You can pick your own candidate, but the right to vote is yours only if you pay your poll tax! Looks like, too, this will be a year in which we'll get full benefit for our $1.75 paid out for the right to vote.

k-k

There's to be a city election in which a mayor and two city councilmen will be elected; there'll be a school trustee election in a few months. Then will come two Democratic primaries, one in July and one in August. And, finally, the general election in which a U. S. president will be elected will come up in November.

k-k

If no special elections are held, this will give the holder of a poll tax receipt five opportunities to vote. The cost will be just 35 cents a throw. But you gotta be on time to get this bargain—the deadline for paying your poll tax is January 31, and after that no amount of "lettuce" will give you the right to cast your ballot.

k-k

And if you don't vote, then you have no complaints to make about those who were put into office without your vote. And speaking of complaints reminds us of a little booklet "Cheer" that reaches our desk regularly and is published by one of our wholesale paper houses. In the latest issue we found the following little gem:

There was once a wise clergyman who kept on his desk a special notebook, which he had labeled, "Complaints of Members." But the book contained nothing but blank pages. When one of his people called to tell him the faults of another, he would say, "Well, I have a complaint book here, and I shall write down the things you say. And when I take the matter up with the official board, I shall tell them of your complaint."

The sight of the complaint book and the ready pen had its effect. "Oh, no, I don't care to have you write it down, nor that I made the complaint!" And no entry was made.

The clergyman kept the book for forty years, opened it thousands of times before complainants, and never had occasion to write a line in it.

k-k

Maybe we should start a complaint column in our newspaper to register complaints against our governing bodies, Chamber of Commerce, civic organization, equalization boards, etc. Boy! We get some dillies sometimes. It helps sometimes to blow off steam when you know what you say is not going to be printed or registered in a complaint book.

k-k

"It's bigger than ever this year," said Jay Bryan, county agent, in speaking of the annual 4-H and F. F. A. livestock show which will be held at the Sidney Winchester barn west of Munday next Saturday. A total of 226 animals will be shown, including 180 fat lambs, 25 fat barrows and 21 nurse-fed beef steers.

k-k

As usual, the show is expected to draw a large crowd, as the club boys and girls and their parents come in from all parts of the county for this show. Merchants of Munday were chipping in the first of this week toward the fund to provide prize money and meet other expenses of the show, and the welcome mat will be out for all visitors.

k-k

The resignation of Rev. S. E. Stevenson as pastor of the Goree Baptist Church ended some 20 years of service to the church and community. We, along with many others, shall miss this fine pastor. We found him very cooperative in getting us news of his church activities, and we wish him and Mrs. Stevenson much success in their church and mission work at Kim, Colo. There's been a long stay in our midst, and the many friendships they have made will not soon be forgotten.

Polio Vaccine Available Only To Persons Under 20

Notice from the State Health Department has been received by the county health officer to the effect that all persons under 20 years of age may now receive the Salk polio vaccine.

The county health officer stated that up to this time about 200 injections have been given in the county since December 1, with no untoward reactions. He emphasized that if a child is to obtain satisfactory immunity before the polio season, he should receive his first dose not later than February 1.

All indications from last year's field trials are that the vaccine is at least 90 per cent effective against paralytic polio, and may be even 95 per cent effective. It apparently takes from three to four months after the first injection for satisfactory immunity to develop.

At this time, a committee will be named to nominate new officers, and plans will be laid for continuing the monthly parties which were discontinued several months ago.

"We want all present and former members to be our guests at this party," the officers stated, "and we plan to put much enthusiasm into the club's activities for the coming year. Come out and bring a guest or prospective member with you."

A drive will likely be held soon to increase membership in the club so it will be more representative of the town and community, it was stated.

ROOM APLENTY

As is generally known, the farm population has been declining while the size of the average farm has been increasing. The agricultural economists seem virtually unanimous in believing that this trend will continue, with fewer farmers and bigger farms.

The reason for it, of course, is the technological revolution that has resulted from mechanization, electrification, and other gigantic forward steps that farming has taken in a comparatively short time.

Some people, however, fear that all this progress involves a serious danger—a danger that the family farm may be on the way out, and that the future of farming lies in huge, corporation-type enterprises.

The weight of evidence is against this view. Modern farming techniques should and do strengthen the family farm. Mechanized equipment, starting with the tractor and going all the way down the long list, is an example. It makes it possible for the small operator to handle a larger acreage and to produce more with less cost and physical effort. Not every farmer, obviously, can individually buy all the machines and attachments that are desired. But groups of farmers, acting cooperatively, can do that—and the cost to each is moderate indeed in the light of the results.

This country has room aplenty for big farmers and small farmers—just as it has room for big and small businesses.

FAMILY DOCTOR

To preserve the dignity and increase the stature of the family physician, the American Medical Association has taken steps to promote the establishment of a general practice department in the nation's medical schools.

Few want to be general practitioners any more. The trend is all to the specialties.

The AMA tried to stem the tide with annual awards to the family physician of the year, but that did not impress the newcomers.

Now it is not only encouraging the medical schools to hold up general practice as a great aim in itself, but it also threatens to remove from the accredited list hospitals which restrict the privileges of general practitioners.

The family doctor is a great institution. His financial reward may not be as great as the specialist's but the personal and professional satisfaction he gets from his practice is truly beyond price.

THE ATMOSPHERE IS WHAT COUNTS

"A good example of what abundant capital and the efficiency developed in American industry will do for the public may be seen by comparing the prices of gasoline with wages during the past 50 years," says Christian Economics. It then points out that, since 1903, the tank wagon price of gasoline has actually fallen by about 10 per cent, while the wages of laborers, mechanics and oil refinery workers have increased up to 1,250 per cent. The magazine adds: "The great abilities of a comparatively few industrial managers backed by the savings of the people are responsible for this enormous increase in well-being."

The record of the American oil industry is unrivaled anywhere else in the world. That isn't because we were uniquely blessed with oil resources by Nature—other countries, Russia being one, have vast resources too. And other countries have scientists and geologists and other technicians of high ability.

What is the reason then—what has been the secret of success? Writing in the magazine, Service, W. Alton Jones put it this way: "Granted that our industry boasts many men of vision, skill and zeal, this is not the whole answer. These same men, with all their talents, could never have succeeded in an atmosphere unfriendly to individual initiative—to what we call 'private enterprise.'"

ON THE SIDE OF FREEDOM

The local newspaper is a personal diary of a community's life. This is especially true of the country papers, of which there are many thousands in the United States. These papers are free to express their point of view on any issue or question of public or private interest, subject only to the reservations imposed by the libel law.

Their right to criticize their government was established over two hundred years ago in what was then a British Colonial town known as New York City. This country's smaller newspapers are a tremendous asset on the side of freedom, possessed by no other nation. The strong local appeal of the small-town newspaper assures unusual readership interest.

Amid all the modern developments in the field, the newspaper retains its position as one of the most effective advertising mediums. All of us have a tremendous stake in the continued health and independence of our thousands of newspapers. It's reassuring to find that they rest on such a solid foundation, both culturally in the minds and hearts of the readers, and economically in the support of advertisers.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

CAN WE AGREE?

ONE FAITH

Our agreement must continue. There is ONE FAITH! Again we emphasize the same apostle, in the same letter, the same chapter and the same verse, Eph. 4:4, declared there is one faith, those who believe the Bible do not speak of many faiths, or even two faiths. We must agree there is one faith for that is what the word of God says, and that one faith comes by hearing the word of God (Rom. 10:17).

Just here, we must inquire. When where do matters of disagreement enter in? There can be but one answer! Disagreements in matters of faith and practice in religion can only be the results of departures from the Holy Scriptures and the determination on the part of man to institute innovations and practices in the church, not taught in the Scriptures; and execute laws, ordinances, and notions not taught in the word of God.

As long as we accept the divine word of God, without additions, or subtractions, we are always in agreement. Then why not dispose of all human creeds and disciplines and unite upon the word of God—that we may be in agreement. The inspired apostle declared, "All scripture is given by the inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly furnished unto every good work" (2 Tim. 3:16-17).

We need only to come back to the Bible, come back to the word of God, speak where it speaks and be silent where it is silent; then, we may all be in agreement—not just in agreement with ourselves, but in agreement with God.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Under the 1954 Internal Revenue Act, all persons who have a gross income over $600 must file income tax returns, except if the taxpayer is 65 or older he need not file a return unless he has gross income over $1,200. This is because persons who are 65 or older have two exemptions which automatically eliminate any tax liability for income under $1,200. The old established date of March 15 by which income tax returns must be filed was abolished effective last year. All federal tax returns for individuals may now be filed on or before April 15. Although many persons believe that a tax return need only be postmarked by the due date, such is not the intent of the statute. Tax returns are supposed to be in the office of the Internal Revenue Service by the due date specified.

Tax forms and instructions will be received by most persons during January. The instructions being distributed this year contain the following statement: "The Internal Revenue Service will mail Form 1040 ES, as far as is practical, to each person who may need it. Anyone else required to file should obtain the form from an Internal Revenue Service office in time to file by April 15, 1956."

Declarations of estimated tax are required from all persons who expect gross income of more than $400, plus $600 times the

Sales Promotion Manager For Gas Co.

Appointment of B. T. Murdaugh as regional sales and promotion manager for Lone Star Gas Company distribution properties in West Texas has been announced by R. H. Gray of Abilene, regional manager. He succeeds John Perryman, who has been named sales and promotion manager for Lone Star's 187,000-customer division in Dallas, Gray said.

Under Lone Star's reorganized and enlarged merchandising program, Gray stated, Murdaugh will direct gas appliance sales and promotion activities in Munday and approximately 100 other cities and towns in the West Texas area comprising the Abilene Region. He will take over his duties February 1 and Abilene will be his headquarters.

Murdaugh comes to this territory from Waco where he worked as regional sales supervisor. He began his career with Lone Star June 12, 1940, as salesman at Waco and several months later was transferred to Temple. Late in 1942 he entered the Army Air Corps and saw service at San Antonio, Manchester, England; New Hampshire; and Fort Newfound, New Jersey. He received an honorable discharge in November, 1945, at Randolph Field and resumed his sales work with the gas company at Temple early in 1946. In November, 1947, he was appointed dealer assistance representative in the Waco region, and in September, 1950, took over the regional sales supervisor post.

Murdaugh was born at Greenville where he was graduated from high school. At Waco he was a teacher in the Sunday School department of the Austin Avenue Methodist Church, event director for the 1954 Heart O' Texas Council Boy Scouts, and chairman of leadership training for the Central District, B. S. A. He is an Elk and a Mason. His hobbies are fishing and golf. Mrs. Murdaugh is the former Christine Sparkman of Cleburne. The Murdaughs have a son, Michael, age 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jungman and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hertel were business visitors in Fort Worth the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Penick and children of San Angelo were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Penick over the week end.

Mrs. Doug Moore has accepted a position in the Stanton School, beginning her duties last Monday.

COTTON PRODUCERS URGED TO USE OR RETURN ALLOTMENTS

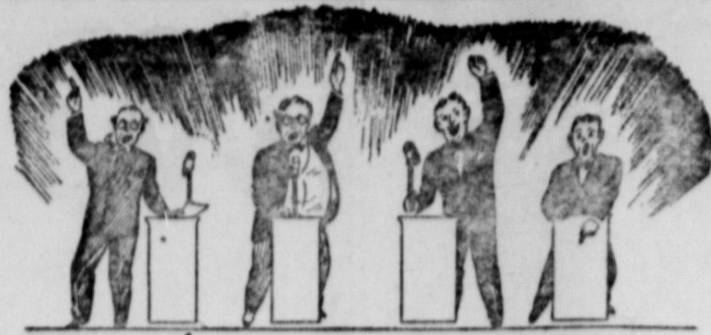

Texas cotton farmers can plant more acres of cotton in 1956 than was harvested in 1955 if they make full use of the State's allocated acreage.

The Texas Stabilization and Conservation Committee points out that the 1956 cotton acreage allotted to Texas producers is 7,410,893 acres. Final figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the 1955 cotton crop shows that 6,860,000 acres were harvested in the state.

All farms in the state eligible for a cotton allotment have been assigned an acreage for 1956 plantings. The State committee urges all producers who do not intend to plant their allotted acreage to contact the local ASC office and return to the county committee any cotton acreage not to be planted. It can then be reallocated to producers in the county who have asked for additional acres. A final date has been set in each county for turning in the acres which will not be planted.

If the intentions not to plant are not known and the acreage not reallocated, the county loses the acreage and the farm gets no credit on its historical base. Acreage can be returned on both a temporary and permanent basis. A full explanation, says the state committee, can be obtained from the local county committee or from officials in the county ASC office.

Mrs. W. E. Reynolds was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watkins and children in Wichita Falls.

JULY TO NOVEMBER FARM EXPORTS UP FOUR PERCENT

Exports of agricultural commodities from the United States during the July-November 1955 period are estimated at $1,300,000,000, a gain of 4 percent over the same period for 1954.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, farm exports in November are estimated at about $275,000,000, or 11 percent greater than the monthly average in the first quarter of the current fiscal year but 18 percent less than for November of 1954. The chief differences between November 1955 and the corresponding month a year earlier were the decline in exports of cotton and vegetable oils and oilseed while increases were made by grains and feeds. Exports of livestock products, tobacco and fruits and vegetables did not change significantly.

Cotton exports, although aided by sales for foreign currencies, still were less than half as great in the 1955 July-November period as in the corresponding months

TEXAS FIGHTS THE KHAPRA BEETLE

The Texas-New Mexico border marks the line of defense in the battle against a new and dangerous threat to state grain crops. The enemy is the Khapra Beetle, a native of Asia which invaded this country via California about three years ago.

As far as Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors can determine the pest has not yet reached here, but in California, Arizona and New Mexico, it takes its toll in thousands of tons of stored grains. Quarantine barriers are aimed at keeping it out of Texas while the neighboring states completely eradicate the insect.

The Khapra Beetle is primarily a stored grain pest and is not found in open grain fields. It can also live on animal products when necessary or can survive for as long as three years without any food at all.

In the larva stage—its most active period—the pest has an enormous appetite. Grain damage, depending on weather and temperature, varies from 5 to 30 percent although up to 75 percent damage has been reported. The beetle is a "dirty feeder", breaking or powdering more kernels than it consumes. What it doesn't eat, it lowers in grade, causing heavy losses to farmers and to grainmen.

The adult Khapra Beetle is small—about 1/16 inch in length. It is pale red-brown to dark brown or black in color with wing covers that usually have indistinct red-brown markings. Generally, it is hairy on top but often the hairs are rubbed off so that it has a slick appearance.

The larvae, 1/8 inch long, are yellowish brown and clothed with long brown hairs. The area between the segments and the underside of the body is pale yellow in color, giving the worm a ringed appearance when viewed from above.

The insect is difficult to control and is so feared by grainmen that its presence in a state is enough to lower the market demand. If it spreads into Texas, grain values can drop, or, in some cases, be prohibited from shipment into U. S. markets without strict and costly inspection.

Detailed information on the Khapra Beetle may be obtained without charge by writing "John White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas".

Miss Bera Faye Spann of McMurry College in Abilene spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

This week I have introduced two bills in the House, the first of which will be known as H. R. 8361 and which will permit a home owner to deduct as an expense do not exceed $500. This bill pairs that he has made to his residence, including painting and papering to the extent that such expenses do not exceed $500. This would apply only to a person's principal place of residence. This bill should encourage home ownership in that it will remove some of the penalties that are now imposed from a tax standpoint upon those who are home owners. In all probability, this bill will be considered by the Committee sometime within the next two or three months, and I am hopeful that favorable action will be taken on it by the Committee and Congress.

The other bill, H. R. 8362, would relieve the farmers from the Two Cent Federal excise tax on gasoline and lubricating oils used exclusively in farm tractors, farm machinery, or other agricultural purposes. It is highly probable that action will be taken on this bill in the House within the next two weeks. In view of the fact that the Federal excise taxes on gasoline and lubricating oil are imposed theoretically for the purpose of raising funds for Federal highway improvement, it is not right that those people who use gasoline and lubricants off the highways should be taxed for this purpose.

A great deal of time will be spent in the coming weeks discussing the tax program for next year. Any new tax proposal certainly requires very serious consideration as to what effect it will have on the Federal income and the National economy generally. This year we must have definite information as to whether or not the Budget will be balanced. It now appears reasonably certain that in June 30th the Budget will be in balance and that we will have a surplus in the Treasury of somewhere around Four Bil-

In the realm of economics, a few profound thinkers have evolved certain "laws" (rules or theories) and have thereby gained lasting fame of a sort. For example, Ricardo and his theory of rent and Malthus with his law pertaining to the growth of population. Here is the newest bid for immortality, the Boyce House law:

You can, and frequently do, receive less than you pay for; but you can be sure that you will not receive more than you pay for.

Shakespeare did not originate his plots. You can find them in old histories. And Homer didn't originate the story of the siege of Troy. But they took old material, worked it over, transformed it on the loom of genius and produced masterpieces. Your columnist was having coffee one morning last summer in Stamford with W. G. Swenson, manager of the great SMS ranch; his son, Eugene, who is associated with the ranch's management; A. M. G. So help me, I was the only one who took it black; all the ranchers used either cream or sugar or both!

lion Dollars. If this estimate proves to be correct, and if we can adopt some reasonable plan for the orderly reduction of the National debt, then it seems reasonably certain that we can expect legislation to reduce taxes. Present estimates indicate that we will be able to have tax reductions probably in the personal income tax field in the overall amount of around Two Billion Dollars and still make some provisions for the reduction of the debt and keep the Budget in balance for the next fiscal year.

To get some idea of the volume of legislative work here, it is interesting to know that last year during the first session of the 84th Congress 11,914 bills were introduced, 8844 of which were introduced in the House. Since the beginning of the second session the first part of January this year, there have been 500 bills introduced in the House and 157 in the Senate which brings the total number of bills introduced during this Congress to 12,571.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Mental disorders today represent a real problem, and it is estimated that more than fifty per cent of all hospital beds are filled by persons suffering from mental or nervous diseases, says Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of Health.

It thus appears that modern civilization is exacting a terrific toll. High speed living, with its heavy demands upon nature, is responsible for a large part of the trouble. The fact is that significant percentage of the patients entering hospitals for mental disorders are there because of organic or toxic causes.

For example, general paresis is the cause of one-fiftieth of the mental troubles in males now entering mental hospitals. This condition is an organic disease of the brain due to the germ responsible for syphilis. It is a preventable disease. Early and effective treatment of acquired syphilis will block the end results of general paralysis in the insane.

The excessive use of alcohol is responsible for a number of mental disorders, at least in males. Alcohol and syphilis combined are responsible for approximately one-fifth of all the hospitalized insanities. Nevertheless, improper living habits continue to impair mental health in many people. Insufficient sleep, neglect of bodily care and an over forcing of nervous energy are the pitfalls to avoid in this connection.

Nature demands that her fundamental laws be at least reasonably observed. A constant outraging of the physiological economy takes its toll not only in bod-

Clinton Harbers, Fayette County, Is Man Of Year In Texas Agriculture

Clinton Harbers, outstanding young farmer in Fayette County, Texas, was today named "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by The Progressive Farmer magazine. The honor was given Harbers for superior achievement in the art of farming.

"In less than 4 years, this young muscular, ex-GI, has become better-known than any other farmer in Texas—particularly if you narrow it down to working farmers," says C. G. Scruggs, associate editor of The Progressive Farmer. It's been estimated that at least 10,000 people have visited the Harbers' farm west of La Grange. And no one goes away without becoming inflected with Clinton Harbers' zeal for doing a better job of farming.

By using good soil conservation methods, insect control, and other farming knowhow, Harbers has easily tripled his yields and income. Most important, he has used his head and found better ways to do old jobs. His adaptation of some of his equipment has been so successful that his special plow and planter is now being manufactured.

Harbers borrowed money to buy a farm in 1947. He started going to GI agriculture classes and became a cooperator in the Bastrop-Fayette Soil Conservation District. From influence of these two sources, he began thinking of ways to improve his farming practices to increase his yields and income. The "Harbers" way was the result.

In 1953, Clinton Harbers received the $5,000 Hoblitzelle Award for the Outstanding Contribution to Texas Rural Life ies but in minds also. Mental illness and lesser nervous disorders could be spectacularly reduced if this face were more generally respected. Training for mental health must be started in childhood as that is the time when prevention of emotional disturbance and promotion of sound emotional health can be accomplished most easily.

CLINTON HARBERS

awarded by the Texas Research Foundation. In 1954, he was selected by the Fort Worth Press as the Outstanding Comeback Farmer. This past year, Harbers was selected as one of the 4 top young farmers in the United States by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Harbers has traveled thousands of miles to talk before civic clubs, farm groups, and field day crowds. He regularly holds field days on his own farm. Thousands of acres of land in Texas are now being farmed the Harbers' way.

Home Improvement Program Endorsed By Lumber Company

Wm. C. Nance, manager of Wm. Cameron & Co. has announced that his Company will participate in Operation Home Improvement, the gigantic national program to make 1956 "Home Improvement Year."

As its part in the unprecedented program, the Cameron Company will step up its efforts to be of service to homeowners here with the desire to make better homes of the houses they live in. The program was initiated by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to encourage home improvement throughout the year—and to make it easier for homeowners to obtain the materials and services that go into home improvement. Hundreds of leading national manufacturers and trade associations, as well as many thousands of local businessmen in every part of the country, have joined in the effort.

The Hon. Albert M. Cole, top housing chief in the Federal Government, pointed out—in proclaiming Home Improvement Year on January 16—that home improvement is a "sound investment in America's future." He went on to explain that home improvement bolsters the economic and social well-being of the community and the nation, in addition to providing comfort, pleasure and beauty for the family.

President Of Wichita Falls Bank Had First Banking Experience In Munday

C. E. McCUTCHEN

C. E. McCutchen of Wichita Falls, who had been president of the First National Bank in that city since 1946, was recently elected active chairman of the board of directors in recent election of officers. A former Munday man, he had his first banking experience with the First National Bank here.

Carter McGregor, executive vice president, was elected president of the bank.

McCutchen long has been a leader in banking circles of this area, having been associated with the First National Bank in Munday, Texas, in 1906 and 1907 and with the First National Bank of Olney, Texas, in 1908 and 1909. In April, 1910, he organized the First State Bank in Megargel and remained there as its head until April, 1912.

Bank Examiner

He was appointed a state bank examiner April 15, 1912, a position he held three years.

It was on May 30, 1915, that McCutchen was elected assistant cashier of the First National Bank in Wichita Falls—the day before the bank moved from its quarters on the corner of Seventh and Indiana to its present location on Eighth and Indiana.

McCutchen was elected cashier in January, 1918, and six months later was elevated to the role of vice president—a position in which he served until February, 1946. It was then, upon the death of W. M. McGregor, who had served as president many years that McCutchen was elected to the First National presidency.

McCutchen has held numerous offices in state and national banking organizations. He served two three-year terms as a member of the executive council of the American Bankers Association; was president of the Texas Bankers Association in 1950-51 and was treasurer of that association in 1917.

He is one of Wichita Falls' most enthusiastic and co-operative leaders, having served in nearly every capacity in the

Knox Prairie Philosopher Amazed That Senator Wants To Discourage The City Farmers, Says He Already Has

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek probably has misinterpreted the news again, a habit of his, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: I was out here on my farm this week sort of waiting around for Congress to solve the farm problem. If Congress can do it, it'll beat anything I've been able to do, when I got to glancing through a batch of newspapers I'd accumulated and ran across an article that made me pull my feet off the couch and sit up and pay attention.

According to it, a U. S. Senator wants Congress to map out a plan to discourage "city farmers" who operate part time.

At first glance, I thought this Senator was behind the times, that Congress had already mapped out a plan that'd discourage not only city farmers but all other kinds.

But after I got into it and read where he said "These city farmers—professional and business men who buy a few hundred acres—help complicate the farm problem," and he wants something done to discourage them. I understood, without agreeing. I'm afraid the Senator is hunting up something to do to avoid plenty of work already staring him in the face.

If you will talk with these city farmers, you'll find that a good many of em are already discouraged. I don't know whether Congress can take credit for this or not, but something or somebody has done such a good job of discouraging city farmers that it has carried over to regular dirt farmers too.

I talked to a city farmer just the other day and, after making the downpayment on a farm a couple of years ago, he says he is now willing to let anybody operate the farm for all he can make off it if he'll just agree to keep up the payments for him.

Making money on a farm is easy when you do it on paper, but when you try it out, those paper profits always manage to hide out. Looks like you never can get to the bank with em.

I'd like to suggest to this Senator that he has already succeeded in discouraging the city farmers, that job is well taken care of. Now he ought to concentrate on encouraging the dirt farmer, and if he's shy of an idea, I'd like to suggest that nothing's as encouraging as a good profit.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

70 Herefords Net $26,530 For Sidney Winchester At Sale Held On January 11

Seventy Herefords brought Sidney Winchester of Munday, $26,530 for an average of $379 a head at his herd dispersal sale on Wednesday, January 11, at the auction arena of Arledge Ranch.

With only 11 bulls in the sale, they easily outsold the females, following a trend in recent registered beef cattle sales. The 11 bulls sold for $7,355, an average of $667. Fifty-nine females brought $19,175 to average $325.

Winchester, who established his herd in 1951, had to sell his herd when his doctor issued orders to curtail his activities. "It was one of the hardest decisions I ever had to make," he said.

"To say that I have gotten a maximum amount of pleasure from it would be putting it mildly and it is my candid opinion that the people who make up the purebred Hereford industry are the finest people in the world."

Top-selling animal Wednesday was BR Proud Mixer 7th, a magnificent bull weighing almost 2,100 pounds, which was purchased by the Aldrich Hereford Farm of Pearsall for $2,250. Proud Mixer 7th, calved Feb. 4, 1950, is a son of the Register-of-Merit Sire, BR Proud Mixer. The "7th" is regarded by many as one of the better bulls in the Southwest.

N. A. Gillis of Harrell also paid $500 for Miss Publican 44th and a heifer calf, SW Miss Royal 54th, which was calved last July. Gillis
