Odd Bits Salvaged

Had you noticed it?

There are no longer any traffic lights at the entrances to the school campus.

We heard—via grapevine—that the Texas Highway Department wasn't too hot on the idea in the first place.

Argument was that a motorist would find both lights green, then speed up to get through both of them before the red turned up.

Thus there was more speeding directly in front of the school building than ever before.

Complaints, too, were that children didn't pay too much attention to the lights, especially in crossing midway the block, between the lights. This came from the same source—via grapevine—and we wouldn't vouch for the accuracy of that complaint.

Anyway, something happened. The lights were dismantled, taken down and carried away.

Another grapevine report that came to us was that one of the lights would be placed at the street intersection near the Sharp Chevrolet Company.

Traffic is rather heavy there, especially when people are going after their mail, and it's a rather good place for a traffic accident.

A large percent of the motorists, however, slow down to an almost complete stop before proceeding further across this intersection. A wise action, we say, for there are some who don't seem to pay much attention to what's coming or going when they reach this particular spot.

A traffic light might be alright. If it doesn't prove to be so, it could be done away with—just like those at the school.

Noticed in a recent paper that a new invention was being put into use at schools.

It's a radar thing that's timed to the speed limit desired in these danger zones. When a motorist breaks the radar beam at too fast a clip, a loud siren starts screaming at him.

Seems to us to be a rather effective method, except for one thing. They don't give the things away by any means.

More trees have been set out on the city hall lawn.

For several days the lawn was decorated with holes about as big around as a wash tub and some two and one-half feet deep.

This week they go around to setting out the little trees.

Two evergreens grace the old water fountain things that are on the southeast and southwest corners. The other trees, we understand, are elm.

First, they take down a bunch of trees. Then they set out new ones. Looks like a vicious cycle, but we expect those in charge have notions.

Our guess is that the old paradise trees will at some future time be completely gone, and the city hall lawn will be set out in new and different types.

Kinda keeps them out of the same old rut, anyway.

'Capsule House' for Moderns

A top designer, Paul R. MacAlister, converted a ramshackle cottage into this handsome residence, which he calls "capsule house" because it condenses facilities for modern living into a small space. He chose Masonite Siding, 12 inches wide, for its appearance, more-than-ordinary width at no premium in cost, economical construction and unusual painting quality. The double garage door is covered, too, with the lap siding. In this unusual home, the "front" entrance opens directly into the kitchen.

PRESERVING LOCAL RESPONSIBILITY

Education, like many other activities in these days of expanding governmental authority, faces the danger of federal domination. It will be a sad day for the cause of human freedom if the American educational system should fall under the control of central government. Education has always been the responsibility of local communities and private citizens. It must continue to be so. To an ever increasing extent institutions of higher learning are looking to industry for financial aid, and industry is responding in many ways.

The magnitude of higher education's coming problems were recently discussed by Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, before a group of business leaders in Chicago. He pointed to a prospective 70 per cent growth in enrollment in the next fifteen years in the nation's colleges, and appealed for a higher percentage of unrestricted gifts by corporations to institutions.

Another speaker, Irving S. Olds, former head of a major steel corporation said, "It is unthinkable that because of apathy or inaction on the part of American industry, education in this land of freedom falls under the complete domination of the state, as has happened in many parts of the world."

We can be thankful that men of this caliber and foresight are taking an active interest in preserving the tradition of local responsibility in our schools.

TECHNOLOGY ON THE FARM

In the last quarter-century, as almost everyone this side of the Iron Curtain knows, there has been an amazing increase in American industrial production.

What is not generally known is that the same thing has happened in agriculture. Indeed, while industrial output per manhour increased 75 per cent during the past 25 years, it increased almost 100 per cent in agriculture.

Another words, science and technology are revolutionary factors on the farm as they are in the factory. Chemistry has shown the farmer how to raise better crops and how to protect them from blights and insects. Electric power has eliminated all kinds of arduous chores. Proven conservation techniques make it possible to save the topsoil and preserve the richness of the land. And, of top importance, modern farm equipment, of which the tractor is the basic item, have made it possible to do the main work of farming far more rapidly, efficiently, economically and easily than in the past.

It is true that this agricultural revolution has produced a problem of surpluses in some fields. That is a serious and vexing problem—but there is reason to believe that it may be of a temporary nature. By 1975, it is forecast that there will be 25 per cent more people to feed in this country—and that fewer farmers, working a virtually fixed acreage, will have to produce their food. And the potential market for American food in the undeveloped and chronically hungry nations of the world is enormous.

As the years wear on, it is inevitable that we will need more and more technological progress in agriculture just as we need it in industry.

WE AREN'T SELF-SUFFICIENT

A good many people seem to think that the United States is economically self-sufficient—that everything we need in war or peace can be found within our own borders.

This would be a happy situation if it existed. But it doesn't—as Secretary of Commerce Weeks recently pointed out.

He said, "Of the 38 important minerals and metals vital to American production, the United States is self-sufficient in only nine. We cannot enjoy peace or wage war without adequate imports of the other 29, a large portion of which must come from overseas. We must be prepared to bring in essential raw materials by ship."

That isn't all. Foreign trade is a two-way street, and it's a busy thoroughfare in both directions. Great numbers of farmers and industrial workers depend, directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, on our exports for their jobs, markets and livelihood. Those foreign sales are vital to armies of people who may have never seen an ocean, and who live in the great mid-continent industrial and agricultural regions. And most of that traffic moves by ship, just as does the traffic in imports.

Obviously, it would be potentially disastrous to depend on foreign merchant marines to provide the service—they could be lost to us at once in case of war. That's why we must keep a big and up-to-date American merchant marine plying the high seas.

"MEET TO BE PARTAKERS"

Paul says, "Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light." (Col. 1:12.) As here used, the word, "meet" means fit, suitable, appropriate, worthy. At the river of Jordan, John the Baptist said to the sadducees who came to hear him preach, "Bring forth therefore fruit meet for repentance." (Matt. 3:8.) This means to bear fruit fitting the repentance they professed.

Man can be made fit for heaven only on God's way. By his own wisdom and effort no man can make himself worthy of eternal life. There are a few people who think that, if God were as good as he ought to be, he would make it possible for a man to live in sin, yet go to heaven when he dies. That is as impossible as it is for a blind man to enjoy a fine painting, or for a deaf man to enjoy inspiring music. The blind and deaf are not meet to enjoy pictures and music. A sick man is not meet to enjoy good food. And so a sinner is not meet to enjoy heaven.

It is by obedience, service and worship that God makes men meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light. The Lord requires his people to come together on the first day of the week to break bread. (Acts 20:7.) We are to sing spiritual songs, to study the scriptures, to pray, and to give as we have been prospered. This is not because God needs the help of man, but because man needs the help of God.

God is not impoverished when man fails to perform these acts of obedience, but man is impoverished. The writer of Hebrews says, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" No one can escape starving to death if he neglects to eat food. In his great mercy the Lord has revealed to us the plan of salvation, but if we neglect it we cannot escape the consequences.

PAYNE HATTON, Evangelist

Old fashioned camp meetings were one of the big events in the lives of the settlers of the Texas Republic, and they prepared for such meetings for weeks ahead of time, with vigor equalled only by their preparations for Fourth of July celebrations. Thus observes a witness of those days, Dr. John Washington Lockhart, whose personal letters and memoirs are contained in a limited book, printed for members of the Lockhart family.

The camp meeting was made known to all the settlers for many miles, and there would be as many as 1,500 people attending—and needing to be fed. Those living in the locality where the meeting was held would prepare for weeks ahead of time in order to help feed the "hungry multitudes." The meeting would begin, Dr. Lockhart explained, rather mildly, as "the ladies had to meet a one another's tents and talk over the news for the first few days. After that, it became a matter of business."

The preacher began by describing the habitation of the blessed, the extreme happiness of those whose every want was anticipated and who were completely without care. Then he led his audience in the other direction, until he held them spellbound on

"the brink of Hell." "There, in imagination, you could see the doomed souls writhing in mortal agony, deep down in the pit of sulphurous burning, and perhaps a soul would rise and in the deepest agony cry for one drop of water, when his cry would be answered with molten lead poured down his already parched throat."

On these occasions, Dr. Lockhart wrote, "Old Scratch" would be utterly routed, "horses, foot and dragon, from the grounds, but too often only to take up his refuge around and about the grounds, in the brush, where he could be seen hovering over a jug of good whiskey."

The people of those days clung to their traditions, even to using a ram's horn to call the congregation to worship, in imitation of the ram's horn blowing down the walls of Jericho.

Services began about 9 o'clock each morning, and lasted till far into the night. After the morning service, feasts were prepared in the tents of all those staying near the meeting places, and all were invited to eat, since "the stranger at the gate" must not go away hungry. The same procedure was repeated at supper, which followed an afternoon service beginning at 3 o'clock.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

Adequate street lighting as an effective weapon against crime and accidents in Washington is reflected in statistics supplied by Herbert A. Friede, electrical engineer for the District of Columbia. After the new lights were installed along Benning Road on 15th Street to Benning Bridge, crime dropped 50 per cent, pedestrian accidents fell 44 per cent, and speeding violations 60 per cent.

By contrast, he pointed out that three of the city's most recent sensational crimes—the murder of a Government worker in a residential hotel, the murder of the Maryland University registrar and the wounding of a congressional secretary in a street robbery—all occurred in poorly lighted areas. A police survey shows that of 5,050 crimes, 2,336 occurred at night, while a study of 17,206 traffic accidents showed that 7,210 happened between dusk and dawn.

Modern street lighting is gaining momentum in Washington as a new approach to a solution to the growing problems of crime, juvenile delinquency and traffic accidents.

This new line of thought is based on the statistically-backed realization that a definite relationship exists between lawlessness and accidents and inadequate street lighting.

Mrs. Orman Moore and daughters of Wichita Falls spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. Erin McGraw, and grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Bowden.

groes were sent around the grounds, lighting huge bonfires to illuminate the entire premises. The night services, Dr. Lockhart said, were special occasions for the younger people, who congregated at the altar to plead for mercy.

The meeting lasted two weeks, and broke up after the second Sunday. The campers took down their tents, loaded their furniture onto their wagons, and after several hours of saying good-by to the friends they would not see again until another camp meeting was held, were ready to move back again.

No gasoline—no, not a single one—has higher octane than New 1955 GULF NO-NOX

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out

but octane alone is not enough...

That's why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX is specially made to burn clean—to protect your engine—to give you thousands of extra miles of full engine power.

Fill up with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference, right from the start, in full engine power that lasts! You'll get:

- More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

This is GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public

- We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-Nox.
- It is our sincere belief that No-Nox is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection.

• This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Always remember: Octane alone is not enough. Only a gasoline that burns clean can make its full octane power really work for you mile after mile.

That's why, instead of trying to fight harmful deposits with so-called "miracle additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place; removes the cause—the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, at the refinery, to bring you new NO-NOX.

FED CATTLE, STOCKERS OPEN STRONG MONDAY

FORT WORTH—Well finished cattle found an active, strong market in Fort Worth Monday. Some sales were higher than last week. Choice slaughter steers brought up to $25 and medium grades sold at around $20.

Cows and bulls were mostly steady. Good young beef cows brought up to $13. Bulls sold mostly at $14 down but some individuals sold above $14.

Calves were strong with some spots higher. A few choice slaughter calves sold at $19.50 to $20.00.

Stockers and feeders continue in good demand and not enough high quality kind to supply the needs of order buyers. About three loads of good and choice feeder steers sold at $21.50. Stocker calves were in small supply with a few good steer calves selling at $21.

Good and choice beef steers sold from $21 to $25 and good fed heifers brought up to $23.50. Lower grade butcher cattle sold from $13 to $20.

Fat cows drew $11 to $13, and canners and cutters cashed at $7 to $10. Shelly canners sold around $7. Bulls sold mostly at $10 to $14 with some individuals higher.

Good and choice slaughter calves brought from $16 to $19. A few choice calves cashed at $19.50 to $20. Plain and medium kinds sold from $11 to $15 and rannihans and culls brought mostly $9 to $10.

Medium and good stocker and feeder steers sold from $14 to $21.50. Some thin, medium quality, stocker cows sold from $9 to $10. Stocker steer calves were in small supply and a few medium to good kind sold from $14 to $21.

BUTCHER HOGS START WEEK HIGHER

Top butcher hogs sold at $18.25 at Fort Worth Monday. This was fully 50c cents higher than last week. Overweight butchers

How to Plane Top of Door

DOORS that scrape at the top or bottom are a nuisance. Planing down the high spots, of course, is the best cure.

A problem in connection with the planing operation, however, is the likelihood of splitting the wood when shaving across the end grains of the door stile. The jig described will prevent this. The illustration appeared in American Builder, the magazine published for professional builders.

Take two 1 x 4's about four feet long and nail two suitable spacer blocks between the two, leaving a space of about one inch between the door and the block at either end. Make two tapering wedges from a piece of hardwood, making them an inch thick at their widest point.

Place the jig over the end of the upright door and drive the wedges into position as shown. Now the plane may be run across the door in either direction without danger of splitting the wood.

and less desirable kinds sold for $15.50 to $18. Sows were steady to 50 cents higher and sold at $13.50 to $16.

SLAUGHTER LAMBS STEADY TO STRONG

A generally steady trade prevailed on most classes of sheep and lambs at Fort Worth. Some lightweight, clipped lambs were higher. Feeder lambs were steady. Good, woolled feeders, which demand the best prices, were not present.

Choice, woolled slaughter lambs brought $21, and choice, shorn lambs cashed at $18.50 to $20. The higher price was for fall shorn lambs. A few plain kinds of lambs drew $15 to $17.

High quality feeder lambs were absent. Plain to medium feeders sold from $16 to $18.50. The latter price for medium woolled feeders.

Other classes of sheep were scarce. Fat ewes were quoted at $7 to $8.50, old bucks at $4 to $5 and yearlings at $14 to $16.

COTTON GINNERS KEEP PACE WITH IMPROVEMENTS MADE BY PRODUCERS

Texas cotton giners today are operating plants designed and equipped to give cotton producers the best possible grades. But fifteen years ago, says E. H. Bush, extension cotton gin specialist, 25 per cent of the state's cotton was docked by buyers because of rough preparation. In the past few years, he adds, this figure has dropped to less than half of one percent for all cotton ginned in Texas.

Bush believes that widespread interest among giners in the Seven-Step Cotton Improvement Program is a big factor in this record. One of the seven steps in the program covers harvesting and ginning practices. Giners during this same time, points out the specialist, have faced the problems brought on by the rapid spread of machine harvesting and regulations to control the pink bollworm.

These problems have been met by the installation of additional seed cotton cleaning and conditioning equipment and through educational training meetings for gin operators and employees. During the past year Bush used 93 7-step and giners meetings in presenting his information aimed at further improving the ginning job and cutting costs. He made recommendations to individual giners for machinery, improvements totalling almost a half million dollars.

It has been estimated that work done by the extension cotton gin specialists amounts to an additional three million dollars each year for Texas cotton farmers.

The 1740 cotton gins in Texas have an estimated value of $147,445,000 and modern plant equipped to gin cotton under almost any conditions may represent an investment of close to $250,000.

This forward progress, says Bush, is just another example of what teamwork, plus research and education can do when fully utilized by those concerned with common problems.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Borden visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Borden and son in Midland over the week end.

Mrs. Russell Penick left Wednesday for St. Joseph, Mo., to be with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Estell Guinn, while Mr. Guinn is ill.

Ray Muston of Brownfield visited his sister, Mrs. Wilma Dean Griffith, over the week end.

Roy Ford of Fort Worth was a week end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ford.

Your 1954 Income Tax

No. 4

Should Married Persons File Joint or Separate Returns

If you were a married person on December 31, 1954, you are considered married for the entire year. If you were divorced or legally separated on or before December 31, 1954, you are considered married for the entire year. If your wife or husband died during the year, you are considered married for the entire year.

If husband and wife have separate incomes, they may file separate returns or a joint return. A separate return accounts for the exemptions, income, and deductions of only one person. If married persons living in community property states file separate returns, each must report half of any community income. A joint return must include all the exemptions, income and deductions of both husband and wife. A husband and wife may file a joint return even though one of them had no income. A non-resident alien cannot file a joint return with a resident alien. A joint return may not be filed if either husband or wife was a non-resident alien at any time during the taxable year.

How to Make a Separate Return

To file separate returns, husband and wife must each have income under the laws of their State and must fill out separate forms. When filing separate returns, the husband and wife should each claim deductions for those allowable expenses paid with his or her own funds. (In Texas and other community property States, deductions resulting from payments made out of funds belonging jointly to husband and wife may be divided half and half.) If one itemizes and claims actual deductions, instead of using the tax table or the "standards deduction," then both must itemize and claim actual deductions on Long-Form 1040 returns.

How to Make Separate Return When Legally Divorced During 1954

In filing separate returns, when divorced prior to December 1, 1954, each spouse should claim one-half or his (or her) income up to the time of the divorce and then claim separate income from date of divorce to December 31, 1954.

How to Make a Joint Return

You can make a joint return by including all exemptions, income, and deductions of both husband and wife. In the heading of the return, list both names (for example: "John H. and Mary D. Doe"). Both must sign the return. You have not filed a valid return unless it is properly signed.

Advantages of a Joint Return

The present law usually makes

HERE'S PROTECTION FOR YOUR LAWN

Your lawn represents a big investment in time, labor, and seed. It is worth every bit of its cost for the enjoyment it brings to the whole family and for the real value it adds to your home. Protect your investment by feeding your lawn a square meal this fall. Give it 4 pounds of Vigoro per 100 square feet of area. A well-fed lawn has greater resistance to damage through adverse weather, weeds, or disease.

Coffee advertised for 27¢ a pound today would send you flying to the store. But back in 1940 that was not an unusual price for it.

Today, even your electric service bill is higher, because you are using a lot more of it. *Actually, the average price you pay per kilowatt-hour has gone down, but you have added more electrical appliances to make your job easier, your life more pleasant.

How many work-saving appliances have you added—a refrigerator or a range, perhaps. Possibly an automatic washer, dryer or a food freezer. More than likely an air conditioner.

it advantageous for married couple to file joint returns. The law provides a "split income" method of figuring the tax on joint returns which often results in a lower tax than would result from separate returns. If you make a joint return on Form 1040A, the District Director will figure your tax. A joint return on Form 1040A never results in more tax than separate returns on Form 1040A. If you file Form 1040, either the short or long form, a joint return usually will result in a tax as low as, or lower, than the tax on separate returns. There are some cases, when husband and wife both have income, where separate returns result in a lower total tax than joint returns.

Joint Tax or Refund

When husband and wife sign a joint return, each assumes full legal responsibility for the entire tax, and if one fails to pay, the other must pay it. If they are entitled to a refund, the check will be made out to them jointly.

IN COLD WEATHER, or warm, a man likes to dress comfortably in sports shirts. This shirt is tailored in Avocet rayon, a new kind of fabric that has all the laundry problems licked. It will not shrink out of fit or lose any of its bright fresh color. The shirt will iron easily and look new longer, too. Styled by Linwood.

hold effects were saved and there was no insurance. J. A. was repairing the washing machine in the kitchen, using gasoline which ignited from the hot water heater. Flames spread rapidly causing them to save only a few items.

brugh attended the funeral of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hamilton in Lubbock last Wednesday. Little Barbara Jan Hamilton was born prematurely Sunday, January 30, and died Tuesday, February 2 in the Lubbock hospital. Interment was in Babyland in Lubbock Memorial Cemetery.

A miscellaneous shower for the J. A. Fuller family was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rube Richards Monday afternoon between the hours of 3:00 and 5:00. Many useful gifts were presented to the hostesses. Seventy-five guests registered during the callings hours.

Mrs. Elroy Fort and children of Anchorage, Alaska, visited Wednesday through Saturday with the Maurice Hughes family.

From the Fuller Family

We wish to us this as one of the ways to thank our many friends in Knox and Baylor counties for their wonderful help and friendship after the fire which destroyed our home Wednesday night. We cannot find words to say what is in our hearts. We pray that we may always be deserving of such love and friendship and that we can in some way repay some of your kindness. God will surely bless each of you. Thank you so much.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fuller and Girls.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Bhard

This week Everett Hutchinson of Austin was sworn in as a new Commissioner of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Before his appointment, he practiced law in Austin. The new commissioner had formerly been with the Texas Railroad Commission and an Assistant Attorney General. I have known him since we were in law school together and know him to be a very fine and capable man. It is certainly to Texas' credit that we can furnish such men as Everett Hutchinson, and it is the good fortune of the country that he is willing to enter the service of the government.

Many people in our part of the country have been watching with a great deal of interest the proposed change in the Soil Conservation Service whereby this Service would be broken down on a state level. So far, no definite decision has been made on this matter. I am hopeful that no change will be made and that the Service will continue to be administered as it is now.

All veterans who want to get copies of their discharges or other service documents will be interested to know that beginning the first of February, a charge will be made for furnishing these documents. The cost for these will be determined by the time that will be necessary for the people in the Records Section to spend in searching for the documents.

The first piece of major legislation that will be considered by this session of Congress will be the President's request for a four-year extension of the Draft Act. The international situation being what it is, there is little question but what this extension is required; however, I think it is important that in extending it, we do not adopt some system that would give the military too much control over the rearing and training of our young people. One of the things that has contributed a great deal to our country's development into the really great Nation that it is the fact that the country has, through the years, been controlled by a civilian population rather than the military. I certainly hope nothing is ever done to upset this control in the hands of our civilians.

Another Texan to receive a high honor this week was Mrs. Ruth Burleson, the very attractive wife of the Congressman from the Seventeenth Texas District, Omar Burleson. Mrs. Burleson has recently been elected

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—There are some 300 million dental cavities in United States children, and the backlog is increasing at the rate of about 40 million a year. The toll of dental disease is a particular tragedy because the knowledge to reduce the high incidence of tooth decay is at hand, according to Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer.

One of the chief reasons for the decay toll is the heavy consumption of sweets, he said. Sweets are readily fermentable and offer a good nutrient for bacteria to manufacture enamel-destroying acid.

Dr. Holle urged that parents offer fruit or popcorn or cheese to children instead of jams and pastries for between-meal snacks. The ritual of tooth-brushing is still one of the most effective methods of preventing decay, Dr. Holle said. However, he added,

President of the Congressional Club which is a club composed of the wives of all Members of Congress here in Washington. She is fully capable of upholding the Texas tradition of being the home of beautiful and charming women, and all the Texas delegation here are very proud of her. Mr. and Mrs. Porter Oakes, formerly of Wichita Falls, who now live in Amarillo, were by the office this week.

ed, the brushing should be done immediately after eating rather than on arising in the morning and on retiring at night.

"In addition to the toothbrush, fluoridation of water promises to help reduce substantially throughout a lifetime the dental crippling that now plagues the adult generation," Dr. Holle said.

"As part of the preventive program, children should be taken to the dentist as soon as their teeth are in," said Dr. Holle. The dentist and the young patient can thus become acquainted under favorable circumstances, free of any discomfort. This type of introduction is much better, happier and more productive than one in which the child is suffering from a toothache caused by dental neglect, he added.

Notes For Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

Knox County 4-H members made good showings in major shows in the state last week.

At the Fort Worth Livestock Show and Exposition they had the largest steer class in history with over 800 entries in the open and junior steer classes. Ava Mary Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Taylor of Munday, showed her steer to 11th place in the Angus division.

At the Houston Livestock Show Charles Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Todd of Truscott, showed the first place Hampshire breeding flock of sheep in the junior show. He also exhibited the Reserve Champion ewe and Reserve Champion ram in the Hampshire show. In the fat lamb division Charles showed his lamb to eighth place in a class of 200 lambs.

The outlook for pork producers is not too good, however, with home grown grain and good management producers in the county should be able to make a reasonable profit on hogs to supplement other farm income.

After declining for two years, production of hogs was expanded in 1954 because of higher prices received. This will do it every time. The 1954 pig crop totaled 92½ million head, an increase of 13 per cent from a year earlier. The spring pig crop in 1954 was up 12 per cent and the 1954 fall pig crop was 14 per cent larger than 1953. This large production helped to bring about a decline in hog prices.

The production of hogs in 1955 will continue to increase but at a slower rate than 1954. It is estimated that the 1955 spring pig crop will be 5 per cent larger than the spring pig crop of 1954. Considerably more hogs will be slaughtered and more pork produced in the spring and summer of 1955 than in the past year because of the 14 per cent larger fall pig crop in 1954. This will mean a larger supply on the market and should tend to keep the prices lower in the spring of 1955.

Later in 1955, the increase in slaughter and the pork supply should be narrowed. Prices for hogs in the fall of 1955 may not be much below those of last fall. Let's hope so, anyway.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

A 'Make-Do' Bookcase
NEWLYWEDS on restricted budgets sometimes have to "make do" when it comes to their home furnishings. An item they need is a bookcase. Here's one that's functional, yet attractive.
As shown in the illustration, the bookcase framework is a series of 1 by 2-inch pieces of lumber, with sides, backs and shelf surfaces of Masonite 3/16" Tempered Presdwood, a smooth, splinter-free material that may be painted or tinted.

The shelves merely are laid in place without fasteners, or they may be nailed down for a permanent installation. They may be painted or left in their natural color, a rich brown. The doors are Masonite "Peg-Board" panels. Note that the hinges are fastened through some of the numerous holes in this popular panel.

Note the triangular pieces of Tempered Presdwood at the corners, where they serve to brace the unit.
For a copy of a similar plan, useful in building storage shelf units, write to Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting Plan No. AE-276.

"PLANT TEXAS"

Texas is like an uncut diamond. Skillful treatment will enhance its natural beauty.

Just as a precious stone needs the art of the jeweler to increase its value, so does Texas need the cooperation of its citizens in a program designed to restore much of the vegetation lost in the recent drouth.

"Plant Texas" is the slogan that will be heard often in 1955. It isn't just an empty phrase. It is the rallying cry of the movement to restore the fertility of Texas soil and save the land from the hazards of destructive erosion.

In Texas and other states land was once abundant. Man could ravage the land and move on to more virgin territory. This led to abuses by uneconomic cutting of forests; denuding much other land of vegetation and fertility; reducing water resources and leaving eroded, water scarce, unsightly landscapes.

Man, alone, hasn't been the only culprit, however. Four years of harsh drouth have completed the job of land and plant destruction begun by the careless pioneer. Now is the time to start correcting these mistakes of man and nature.

Early this year, the Governor of Texas issued a memorandum proclaiming an unofficial "Plant Texas" movement. The program is sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Texas Nurserymen's Association.

The idea is to encourage better soil conservation practices and to promote more and better plantings around homes, schools, churches and public and industrial buildings.

This is an opportunity for every homeowner to participate in a project for the betterment of the state and, at the same time improve his own holdings. Civic clubs, too, are encouraged to push the program on a community-wide basis.

Additional information and suggestions are available from the Texas Department of Agriculture at Austin. So plant that extra tree or shrub! Seed that plot of barren soil! It is an investment in the future productivity of the state.

Mrs. Dub Gresham of Wichita Falls visited from Thursday until Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Henson. Sunday guests in the H. D. Henson home were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Pruitt of Wichita Falls.

Leon Johnson, Farmer Campsey and Billy Ray Anderson visited friends in Lubbock over the week end.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants To Make Rhode Island Independent Nation And Let Her Handle Formosa

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an extremely preposterous idea this week, as you'll agree when you read the following.

Dear editor:

I know as much about international affairs as I do about whether there's uranium under my farm out here at the creek, but lack of information has never been any bar to having an opinion, in Congress or out, and I have been giving considerable thought to the international situation lately and have come to a conclusion.

The trouble with the United States and the advantage Russia has over us, is that we haven't got any puppet state, one you can pull the strings for but dodge the responsibility of. If Russia wants to stir up trouble in Korea, for example, she doesn't come out in the open where the rest of the world can pin it on her, she uses her puppet state, Red China, which in turn uses some of its undercover men in Korea. The scheme kept us looking ridiculous in Korea for three years.

Now the same thing is happening in Formosa. Russia is supplying Red China with materials and ideas, Red China is fomenting trouble in Formosa, and the United States and her allies are left with the job of trying to stop bullets after they are fired, when everybody knows the only way to do it is to eradicate the guns, but the guns come from Russia and we can't get at them because we just ain't the war-starting type, which is a good thing, but which leaves us with the burnt end of the stick, if you follow my military language.

But there is a way out, and I'm surprised that somebody else hasn't thought of it first. What the United States needs is a puppet state to do its fighting without requiring an act of Congress or involving the nation.

Now here's my proposal. There's Rhode Island sitting up there, not doing anything outstanding but not causing any trouble either and without very many votes. Why don't we declare Rhode Island an independent nation, sever our relations with it as a state, and then channel all the men and weapons needed through it and let her handle the Formosa situation any other spot where the Communists break out? As an independent nation, with no connection with the United States, Rhode Island could start shooting, wherever shooting is required, and we could sit back and send diplomatic notes to Russia every time Russia's toes were stepped on saying ain't it unfortunate but we can't do a thing with the independent and liberated nation of Rhode Island, she buys a little equipment from us now and then, we got the receipts to show for it, but beyond that we don't have any connection with her, and if anybody wants to declare war on her, go ahead, we can't help it, but if you fly over our area getting to her, that'd be a violation of our air, and an act of war against us, which is a horse of a different color.

This idea might not work, but you can say the same for most of the diplomatic ideas tried up to now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patterson visited their daughter and husband in Fort Worth over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hannah visited their daughter, Charlotte, at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene last Sunday.

Debbie Geddie of Dallas is spending this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wardlaw.

Better Use of Space
"MORE space for storage!" is a frequent demand of home-makers. Sometimes the space is there, but it isn't properly utilized. A case in point is illustrated.

This is an old-fashioned kitchen cupboard, which formerly had just one shelf at the midway point. This was removed and provision made, by the insertion of vertical dividers, for utilizing practically all—not just part of—the space in the cupboard.

The dividers are Masonite "Peg-Board," the functional panel with dozens of evenly-spaced holes. They serve not only as leaning places for cookie sheets and platters but as hitching posts for various cooking implements. Metal fixtures designed for kitchen use may be obtained with the perforated Masonite at lumber dealers.

The panels may be installed readily simply by making 1/4" channels, the width of the "Peg-Board," from small quarter-round, which is attached with brads. The panels may be painted any color, first applying a prime coat.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wren were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stancell and daughter of Abilene.

PLAN FOR YOUR SPRING GARDEN NOW

There's plenty of satisfaction and amazing production in a "small" spring garden.

The garden fever, however, often persuades folks to plant a larger area than they can properly care for. So when you plan this year's garden, trim it down to your size, advises B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist.

Spread out your plantings so the harvest will extend over a longer period of time, suggests Hancock. A garden planted at one time causes overproduction for a short period and then supplies are gone.

Plant a variety of vegetables, about 32 are community grown in Texas. Why not try a new vegetable each season, he says.

Have commercial fertilizers, insecticides, seed treating chemicals and other needed equipment on hand for ready use.

English peas, turnips, cabbage plants, onions, head lettuce and white potatoes can stand considerable cold weather and may be planted four to five weeks before the last average killing frost.

Other vegetables adapted to early planting—two or three weeks before the last frost—are radishes, mustard, beets, carrots and leaf lettuce.

Finally, Hancock says for best results plant those vegetables suited to your particular area.

5 Hours NOT 3 MONTHS

Two decades ago, it took an average of three months' wages to pay the hospital bills resulting from a case of pneumonia.

Today a case of pneumonia is cured at home—with drugs that cost an average of only five hours' wages.

That's just one of the many facts which prove that
