Odd Bits Salvaged

The first of this week's weather was such as to revive that old song, "Button Up Your Overcoat."

The norther that hit here between 4 and 5 p. m. Sunday was described as one of those old-timers, shifting the sands and lowering temperatures as it passed by. We had a reported low of 34 degrees Monday morning, and frost, too.

Naturally, we didn't arise early enough to see the frost. Our car was parked in the shelter of our garage, so it was up in the morning before we learned of the frost. But we have a report of frost from a very reliable source.

The source is none other than Postmaster Lee Haymes. He told us Monday that frost was all over his windshield, the wiper wouldn't phase it, and he had to take a razor blade and scrape the ice off before driving to work. It didn't seem to be a killing frost, though.

Reports of some defoliation going on over the area brought the remark that old Mother Nature herself would soon take a hand in this defoliating business.

It's just our type of weather. We like to be comfortable in a coat if we have to wear one, but we like to be without one without being too uncomfortable. We found out two mornings this week that walking to work sans coat kinda puts a spring into your step!

Getting a report on the negro shooting which occurred at Goree last Friday night, we received one statement something like this: After the accused fired the shot through the cafe window that hit the woman in the chest, he walked inside the cafe, put his gun on the counter, walked over to the woman and said: "I guess you'll stop that lying, now." She did—she stopped living!

Plans are beginning to take on form for a big celebration in Munday during the summer next year, when the town observes its 50th anniversary. Charles McCauley, prexy of the Chamber of Commerce, is soliciting the help and co-operation of the city council, Chamber of Commerce, school board, study club and various civic organizations in carrying out the program.

The Chamber has entered into a "contract of intent" with a production firm for putting on a three or four-day pageant during the celebration, depicting a fairly comprehensive history of the town and area from the time the first Indian set foot on our soil.

As explained to us, the celebration won't cost the merchants or townspeople anything in dollars and cents, except admission to the giant outdoors pageant, but it will take a lot of work and co-operation upon the part of a lot of people. That's where the clubs and other organizations come in.

From a giant stage on the athletic field, the town's history will be enacted in pantomime. As the emcee reads off the history from his scroll, actors will enter the scene depicting various stages of historical events. We don't know who will do the oration, but actors will be local people who have entered into making the celebration a success. Sounds like pretty much of a big thing to us.

We've heard, too, some talk of a period of non-shaving for men of the community in preparing for the event. Men must grow beards or buy shaving permits. Our guess is that after a few days of letting our beard grow, any number of people will be willing to pay for us a shaving permit!

Anyway, it's not too early to start talking and planning the 50th anniversary celebration.

Miss Martha Hannig of Abilene and Miss Dolores Knapp of Fort Worth spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knapp.

Col. Jack Williams Named Commander Of Supply Group At Base In Alaska

Col. Jack W. Williams, Director of Materiel for the 11th Air Division (Defense), with headquarters at Ladd Air Force Base, Alaska, has been named commander of the newly formed 5001st Maintenance and Supply group.

Following his arrival at Ladd from the Armed Forces staff college, in Norfolk, Va., Colonel Williams assumed the duties of Director of Materiel, a position he will hold concurrently with his new job as Maintenance and Supply commander.

Organizations which make up the newly formed group include the Supply, Field Maintenance, and Motor Vehicle squadrons. In addition, Williams will direct all activities of the Purchasing and Contracting office.

Brig. Gen. T. Alan Bennett, commander of the 11th Air Division (Defense) stated, "By this reorganization the entire command will have the benefit of one staff to accomplish the necessary administration and overall operational control." He went on to say, "This will effect manpower savings, and a tighter control on all areas of operation which may, in turn, be translated into a greater saving of the military tax dollar."

A native of Munday, Texas, Col. Williams is a graduate of Texas A&M with a degree in electrical engineering.

Upon receiving his wings from the Army Air Corps in 1942 he was assigned to Wright-Patterson Field, Ohio, for flight testing.

Among the better known aircraft which Col. Williams tested are included the XC-74, the XA-38 attack bombers, and the XC-97 Stratofreighter.

After leaving the service in 1946, Williams worked for Republic Aviation as a test pilot, and later transferred to the Hughes Aircraft company, as a test pilot of the XF-11, which was designed for high altitude photographic work.

When offered a regular commission in the Air Force, Williams came back in, in November, 1947, with the rank of major. His first assignment was air instructor for the Georgia National Guard, at Dobbins AFB, Ga.

His first overseas assignment was Guam, where he held several important positions, including that of commanding officer (Continued on Last Page)

Plans Formulated For Thanksgiving Service Nov. 23rd

A meeting of representatives of various civic clubs and organizations of the town was held last Tuesday evening at the elementary school building, at which time plans were formulated for holding the annual union Thanksgiving service in Munday.

This service will be held at the school auditorium on Wednesday, November 23, beginning at 1 p. m., as has been the custom for several years. The program for this service will be announced later.

Usually the business firms of Munday close their doors for one hour on that date so employees may attend the service if they desire.

Moguls Travel To Roby For 8-A Game On Friday

Smarting under their decisive defeat at the hands of Albany last Friday night, the Munday Moguls will take to the road Friday for another 8-A tilt, this time against the Roby Lions.

The Lions from Roby haven't done as well as the Albany Lions, though. Roby's eleven has yet to win a game this season, having lost all seven tilts with three of them being conference games.

The Moguls remain in fourth place in season's standings, but were bumped down to sixth in the district play last Friday night. The Albany Lions, holding top position, is also one of the ten undefeated, untied teams in the state.

Showing bruises from last Friday's conflict, the Moguls are holding their regular practice sessions this week in preparation for their Roby game. A large number of fans, still behind their team, will accompany them to Roby.

Other district 8-A games will show Haskell at Throckmorton, Roscoe at Merkel, while Albany entertains Rotan in a non-district tilt.

A negro woman, Mary Ann Evans, was fatally wounded last Friday night in a shooting affray at a colored cafe in Goree, and Clarence Smith has been charged with the shooting and placed under $10,000 bond. The two had reportedly been living together as man and wife.

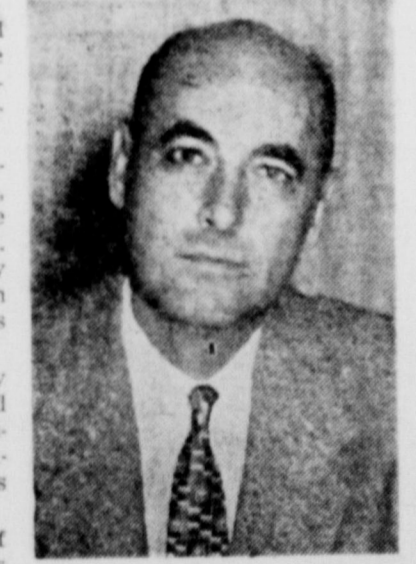

The incident occurred between 11 and 12 p. m. Friday at the "Sweet Dreams Cafe" in Goree, owned by Winnie Chatman. She was shot in the chest by a .22 calibre rifle, according to reports.

Witnesses to the shooting stated the woman saw Smith through the cafe window. She jumped up from the counter and said: "There's Clarence with a gun." One shot was fired through the window, striking her in the chest.

Smith then reportedly entered the cafe and left the rifle on the counter. He later accompanied the woman's nephew and another man who took her to the Knox County Hospital, where she was pronounced dead. Smith then left the car and walked away. Officers later arrested him between Knox City and Rochester.

District Attorney A. W. David and Sheriff H. T. Melton stated an inquest was held Monday afternoon in Justice of the Peace C. C. Cunningham's court at Goree. Smith was charged with murder, and Judge Cunningham set his bond at $10,000. Officers expressed doubt that he would be able to make bond.

Officers from Goree, Munday and Knox City joined the county sheriff's force in investigations Friday night after the shooting had been reported.

WHY RETAILERS FAIL

Why do retail businesses fail?
 Dun & Bradstreet has provided an answer to that question, in a report covering the year ending last June 30. The biggest cause, accounting for close to half the failures, is incompetence. Next come various forms of inexperience—lack of experience in the particular line the store sold, lack of managerial experience, and unbalanced experience. Much smaller percentages are ascribed to neglect, fraud and disasters.

These are significant revelations. For it is clear that competition is not in itself a major reason for retail failures—except insofar as competitive weakness is a part of the incompetence factor. Obviously, a man who doesn't understand the ramifications of retail business cannot successfully compete against large or small but efficient run stores. There can be no doubt but that many retail failures, like failures in farming or any other business, are the inevitable result of the fact that the man involved should never have engaged in the trade he chose in the first place.

Free competition—the kind of competition we see in retailing—is the best economic friend the consumer has. Over the years, average family income has outrun the increases in commodity prices in general, and you can give competition a big share of the credit for that. It also benefits the good merchant. It keeps him on his toes, searching for ways and means to attract customers. It generates progress and innovation and experiment. It sees to it that success comes to the able. It sparkplugs the whole expanding American economy.

BIG PRIZE FOR THE TAX COLLECTOR

Headlines the country over were made when, for the first time, a contestant on the fabulous TV program, "The $64,000 Question," risked going all the way to win the grand prize. Had the winner, a personable young Marine captain, missed any part of the tough seven-part final question he would have lost the $32,000, less taxes, he had already won.

The news reports of this, of course, said that the captain won $64,000. Actually, however, he won $35,000 or less. For the federal income tax will take about $29,000 of the prize and any state income tax will be in addition.

The tax collector didn't have to take the big final risk—and he didn't have to possess the remarkable fund of specialized knowledge that made the win possible. But just the same, he will get close to half of the profit!

RAINY DAY OR SUNNY . . .

"Rainy day or sunny, you'll be glad you saved your money."

That was the catchy slogan of a payroll savings campaign put on recently from coast to coast by The Burroughs Corporation. It evidently made a lot of sense to the workers; when the campaign was over, 90 per cent of them had signed up.

Saving for a rainy day is wise, but not very alluring. Saving for the sunny day is much more appealing. Saving for the big things in your life, to be ready for them when the time comes, is another positive reason used in the current advertising and publicity for U. S. Savings Bonds.

The big things in the average American's life, after he is through school, are his marriage, the arrival of children, the buying of the home and equipping of it, the sending of youngsters to college, perhaps the buying of a place in the country, retirement, possibly travel and certainly living easier in old age. In every one of these how much the family saves is important.

That most people regard bond savings as long-range is shown by the actual figures on bond cashing. On June 1 of this year 74 per cent of the E bonds bought in 1954 were still in the hands of their buyers. Go back to 1947 in the Treasury Department's records and you'll find exactly half of that year's E bonds still outstanding. As to the 1954 bonds, 38 per cent of these 10-year old securities were still being held. And if you turn back to 1941, the first year that E bonds were offered to the public, you may be surprised to find that 31 per cent are still in the hands of their original owners. Of all E bonds that have matured so far, nearly 75 per cent are still being retained—well over $12 billion worth to date. Rainy day or sunny, a lot of folks are glad they saved their money.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Fort Payne, Ala., Times-New Era: "In a magazine article Allen W. Dulles, head of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency, tells us that 'mass education in Russia may well become a threat to their own communist system of government.' There is more to this article than we can summarize here, but it should make sense that the better educated the masses of any country become the more they should be inclined to throw off the yoke of tyranny that a communistic system puts on them."

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

OBEEDIENCE AND THE BLESSINGS IT BRINGS

"He became the author of eternal salvation to all them that obey him" (Heb. 5:9). Therefore eternal salvation is a promise to the obedient.

We have pardon offered to the obedient. "Let the wicked forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him and to our God for he will abundantly pardon."

This is an Old Testament statement, but it is clear that a man seeking pardon must obey the Lord (Isa. 55:7). We find no change of principle when we trace this subject into the New Testament. "Ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you. Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness" (Rom. 6:17-18).

Again we read: "But now being made free from sin, and become servants of God, ye have your fruits unto holiness, and the end everlasting life"

(Rom. 6:22). But he also said, "Know ye not that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey, whether of sin unto death or of obedience unto righteousness" (Rom. 6:16).

So obedience leads us on and on from sin to righteousness. And the righteous have all the promises of God in Christ Jesus (Eph. 1:3). And obedience must be by faith to please God. "Without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him" (Heb. 11:6).

The gift of the Holy Spirit is promised to the obedient, "repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost" (Acts 2:38; "And we are witnesses of these things; and also is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him" (Acts 5:32).

GOLFER FACES LEGAL HAZARDS, TOO

Most golfers are only too familiar with sand and water hazards. However, the game involves some legal hazards as well. These won't add strokes to your score, but can be far more costly.

The courts have held that a golfer has a legal obligation to exercise ordinary care to prevent injury to others. Before hitting, it is a player's duty to give a "timely warning" to persons he knows are in line, or close to the line, of intended flight of the ball. Therefore, a healthy yell of "fore" is of far more importance than most golfers realize.

The courts have recognized that the average golfer cannot control the direction or destination of his ball. They have therefore held that a golfer assumes the risk that he might be hit by a ball which is sliced or hooked into the fairway on which he is playing. A golfer injured by such a hit could not recover for his injuries.

Courts have also held that if it is impossible to anticipate that a fellow golfer might be injured by a shot, there is no liability. A situation such as this might arise when a ball is hit at right angles to the intended line of flight as would happen if the ball were hit off either the toe or shank of the club.

A person standing at right angles to the person hitting is in a position of relative safety, and it is not possible for the hitter to anticipate his ball will take such a line of flight.

Generally, to avoid the legal hazards of golf for injury to others, study the rules and customs of the United States Golfers Association. Above all be courteous on the course. Give

Cattle Run Monday Biggest Of Season

FORT WORTH—The twelve major markets of the nation Monday reported 163,000 cattle, the biggest run of the Fall season. The offering at Fort Worth was about the same size as a week ago, but the big numbers reported around the market circle put pressure on prices here as well as at other points.

Again the 12 markets reported over 100,000 hogs on Monday and this put pressure on butchers at all points as well as adding to the difficulties of beef cattle and calves. At Fort Worth cattle and calves faced weak to 50 cents or more lower offers. Comparative prices included: good and choice steers and yearlings $18-22; common and medium kinds $12-17. Fat cows $9.50-11.50; canners and cutters $6-9.50; bulls $9-13; good and choice slaughter calves $16-17.50, few heavier higher; cull, common and medium kinds $8 to $15; stocker steer calves $21 down, heifers $17.50 down; steer yearlings $19 down; stocker cows $8-12.50.

Stocker and Feeder Sale Average $96.09 Per Head

The special Hereford Stocker and Feeder Sale held at Fort Worth last Friday attracted 2,219 head that sold for a gross of $213,226.90, or an average of $96.09 per head. Top price was $25.50 paid for a 20 lot from the League Ranch at Benjamin. Second high price was $25 paid for an entry from Turned Greenwade of Clifton. Top heifers sold at $22 and came from the John R. Black Estate Ranch of Granbury.

Numerous lots of heifers sold in the $18 to $20 bracket and numerous lots of steers sold in the $19 to $23 field. Average of the sale was easily $1 to $1.50 above current market prices on most of the calves and yearlings.

Plans for a series of stocker and feeder sales starting next Spring were announced Friday.

General K. L. Berry, State Chairman for the 1956 March of Dimes, and Maurice Heath, veterans in the fight against polio, point the way to the 1956 March of Dimes planning for Texas. Maurice, age 7, after 5 years of treatment hopes to discard braces and crutches soon. General Berry again leads the fight against polio in 1956.

Worth Monday, on a strong to 50 cents higher market. They were the only class of livestock able to make an advance at the market that day. Feeders were strong at $16.50 down. Old ewes drew $4.50 to $5.50, and aged wethers $8 to $12. Yearling muttens sold around $12 to $15.50, some culls below that.

Wyoming Sheep Checked Into Fort Worth Yards

Two big truck loads of fine yearling bucks pulled into Fort Worth late last week from near Cheyenne, Wyoming. They were halted for feed and rest, en route to New Orleans. The shipment will then take a plane and their new home will be on the range lands of Peru.

Their owners reported that the combined truck and plane trip was worked out not only because of the speed, but because it would be cheaper in a boat trip.

That's what they said!

1956 Cotton Marketing Quotas Told; Dec. 13 Set For Vote On Referendum

A national marketing quota of 10 million bales and a national allotment of 17,391,304 acres for the 1956 crop of upland cotton has been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson.

Announced at the same time was the date for a referendum, December 13, on cotton marketing quotas for both upland and extra long staple cottons. The quota for extra long staple cotton was set at 35,300 bales and the acreage allotment at 45,305 acres for the 1956 crop. At least two-thirds of the cotton farmers voting in the referendum must approve marketing quotas if they are to be effective. Last year 92 percent of the voting upland growers approved marketing quotas and 92.8 percent of the voting extra long staple growers favored quotas.

The marketing quotas and the acreage allotments for both the types of cotton are the minimum provided by law. The national acreage allotment is the acreage required, based on averages for the past five years, to produce the national marketing quota of 10 million bales.

According to the latest statistics, the total supply of upland cotton for the 1955-56 marketing year is estimated at 24.4 million bales and is second only to the record supply of 24.6 million bales in 1939-40. Supplies have increased yearly for five consecutive years and a new record in cotton yields per acre has been

Keep Drawer Knobs Tight

USE of a lock washer can keep a knob screw on a drawer from turning, according to Popular Mechanics. The special washer should be placed between a flat washer and the head of the screw. If it is located against a wooden surface, it will sink into the wood and lose its locking ability. The same principle can be applied to keep wooden knobs tight on the lids of pots and pans.

SENATE - FARMER CONFERENCE NEAR

Texas farmers will have a chance to air their views on federal farm policy at an important U. S. Senate Agriculture Committee hearing in Fort Worth November 5.

I have been asked to arrange for farm witnesses and am anxious to hear from more farmers and ranchers interested in the hearing and in learning of the principal problems they want to discuss.

All persons who appear must be deriving 100 per cent of their income from agriculture. This will prevent the hearing from being used as a sounding board by specific groups or organizations for their self-advancement. Although a great many people have already expressed their desire to be heard, the official panel has not been selected, and for several reasons.

All-State Representation Urged
First of all, any designations will be delayed until all farmers have had a chance to respond. Then, too, problems from all areas of the state should be considered since Texas agriculture runs the full gamut of all basic commodities.

For that reason, a screening WANTED—Wheat grazing for cattle. Chas. Moorhouse, phone 6811. 13-4tc

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—The irreplaceable gift of sight is being lost to one American every 20 minutes.

If that figure—estimated by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness—holds true for all population segments throughout the United States, it means 4 Texans are being visited by sightlessness every day.

Even as you read this some man, woman, or child is standing on the brink of a life of permanent darkness, about to join the 300,000 Americans who already are enduring the bleak enormity of blindness.

More than 14,000 of the 300,000 Americans currently blind are Texans, according to official estimates.

What causes blindness? The State Department of Health lists three contributing factors: disease, accidents, and neglect.

"Blindness brought on through neglect really is no worse than that caused by disease or accident," says Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of health. "But somehow it seems worse. It's so unnecessary."

Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Stevenson will be leaving Thursday for Colorado for a week end revival meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer of East Texas visited his mother, Mrs. Spencer, and his sister, Mrs. Roy Lane, last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Prater and children of Anson visited her mother, Mrs. Roy Lane, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davilek and baby and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tucker, Jr., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tucker, Sr., last Sunday.

Barton Carl has returned from Dallas where he attended market and purchased merchandise for the Carl Dry Goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Fitzgerald of Seminole visited his mother and other relatives here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vance have returned home from a two weeks visit in Houston and San Antonio.

If all children were given a thorough eye examination prior to entering school for the first time, and if all visual defects were corrected or placed under treatment at that time, a major step in the prevention of blindness in childhood would be taken, Dr. Holle believes.

"But a single examination is not enough. A child grows quickly. His eyes, like every other body organ, are constantly changing. Sometimes the change is a defect."

The health official judges that "at least half of all cases of blindness occurring from year to year could be prevented through use of the sight-saving knowledge at hand."

For example: some 300,000 industrial accidents occur each year, 1500 of them resulting in permanent blindness. The mere use of goggles would cut these figures to negligible proportions. And as for disease-caused blindness, modern surgical methods now restores or improves vision in 19 of 20 cases of cataract, the leading cause of blindness in the United States.

When parents or teachers observe a child holding reading matter closer than the normal 14 inches from his face, tilting his head while reading, or constantly blinking, health authorities agree it should be interpreted as a sign of impending trouble.

Other conditions which may indicate eye trouble are crossed eyes, frequent styes and headaches, red-rimmed or encrusted eyelids, or persistent watering of either eye.

Mrs. Wilma Dean Griffith and sons visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Muston, in Plains, and her brother, Oleah Muston, and family in Brownfield over the week end.

J. C. Rice, Jr. of Houston is spending this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rice, Sr.

Mrs. Deon Martin of Abilene was a week end guest of her mother, Mrs. Freddie Morrow.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

Small grains are making good growth over most of the county with some fields producing grazing for livestock. In checking fields last week I found that we are beginning to have some in trouble in many fields with cutworms, grain mites and white grubs.

The cutworm will first be noticed by a small spot where the wheat has disappeared, this will get larger each day. The cutworm feeds mostly at night and gets under clods or in cracks in the soil during the day. They cut off the young plants just above or slightly below the surface of the soil. If you are losing wheat where you once had a good stand it would be good to check for cutworms. They can be controlled with two pounds of toxaphene spray or dust per acre. If they are just starting you can control by spot spraying.

It is very difficult to detect the grain mites but their presence is first indicated by a yellowing appearance of the leaves and later the tips turn brown. This usually starts in low places where the wheat should be the best. The infested plants are stunted but it is doubtful that the yields or grain will be increased by controlling them. However, control measures may be advisable when additional grazing is desired or when stands on young plants are threatened. The mites are very small, 1-32 to 1-16 inch long, the adults have reddish-orange legs and their bodies are dark brown. They feed during the night but they may be found around the base of the plants and under clods during the day. They can be controlled by 0.25 lbs. parathion or 0.25 lbs. TEPP per acre applied as a spray. Livestock should not be grazed for 14 days after using parathion or 3 days after TEPP.

The white grubs feed on the roots and if they are in sufficient number, stands may be lost. Not much can be done to control them after planting, but good controls have been secured by treating the seeds before planting with 2 oz. of aldrin or lindane per 100 pounds of seed. This should be done if you have had trouble with the grubs in the fields in years past.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Campsey were Palmer Campsey of Texas Tech in Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Tidwell and Joe David of Crosbyton. The Tidwells also visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Tidwell.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Scoffs At Old Idea You Can't Get Enough Sleep On A Farm, Says He Sure Does

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses sleep this week, and if there's anything he's an authority on, that must be it.

Dear editor:

A copy of Time magazine turned up out here on the Johnson grass farm the other day. I don't know how it got here unless the mail carrier got mixed up and put it in my box instead of my intellectual neighbor's box down the road, although understanding taking the magazine is no proof that you're an intellectual or it is either, but I was glad to get my hands on it and was especially interested in an article on the champion boy farmer in the U. S.

This boy is really an outstanding farmer and a hard worker, but one part of the article about him disturbed me.

According to it, this boy gets only about four or five hours of sleep a night, staggering up out of bed at 4:30 a. m. and working until anywhere from 10 p. m. to midnight before he falls asleep in the middle of a letter to his girl.

This is vicious propaganda. Out of years of experimenting, I wish to state that a man can get just as much sleep on a farm as he can in a city, maybe more. This idea that farming might be all right if you could stand the loss of sleep is a lot of nonsense, although I understand I'm not arguing that more people ought to farm, the way it looks now. Judging from the stacks of surplus pluses we've got piled up all over the country, too many people are farming as it is.

But it has been my observation that more white collar workers and business executives fall asleep in church than farmers. More town people go to sleep driving their car than farmers. Have you ever heard of a farmer falling asleep while driving a tractor? While milking a cow? While borrowing money at the bank?

A man may not be able to make as much money as he wants farming, but he sure can get plenty of sleep. I've tried it and I know. Furthermore, I intend to keep on getting plenty.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

GRASS WATERWAYS PROTECT FARMLAND FROM WASHOUTS

As the experienced farmer knows, it's the occasional heavy, gully-forming deluge, not just ordinary rainfall, that puts a farm drainage system to the test. At such times, grass waterways can offer the supplemental drainage needed to protect both land and crops, suggests Jack Barton, extension soil and water specialist.

Commenting on the value of grass waterways, Barton said, "During heavy rains more water falls on nearly all cropland than can be held by the best crop rotations, contour farming, strip cropping, or even terraces."

"This water will run off through some kind of waterway," Barton said. "Unless you provide a safe waterway, it probably will cut a gully."

Usually it is easiest and cheapest to use a natural depression for a grass waterway to carry the water away safely. On farms where there is no natural depression that can be used, a waterway must be constructed. Help in designing such waterways is available from county agents soil conservation technicians or soil conservation district offices.

Any grass waterway that is to carry extra water safely must be designed to take care of all rains. Its grass cover should be dense, and it must be kept in good condition year after year.

When carefully made and managed, grass waterways will more than pay their way in added farm income, says Barton. Many are used as regular hayfields, some produce grass or legume seed for use on the farm or for sale, and all of them can be pastured at some time during the year, depending upon the kind of grass used.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Cure during the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Guindell Ritchie and son of Gatesville, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cure of Burnet, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wyatt of Blotzi, Miss. and Lowell Cure of Seymour.

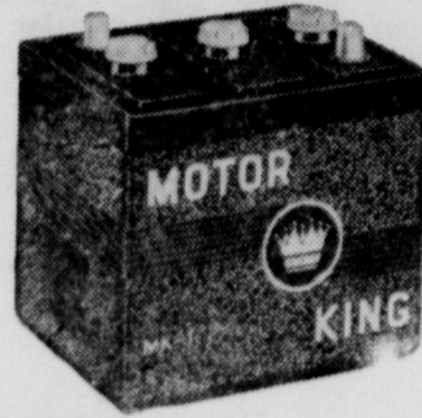

Mrs. Jean Couch and son of Big Spring visited her sister, Mrs. Doris Dickerson, and family and other relatives several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Pape attended Appreciation Day at the municipal auditorium in Wichita Falls last Sunday.

Albany Lions Overpower Moguls In 34-7 Conference Victory Here Friday

The mighty Albany Lions made another bid for the district title here last Friday night, handing the host Munday Moguls a 34 to 7 defeat, striking both on the ground and through the air.

The Lions lost no time posting the first score. On the opening play from scrimmage following the kickoff, fullback Jerry Atwell, a sensational sophomore, broke over his left guard, cut to the sideline and streaked 60 yards for the tally. Jody Beal kicked the extra point.

The remainder of the first quarter was played in the Albany end of the field as the Moguls threatened seriously three times, the third assault driving to the Lion three before the tight Albany defense stopped the attack. After Albany punted twice out of immediate danger an alert Albany lineman jarred the ball loose from a Mogul carrier on Munday's 26. Atwell picked up seven, a line plunge got two, then a jump pass from brilliant quarterback Bobby Allman to Harold Hudman was good for 12 to the five.

Munday held for three downs, then Allman, faking beautifully to the fullback through the middle, handed to Dan Mitchell, who went virtually untouched off left tackle for the remaining yardage and the score.

Beal's conversion try was successful with three minutes left in the first half.

Albany, state finalist in 1954, struck quickly again in the third with less than 2 minutes gone, tackle Wade Bowsher, who played a tremendous defensive game for the Lions, recovered a Mogul bobble on Munday's 31. Again on first down, Allman, behind stalwart blocking up front tossed to Beal, who fought off a defender on the goal line and hauled in the ball for the score. He added the point.

Seconds later, Atwell electrified the crowd with a 79 yard scamper across the goal, but a clipping penalty brought the ball back to the Mogul 39, where the strong Munday forward wall held.

The Mogul's lone tally came late in the third period. After a 41 yard pass and run play from Munday quarterback Glen Amerson to Lee Bruce put the ball on the Lion 25, Amerson swept wide to the left on a keeper and dashed past the Albany secondary for the touchdown. Gary Cure, the outstanding ball carrier for the Mogul Friday night, converted.

Allman and Atwell teamed on another pass play to notch the fourth Lion marker. With first down on his own 41, the quarterback tossed to his 135 pound fullback at the Munday 25, and the rapid sophomore simply ran away from three defensive men for the score. Beal converted.

With three minutes left in the game, it was Atwell once more who struck for pay dirt. The tiny speedster plunged through the right side and scampered 17 yards for the final touchdown of the game. Beal's try for the point again was successful.

The mighty Lions went aloft only six times, but four aeriels were good for 116 yards.
