Charles Cude, in San Antonio last week.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

Curbing the slaughter and destruction of traffic accidents requires much more than modern highways, proper traffic signs, signals and policing.

What is needed—if we are to rid our streets and highways of the accident menace—is better citizenship behind the wheels of motor vehicles.

That is the considered opinion of Edmond C. Powers of Cleveland, O., who for the past nine years has made exhaustive studies of driver and pedestrian behavior and has conferred with federal, state, municipal and county officials from all parts of the country.

"The 38,500 people killed and the 2,140,000 injured last year can be charged mainly to improper driver and pedestrian behavior," he points out.

"It's just plain bad citizenship behind the wheel to drive too fast for conditions, fail to yield the right of way, drive in the wrong lane, operate a vehicle in unsafe mechanical condition, cut in and out of lanes, crash traffic lights, fail to signal turns and stops, loaf in heavy traffic, back recklessly out of driveways, stop or park in 'no parking' areas."

"Nor is the pedestrian a good citizen who 'jay walks', who bolts across a street without looking, who darts into the street between parked cars, who gets caught in the middle of a thoroughfare by failing to look both ways, and who walks in traffic with improper vision or hearing."

"Nor is it good citizenship on the part of parents to permit young people to operate motor vehicles who either temperamentally or physically are unprepared to cope with the hazards of modern traffic."

"What the traffic accident problem needs," Powers concludes, "is drivers and pedestrians who are just as thoughtful and considerate of their fellowman in traffic as they are in their homes, churches, community, social and business life."

TEXAS COTTON INDUSTRY

A four hundred million dollar cotton industry is thriving in the nation today, built on a raw material that was discarded as "waste" a century ago.

This "waste material" is cottonseed, a commodity that now creates an annual farm income of some $400 million. At one time, these precious pellets were considered worthless. Except for a small quantity needed for planting the new crop, cottonseed was dumped in nearby bodies of water or left to rot near the gin.

For each 100 pounds of cotton the plant yields about 180 pounds of seed. Not more than 18 pounds of this seed are needed to plant the next year's crop. The rest goes into hundreds of different products ranging from food to gunpowder.

We actually eat a large portion of this seed. Nearly 100 percent of the oil extracted from cottonseed is used in edible products such as vegetable shortening, margarine, salad and cooking oils, salad dressing and mayonnaise. Some cottonseed oil is used in manufacturing washing powder, paints, linoleum, oil-cloth and similar products.

The seed is just a part of the picture, however. In Texas, the largest cotton producing state, the total crop value amounts to some $812,345,000 annually. It is grown on 153,177 farms, or 46 per cent of the total farms in the state. We produced approximately 4,350,000 bales of cotton and 1,803,000 tons of cottonseed last year.

Cotton and its byproducts accounted for 38 percent of the total farm marketings. They brought income to some 1,793 gins, 113 warehouses, 87 oil mills and 53 textile mills in the state.

For constipation, never take harsh drugs. They cause brutal cramps and griping, disrupt normal bowel action, make repeated doses seem needed.

When you are temporarily constipated, get sure but gentle relief—without salts, without harsh drugs. Take Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative contained in Syrup Pepsin. The extract of Senna in Dr. Caldwell's is one of the finest natural laxatives known to medicine.

Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative tastes good, gives gentle, comfortable, satisfying relief of temporary constipation for every member of the family. Helps you get "on schedule" without repeated doses. Even relieves stomach sourness that constipation often brings.

Buy Dr. Caldwell's. Money back if not satisfied. Mail bottle to Box 280, New York 18, N. Y.

No Sale!

Right in front of Granny White's beautiful old house on Maple Avenue there's a brand-new sign: "Antiques. Inquire Within."

Now—don't get excited. Granny explained it all the other night—after we settled down in her parlor, me with my temperate beer, Granny with her tea.

I asked her if she was really going in the antique business. "Oh, no," says Granny, "I wouldn't sell anything. I put that sign up so folks would come in and talk—and look around. If they insist on a price, I tell them some outrageous figure! I guess I just like people," she said.

From where I sit Granny can be excused for her little ruse. She may be in her eighties, but her mind is young—and open. She's the kind of person who's made this town so wonderful. Granny not only likes people—but she respects them and their preferences and opinions. Come to think of it, "liking" and "respecting" mean much the same thing, don't they?

stockmen acquired a Tuesday or Wednesday market at that time of necessity.

Now-a-days with fast communications, many livestock shippers wait until Tuesday or Wednesday on the theory that those markets are more stable than Monday and usually the prices are pretty much the same—whereas Monday is a difficult day due to being the first of the week.

There is no argument among market men about the fact that 10,000 head of stock on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, will be handled better and sold higher—than 30,000 head on a single day.

HOG PRICE SLIDE IS HALTED AT FORT WORTH

The disastrous skid of hog prices that started on June 9 was finally halted at Fort Worth Monday, and sales were 50c higher on both butchers and packing sows.

The series of losses resulted in a roll-down of prices amounting to $3 per hundred before the drop was stopped.

The trade listed a number of contributing factors. Hot spells of weather cut into meat eating in densely populated areas of the country, especially Middle West and Eastern Seaboard sections. Abundant supplies of competitive meat was another factor in the down trend. Slackening demand for sows and feeder pigs at country points that increased the supplies for slaughter was noted by some observers.

Probably the first real heat waves of Summer was the bigger factor.

Top at Fort Worth Monday was $23.50, and sows sold at $14 to $18.

CACTILE RUNS OVER NATION AGAIN LIGHTER

Some 22,000 fewer cattle appeared at the 12 major markets last Monday, enough to put a little firmness into the trade on most kinds, despite good sized seasonal offerings on Southwestern points.

At Fort Worth well finished beef was scarce, and fed steers and yearlings were firm. Most interests bid lower on cows, but salesmen resisted the lower offers with fair success. Some fat cows were weak to unevenly lower and low yielders off all kinds were bid what looked like lower prices. However, liberal waterfills went a long way toward offsetting lower bids in many cases.

Plain and medium quality offerings were in general weak. The between grade slaughter calves closed lower, but the others were steady with the previous week's close. Bulls ruled firm. High grade stockers were steady, some of the plainer quality being easier.

There was some better activity on stocker cows and on stocker and feeder yearling steers than last week.

SPRING LAMBS STEADY; OLDER SHEEP EASIER

Fat Spring lambs topped again at $19 to $20 at Fort Worth Monday. Feeder lambs drew $15 downward. The feeder top was 50c above sales late last week, but was considered no more than a fully steady price the kind considered.

Shorn yearling lambs were weak to 50c lower and old wethers and old ewes were also weaker.

Eastern meat trade centers reported some unevenness still on lamb and mutton, but under severe pressure was the old crop shorn yearling lambs. These encountered a hit-or-miss market in all divisions on this account.

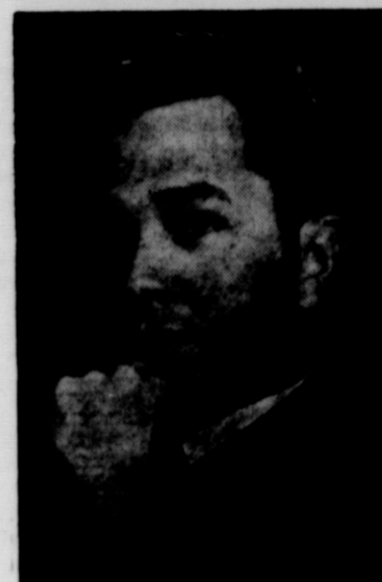

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Searcy were her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Clowdis, and her mother, Mrs. Ella Clowdis, all of Abilene. Miss Sue Clowdis, who has been visiting here the past two weeks, returned home with her parents.

MARKET TO STAY OPEN ON JULY 5TH

FORT WORTH — Spokesmen for the livestock market at Fort Worth announced that the yards and market would be open Monday, July 5, as usual. The market here has traditionally stayed opened at the time because it is a season of heavy movement of livestock to market and often shippers need to move cattle that have been rounded up and are being held in dry pasture or trap pens and they would suffer unnecessary loss if the market closed, because of excessive shrink.

ORDERLY MARKETING HELPS PRICES HOLD

Most observers at Fort Worth are agreed that Southwestern livestock producers are doing a superior job of marketing their cattle and sheep this year and that it has saved considerable losses in price.

It has now become an established custom for marketings of cattle and sheep to be of considerable size on other days than Monday's at terminal markets, and on several occasions in the past couple of years the Tuesday receipts at Fort Worth have been larger than on Monday.

This was an unheard-of thing a few years ago.

Reasons for the more even movement to market are several, and it appears to have started during the transportation shortage during the war years when tires, gasoline and trucks were hard to come by. Many

MORE COWBOYS CAN BE SEEN AT REUNION THAN ANYWHERE ELSE

STAMFORD—You can see more real cowboys in Stamford than in any other place on earth—if you are there, July 1, 2, 3 and 5 when the famous Texas Cowboy Reunion will be in progress.

The coming together of the old-timers is the feature usually thought of in connection with the celebration but the occasion is a reunion of younger cowboys, too.

In fact, there are more of the young cowboys than of the old-timers—and that's saying a lot for there are from 400 to 500 old-timers on hand. But there will be two or three times that number of the present-day riders of the range. In fact, something like 500 of them will take part in the rodeo (which is strictly for genuine cowboys) and many more cowboys will be in the stands.

The younger cowpokes do not observe the formal features of a reunion such as the older ones do but there are many greetings by friends who haven't met since a year ago.

So—old-timers, young fellows and waddies whose age is in between, combine to give Stamford the biggest gathering of real cowboys in the world. There is a rodeo every night and also, on the final day, an afternoon performance.

and family of California are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Golden, and family and other relatives and friends.

Miss Betty Morrow Honored At Shower Tuesday Night

Miss Betty Carolyn Morrow, bride-elect of Donis Melton, was honored with a miscellaneous gift party, Tuesday night, June 15th.

The Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church was the scene of the gift party. Colorful arrangements of gladioluses were featured in the party room.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Zane Franklin; the honoree; her mother, Mrs. R. T. Morrow; Mrs. Paul Melton of Rochester, mother of the prospective groom; Mrs. Jack Gauntt of Rochester, sister of the prospective groom; and Mrs. Emory Mulligan, the honoree's grandmother.

Mrs. Don Coffman registered guests. The bride-elect's colors of blue and white were used in decorating the hall.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth, blue satin bows were placed at intervals where the cloth was caught up in swags. Centering with an arrangement of Ester Reed blue daisies a miniature church and bridal couple added to the decorations.

Misses Sue Clark, Joy Lemley and Helen Ford presided at the refreshment table. Misses Ilene Bellinghausen, Janie Haynie and Mrs. Lynn Ford assisted with serving.

Soft background music was presented during the affair by Miss Patsy Tidwell and Mrs. Charles Bellinghausen.

Included on the hostess list were Mesdames Zane Franklin, James Carden, Clyde Yost, J. E. Jackson, W. E. Reynolds, Lynn Ford, Don Wardlaw, James R. Rodgers, Charles Bellinghausen, Don Coffman, Sidney Winchester; Misses Sue Clark, Joy Lemley, Ilene Bellinghausen, Janie Haynie, Peggy Armstrong, and Helen Ford.

Lila Jo and Mary Beth Beecher of Dimmitt are spending this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Beecher and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bowden.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders and daughter of Wichita Falls were Sunday night guests in the home of her brother, Paul Pendleton, and family.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Q. My family often indulges in a bed time snack, but they leave empty milk glasses and sticky jam knives in the kitchen. In the morning washing these items is quite a chore. Do you know of some way to clean cloudy glasses and goovy knives?

A. Yes I do. If you soak glasses and other utensils which have been standing for a long time in a baking soda solution—3 tablespoons soda to one quart warm water—then wash in lukewarm suds, you'll find milk rings quickly vanish, stuck on bits of jelly routed.

Miss Mattie Reno of Abilene was a week end guest of Miss Janice Rister.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Unworried About Prospects Of Man Controlling The Weather, He Wants To Start Now

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek must need a rain, his letter implies this week. On the other hand he may be just going on.

Dear editor:

Me and a neighbor were talking the other afternoon about an article he'd read in a magazine which claimed in fifty years man will be able to control the weather, stop a rain when he wants to, start one when he wants to, etc.

I thought this sounded like a good idea, but he was opposed to it, on the grounds it would take all the guess-work out of farming and make life too dull.

"If you can sit down at the first of the year, pick out the days you want it to rain during the next twelve months, draw up a farm program to fit the schedule, and proceed to follow it without any guess-work or doubt, life is sure gonna get dull," he argued.

This strikes me as backward nonsense. I ain't noticed and irrigation farmer with an endless supply of water gettin bored to death with good crops every year and money in the bank all the time.

The trouble with that fellow is that he has mighty limited notions of what produces entertainment in this world. I'll admit that if you took all the guess-work out of everything, life might get too dull to handle, but if scientists are smart enough to take it out of the weather, I say to go ahead, they'll still be other things left to stump em.

For example, I doubt if scientists will ever get far enough advanced to take the guess-work out of Congress. They may be able to stabilize the weather, but stabilizing Congress is a job not even the dreamiest scientist has the willingness to theorize about. And there are other things besides Congress you can put in that category, for example women, or when your car will have its next flat tire, or the cattle market.

A man who's worried about not having anything to worry about is pretty hard up. I don't know whether man will ever control the weather or not, but if he can, I'm in favor of it, and I'd like to have it started not later than next week.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

AS GENERAL ELECTRIC SEES IT

Few people realize how rapidly Americas economy is growing

General Electric is backing its belief in a long-term period of industrial growth by the biggest building program in its history, spending more than a billion dollars since 1946

Anyone who spreads fears that we may be facing another major depression ignores completely how much America has changed since the 1930's.

First G.E. refrigerator helped create 100,000 jobs

Industrial research and development have broadened the base of our entire economy and, even more important, have laid the groundwork for a steadily increasing expansion in the years to come.

Here are just two examples of what has happened.

The first electric refrigerator with a sealed-in mechanism was introduced by General Electric in 1926, and its production in that year required only a few hundred people. Today, refrigerators and freezers make up a billion-dollar business which employs more than 100,000 men and women in manufacturing, plus additional thousands in retailing and distribution. The freezer itself has made possible another whole new industry, frozen foods.

Today's new products and new industries

In 1939, most of us knew electronics only as tubes in our radio, and the entire industry sold 230 million dollars' worth of equipment. Electronics is now a 4½-billion-dollar business, and some experts predict it will grow to 20 billions in the 1960's. General Electric, just one producer, now has electronic-equipment factories in 18 different parts of the country and has stepped up its payroll in this field to 27,000 in just 15 years.

This trend of expansion is not slowing down. It's rapidly accelerating.

Many exciting new industries are predictable as we learn how to make full use of atomic energy. Another important new field will be electronic machinery that will make work easier, production swifter. Our scientists are experimenting with metal crystals 50 times stronger than any metals we now know. New and better home appliances are on the way. More uses for the gas turbine are coming out of jet-engine experiments.

These are only a few of the things General Electric is interested in, and other companies, of course, are hard at work on equally promising projects.

... will continue to keep America's economy expanding

Our belief in a long-term period of industrial growth is not wishful speculation. It's being backed by the greatest building program America has ever seen. Last year, the nation's industries spent 28 billion, 400 million dollars for new plant and equipment; this year, they will spend only slightly less. Our own investment since 1946 has already reached more than a billion dollars. In 1954, a record 175 million dollars will be invested in new plant facilities by G.E., 24% more than last year.

This is the kind of confidence we have in the country's future.

Accident Toll For Area Listed

Captain K. B. Hallmark, Jr., today announced in the month of May sixty-seven accidents were investigated by the patrolmen of his district. Of these accidents three were fatal and resulted in the death of four people, eleven injured twenty-seven people and the total of sixty-seven cost the people of this District $37,773.00 in property damage alone. The accident picture for this section of North Texas for the first five months of 1954 is a very grim one. Twenty-three fatal accidents have killed thirty-four people, there have been one hundred sixty-four people injured in motor vehicle accidents, and the staggering sum of $243,571.00 spent on property damage loss alone. If the hospital and doctor bills of the one hundred and sixty-four injured people were added to this the monetary loss would easily climb over one half-million dollars and we still cannot add the additional loss of salary and business income. Nor is there any price to place on the thirty-four lives needlessly sacrificed on the altar of Highway Carelessness. The first five months of 1953 this District had fifteen fatal accidents, killing eighteen people, injuring one hundred and seventy-six and losing $234,841.00 in property damage.

Hallmark stated that his patrolmen were placing special effort on attempting to cut down speeding, as speed is the number one killer on our streets and highways in this North Texas

for farm and home

Keep Piggies Cool!
SUMMER sun is tough on both man and beast. A simple shelter for pigs or calves will keep them more comfortable on scorching hot days. Also, they'll hold their weight better.

35-minute ¾" Tempered Presdwood fastened to framing and mounted on the wheel assembly.
The same principle can be used in erecting a permanent shelter, with the weather-resistant top fastened to posts. Tempered Presdwood is an all-around farm fix-up and paneling material with dozens of uses. Among them are liner for trunk or wagon boxes, liner for grain bins, dividers in storage bins, workbench tops, new facing for doors, room dividers, walls for new rooms.

Electrically Speaking...

area. In all fatal accidents this year speed has been one of the causative factors in well over ninety per cent. The patrolmen of this District contacted and stopped 636 speeders in the month of May, this figure is expected to increase as vacation travel hits the highways. People with a short period of leisure time and a long distance to travel, cast discretion to the winds so that the ones who are lucky and do arrive in record time, without an accident to brag to their friends of driving three hundred miles in five hours and forty-five minutes or other great speeds and distances.

Hallmark says his men will be attempting to slow this type of driver down, and if unable to keep him slowed down at least provide the individual with proof in writing to show to his friends that he had at one time been making fast time until it was interrupted by the proof he is displaying.

In the month of May the youngest persons arrested by the Highway Patrol, in this District, were two teenage boys. These boys were arrested for automobile theft, having stolen a car in Oklahoma. Their ages were twelve and thirteen, even at this tender age the boys had been arrested several times before. While the youngest was being booked at the jail to await the arrival of Oklahoma authorities and parents, he remarked "this jail is not so hot, I have been in several better jails than this one."

Comparison: Knox County

June 1954, six property damage, loss $997.00 June 1953, 1 injury accident, 1 injured 2 property damage, loss $875.00.

NEW ACCESSORIES AID BARBECUE FANS

Sumertime is time for outdoor barbecue parties, and a number of new accessories have been designed especially for such occasions.

To aid the chef, there are cotton-asbestos gloves, barbecue mitts that are made for protection. They are constructed of sturdy blue denim with the palm and inner fingers of woven asbestos. The gloves come in one size only, cut large to fit all sizes.

Another aid to the cook or his assistant is a clever barbecue apron. It is made of heavy washable white sail-cloth which has been bold printed with clever wording to pep up the party. There is a matching chef's hat to go with the apron.

For the guests, there are barbecue bibs to facilitate the enjoyment of barbecued ribs dripping with sauce. There is no fear of spotting clothing with these big cotton bibs.

CHIGGERS EVERYWHERE

This is chigger season and many Texans are in for a lot of misery before it's over.

Such a plan is suggested to anyone planning an occasional summer picnic, party or other outdoor gathering. Or these insecticides may be applied to a smaller area where the family lounges or plays in the yard.

One pound of five per cent toxaphene or chlordane dust applied to 1,000 square feet is recommended by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These dusts are available from feed, drug and most grocery stores.

Sulphur dust has long been a popular chigger killer, but these Turkey raisers can cut produc-

the entomologists add.
