INTEREST IN REVIVAL GROWS DAILY

Community Chest Drive Successful In C of C Report

The regular semi-monthly luncheon of the Munday Chamber of Commerce was held Thursday noon at the Munday hotel with some twenty members and guests present. Included among the visitors were the Rev. Bryan H. Keathley of Graham, who is conducting services here this week, and Victor Harrison of Wimsboro, Texas, who is in charge of the song services and young people's work, both of whom favored the body with brief and enthusiastic talks in praise of chamber of commerce work.

Dr. E. M. Ammons reported that satisfactory progress had been made by the committee appointed to raise funds for the community chest, and he further stated that the committee authorized to administer the community chest funds had adopted a rule of asking those seeking help to do work in remuneration for the assistance where they were able to work, and this plan met with the hearty approval of those present and contributing to the fund.

J. C. Campbell reported for the committee named to confer with the school board with reference to retaining the vocational agricultural work in the Munday schools, and he reported that the board felt that it would be forced to discontinue the work for the ensuing year on account of the lack of funds, however, he stated that the school board had not taken any definite action on the matter.

In the absence of R. D. Kawi, secretary, that place was cared for by Dr. Ammons, while R. B. Day, president of the organization, served as chairman.

Rhineland School Closes Successful Year With Program

The annual graduation exercises were held in the school auditorium last Friday evening, May the twentieth, at eight o'clock before an appropriate audience. The building was too small to accommodate the large number of people who came to witness the exercises.

Decorations were carried out with the class colors, green and white, prevailing throughout the stage. The trellis, which was interwoven with fern and white flowers, marked the appearance of the stage to be more artistic than ever in history.

The following was the program: Salutatory—Leonard Kuehler. Piano Solo—Georgene Klaus. Class Colors—Charles Koenig. Class History—Leonard Kuehler. Class History—Vincent Albus. Class Prophecy—Raymond Wilde. Vocal Duet—Frances Diersing and Genevieve Albus. They were accompanied by Prof. John J. Hoffman at the piano.

Lectures—Rev. I. J. Schiesel of Wichita Falls. Scholarship awards—Prof. John J. Hoffman.

Presentation of Diplomas—Prof. John J. Hoffman. Valedictory—Frances Diersing.

A number of short sketches concluded the evening program. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Rhineland junior and senior bands.

Diplomas were issued to Messrs. Raymond Wilde, Vincent Albus, Leonard Kuehler, and Charles Koenig and Misses Veronyca Schumacher and Frances Diersing.

This year has been a banner year in our school. We have won enviable record in scholastic attainment. The seventh grade, though competing with schools with much better teaching facilities, won first place in the county-wide examinations. This grade is composed of fourteen boys and girls. We are proud of this achievement, because it puts a stamp of efficiency on the quality of work done in our school and upon the ability of our faculty.

Five pupils earned reading certificates. These certificates are issued by the State Department of Education for reading and reporting on a specified number of prescribed books. These certificates were merited by: Lillian and Joseph Herring, Rita Hamer, Sylvester Diersing, and Robert Schumacher.

In order to reward excellent scholarship and serve as incentives, prizes (Continued on back page.)

Blankenship Blanks Munday Hopefuls In Sunday's Game

"Salty" Blankenship, veteran Gore hurler, found the weak spots of the Munday lads in the game at Gore Sunday afternoon and sent the boys back home sorrowless, while the Gore aggregation was pounding away at the offerings of Stoney Rayburn, Abbott and McGraw, however, with the exception of two batters, in which the Gore batsmen took heavy swings at the ball and loose fobbing on the part of Munday, contributed several errors to Gore, the game was an excellent exhibition, and the home boys are not in the least discouraged over their prospects at making a real bid for leadership.

Rochester clinched the leadership just a little tighter when they defeated the Sunset lads at Sunset Sunday afternoon. But the leaders will admit that they encountered some tough sledding in bringing the Sunset outfit under subjugation, in fact, it was Sunset's game until the seventh inning, when a drive down the third base line, which looked very much like a foul ball, but which was declared otherwise by the umpire, gave the visitors a break which somewhat disrupted the morale of the Sunset line-up, and from then on out they mastered the situation, but the superb pitching of Chester Smith for Sunset should have given him the better of the argument. The final score was 3-6 in Rochester's favor.

Page Mr. Ripley On Result Game Rhineland Sunday

A game that might interest Mr. Ripley for his "believe it or not" column was that played Sunday afternoon between Rhineland and Bomarton at Rhineland, for at the beginning of the last half of the ninth inning the Bomarton lads had a comfortable lead of fourteen (14) runs, believe it or not, and were confident that they had won a most decisive victory. But, believe it or not, the Rhinelanders came back with a vengeance in this final frame and not only balanced the score column, but went the visitors one better and took from them the honors of the game by one score.

Following is the box score for the game:

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

TOL has never disturbed public worship by shouting amen at statements made by the minister from the pulpit, but Sunday evening when we heard the masterful address by the Rev. Bryan H. Keathley, "The Voice From the Grandstand" we felt an urge to do so.

If there was ever a time in the history of the country that people generally needed a word of encouragement that time is now. Business men are depressed by obligations that they cannot meet. Farmers are planting with as little hope for receiving a fair compensation for the labor as ever before. People generally are being put to the acid test, and under the stress, we could all at least put each other on the back and express our confidence in and appreciation of one another. That would help a lot. But, somehow, there seems to be a peculiar quirk in the make-up of mankind. When one of our fellowmen becomes entangled in the meshes of business failure we are inclined to gossip about his poor judgment and business errors.

It is evident that misery likes company, for we frequently hear men who have only a one-jump lead on the bounds of bankruptcy making remarks about a fellow business man who is approaching the chasm of financial ruin, and these reports become generally circulated to the detriment of the man who is struggling for existence.

So, instead of talking about the depressed condition, let's get in and try to raise the morale of the fellow who's down, which includes a vast majority of us all, and we'll be surprised at results.

And listen, if you haven't heard this Graham pastor, don't fail to do so before the week-end. We'll guarantee that he will not do you any harm, even if he does you no good.

Mr. and Mrs. Avis Maples and little daughter arrived the latter part of last week from Streetman, Texas, where Avis has been associated with the public schools as principal, and they will remain in Munday during the vacation period. Avis has been re-elected to his position and plans to return to Streetman in September.

MRS. E. J. CROWNOVER CELEBRATES 90TH BIRTHDAY

A family reunion was held for Mrs. E. J. Crowover Saturday, May 7th, celebrating her 90th birthday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Russell, with whom she makes her home.

The occasion was a very happy one for her, as she had with her all her children and a number of grand-children and great-grandchildren. She has thirty-five grand children, of which 18 were present, and 40 great-grandchildren, twenty-one being present. Her children present were Messrs. and Mrs. W. R. Crowover, Abilene; C. C. Crowover, El Paso; G. L. Crowover, Loraine; Lee Crowover, Roscoe; F. M. Crowover, Rising Star; G. W. Russell, Munday, Texas. Mrs. D. B. Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Parks and family were also present.

There were about 80 present in all and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves immensely, especially at the noon hour when a most beautiful feast was spread for all and plenty of good eats and good tea were served. Especially did the kiddies enjoy the dinner, as it was served picnic style out on the Bermuda grass. We know this was a happy day for Grandmother and we hope she may live to see several more birthdays.

Blas Kulawik, One of Our Pioneers, Called By Death

Blas Kulawik, 77, pioneer citizen of Knox county, died at his home at Rhineland on Saturday afternoon and funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon at St. Joseph's Catholic church at Rhineland by the Rev. Father P. J. Schiesel of Wichita Falls, who is serving the church as pastor in the absence of the Rev. Father P. Boniface. Following the church services the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery.

Coming to Knox county and settling in the Rhineland community in 1899, Mr. Kulawik can truly be classed as one of the pioneer citizens of the county, and as a citizen he can be classed as among the best citizens of the county. By hard work, frugal living and good management, he accumulated a goodly amount of wealth and he was ever ready to assist in any character of worthy undertaking. As a communicant in the Catholic church he was ever faithful to the vows of his church, and the tribute that was paid to his life by the Rev. Father Schiesel was one that any man should be pleased to merit when he comes to the end of life's journey.

Mr. Kulawik was born January 21, 1855, at Biskupitz, Upper Silesia, Germany, and came to America in 1881, first taking up his residence at Panna Maria, Karnes county. Later he moved to San Antonio, where for six years he was a member of the police force. From San Antonio he moved to Yorktown, Texas, and from that place to Rhineland in 1899.

Mr. Kulawik was one of those kindly characters with whom it is always a pleasure to converse. Indeed he was an optimist, and despite the fact that during his declining years he was in physical pain much of the time, he was always in a jovial mood and told numerous practical jokes on himself and his physical infirmities.

He is survived by the following children, Judge Stanley Kulawik of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Mat Kreitz of Cuero, Texas; Mrs. Agnes Blake of Rhineland; Mrs. Leo Kubecka of Rhineland. He is also survived by eleven grandchildren.

While Mr. Kulawik has been in failing health for the past three years, his condition did not become critical until on Monday before his death on Saturday, when he was stricken ill and gradually grew weaker until the end came.

To the children we extend our sincere sympathy, and are joined by citizens from all over this section who know and respected the good father who has gone to his final reward.

Mr. Kulawik was married on August 18, 1855 in St. Michael's church at San Antonio, to Miss Anna Dobrowski, who died at the family home at Rhineland on December 17, 1925.

Tax Valuations of County Reduced Almost Million

The commissioners court of Knox county was in session first of the week in its capacity as equalization board for the county, and we are informed by Commissioner D. C. Osborne that the property values of the county will be reduced approximately a million dollars at this meeting, and the reduction in valuation, which was divided as nearly as possible on an equitable basis, will automatically bring about a reduction of approximately $200,000 per year in the salaries of the members of the commissioner's court, according to Judge Osborne's statement.

The total assessed valuation of property in the county for the year 1931 was $7,204,486, as compared with a total of $6,379,180 for the year 1932, or a reduction in tax valuations in the county of $825,306.00.

All Day Singing And Big Dinner At Union Chapel

Plans are under way for an all-day singing at Union Chapel, in the Routen community Sunday, and a large attendance is expected. Dinner will be served on the ground and everybody is cordially invited to attend. Singers from all over this section are expected to attend and the day promises to be a most enjoyable event.

Graham Pastor Holds Interest and Attendance

The revival in progress this week at the Methodist church, under Presbyterian and Methodist auspices is making great headway. All denominations and those of no denomination are attending and receiving blessings.

Rev. Bryan Keathley, pastor First Presbyterian church at Graham occupies the pulpit, and Mr. Victor Harrison of Wimsboro is directing the singing and young people's work. Mr. Keathley has won all those who have been hearing him. Every sermon that he preaches is couched with love, sympathy and understanding. He uses no professionalism, His simplicity and naturalness touches the hearts and wins the confidence of those who hear him. His sermons are full of the gospel of the practical and the applicable. It is made plain that no man can afford to live without Christ in his life. From the time Mr. Keathley enters the pulpit to the finish, he holds his congregation within his grip and stirs their hearts and minds. To hear him once, it cannot be doubted that he is a direct messenger of the Lord.

Everyone is praising the godly work of Mr. Keathley and are giving testimonial to the blessings already received. At the present writing, no request for accessions has been made, but there can be no doubt about the great life and works of this man bearing fruits for the kingdom of the Lord, and the Christian people of the community are praying with faith and expectancy, feeling that a glorious climax is inevitable.

The great following of Victor Harrison won in his work here last summer is rallying in his support. The young people and children of the community will follow "Vic" wherever he leads. The leadership and the singing of Mr. Harrison is as acceptable, or even more than it was last summer.

Mrs. Louise Ingram, our own local musician, is at the piano and is rendering the customary efficient service. The beautiful life and character of Mrs. Ingram is a benediction, not to mention the marvelous way in which she meets every demand as an evangelistic musician.

The Rev. Mr. Crowe of the Methodist, and Mr. Tucker of the Presbyterian church are great factors in the unusual success of the meeting. The lives of these two young ministers has proven a blessing to Munday, and their presence, prayers and labors in the meeting is rendering an inestimable service. Brother Albertson, the Baptist pastor and his people are rallying to the support of the meeting in a most commendable way.

The city of Munday is indeed fortunate in having such a fine Christian leader as Brother Albertson.

Daily schedule for the revival is as follows:

Children's services—9:00 A. M.
Preaching services—11 A. M.
Young People's services—7:15 P. M.
Song Service—8:15 P. M.
Preaching Service—8:45 P. M.

The revival meeting will close next Sunday night. It is hoped that none in our community meeting will miss the opportunity and blessings in store for all who attend these services. All are welcome and urged to attend.

He plans to begin his duties with the Big Spring church on about June 1. It is hoped that a good crowd will be present to hear Rev. Smith's closing message.—Ford County News.

The Rev. Smith is well known over this section, and has a large host of friends who will be pleased to note his continued progress in his chosen work. The Rev. Smith is a brother to Mrs. E. H. Stodghill and J. Arthur Smith of this city.

Raymond Thomason, a former citizen of Munday, now engaged in the feed business at Crowell, was here the latter part of last week shaking hands with his many friends.

SEMI-POLITICAL

BENJAMIN POST: This has been clean-up week in the village and in keeping with the movement we did our spring cleaning early this year. We swept the front and rear office at the same time and one or two persons coming in after the rejuvenation said they thought they were in the postoffice and started to leave.

For the land's sake, who sweeps the postoffice? Does the Benjamin postoffice rate a janitor on the Federal pay roll? If not, is the Benjamin postmaster a postmistress? We are not mystified by the certainty that postoffices as a rule are swept oftener than printing offices. What we are worrying over is the confession of the Post brother that his Democratic workshop compares unfavorably with a Republican establishment. Considering the litter left in forty-eight States, from coast to coast, from lakes to gulf, by the Washington administration, it is amazing that any part of the Hoover set-up would be so tidy as to take the shine off a Democratic institution. The news from Benjamin is encouraging, though. Maybe the general clean-up, so long awaited, so fervently wished for, will have its start at Benjamin. It has to start somewhere, if ever, and certainly there are few signs of its beginning at the national capital. It is a rule in some printing offices that the printers must hold their tobacco until they come to a cuspidor. That rule may obtain in some postoffices, particularly the Benjamin postoffice.

WORRY—THE DRIVER'S BANE

Mental lapses are a far more important cause of automobile accidents than is commonly believed. While the reports of accidents may give physical causes, such as reckless driving, wrong side of the road, cutting in, etc., those may only be symptoms of a disturbed mental state, asserts Dr. H. J. Stack of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, who says:

"Extreme hurry or worry causing intense preoccupation, fatigue, elation, or excitement, or slowed down reaction as a result of the indulgence in alcohol or other narcotics may be behind an accident. Many of these mental conditions are within our control". He suggests the following precautions as preventative:

1. Take a short rest or let someone else drive the car when you have been driving for a long period at night.
2. Be especially alert when hurrying to work so that you can keep your mind on your driving.
3. The best place for the confirmed back-seat driver is at home.
4. Don't day dream driving a car or crossing the street.
5. Control your temper. If the traffic officer calls you down, probably you deserve it.
6. If you have a superiority complex, forget it when you get behind the steering wheel.
7. Don't become a speed maniac. This mental disorder is serious and contagious. A serious accident seems to be the only cure for its victims.

Haskell Free Press: Miss Katherine Rike has been selected as sponsor for Haskell to attend the Cowboy Reunion at Stamford on July 4-5-6. Elaborate plans are being made for the entertainment of the sponsors who will represent the various cities and towns during the big Reunion.

John Lee Smith of Throckmorton was elected Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Texas at the close of the meeting at Abilene last week, and Austin was selected as the next meeting place.

Judge Smith is well known in Haskell and has many friends here who will be glad to learn of the honor thus conferred.

Mrs. J. H. Ellis, aged pioneer woman of Rule died at her home in Rule Monday and funeral services were conducted by Rev. Perry King, pastor of the first Baptist church. The deceased had been a resident of Rule for the past 26 years.

Benjamin Post: That Lake Benjamin is proving an attractive place for fishermen is shown by the fact that during the first part of this month there have already been 86 season passes issued and gate receipts of $152.50 have been collected. Gate receipts to the amount of $150 had been collected up to the same date last year but the entrance fee for 1932 has been changed from 50 cents per person to 50 cents per car of five, which makes the attendance greater by far than in 1931.

Dickens County Times: Dr. J. H. Grace, one of the pioneer physicians of West Texas, died at his home at 521 North Carroll Avenue at 8:15 Monday evening. He had been ill about ten days suffering from a heart ailment. Funeral services were held at the residence at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Seymour Banner: A. Ferrier was found dead Thursday afternoon of last week, presumably as the result of a tropical condition condition from which he had been suffering. He suffered much inconvenience and had not been able to sleep the night before, but was not confined to his bed and had gone out about the barn just before he was found dead.

Otis Thomas is the new proprietor of the Magnolia Filling Station, located just north of the Seymour hotel. He has taken over the company from Warren & Nuckles on a commission basis.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 4

AUCTION BIDDING:
The dealer, with the following hand:
Hearts—A, 7
Clubs—A, 9, 4, 2
Diamonds—A, Q, J, 8
Spades—A, K, 4
bid one no trump. Second hand passed and the dealer's partner bid two hearts. Fourth hand passed and the dealer bid three hearts. When his partner bid three hearts, the dealer failed to realize that, if his partner had a justifiable three heart bid, they had a sure game in hearts and bid three no trump, although there was no sure game in no trump. The 100 Aces were too much for his judgment and, as a result, he went down three tricks undoubled, a net loss of 50 points on a hand that he would have scored game at hearts.

His partner's hand was as follows:
Hearts—Q, J, 10, 9, 6, 4
Clubs—Q, 6, 3
Diamonds—10, 9, 7
Spades—6

Don't allow 100 Aces to impair your judgment.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

The dealer should bid two no trump, and his partner four hearts.
The same player made a similar error on the following hand:
Hearts—A, Q, 10
Clubs—none
Diamonds—A, Q, 10, 9, 6
Spades—A, Q, 10, 4, 2
bid one no trump. Second hand passed and the dealer's partner bid two hearts. Fourth hand passed and the dealer bid three hearts. When his partner bid three hearts, the dealer failed to realize that, if his partner had a justifiable three heart bid, they had a sure game in hearts and bid three no trump, although there was no sure game in no trump. The 100 Aces were too much for his judgment and, as a result, he went down three tricks undoubled, a net loss of 50 points on a hand that he would have scored game at hearts.

His partner's hand was as follows:
Hearts—Q, J, 10, 9, 6, 4
Clubs—Q, 6, 3
Diamonds—10, 9, 7
Spades—6

Don't allow 100 Aces to impair your judgment.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Pass, pass, one spade, pass. Five clubs and all should pass. An original five clubs with the above hand is had because partner may try for a slam. Pass in the first instance, but then bid the full strength of your hand on the second round.

As a contrast to his bid bidding, the player whose bids have just been criticized played the following hand very cleverly:

Hearts—K, Q, 7, 6
Clubs—10, 4, 2
Diamonds—K, 9, 3
Spades—A, 6, 4

Hearts—8, 2
Clubs—J, 8, 3
Diamonds—Q, J, 10, 7, 2
Spades—K, Q, 10

Z, the player in question, was playing the hand at three no trump. A opened the five of clubs. Z won the trick with the king and led four rounds of hearts, winning the last heart in Y's hand. B discarded two diamonds on the last two rounds of hearts. Z was now in a position where he could make two odd, but figured that if he could jump B to make another discard, he might possibly make three odd by making three diamonds or two spades. As with six, therefore, he led Y's ten of clubs, forcing A to win the trick,

AUCTION BIDDING:
His partner dealt and passed, second hand passed and he bid one spade. When his partner overbid with two clubs, he correctly bid two diamonds. His partner bid three clubs and he bid three diamonds. This bid is doubtful but, when his partner bid four clubs, he should certainly have passed. He never stopped to realize that such bidding by his partner indicated a most unusual hand; one of the freak type, and that his high cards in three suits would be of great help to his partner and that his partner's clubs would be of little value to his own hand, if he should obtain the bid at diamonds or spades. In spite of all these cogent reasons, however, he bid four diamonds and all passed. His partner's hand was as follows:
Hearts—8
Clubs—A, Q, J, 10, 9, 7, 5, 4, 2
Diamonds—8, 7
Spades—3

At clubs, they could have made five odd, losing only one club and one diamond trick, while at diamonds they went down two tricks. It is a fine example of what not to do with a big hand. Play for the game, first, last and all the time, whether the hand is played by yourself or your partner. Always be willing to concede the bid to your partner when the bidding indicates that he has a freak hand. In the hand just considered, the dealer could have saved a lot of trouble by making an original bid of five clubs. It is a perfect example of the pre-emptive or shut-out bid. If the bid fails, it will certainly save game, so that in either event it is a winner.

CONTRACT BIDDING:
Pass, pass, one spade, pass. Five clubs and all should pass. An original five clubs with the above hand is had because partner may try for a slam. Pass in the first instance, but then bid the full strength of your hand on the second round.

Hearts—K, Q, 7, 6
Clubs—10, 4, 2
Diamonds—K, 9, 3
Spades—A, 6, 4

Hearts—8, 2
Clubs—J, 8, 3
Diamonds—Q, J, 10, 7, 2
Spades—K, Q, 10

who thereupon led two more rounds of clubs. B was now forced to make another discard. He could have discarded either a spade or diamond; the former, Z would discard a diamond and make two spade tricks. If the latter, Z would discard a spade and make three diamond tricks. It is a perfect example of the "suction" play.

Study the play of this hand carefully for it was cleverly thought out. It is very unusual to win a game by leading your opponent's suit.

GAITHER-MARTIN.
William Gaither and Miss Irene Martin motored to Walters, Oklahoma, last Saturday, where they were united in marriage by the Rev. E. F. Graham, pastor of the Methodist church in that city. They were accompanied to Walters by the groom's brother, James Gaither, and Miss Rosalyn Houser.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gaither of this place, and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Martin of Munday, and both were reared in this community, and are among our most excellent young people, and we join their many friends in wishing for them a long and happy married life.

"HONORS FIRST BIRTHDAY"
Little Joe France Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayzard Harrison, celebrated his first birthday Wednesday evening, May 25th in the home of Mrs. J. E. L. Harrison.

The party was an enjoyable affair, even when little Joe France was in the center of the table on his hands and knees trying to blow his first and only candle. His right eyelash was curled up for some reason, but why should he fret when everyone else was laughing.

After games were played ice cream and cake was served to the following: Idolene Harrison, Maxine Harrison, Marjorie Spann, Ernestene Harrison, Junior Parks, Charles Matheny Harrison, Stevens Harrison, Tryphene Wren, Bud Harrison, Kenneth Harrison, Mary Kathryn Parks, and Mrs. J. E. L. Harrison, Terry Harrison, Haggard Harrison and Guy Parks.

VETERAN PUBLISHER HERE
D. M. Norwood, pioneer newspaper publisher of West Texas, was a Munday visitor Saturday, and while Mr. Norwood has been in this section of West Texas for almost half a century, this was his first visit to Munday, and he expressed surprise at the size and attractiveness of the city.

Mr. Norwood established the first newspaper published at Seymour—The Cemetery—in 1887, and in later years was associated with G. C. Harrison in the publication of the Baylor County Banner, and now, at 75, he is actively engaged in the game as advertising manager of that publication, and from the manner in which the Banner advertising is holding up through these times of depression, he is doing a mighty good job of it yet.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Sunday morning we had another good crowd, if not the largest it was one of the largest, and there were a number of visitors with us for both morning and night services.

Some of these were from Weir and we were very glad to have them all, local and out of town visitors.

We want them to come and be with us again, and you, too, are invited to come and take part in our study of God's Word.

We now have Ladies Bible class at the church Thursday afternoons at 4. The mid-week Bible study is growing and is interesting. I think you will like it too if you wish to study the life of Christ as recorded by Matthew. It begins at 8 p. m.

SPECTACLES AND SKIN CANCER
By Dr. William J. Scholes
In an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. John J. Morton of New Haven, Conn., calls attention to the menace of poorly fitting spectacles on elderly people. He cites a number of cases in which skin cancer has occurred where the frame of the spectacles produced irritation of the skin.

The bridge of the nose, the sides of it, the temples and behind the ears are the places where the spectacles are likely to irritate. These are some of the places where skin cancer often occurs in elderly people.

The specific cause of cancer, if there is such a thing, is not known. So we do not know what to avoid in this respect in order to prevent cancer. But it is generally accepted that certain things favor the occurrence of cancer. These are old age and irritation of tissues.

Can Be Avoided
Irritation of tissues is something that can frequently be avoided. And the avoidance of anything that may have some part in the causation of cancer is worth while.

Here is one case in which irritation of the skin in the elderly could and should be avoided. Dr. Morton points out the necessity of reporting to the oculist any tendency of the spectacle frame to cause irritation because of imperfect adjustment.

Should Receive Attention
When spots, pimple-like formations, or sores have already occurred, they should receive prompt attention. Even though these are cancerous they can often be cured if promptly and properly treated. Of course, the cause of the irritation must also be removed.

While skin cancer of the face is not one of the most common human ailments, every possible effort should be made to avoid it!

Rev. P. D. O'Brien Accepts Pastorate At Colorado City

Colorado, May 21—Rev. P. D. (Dick) O'Brien, pastor of the first Baptist church of Floydada, for the past four years, has accepted the call of the First Baptist church here to become its pastor June 1. O'Brien was here this week conferring with church leaders.

Rev. Mr. O'Brien is a graduate of Simmons university, of Abilene and the Southwest Seminary of Fort Worth.

The Colorado church has been pastorless for some 660 days, following the resignation of Rev. Oren C. Reil, former pastor.

Valedictory Address Eleanor Jungman

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:
It is with no little pleasure that I take advantage of this opportunity to come before you as valedictorian of the class of 1932. In one sense I feel joy at the thought of beginning my journey along the road of life—Yet, there is a strange feeling of sadness and emptiness when I think of leaving Munday High School forever. In behalf of the Senior class of 1932 I wish to express my sincere appreciation to our parents, our teachers, members of the school board, and to everyone who in anyway has helped to make it possible for us to complete this one great milestone in our lives. As a last farewell to these, I shall speak to you for a few minutes on "The Duties of American Citizens."

Each of us, with all due modesty, may ask, "How can my individual, personal attitude and conduct possibly effect the destiny of this great country of ours? What have I to do, personally, with the ultimate fate of the nation?"

The truth is that we, individually and personally, have everything to do with it! The success of our American democracy does not depend primarily on presidents or senators, judges or ambassadors—it depends fundamentally on you and me, on each and everyone of us as individual members of the government.

Yesterday, our nation was recognized by other nations of the world as the one having the best government and the most advanced civilization, but today, these nations, including America herself, are wondering whether or not America will retain her great government and her high standard of civilization. Are we going to remain idle and let this great nation of ours, which has emerged from the ignorance and brutality of barbaric ages to become the most powerful nation in the world, crumble and fall before our very eyes? The answer of course must be no! It is our duty as citizens of America to protect her against this threatening disaster.

In this representative democracy of ours, all power and all authority comes from the people. The people themselves are sovereign and they rule themselves through the democracy established by our forefathers under the constitution. It is necessary, in such a form of government, that laws be established for the control and guidance of all the people. Thus it is that in America the demands and wishes of the people are expressed in the form of laws.

It is not clear that such a form of government cannot exist without the sturdy support of every individual? The whole theory of the American government is expressed in the statement made by Lincoln in his Gettysburg address that it is a government "of the people, by the people, and for the people." Our presidents, our courts, our senators and representatives can do nothing for the nation if we, for selfish ends use our political powers to prevent the enactment of laws which would be beneficial to the nation as a whole. Surely if we, the people, disregard the laws made by our own authority, if we do not respect our own sovereignty, then we cannot expect to continue long as a self governing people!

The statement that the civilization of America is breaking down is proved by the facts that the American people are not morally as they should be; that man's attitude toward his fellow men is not as it should be, and that the standard of living of the entire nation is being greatly lowered.

Many factors of modern life have influenced and brought about these conditions. Today, in numerous homes, the family never attends devotional services; there is no spiritual life in the home;—the parents neglect this vital part of life in the training of their children. If this condition exists, how can these people expect their children to be worthwhile citizens—men and women who will be the governing agents of the nation? The home life in America is not as it should be and no nation is greater than its home life!

Because of these conditions, already the standard of living has been lowered. A great crime wave is now traveling the length and breadth of America. The front pages of our newspapers are scarcely more than sheets of paper upon which have been enumerated the crimes of the day. One is no longer safe when he leaves his home—either in the day or at night. What is the answer to this problem? Degradation of moral standards and lack of enforcement of the laws of America!

This age is an age of standardization and mechanization. The people have become so engrossed in business and money that they scarcely realize that there are human souls about them. Money is the dominating element in the lives of American people today. They crave money, but when they get it, what do they have? Worldly goods, yes, but the poorer people are the ones who really enjoy life the most. Wealthy people are extremely bored people, and they miss the real sweetness and beauty in life. America has gone through several "crises", but mechanization and standardization must not catch her napping. She is quite capable to emerge from the dangers that they threaten, but each individual citizen must do his part in combating them.

In a few short years, we, the members of this graduating class will be men and women, expected to take our part in the government and life of the American nation. We will be faced with the responsibility of being worthwhile American citizens. Our high school education has already trained us in many ways for this great responsibility, and as we leave high school, let us, with true patriotism and in the true American spirit, respect our sovereignty, our principles, and the power that is ours!

Cooler... Cleaner... More Economical

Electric Cookery means a cool, happy kitchen, because electric heat is "controlled." It is applied only to the bottom of the utensils, exactly as required. None is wasted to make your kitchen unbearably hot and disagreeable.

Your kitchen will be cleaner, too, for electricity is clean as sunshine. There's no soot, smoke or grease to soil walls and curtains or begrime pots and pans. Think of all the work you can eliminate by this one feature alone!

And the economy of Electric Cookery will gladden your heart and lower your budget! Electrically-cooked foods retain full bulk weight... meats do not shrink... vegetables do not boil away... and, due to a superior cooking principle, more expensive cuts of meat can be used with gratifying success. The Electric Range cooks foods with all the precious vitamins, essential minerals and delicious food-flavors sealed-in, too!

We will be delighted to demonstrate this modern automatic cook, and explain why it has been approved and endorsed throughout West Texas. Profit by Electric Cookery's superiorities NOW!

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric service, to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.

Cooing One Rooster

The practice of cooing one male bird in a pen of say, twenty fowls, and letting the alternate bird run with the flock day and day about, is better, perhaps than allowing the two birds to run together. It has been found, however, that the cooing of the male in the pen excites it so much that instead of roosting and gaining strength, the opposite effect is noted. The "resting" bird should be cooped out of sight of the pen. It will feed better.

Helps Avoid Worms

One authority has stated that worms have very little chance of obtaining a foothold in chickens that have a gizzard well filled with suitable grit. This authority claims that all eggs and cysts of the worms are ground and damaged so much by a gizzard full of grinding material that no worm infestation results. At any rate, it wouldn't hurt to see that the young growing stock is given plenty of coarse, insoluble grit and pure, fresh water.

BACK-TO-FARM PLAN TO AID UNEMPLOYED IS GAINING SUPPORT

McDonald Urges Federal Aid In Re-establishing Unemployed On Vacated Farms

AUSTIN, Texas, May 26.—A concentrated and unified back-to-the-farm movement, guided and aided by the federal government, is essential in the alleviation of the current widespread unemployment in the United States, J. E. McDonald, Commissioner of Agriculture, declared today in a speech before the steadily increasing unemployment being given the plan by both laymen and industrialists.

That the Commissioner McDonald proposed this plan as a sound and permanent manner in which to relieve unemployment and since that time many methods to put it into effect have been suggested. The Commissioner said his correspondence indicated many financiers are giving serious thought to it.

"It is conservatively estimated that there are between seven and nine million unemployed in the United States," he said. "Many of these are permanently, not just temporarily, displaced from their jobs in industrial and commercial centers because of the installation of modern labor-saving machinery. Many of these unemployed are of our finest type of citizenship, who have contributed to the support of our government, schools and all constructive endeavors.

"The unemployed, confronted with the problem of finding some means of livelihood, must turn to one of two places—the government side, as symbolized by the breadline, or be established on a farm the prime source of our wealth. If they turn to the farm it must not be for the purpose of making a quick fortune but to earn a living."

"Life in industrial and commercial centers has given to many of the families now unemployed advantages of education and society and when re-established on farms they will become real assets to our rural communities and will contribute to the upbuilding of our rural life, which is so essential to the welfare of our nation."

Commissioner McDonald pointed out that many plans for effecting a nationwide back-to-the-farm movement have been suggested. Some have proposed that it be sponsored by private organizations and private capital; others that the state governments finance the project and others that the federal government take responsibility for it. T. M. Dees of Midlothian, a candidate for the Legislature from Ellis county, who has been identified with many constructive programs, proposes state sponsorship of the movement in his platform.

"The very fact that the federal government has appropriated two billion dollars to refinance private concerns is evidence that the individuals do not have funds to finance this project," he said. "The several states neither have the money nor power to print currency. That leaves it to the federal government as possibly the only practical means of establishing finance for this project."

"Congress can appropriate a sum of money to be used as a revolving fund, which would be sufficient to finance a back-to-the-farm movement. As an illustration: After Congress had appropriated funds, unemployed man No. 1 would be furnished $3,000 to establish him on a farm. He would give 30 bonds of $100 denomination, payable over a period of 30 years at a nominal rate of interest. These bonds secured by the property, could then be placed with the Treasury and against them $3,000 in currency issued. The new issue of $3,000 could be used to finance No. 2 on the same plan.

"By that means the federal government could furnish funds to rehabilitate its own citizens, who, through taxation and through service in time of peace and war, sustain our government, which has loaned many millions of dollars to rehabilitate people in foreign countries.

"Such a program would give constructive and permanent employment with hope of substantial gain in the future to a large percentage of the country's seven or nine million unemployed.

"The prime object of re-established families should be to engage in diversified agriculture, the producing of abundant food and feed crops, the improvement of their homes and farms, the upbuilding of soil fertility, the beautification of farm homes and the further improvement of rural life.

"This is the psychological time for such a constructive program, for land is at reasonable prices, lumber is cheaper than it has been for many years, transportation facilities are without sufficient business and the laborer need employment.

"It is to be further noted that the federal land banks have already taken over thousands of farms and inevitably must take over thousands more. Such farms as these could be utilized in the national back-to-the-farm movement, for such utilization ultimately could prevent future losses to the federal land banks. Farm loan companies and all other forms of business that have been forced to take over farms likewise could profitably cooperate and find a market for their lands.

"Inasmuch as land and agriculture

"LONE EAGLES"

(An Editorial by Bruce Catton)
"The Little Boy Is Dead"
A little boy is dead. And because the little boy's father once gave us an hour of imperishable splendor, and because for us a fulfilled dream and a realized ideal, we opened our hearts to the youngster and made a place for him there. And every hour today is a little emptier than it was.

Lindy himself has known loneliness and darkness before. Once he was alone in an airplane far over the Atlantic, in the darkness of midnight, with nothing but a steady glow from an empty sea beneath him, and a few men have ever faced. Yet that was nothing compared to the loneliness and darkness that have come to him now. That lonely sickness, "Lone Eagle," was never more apt than today.

To say, "We are sorry," is empty and meaningless. There is a grief so deep that nothing any man can say will make it any easier, and that is the kind of grief that Lindy and Amelia are feeling now. We can feel for them and we can serve for them, but we cannot help them.

And yet, although what we feel is only a faint shadow of what they feel, we must express it. We believe, confidently but perhaps not altogether mistakenly, that there is a kind of power in human love, a power of sympathy and tenderness.

So we offer it, humbly, deeply, grieving, silently.

And we fall back, as all bereaved people have fallen back, since we begin, on simple faith. Faith, somehow, in power that we cannot now understand, the strange and fragile mosaic of human experience has a meaning; faith that there is to be, in a life that is better than this one, recompense for all suffering, healing for all wounds; faith that no life is ever really lost, that nothing fine and lovely and good is ever really wasted, that no agony of heart or loneliness of spirit ever goes unnoticed.

That is the faith that gets us through life. We lose sight of it very often, and once in a while we get the notion that we are so strong and so wise that we do not need it. But we learn otherwise; and we realize, as we are being forced to realize now, that we have neither strength nor wisdom of our own, and that we must go astray unless we rely on the old promises.

So we cling to Faith.

Genevieve Albus, a tenth grade student, was honorable mention with an average of 94.47.

Room II.—Hubert Hamer, a ninth grade student won with an average of 95.

Mary Bell Mills, a ninth grade student was honorable mention with an average of 93.

Room III.—Robert Schumacher, a seventh grade pupil, won with an average of 96.71.

Reinhard Kuebler, a seventh grade pupil was honorable mention with an average of 96.28.

Room IV.—Idell Montgomery, a second grade pupil won with an average of 95.75.

Johnnie Nell Brown, a second grade pupil was honorable mention with an average of 93.44.

Raymond Wilde, Clement Willie, Veronyia Schumacher, Genevieve Albus, Ben Wilde, Reinhard Kuebler, Delphine Wilde, Emil Kuebler, and Clara Jungman had a perfect attendance record for the year. They were neither absent or tardy.

Veronyia Schumacher, one of the graduates, was the first in our school to have a perfect attendance record for four years of high school. During these four years Veronyia was neither absent or tardy, an outstanding record very few can boast of.

The same teachers will be with us again next year.

During the summer Prof. John J. Hoffman will be associated with the University of Texas. Miss Mary de Aquirre will attend Texas Technological College in Lubbock, Texas. Miss Mary Ruddy will spend her vacation in Wichita Falls with her folks and Miss Leona Albus will take a trip to Canada.

Wednesday evening of last week is the source of our wealth, the benefits of such a movement would inure to all classes—primarily, of course, to our unemployed, who must be given constructive work before this country can again have prosperity."

POULTRY FACTS

DIVERS CULLINGS IMPROVES FLOCK

A Regular System May Be Used to Secure Layers.

Cull the poultry flock a little at a time, along through the season as the hens stop laying and have a better paying and less expensive flock.

This is the advice of W. F. Armstrong, poultry worker at the North Carolina state college. He says the plan is better than culling the entire flock at one time during late summer or fall and forgetting about it until next season.

"By culling at intervals of two or three weeks after spring egg production begins to drop, much feed is saved," says Mr. Armstrong. "This system is simple and does not require an expert. When out of laying, the hen shows a narrow measurement between the pubic bones and the lowest bone. The vent is small and yellow and the abdomen is hard. This is enough to look for in this plan, except that the unusually fat bird may be culled at any time.

Another advantage in culling as the hens quit laying is in the better price realized for the culled flocks for poultry are always lowest in late summer and fall. By selling the culled birds as they go out or having a better price and market is secured, says Mr. Armstrong.

Late in the summer or early fall, the regular culling system may be used to select next year's layers and brooders. Early culling hens are always the poorest layers.

Omit culling, he advises, when the flock is down to the number wanted for the next season. Do not confuse culling with selecting the breeding birds for next season. The pullets develop quickly and the quick-growing, energetic cockerels will always make the best breeding stock if the performance of their parent birds is known.

Feed Milk to Increase Size of Pullet Eggs

One of the problems connected with worms in poultry is building up health and vigor and condition after the worms have been removed by the proper drug. Prof. J. J. Halpin of the University of Wisconsin makes a recommendation in regard to the use of cod liver oil that appears sound and worth trying, to the extent of making 2 or 3 per cent of the mash cod liver oil. Professor Halpin says: "Some of our correspondents have had trouble with worms in their flocks; after they fed cod liver oil, they found the trouble from worms practically disappeared. I would recommend cod liver oil as a treatment for worms but I think cod liver oil will undoubtedly prove of benefit in any flock where resistance is lowered due to cold, worms, or anything of the sort. Naturally, the more practical thing to do is to give a good worm remedy, and then use cod liver oil to help build up the flock."

Hectic Days-Sleepless Nights

TOO MUCH work, too much mental strain, too much worry... then "NERVES". How they torture you, tire you, keep you awake nights!

"NERVES" make you irritable, restless; give you Headache, Indigestion... "NERVES" make you look and feel old... weaken resistance and pave the way for serious nervous or organic trouble.

J. M. Foster, a druggist, suffered tortures from Over-wrought Nerves. He had dozens of so called "Nerve Remedies" in his store. One by one he tried them without relief until... But let Mr. Foster tell his experience in his own words.

"I think Dr. Miles' Nerveine is the best nerve medicine made, and a better one cannot be made. Dr. Miles' Nerveine was the only medicine on the shelf or in the prescription case that put me on my feet." J. M. Foster, Druggist, Marysville, Ohio
