TOWARD A HEALTHIER AMERICA

Shortly after the President sent his proposals on medical legislation to Congress, spokesmen for the American Medical Association said that they still believe the highly controversial reinsurance phase of the program will not achieve the desired results. The then added that the AMA was in complete accord with the stated purpose of legislation designed to promote voluntary health insurance, and congratulated Mr. Eisenhower for saying that health proposals "recognize the primacy of local and state responsibility, and would encourage private efforts with private funds."

It is to be hoped that this stand of the AMA will clarify its position on legislative efforts to improve the public health and the standards of medical care. For example, in his recommendations the President covered a number of important and specific fields in which he believes intensified action should now be taken. These include an attack on mental illness; relieving the shortage of nurses; greater efforts to restore disabled people to useful life; a program of greater flexibility in the use of states by federal grants for public health services; measures to strengthen the Public Health Service; and stepped-up research on air and water pollution. The AMA supports or agrees in principle with every one of these recommendations.

If organized medicine disagrees with some proposal, it says so. If it agrees, it says so. That is its plain duty and obligation. But there is no stand-patting in its attitude, and its objective is always a healthier America.

WHAT GOVERNMENT CAN'T DO

The London Economist is England's foremost publication in its field. It recently blasted the idea that enterprise can be made efficient by government planning. Nothing that governmental action can do, it observed, "will be a quarter as effective in promoting efficiency (which mean in promoting a rising standard of living) as the compulsion that competition provides."

The Economist knows whereof it speaks—Britain has had a full measure of socialization and government domination of enterprise. The result was depressed living standards and the imminence of national bankruptcy. Not until a new government moved to stop the socialistic trend and lift some of the restrictions did Britain begin to recover. Let us profit from her costly example.

GOOD NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

On January 26th, the New York Times reported that President Eisenhower had ordered all government agencies to review their industrial and commercial activities within the next few months to "determine how many of these activities are in competition with private business how many can reasonably be ended."

That is squarely in line with a statement he made in 1952: "That no federal project, large or small will be undertaken which the people can effectively do or be helped to do for themselves; that no federal project will be undertaken which private enterprise can effectively undertake; that no project and no program will be started on the federal level which can be undertaken and effectively carried through on the state or local level."

Some progress has been made in getting the government out of business. Twenty-seven government-owned synthetic rubber plants are slated to go into private hands; the Navy has stopped manufacturing its clothing; the Army has disposed of a chlorine plant, and the assets of the Inland Waterway Corporation have been sold. But government is still involved in a lengthy list of service and manufacturing operations—of which electric power is the outstanding example. We have a long way to go before we will be free of the blight of socialistic experiments.

ECONOMY ACROSS BOARD NEEDED

This year we are enjoying a modest reduction in federal income tax rates. But in many of the states taxpayers are discovering that these tax cuts will be largely cancelled, so far as money in the pocket is concerned, by increased state taxes of many kinds.

It does no good if the federal government allows us to keep a little more of our money—and then local government promptly takes it away. We must demand economy in the state house, the court house, and the city hall, as well as in the U. S. capital.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., BEACON: "The Tax Foundation . . . reveals the fact that a $4,500 a year man works two hours and 23 minutes of his 8 hour day to earn enough to pay his taxes . . . It seems to us that facts presented in this understandable way will do more to alert the people to the evils of big government and all it represents. Furthermore, we must never forget that we get anything for nothing."

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

The threefold need of salvation:

The sinner, needs to be saved from the love, from the practice, and from the guilt of sin. One may cease to love and practice sin, but still be guilty of it before the law. A thief might abhor his deed and wish that he had never done it, but that alone would not save him from the guilt of stealing. A man might be sorry that he failed to pay a debt, but that would not relieve him of responsibility until he did something about it.

Paul ceased to love and practice sin when the Lord appeared to him on the road to Damascus; but he was still guilty of sin three days later. "And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." (Acts 22:16.)

THREEFOLD APPLICATION OF THE GOSPEL

The statement "as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he" is always true in all relations of life. See Prov. 23:7. The heart, or that part of man which thinks, is the logical beginning place, and the gospel which is the power of God unto salvation to the believer, is first addressed to man's intelligence.

The gospel, then, if believed, will change one's attitude toward sin, or which is the same thing, it will cause him to cease to love sin. Upon seeing that his life has not been pleasing to God, the gospel will lead him to repent of his sins, or cease to practice them. And having done that, the penitent will want to know what to do in order to get rid of the guilt of sin. Read Acts 2:36-38.

Salvation, or forgiveness of sin, is in Christ; and since baptism is the final act which puts one into Christ, the gospel directs him to obey that command, which will result in a change of his state or relationship. "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace." (Eph. 1:7.) "For ye are all children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ." (Gal. 3:26-27.)

Faith changes the attitude toward sin; repentance changes the practice of sin; and baptism cleanses one from the guilt of sin. Read Acts 2:14-41.

INSURANCE QUESTIONS ANSWERED

One of the most familiar types of contracts is the insurance policy, as nearly everyone carries some sort of insurance protection. Yet, few people take the trouble to read their policies and lawyers have to answer many questions regarding insurance generally.

Here is a problem frequently presented: "I have a hospitalization insurance policy. Will the company pay all of my hospital bills if I become ill?"

It may or it may not. Insurance is a contract between the insurance company and the policy holder. In the usual contract the policy holder agrees to pay a certain sum of money for the policy of insurance, and the insurance company agrees that should the policy holder incur hospital expenses that the insurance company will make payment to the policy holder of stated sums, as set out in the policy of insurance.

The insurance policy itself must state the complete contract between the parties. The oral agreements of agents not in harmony with the policy are not binding on the company. The company is bound to pay only such sums as are specifically set forth in the policy of insurance.

Practically all policies have a section called exceptions and exclusions. The policy holder should particularly read this section before purchasing a policy of any kind of insurance. It would be possible for a policy of insurance to have so many exceptions and exclusions as to practically nullify any benefits under the policy.

Another question often asked is: "Can I sue the insurance company which issued a liability policy covering the car of someone who runs into and damages my car?"

For all practical purposes you may not sue the insurance company which carries insurance on the other fellow's car to protect him from suits in case of his negligence. You must look to the owner or driver of the other vehicle for your damages. Upon his becoming liable to pay those damages to you, then he in turn looks to the insurance company to make the settlement for him, or to reimburse him for the settlement which he has made.

If the case goes to trial before the jury, even though you may know that the other party carries insurance, if there arises any discussion of the fact that insurance is carried by the other party, then the courts have held that it is the duty of the trial judge to declare a mistrial.

This means that you will have to start all over again and try your case from the beginning before the jury, at a later date. Your case is not dismissed, and you do not lose your rights to be heard on your case because of the word "insurance" coming into the case, but it does mean that the trial then in progress must be dismissed and you must start all over again before a

SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

Every self-employed individual must file an annual return of his self-employment income on Form 1040 if he had at least $400 of net earnings from self-employment in 1954.

If your income was derived solely from salary or wages, or from dividends and interest on investments, capital gains, annuities, or pensions, you will have no self-employment income and no self-employment tax to pay.

Generally, if you carry a business as a sole proprietor, or if you render service as an independent contractor, or as a member of a partnership or similar organization, you will have self-employment income.

The computation of your self-employment tax is made on separate Schedule C, which, with attached Schedule C-a, should be filed with your individual tax return. The self-employment tax is a part of the income tax.

J. Wayne Green, eminent Trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented.

How To Have Hair For A Lifetime To Be Demonstrated At Seymour By Famous Trichologist

Offers Written Guarantee

An exclusive interview by Steven Bright

WICHITA (Special)—J. Wayne Green, Director of Rogers, Inc., Hair and Scalp Specialists, exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview. "Baldness is unnecessary, costly, unnecessary and a plague to mankind," says Green. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Rogers method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness—can turn colorful fuzz into healthy, growing hair—can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration To Be Held in Seymour, Texas
This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Seymour, Texas, Tuesday ONLY, March 29, at the Seymour Hotel. Trichologist E. L. Hicks will conduct the private INDIVIDUAL INTERVIEWS from 12 noon until 9:00 p. m. Tuesday ONLY. There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason for Baldness
"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair." Men, and yes, women, too, walk the streets today, completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament—hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," emphasized this expert, "is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case baldness would be a rarity today."

Heredity Not Involved
Trichologist Green dodged no issue. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness—heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is hereditary stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an undernourished scalp. The purpose of the Rogers Hair and Scalp Clinic is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. "A healthy scalp will grow hair if it is not already completely bald," assures Green.

Is There Hope for the Completely Bald
In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Green has collected hundreds of testimonials of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis, and a diagnosis of the disorder. Green is quick, however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise," says Green, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of re-growing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers a Guarantee
"Rogers, Inc., America's Foremost Hair and Scalp Specialists, offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money will be graciously refunded," pledged Green. "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?
If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call Trichologist E. L. Hicks at the Seymour Hotel in Seymour, Texas, Tuesday ONLY, from 12 noon to 9:00 P. M. The public is invited. The examinations are private and OPEN TO MEN and WOMEN. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — Rabies control measures currently in force in Texas are ineffective, the State Department of Health said today. The department said a study recently concluded by Bureau of Laboratory officials reveals "current control measures have proved ineffectual in eliminating rabies from the state's dog populations." "But," the department added, "morbidity statistics indicate those controls have been effective in preventing human cases of the disease. Only 29 human deaths have been recorded in the period between 1944-1955."

Rabies abatement work in Texas should be in the hands of local authorities, the health agency pointed out.

"Although there has been considerable fluctuation in the number of rabid dogs from year to year, the overall state level has remained consistently high.

"Remedial measures have not been uniformly or consistently applied. Under the stimulus of a sharp increase of animal rabies, most cities have enforced existing ordinances providing for compulsory vaccination and the collection of stray animals. But with a decline in incidence, municipal ordinances have frequently been only perfunctorily enforced."

The effectiveness of a control program in a given city is limited "without county-wide cooperation," the department said.

Complicating factors in dog rabies control have been the marked increase in rabies in wild animals, particularly foxes and skunks.

"Only 3 rabid foxes were received by the department in 1954, and they were all from a single county. In contrast, 100 rabid foxes were submitted from 33 counties last year."

The department said it felt the solution to the problem of wild-life rabies is the employment, on a permanent basis, of skilled predatory animal trappers by either state or federal government to insure that fox and skunk populations are kept below the level necessary to support rabies in epidemic form."

A bill passed during the special legislative session last year authorized commissioners courts in counties of over 800,000 population to regulate dog numbers outside the boundaries of incorporated cities during rabies epi-

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

Tuesday, March 22nd, will mark the beginning of hearings of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce dealing with the different bills calling for the amendment of the Natural Gas Act. This will bring into sharp focus one of the most important questions to be decided this session of Congress. That is, it will be determined whether or not the Federal Power Commission shall continue to have jurisdiction over the regulation of the price of gas at the well where it is produced. To many, this may seem like a question that would involve only those people that were interested in the production of gas and that in no way concerns the average citizen. Actually, nothing could be further from the truth. The legislation deals with the very fundamental principle of whether or not the Federal Government should have the power to regulate the price of a commodity at the point where it is produced. If it is finally decided by the Congress that the Commission should have this right as far as natural gas is concerned, then, of course, the Federal Government would have the same power with regard to the production of potatoes, wheat, corn, cotton, or the sale of shoes, or any other commodity. It would also be the first time that we have ever in history approved of price fixing by a government agency during peace-time, and it will be the occasion that we have seen fit to regulate an industry which is not a monopoly, which is highly demics.

However, since the bill applied only to Harris County, it is felt current session should amend the act to include any county in which rabies is a public health problem.

speculative in its nature, and in which no profit is assured. This might also mark the last fight for the states for their historic rights that we have always considered were theirs under the Tenth Amendment of the Constitution. That is, the states' police power under which they regulate the traffic in the street and license those who want to be doctors, lawyers, and most important, the power under which they conserve their natural resources. Unless Congress takes action to clearly define the power of the Federal Power Commission so that it will not include the control of the price of the sale of gas at the "wellhead", we may as well be seeing the end of the power and influence of such fine conservation bodies as the Texas Railroad Commission, which serves throughout the world as a model of what a conservation body should be wherever petroleum is produced. I have introduced a bill, H. R. 3902, which will have the effect of so limiting the power of the Federal Power Commission. There are several other bills that will be considered by the committee which will have the same effect as mine. It is my hope that the committee will take favorable action immediately on one of these bills.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jones, Mr. E. W. Cowling, Mr. John E. Burt, Jr., Mr. Herbert D. Flowers, Mr. Bert E. Hawkins, Mr. Jim Carpenter, Mr. H. F. Meyers, Jr., and Dr. L. V. Selz, all of Bridgeport.

Marion Jones was a Sunday guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Russell in Wichita Falls.

Pre-Cleaning Time

NOW is the time to cart baskets of flammable trash out of attics, basements and utility rooms, fire safety officials report. They point out that homes will be safer and spring cleaning easier if this chore is taken care of before the busy days of warm weather.

For people who don't have baskets or who refuse to use the wooden kind in which fruit is shipped, there are galvanized steel baskets. These are light in weight, durable and have convenient carrying handles. And, of course, there is no danger of getting splinters in the hands.

Trash is difficult to handle when it has to be wrapped or put in a bag. It is no problem when placed in a basket. Simply carry it to a bonfire or place it in a covered metal garbage can. Then it can't add fuel to a destructive home fire or detract from the appearance of the home.

Notes For Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

Fertilizer tests conducted for five years on Miles sand at the Chillicothe Experiment Station shows that cotton and sorghums respond profitably to nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium applied in combination. The greatest response resulted from the application of the first 30 pounds of nitrogen.

In general fine texture "tight" soils have not responded to fertilizers as profitably as sands due to the fact that they require more water and are usually more fertile.

Applications of 30 pounds each of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium is recommended by the station for cotton and sorghums grown on light SANDY soils in the Rolling Plains Area.

Nitrogen was the limiting factor in production. There was no response to either phosphorus or potassium applied alone. Applying 30 pounds of nitrogen increased yields as effectively as applying 60 pounds. After the nitrogen requirements were met cotton responded to phosphorus and potassium applied in combination.

Results of the experiments show that on Miles fine sand cotton yielded 239 pounds when no fertilizer was used, with the addition of 30 pounds of nitrogen yields were 375 pounds of lint cotton per acre. With the use of 30 pounds each of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium

Green-Yeager Nuptial Service Read In Abilene

Miss Gladene Yeager became the bride of Vandel Green in wedding rites performed in Abilene recently. Rev. U. W. Brown officiated in the service which took place in his home on Saturday, March 5.

Memoir of the immediate families and a few friends were present.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Yeager of Munday, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Green of Eastland.

The bride wore a French blue suit with white accessories. The couple's only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Golden of Eastland.

After a short wedding trip, the couple is at home at 7757 Highway 80 East, El Paso, Texas, where Mr. Green is serving in the U. S. Army.

yields were increased to 392 pounds or an increase of 153 pounds of lint over the check plots.

On grain sorghums, yields were 777 pounds without fertilizer, 30 pounds of nitrogen increased yields to 1510 pounds while applications of 30-30-30 increased the yield to 1880 pounds of grain per acre.

These experiments were conducted under dry land conditions and fertilizer was applied at the bottom of the lister furrow about three inches to the side of the seed at the time of planting.

How to Start the Day Wrong!

"Rise and shine!" Millions of ex-servicemen still shudder when they recall that early morning greeting from a first sergeant or chief.

Nevertheless, they were better off in some ways than they are today. Everything was orderly and routine. Everyone had time for a good solid breakfast.

How do ex-Corporal Doe and his family start their day now?

The above scene from a typical American home pretty well describes it. Doe is still shaving and has just fifteen minutes to get out of the house and start for work. The oldest boy has to leave for school at the same time. The little kids are driving Mrs. Doe to distraction. In short, all is confusion.

Only the cat seems relaxed and enjoying his breakfast. In fact, the cat is the only one who will get much of a breakfast.

And that's the trouble. There's no doubt, according to leading nutritionists who have made studies and surveys on the subject, that breakfast is the most neglected meal of the day among all age groups.

Since breakfast should supply at least one-third of the daily caloric requirements, they've noted that non-breakfast eating people were less alert, less efficient and more susceptible to fatigue than those who had eaten a good morning meal.

Making up for the lack of breakfast later in the day doesn't work either, nutritionists say. Because the human body is so constructed that it requires fairly even intake of food at regular intervals for maximum health and efficiency.

It is particularly important for people who are overweight or those who have trouble keeping down to a healthy weight to eat a good breakfast. The reason for this is that people will almost always eat too hearty a lunch and dinner and will snack in between if they skip breakfast.

A recommended basic breakfast consists of fruit or fruit juices, cereal, milk, toast and butter or fortified margarine. Eggs and bacon or sausages should be included at least a few times a week. These are the foods that are essential to adults and children to supply the necessary nutrients to equip them for better stamina, maximum efficiency and greater acuity during work and school.

The Frances Bryan Circle of the First Baptist W. M. S. met in the home of Mrs. Ann McClaran last Monday with eleven members present. Mrs. Chester Bowden opened the meeting with the Bible meditation.

The meeting was directed by Mrs. Joe Lane. A very interesting and inspiring program on Brazil was given. Taking part in the program were Mrs. James Carden, Joe Lane, S. B. Campsey, Ann McClaran and Chester Bowden. Mrs. A. U. Hathaway closed the meeting with prayer.

LIVESTOCK POINTERS

The saying goes, "Nature takes care of its own"—in the animal kingdom and otherwise. But in these days of small profit margin on livestock, a little assistance from man is necessary.

With the spring crop of animals coming on, the difference between profit and loss may be only one or two pigs, calves or lambs for the average farmer in certain sections of Texas. Some pointers offered by the American Foundation for Animal Health might be helpful in holding down the death loss.

"Be sure that mother animals get top notch rations," the foundation suggests. "They should get plenty of suitable proteins, vitamins, minerals and good legume hay.

"Keep brood animals comfortable and clean in properly ventilated quarters.

"Be sure the young are born on clean pasture, or in clean, dry well-bedded quarters, away from drafts, if possible.

"Near the end of the gestation period, be on hand so that if assistance is needed in delivery, a veterinarian can be called to disinfect the navels of the young.

"Check up to see that the newborn nurse properly. Calves should get the cow's first milk. Baby pigs should have access to clean sod or an iron preparation which will prevent anemia.

"Be alert for signs of scouring. It may indicate over-feeding, improper feeding or disease.

"Have pigs vaccinated against cholera around weaning time. Also, check with your veterinarian as to whether other stock may require vaccination.

"If any unexpected sickness should appear, get an expert di-agnosis without delay. Prompt action may mean the saving of many valuable animals—and make for that vital difference between a gain or loss in stock raising.

Life Insurance Company Sets New Records Last Year

Again in 1954, Southwestern Life Insurance Company set new records in insurance sales and payment of policy benefits during a calendar year, it has been announced by President James Ralph Wood in his annual report on the Company's business operations.

New paid-for life insurance issued in 1954 totaled $228,345,382, a 48 per cent increase over the 1953 total of $153,680,329.

This unusual gain is primarily accounted for by $69,020,786 of group insurance on federal employees underwritten by the Company. Excluding this sum, new insurance sales amounted to $159,324,596. It was the fifth consecutive year in which the Company's agency had set a new mark in producing new business.

Insurance in force at the end of the year was $1,211,600,658, an increase of $146,540,725.

Southwestern Life policies issued to individuals in 1954 averaged $6,057 in face amount, reflecting a continuation of the trend toward the purchase of more adequate amounts of insurance. Ten years ago, the average amount of protection provided by such policy was only $2,509, Wood reported.

Policy benefits paid to policyowners and beneficiaries total $18,359,140, a new record and more than $3,400,000 above the payments in 1953. Since 1903, when it was organized, the Company's policy benefit payments amount to more than $199,000,000.

The Company's financial statement shows 1954 year-end assets of $322,553,099, an increase of $26,360,792 for the year. Policy reserves increased $22,845,272 to a total of $282,098,661. Total liabilities increased $23,256,851, and appear on the balance sheet as $291,353,774.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

The nation's traffic accident toll in injury, death, and property damage on our highways would be cut tremendously if all states followed California's procedure to assure safe visibility at night.

The National Street and Traffic Safety Lighting Bureau points out that all California freeways now have safety lighting as an integral part of the original construction plans.

"This is a tremendous forward step," Edmond C. Powers, Lighting Bureau educational director, says. "Only a few years ago, it was not uncommon to build a freeway, expressway, or highway first and install the lights later."

"This was extremely costly in economic losses from accidents caused by unsafe visibility and in the expense of tearing up the paving, running in conduit, setting poles, etc."

"On all new freeways, it is now the policy in California to illuminate deceleration lanes and ramp outlets, ramp inlets and acceleration lanes, as well as other points of conflict in interchange areas."

"Rural traffic accidents now account for 2 1/2 times as many deaths as urban mishaps and accidents due to unsafe visibility due to inadequate lighting are a major factor in this tremendous toll."

"Engineering safe lighting into the original plans for new highways, rather than installing the lighting after the highways are built would greatly reduce the accident toll and save road construction dollars as well."

"The procedure of designing lighting into original plans seems worthy of serious consideration at the present time in view of the extensive highway construction program proposed for the federal government in addition to those planned by the states."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Unworried About Television's Role In Getting Candidates Elected To Public Office

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm in Miller Creek is arguing with his neighbor now, but it's his argument, not ours. Dear editor:

One of my neighbors out here is upset. He's the one who takes things pretty serious, is happy to see a rain but knows it's gonna rain too much before it stops and after it stops figures we're bound to have another drought before it rains again.

What upset him this time was a statement he read in his newspaper from a political leader who was telling his party workers what they need is more candidates who look good on television.

"What a way to elect a man to office, just because he photographs good," this neighbor complained. "What's looking good on television got to do with the serious business of running the government?" And he went on to say that if voters were gonna elect candidates on that basis, television is a dangerous instrument.

I don't look at it that way. As I see it, television for politicians is just a modern-day use of the principle of the hand-shake.

I know it seems odd to decide which man you're gonna vote for on how his face shows up on a television screen, but it really ain't much different from deciding by how well he remembers your name, and that's the system we've been using in this country for years, and it seems to work, at least the government from city to county to state to national seems to work better here than it does in most countries.

Most people don't seem to understand that progress consists of doing the same thing in a different way. Fifteen buggies trying to pass each other at the street intersection at the same time was just as much of a traffic jam as fifteen two-toned automobiles trying to do the same thing, but most people claim it's more progressive to do it with cars. You can get just as tired driving a four-row tractor as a one-row tractor, but everybody knows that a furrow is more progressive, that is, everybody but me. It's more progressive to cook a steak on a modern automatic range than over a fire between two rocks, but the taste

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO: ZANE N. DAVIS, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 11th day of April, A. D., 1955, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. before the Honorable District Court of Knox County, at the Court House in Benjamin, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 21st day of February, 1955. The file number of said suit being No. 5086. The names of the parties in said suit are: Ethel Lo Ree Davis as Plaintiff, and Zane N. Davis, as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit: Suit for Divorce and custody of children.

Issued this the 21st day of February, 1955.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Benjamin, Texas, this 21st day of February, A. D., 1955.

Clerk, District Court, Knox County, Texas. 31-4c of the steak is the same.

Personally, I'm not afraid of progress. I'd just as soon elect a man by the way he shows up on television as the way he shakes my hand. In some cases, I'd a heap rather. After all, the only test anyway doesn't come until he gets in office and starts functioning, and those that don't function satisfactorily don't remain forever, although it does seem like it takes an awfully long time in some cases to get around to finding them out. Yours faithfully,
J. A.

TWO OF A KIND

Women found out fast that wash could be done more quickly, more conveniently and with much better results in an automatic washing machine. Then there was no stopping until they could shake off that other washtub — clothes-line drying.

Always receptive to feminine wiles and ways, the men behind the washing machines got busy! They invested time and money and lots of thought in producing clothes dryers fitted to the pattern of a modern lady's busy pace.

One interesting new approach to clothes drying, the Whirlpool 1955 Imperial automatic dryer, matches a washer of the same name. These two were designed with an eye to changes in decorating schemes. Finished in baked-on white enamel, with stain, rust and mar resistant porcelain enamel tops, the appliances provide illuminated control panels color-keyed to newest trends in kitchen decor. Yellow and white with aquamarine accents and gold frames, the panels look as smart as they are.

First of all, a timer dial can be set anywhere from one to sixty minutes. A moving red guide light follows the timer's journey so that a lady can tell at a glance how the drying is progressing. Other guide lights point up temperature selected.

Three drying temperatures are possible (with a fourth delicate fabrics cycle for good measure). A fabric guide indicates that HOT is for rugs and woollens, MED. for whites and cottons, WARM for silks and nylons.

Available in both gas and electric models, this dryer assures completely safe operation. When the door is opened, operation stops and an interior light turns on. Close the door and operation resumes — automatically. When the job is finished, a buzzer sounds and the machine shuts off.

And there you are! With nice, clean, dry and wrinkle-free clothes — and not a bit of lugging, lifting, stretching, bending or hanging in a laundry load!

Charles Ratliff of Texas Tech in Lubbock spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ratliff.

Mrs. Clifton Patterson, Mrs. Robert Patterson and Mrs. D. E. Patterson of Seymour were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

Mrs. J. C. Harpham left Wednesday for a few days visit with her sister, Miss Dorothy Clements, in Dallas and to attend the flower show.

T/Sgt. and Mrs. Glenn Ray Morrow of San Antonio visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stubblefield, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grantom of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Matthews of Haskell were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Searcy.

NECKTIE NEWS FEATURES COTTON

Cotton neckties are making their debut as a year-round fashion item for men.

Once little more than a bright summertime novelty, they have been styled up to make fashion news all through the year, reports the National Cotton Council.

The latest word in neckties, comes from Superba Cravats Inc., the nation's oldest and one of the largest neckwear manufacturers, which recently introduced a line of bow-ties and four-in-hands made of M. and W. Thomas cotton fabrics. Some come in sets with matching cotton belts.

These neckties feature currently fashionable subdued colors and small patterns rather than the gaudy hues and bold designs characteristic of summer cotton "wash ties." In both pointed-end and slim, square-end shapes they feature plaids, stripes, checks and abstract motifs of pink, gold, brown and other currently popular accent colors.

The cotton cravats will reach the market in time for the Easter Parade and National Cotton Week, May 9-14

BAPTIST WOMEN'S CIRCLE

Mrs. Ruth McGaughey brought a very interesting Bible lesson from the book, "Young People of Destiny". The following were present: Mmes. Merick McGaughey, Bessie Russell, Eva Glover, Edith Rodgers, Oretta Kilgore, K. E. Wooley, W. A. Barnett and Miss Omilene Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Kuehler and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. King and children left last Thursday afternoon for Van Horn where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Idell Montgomery and children. On Saturday they went sightseeing in El Paso and Juarez, Mexico. They reported a wonderful time.
