Are the vicious, poisonous reptiles getting more plentiful?

k-k

Just last week we carried a story about a diamond-back rattler being killed by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fetsch, and last Monday game another story.

k-k

Tom Cluck killed a rattler on his place while cutting weeds in his orchard. It was a little fellow, measuring just 18 inches in length and having just one rattler formed. Our guess, though, is that his bite would have been pretty deadly.

k-k

Clifford Cluck brought the reptile in for our inspection, but we were out of the office at the time. Guess it was just as well, because we don't even like dead rattlesnakes!

k-k

Lots of people went out to see the bridge the first of this week. Not that a bridge is such an unusual sight, but it so happened to be late Monday and Tuesday.

k-k

The old Brazos was on a rampage. Usually the river in this section is but a rippling stream, at spots so narrow one might take a running jump and leap the water. But she became a roaring torrent after the rises Monday and Monday night.

k-k

We joined the group to go to Rhineland Tuesday. The old muddy water was lapping the floor of the bridge. At times a bunch of trash would hit the bridge, or another slight rise come along and water would go over the floor. We heard someone say it was estimated that 50,000 gallons of water per second was going under the bridge and heading to Possum Kingdom. Which is a heap of water.

k-k

The portion of highway north of the bridge was under water from the bridge approach clear to the rise of the hill. It seemed one could look in a northwesterly direction and see nothing but water and partly inundated trees for a mile or more.

k-k

Off to the east of the bridge water was spouting up, reminding one of pictures of a whale shooting water high into the air, but this was different. That spot, said Fletcher Gates, local manager of the Lone Star Gas Co., is where the company's feeder line to Munday had been. The line had gone out, and escaping gas was causing the river geyser. The break caused a little concern about whether Munday could continue to be supplied with gas without interruption.

k-k

Robert H. Lloyd, our Baptist pastor, was out there with his eye glued to a little camera, taking pictures of the on-rushing water. We jokingly asked him to take a photo for our paper, but he said: "These are for Holland's Magazine exclusively," whereupon we returned to town and resumed our business of getting out a paper.

k-k

When Fletcher told us he was losing gas pressure in Munday all the time and it was possible he wouldn't be able to maintain service, we asked him to please keep it going under our linotype pot so we could get out a paper.

k-k

It was a wonderful rain, though, in lots of respects, wasn't it.

k-k

The Lions are wearing those whisk brooms again. That means they'll be calling on you with their wares—brooms, mops, ironing board covers, door mats, etc.—next Tuesday. Be ready for them.

Knox County To Get Farm Road

County Judge L. A. Parker announced Wednesday that Knox County is to receive about 6.3 miles of new hard-topped farm to market road in the near future.

The project, already approved by the State Highway Department, was approved Wednesday by the Commissioners Court in a called meeting. The Court agreed to furnish a 100-foot right of way, removing obstructions and doing fencing.

The new road will connect with the Munday-Knox City highway at a point five miles east of Knox City, go south to Thorp, then east to connect with Highway 277 at the McNeill place, it was stated. This much-needed road will be welcomed by farmers of that area.

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Davis of Welfare came in Wednesday for a few days visit with friends and to attend to business. Dr. Davis stated that if any of his friends were in his vicinity that to go through Welfare you called on him because he was the guy in the store.

James Parker of Dallas was an overnight guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Browning last Sunday night.

25th DIV., HAWAII—Army Specialist Third Class Herbert W. Ford, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ford, Munday, Texas, recently took part in battalion training held by the 25th Infantry Division on the island of Hawaii.

Specialist Ford's unit, the 8th Field Artillery Battalion's Battery A, laid down support fire for the infantry during the two-week tests. The island is about 200 miles from the unit's home station at Schofield Barracks on Oahu.

Ford, a radar operator in the battery, entered the army in January 1954.

He is a 1952 graduate of Munday High School.

Plans Complete for Annual Homecoming At Weinert, Slated Saturday, October 8

LESLIE L. KULLENBERG, Director of Emergency Operations for the Federal Civil Defense Administration, would be the first official at ECDA headquarters to set word of impending attack on America. He would evaluate the information, and determine whether top ECDA officials should be called in for a decision on placing the Federal civil defense system on a war footing. (American Press Service Photo)

Saturday, October 8, will see many ex-students of the Weinert school and former residents of the community returning for the annual homecoming. They will meet and greet old-time friends and join in the day's celebration.

Guest speaker for the homecoming will be L. J. Duff of Plains, Texas, who served as superintendent at Weinert over a 10-year period, from 1930 to 1940. An old-time barbecue will be served at 5 p. m.

A feature of the homecoming will be a football game between Weinert and Flomont, and the crowning of the annual Weinert football queen, which will be held between halves.

"Everyone is welcome," said those planning the homecoming events, "especially do we want those who attended Weinert school or who have lived in the community in the past. A big day is in store for all."

Winchester Heifer Winner At Lubbock

Sidney Winchester and Tonia Potts of Memphis, Texas, shared grand champion honors of the Hereford livestock division of the 1955 Panhandle Plains Fair in Lubbock in the judging completed Tuesday morning.

Potts showed the grand champion bull, T. P. Dandy Larry Domino 65th, and Winchester showed the grand champion female, S. W. Miss Larry Mixer 34. Each Hereford received the grand champion banner and $25 additional in prize money. Mr. Winchester also won seven other first prizes and four second prizes in the showing of bulls and heifers.

While all of the county received beneficial rains during the week end, raging waters of the flood swollen Brazos river brought thousands of dollars in destruction which offset some of the benefits.

H. P. Hill's official rain gauge registered a total of 4.29 inches of rain, which came possibly too late for present cotton and feed crops but will be of untold benefit to wheat farmers who are preparing for their 1956 crops.

The old Brazos reached its crest in Knox County at about 11 p. m. Tuesday after bringing destruction to livestock, crops and roads and hitting what old-timers believe to be an all-time high. Rains were reported much heavier in the Brazos watershed above Knox County, bringing about the flooded conditions.

Sheriff H. T. Melton estimated that 4,000 acres of cotton and feed were destroyed in the lowlands and that about 200 head of cattle were lost or unaccounted for.

The bridge on F. M. 267 at Rhineland was closed Monday night, all day Tuesday and Tuesday night. Water lapped over the bridge and washed out the north approach. H. T. Cunningham, local highway engineer, stated the bridge was opened to traffic Wednesday.

New Bridge Approved
Mr. Cunningham received a letter from the Texas Highway Department on Wednesday confirming the fact that a new bridge on the Brazos at Rhineland had been approved. He did not say when construction would begin.

"We will probably locate the bridge below stream from the present bridge and eliminate those dangerous curves at both approaches," he said.

F. M. road 143 west of Knox City possibly suffered most from the flood waters. About 5,000 feet of pavement on both sides of the bridge were washed out, and the highway will be closed for several days.

Mr. Cunningham stated Wednesday that approaches to the Hefner bridge, north of Goree, were also washed out, but the road should be open in about two or three days.

Highway 283 from Benjamin to Knox City was closed several hours, but was opened late Tuesday. The Santa Fe Railroad crossing just above the bridge was closed after river water washed out about 350 feet of track. A passenger train was halted at Knox City on Tuesday.

Although there was no way of measuring the height of the river, Sheriff Melton said that "no one I've talked to can remember it ever being this high... its previous high was in 1899, but that was still below what it has been this time."

Bruce Campbell, Knox City banker and rancher, reported the loss of about $10,000 worth of cattle and several hundred acres of cotton. A King County rancher, Pruitt Large, reported 40 head of cattle lost to the floods.

Farming land was inundated that had never been under water before, according to observers.

MAXIMUM MEANNESS!

Speaking editorially, The Freeman magazine had something important to say about minimum wage laws under a startling title: "Minimum Wage—Maximum Meanness." It observed, "A compulsory wage fixed above what the market will pay for marginal jobs has the effect of throwing out of gainful employment those least able to earn some sort of a living—the physically handicapped, the mentally deficient, the aged and the part-time worker. It does not raise their incomes. . . it deprives them of a chance at any income."

In addition, it deprives unskilled beginners of opportunities to gain experience that will qualify them for more responsible and better-paying jobs.

It remains to be seen what effect the increase in the minimum wage (from 75 cents to $1.00 an hour) approved by this Congress will have. The increase was less than various extremists wanted, though more than the Administration asked. Congress showed wisdom in continuing to exempt retail and various service businesses which, if brought under the law, would have had no choice save to pare employment of marginal help to the limit. In the case of some leading retailers, in fact, the increase in operating costs imposed by the law would have been more than their entire net profits.

What we have here is an economic truism: Trouble usually results when the pay of workers is artificially jacked up without any increase in their productivity and their value to producers and consumers.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Sheldon, Iowa, Mail: "The elements in our country that for one reason or another wish to weaken private enterprise . . . have succeeded in many cases in forming the idea in the public mind that private enterprise has become a detriment. They do not mention what they would substitute for private enterprise, but about the only thing that can be substituted for it is extreme control by the government, which is state socialism."

Swanville, Minn., News: "The measure of a man's living standard is how much he can buy with the proceeds of his labor. Taking the wages per hour of the average worker in three countries and equating them to the cost of things they buy, it is estimated that the free American can buy a suit of clothes for 15 hours work, while a Socialist-inclined Englishman works one and one-third weeks for a suit, and a Communist-controlled Russian three weeks."

WHERE ARE THE FARM WORKERS?

The Russian farm experts had quite a time during their much-publicized tour of lush Iowa. The latch-strings were out in the traditional American way, and they found friendliness and hospitality everywhere.

They also received some big surprises. Apparently our methods of doing work on the farm are beyond the Russians' ken. Writing in Newsweek, Russian-speaking journalist Leon Volkov said: "To Russian eyes, Iowa, U. S. A., is a fabulous land of plenty in which nobody has to work."

"They tried to hide their amazement but they never quite succeeded. At first, the Russians kept asking each other where the farm workers were. They had a hard time believing that one man could work a 150-acre farm all by himself with the aid of machinery."

Now there's human work to be done on even the most advanced American farm, and plenty of it. But farm equipment has greatly reduced the amount of arduous labor required, even as it has vastly increased farm efficiency and productivity. We all know the story of mechanization of industry, and we are all hearing about the newest step along that road—automation. But many of us don't realize that a mechanical revolution has been taking place in agriculture as well.

There are no push-button farms. Maybe there never will be. But the machine has made it possible for both farm and factory people to get far more return for their work than their forefathers would have believed possible. That's what the visiting Russians learned in envious amazement.

NOT ENOUGH RICH PEOPLE!

It used to be said that well-to-do and rich people could pay most of the taxes, so the rest of us needn't worry too much about the cost of government. But that situation is as dead as the Pharaohs.

The federal individual income tax starts at 20 per cent. Then, as income levels rise, surtaxes of from two to 71 per cent are added on, making the maximum tax a staggering 91 per cent. Despite this, some 84 per cent of our total individual income tax revenue comes from the base rate of 20 per cent—while only 16 per cent comes from the surtaxes. We just haven't enough rich people to soak!

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

Preparat To Meet God:

Many think they are burdened with responsibilities never give a thought to the real purpose of their earthly existence. When a distinguished statesman was asked to name the greatest thought, he declared it was the thought of his personal responsibility to God.

When men prepare for luxurious earthly life, they prepare for the wrong thing. This is the way the man thought who tore down his barns and made them bigger, to hold his goods. When the job was finished, a voice from heaven said, "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?"

The thought of meeting God is not popular, some try to run away from it. When Adam and Eve sensed the approach of God in the Garden of Eden, they tried to hide behind trees. They were not prepared to meet him. It is unfortunate that so many people do not appreciate the importance of making a careful and adequate preparation to meet God. No disappointment in life is comparable to the disappointment when men meet God unprepared.

The foolish virgins thought they were ready for the coming of the bridegroom when they were not. Their preparation was faulty. They failed to provide themselves with enough oil. The man without the wedding garment thought he was ready for the feast but he was cast out. Maybe he thought that garment was non-essential. The man who built his house on the sand thought he was prepared for any emergency, but he lost his house. "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven. Many will say unto me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? And in thy name have we cast out devils? And in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you, depart from me, ye that work iniquity" (Matt. 7:21-23). They thought they were prepared when they were not. Are you prepared to meet God?

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, said today, "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a temporary correction by means of glasses made when required." Parents should be watchful for conditions in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, eyeache and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

No child fancies wearing glasses. Nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if any doubt arises that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life.

According to the Commissioner of Health, any acute condition of a child's eyes calls for immediate treatment by a person that specializes in diseases of the eyes.

Dr. Holle said neglect of the eyes by no means is limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference or carelessness fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned, are bound to occur for such in-

"EQUAL JUSTICE UNDER LAW"

On September 24, 1775 was born a man who contributed more than any other single individual to the preservation of many of the freedoms which we today enjoy as American citizens. He was John Marshall, the fourth (and often referred to as the greatest) Chief Justice of the United States. To him we are largely indebted for the fact that we have a "government of law and not of men." Because of his vital role in strengthening our constitutional form of government, September 1955 has been designated as "John Marshall Bicentennial Month", and nationwide ceremonies will commemorate his work throughout the Fall of this year.

The Supreme Court of the United States has come to play its role as head of one of the three great branches of our national government by methods that are different from those used by the other two branches. Since it has only "the judicial power," the Court can act and speak only as a decider of some of the "cases and controversies" that litigants choose to bring before courts. And since its primary work is that of reviewing decisions of lower courts, it can usually decide only some of the points in the cases that reach it. Yet within this framework of judicial method the Supreme Court has come to perform functions of the highest importance in our scheme of government. The Court is an umpire of our complex federal system, revolving questions of the geographic location of powers between nation and states. It is likewise an umpire within the national government, resolving questions of the organic location of powers between Congress, the Executive and the Judiciary.

It is also a defender of individual rights and privileges, defining standards of fairness as to what government may do and how it may act in areas that impinge on liberty and equality. And it is a watchman over the mechanics and methods by which many government policies are carried out, bringing order and facility into the administrative processes.

While these great functions of the Court have been evolved over the years and under many of its noted judges, it was John Marshall's role in developing them

Ad Wolgast never saw me and I never saw him—but he had a part in my becoming a newspaperman. His death a few months ago brought the long-past circumstances back to mind.

I was a small boy living in Coldwater, Miss. Battling Nelson, world's lightweight champion, was soon to fight Wolgast. Nobody in Coldwater had ever heard of the challenger and everybody was sure the champion would win—everybody, with one exception.

There appeared on the sports page of the Memphis News-Scimitar a letter from Coldwater, signed "A Fan", predicting a Wolgast victory. Folks in the town wondered mildly who the crackpot was.

But when Wolgast won the fight on a technical knockout in the fortieth round, the mild wonder was transformed to keen interest. And at last they found out. Probably I let the secret slip in conversation—I was a great hand to talk, even in those days.

The explanation of my prophecy was really quite simple: The winter previous, I had been out West and read the Los Angeles newspapers. Wolgast was fighting on the coast and, in the space of something like two weeks, he fought Abe Attell, world's featherweight champion, and Nelson. Both were decision bouts but Wolgast won the "newspaper decision" in both fights. I figured a fellow who was good enough to outpoint two world's champions in two weeks was good enough to win in a distance fight.

Furthermore, Ad was young and, after all, a champion must lose some time.

Anyway, I had had the thrill of seeing something I had written in print. I had tasted glory! So I kept on writing letters to Sports Editor McDaniel and eventually became a sports writer myself.

Ad Wolgast's thudding fists influenced Nelson's destiny—his own—and mine.

I have never been able to tell the difference between "uptown" and "downtown", if there is any difference.

A visitor from Mexico said that one of the main reasons he enjoyed going to San Antonio was that you can get such good Mexican food in that city.

that made him "the Great Chief Justice."

One of Marshall's most brilliant decisions was written in 1803 in the case of "Marbury vs. Secretary of State Madison." Although not the first, this is a landmark case on the power of a court to hold an act of a legislature unconstitutional. The issue was whether a new federal administration could refuse to deliver judicial commissions which had been authorized and prepared by the previous administration. Many political overtones were present, but Marshall went straight to the root of the matter by declaring that the law involved was "unconstitutional." Thus was established the principle that acts of Congress cannot be enforced when in conflict with the Constitution.

Yet Marshall did not feel that the Constitution should be read and interpreted narrowly. Instead, he said, it is "intended to endure for ages to come and . . . to be adapted to the various crises of human affairs." In another landmark case, "McCulloch vs. Maryland", in 1819, he read the Constitution as impliedly conferring upon the national government the power to select any appropriate means of achieving the broad purposes for which the government itself was established.

In other cases he invoked provisions of the Constitution to strike down state legislation impairing the obligation of contracts, to back the power of the Supreme Court to review and reverse decisions of state courts on questions of federal law, and to assert the supremacy of acts of Congress in the field of interstate commerce.

Commonplace as many of these ideas are today, in Marshall's time they were innovations. Without his genius, different decisions might have been rendered and our courts might not have developed into the bulwarks against legislative or executive oppression that they are today.

Chiseled above the entrance to the U. S. Supreme Court Building are the words: "Equal Justice under Law." John Marshall played an impressive role in making this phrase a reality, and it is fitting that special observances have been planned throughout the nation to celebrate the bicentennial of his birth.

Cattle Sharply Higher As Good Rains Come

FORT WORTH—Liberal rain-fall reported from the cattle country during the past few days put a bullish tone to the trade at Fort Worth Monday.

Immediate demand from wheat areas, as well as stepped up demand from the winter clover grazing areas of East and Central Texas, caused stocker classes to move sharply higher.

This higher surge carried the slaughter kinds upward as stocker buyers invaded the classes that have been selling largely for slaughter.

All cattle and calves were fully 50 cents higher and many stocker kinds were 50 cents to $1 and more higher.

Choice fat cattle were virtually lacking, a few in the $20 to $22 range, but most of the medium and good slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $16 to $20, and lower grades scaled down on the $12 to $16 bracket.

Fat cows cleared at $10 to $12.50, and canners and cutters sold from $7 to $10.50. Bulls sold at $10 to $14.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $16.50 to $19, and common and medium sorts sold at $12 to $16. Culls sold from $9 to $12.

Stocker steer calves drew $16 to $21, and steer yearlings sold from $19 downward. Replacement cows sold from $8 to $13, and many aged cows in the $10 to $11 field had packer values last week around $9 to $10.

Sheep And Lambs Strong Fat Lambs Top $19

Small supplies of sheep and lambs opened strongly at Fort Worth Monday. Fat lambs of good and choice grades cashed at $18 to $19, and common and medium sorts sold around $12 to $16. Culls sold at $10 to $12. Stocker and feeder lambs of medium and good kinds sold from $13 to $15, and choice lambs of 55-60 pounds were quoted at $16.50. Slaughter yearlings sold from $10 to $15.50. Aged wethers sold from $7 to $12. Old bucks sold around $4. Old ewes cashed at $4 to $5. And some solid mouthed ewes of 129 pounds sold at $10 to go back to the country.

Hogs Open Strong To 25c Higher At Fort Worth

Despite bigger offerings around the Corn Belt hogs opened strong to 25 cents at Fort Worth Monday. Top hogs sold from $16.50 to $17, and less desirable weights and kinds cashed at $15.50 to $16.50. Sows drew $12 to $14.50.

Stocker Demand Sets Southwest Prices Higher

Recent weeks in the trade at Fort Worth prices of replacement cattle and calves have been as high or higher grade for grade than prices at Corn Belt points.

This development is due to the improved pasture conditions and the restocking that is taking place over the territory.

Rains of the past week or ten days will further enhance this stocker and feeder outlook as winter grazing areas will call for many cattle and lambs to keep wheat and other winter cover crops grazed down.

Mrs. Charles Bellinghausen and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Patterson, and children of Hamlin, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and son in Bowie on Saturday night. They returned on Sunday via Seymour and visited with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wirz.

Miss Doris Riles of Laurel, Miss., student at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thigpen over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson and children and Miss Jerry Patterson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wirz in Seymour last Sunday.

$133 Million In Savings Bonds Sold In 1955

DALLAS — Texans bought more than $133 million worth of United States Savings Bonds during the first eight months of 1955, it was reported today by Nathan Adams and Ed Gossett, co-chairmen of the Savings Bonds Advisory Committee for the state.

Bond sales throughout Texas this year up to September 1 totaled $133,276,815, which was 21% more than for the same period last year.

Purchases in August 1955 were $16,909,996, which was an increase of $2,149,560 over July.

"Sixty-six per cent of the state's 1955 Savings Bonds goal was achieved during the first eight months," the co-chairmen noted. "However, this is still 1.8 per cent below the average of sales necessary to make our state quota of $201.9 million for 1955."

"While the increase in purchases for the month of August is good, Texans need to step-up the pace of Bond buying in order to put our state over the top this year," the co-chairmen pointed out.

"We urge everyone to buy more Savings Bonds during the remaining months of 1955 to help attain Texas' proportionate share of this program, so important to the sound economy of each person, every community and our country," they said.

The more than 1400 Savings Bonds volunteers throughout the state will push renewed activities this fall to stimulate Bond buying, they said.

... But Never Me!

When we read in the papers of an accident, when we learn of a friend's misfortune—how often do we say: "That might have been me?"

Rarely—we'll wager. By some strange quirk we find it difficult to put ourselves in the place of the less fortunate.

But it never hurts to think! If an accident kept you from working for several months where would you get the necessary extra dollars for medical, surgical, hospital and nursing expenses?

Personal Accident Insurance helps pay such bills. Let us give you details.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Frowns On Efforts Of Washington To Find Jobs For All Men Who Are Past 40

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is worried again, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

When a politician sets out to help the voters, I always pay attention, but sometimes the thing can be overdone. Over-enthusiasm is sometimes worse than un-concern.

Last night I was reading in a newspaper which some outfit sent me as a free sample where a government official in Washington said he was worried over the plight of older men, which he described as men over 40.

According to him, business is reluctant to employ a man over 40, even more reluctant to hire one over 50, and when he gets 60, it's harder than ever to get business interested.

This, he said, was a deplorable situation, to use his words, and something ought to be done about it. Business ought to be encouraged to hire older men too.

I want you to know I appreciate this man's concern, but as far as I'm concerned he's talking when he ought to be listening.

If big business says when a man gets over 40 he ought to slow down, then you ain't gonna catch me questioning big business. If an older man wants to keep on working, or quit his present job and start another one, that's his business. I'm in favor of it, but when you start making blanket statements taking in everybody, I'm one fellow who wants out from under the cover.

You keep up this agitation for hiring older people and somebody will take you seriously and before long somebody will get the idea an old age pension check shouldn't start till a man's 70, then they'll raise it to 80, and finally wind up allowing you a small burial fee.

Retirement age is not a fixed age. If Winston Churchill wants to keep on forging ahead at 81, that's his business, but if I want to hang up my hoe a lot sooner, that's my business, and the last thing I want is some Washington official out shaking the bushes to find me a job. I don't think he could do it, but there's always the possibility he might.

The right to retire when you feel like it and not have somebody hunting up a job for you is one of the fundamental rights of free enterprise, which gives a man not only the right to be energetic but also to sit down and watch other people being energetic.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FAMOUS TEXANS' RECIPES

"Prince of Merchandising" Likes Beef on Global Scale

Stanley Marcus

The international aura which surrounds Neiman-Marcus is a personal triumph for Stanley Marcus, the fashion store's chief executive and bearer of the world-acknowledged title "prince of merchandising."

One of the first merchants to recognize the effect of easier, faster transportation on commerce, he contracted to bring the world to his customers, rather than waiting for his customers to shop the world markets.

This could well have been the reasoning behind the annual Neiman-Marcus Exposition which climaxes International Week in the store. Held traditionally on Labor Day, the Exposition is, for thousands of N-M fashion converts, the transition between summer and fall. It is, in the true meaning of the word, a setting forth in detail of styles for the coming season.

Now in its 18th year, the event acclaims leading designers of the year from both continents.

Stanley Marcus is international also in his attitude toward food.

He has a taste for authenticity whether he is entertaining at home or hosting in the elegant Zodiac Room on the sixth floor of the Dallas store.

His contribution to the Texas Beef Council's collection of recipes from famous Texans, now being compiled into a cookbook, is ARROZ CON CARNE. It yields eight servings, and illustrates the rare versatility of ground beef, Spanish-styled.

2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped celery
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons olive oil or butter
2 pounds top round steak, coarsely ground
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups beef stock
1/2 cup white raisins
1 cup sliced pimiento olives

Saute onion, celery, parsley and garlic in olive oil until golden color. Add beef; brown. Add salt, pepper and flour; blend well. Add beef stock and raisins. Cover; simmer one hour.

Just before serving add olives. Serve with large mound of fluffy white rice and a tossed green salad.

BUILDING MATERIALS AND SERVICES

1. We would like to show you some of the things that make the new 1956 Ford one of America's finest cars—despite the fact it is one of America's lowest-priced cars. Let's start with these long, low lines. Looks like it hates to stand still, doesn't it?

Let's take
the NEW '56 FORD!

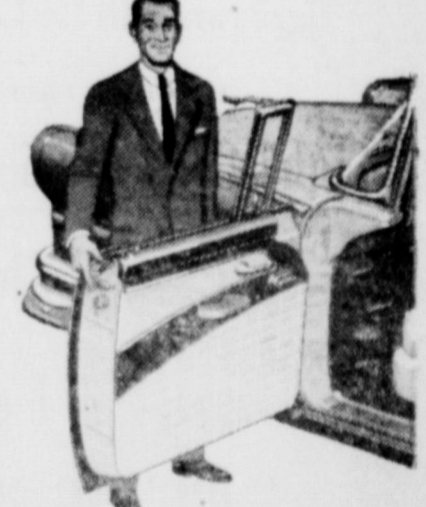

It's the fine car at half the fine car price!

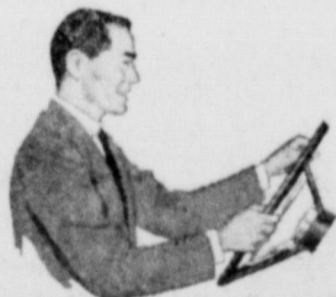

3. Here's what you ride on. This frame has fine cross-members including a K-bar member up front. It can take it! And Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really blots out bumps.

4. Here's the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8 and we assure you, it will give you new driving enjoyment. It's available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models... the 176-h.p. Y-8 in Fordomatic Mainline and Customline models... the 137-h.p. Six in all models.

7. Here's Ford's new Lifeguard door latch. A double-grip locking engagement reduces the chance of doors springing open under impact. Chances of serious injury in accidents are less when passengers remain in the car.

5. Note the deep-center design of this new Lifeguard steering wheel. The wheel rim is over three inches above the post to help cushion the driver in case of an accident.

6. This Lifeguard cushioning for instrument panel and sun visors is optional. It gives you extra protection against serious injuries when thrown forward in an accident. You may also have optional seat belts to help keep occupants securely in their seats.

Well, that covers the important points. But there's a lot more. So we'd like to invite you to come in and see the new '56 Ford for yourself. Then you'll see the colorful new exteriors and interiors, the quality workmanship that is evident everywhere. Then you'll learn the full story. You'll know that Ford is the fine car at half the fine car price.

The Munday P-TA met in a called meeting Friday night, September 23, to determine whether they would continue having a P-TA. A number of parents were present to show that they were interested and voted to continue with P-TA.

LATIN ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH OPENS RESTAURANT

Specializing in their particular craft, the ladies of the Missionary Society of the Latin Assembly of God Church in Munday have opened a restaurant for the winter months on Munday's main street in what was at one time Roy's Lunch cafe.

The Rev. Antonio Enriquez announces that already there are signs of real progress, and there is a steady stream of customers, especially on Saturdays and Sundays.

Mrs. Enriquez, the pastor's wife, is president of the Society, and has a very capable group of ladies in the church who are providing the tempting Mexican dishes that are a delight to many English-speaking people also. She said that they can now supply orders of Enchilladas, Tacos, Tamales and other Mexican foods to take out.

The quarters are temporary, said Rev. Enriquez, as they are planning to locate in a better place, but there will be tables outside over the week ends to supply the customers who wish to stay and eat. English-speaking friends who wish to order these Mexican dishes, may do so.

Mrs. Joe Sahadi and children returned home last Tuesday from Austin, where they had been making their home for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beauchamp and daughter of Abilene visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hardy, over the week end.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank each one who sent flowers, cards and offered kind words of sympathy during the dark hours when we lost our dear mother. May God bless each one who had a part in making our burden lighter.
