Kracker Krumb's

Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

Probably we could have made a musician—had we not thought it was silly.

We used to while away quite a bit of time at the old family organ.

We'd stomp those pedals until the old organ was wheezing for breath, and then finger the keyboard from one end to the other.

We learned quite a few chords, but our talents were sort of wasted because there wasn't another instrument in the house we could play accompaniment to. Except, maybe a French harp.

But we learned one piece to almost perfection. We still remember how it went:

Chicken in the fodder stack,
Hawk came sailing by.
Caught that chicken by the neck,
Watch those feathers fly!

No doubt, the organ's noise worried Mom to quite an extent, but after a while she sort of decided we were showing a wee bit of talent.

But by that time we'd become co-owner of an auto. We had pooled our resources with Pop, and we'd bought a brand new Model T Ford.

The piano teacher in our school was in need of transportation to and from school.

She had heard something of our semi-talent at the old organ, so she made Mom a proposition.

If we'd come by for her each morning and take her home each evening; she in turn, would give us free instruction in piano.

Mom could see the hidden genius in us being brought to the front, so she agreed with the teacher to try and use her influence.

But it was all for naught!

We thought the idea plumb silly and would have no part of it.

Besides, being a car owner, we were pretty popular with the girls. Not every boy had spent his entire income from his own little cotton patch on a Model T Ford.

Being popular—the idea of girls and dates—appealed to us a lot more than sitting down on a piano stool.

So we threw that opportunity away.

Earlier, we'd had another fling at music, and had begun to show a little trend toward talent on this instrument.

It was the French harp.

But Pop interrupted our upstairs concert one afternoon, invited us to the foot of the stairs, where he gave us a good thrashing because we disobeyed him.

He'd told us the day before he would whip us if we didn't come directly home from school and help with the chores.

Instead, we played with neighbor children about a mile away from home until jam-up sundown. And instead of helping with the chores then, we went directly upstairs and started our French harp concert.

The licking subsequently ended our desire to become a harpist. The desire to play "Darling Nelly Gray" became less intense each time that strap was brought across our shoulders.

Who knows, though, but for our own stubbornness and disobedience, our name might have become a household word—like, say, Libeance?

Patterson Sees Spuds Planted

Dear Editor:

I was out in the field where they were planting the spuds last week. I have often wondered just how this was done, but to my surprise, I saw the most complete job I have seen. The planter was opening up the bed, picking up the potato and dropping it at about 8 to 10 inches apart, putting out fertilizer, covering up the spud, all at the same time.

The planter, when fully loaded with potatoes and fertilizer, had about a 1,500 pound load on it. One man operated the planter and one man the tractor. These men informed me that we would have 130 acres of potatoes this year. I think after helping the men in securing acres and learning in detail of how they were planted, fertilized, irrigated, harvested and marketed, that this is the beginning of a revolutionized method of farming in this area.

They also want a sufficient number of acres planted to cantaloupes for commercial purposes.

I think these men know what they can do in marketing the things they are asking the farmers to plant. Of course we all know that the price is not always the same on produce; neither is it the same on cattle, hogs, cotton, wheat or anything else.

We all know that well balanced farming is safe farming. They tell me in 9 years they've been in business that they have sold better than $16,000,000 worth of produce, and from past experience I know that cantaloupes will certainly make good here.

So let's branch out on new crops and have something to sell throughout the year. If you would like to try five acres or more in cantaloupes, let us know about it.

Weinert Bulldogs In Regional Play

Weinert's Bulldogs moved into the regional tournament at Canyon last Tuesday night by squeezing out a 50 to 48 overtime victory over Megargel's battling Mustangs at Seymour.

Harley Reeves' 15 foot jump shot with one minute left in the overtime game the 14-B champions a decision after a long uphill climb. Megargel led after the opening minute until Weinert's Clyde Childress fired a fielder that knotted the count at 48-48 with 55 seconds remaining in the regulation game.

Megargel had one shot after Reeves' payoff goal, but the 13-B kings missed and Weinert maintained control the rest of the way.

Work is expected to start within the near future and will be under the supervision of G. H. Beaty, local contractor. The bath houses are expected to be completed by the opening of swimming season. Plans and specifications which the city has secured are now in the process of being revised to meet local needs.

Notes For Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

In checking livestock over the county I have found that we have a very bad infestation of lice on most cattle herds. Cattle infested with lice have a rough, coarse appearance and do not gain properly. They also rub off the hair in spots.

Lice usually are more abundant during the winter and spring when the hair is long.

Several commercial sprays are available to control lice. Good controls can be secured by spraying with 0.5% D. D. T. or 0.5% toxaphene, or 0.03% lindane, or 0.03% gamma B. H. C.

For complete information on other livestock parasites, pick up a copy of C-324, "Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry" at my office.

The boys and girls from Knox County will compete in the Wichita Falls Junior Beef Show this week, showing 10 nurse fed beef steers and one heifer. The judging of the beef steers will be on Thursday, February 24th.

Exhibitors will include Charles Todd, Truscott; Bobby Pendleton, Gilliland; Donnie Ryder, Benjamin; Sue Ryder, Benjamin; Edward Moorehouse, Benjamin; Jackie Idol, Benjamin; Bobby Idol, Benjamin; John Renau, Munday; Evyland Garrett, Munday, and Glendon Hicks, Goree.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

During the month of March the American Red Cross will conduct its annual campaign for members and funds in our town and throughout the country. At the same time, in an African jungle, one of the great men of our time will begin his 42nd year in a project of selfless devotion to mankind. Between these two seemingly unrelated events there is a connection, a strong one.

The man is Dr. Albert Schweitzer, physician, philosopher, writer and Nobel prize winner, who has devoted most of his 80 year to running a hospital for the inhabitants of a remote jungle community.

Dr. Schweitzer has developed a principle called Reverence for Life, a subject on which he was interviewed recently.

It is not enough, he said, to do one's daily job, support one's family, abide by the laws. "That's all very well," he said, "but you must do something more."

"You must give some time to your fellow man. Even if it's a little thing, do something for those who have need of help, something for which you get no pay but the privilege of doing it."

So great was Dr. Schweitzer's belief in this principle that he left his native Alsace to live out his life in a jungle. That principle brings us back to the Red Cross.

The Red Cross in its essence is merely the means by which we can all give some help to those of our fellowmen who need it, who must have it. Through the Red Cross we can lighten the load of a tornado victim, help brighten the hours of a hospital patient, even save a life. In helping them, our own lives become more meaningful.

The Red Cross has long realized that fact and on it has been built the enduring, world-wide organization which serves us in some many ways. We can serve it, in turn, by joining during its March campaign for members and funds.

RESEARCH PAYS OFF

One outstanding characteristic of American industry is found in the emphasis on research. Enormous sums of money are spent for it each year.

Does this pay off—for the consumer, for labor, and for industry itself? The answer is found in a study which shows that most of the jobs in this country today depend directly or indirectly upon products that did not exist 50 years ago.

Research and invention are the lifeblood of economic progress.

WHY WONDER?

A recent issue of U. S. News carried some 10 pages of interviews with judges and law enforcement officers under the heading, "Why Law Fails to Stop Teen-Age Crime." According to one of the nation's leading judges: "Today is the era of the juvenile criminal, and I emphasize the word 'criminal.'"

In the same issue of the magazine there appears a Special Report headlined "New Way to Get Around Debt Limits" with a sub-head describing the "Latest Style in Raising Money." The report goes on to say that "Ways are being found to spend without making the budget and debt seem bigger . . ." The reference, of course, is to federal government. "The government," says U. S. News, "harassed by money problems, is turning to a seemingly magical way of raising huge sums. The magic lies in this: People get fresh billions of dollars of government help. But the cost does not swell the federal debt . . ."

It seems that this scheme for evading good old-fashioned bookkeeping by the federal government to satisfy the insatiable demand for hand-outs involves the setting up of a new public authority empowered to sell bonds to the public which are backed by the government but do not show up in public debt statistics. Thus there is no need to exceed the congressionally imposed debt limit of $275 billion. In other words, a way has been found to "get around" the law.

And we wonder why juvenile delinquency is on the rise!

A WINTER SUIT

A new winter suit is no great novelty to an American industrial worker. He can buy one of excellent quality for substantially less money than he earns during a five-day week.

In Russia, on the other hand, a wool suit is really a luxury. The Russian worker must pay in about 47 days of labor to earn the necessary rubles. What is true of the suit is true of just about everything else except a few bare necessities. American families take for granted manufactured goods and foods which are real rarities under communism.

Why should this be so? One of the reasons is that in this country commodities are produced and sold by competitive free enterprise—while in the communist states they are produced and sold by non-competitive monopolies. So American retail stores are laden with a bewildering abundance of wares that most of us can afford—while communist retail stores exhibit sparsely-filled shelves and sky-high price tags.

Church of Christ

Munday, Texas

One of the most picturesque men who came to Texas in pioneer days was Martin Farmer, for whom a county in the Panhandle is named. He is said to have fired the first shot in the Fredonian War, which led to the empresario, Hayden Edwards. Farmer, in command of a small force, routed a considerable number of Mexican soldiers at the famous stone fort in Nacogdoches. But the uprising failed as conditions were not yet ripe for freeing Texas from Mexico.

Farmer was what you might call a "character." When he lived in Missouri, before coming to Texas, he was a member of the legislature. Two members got into a fight and he joined in, with the announcement that he was a ring-tailed panther, by which nickname he was thereafter known. He had migrated to Missouri in 1818, settling away out in the wilds, surrounded by Sioux, Iowa and Osage Indians. He had numerous fights with the redskins but won their respect and was appointed an Indian agent.

Farmer owned a dog which he had paid $50—a big price in those days. The animal was a bear-dog and so good at hunting bear that he kept his owner supplied with meat in such quantity that not only was there plenty for Farmer's appetite but some was left for supplying the Indians. One day a savage came in and demanded meat. He was known as Two-Heart and had the reputation of being extremely dangerous. "Certainly," said Farmer and placed a large amount of meat before the Indian. Two-Heart ate it all and Farmer put out more. At last, he had all that he wanted but his host set out another helping, drew a wicked-looking knife and commanded, "Keep eating." So Two-Heart did—and he ate so much that he died.

It was such acts as this that won for Farmer the wholesome respect of the red men. The faithful bear-dog grow old and at last passed away. His sorrowful owner felt that the dog should have a funeral. So he sent a messenger to the nearest preacher, who was 50 miles away, to come and preach a funeral sermon. The minister assumed that a member of the family had died and so he came. Upon arriving, he learned that he had been called to conduct the funeral of a dog. But he was there (and, likely, had a whole-some respect for Farmer, too) so the minister went ahead and delivered a funeral sermon for the hunting dog. A very good sermon, too.

Martin Farmer, one of the men who helped to make Texas, was a remarkable individual.

BOY SCOUTS OBSERVE 45TH ANNIVERSARY

The Boy Scouts of America are 45 years old this month. The 45th anniversary was observed during Boy Scout Week, February 6-12, with its theme, "Building for a Better Tomorrow."

In the years since its organization, nearly 23 million boys and leaders have participated in Scouting with its outdoor living, its philosophy of patriotism, citizenship, faith and resourcefulness.

Their service to community and country ranges from wartime scrap collections, bond and stamp sales to local cleanup campaigns and their current nationwide conservation projects.

Through the merit badge system, Scouting opens the door for a boy to discover his own interests, hobbies, and possible life work. It affords him the opportunity to learn about subjects ranging from stamp collecting and photography to cotton farming and textiles. While they are called "merit badges," they are really exploration units of adventure in knowing and doing.

Scouting with its rich heritage holds a unique place in America, and Boy Scout Week was a salute to the achievements of the millions who have both benefited and served through this worthy organization.

Your 1954 Income Tax

The provisions of the law relating to the employer-financed health and accident plans are new. There are three principal types of exclusions.

The first type of exclusion is where you are reimbursed for medical care of yourself, your spouse, or a dependent. This type of benefit is not taxable except to the extent that you have taken a medical deduction for the expense.

The second type of exclusion consists of payments for a permanent loss of a member or function of the body, or for permanent disfigurement of you, your spouse, or a dependent. The payment to be excluded must be computed with reference to the injury and without regard to the period you are absent from work.

The third type of exclusion is referred to in the new law as "Wage Continuation Plan". In general, this section of the new law provides that gross income does not include amounts paid to you if such amounts constitute wages or payments in lieu of wages for a period when you are absent from work on account of personal injuries or sickness. The amount to be excluded can never exceed $100 per week. The benefits of this section vary depending upon the cause of your absence from work. If your absence is occasioned by injury sustained by you, the exclusion applies from the first day of absence. If your absence is caused by illness requiring hospitalization, the exclusion likewise applies from the first day of absence. However, if your absence is caused by illness and you are not hospitalized, the exclusion applies only after the first seven calendar days. The amount to be excluded is the amount received, but such an amount may not exceed a weekly rate of $100.00.

GRANDMA'S HOUSEHOLD AID STILL POPULAR

by BETTY BLAKE

Just think back 50 years and compare your kitchen today with grandma's kitchen of yesteryear. The modern day housewife has demanded more and more conveniences to make her kitchen chores easier.

Today practically every thing can be controlled by the push of a button or the flick of a switch.

There is one convenience though, that grandma had to help her with her cleaning chores which has lasted down through the years. Vitropane—the delightfully designed covering for pantry windows, basement windows, garage windows, and cabinets. It is still serving modern day housewives as well today as it served grandmother 60 years ago. Vitropane keeps prying eyes out, adds beauty to windows too without blocking out daylight.

Its helpfulness in reducing housecleaning is probably the one big reason why Vitropane has retained its popularity down through the years while other household innovations have fallen by the wayside. Vitropane helps keep windows clean looking year round . . . it may be dusted or cleaned with just a damp cloth . . . Hard to get at windows may be cleaned much less frequently than is ordinarily necessary.

Try it yourself . . . next time you visit your local dime store, pick up a few yards of Vitropane for your "out of the way" windows. You'll see why grandma called it a "must." You will too!

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle,
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual. According to information from the State Department of Health, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illnesses which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It is logical that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities. Many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

For persons over forty especially, the State Department of Health recommends regular physical examinations and prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

This week the House will consider a bill, which, if passed, will increase the cotton allotment for this year. Briefly, the bill is as follows: It provides for an increase of three percent in the allotment for each state. This should give Texas approximately 228,000 additional cotton acres. The first thing that will be accomplished with this additional acreage will be to bring every cotton allotment up to at least five acres. It will take approximately 28,000 acres to accomplish this which will leave roughly 200,000 acres to be distributed among the counties through the state, 10% of which can be reserved to the State Committee. In other words, the counties of the state will have at least 180,000 additional acres which can be used to take care of the most serious situations that have been caused by the allotment. That is, that they can take care of individuals whose allotments have been cut so much that it is now less than 60% of their 1954 plantings. Texas, under the present law, received an allotment of 7,612,779 acres for cotton. This meant that there was a state reserve of 761,278 acres which the State Committee had the right to use to adjust inequities or hardships. Actually, our State Committee used 126,651 acres to take care hardship cases. The rest of the reserve is to be used to take care of "trends". In other words, the State Committee gave those areas where the trend has been to increase cotton plantings this additional acreage.

The plan to reorganize the Soil Conservation Service has still not been acted on, but the next meeting to consider it will be held the first week in March. As I have stated heretofore, I feel the Soil Conservation Service is doing a good job under its present organization, and I would not favor any change.

It is traditional in the House of Representatives that Washington's Farewell Address will be read to the House each year on his birthday. According to this tradition, this is the only business that takes place on Washington's Birthday. It is a worthwhile and refreshing experience to everyone to hear again those endearing words that the Father of our Country used in his Farewell Address. The fact of the business is, the speech is just as meaningful today as it was at the time it was first delivered.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

WOMEN AND WHEELS

Four Checks When You "Fill 'Er Up"

By Mary Lou Chapman

A "dip-stick" is not a new type of ice cream cone. It's that gadget under the hood of your car that shows you how much oil is in the engine. And if you have anything to do with cars—even if your husband generally takes care of such things—you should be familiar with it.

There are actually four other items besides gas that ought to pop into your mind every time you drive into a gas station. They are: checking the oil, the water in the radiator and in the battery, and taking a look at your tires.

Just because you may not understand the engineering intricacies behind these items, don't be intimidated. Get out of your car anyway and watch what the attendant does.

IT'S FLATTERING

He'll probably be flattered to have you watch him do his job, and will do it better—and maybe you'll learn more about your car in the process. Lots of men we know get out every time that hood goes up. There is something fascinating under that metal canopy. Of course you don't have to carry this motor-peering to extremes and start your own repair shop. But bear the following in mind when you go gasoline trotting in the future:

Check the oil. This is where the dip-stick comes in. Your gasoline attendant should show you the car's oil level on the dip-stick. This is how you read it: The level should be between the "add-oil" mark and the "full" mark. If the level drops below the "add oil" mark, add only one quart of oil.

MISS RAY HONORED WITH BRIDAL SHOWER

A bridal shower honoring Miss Mary Foss Ray, bride-elect of Bobby Wright, Gorie, was given in the home of Mrs. Hershell Hardin Saturday afternoon, February 19. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Hardin, the bride-elect, Mrs. F. A. Ray, Mrs. Bill Wright, mother of the groom and Mrs. Emmett Ray. The bride's chosen colors of pink and blue were carried out in the decoration motif. At the punch bowl was Jeanie Beasley, and Betty Jo Townsend served the cake. Virginia Jackson presided at the bride's book. Gifts were displayed by Miss Reta Trainham and Nell Peddy. Around 40 guests registered during the afternoon.

The use of hardy trees and shrubs in the planting plans for home improvement demonstrators has become increasingly important because of the drought. Many such plants are native to the areas where they are used and thus available at little or no cost except for labor.

Mrs. Bob Goodwin, Mrs. Coy Tuggle and Mrs. Madell Biggerstaff of Seymour were business visitors in Vernon last Friday.

OIL'S EXPENSIVE

The level should be watched quite closely, because if it goes over the full mark, the oil is likely to be wasted. It churns around in there and leaks out. Oil is just too expensive for that sort of thing. Yet too little is dangerous, because the function of the oil is to keep the wearing surfaces of the engine smoothly lubricated, and lack of oil may ruin it. You should see that the oil is kept clean, too. A filter is helpful for this. If your car has one, remember that these filters also need periodic changing (every 5,000 miles) as they become filled with the dust and dirt they remove from the oil.

Check radiator water. This is important. The water is circulated from the radiator through a "jacket" surrounding the engine. It keeps the engine (which often gets as hot as 2,000 degrees in the combustion chamber) cooled down to a mere 160 degrees or so. That is, as long as you keep enough water in it.

Check the battery. This one too is primarily a water problem. Each cap should be removed to see that the water is at the proper level. Normally, the battery should be checked about every two weeks, but in hot weather or while you are on a long trip, have it checked every week.

TIRES TIRE, TOO

Check the tires at least once a week for signs of small breaks and for proper pressure. Your dealer will tell you what pressure is best for your particular tires, but it averages out in most to about 24 pounds when they are cool and 27 pounds after they have been rolling awhile. Never let air out of tires immediately after a long journey, though, as tires are built today to stand expansion. Just be sure that they are properly inflated when moderately cool, and you'll be safe.

Periodic rotation to different wheels helps all four tires plus the spare to wear evenly. This should be done at every 3,000 miles.

More complete servicing of your car is done when it is lubricated. This is every 1,000 miles or once a month.

Littlefield Girl And Munday Man Married At Pep

In a beautiful ceremony read at St. Phillips Catholic Church, Pep, Texas, at 8:00 a. m. on February 7, Miss Emma Jane Duesterhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Duesterhaus, of Littlefield, became the bride of Fidelis Joseph Fetsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Fetsch, of Munday.

The Rev. Fred Hyland performed the double ring ceremony before an altar of flowers and tiered candelabra holding white tapers.

The Mass of the Angels was sung by St. Phillips choir, with Ave Maria at the offertory. Altar boys were Al and Hugh Duesterhaus, brothers of the bride. Mrs. A. A. Homer, aunt of the bride, furnished traditional wedding music at the organ.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white satin gown, fashioned with long, tight fitting sleeves, a net yoke bordered by deep ruffle of lace outlining the shoulders. The full skirt, outlined with double row of lace which formed a graceful pleum. Her finger tip veil of nylon net was finished with matching lace and attached to a pearl-encrusted tiara. She carried a showered colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations and white roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Annette Duesterhaus, sister of the bride, of Littlefield. Miss Alma Ruth Duesterhaus served her sister as bridesmaid.

Larry Kuehler of Munday was best man. Lawrence Fetsch, a nephew of the groom, was groomsman. Ushers were Jerry Decker and Wayne Kuehler, cousins of the bride.

Roseellen Duesterhaus, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Johnny Albus, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. A. Decker, in the afternoon and a wedding supper was served later at Pep school cafeteria for the wedding guests. After the supper the guests attended a dance at Pep school honoring the couple.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fetsch and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fetsch and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jake Myers and son, all of Munday; Paul Fetsch of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Fetsch and family of Muleshoe.

For a wedding trip to Munday the bride wore a wool flannel suit of beige and brown with brown accessories.

Both the bride and groom attended Rhineland Public Schools. The groom served three years in the Air Force and is engaged in farming in the Pep community where the couple will live.

Mrs. Fetsch is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kuehler of the Rhineland community.

of the Rhineland community.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Isaacs were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Isaacs and son, Terry, and Misses Beverly and Linda Isaacs, all of Brownfield.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

About 1400 bills are introduced in the Texas Legislature at its regular session each two years. These bills deal with a wide variety of subjects.

It is impossible for an individual member to read and study and thoroughly understand what is involved in each bill introduced. Consequently, worthwhile information is welcome about pending legislation.

A member particularly appreciates a letter that gives information as to why the writer is for or against a particular bill.

It is not unusual for a member of the Senate to receive 35 or 40 letters and telegrams each day, and he places a high value on these which supply information as to why a certain bill should be changed, or why it should, or should not, be passed.

Some members go away on week end trips; others use this period for catching up with their mail, writing amendments to bills that will come up later, or studying information on pending legislation.

In order for a bill to become a law, it must pass through each branch of the Legislature by a majority vote. If it is amended in the second branch, it must be

DROUTH HAY PROGRAM NEARS CLOSE

A recent order by the United States Department of Agriculture proclaimed a Feb. 15 deadline on applications for emergency hay under the Texas drouth relief program.

Judging from letters to the Texas Department of Agriculture, some confusion exists among buyers and hay dealers alike, as to the exact meaning of the order.

The February deadline affects eligible farmers who have not yet applied for relief but had intentions of doing so. Local Farm Home Administration offices were instructed to issue no more allotments after that date.

However, the TDA will continue to use state and federal funds for making payments under hay contracts through March 31. If the farmer already has his allotment, he can make his purchase and obtain delivery before the end of March and still be eligible for reimbursement.

The railroad's 50 percent reduction in rate for hauling hay was also set to expire February 15. The government will continue to pay half the actual cost of transporting hay up to $10 per ton on all deliveries to eligible farmers and ranchers until midnight, March 31.

Requests for reimbursement of hay transportation costs should be forwarded to the Texas Department of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, as soon as possible after the deadline date, if not before.

AMINO TRIAZOLE (AT) SHOWS PROMISE AS COTTON DEFOLIANT

Amino Triazole (AT), a new cotton defoliant, may prove as revolutionary to the plant defoliation field as DDT to the field of insect control, says Dr. Wayne C. Hall, professor of plant physiology and pathology at Texas A. & M. College.

And, Texas cotton growers will be among the first to test it.

AT is the first defoliant with true systemic action. It works through the plant sap stream reach the leaves. All other defoliants are the contact-type.

Hall says AT will be available commercially this year only to growers in Texas, the Delta region of Mississippi and irrigated areas of Arizona. The promising new defoliant should make its initial Texas appearance in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

In greenhouse studies, Hall sprayed potted cotton plants with AT and obtained 90.4 percent defoliation and no regrowth after a period of 35 days.

In field tests, he reports 90.6 percent defoliation and regrowth of 20 percent upon the application of one pound AT an acre. At rates of 1.5 pounds per acre AT gave 80 percent defoliation and 10 percent regrowth. (Most standard defoliants give about 80 percent leaf drops.)

This new abscission chemical and growth inhibitor also is effective as a weed killer. At Weslaco, Johnson grass sprayed in July now shows no signs of life.

At first exhibited defoliating properties during 1952 cotton tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Since that time greenhouse, laboratory and field tests of AT have been underway.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pendleton visited with Mr. and Mrs. Troy Ogilvie in Dallas over the week end. Other guests in the Ogilvie home were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Palmer of Van Horn. The Pendletons visited Mr. and Mrs. Hal Pendleton while in Dallas.

Mrs. Doug Moore, who is attending Sul Ross College in Abilene, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Maurysse Blacklock, and other relatives.

TEXAS CATTLE NUMBERS ESTIMATED OFF 1 PCT.

FORT WORTH—Estimates just released by the USDA show Texas' cattle population still better than eight and a half million head. Inroads of the drouth continued in some Western sections of the state, and the Eastern Third probably more than held its own. The official guess was 8,501,000 cattle on farms and ranches, one per cent less than a year ago. Observers at the Fort Worth livestock market noted that marketings of cows and calves tapered off sharply in the final quarter of 1954. Therefore the minuscule total change in the total numbers was not considered surprising. In fact, some cattlemen at Fort Worth expressed the view that if Texas' Panhandle wheat grazing had developed and the cattle in that area had not been moved out so early, that actual numbers would have been the same as a year ago. The state's total cow herd was estimated at 4,815,000, or two percent smaller. (The nation's calf crop last year was estimated 3 percent larger than a year ago.) Texas looks for another big calf crop in 1955 on the basis of today's cow numbers. Milk cow numbers are estimated at 1,031,000, against 1,052,000 last year. Beef cow numbers estimated at 3,784,000, are two percent below a year ago.

FED YEARLINGS EASIER AT FORT WORTH

Fed yearlings and heifers sold around 50 cents lower and fed steers were 25 to 50 cents lower at Fort Worth Monday. Cows were strong. Bulls sold fully steady. Slaughter calves were strong to 50 cents higher, and stockers and feeders were fully steady to strong.

Choice fed steers and yearlings drew $22 to $24 and were quotable to $25 or better. Fat cows drew $11 to $14, and canners and cutters sold from $7 to $11.50. Bulls cashed at $10 to $14.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $17 to $21.50, a few higher. Common and medium sorts sold from $10 to $17.

Stocker steer calves of the better kinds sold from $18 to $22, and steer yearlings sold from $21.50 down. Stocker cows cashed at $10 to $13.

SHEEP POPULATION HOLDS ITS OWN!

The USDA reported that Texas' sheep population was estimated at 5,191,000, the same as a year ago. Some increase in the native population in Central and Eastern parts of Texas, offset any further increase in the Western parts of the state.

Fort Worth market men specializing in sheep reported some shift in the population was evident with larger numbers in the Central parts of the state than a year ago. Considerable feeding has resulted in a big percentage of fat lambs early this year.

The Easter market will develop earlier and those milk lambs of the new crop variety should move a little earlier than usual where breeders aimed at this speciality trade. A few lots of genuine Spring lambs are already appearing in the ruts at Fort Worth.

The sheep population is 31 percent under the 10-year average. Breeding ewes number 3,665,000, and ranchmen are reputedly holding near a million ewe lambs for stocking purposes, some 24%

LAMBS STEADY TO 50c HIGHER AT FORT WORTH

Good and choice fat lambs sold for $18 to $21, woolled lambs and milk fat lambs at the higher figure. Feeders sold at $20 downward. Yearlings drew $12 to $17, and aged wethers drew $14 down. Ewes sold from $6 to $9, and old bucks sold around $5 to $7.

SWINE POPULATION UP TWENTY PER CENT

Estimates of 1,087,000 swine on Texas farms is 20% above a year ago, when the all-time record low was tabulated at 906,000 head. Ten-year average swine population for Texas is 1,850,000 head. Further expansion of production is expected but at a slower pace.

Market men at Fort Worth say the development of a better market for meat-type hogs here is an encouraging sign. Monday's top was $17.75 and sows sold from $16 down.

Mrs. Wilma Dean Griffith visited relatives in Abilene last Friday.

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses an economic fact in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

One of my neighbors in town yesterday and he came back worried, saying he'd been talking to a drygoods man and he'd read something that had upset him.

According to the business man in town, he'd read the night before where some atomic scientist, in describing the future possibilities of atomic energy, provided it ain't all used up in one big swish in one war, had casually mentioned that in addition to all the other things this new energy will accomplish, it'll also produce a pair of silk hose that'll wear forever. Just won't be possible to wear em out.

What worried this man was that if they produce a pair of women's hose that'll last forever, they probably can do the same to men's sox, shirts, suits, hats, etc., and if they do, where's that gonna leave the average drygoods man? Buy your kid a pair of stretch sox when he gets his first pair of shoes and he's fixed up for sox the rest of his life, which would certainly play havoc with the drygoods man's volume of business.

I do not look at the matter that way. In the first place, while I ain't questioning the ability of atomic scientists to build a bomb that'll blow the world to Kingdom Come, they've got to show me a pair of sox a kid can't wear out. Maybe they can do it, but I believe they'll come closer to sending a rocket to the moon.

But what I started out to say was that, even if they can, I'm not worried over the drygoods man's business, on account of I've got confidence in American ingenuity to always keep three jumps ahead of the average man's income. What if they perfect a pair of lifetime sox? They will come out the same week with something else that costs just as much and will be considered just as essential and I suppose if a man's margin of profit was the same he'd just as soon be selling one item as another. I'd just as soon swith from cows to June bugs if the market was the same.

My neighbor and that drygoods man just don't understand the economic system. Take four years ago. The average family was already saddled with all the payments it could meet, without adding another single item, they were up to the hilt, but television suddenly developed into a reality and the average family is working that into its budget without a bobble. Don't ask me how, but it's a fact.

There are two things you can depend on: American business' ability to bring out something new, and the public's ability to find a way to meet the payments on it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
