We don't know much about politics—but . . .

It seems to us that some forces woefully neglected the weekly press in the gubernatorial campaign which ended with last Saturday's runoff election.

And they might have underestimated the "power of the press", too, in failing to reckon with the fact that the small weekly newspaper is the one that reaches the populace—one that is welcomed into their homes each week.

What brings us around to saying this is the following:

From the Shivers forces—his campaign headquarters and from supporters who bought advertising on their own—this paper derived $152.44 gross from advertising. From Yarborough's headquarters and other sources, there came $53.12 in political advertising.

And who's our next governor of Texas?

From a representative of weekly newspapers in Austin came a report early in August that efforts to secure advertising from the Austin attorney's forces met with very little success.

From reports gleaned from daily papers the campaign expenses of the two candidates were fairly close to the same figure—above the $200,000 mark.

We don't claim the advertising in weekly newspapers elected our governor—the people's vote did that—but we're inclined to believe advertising helped secure those votes.

P. S.—We don't know what our claim would have been had the smaller advertiser been the successful candidate!

There's a lot of dirt piled up out there near the city's new water wells.

We went out to hurriedly check the situation over last Monday and found a pretty good sized hole where the dirt used to be.

Some concrete beams had been poured, too. That's the progress being made on Munday's new swimming pool.

It may not be completed in time to swim this season, but a lotta kids are going to have a lotta fun there next summer, and in the summers to follow.

There's one bad thing about owning a new auto. The mortgage sticks out so plainly it almost obscures one's driving vision!

The back yard of the Lee Haymes home was full of Methodists last Monday night.

It was the annual picnic for members of the Wesleyan Service Guild, and husband's night to boot.

A plentiful amount of fried chicken, red beans, cole slaw, potato salad, iced tea, ice cream and cookies were on hand which probably accounted for the nightmare we had later in the night.

Next Tuesday night is ladies' night at the Methodist Men's Club, but we're sure they won't get such a feed as the above. Somehow or another, women seem to get things like that together better than men do.

LIGHTNING HITS HOME; LITTLE DAMAGE DONE

Besides startling the family, minor damage was done to a Munday residence last Monday night during the brief rain-storm.

The lightning struck at the Norton Pendergraft home, bursting a light bulb, burning a cord, burning a spot on the living room wall, and knocking out a switch on the TV antenna control and another on the kitchen stove. Pendergraft didn't know whether the bolt entered by the electric wiring or antenna wire.

Roxy Theatre Is Remodeled To Show New CinemaScope Pictures In Future

Next week local moviegoers will get their first view of CinemaScope, the new motion picture process which has caused a revolution in Hollywood studios even greater than that created 27 years ago when motion pictures found their voice.

The event is to take place Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday at the Roxy Theatre when Twentieth-Century-Fox's production of "The Robe" in technicolor and CinemaScope makes its debut.

The theatre, which was closed three days this week, has been remodeled for this new picture. A taller and wider screen was installed, and it was necessary to change the air-conditioning ducts to make room for this new screen. Projection equipment for CinemaScope pictures has also been installed.

When the motion picture found its voice in 1927, and with the addition of color a few years later, it was believed that the acme of film entertainment had been reached. Now CinemaScope brings a new panoramic scope to the screen which gives the audience a sense of participation while achieving the illusion of depth.

CinemaScope, pioneered and developed by Twentieth Century-Fox, makes it possible for the camera to "reach out" to each side as the eye does and compress a wide angle screen on a narrow strip of 35mm. film. When this film is projected through a compensating anamorphic lens attached to the theatre projection machine it spreads the image horizontally to its original form or to an aspect ratio of 2.55 to 1.

CinemaScope is not a makeshift enlargement of a regular 35 mm. film but an entirely new method of filming and projecting a motion picture, and its impact is really astounding. Taking the lead from Twentieth-Century-Fox, virtually all the big film companies now produce CinemaScope movies.

Polnac Resigns Pastorate Here; To Weatherford

Rev. Hurno A. Polnac, pastor of the Munday Baptist Church for the past six years, last week tendered his resignation to the membership and church officials.

It was announced also that Phil Briggs had resigned as director of music in the local church.

Rev. Polnac has accepted a pastorate of a church in Weatherford which has a membership of around 1,500, it was stated. He and his family are moving to Weatherford this week, and Rev. Polnac was to take up his duties there on September 1.

The local church has made much progress during Mr. Polnac's stay here. It was during his pastorate that the old church building was torn down and the new edifice was constructed. A large increase in church membership has also been shown.

Church members and the local citizenship regret to lose this fine family, but they wish them every success in their new field of endeavor.

People of this trade area are urged to make purchases not later than Saturday to tide them over. County Judge L. A. Parker announced Wednesday that the court house at Benjamin would be closed, giving employees a holiday on Labor Day.

The ladies were urged to page through these books and see what sort of reading is at the disposal of their children.

It is hoped that with the combined efforts of all Christian churches these books and pocket size booklets dramatizing sex and crime will be removed from the drug stores and newsstands.

A QUIET REVOLUTION

Short of atomic energy, no development in the history of our country has held greater significance than changes in the agricultural scene during recent decades. One farm equipment concern has dramatized the situation in a series of advertisements showing an attractive young housewife in her kitchen surrounded by work saving conveniences of modern living such as the washing machine, deep-freezer, refrigerator, electric range, garbage disposal unit, and other items. These things, the advertisement points out, have been made possible by mechanization on the farm which have steadily reduced manpower requirements in agriculture. The energy of millions has thus been released from food production to the production of the countless necessities and luxuries which make this country a good place to live.

The July issue of Successful Farming describes a few late developments in cattle feeding, farm machinery and land management which are typical of the progressive trend in agriculture. For example, experiments have revealed that corn stalk silage with proper supplements is excellent for fattening beef. In step with this development, another farm equipment manufacturer has announced a new machine that in the words of Successful Farming will "pick the ears, chop the stalk and deliver each to different wagons . . ." Thus the value of the corn crop is doubled, and the cause of more efficient food production has received another boost.

What is the reason for this quiet revolution in American agriculture? It is the old, but fundamental element of profit. The farmer uses improved techniques because they pay. The farm equipment manufacturer strives to meet the requirements of the farmer because that pays. Consumers reap the benefit.

SOCIALISM BY INDIRECTION

The Socialist party has given up, so far as being an active political entity is concerned. It will not put a ticket in the field in 1956. Its following has steadily shrunk—where it gained a vote of almost 1,000,000 in 1920, the 1952 total was an insignificant 20,000.

The American people won't vote socialist. Yet all kinds of socialist ideas and doctrines have been put over on the American people by men using camouflaged labels. In short we have been fed socialism, centralized government, bureaucracy and debt—by indirection and by plain deceit. The people are losing this gullibility. That's one of the best signs of the time.

WHAT THE CONSUMER WANTS

"Consumers are paying as much for food now as they shelled out during the Korean War days despite a 20 per cent cut in farm prices." Thus the Wall Street Journal sums up the major finding a special study recently completed by the House Agriculture Committee. But despite the figures, don't rush out to buy a grocery store. Nobody is getting rich off the situation, least of all the nation's retailers.

Many factors have combined to hold up retail prices and one of the big ones has been the consumer himself. Chairman Hope of the House Agriculture Committee states that the increased costs stem largely from consumer demand for "better processing, improved sanitation and more convenient and attractive packaging, plus increased labor costs in processing, transportation and marketing."

Our retail stores provide us with a system of mass distribution the like of which the world has never seen before. In return for this invaluable service they retain a very modest profit—as small as one or two cents out of each sales dollar. Competition is intense and results in attractively displayed food and merchandise of every kind and in amazing abundance. And, most important from the standpoint of the family budget, it assures the consumer that he is getting the best deal possible.

DENYING FREEDOM ITSELF

Defenders of Communist teachers argue that Communism is simply a political belief to which anyone is entitled, regardless of occupation. In other words, they inferentially claim that in principle it's no different than being a Republican or a Democrat.

The Portland Oregonian answered that conclusively in these words: "The Communist party is not just a political party. It is a gigantic hoax, the prime tenet of which is that the end—which is complete subjugation—justifies the means—which include deceit, fraud, guile, falsehood. To argue that academic freedom or any freedom encompasses such a principle is to deny freedom itself."

"The wanton intrusion of the federal government into fields of private enterprise is to us a direct violation of the basic principles of our form of government."—Savannah Morning News.

Miss D'Aun Weaver and Billy Joe Brown Marry In Candlelight Service

A candlelight service in the Idalou Methodist Church in Idalou Thursday night, August 19, at 7:30, united D'Aun Rochell Weaver of Idalou and Billy Joe Brown of Munday. Rev. Charles Lutrick read the double ring ceremony.

Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weaver of Idalou and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown of Munday.

Miss Betty Shewbert played wedding music and was accompanist for the soloist, James Sides. Mr. Sides sang "Because", "Through the Years," and the "Wedding Prayer."

Altar arrangements included garlands of greenery and white gladioli draped with white satin. Candles were lighted by Ken Weaver of Idalou, brother of the bride and Freddie Weaver of Lubbock, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Bob Ford of Lubbock and Stanley Wheeler of Southland.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model of white imported French lace and nylon tulle over net and satin. The portrait neckline was outlined with scalloped lace embroidered with sequins and seed pearls with upstanding cuff of lace framing the face. The fitted lace bodice with tiny sleeves and shirred front terminated with points at each side and center front waistline, from this stemmed a voluminous skirt of fully shirred tulle. The veil, of silk illusion, joined the pillbox type cap and was outlined with braided tulle dotted with seed pearls.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Ernest Sneed of San Marcos was dressed in a strapless ballerina length rose taffeta and nylon tulle bodice. She wore nose veil and tulle mitts of rose. Bridesmaids, Miss Rita Elliott of Levelland and Miss Dickie Sue Pruitt, the bride's cousin, of Lubbock and junior bridesmaid, Miss Jan Weaver, sister of the bride, of Idalou, dressed identically to the matron of honor. The groom's best man was Travis Hammer of Lubbock.

For something old the bride wore an old pin belonging to her great grandmother, her something new was her wedding ensemble, something borrowed was a white Bible belonging to Mrs. Don Cooper of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Following the wedding a reception was hosted in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Isom in Idalou. The couple assisted in

After a wedding trip to Taos and Red River, New Mexico, the couple are making their home at 2406 Main, Lubbock, where they will attend Texas Tech.

For traveling the bride wore a gray cotton suit with black velvet collars and cuffs and black velvet accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

PRECAUTIONARY USE OF INSECTICIDES-HERBICIDES

A word of warning to farmers who spray their own fields: Never use the same equipment for applying herbicides and insecticides without a thorough cleaning between jobs.

In the long run, it is actually better to use two sets of equipment.

Many farmers fail to recognize the killing power of herbicides on broad leaf plants. The chemical 2,4-D is especially powerful. It does an excellent job on weeds—but its effects are just as potent on your cash yielding row crops.

Even a small residue of 2,4-D will remain in your spraying equipment from one season to the next. If an insecticide is mixed in the tanks, that left-over bit of 2,4-D will still be enough to cause serious damage to the crop.

Near Round Rock, Texas this year, a farmer sprayed his entire cotton crop with the same equipment he used to kill weeds around the barn and house. Even though he had cleaned the tanks, the residue was enough to blight his field. Fortunately, he still had time to replant his cotton.

Cases like this are frequent and thousands of dollars are lost each year. In other instances, herbicides are carelessly applied, resulting in extensive damage.

An employee of a Texas Air children Jo Nell and John David, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hance and Brenda Kay of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Pittman Joiner and Sandra of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Delton D. Hoosier of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Boone and George Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Knight and daughter, Nell Carolyn, of Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Ball, Colorado City.

Mary Alice McGaughey was elected by the Denton Wesley Foundation to attend the Methodist Leadership Camp at Mt Sequoah, near Fayetteville, Arkansas this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Roberson and Judy and Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Gore returned home last week from harvesting wheat in North Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Puttard Boyd and children, Linda and Charlotte, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiles and children, Jack Peddy and Lestel Trainham are home again after an eight weeks stay at El Campo where they have been doing some hauling. Fred Wiles returned to Waco Sunday where he will continue hauling from Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lee Jernigan and little daughter of Levelland visited during the week end with Mrs. Viola Sanders.

Force Base once used far too much herbicide chemicals for the job at hand. He sprayed 200 yards of weeds along a railroad track, using 100 gallons of undiluted 2,4-D. Actually, only one gallon of chemicals properly diluted was needed.

The concentrated spray from this job drifted into adjacent cotton fields and killed the plants.

In 1952, some 1,054 cases of damage from herbicides were reported to the Texas Department of Agriculture. Last year, this number was cut down to 239—but it is still too much waste from carelessness.

Remember to clean your equipment with the solutions recommended by the Texas Department of Agriculture. But to be really safe, use two sets of equipment for the two jobs.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

Due to the fact that Congress has adjourned and I will be in the District most of the time between the middle of September and the first of the year, this will be the last of these weekly letters until the new Congress convenes in January. Between now and January, it is my hope that I will have an opportunity to visit every county in the District.

Two of the committees of which I am a member, however, will be holding hearings throughout the Fall. One of the committees is a special committee created to investigate alleged labor racketeering and will probably hold hearing in Detroit, Cleveland, and New York City sometime during the Fall. Plans for are for this committee to be active, and, of course, it will be necessary for me to attend the hearings whenever they are held. Another committee of which I am a member, Military Operations Committee, also has scheduled hearings for the next two and a half weeks and some later on in the Fall. The hearings of this committee will deal with problems of supply, management, and the disposal of surplus property by the Armed Services. Some of the hearings are scheduled for military installations in Europe and will be concluded about the middle of September. The Military Operations Subcommittee is one of the so-called "watch-dog" committees that has been set up to investigate military spending and has been actively engaged in the study of the many activities of the military departments. This Subcommittee has been instrumental in the past in calling many matters to the attention of the Armed Services which have resulted in changes contributing greatly to the efficiency and economy of their operations. I expect these hearings to be concluded around the middle of September, and I shall be home about the 20th and will remain there most of the time until January. My office at Room 206, Federal Building will be "open" Federal Building, Wichita Falls, will be open all Fall; however, I expect to spend most of my time visiting over the District.

WHY BE BAPTIZED!

The majority of the people of the world today tell us that baptism has nothing to do with our being saved. What does the word of God say? CHRIST COMMANDED IT: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." (Matt. 28:19.) And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord." (Acts 10:48.) "Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins." (Acts 22:16.)

TO BE SAVED: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." (Mk. 16:16.) "The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us." (1 Pet. 3:21.) FOR THE REMISSION OF SINS: "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins." (Acts 2:38.)

TO WASH AWAY SINS: "And now why tarriest thou? Arise, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." (Acts 22:16.)

TO GET INTO CHRIST: "Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death," (Rom. 6:3.) "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ." (Gal. 3:27.)

TO BECOME NEW CREATURES: "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature." (2 Cor. 5:17.) Note, We are new creatures when in Christ. We are baptized into Christ. (Gal. 3:27.)

REDEMPTION IS IN CHRIST: "In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins." (Col. 1:14.) Note, redemption is in Christ. We are baptized into Christ.

CAN NOT BE SAVED WITHOUT BAPTISM: Jesus said, "Except a man be born of the water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." (Jn. 3:5.) "But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized." (Lk. 7:30.) IS A SIN NOT TO BE BAPTIZED: Since baptism is a law of Christ, and "Sin is the transgression of the law." (1 Jn. 3:4.) to fail to keep the command of Christ to be baptized, is a transgression of his law, therefore, it is a sin.

Of course before one can be baptized he must believe. (Jn. 8:24; Mk. 16:16.) He must repent. (Lk. 13:3; Acts 2:38.) He must confess that Jesus is the Son of God. (Acts 8:36-37; Rom. 10:9-10.) If we fail to do either one of these we are guilty of them all. (James 2:10.)

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—The common disease, popularly known as athlete's foot, is said to be the third most common disease seen by skin specialists during the summer, and the fifth most common disorder in the winter. It is due to a little mold-like growth or fungus which thrives best where there is moisture and warmth. Therefore, the feet make an ideal place for the growth of this germ.

"To have athlete's foot, the infection must be gotten either directly or indirectly from someone else," states Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. "The most common places to contract the infection are around shower rooms, baths or bath house, locker rooms, and other public places where persons go barefoot. And it is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from the infection at some time."

The following measures have been suggested for preventing and avoiding recurrent attacks of athlete's foot:

1. After bathing, dry carefully and thoroughly the spaces between the toes.
2. Liberally apply a plain, unperfumed talcum to those areas and sprinkle it freely in socks, stockings, and shoes.
3. Wear properly fitting hose, that are absorbent but not too coarse.
4. Wear shoes that are not too tight, nor too large. They should fit the foot comfortably.

One of the greatest men who ever lived, Robert E. Lee, once said: "Duty is the sublimest word in the English language"—and that give us a guiding principle of his life.

Perhaps you would be interested in something about the days that Robert E. Lee spent in Texas. In the war between the United States and Mexico, he had charge of building bridges so an army could get from San Antonio to Fort Brown, down at Brownsville. When your columnist visited Brownsville a good many years ago, citizens pointed out an old house as one where Lee and U. S. Grant had attended a social affair.

After the War with Mexico, in which Lee played a distinguished part, he was sent to Texas in 1856 as lieutenant colonel of the Second Cavalry. Upon arriving in San Antonio, he was assigned by Col. Albert Sidney Johnson to the command of two squadrons at Camp Cooper, 170 miles north of Fort Mason. There were no buildings at Camp Cooper and he slept in a tent.

The little child of a soldier died and the private asked Colonel Lee to conduct the funeral service, which the commanding officer did.

His fiftieth birthday he spent at Fort Brown and, on the eve of a severely cold Easter, he was at Fort Mason and arose during the night to protect his horses from the harsh weather. Christmas Day of 1856 he spent at Fort Brown, far from his family in Virginia. He bought presents at the little shops for all the children in the garrison. A Christmas present for himself that he prized highly was a bundle of Virginia newspapers that arrived at Brownsville by steamer, the newest issue being only three weeks old!

After spending 15 months in Texas, Colonel Lee returned to Virginia but in 1860 he came back to assume command of the Department of Texas, landing at the now-vanished port of Indianola and proceeding to San Antonio. It was here that, when the clouds of discord were gathering over the nation and the Southern states were about to secede, he reached the decision that led to his alignment with the Southern cause. He said that his first obligation was to his own state of Virginia. In the Gunter Hotel there is a bronze tablet in the lobby marking the spot where Lee lived while in San Antonio. In Fredericksburg, they tell you proudly that he slept in the famous old Nimitz Hotel, founded by an ancestor of Texas' own Admiral Nimitz.

When Lee was serving on the frontier of Texas, snakes, wolves, buffalo, mustangs and Indians abounded. Frank Potter of Fort Worth, United States District Attorney, some where came across the story that near the present city of Fort Worth, Lee was on his horse, motionless, one day when another officer came up and asked, "What are you doing, Colonel?" Lee replied: "I am listening to the tread of the millions that are to come."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Seems Disturbed Over Man Whose Car Was Hauled Off; He Left It Parked 8 Years

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek seems disturbed this week, but it's probably needlessly.

Dear editor:

Newspapers are all right when they print pleasant news, but when they print disturbing news it makes a man wonder sometimes whether it was worth the trouble of bending over to pick up the thing, although if I was the editor I would print whatever news that turned up and anybody too lazy to stoop over to pick it up could stay ignorant.

What put me to think in this vein was an item I read in a newspaper out here yesterday afternoon. According to it, there was a man in Brooklyn who left his car parked at the curb in front of his house for eight years, and the neighbors got tired of seeing it sitting there slowly rusting away and called the police and they drug it off.

I don't know why the man left his car sitting there unused for eight years, I can think of several excuses, maybe it was out of gas, the battery down, tire had a slow leak and his hand pump wouldn't work, or maybe he just wasn't interested at the time in going ridin, it's possible, and if more people followed his example there'd be less traffic problems, but what worries me about the incident is this: you reckon a trend is settin in?

If the law can come and make a man move his car just because he's had it parked for eight years in front of his house, it opens up some mighty disturbin possibilities.

For example, I've got a drag-type cultivator which has been sittin in my field for the past fourteen years. Ain't nothing wrong with it, I just unhooked it there one day to ride my tractor to the house to save walkin and I got busy doin something else and never have gotten around to movin it. I've been doin it for years and that ought to come under the head of my business, but if the law can move a man's car, it puts me to

And it involves more than me and that man in Brooklyn. For example, I know a man in town who has been sittin on the same bench for at least eight years. You reckon the law might take a notion to come and drag him off? Also, there's another man, Mr. Baruch, who has been sittin on a bench in Central Park in New York for years. They after him too?

I tell you, it's things like this which disturb a man. Say this Brooklyn man drove his car once around the block every day and parked it back in the same place, would that satisfy the law? This idea that a car or a cultivator of a man has to keep movin to avoid being hauled off, has got to be stamped out before it spreads.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FEEDER'S OPTIMISM SUPPORTS PRICES

FORT WORTH — Movement of cattle and calves to market at Fort Worth and all around the market circle this week was again seasonably heavy. The growth continued to pinch larger and larger portions of the Southwest and this condition brought "shipping days" to more and more farms and ranches.

For the most part the packers were singing the blues over the condition of the dressed meat trade and the fact that currently their slaughter is running far behind a year ago at Fort Worth and other Southwestern packing centers.

This gloomy mental attitude was not shared by the buyers of stocker and feeder cattle and calves. Other buyers and dealers at Fort Worth said they could use many more high quality stockers and feeders than they are getting in the runs, and it appeared that feeding of cattle in the 1954-1955 season would be at a heavy rate.

Corn Belt and Western States feeders had a good year last year with estimated profits by the USDA running between $30 to $40 per head. While this was above average, the spread between feeder costs and fat cattle prices has narrowed somewhat this year, the feeders were apparently able to see a favorable margin still.

This served to take thousands of calves and yearlings out of packer channels and into stocker and feeder channels. At Fort Worth Monday, the good and choice quality stocker calves and yearlings drew $15 to $19, a few calves higher, older steers and long aged yearlings drew $18 downward.

Slaughter calves were bid lower and in many cases sold well below last week's high time. Cows were steady at 50c lower, most of the more desirable kinds selling pretty near steady and the junkier and excessively grossy kinds taking the dip. Bulls were weak to 50c lower and sold fully $1 below two weeks ago. Fat steers and yearlings drew steady prices, with choice fat kinds topped in the $20 to $23 bracket.

HOG PRICES TUMBLE; LOWEST IN WEEKS

Top hogs sold at $21.75 at Fort Worth Monday, a break of 75 cents per hundred under last week's close. This was the lowest point in several weeks.

Packers reported pork sales were lagging and pointed to breaks in wholesale pork prices last week of from $4 to $9 per hundred at some of the Eastern population centers.

Supplies of hogs were increasing seasonably to some extent, but it appeared pork was running into a combination of hot weather and liberal supplies of other kinds of meat as the principal factors in their downfall.

Packers pointed out that a heavy percentage of the hog requires some time to cure and process and with the Fall season at hand and its increased supplies coming up the long-term view on pork prices was definitely downward barring unforeseen developments.

SHEEP AND LAMBS HOLD STEADY HERE

Despite lowered dressed meat reports from Midwest and from Eastern centers, in the past several days the lambs and sheep held steady at Fort Worth. Some steady support from the stocker and feeder buyers was a prop under the market as was the fact that receipts were rather light. There was steady demand for breeding types of ewes when they had quality and were of suitable ages to go back to the country.

Good and choice fat lambs topped at $18 to $19, and were considered by the trade as quotable at $20 to $21 when they were suitably fat and conditioned. Stocker and feeder lambs were quotable around $12 to $16. Slaughter ewes sold from $3.50 to $6 and stocker ewes ranged from $6 to $10, a sizeable string of good ewes at $10 gain back to the country from Fort Worth Monday that averaged 15 pounds.

Joe Lynn Phillips is in Kingsville this week where he is working out with the football squad. He plans to attend A. and I. College if he makes the team.
