

Kracker Krumbs

They'll be talking about cantaloupes and watermelons, come 10 p. m. Saturday.

k-k

This crop, which was planted for the first time to any extent, promises to be an early-crop money crop for farmers in this immediate area. Those who are interested in planting a crop in 1956 are urged to attend the meeting set for 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the American Legion Hall.

k-k

Jack Colyer, who has had years of experience in packing and marketing cantaloupes, will present to talk to interested farmers about planting, packing and selling this tasty little melon. Aspects at present are that a good many more acres will be planted to melons—both cantaloupes and watermelons—this year, and if you're at all interested, it will be to your advantage to attend this meeting.

k-k

We noted with interest last Friday an Associated Press article to the effect that a U. S. Senator has a new-fangled gadget installed in his office. We reminded the senator that he is in his fifth year behind the desk. But let us quote you this time:

k-k

Next week, it will be possible to talk to Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (Rep.) of Arizona, at any day or night, even if he is out of town. That includes Sundays and holidays.

The Senator announced that constituent telephones, and one in the office, a recorded voice will say the office closed, and "will you leave a message for the Senator?" or "is that to effect."

k-k

Goldwater will be able to play the constituent's words back when he returns to the office.

k-k

That we want the Senator to hang on and say nothing for a while of time that sweet-talking voice will get sassy and ask you to either leave a message or hang up. Senator, we're way ahead of Washington in that respect—be some others, too!

k-k

Police officer runs into all sorts of situations. Take, for instance, last Friday.

k-k

Def Lee Bivins went to see the high school boys about a complaint of chunking autos with balls last Friday as our fifth five inches of snow pelted the town. He found the youngsters somewhere in the vicinity of the Methodist Church, and found them in a fun-ging, pranking mood.

k-k

They really ganged Bivins and him the biggest walloping he's ever had. As snowed him and rolled him in the snow, one of the boys shed a giant snowball right in his face. Bivins came out of the snow all over him and all in his clothes. But who do reckon got the biggest kick of telling of this experience?

k-k

The snow produced moisture in the area, fun for the young, and smiles for the farmers. As just about the prettiest Mother Nature could do early Friday morning as wet flakes clung to trees, wires, etc. And the town around a half-inch—not to be sneered at, either.

k-k

Improvement to the appearance of a portion of our town, which was neglected to mention, happened when Ura Wilmore down those old rotted awnings on the Wilson wings and added the new awnings. The places receiving these dress-up awnings are Hyde Auto Supply, McCarty Jewelry and Munday Clean-

School Bond Issue Is Voted At Benjamin

Voters of the Benjamin Independent School District approved a $20,000 bond issue for construction of a vocational agriculture building in a special election held last Saturday.

The proposition, one of three voted on in the election, carried by a margin of 104 to 5.

The second proposition, for maintaining a tax of $1.50 on $100 valuation, was approved 102 to 5. The third, on assumption of the outstanding indebtedness of the former Benjamin Common School, carried 102 to 4.

The second and third propositions weren't included when it was voted about a year ago to make the school district an independent school district.

Munday Man Named To Honor Society

ABILENE—Wayne Smith of Munday, a junior at McMurry College, was elected to membership in the college's chapter of Alpha Chi, national honor scholastic society, last week.

Smith and 12 other high-ranking students at McMurry were presented certificates of membership in the society by Dr. Joe C. Humphrey, academic dean of the college.

In making the awards at a McMurry student assembly, Dr. Humphrey explained that only the upper 10 per cent of the junior and senior class members, in scholastic standing, are considered for membership in Alpha Chi.

"These students have earned, through hard work and study, their membership in Alpha Chi," Dr. Humphrey said. "It is one of the highest honors that can come to a McMurry College student. It means that these students have made the very highest records in scholarship, leadership, character and service."

Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith of Munday, is vice-president of the McMurry junior class, and president of Kiva, men's social club. A biology major, he plans to enter medical school after graduation from McMurry.

Patrol Contacts 1,341 Violators For Month Of January

Patrolmen of the Wichita Falls District, Texas Highway Patrol, contacted a total of 1,341 traffic law violators during the month of January, Captain K. B. Hallmark Jr., commanding officer, reported. 548 of these were arrested, while 793 were warned for violation of the state traffic laws.

Speeding was the leading cause of arrest, with DWI second and improper passing ranking third.

In Knox County, the patrol investigated a total of eight accidents, five property damage, and three personal injury accidents. There were no fatal accidents.

Hallmark reported a total property damage of $4,450, with three persons injured. This was an increase of three accidents over the same period last year.

Nature's brush painted these scenes in Munday while the population slept last Thursday night, awakening Friday morning to find everything blanketed in winter's loveliness.

hull lawn, showing the large evergreen clinging with snow. This tree was planted about 18 years ago by the Chamber of Commerce when T. G. Bengue was serving as president.

The scene at the right is the hedge and back yard of the F. L. Bowley home, with the top of the Lamoine Blacklock home showing in the background.

Area Again Blanketed With Five-Inch Snow On Friday; Moisture Beneficial

The wettest snow of the season, and one which brought more beneficial moisture, visited this area last Thursday night, and people awoke Friday morning to view one of the prettiest scenes of nature.

The snow began falling around 10 p. m. Thursday and by early morning about five inches of the wet, sticky flakes covered the ground, wires, trees, etc. Some estimated the snow to be between five and seven inches.

Coming with very little wind, the flakes which were laden with moisture, stuck to the ground and the moisture soaked in as the snow melted. The sun came out about mid-morning Friday, and by Saturday afternoon very little evidence of the snow remained.

It furnished merriment for the youngsters, as many snowball fights were held and numerous snowmen were erected over the town.

About a half-inch of beneficial moisture was received from the snowfall.

ALL RETAILING IS LOCAL

Once again, at this Congressional session, efforts will be made to revise the federal-wage-hour law, and to extend its coverage to enterprises which are now exempt and have been ever since the law was first passed—notably retailing.

The reason for the exemptions, and the cogent arguments in favor of retaining them, should be thoroughly understood. Retailing is a local business. Even the biggest chain must compete on the local level, and must be able to adapt itself to widely varying local needs, desires, and conditions.

It is significant that men whose interest in improving the status of working people cannot be questioned have supported the exemptions. The late President Roosevelt once said, "There are many purely local pursuits and services which no federal legislation can effectively cover." Mr. Justice Black, then a Senator, said, "Businesses of a purely local nature which serve a particular local community, and which do not send their products into the streams of interstate commerce, can be better regulated by the laws of the communities in which the business units operate."

More recently, a noted economist in the labor field, Dr. Richard A. Lester of Princeton, told a Congressional committee: "The federal government should not attempt to fix minimum wages for grocery stores, department stores, hotels, or theatres."

Lastly, extension of the law would harm those it is designed to help, by forcing merchants and others to pare marginal employment to the limit, and thus prevent the unskilled from learning the skills that would qualify them for higher pay.

FILMS FOR THE FARMER

The welfare of many a business enterprise largely depends upon the welfare of agriculture. Some business enterprises have recognized this and are acting accordingly.

The Union Pacific Railroad is a good example. Back in 1943 it started an agricultural motion picture program. Twelve films have been released and up to 100 prints of each are in use. They are loaned to farm, civic, church and other organizations without charge, and so far have reached more than 7,000,000 people. They deal in an instructional manner with matters of specific interest to the farmer—wheat smut control, cattle production, saving little pigs, culling chickens, and so on.

In the long run, the solution to the big farm problems will come from improved farm techniques and attitudes. A program such as the UP's is of great value.

"COURAGEOUS AND SOUND APPROACH"

There has been so much criticism of Secretary of Agriculture Benson that an inadequately-informed person could readily believe that he and his policies suffer the virtual unanimous opposition of the farmer.

This is not the case. Large, important and far-sighted farm groups respect and support the Secretary and his objectives. For example, the American National Cattlemen's Association, at its recent annual convention in New Orleans, passed a formal resolution commending the Secretary for his "courageous and sound approach" in trying to maintain a free agricultural economy.

The wording is significant. A so-called "solution" to the farm problem which reduces agriculture to bureaucratic domination is far worse than no solution at all. It is to the credit of the cattlemen and other livestock producers that they have long understood this and have been leaders in opposing proposals which would take away their freedom and independence in return for federal handouts. And they have held that position during periods when meat prices have been seriously depressed.

Regardless of who heads the Department of Agriculture in the future, regardless of what changes for good or ill take place in the agricultural economy, the maintenance of the farmer's freedom within our free enterprise system should be the basic goal of all.

WHEN THE CHIPS ARE DOWN

The New York Times recently reported that "private power once more has beaten its public rival at the ballot box." In this case, a South Dakota community of 2,500 population voted by a 10-to-one majority to have a taxpaying Minnesota utility continue serving it with electricity. The Times story added that three other municipalities in the area also voted for continued service from the same utility company, and that "the alternative would have been power supplied by the federal government."

A short time before, national attention was given to an election in a Washington State county in which, by a 71 per cent majority, the voters approved selling their publicly-owned power system to a business-managed private system.

The socialists are always charging that the people are overwhelmingly in favor of socialized power, but are prevented from getting it by ravenous and incredibly powerful special interests. However, when voters do not get a chance to speak, the evidence points in the opposite direction.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

WE DO NOT NEED A NEW GOSPEL!

Occasionally in this rapidly changing world we hear the expression: "We need a new gospel to meet the needs of a changing age!" We believe this attitude betrays the superficial thinking and a complete disregard for Bible teaching on the all-sufficiency of "the faith once delivered to the saints" (Jude 3).

The gospel of Christ delivered over nineteen hundred years ago, calculated to save man's soul from sin (Rom. 1:16), needs no present day revision. The reason? Human nature has not changed; sin is still the same; the devil still uses the same devices (the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eye and the pride of life (1 John 2:16); and the needs of man are precisely the same as they were at the first coming of Christ. The ancient gospel met every need of man nineteen hundred years ago, and today we join with the inspired apostle to say, "His divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue"

(2 Pet. 1:3). Inasmuch as we are given the things pertaining to life and godliness through the "Knowledge of Christ," he who recommends another book of revelation, other than the Bible thereby admits his disbelief in the complete knowledge of Christ being found in the Bible.

Let us hear the Bible: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (2 Tim. 3:16-17). Creeds of men, Keys to the scriptures, manuals or catechisms cannot improve on the perfect law of liberty.

"But though we are an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed (Gal. 1:8). Take heed! The introduction of additional doctrine endangers the soul of the one who introduces it. Let us always in doctrine and practice be content with the Bible.

The above was taken from the February 14th issue of the Firm Foundation, written by O. J. Russell.

COURTROOM DRAMA
We've all seen a great many courtroom dramas in the movies, on the stage, or on television. Too many, some may say, but there's no denying the drama to be found in the courtroom.

A theater seat or a comfortable chair in front of the TV screen is the closest many of us ever get to a courtroom. It's from such a vantage point that most of our ideas come today about court procedures and how a trial is carried on.

Stage and screen trials normally present only the highlights and take many shortcuts in the interest of brevity and audience appeal. Often an attorney is pictured making objection after objection to the questions and answers as witnesses testify. He makes these objections vehemently, pompously, or sarcastically—and often in a voice louder than necessary—according to the demands of his role, and depending upon whether he's on the side of the villain or the hero. The judge then raps for "order, and booms out, "sustained", or "overruled", and those of us in the audience usually are at a loss over why he made his decision.

In a real courtroom it's true that attorneys protest against what's being done or said, as a means of assuring a fair trial, and the judge must allow or disallow each objection.

The principals in the real courtroom are just practicing common sense when they follow the "rules of evidence" in placing facts before the judge and jury. If there's to be a fair trial and a just verdict, there must be true facts.

Evidence in the courtroom may take several forms, but two are most common. Answers to questions from a witness under oath are the best-known type of evidence. Exhibits—written records, letters, "the murder weapon", and other physical objects having to do with the case—are the next most common. "Depositions", or written statements, from a witness who for some reason is unable to appear personally in court, are sometimes admitted as evidence in certain cases.

Perhaps you've heard: "A trial is not a contest of learning, skill, or tact between lawyers, but a proceeding to find out the truth according to the evidence received and the law as explained by the judge."

That's about the size of it, and that's the way each of us wants it to be if ever we are placed on trial or taken to court for even so much as a speeding ticket.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Icard

This week hearings will begin on the ways to finance payment for the expanded interstate highway system. It is estimated that the new road program that has been proposed together with the existing highway program will cost the Federal Government approximately $35,000,000,000 over the next fifteen years. Existing taxes on fuels, tires, and highway vehicles would raise approximately $22,000,000,000 during that period. It is, therefore, necessary to provide additional revenues in the amount of $14,000,000,000 to $15,000,000,000 over the next fifteen years to make this highway program self-financing. There is little doubt but what Congress will require that the new program be self-financing because last year Congress rejected the idea of financing it through the issue of bonds upon which the estimated interest charges alone would have been about $11,000,000,000. The self-financing or pay-as-you-go program would save all of these enormous interest costs, and actually the added revenues that are needed to pay for the program as it is built are only about $1,000,000,000 more than the interest item alone would have been under the plan that would have provided for the building of roads on credit, in addition to the fact that the bond plan would have also shifted the responsibility for paying for the roads to some future generation when the roads would probably have been worn out before they were ever paid for. Any pay-as-you-go plan will undoubtedly require additional taxes on gasoline and other fuels as well as tires and possibly some increase in the tax on vehicles. However, the fuels used in vehicles used off the highways should and undoubtedly will be exempt from any tax increase. It is impossible to know at this time just exactly what the amounts of these taxes will be until after the Committee hearings have been completed and everyone interested has been given the opportunity to express their views. The hearings should be completed sometime around the first of March, and it is probable that the matter will

What greater tribute could be paid to an author than Charles Dickens received? As the succeeding installments of "Old Curiosity Shop" appeared in a magazine, readers in great numbers wrote to the novelist, begging him not to let Little Nell die; and when a ship arrived from England with copies of the newest issue, crowds waiting on the wharf shouted to the passengers, "Is Little Nell dead?"

A creature of Dickens' imagination but he made her so real that millions loved her and shed tears when she died!

William Jennings Bryan was taken seriously as a contender for the Democratic nomination for president in 1896 by only one man—himself. The night before he was to close the debate on the adoption of a platform, the young editor from Nebraska was having dinner with a friend in a hotel dining room. In the lobby a band was playing on behalf of Bland and when the music paused there would be shouts from supporters of DuBois. Bryan remarked to his friend, "They don't know it but, by this time tomorrow, they will be shouting for me. Senator Hill (of New York who was to make the principal speech on the other side) believes in our cause but he will be speaking the sentiments of his section; his heart will not be in it. I helped to write the platform; I believe in the soundness of every word. I will make the speech of my life."

And he did. His "Crown of Thorns and Cross of Gold" address electrified the convention and he won the nomination.

When Theodore Roosevelt was New York City police commissioner, a speaker was scheduled to make a speech against the Jewish race. There were reports that violence would break out if he attempted to make the speech. Roosevelt said he believed in free speech and he sent 20 policemen to see that the speaker was allowed to talk. The police preserved order and the speech was made. All 20 of the policemen were Jewish.

An optimist is a man who buys hair restorer from a bald-headed barber.

How the length of human life has increased can be seen from the fact that an eminent doctor of the early part of the century, Dr. Osler, declared, "A man should be chloroformed at 40." Incidentally, he changed his opinion after he reached 40 himself.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK SET FOR MARCH 3-11

The 121,044 Texas 4-H club members will join their fellow members, approximately 2,100,000, from every state in the nation in the observance of National 4-H Club Week from March 3-11. The 4-H club program is directed by the Agricultural Extension Services of the Land-Grant Colleges of the United States in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Locally, 4-H program and activities, are directed by the county agricultural agents and home demonstration agents with valuable assistance from both adult and junior 4-H leaders. According to Director G. G. Gibson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the objectives of the week are to provide members a special occasion for taking a look backwards at past achievements and making plans for future activities on their farms, in their homes and communities; to inform the public of the value of 4-H training; to recognize the contributions of local leaders and to enlist the support of public-spirited, youth-minded citizens in leadership roles; to give 4-H members and the public an opportunity to know more about the 1956 4-H theme, "Improving Family and Community Living" and to interest other young people in enrolling in local 4-H clubs.

Director Gibson says that plans are now being perfected in the counties for the week-long observance. He extends a special invitation to parents and the public to attend and participate in community or county observances.

Forerunners of the present 4-H clubs were the corn clubs for boys and tomato clubs for girls. The first corn club in Texas organized by a county agent was the one in Jack county. It was organized and supervised by the late Tom Marks. The year was 1908. Today 4-H club members conduct demonstrations and activities which touch every field of farming, ranching and home life. Their classrooms are the farms, ranches and homes of Texas where they learn to do by doing.

Immigrant Priest Finds Pleasure In Paying Income Tax

Revenue folks rarely take the trouble to raise an eyebrow over taxpayers' letters at this time of the year. Quite a few of the letters express a very personal dislike for paying taxes. Few taxpayers consider their tax payments a blessing. The District Director of Internal Revenue received a very unusual letter containing a contribution to the government. Contributions in the form of conscience payments are not especially unusual, but the Revenue folks felt this one was. The dates, names and places have been left out to comply with the taxpayer's wishes. The letter read: "I am enclosing a check for $25 as my sincere contribution and an expression of my deep gratitude before God to this big, great, free and blessed country. Please accept it and use it like you want. I know that I am free of income tax, because my incomes are so small and I am allowed so many deductions. I have been living here for several years as an immigrant priest and I know the price of liberty, being in jail for several years and in two concentration camps under the Nazis. I was liberated from a German concentration camp by American troops. I know what suffering my countrymen and the people of all nations behind the iron curtain are undergoing. I appreciate the opportunity of living here and I feel the necessity to express in fact my real gratitude and appreciation. This small contribution springing from gratitude is an expression of my appreciation of living here and to work without fear of being arrested at any time, like my countrymen in my native land.

"My widow's mite to the Treasury of the U. S. A. is so small that I am embarrassed I can not give more in my appreciation to this government, country, and free nation where refugees of all nations, tongues, beliefs, and countries can find freedom, liberty, honest life, and good care."

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bevers were their daughter, Mrs. Aline Kienig, and grandsons, David and Robert Koenig, of Oklahoma City.

YOUNG MEN WANTED

UNCLE SAM needs young men for his peacetime Army of Reservists. YOUNG MEN need what Uncle Sam has to offer.

Strong nations seldom are attacked. It is only when a nation becomes weak, when its military strength is at a low ebb . . . when its men are untrained for battle . . . that an enemy strikes. To keep peace — keep strong. For a nation to maintain military might it must have a large, well-trained Ready Reserve — well versed in the latest in military know how and equipment.

It is up to the young men of America to provide this manpower. Under the Reserve Force Act of 1955 American youth may continue in school with a minimum of interruption, while serving in the U.S. Army Reserve.

COTTON SEED RESEARCH

An expensive and troublesome cotton seed treatment aimed at killing pink bollworm larvae may be abandoned in Texas this spring.

Texas and U. S. Department of Agriculture experts have been working several seasons to determine whether sterilization of cotton seed actually is necessary. The treatment was designed to kill larvae within the seed by controlled heat.

A few years ago, a new theory was advanced. The pink bollworm larvae—a very delicate organism—was known to have a hard time surviving the buffing and jolts of ordinary ginning. Wouldn't this rigorous experience be enough to achieve an effective "kill" without sterilization? Research men were determined to find out.

The cotton research center at Brownsville was a typical center of operations. Here the men examined many thousands of seed fresh from the gins in heavily infested pink bollworm areas. It was a tedious process, requiring each seed to be broken open separately and examined.

The vast amount of slow hand labor involved indicated a project extending over several years. When an idea was developed that hastened the examination.

A special room was designed and built so that the controlled humidity and heat would provide ideal hatching conditions of the larvae into the moth stage. Special nets were erected to trap the emerging moth.

By knowing the exact number of seed involved and obtaining an accurate count of moths, the rate of kill by ordinary ginning processes could be determined. This improved process speeded up the research program by at least a year, experts said.

Data is now being compiled at the various experiment points. The result should be known within six weeks—and the sterilization project will be continued or abandoned, depending on the outcome.

If sterilization is declared unnecessary, ginners in 127 Texas counties will be relieved of a heavy responsibility which slows their operations. Ginners over the remainder of the state can be assured by the knowledge that they may not have to install expensive equipment at a later date. They also can breathe knowing that their gins will not be materially helping to spread the insect infestation through release of cotton seed into other areas.

However, the experts emphasize that if results of the project are the least bit doubtful, the present seed sterilization methods must continue to be enforced by Texas and federal agencies.

Safe Driving Survey Made By Insurance Firm

Wholesalers are still displaying their outstanding safe driving record, holding onto the top spot in the new survey completed by the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company of Bloomington, Illinois, according to Leo Fetsch, local agent for the firm, at Munday.

Periodically, State Farm Mutual takes a statistical look at the accident experience of its own policyholders—now at the 4,000,000 mark—and ranks the passenger car drivers according to their occupations.

Among the 64 occupational groups classified, proprietors and managers of wholesale establishments held onto first place—indicating that they consider themselves and their cars as valuable merchandise and recognize the profit in careful driving.

In the previous survey in 1953, housewives were complimented for their standing in 28th place, ahead of many male groups. Since then the ladies, smugly or not, have settled down in a rut and haven't budged from the spot.

Law enforcement officials have moved up toward the front of the line. Though they're not leading the safe driving parade, they're well up in 7th place. And this shows progress, for the watchdogs of the law ranked 14th in the insurance company's last previous survey.

Also rising substantially from their own previous standings are doctors, barbers and beauticians, rural mail carriers, and federal and state officials.

Farmers continue to cultivate safe driving habits. They're rolling along in 5th place, showing their taillights to many city slickers and leading all other major occupational groups as safe drivers. But their hired help plowed from 35th down to the 47th row in the standings.

Teachers are setting a good example with a number 6 mark to their credit. But the students are still down near the foot of the class with a flunking 62. Likewise, commissioned military officers advanced ten steps to Position 30—but enlisted military personnel still bring up the rear in 64th place as passenger car drivers.

Editors, reporters and photographers followed a middle-of-the-road policy, seemingly, in their own driving experience. A look at the current State Farm survey discloses the gentlemen of the fourth estate in 26th place, stuck in the middle of the column right where they were before. And lawyers have to work up a defense case for their driving, with the evidence showing a slight drop from 50th to 52nd.

Quite a dramatic struggle takes the spotlight in the back part of the field—where the people in the liquor industry (57th) are breathing down the necks of the motoring clergy (56th).

On the downhill side, auto salesmen skidded from 32nd to a low, low 45th. The figures kicked veterinarians from 22nd to 33rd. And undertakers buried their record 43-deep, after a previous dignified 18th.

Mr. Fetsch points out that this study is based solely on accident claim losses related to premiums among State Farm Mutual's own policyholders. The results are meant to show an interesting comparison of the accident experience of occupational groups as passenger car drivers, without reflecting local situations or any individual's driving habits.

And people in many occupations can find some comfort when they look down the list and discover: "Insurance agents and brokers—49th."

Cattle Population Sets New All-Time Record

FORT WORTH—The USDA Crop Reporting Board announced Monday that the cattle population on January 1 was again higher. The estimated total was 97,465,000. A year ago it was 96,592,000. In 1954 it was 95,679,000. Average for 1954 was 84,040,000.

The advance was made despite a decline in milk cow numbers of one percent, to the second lowest inventory since 1950.

Hog numbers were: 1956, 55,088,000; 1955, 50,474,000; 1954, 45,114,000; 1945-1954 average 56,853,000. The gain was nine percent above a year ago.

All sheep totaled: 1956, 31,109,000; 1955, 31,582,000; 1954, 31,356,000; 1945-1954 average 34,736,000.

Stock sheep numbers were: 1956, 27,009,000; 1955, 27,137,000; 1954, 27,079,000; 1945-1955 average 29,941,000.

Cattle Open Steady

Cattle trade was very active on all classes, except fed steers, yearlings and heifers on Monday at Fort Worth. The trade on beefs was slowed by higher asking prices as salesmen endeavored to recover some of last week's losses. Packers were reluctant to increase costs in view of the low close last week in the dressed meat trade.

However, prices were fully steady to strong and spots 25 to 50 cents above last week's extreme low points. Cows were strong and 25 to 50 cents higher. Bulls were strong. Slaughter calves of less than 550 pounds were strong but heavier kinds were about steady.

Stocker trade was active and strong with demand centering mostly on she stuff and light-weight yearlings and calves. Greening fields and pastures in much of the Southwest following the recent moisture was increasing inquiry for these types steadily.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $15-18; common and medium grades $11-14.50; fat cows $12-13; canners and cutters $8-$12; bulls $10-14.75; good and choice slaughter calves $16-19; common and medium $13-15.50; culls $10-13; stocker steer calves $18.75 down, a load weighing 477 pounds at $18.75, and strictly choice light steer calves were quotable to $19 and better. Steer yearlings sold mostly from $17.50 down. Stocker cows $8-13. Stocker heifer calves are quotable $2 to $3 under similar steers.

Hogs Weaker, Top $13.56-13.75

Good and choice hogs sold at $13.50 to $13.75 at Fort Worth on Monday, to average 25 to 50 cents under last week's late sales. Sows were 50 cents lower and ranged from $9.50 to $11.50. The less desirable weights and kinds of hogs sold from $11 to $13, and some butcher pigs selling around 100 pounds sold at $10.

Lambs Weaken

With the dressed lamb trade on the Eastern Seaboard sagging steadily in recent sessions the tone was bearish on the Fort Worth market. Early bids were fully $1 lower, but salesmen managed to sell the bulk of the lamb supply at around 50 cents lower prices.

Top lambs sold from $17 to $18, and feeder lambs sold from $17

We realize that many farmers of this area have not put down a well because they have not been able to pay cash for it. For this reason we have been working for several months to secure a satisfactory finance plan. We believe we have the best plan that can be secured, along with the best equipment.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — Optimistic state health officials don't think the picture of heart disease is as black as it has been painted.

"True," says Dr. W. S. Brumage, director of the State Health Department's heart disease control activities. "It kills more people than any other disease. But chinks are appearing in its armor, and research scientists are widening those chinks daily."

Take the old bugaboo of rheumatic fever. A few years ago it used to cripple or kill its victims like a relentless pirate.

Today, inexpensive penicillin readily routs the causative organism, a malicious little speck of life known as "hemolytic streptococcus."

Or think about luetic heart disease, a deadly complication of syphilis. Modern penicillin therapy, Dr. Brumage says, has pulled its fangs.

Perhaps the most impressive area of progress against heart killers is modern surgery to correct congenital heart defects. Many babies are hale and hardy today who, had they been born a few brief years ago, would have surely succumbed to heart malformation.

Also, congenital heart deformities can be prevented today by the expedient of preventing expectant mothers from contracting German measles at a critical stage of pregnancy.

"We cannot yet do anything to prevent other forms of heart disease," Dr. Brumage says. "but we can add long years to a heart disease patient's life through patient education—teaching him to live usefully in spite of his heart impairment."

The State Health Department's program of heart disease control consists of:

Giving financial support to the heart clinic at the Robert B. Green Hospital in San Antonio; sponsoring the "Heart Bulletin," a technical publication which keeps physicians abreast of the most recent developments in the management of heart disease; providing penicillin to all city and county health officers for indigent rheumatic fever patients; and heart disease case finding.

More than 7,000 cases of "suspicious" heart disease were uncovered through the Department's chest x-ray program last year.

"Arteriosclerotic diseases—including the type of attack President Eisenhower had—are our biggest problems," Dr. Brumage says. "They're increasing, due to an aging population, causing almost half of all deaths due to heart disease."

He said the probable future of heart disease research would be in finding out what causes blood vessels to break down, so appropriate preventing measures could be introduced.

Guests of Mrs. A. E. Womble over the week end were her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. M. Alexander of Saligma, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nance of Cisco and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sinclair and daughter, Ervin Earl, of De Leon. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander remained for a longer visit.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Unsure About Governors On The Cars, But Thinks They Would Work On Tractors

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses speed this week, something he has only theoretical knowledge of.

J. A.

I don't have too much faith in public opinion polls, mainly because it's hard to say what a nation thinks when most of the individuals in it haven't made up their minds yet, and also because they miss so often, except when they report on something you can't really check up on, like whether 63 per cent of the wom-

HELP FOR YOUR HEART

The Texas Heart Fund, now being conducted in hundreds of communities throughout the state under the able chairmanship of Senator Lyndon Johnson himself a heart disease sufferer, will continue through February 29.

Prime purpose of the 1956 Texas Heart Fund is summed up in the Fund's campaign slogan: "Help Your Heart Fund—Help Your Heart."

Money contributed to the Texas Heart Fund (an affiliate of the American Heart Association) supports a continuous three-part program that helps heart disease victims in every sector of the nation.

Since 1948, the annual Heart Funds have invested more than $13,000,000 in heart research alone. They have put additional millions into public and professional education programs to provide wider distribution of information about heart disease and what can be done to prevent or cure it. Still more millions of dollars have gone into community Heart projects to help cardiac victims live productively with their ailments.

Cold, hard statistics show that one person out of each 16 in the United States—including 500,000 children—now suffers from some form of heart disease, and that the death toll from heart diseases each year is greater than the combined total of the nation's deaths from cancer, accidents and suicides, pneumonia, diabetes, kidney disease and tuberculosis.

Here in Texas, the commissioner of health has termed heart disease "the state's number one killer."

Your contributions to the 1956 Texas Heart Fund—made through February—can help fight this crippling, killing disease. Contribute generously to your community Heart Association—or send your contribution to "Heart-care of postmaster."

FARMERS MUST PAY SELF EMPLOYMENT TAX

Thousands of farmers have not paid their 1955 self-employment tax in filing their 1955 income tax return, according to Mr. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of the Dallas District of Internal Revenue Service.

Farmers became subject to paying the self-employment tax during 1955 for the first time. Mr. Campbell stated that it appears that many farmers feel that self-employment tax coverage is optional for farmers. This is not true. Under the provisions of the new self-employment tax law, the farmers became subject to this tax on the same mandatory basis that they are subject to income tax. Farmers should carefully review the self-employment tax instructions before filing their tax returns. These instructions require careful study before the farmer can determine whether he is subject to self-employment tax and, of course, whether he will eventually be eligible for Social Security benefits under the law.

SEYMOUR DEFEATS MOGULS FRIDAY NIGHT

The Seymour Panthers edged out the Munday Moguls 69 to 65 in a hotly contested basketball clash here last Friday night. The two teams seemed to be playing on even terms until the last period, when Glenn Amerson fouled out after scoring 27 points for the Moguls.

Munday also lost the "B" game 38 to 44 and the junior game 20 to 24.

Mrs. Cal Stevens and Mrs. Mary Poore and Wink visited relatives in Abilene over the week end.

John A. Couch, 79, Well Known As "Mr. Haskell" Dies At 3:45 a. m. Wednesday

John A. Couch, 79, one of West Texas' best known citizens and immediate past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, died at 3:45 a. m. Wednesday at Haskell after a long illness from a heart ailment.

He devoted much of his time and energy in the betterment of Haskell and West Texas. He was a former member of the Hardin-Simmons University board of trustees and was either president or secretary of the Haskell County Democratic executive committee for 40 years. Many other activities of the Haskell area and West Texas were accomplished through his efforts.

A native West Texan, he was born in Coleman County. After moving to Haskell he became associated with the R. B. Spencer Lumber Co. as a co-partner and was with the firm for more than 40 years. He was president of the Haskell school board 22 years, mayor of Haskell for four years and president of the vocational school there since its organization. He was formerly a director of the Haskell National Bank.

Survivors include his wife of Haskell; a daughter, Mrs. Edward Burleson of Waco; a brother, R. C. Couch Sr., of Haskell; two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Roberts of El Paso and Mrs. Ollie Reeves of Weslaco; two grandchildren and several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were slated for 3 p. m. Thursday from the First Baptist Church in Haskell with the pastor Rev. M. D. Rexrode, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. Hubert Segó, Baptist minister.

Burial will be in Willow Cemetery in Haskell under the direction of Holden Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wilma Dean Griffith visited relatives in Abilene over the week end.

PARTY PINAFORE

Pretty enough for a party dress is this charming little girl fashion by Joseph Love in Everglaze cotton. The striped cotton pinafore is worn over a solid-colored, full-skirted dress which ties with a big bow in back. The colorful pinafore can be worn separately.

Roy Dowdle of Arlington is visiting his brother and family. Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dowdle and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Womble and children of Dallas visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Layne Womble, one day last week.

WHAT MY BIBLE SAYS

Revelation 20: 1-7

I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and the great chain in his hand.

And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years.

And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled; and after that he must be loosed a little season.

And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection; on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

And when the thousand years expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison.
