Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

Snowmen dotted the town last Sunday. . . . It was the first time in several years that enough snow had fallen to really build a snowman. . . . And it was a good "building" snow, just wet enough to press together into nice, juicy balls. . . .

Tuesday morning, a nice, large snowman still decorated the lawn of the Methodist parsonage, nearly all still intact despite the warm, melting weather of Monday. . . . Before we had realized it, this big snowman was standing erect between the two evergreen green trees just northeast of the parsonage. . . .

He was the most decorative of any we've seen, eyes, nose and mouth, a belt encircling his waist and buttons running up, or down his front. . . . The White Christmas came just about two weeks early, and rather unexpected, too. . . .

After about an inch of rain during Saturday, Munday residents awoke Sunday morning to find between three and four inches of snow covering the ground and shrubbery bent low under the heavy load. . . .

Moisture from the rain and snow, which we heard unofficially Monday amounted to 1.57 inches, was enough to renew hopes and bring smiles to all of us, especially farmers whose wheat was getting in need of more moisture for survival. . . .

The precipitation, an insufficient amount considering the arid condition of the area, was moisture enough to be appreciated. . . .

Rev. Ragle must have been forewarned about the weather. In his story handed us early last week about the nativity scene at the church, he said: "Weather permitting," the scene will be lighted for the first time Sunday evening. . . .

The scene was to have been enacted in pantomime, but Sunday evening was no time to "put on an act" out in the open, so weather didn't permit. . . .

It was so warm and balmy when we first read Doyle's phrase that we kinda chuckled. Looked to us like kinda superfluous wording—but was it? . . .

The scene was lighted Monday evening, but without the public ceremony and pantomime. There it'll remain until after Christmas to attract the attention and inspire Christian Christmas thoughts of men, women and children. . . .

The creative art of Mrs. Effie Alexander has again resulted in an inspiring Christmas scene at The Hat Shop. It seems more massive and beautiful than any she's created. . . .

It's worth a few minutes of one's time to stop by and study this scene. . . .

Our guess is that you'll marvel at the long and tedious hours necessary to make those lifelike figures and various items that make up this very beautiful scene. . . .

Possibly, too, as you stand there you'll catch the message it's intended to bring at this season: . . .

"Glory to God in the highest. Peace on earth, and good will toward men."

Notes For Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

Winter is the safest time to prune or transplant trees and shrubs because most plants are dormant at this time. Plants that drop their leaves are dormant after leaf fall and it is safe to prune or move them anytime after this until spring growth starts.

Here are some suggestions that may be of help to you:

1. Have plants out of soil for as short a period as possible.
2. Make the holes large enough so that the roots need not be crowded or twisted.
3. Be sure that there is drainage so that water won't stand for several hours in the hole.
4. After the tree or shrub has been placed in the hole, firm topsoil about the roots or ball. Leave no air space. Pour water into the partially filled hole to avoid this.
5. Prune tops of deciduous plants at planting time to compensate for root loss.
6. Do not plant trees or shrubs deeper than they were growing before moving.
7. Apply heavy mulch around plants to prevent danger from freezing and thawing during winter and to hold moisture in soil.
8. Keep soil moist during the winter.

A Texas cotton crop of 3,920,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight is estimated by the Crop Reporting Board in its final report of the season. Production is expected to exceed the November 1 forecast by 70,000 bales, or 2 per cent, with the Trans-Pecos, High Plains and northern Low Rolling Plains counties accounting for this increase. The late crop "made" in these districts and open weather favored harvest with negligible losses. Production last season amounted to 4,317,000 bales and the 1943-52 average was 3,239,000 bales. Due to allotments, planted acres were less than average but the average yield was up with the state average yield was up the state average of 244 pounds of lint per acre. This is 11 pounds above last year and 62 pounds above the 1943-52 average. With the exception of the bumper yield in 1949 this is the highest per acre yield for the state in 60 years.

Cash outlays for soil and water conservation can be charged as farm expense—rather than farm capital—under recent changes in the Internal Revenue Code, making them income tax deductible. Detailed information on the changes may be obtained from Internal Revenue representatives.

Santa's Coming December 22nd

Hey, kids! Did you think Santa wouldn't get here before Christmas?

He's coming, and he'll spend part of three days here. Chances are he'll have something for the kiddies, too.

Santa will arrive here Wednesday afternoon, December 22, about 3 p. m., and will spend some time on the city hall lawn and about town.

Then about the same hour Thursday, December 24, he will be back, and on Christmas eve he will be in town during both morning and afternoon.

Arrangements for his visit have been made through the Munday Chamber of Commerce.

SENDS FIRST CHRISTMAS USO HAM-GRAM TO GI

GI watches USO hostess Ann Baker (TV's Corliss Archer) accept message for relay to distant "ham" operators.

Times To Publish Early Next Week

It is our plan to publish the Munday Times a day early next week, going into the mails sometime Wednesday afternoon.

Employees, who find it difficult to take regular vacations in mid-summer, will then be given the remainder of the week off as they may spend Christmas with relatives elsewhere.

Those having news for the paper are requested to send or phone this in early next week, as the deadline will be a day earlier. The Times will carry Christmas messages from local merchants.

Santa Claus letters need to be turned in by Saturday, if possible.

Rain, Sleet And Snow Brings Needed Moisture To Many Areas Of Texas

Faces were brighter, smiles were broader, hearts were lighter, and greetings more cheerful the first of this week.

Not necessarily because the Christmas season is upon us, and Santa Claus is about to begin his annual journey, either.

But because of the visitation of rain, sleet and snow that brought much-needed moisture to this section and much of the arid areas of our state.

The rain started between seven and eight o'clock here Saturday morning and continued rather steadily during all of the forenoon. During the afternoon the showers let up, and it appeared it might be all over.

But moisture started falling Saturday night. At bedtime the rain had turned into sleet. Later in the night it turned to snow with about three inches sticking to the ground.

The moisture came up about to these measurements, according to H. P. Hill, local U. S. weather observer: Moisture from rainfall, .93 of an inch; moisture from sleet and snow, .65; total moisture, 1.58.

Double parking and center parking will be prohibited within the City of Munday, according to Mayor M. F. Billingsley, with only one exception. Center parking will be allowed on the street between the bank and Cobb's Department Store. This area will be laid off to permit the center parking of one line of cars only.

"We've had too many complaints about this dangerous practice," Mayor Billingsley said, "and two serious accidents that were directly attributed to double parking. It is imperative that the practice be stopped."

The ban on double parking and center parking becomes effective next Monday morning.

Paducah, Albany To Play Friday At Wichita Falls

Paducah is unbeaten and untied in 13 games and boasts an amazing average of 54.7 points per game. Albany has lost only to Class 2-A* Stamford in 13 tilts, and is also one of the highest scoring teams in the state.

THE MERCHANT MARINE CONTRACT

The subsidies paid by the government to certain American-flag steamship lines can be more accurately termed "operating differential" payments. They are designed to help compensate for the fact that the wages and other costs that must be met by American operators are far higher than those of their foreign competitors.

Moreover, a line receiving payments must operate under a rigid contract with the government, which provides that it must maintain regularly scheduled service over specific essential trade routes, that all the officers and 90 per cent of the crewmen must be American citizens; that all the supplies and materials used on the ships must be of American origin; that its ships must be constructed in American yards; that it must meet the requirements of the U. S. Coast Guard, the highest in the world; that its ships must be retired from active service after 20 years of operation, and that all of its ships must be registered under the American flag.

On top of that, the contract contains a unique provision known as the recapture clause. The 1935 Act, which established merchant marine policy, specifies that if earnings permit, the operating differential payments must be repaid to the government, in whole or in part, depending on the profits accumulated over a 10-year period. During the first such period, 60 per cent of the payments were thus repaid or accrued for repayment to the government. No other government subsidy is subject to recapture.

Economic welfare and national security demand that we maintain an adequate merchant marine. The differential payment system is the most moderate priced way to do that.

GOOD MERCHANTS AND GOOD CITIZENS

Officials of chain store systems naturally want their local store managers to be good merchants. They want them to be good citizens of their communities as well.

As an example, a chain store association recently announced a new project. Each of its members is to decide which of its managers have done the best job as citizens. These men will receive certificates of good citizenship. Then one of them will be selected on a basis of achievement as the citizen-manager of the year.

This is typical of the policies and attitudes of today's chain store industry.

STURDY TRIPOD

Are people of moderate means interested in investing a part of their savings in corporate stocks?

Early this year the New York Stock Exchange put into effect what is known as the Monthly Investment Plan. Under it, people can go to brokerage houses and arrange programs for purchasing desired stocks over a period of time, on monthly payment. Should they, for any reason, discontinue the payments they take no loss—they receive whatever stocks they have paid for.

In its first eight months of operation, the plan has attracted 23,000 new investors, representing all 48 states. These people, as of recent date, had bought $6,700,000 worth of stocks through plans that, if completed, will contain $56,700,000 original investments.

This is only a beginning. The United States needs an unparalleled amount of private investment if President Eisenhower's recently announced goal of $500,000,000,000-a-year economy by 1965 is to be achieved. As the president of the New York Stock Exchange put the matter, "Mass investments must be added to mass production and mass distribution as the sturdy tripod on which the American economy rests." And that, he added, requires educating millions more Americans "to the importance of a steady flow of savings into common stock investment and to the risks and rewards of such investments to them as individuals."

THE BEAR'S CHOICE

One of the brown bears kept at the Portland, Oregon, Zoo dug his way out of his cage to freedom. He roamed the woods until he was discovered by visitors. His keeper had no trouble rounding him up. An offering of meat and the bear went back in his cage.

In the wilds bears hibernate at this time of the year when food was scarce, and sleep through the winter. But this bear gave up his freedom for a meager handout.

Man is often like the Portland bear. He fights his way to freedom from oppression and slavery and then gives up his hard won victory for a few pittance from government. Like the bear he accepts the dole of his keeper and the gate slams behind him with a jarring finality.

A PLEA FOR THE WORD OF CHRIST

The word of Christ is eternal. "Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my word shall not pass away." "The word of the Lord endureth forever." (Lk. 13:31; 1 Pet. 1:25.) The word of God is sufficient to give us all the religious instruction that we need. "All scripture is given by the inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (2 Tim. 3:16-17.) Human creeds are incomplete and cannot be universally accepted. At best they are nothing but the opinions of uninspired men.

A PLEA FOR THE AUTHORITY OF CHRIST:

The Bible teaches that God delegated all authority to Jesus. "And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying all power is given me in heaven and earth." (Mt. 28:18.) Jesus in turn delegated the same authority to the apostles. (Mt. 28:19-20.) He gave the Holy Spirit to guide them into all truth and protect them from error in revealing the word of God. (John 14:16-17, 26; 16:13.) Hence the Kingdom of Christ is an absolute monarchy. It needs no councils or conventions to make, amend or revise its laws. Christ is the head of His church. "And he shall put all things under His (Christ's) feet, and gave Him to be head over all things to the church, which is his body." "And he is the head of the body, the church." (Eph. 1:22-23; Col. 1:18.) No man has any right to change Christ's law.

A PLEA FOR THE CHURCH OF CHRIST:

We hear so much about this church and that church, that we have just about forgotten that Christ built a church. It belongs to Him. He said, "Upon this rock I will build my church." (Matt. 16:18.) It belongs to Him by reason of purchase. He purchased it with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.) Paul warned the elders to take heed unto themselves, and unto the church, knowing that some would depart from the faith. "For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock. Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them." (Acts 20:29-30.)

PAYNE HATTON, Evangelist

The animal bounded off at considerable speed and with a tremendous bellow, the dried oxhide rattling up and down at every jump. Such a combination of noises had never been heard in a race before and the horses ran off the track and tried to get away from the whole scene as fast as possible. By the time the riders could get them quieted down and back on the course, the race was over, for the bull had circled the track.

A general fuss ensued but the fun of the thing put the crowd on Hays' side. The horseman claimed that he would have won except for the oxhide and the horn. So he offered to run another race and discard the oxhide and the horn if they would put up another $100 against the purse he had won.

The offer was accepted and again they lined up and the signal was given. Hays gave the bull a touch with his spurs and the creature gave a tremendous bellow. The horse remembered what they had heard before and thought all the rest of the noises would follow, so again they ran off the course while Hays galloped his steed around the track and won again.

The signal was given for the start of the race and Hays gave a blast with his horn and sank his spurs into the bull's sides.

After much discussion, the judges ruled that under the conditions of the race, the bull was eligible. So he and the horse lined up. The other riders were displeased at the burlesque which they supposed was intended, and they thought it would be over when the horses started.

Mrs. E. B. Littlefield and Mrs. Gene Harrell were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cartwright of San Antonio, Mrs. Bill Traylor of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cartwright and Jimmy of San Antonio, Mrs. Bernard Cartwright, Kay and Harvey, of Bernie, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Cartwright of Alpine visited in the week end and attended the funeral of Louis Cartwright on Sunday afternoon.

1954—THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF QUICK-FROZEN FOODS.

JUST 25 YEARS AGO, THE QUICK-FREEZING INDUSTRY WAS BORN. SINCE THEN, FROZEN FOODS HAVE REVOLUTIONIZED AMERICA'S FOOD HABITS, INDUSTRY, AGRICULTURE AND TRANSPORTATION.

IN 1930, THE PIONEER COMPANY... BIRD'S EYE... PROCESSED ONLY 90,000 POUNDS OF QUICK-FROZEN FOODS. IN 1953 ALONE, THE FROZEN FOOD INDUSTRY PACKED UP MORE THAN 3-1/2 BILLION POUNDS.

AT-PLANT VINERS GET PEAS TO FREEZER IN 20 MINUTES!

FREEZING PLANTS ALL OVER THE COUNTRY CAPTURE THE "JUST HARVESTED" FLAVOR OF SEASONAL CROPS EVERYWHERE, EVEN FREEZING FRESH-CATCHED FISH AT DOCKSIDE.

IT'S EASY NOW.

GREATEST GAINS, HOWEVER, HAVE BEEN CONVENIENCE, ECONOMY, TIME-SAVING AND QUALITY—CONTROL OF FOODS FOR THE AMERICAN HOME.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Tuberculosis, many years ago the nation's leading cause of death, is losing out cause of man's fight for better health. Once the leading cause of death in Texas, too, tuberculosis now ranks ninth in Texas as a cause of death, says Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. Last year all forms of tuberculosis killed 1,070 Texans while twenty years ago with a population of only two-thirds of our present population three were 4,020 deaths.

Tuberculosis usually attacks the lungs. The disease is spread from person to person through germ-laden or sputum discharged by an infected person. It can be spread through kissing, breathing air containing tuberculosis germs, and through handling objects used in common with tuberculous persons. Children are easily susceptible to tuberculosis infection, as they are to other disease germs.

Tuberculosis victims have a good chance to recover, if the disease is found in its earlier stages, and the physician's instructions for treatment are carefully followed. The outlook is becoming more encouraging as time goes on, but we cannot rest while the disease is still taking so many lives.

Often tuberculosis does not show any noticeable symptoms until its victim has become extremely sick. The most common signs are chronic indigestion, steady loss of weight, an irritating hoarseness, poor appetite, and a constant feeling of fatigue, without any apparent cause for it. The warnings are more definite when a persistent cough appears, or when a person begins spitting blood or blood streaked sputum, feels persistent or recurring pains in the chest, or runs daily fever in the afternoon.

If you experience any of these symptoms, don't delay—see your physician. One or more of these symptoms may or may not mean tuberculosis, but it is best to learn the cause. Don't try to diagnose your own condition, let your physician do it, and follow his advice.

A regular chest x-ray is the surest way to detect early tuberculosis. Every Texan has an opportunity to have his chest x-rayed by one of the mobile x-ray units operated by the Texas State Department of Health.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

SLAUGHTER CALVES SCARCE AND HIGHER

FORT WORTH—Cattle trade was active and prices strong to unevenly higher Monday at Fort Worth. The scarcity of the better kinds of fat calves, which has become more and more pronounced in recent weeks, led to some sharp gains for that class.

Slaughter calves drew 50 cents to $1 higher prices, the most of the advance on the choice grades. Fed steers and yearlings were stronger with some sales 25 to 50 cents up on fat mature steers.

Cows, bulls and stockers and feeders enjoyed active trade and steady to strong prices.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $14.50 to $19, with some fancy fed calves to $20. Common and medium slaughter calves cleared a $14.50 to $19, with some fancy fed calves to $20. Common and medium slaughter kinds sold from $10 to $13, and culls sold from $7 to $10.

Packers reported cattle grubs were more in evidence this year than last and in most cases ten per cent more calves are showing "grubby" backs than a year ago.

All packers discount grubby calves and it is a heavy loss to cattle producers. Your County Agent can give you a simple remedy to clear them up, at your local feed store or drug store can likely furnish a remedy.

The few cents it costs to rid calves of these grubs can mean as much as $5 to $10 per head, since grubby calves everywhere sell around $1 to $3 per hundred under those without grubs.

Good and choice stocker calves sold from $16 to $20, and stocker steer yearlings sold from $19.50 down. Stocker cows drew $7 to $10.

Fat steers and yearlings of good and choice kind sold from $19 to $23.50, while plain and medium sorts sold from $12 to $18, and some canner yearlings sold from $9 to $11.

Fat cows cleared at $8.50 to $11, and canners and cutters sold from $5 to $9. Bulls drew $8 to $12.00, odd head above or below that range.

HOGS STAGE WEAK RALLY, TOP $18.25

Butcher hogs were around 25 cents higher and top hogs sold freely at $18.25 at Fort Worth Monday. Less desirable kinds because of heavy or lighter weights, or medium finish of fat backed kinds, sold from $16.50 to $18. Sows sold from $14 to $16.

LAMBS WEAKEN AS

TRADE STILL SPOTTY

The lamb trade was again an off-again and on-again affair at Fort Worth Monday. Monday was the "off" day it seems and most slaughter and feeder lambs were 25 to 50 cents lower, to 50 cents higher, from day to day and apparently this situation was going to prevail again—judging from the start Monday.

Fat lambs of the good and choice variety cashed at $16 to $18, and cull, common and medium sorts sold from $10 to $15.50.

Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $12 to $16. Old bucks cashed at $3 to $4. Old ewes sold from $4.50 to $5.50, and are quotable to $6 or better on the right kind of smooth light choice fat kinds.

Old wethers drew $7 to $10.

It was announced at Fort Worth today that the market will be open for business as usual on December 24. Market spokesmen take the position that livestock producers may have some stock they need to market on that day and therefore as a public service the yards should be open to accommodate them on as many days of the year as it is possible to do so.

Mr and Mrs J. L. Warrick and daughter, Evelyn Joyce of Wellington visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Edga, over the week end.

Christmas Party Held On Sunday At Methodist Church

With a white birthday cake for the Christ Child, surrounded by white candles, greenery and Christmas balls as the main center of decorations, members of the Junior Fun Hour met as guests of Nancy Cowan and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cowan, at the fellowship hall of the First Methodist Church last Sunday afternoon for a Christmas dinner party.

Mrs. C. P. Baker, teacher and director of the Junior Fun Hour, directed Christmas games prior to the dinner. Gifts were exchanged and then collected to be sent to the Wesleyan Children's Community Center at Alpine. The center is supported by the Methodist church.

Present for the party were: Diane Gaither, John Walter Massey, Jimmy Lee, Donna Kay Partridge, Jerrilyn Kane, Natalie Harrell, Barbara Kirschner, Allen Elland, Silvia Broach, Glen Ray Howell, Nancy Cowan, Jerry Bowden, Gay Harrell, Kay Smith, Mrs. C. P. Baker, Rev. and Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle, and Mr. and Mrs. Cowan.

Goree Man And Colorado City Girl To Marry

Announcement has been made in Colorado City of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Joan Taylor and Mackey D. Murdock of Goree.

The couple will be married on Tuesday, December 28, in the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Taylor, in Colorado City.

Mr. Murdock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Murdock of Goree, a senior student at North Texas State College in Denton and a veteran of the U. S. Navy. Miss Taylor is a 1954 graduate of Colorado City High School and is also a student at N. T. S. C. The couple plan to live in Denton.

NEW FASHION TAKES CUE FROM FRANCE

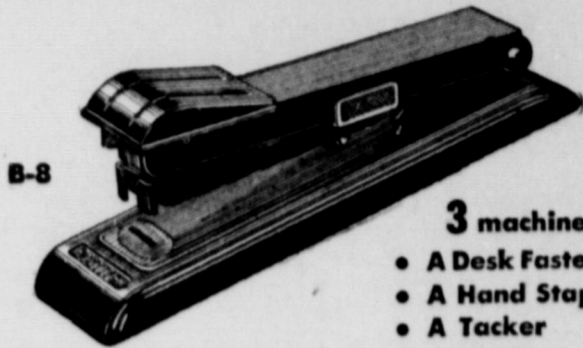

A new fashion for little American girls is inspired by the dainty smock of the petite French miss. Called the "Madeleine," this charming little cotton garment is as attractive as a pinafore, but as sturdy as rugged blue jeans.

The blue denim "Madeleine" fastens at the shoulders. Its huge pockets go halfway around the garment, which is long enough to be worn over dresses.

The comfortable "Madeleine" is washable and easy to keep fresh and clean.

Postal Employees Promote Christmas for Christ

NASHVILLE, TENN. — "If the postman can keep Christ in Christmas, anyone can," says J. Manning Potts, editor of The Upper Room, the world's most widely used guide to personal and family devotions. In a special pre-Christmas chapel service in the Upper Room chapel here which houses the great life-sized wood carving of the Last Supper, postal clerks and letter carriers participated in a Christmas for Christ campaign which they hope will spread over the world.

Business visitors of Wichita Falls Wednesday were Mrs. Clarence Knight and Mrs. Virgil Peek.

Lewis J. Moore, Nashville postmaster, pointed out how appropriate it is for the letter carriers and The Upper Room to join in this program. The postal employees handle the almost three million copies of each issue. This daily devotional guide is published in 29 editions including 25 languages and braille. The postal employees who attended this special pre-Christmas service hope that it will become an annual affair in many towns and cities over the world.

NEEDED PROTECTION

Recent amendments to the Social Security Act will bring federal old-age and survivors insurance to most Texas families. Farm operators—people farming themselves—have not previously been covered by the Social Security Law. Beginning January 1, all of them who make as much as $400 profit in a year will have old-age and survivors insurance.

Farm employees—people doing farm work for others—are already covered by the law if they work regularly for one farm operator. But the new law will bring insurance protection to all as $100 cash pay in a year from farm workers who earn as much as one farmer, whether the work is regular or not.

Both the farm operator or owner and his employees have long needed protection for themselves and their families against loss from death or old-age. Beginning January 1, they will have this protection. Benefits will be paid to the living worker and his dependents when he reaches age 65 and retires and to his survivors when he dies.

Farm employees will pay a social security tax of two per cent of their pay—two cents on each dollar of their pay up to $4,200 a year. Their employer will pay another two per cent and send the four per cent total to the director of internal revenue.

The self employed operator will make a report once a year and report the tax on his net earnings. This report is part of the income tax return. The farm operator will pay three per cent on his net earnings up to $4,200 a year.

Guess It's Called a Safety "Drive"

Whitey Fisher, from the State Motor Vehicle Department, dropped by to discuss some of our local traffic problems.

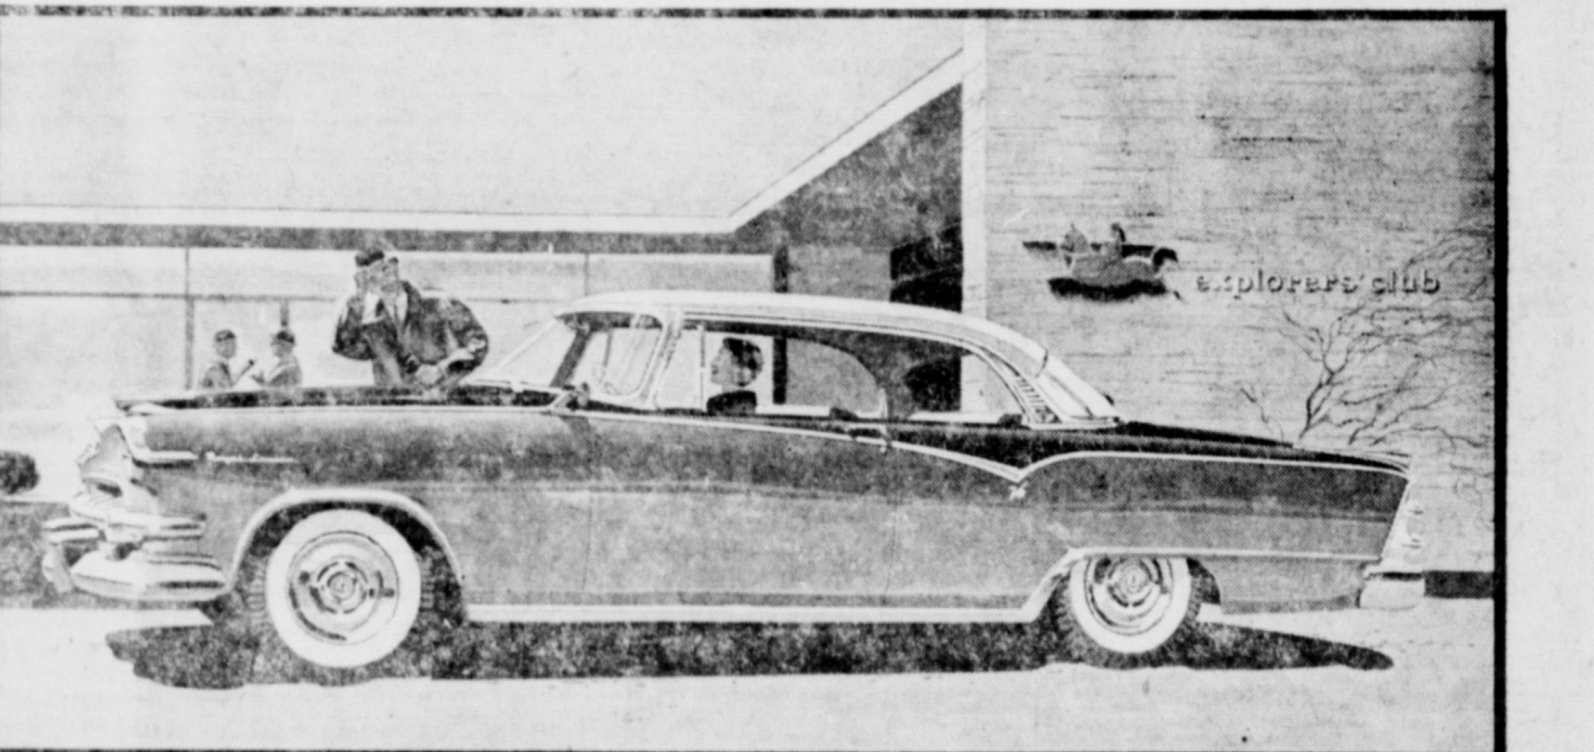

"Up at Center Junction," Whitey says, "they've got a new sign that really slows down the traffic going through town."

"The sign says, 'At 25 miles an hour, you can drive through Center Junction in 2 1/2 minutes!' It slows people down too—some just take it easy to check on that 2 1/2 minutes, I guess. Hasn't even been a dented fender since that sign went up."

From where I sit, it wasn't what the sign said, but the way it was said. People are usually pretty understanding if they understand what you mean. It's the same way with differences of opinion. Perhaps your neighbor prefers a temperate glass of beer, and you would choose buttermilk. What I'd like to see is for all of us to "slow down," talk it out, and be respectful of our neighbor's rights.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Amazed To Learn That College Head Fears An Over-Production Of His Graduates

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek's discussing education again this week, a subject which may be way over his head.

Dear editor:

While reading in a newspaper I picked up in town yesterday about the results of the vote farmers delivered on cotton marketing quotas this week, as you know these quotas are voted on because farmers have produced too much cotton, I saw over on another page an article that revealed farmers ain't the only people who are over-producing.

Colleges are doing it now. According to a college president the article was quoting, "American colleges may be turning out too many graduates."

This bowled me over. You mean to say colleges ain't no smarter than us farmers and are gonna have to have marketing quotas on graduates?

I kept on reading and got more amazed as I went. This college president added that "there is a real question as to our society's need for unlimited numbers of college graduates and its capacity to absorb them into the fields for which they may be trained."

You mean to say that college graduates are like bales of cotton, after you get so many there ain't no need for any more? This seems to put a new interpretation on education, and I'm looking forward to the time when all quota elections are combined and in one column on your ballot you vote for cotton limitations, for corn or maize or wheat limitations in another, for the size of the college crop in another.

This president even went on. He said that some educators feel that in the future large proportions of college graduates will have to be content with manual labor, and he reminded his listeners of the old saying that college ruins otherwise good plow hands.

IT WASN'T UNTIL 1934 AND THE ELECTION OF JOHN QUINCY ADAMS THAT THE ACTUAL NUMBER OF PEOPLE WHO VOTED FOR THE WINNING CANDIDATE WAS KNOWN. ADAMS RECEIVED 108,821 VOTES, NOT A SUFFICIENT MAJORITY. THE ELECTION WAS THEN REFERRED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

I do not follow this line of thinking. The idea that a college education unfits a man for farming, is a new one to me. I know some of us farmers ain't educated, but I never considered that ignorance was a requirement for plowing and once you improved your mind you had to give it up.

The idea that manual labor and education don't go together is a new one on me too. Even a college president with a string of degrees is bound to have to do some manual labor, unless he has somebody hired to work his tooth brush back and forth for him. I ain't never considered calluses on your hands was a bar to some education in your head.

I don't know any farmers who wish they were college professors, but I have an idea there are some college professors who wish they were farmers, if for no other reason just for the increase in income they'd get. I imagine there are more teachers teaching because they can't farm than there are farmers because they can't teach.

If we can produce too many college graduates, why can't we produce too many high school graduates? Who thought up the idea of teaching people to read, anyway?

Some times college presidents leave me wondering, but guess they could say the same for me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

Thank you so very, very much for everything you did for us during our hour of sorrow. Our grief would be much harder to bear if there were not friends to stand by us, lend a helping hand, such as those who were so good to come and express their sympathy to the bereaved family of Bonnie Luella Adams. We want Dr. Elland to know we sincerely appreciate all he did in trying to save our child.

His efforts will be remembered by us, and we shall always praise him for his untiring help he has so graciously given us.

We want all the ladies who brought food and helped serve to know that their efforts were not in vain. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Also, we wish to thank all the men who sat up at the funeral home. We shall always be grateful to you.

To those who helped in any other way, we want you to know it was appreciated more than words can express. May the Lord bless you, is our humble prayer.

TEEN-AGERS MAKE CHRISTMAS MERRY FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

Christmas means dolls to most little girls. Because of this, some 52,000 teen-age American girls have made Christmas dolls for their less fortunate sisters at home and abroad.

The dolls were entered in a competition sponsored jointly by Seventeen magazine and the Save the Children Federation. Prize winner in the contest is Joan Shelton, age 14, of Kirkwood, Mo. He prize is a two-week tour of Europe to present in person the dolls made by herself and her teen-age contemporaries to needy children in France, Italy, Western Germany, England, and Finland.

An estimated 25,000 pounds of cotton batting; 35,000 yards of cotton broadcloth, organdy, gingham, lace, bastiste, gauze and ribbon; and about 52,000 plain white cotton socks were used by the thousands of teen-age girls who made and dressed dolls in the annual good will competition.

In addition to the distribution in Europe, the dolls also will be sent to youngsters in rural America (including the Navajo Indian reservation), and to Korea, Israel, and other countries. The contest entries include such unusual dolls as a sleeping Arabian princess, the "Bartered Bride" in native costume, Hansel and Gretel, Little Bo Peep, Mrs. Santa Claus, Mrs. Eisenhower, Liberace with piano and candelabra, an 1890 belle, Scarlett O'Hara, a "tourist" doll with travel trunk, and a topsy-turvy doll that turns from "rags to riches."

RELATIVES HERE FOR A. J. MORGAN FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Stevens, Winslow, Ariz; Manley Morgan, Raton, N. M.; Henry Morgan, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Henderson and Mrs. Albert Langston, May; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Joyce and son, Albany; Mrs. Dwayne Russell, Vernon; Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Albertson, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. George Hammack and children, Anson; Mr. and Mrs. Mays, Stamford; and J. B. Morgan of Copeville.

As early as 1600 A. D., about fifteen hundred people were employed by a thriving cotton industry at Timbuktu in deepest Africa.

NEW VENEER WALL COVERING DEVELOPMENT

A new decorative wall overlay called pliwave recently has been developed. It is expected to find use as a wall covering and topping for tables, cabinet fronts, and particularly curved wall surfaces.

The new type overlay consists of two plies of veneer, woven together, cross-banded and bonded to cotton duck by a water-proof adhesive, producing a durable but flexible overlay.

At the Dallas Home Show it was awarded a blue ribbon for "over-all beauty and eye appeal."

It is predicted that pliwave will be a hit with "do-it-yourself" homeowners. A do-it-yourself kit for making a coffee table may become popular with amateur craftsmen who like to build furniture.

Manufacturer of the new wall overlay is S. L. McCauley, of Los Angeles. He has the veneers cut in strips two to three inches wide. Women workers weave these into diamond or parquet designs. For striking effects, veneers are mixed to blend several grain patterns.

Under the woven veneers goes a sheet of cotton duck. Final step is hot pressing by a hydraulic unit, which exerts up to 340 tons of pressure in the veneers. Out of the press come the panels in any desired size, ready for shipping.

Your New Car Upholstery Can Be Cleaned Easily

By Mary Lou Chapman

If Junior and his muddy-pawed puppy race through the car and Junior drops his melting chocolate bar on the seat as he goes, don't fret too much about it. There are methods to clean both mud and chocolate off the upholstery.

The most important point to remember is to clean spots and stains as soon as they occur. Don't let them set, or they'll be harder to remove.

Miss Chapman

Here is some advice on the care of your automobile interior, and some tips on stain removal. Just like your home, your car interior should have regular house cleanings. You'll need a good whisk broom, plenty of warm water, neutral (non-alkaline) soapsuds and the fabric cleaner recommended by your car dealer.

BRUSH THOROUGHLY

Fabrics should first be brushed thoroughly to remove embedded dirt and dust. Nylon, leather and synthetic leather upholstery can be sponged off with semi-dry suds made from a pure soap. Be careful not to saturate the seat with too much water. Next brush gently with a damp cloth (moistened with clear water) and finish with a clean, dry cloth.

For upholstery of wool, broadcloth or rayon composition, your dealer's dry cleaning fluid should be used. This usually contains carbon tetrachloride, and evaporates rapidly. Do not pour the fluid on the seat, but dampen a cloth with it and use a slight stroking motion on the fabric. Carpets can be cleaned with the same fluid.

OTHER STAINS

Candy, fruit, ice-cream or beverage stains can usually be removed with very hot water. Don't be too liberal with the hot water, however. It should only be used directly on the stained area to loosen it up. Follow with fabric cleaner.

On chocolate stains use lukewarm water. Follow with cleaner.

Blood or nausea should be sponged as quickly as possible with clear cold water, followed by a washing with lukewarm water. Rinse with cold water.

Lipstick, chewing gum, tar, grease and oil can best be removed with fabric cleaner or spot remover, using a dull knife first to scrape off excess quantities.

(Fashion writer, artist, and TV personality, Miss Chapman is a native of Detroit and has spent the last several years working with automobile stylists, designers and engineers at General Motors Corporation.)

IT'S GREAT TO HAVE A BOY IN THE FAMILY

So think Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, also their three daughters who are just crazy about their new brother.

The boy is Derrell Wayne, who made his appearance at the Baylor County Hospital in Seymour at 2:47 a. m., December 10. He weighed in at seven pounds and ten ounces, and the welcome he received is a great big one.

"Pat" is the father who is blowing and going at Beaty's Grocery, but he had to take time off Monday to bring his family home.

A Pennsylvania homemaker recommends this method of removing lipstick stains from cotton fabrics: Work glycerine into the fabric and then wash in the usual way.

Expand Into the Attic! MODERNIZING an attic is a cinch nowadays, with modern building materials. It's a wonderful way to add a room or two.

For a permanent installation, as shown, use 4 x 8-foot panels of Masonite Panelwood, a durable hardboard which was designed for this purpose. They go into place quickly, right over the studs, and you can use them on the ceiling too, cut into smaller pieces, as illustrated.

Lightly bevel the edges with a beveling tool, plane, file or sand-block, and permit the adjoining panels to come into moderate contact—the space of a dime, approximately.

These durable, splinter-free panels may be primed and painted, or they may be tinted.

If a flexible floor covering is used, be sure to install Panelwood, or Masonite Underlayment, over the rough flooring or existing finish flooring. The panels are applied in four-foot squares, and their use prevents the asphalt tile or linoleum from showing premature
