"Have some pancakes? All you can eat for 50 cents, you know!"

That's probably what you'll hear when you attend the second pancake supper sponsored by the Munday Lions Club.

This important date is next Monday from 5:00 to 7:30 p. m. at the school lunch room.

The club is tying this event in with the March of Dimes program which will begin in the school auditorium at 7:30. The junior class is sponsoring this program, and you are urged to attend.

You can do good in three ways Monday night.

You can do good for your tummy with plenty of pancakes, good for the Lions Club by attending, and good for the March of Dimes by also attending this interesting program.

We understand Harold Jackson, band director, and some of his musicians will have a part in the March of Dimes event, and your money will go for a good cause.

Admission for students to the pancake supper is only 30 cents, too.

A Mr. Brown came to see us last Thursday. Not an unusual name, but when he said, "I'm from the Internal Revenue Department," we began to think about the same thoughts as the man whose wife began bawling him out good and proper, and he didn't know why.

"What I do now? What I do now?" he asked in his most perplexing manner.

But before we could question Mr. Brown, he asked if we'd kindly print a series of articles in regard to preparing your income tax return. This we gladly agreed to do.

So beginning with January 1st this year, we are in another income tax filing season.

It has been the policy of this paper to render all services possible, whenever needed, to citizens of our community. In keeping with this policy, we will publish the series of articles, which, when used with instructions forwarded with your income tax form, will assist you in filing your 1954 income tax return.

There have been many changes in the law that are a distinct benefit to the individual taxpayers. You will not be in a position to obtain many of the benefits you may be entitled to unless you make a careful study of the booklet which was mailed you with your income tax form. You will find it both interesting and profitable to study these instructions.

Your Internal Revenue Service is making every effort possible to place complete information in your hands in order that you may file your 1954 return promptly and accurately. This is being done in co-operation with your local paper, radio stations, and a number of television stations.

That's what Mr. Brown told us to say as an introduction to the articles.

Personally, we've looked over the booklet—not too carefully, of course.

But after our little old brain cells became jumping over each other, and our eyes seemed cloudy and foggy, we decided to do like we've done for several years—get an income tax practitioner to help us with our form.

Baptist W. M. U. Observes Its 75th Anniversary At Meeting On Wednesday

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church observed Focus Week, Monday through Friday, with emphasis on the program at the church on Wednesday evening. Featured at this time was the 75th Anniversary of Texas Woman's Missionary Union and the 50th anniversary of the Woman's work in the local church.

With Mrs. Rose Jones and Mrs. Chester Bowden ushering, the men were seated in one side of the sanctuary and the women on the opposite. The ladies of the W. M. U. in their 1880 dress and grandmother's bedroom provided the setting for congregational singing led by Mrs. B. L. Blacklock with Mrs. R. H. Lloyd at the piano. The opening prayer was led by the pastor, Rev. Bob Lloyd.

Mrs. M. H. Reeves gave an interesting account of the first W. M. U. Convention of Texas held in 1880 at the First Baptist Church in Austin, and the first woman foreign missionary from Texas, Miss Ann Luther. The first watchword of the group being "Saved to Serve." That as a permanent watchword, the Texas women join with the women of the Southern Baptist Convention to be "Laborers Together With God."

Mmes. B. L. Blacklock, E. L. Goolsby, M. L. Barnard and Leland Hannah sang the "Jubilee Song." The story of W. M. U. was featured by a skit, "Grandmother's Diary," by Mrs. Winston Blacklock and Mrs. Paul Pruitt. The president, Mrs. Clyde Nelson, gave a short history of the W. M. U. in the local church, and read a poem written by a former president, Mrs. E. H. Stodghill, in 1930. Beginning the W. M. U. work in 1965 was Mrs. G. A. Craft, grandmother of Mrs. Lucile Smith, as first president. During the 50 years, 29 different ladies served as president. Mrs. J. O. Bowden gave the closing prayer.

The social hour in the Fellowship Hall, lighted only by oil lamps, continued to carry out the 1880 setting. From beautifully decorated tables laid with Battenburg, antique silver service, coffee, and Lottie Moon cookies were served to about 200 guests. Taking turns playing the old fashioned organ were Mrs. Sidney Winchester, Mrs. E. L. Goolsby, Mrs. Lloyd and Anita Tidwell. The group joined in singing the old hymns so precious to those who pioneered the way.

In the play are Jo McMahon, Jimmie Lee, John Massey, Gayle Guiley, Martha Kay Elliott, Jimmie Del Peysen, Judy Massey and Linda Garrett.

Other entertainment will be specialty songs, the jazz band, Spanish numbers, a negro chorus and others. Admission is 25 and 50 cents and everyone is invited to attend and help the cause.

CHINA TRIED IT TOO

As long as there are people and governments to govern them, the struggle of the state versus the individual will go on.

Almost a thousand years ago China indulged in a "little socialism." In the year 1069 that country was afflicted with widespread crop failure. The people were in distress. The emperor established a "new deal" and issued a "declaration of principles" which stated that it was the duty of the government to "love the people and procure for them the real advantages of life which are plenty and pleasure." To accomplish this object the state "shall . . . enforce obedience by wise and inflexible laws." It "shall take possession of all the resources of the empire and become the sole owner, master and employer. The state will then manage commerce, industry and agriculture with the view of succoring working classes and preventing their being ground to the dust by the rich."

The poor were exempt from taxes and land was assigned to farmers each year, the seed distributed among them as necessary. The government decreed the kind of crops to be grown. These reforms were to result in abundance and happiness for all except "users and monopolists." Of course prices were also regulated by the state. By 1129 A. D. this socialist-communist system broke down completely.

No, there is nothing new about experiments with all-wise, super governments. They are always accompanied by intervals of darkness for freedom and progress.

FROM FARM TO FACTORY

Fortune magazine has devoted a large part of its January issue to the dramatic increase that has taken place in U. S. productivity over a comparatively short span of years, and that has found its reflection in our soaring living standards.

"One of the most important factors in the nation's rising productivity," Fortune says, "has been the movement of workers from the farms to the manufacturing, service, and distribution industries . . . Since 1930 . . . farm productivity has about doubled, while non-farm productivity has increased by 75 per cent. Today, 6,500,000 farm workers turn out twice as much as 10 million farm workers did in 1900 . . . There is reason to believe farm productivity will improve further . . ."

A considerable number of factors have played important roles in this. One is the great increase in knowledge concerning land conservation and other good farming practices. Another is farm electrification. Another lies in new types of chemical fertilizers and weed and insect killers. And one of the most important is that today's farmer uses a great deal more mechanized equipment than he used to, and far better equipment as well.

In 1940 machinery represented 6.5 per cent of the total assets of our farms. By 1954, it represented 12.5 per cent—almost double what it had only 14 years before. This pretty well tells the story of modern farm progress.

TRULY REVOLUTIONARY

A report issued by a New York bank has something important to say about retailing in this country.

"Since prewar 1939," it observes, "the changes in retailing have been truly revolutionary as a result of merchants' efforts to hold down selling prices in the face of rising costs of goods and operating expenses . . . The record shows that the big retail organizations have grown big by being alert for new and better ways of serving the public, by cutting distribution costs and lowering prices, and by learning how to do business on small margins of profit, thus giving the customer the most for his dollar."

These are the results of low-cost mass distribution, which was pioneered by the chain systems and has been successfully employed by other retailers. They are found in all of retailing's branches, from food to variety stores. We get more actual value for our retail dollar than ever before—as is proven by the fact that it takes the average worker much less time to earn enough money to buy almost anything sold at retail than it did 25 years ago.

Retailing takes deserved pride in its record. It has made immeasurable contributions to the living standards of our all.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "The U. S. Supreme Court has indicated that it does not expect immediate compliance with the non-segregation decision in all the nation's schools. It will take time to get peaceful compliance for such a revolutionary change. . . . The high court, in our opinion, is wise in letting its decision go into effect gradually. You can't stuff a sweeping change in a practice going back 200 years down the throat of a people overnight."

HOW RELIGIOUS DIVISION STARTED (Con.)

The search last week disclosed that with the departure from the Bible pattern of church government, that a religious dictatorship was set up governing nearly all the religious groups throughout the world, with one man at its head.

This condition continued without any real opposition until the first of the 16th century. Men were kept in ignorance of God's word until a few scholars with a burning desire to know God better and to find a deeper and more practical meaning to faith in Christ led a revolt against the cold formalism, the relics and superstitions of the religious leaders of their time.

This revolution was extremely successful and a death-dealing blow was given this religious dictatorship from which it shall never recover, but another evil began to rear its head—Denominationalism.

The people after being freed from the shackles of ignorance of God's word, which bound their minds, being free to think and act for themselves, naturally made many mistakes in their efforts to get back to the Bible and God. They gave special attention to one phase of christianity, while neglecting others. In this some were intent upon restoring one phase of the New Testament teaching, while another group was intent upon another phase of the scriptures, with neither going all the way back to the Bible. Because of this there was a religious division among the people, thus resulting into denominationalism, with one group wearing one name and another another name.

There is no doubt that what these great pioneers were sincere in their efforts to have again, through a reformation of the religious system then in existence the church on earth as it was in the days of the apostles. Instead, they produced a multitude of religious organizations filled with teachings and practices entirely human in origin and without divine approval. (Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? were you baptized in the name of Paul? 1 Cor. 1:13) This is the condition we have today with new and different religious organizations being formed each year.

What is the solution? There is only one, lay aside all manuals and disciplines (man-made) laws. Teach all the Bible teachings, no more no less. Speak where the Bible speaks, and be silent where the Bible is silent, then we will all be united in the one body. (Church) (Eph. 1:22-23; Col. 1:18,24.)

PAYNE HATTOX, Evangelist

One of the most interesting towns I have ever visited is Eureka Springs, Arkansas. It was away back in 1925.

Eureka Springs is up in the Ozarks in the northwest corner of the state. There are 63 springs inside the city limits. When you bought a lot along the side of a hill, you had your building material and water supply too, because many of the homes were built of rock that was quarried from the hills and there was quite likely to be a spring on the premises already provided by nature.

The most unusual building in Eureka Springs was an eight-story hotel, and every floor a "ground floor". You could start climbing up the hill at the back door of any floor by crossing a little bridge at whatever level you chose. It was a lot more fun than taking the elevator.

And think what a fine fire escape that would be, too. And if you wanted to leave without paying your bill—well, I don't know what the management did to cope with that situation!

Some of the business buildings in Eureka Springs were two stories high on the street on one side and three stories or five stories high on the street on the other side.

There are 263 streets in the town and they sorter slant into each other—none of them intersect at right angles on account of the slope of the hills.

And, instead of alleys, there were stairways.

To tell you a little more about the springs:

One of them was named "Carrie Nation", in honor of the famous dry crusader who used to chop saloons to pieces with a hatchet; it was quite appropriate to name a spring of pure, cool, clear water for her. And, by the way, Hatchet Hall, Carrie A. Nation's old home, is preserved there yet.

Another spring was known as the Liberty Bell because it was under a peculiar rock formation beneath which you could peer and you saw a shape like the inside of a big bell—there was even a crack as there is in famous old Liberty Bell in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardin and son of Denton were guests of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Campbell, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Hensley of Dallas visited relatives here over the week end and attended the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. Frank Burnison, on Sunday.

Bowie County Man, Jim Lindsey, New Speaker For House Of Representatives

By J. Q. MAHAFFEY
Editor, Texarkana Gazette

AUSTIN—It had been one hundred and two years since a speaker of the House of Representatives came out of Bowie County and a goodly company of us—two score and more—were present and full of pride when Jim Lindsey took the oath and dedicated himself to that service. We were mighty pleased that his election was unanimous and that no one opposed him.

JIM LINDSEY

"A tall pine from Bowie County—genial Jim Lindsey" he had been called in a seconding nominating speech by J. Gordon Bristow of Big Spring, and the home towners liked it.

Jim Lindsey was born fifteen years and a few days after Sam Rayburn of Bonham, another youngster took the same oath of office in the 32nd Legislature. Rayburn, who is now 74 has served longer than any other man as speaker of the United States House of Representatives, had turned 29 a few days before he was elected. Lindsey will be 29 on February 1. Lindsey is distinctly of the pattern and in the tradition of Texas. Dark of eyes and with black unruly hair he stands 6 feet 2 inches; weighs a full muscled 190 pounds. He is entering his fourth 2-year term of office and yet he is less than five years out of Baylor University law school where he graduated with high honors. His college career was delayed somewhat while he trained for a pilot's job in the Air Force.

And further in the Texas tradition, Jim Lindsey is fresh from the soil that was his forebears. He has followed a plow long hours in the earth that his great-great-grandfather first furrowed 85 years ago.

There are similarities between Jim Lindsey and Hardin Richard Runnels, the Bowie County speaker who preceded him by 102 years. Runnels came off a plantation along Red River. Lindsey was born and raised on a farm a few miles south of Red River. Runnels was a member of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Legislatures before he was elected speaker of the 5th. Runnels was 33 years old when he was chosen. Lindsey was a member of the 51st, 52nd and 53rd Legislatures before he became speaker of the 54th on the threshold of 29, and Jim Lindsey was a doer, a comer and a leader from the beginning.

Runnels must have had the same fibre, too, for in 1855 after one term as speaker of the House he was elected lieutenant governor and in 1857 after another two years lapse he ran as a Democrat against Sam Houston, Independent, for Governor and gave Houston the only defeat he ever suffered in an election.

And what of Jim Lindsey and the future? We who are so proud to be his homefolks are not seers but we can vision the shade of Hardin Richard Runnels beckoning another Bowie County boy to advancement in State and National Service.

NEED FOR INCREASED 1955 COTTON ALLOTMENTS

Texas cotton farmers will be allowed to plant 7,612,779 acres of cotton this season. The question now arises: Has the pendulum swung too far in favor of controlled production? In Texas, agriculture has been hard-hit by a four-year drouth. In many areas, the few acres allowed for cotton under the allotment program failed to produce at all. This brought economic hardship where cotton is the main cash crop.

This year, the cotton farmer needs to make money on his crop. However, price alone, guaranteed by a parity program based on reduced acreage, does not insure farm prosperity. It is price times volume that will determine profits in 1955.

After all, it is what remains in the farmer's pocket after the bills are paid—his net income—that measures whether he has had a good year or a bad one.

Deeper crop cutbacks are ordinarily used as a basis to support the parity program. They act as a temporary restraining force to prevent a burdensome surplus that would break the market price. This has been the practice in former years and in many cases has worked to good advantage.

But these days in Texas, due to the drouth, are not ordinary in any sense of the word.

The Texas farmer will need to plant more cotton this year and still be assured of a good price. Instead, present plans call for cutting last year's acreage back by an additional 16 per cent.

At the very minimum, Texas should have at least as much acreage as it had last year, if not more. Now that our farmers are under economic stress, it is no time to bolster the price of cotton by further reducing the acreage.

This year, the farmer needs price plus volume.

A gay and appealing apron makes an excellent Christmas gift for any homemaker. Pretty enough for a party, this navy cotton apron is decorated with an eye-catching red and white striped barn applied to make intriguing pockets. Colorful machine embroidered hems and rosettes are scratching around the barnyard. Embroidery can be done on the cotton fabric easily with a zig zag sewing machine and machine embroidery thread.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—For the first time the National Office of Vital Statistics has issued tabulations of fatal accidental poisonings by age, sex, and kind of poison, said Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. A total of 1,497 such accidental deaths occurred in one year.

Petroleum products (including kerosene) and aspirin and salicylates were involved in 40 per cent of the deaths in infants through 4 years of age, 165 such deaths. Dr. Holle declared this indicated that parents are not as aware of the dangers of these substances as they are of such substances as lye, iodine, phenol or strychnine. It should also be pointed out that three out of four fatal child poisonings occur at ages 1 to 2. This indicates that prevention of these accidents involves keeping poisons away from children rather than teaching them about poisons.

Any item that can be poisonous should be kept out of reach of children. This includes medicines, kerosene, insecticides, cleaning fluid and many other items. Adults should never attempt to take medicine in the dark. Always read the label to make sure the medicine you wanted is not something poisonous. In the 25-44 and 45-64 age groups, there are sizable differences between male and female accidental poisoning deaths. There were considerably more barbiturate deaths of women in the 25-44, while in both groups most of the alcohol poisoning fatalities for persons 25 years of age or older.

Styling that's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

The styling spotlight blazes down on a low-cost car this year—for the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the show from the high-priced cars with its subtle sweep of line, the brilliant sophistication of its European-type grille, the bold rake of its deep-curved windshield.

And there's even more excitement in the way it drives—the velvety comfort of Glide-Ride front suspension and outrigger rear springs, the handling ease of Ball-Race steering, the flashing performance of the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" engine or the two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. All this—plus the extra-cost options of Powerglide or Overdrive and a full range of power assists. Try a 1955 Chevrolet—now—and you'll know why it is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

The first of this month, President Eisenhower issued a proclamation which set January 31st as the termination of G. I. benefits under what is known as the "Korean G. I. Bill." This proclamation keeps alive the historic policy in this country of separating the benefits between peacetime and war-time service for members of our Armed Services. I favor this action taken by the President. There has been legislation introduced which will allow all men in the service on January 31st to continue to accumulate educational benefits. I would favor the passage of this bill because of the fact that many boys that would be in the service on January 31st were assured at the time they entered that they would have certain educational benefits. It all boils down to the fact that anyone who is not in the service on January 31st of this year will probably not be entitled to any of the benefits under the so-called "Korean G. I. Bill."

The Committee on Ways and Means of which I am a member began hearings this week on H.

R. I. which is the legislation that would extend the Reciprocal Trade Acts for three years. Generally speaking, I think that we must continue in this country a policy of reciprocal trade and freer and freer movement of goods from one country to the other. The relative free interchange of goods in a free world is necessary. There are, however, a good many exceptions to this general rule. These hearings are expected to continue for about two more weeks. In all probability this will be the first piece of major legislation that is acted on by the House.

Last Spring, the Supreme Court in a decision that has come to be known as the "Phillips Case" decided that the Federal Power Commission had the jurisdiction to regulate the sale price of gas when it was sold by the producer at the "wellhead". This, of course, was a revolutionary decision in that it extended the power of the Federal Power Commission so as to include the independent producer of gas, up until the time of this case, had been relatively unheard of. There the sale of gas at the "wellhead" than there is to regulate the sale price of a pair of pants at the factory where they are made or a sack of potatoes at the field where they are grown or any other commodity that moves into the market. This would be an instance of the Federal Government moving in and actually fixing prices in a way that we have never done before in peace time. I am hopeful that Congress will pass legislation that will amend the Natural Gas Act so as to make it very clear that the Federal Power Commission does not have the power to regulate the sale of gas by the producer and that this action can be taken at a very early date. I expect to introduce a bill within the next few days covering this question.

It has only been this week that the final organization of Committees has been completed, the last appointments having just been announced. Since these assignments have now been accomplished, the work in all the committees can get under way. It will be only a short time until they will start reporting bills to the Floor for action.

More Beef With Brahman Blood

A PRODUCTIVE COW AND A BIG CALF. The A. Brahman calf out of Brahman crossbred cows is finding increased favor among beef producers. This picture, taken at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lufkin in August, shows a Brahman-Herford crossbred cow and her 3/4 Brahman calf. The cow is 13 years old. Earlier, she had produced 10 quarter-Brahman calves by Hereford bulls, averaging 535 pounds. The eleventh calf, shown here, born in February, weighed 550 lb. August 2. Keith Crouch, superintendent of the station, said the August weighing was 50 pounds per head lighter than the average for the station's 13-year history, due to drought. The weaning weight of this calf pushed the total calf production to near 6000 pounds.

Said Professor J. K. Riggs of the Texas A & M College department of animal husbandry: "The cow is living evidence that long, productive life, regular calving, heavy weaning weight and environmental adaptability can all be rolled into one with a very good calf thrown in."

Time was when there was talk about the "minimum amount of Brahman blood required for adaptability" to Texas conditions. Now ranchers are discovering the more Brahman blood they have in their cattle the more calves they have to sell and the heavier the calves are at weaning.

Omitene spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Howard in Lubbock. Mrs. E. L. Howard, mother of Mrs. Barnett, returned home with them for an extended visit.

Your 1954 Income Tax

No. 1 HOW TO FILE YOUR 1954 RETURN

Who Must File—

Every citizen or resident of the United States, whether an adult or minor, who had $600.00 ($1,200.00 if 65 of age or over) or more of gross income in 1954 must file an income tax return on Form 1040 or 1040A.

Most of your tax is withheld from your wages every payday or paid on Declaration of Estimated Tax every quarter. However, the law requires you to file an annual return to determine whether you owe more or you should get a refund.

When to File

Your income tax return should be filed between January 1 and April 15, 1955, and not later than April 15, 1955. Try to avoid the last-minute rush. Those few individuals who keep books on a fiscal-year basis must file by the fifteenth day of the fourth month after the close of their taxable years.

How to Pay

Any balance of tax shown to be in Item 13, Page 1, of your return on Form 1040 must be paid in full with your return. Checks or money orders should be made payable to "District Director, Internal Revenue Service."

How to Sign

You have not filed a legal return unless you sign it. If you and your wife are filing a joint return, both of you must sign the return. You do not need to have your return notarized since your signature has the same legal effect as swearing to the truthfulness of your return.

Where To Get Forms and Help

As far as practical, the District Director mails forms directly to taxpayers. If you need additional forms, you can get them from your District Director's office, and also at most banks and post offices. Many employees also keep forms for the convenience of employees. The address of your District Director of Internal Revenue is 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

After reading the instructions, you should be able to prepare your own return, unless you have complicated problems. If you need help, you can get it at your District Director's office. A more detailed publication entitled, "Your Federal Income Tax" may be obtained for 25 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, 25, D. C.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bowden over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bowden and daughter of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Beecher and daughter of Dimmitt. The Beechers also visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Beecher.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hardy were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beauchamp and daughter of Abilene were week end guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hardy.

DOES YOUR HOME HAVE WARM FLOORS?

COMFORT DEMANDS IT. Your body should be evenly warmed from head to toe. Children should be able to play on the floor without added danger of catching colds. Drafts should never form!

Automatic flue-vented perimeter gas heating systems actually put heat in the floors... maintain only a slight difference in room air temperature from floor to ceiling! You enjoy an environment comparable to a balmy, 72-degree summer morning!

Knox Prairie Philosopher Figures Out A Universal Plan For Buying Everything On Terms From Now On

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an impossible idea this week, which isn't rare for him.

Dear editor:
As an admirer of the down-payment system, under which a man can have the use of nearly anything all his life without really owning it, I was interested in reading last night about a new system of installment buying.

That is, it isn't exactly new, but it's an enlargement and improvement of the present system, and I think it deserves more attention.

According to this article, there's a man out on the West Coast who'll not only sell you a house and lot on the installment plan, but he'll include a new car in the garage, I guess with the tank full of gas. One payment each month takes care of the house, lot, and car.

This strikes me as having unlimited possibilities, capable of lots of refinements. For example, under the present system, a man sometimes is pulled and tugged in several different directions by that many salesmen trying to sell him something on the installment plan, and after he buys a few articles he has a hard time just keeping track of where to send the installments each week. Occasionally a man winds up with more installments than his salary comes to, and that may keep the wheels of the hauling vans moving but not the wheels of industry.

Under my system, all this will be eliminated. Say a young couple is just starting out but ain't willing to live less comfortably than if they had already succeeded. You sell em a complete layout, from a house with hardwood floors to a new car in the garage, including of course television, air-conditioning, central heat, automatic washing machine, clothes drier, carpet grass, electric lawnmower, life insurance, adequate clothes, grocery allowance, etc. Then figure out, on a graduated scale, what his income will be for the next forty years, figure out his weekly payments on a graduated scale, the more he make the more he pay for the next forty year, allot him two dollars a week for pocket change, and pay the rest directly over to the finance company.

There ain't no sense in a young man waiting until he can afford to live like he wants to.

Let him buy everything he can dream of at the start and sign up for this life-time installment plan.

This way everybody can have everything he wants and won't anybody hardly ever get thrown out of work, because you let one man miss one payment and the whole system might collapse.

If I owe a balance on my subscription, just hold it until this plan gets into effect.

Charles Yost of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Yost, over the mid-term holidays.

Last year 3,974,451 acres of grassland in Texas were involved in demonstrations supervised by county agricultural agents. A. H. Walker extension range specialist, estimates that improvements made under the demonstrations added $1,767,415 to the income of the participating ranch operators.

Let him buy everything he can dream of at the start and sign up for this life-time installment plan.

This way everybody can have everything he wants and won't anybody hardly ever get thrown out of work, because you let one man miss one payment and the whole system might collapse.

GQN IN OUR PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

There are quite a few of we parents who never (or once a year) attend P. T. A. Thursday was my first time this year. I had just read a book which urged we as parents to attend this vital organization concerning our most precious gift from God—our children.

I sincerely wish that every parent could have heard one of the speakers as she told the basic things that make a home. To teach our children about God, the Holy Bible and humble and sincere prayer were the three basic needs. From these came teaching them courtesy and thoughtfulness for others. She brought out the most important point that we as parents be living examples of what we desire our children to be and that we should thank God each day for our children.

Our teachers, plus we as parents, do have a serious task before us of teaching our youth (the future citizens of the United States of America). I am thankful that my child has a christian teacher who teaches them the reality of God and teaches them to pray every day.

We know that the Holy Bible teaches "Train up a child in the way he should go; and he will not depart from it." Proverbs, 22: 6. I, for one, have failed in the part of being the right example, but thanks be to God, His promise is that "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from Heaven; and will forgive their sin, and heal their land." 2 Chronicles 7:14.

Let us pray for ourselves and the teachers that Jesus Christ be magnified in our P. T. A. Mrs. Clifford Cluck. —adv.
