

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

We took a nice trip Thursday night.

Breakfast in Paris, lunch in New York and dinner in London—or something just about as fantastic—is something we read a few months ago in this fast age of air travel. But we did them one better. We had a sandwich dinner at home, then visited several European countries—France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Switzerland and England—then were back home by bedtime!

The tour was planned by Mrs. Orb Coffman of Goree, with a little bit of assistance from her husband, who admitted it "was Mamma's affair" and he didn't have anything to do with it.

The Coffman children were home—their daughter, Mildred; her husband, Dan, and their baby—and they brought with them colored slide pictures of their recent stay in Germany and visits to the other countries of Europe. We were among the group invited over to the Coffman home for this showing.

The story began with their leaving New York for a special stay of several months in Heidelberg, Germany, sailing on the British ship Queen Elizabeth. There in the harbor as they departed was that symbol of American peace, the Statue of Liberty.

The tour took us to Paris, where pictures were shown of very interesting places, the Parisian shops, Eiffel Tower, market places, parks, etc. Then on to Germany where we were shown some magnificent places, castles and government houses, as well as some of the remaining ruins of World War II.

Holland scenes opened with the showing of one of their famous Dutch windmills, and it was explained that most of the land in that country is below sea level, dikes had been built to keep out the sea, and the windmills used to pump water off the land, reclaiming it for farming. Fertile farms were shown where crops were growing on this fertile land.

An interesting scene was the flower market, where flowers of various colors and kinds were sold on the open market. It was explained that Neiman-Marcus was one customer. If flowers were not selling at prices thought to be high enough, the market itself would buy them and dump them in canals, thus keeping prices up—pretty much like our farm products are handled, it was stated, only not by the government.

On to Switzerland and the beautiful Swiss Alps with their mountains of snow and glaciers and the beautiful blue lakes that were filled with water from the ice-capped mountains, and many other interesting scenes.

England was another country visited, and it was explained that the English are not without their castles and palaces, a number of which were shown. One was Buckingham Palace with a scene of the changing of the Royal Guard. Other guards in colorful uniforms were shown and a brief history of their organization explained.

The trip concluded with a skyline view of New York as the couple returned to the States, thus concluding a wonderful trip with the statement "We were certainly glad to see New York again."

A few interesting scenes of our own United States were shown, including the Grand Canyon, Yosemite National Park and others—and our trip was over.

Dan's even flow of descriptive words and the wonderful way in which he had organized his talk to coincide with the various slides shown made a most interesting evening for all present. They were highly appreciative of the Coffman hospitality and the opportunity to review this tour with Dan and Mildred.

Charges Filed In Shooting At Knox City

J. R. Davis, 42, of Carlsbad, N. M., a construction superintendent, was shot in the stomach Tuesday at Knox City, apparently during an argument following a disagreement of long standing. Being held in the shooting was Tom Bryan Arrington, 48, of Tulsa, a consulting engineer for Joe Ward of Wichita Falls, who has been charged with assault with intent to murder by District Attorney A. W. Davis of Paducah.

Arrington waived examining trial before Justice of the Peace Jay Driver of Benjamin and was placed in the Knox County jail there in lieu of $5,000 bond. Davis was reported doing well following an operation at Knox County Hospital. He was employed by the Pecos Valley Construction Co. of Carlsbad.

There were two witnesses to the shooting. They were Bill Ross and James Bohm, both employees of the construction company. According to Ross, the four were sitting in an office of the firm talking when Arrington whipped out a .25 calibre pistol and fired two shots, one glancing off the wall and the other hitting Davis in the left side of the stomach.

Ross and Bohm rushed Davis to the hospital and upon their return to the office found Arrington still sitting in his chair. Ross was quoted as saying Davis and Arrington had had a disagreement several months ago and had avoided each other since. He did not elaborate.

PORK FOR CONSUMPTION—NOT STORAGE

The meat production records are being broken again this year. Of late, pork has been in particularly heavy supply. The result, from the housewife's point of view, is happy—prices of pork items are exceptionally attractive, and well below the level of a year ago.

From the producer's point of view, of course, the situation is different. Heavy supplies and lower prices mean that he has an economic problem on his hands. A short time ago a hog marketing conference was held in Washington, to draw up recommendations for the Secretary of Agriculture. It was attended by some 30 leading hog raisers, along with representatives of farm organizations, retailers, agricultural colleges and the meat industry. And the recommendations it adopted are significant.

It did NOT urge any government hog price support program—and it did not ask that the government stockpile pork or pork products. Instead, it urged, among other things, that the government simply stand ready with a purchase program, if needed, for consumption of pork in school lunch, institutional feeding and other regularly established activities. That is certainly an eminently reasonable proposal—and one that could be carried out as a matter of routine.

The conference also had high praise for the current pork promotion campaign, in which producers, retailers, packers and other interested groups are cooperating, with marked success. Experience has proven that such campaigns can markedly step-up sales of the product—to the benefit of all concerned, including consumers who are offered fine buys.

NOTHING VENTURED, NOTHING GAINED

The TV program, "The $64,000 Question," has dramatized how drastic our income taxes really are. The winner of the $64,000 question pays $23,000 more in income taxes than does the $32,000 winner. For this reason most $32,000 winners have declined to try for the top prize.

The same discouragement in risk-taking ventures occurs in business. Tax rules dictate "on" answers everyday from businessmen, investors and professional men. And New York's First National City Bank says it doesn't stop there, for "the injury is not only to the opportunities of people but also to the tax collections since risk-taking enterprise affords the richest source of government revenues."

When are we going to respect the law of diminishing returns and encourage risk-taking ventures rather than discourage them?

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

THE MIND OF CHRIST

Paul says, "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus" (Phil. 2:5). If all men believed and practiced this teaching, there would not be so much talk about a multitude of ways to go to heaven. When one has the mind of some one else, that means that he puts his own way of thinking in subjection to the other man's mind.

The only way to be a Christian is to have the mind of Christ. Christ is the Author of eternal salvation to all those who obey him (Heb. 5:9). He does not save disobedient people. One of the difficult things we have to do in being a Christian is to think the way the Lord thinks. The Lord's way of thinking is so different from man's way of thinking. The prophet writes, "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts' (Isa. 55:8-9).

If all men had the mind of Christ, there would not be division and strife among religious people. They would see alike and do alike. They would travel the same road, and have fellowship one with another. There would not be different kinds of churches, wearing different names.

If all men had the mind of Christ, there would be peace among them. Jesus does not try to promote peace at any price—it can be secured only on his terms. Jesus does not meet men half way on mooted questions. His plan does not provide for compromise. Men try to have peace among themselves by meeting each other half way, by compromise. The Lord does not do this. The Lord does not put his mind in subjection to any man. "For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow in his steps" (1 Pet. 2:21).

WHY ARE FARM PRICES FALLING?

The marked decline of farm income in our nation within the past few years in spite of a business and financial boom is a cause for concern of every citizen of Texas and the nation.

Explanations ranging from rising farm costs and burdensome surpluses to downright poor management have been offered by those who must defend their positions as farm policy-makers.

Actual reasons for farm decline revolve not around an increase in our farmers' operation costs, but in lower prices paid for their commodities, directly induced by the "sliding scale" price support system.

An astounding drop in the nation's farm operator's net family income from $14.3 billion in 1952 to $11 billion annual rate in the second quarter of 1955 has occurred in spite of, and not because of, changes in farmers' costs of production. Farm production costs actually dropped from $23.4 billion in 1952 to an annual rate of $22.5 billion in the same second quarter of 1955. This was probably because falling gross income made it impossible for farmers to replace worn-out equipment and machinery.

A most unrealistic answer to economic distress of farmers has been offered by high-ranking officials who say the trouble lies in increased costs for farm equipment. In the first place, the farm "parity" program as set up in the Agricultural Act of 1948 is disposed to set farm income up on a "par" with the income of other segments of the population.

This being the case, the rise in farm machinery costs should be accounted for, since the parity price is calculated by a formula that takes into account all changes in the prices of things the farmers buy.

Furthermore, farm equipment costs have increased by only about 3 to 5 per cent since 1952. This contrasts with 25, 30 and 35 per cent drops in prices in a majority of commodities the farmers sell. So the problem can't be just explained away that simply.

The obvious conclusion is that which is most evident to the farmer himself: lower prices received for the commodities he produces and sells. These price drops were allowed because governmental policy and weakened farm legislation has removed effective and adequate support.

If this trend is not soon reversed, all other phases of our national economy are sure to realize its damning effects.

And there will be fun for all among the dazzling acts including, Chet Juszyk and his 11 African lions, Miller's elephants, Theron's Comedy Group, Jack Joyce's Desert Taxis, Liberty Horses, The Three Sidneys, aerial queens, wizards of the wire, capering canines, dare-devil flyers, performing pachyderms and laugh provoking clowns.

legal language contains numerous ambiguities. When a lawyer refers to the "deed aforesaid", he is attempting to make it clear beyond question that the deed he is referring to is the deed mentioned in a prior portion of the instrument. Likewise, when he prefaces a legal document with a long list of "whereases", he is simply reciting pertinent facts for the benefit of the court to show the facts of the situation that lead to the execution of the instrument.

The difficulty with drafting a document in layman's language is that to the trained analyst such language is susceptible of several meanings, and consequently is likely to lead to litigation. It is the draftman's purpose to avoid litigation which is usually expensive for the client.

Another reason why lawyers use legal language is historical in nature. Thus most deeds declare that the grantor "by these presents does grant, sell, and convey" the land in question to the grantee. Each of the words recited have a technical meaning. The words together have frequently been construed by the courts and consequently the lawyer knows in using them that their meaning is settled, and that they will operate to properly transfer the title. He would be inviting litigation for his client, if instead of using those words, he devised new language to express the same purpose. He could only say, "While I think the language that I have used will accomplish the purpose. I cannot be sure of it."

As a consequence, the lawyer,

COTTON STORES SURPLUS GRAIN

Cotton may help take care of the nation's surplus grain.

A new type of canvas storage tent can partially solve the problem of protecting surplus grain stocks, according to Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills.

Last year the firm made several of the tents, each with a capacity of 1,600,000 bushels. Manufactured to hold government wheat under the uniform grain storage agreement, the tents proved successful. At the suggestion of agricultural officials, additional models were designed to fit requirements of the smallest to the largest grain storage operation.

The canvas tents are made in sections. These are joined in either of two ways: One is a combination of zipper and lace covers and the other, lace flaps. After sections are joined, the tent is raised and grain put through the top opening. Standard grain conveyor equipment can be used to fill the tents.

To kill insects some preliminary work must be done on the ground where the tents are raised. A sod cloth is buried in a ditch around the tent to prevent water from backing up under the canvas.

Old wheat should be stored in this way, for new or wet wheat would not work satisfactorily. Tents can be stored compactly when not in use or folded for transfer to some other point.

The canvas is treated by a process in the interest of his client, naturally uses the time-tested language instead of experimenting with new language.

special process to resist fire, water, and mildew. With proper care, the tents should last several years. Company officials say less than two cents per bushel would pay for a tent in one year.

There's a roast cooking to perfection in the electric range. Ice cream is being made — in the refrigerator. Coffee is percolating. The children's play clothes are being washed clean as new.

But there's no one in the kitchen!

One clue solves the case — electricity. It works automatically — Mother doesn't have to stay in her kitchen. Right now, she's attending a P.T.A. meeting. And when she gets home, the dinner will be ready, the laundry done.

Another clue — electric servants work for low wages — costs only a few cents a day for the average family. Isn't it by far the biggest bargain in your family budget? The men and women in your electric service company are constantly working to keep it that way.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Seven Special Stocker and Feeder Sales Planned

FORT WORTH—The "new look" in stocker and feeder sales developed at Fort Worth this year was so successful that seven events are planned by the Fort Worth Livestock Market Institute in cooperation with the Texas Aberdeen-Angus Association and the Texas Hereford Association during 1956.

New departure will be distributional sale of cows and pairs slated for April 13 at the stock yards. There will be three classifications in this event: 1. Herefords, or predominantly Hereford; 2. Aberdeen-Angus or predominantly Angus; 3. Mixed breeds or other breeds such as Brahman, Shorthorn, etc.

At the meeting Friday there was some fun as Secretary Henry Elder of the Texas Hereford Association and Fieldman Milt Miller and Secretary Glen Toie of the Texas Aberdeen-Angus Association tried to decide which classification the "black-white-faces", or the Angus-Hereford crossbreeds would fit into. Both claimed if they were "good ones" they belonged to their breed, and if they were "sorry" they belonged to the other fellow.

Actually, they will go into the classification designated by their owner.

Other dates selected for stocker and feeder sales at the markets were, for Herefords or predominantly white-faced cattle—May 11; June 22; September 21; October 19.

The Blacks will have stocker and feeder sale dates on July 13 and September 7. Dates chosen were as near as possible to dates both groups had this year, except the May Hereford sale, which was set in at the request of cattle buyers needing cattle for shipment to Northern grass.

Fed Steers Sharply Lower; Cows Generally Steady

Movement of cattle and calves was again of moderate proportions at Fort Worth Monday, but Northern markets and the Cornbelt reported heavy runs of cattle and hogs and fat cattle weakened. At Fort Worth slaughter steers and yearlings were weak to $1 lower. Cows and bulls ruled steady with last week's close. Calves were about steady, with high grades and culls firm, and the between grades weak.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $17-20; odd head higher; common and medium $10-16.50; fat cows $9-11 and canners and cutters $6-9.50. Bulls $9-12; odds to $12.50. Good and choice slaughter calves $15-17; cull, common and medium $8-14. The stocker steer calves were $19.50 down; stocker steer yearlings $18 down; stocker cows $8-12.75, latter price for springer cows and a few with baby calves, the cows averaged 930 lbs. at $12.75, the calves about 100 lbs., brought $20.

Slaughter Lambs 50c Lower; Other Classes Steady

Good and choice fat lambs drew $17 to $17.50 at Fort Worth Monday, and cull to medium kinds drew $10 to $16. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $14 to $16. Fat yearlings drew $16 down. Old wethers drew $7 to $12. Slaughter ewes sold for $5 to $6.

Hog Top $14-14.25 at Fort Worth Monday

Another day of more than 100,000 hogs was chalked up by the 12 major markets Monday. At Fort Worth prices were steady to 25 cents lower on butchers and packing sows. Top hogs sold for $14-14.25; and sows at $11 to $13.50.

Fort Worth Market Open On Friday, November 11

It was announced Monday that the market at Fort Worth would be open as usual Friday for buying and selling of livestock.

Big Meat Production Next Year Predicted

Copies of the report of the feed survey committee of the American Feed Manufacturers Ass'n. received in Fort Worth last week called for continued high level feeding and meat production.

The committee of experts from agricultural colleges all over the country included such authorities as Dean Darlow, Oklahoma A & M and Dr. I. W. Rupel of Texas A & M.

They predicted cattle population and feeding about the same next year as in this one. This fall's pig crop was 11 1/2% above a year ago, and a one per cent gain in 1956 Spring pigs was seen. Broiler production next year will be up 6%. Turkey production will be up 5%. Milk production will be up slightly, dairy cow population up 1%. Sheep production will continue to rise, especially because of more farm flocks. Laying hens will average 3% lower than this year. Period covered by these findings is October 1, 1955-September 30, 1956.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle,
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—A new record of public service was established between September 1954 and August 1955 when 715,192 Texans passed before the mobile chest x-ray units operated by the State Department of Health.

Of that number 18,192 showed evidence of chest "abnormalities", the Department reported.

The tax-supported mass chest x-ray surveys, limited to persons 15 years of age and over, worked in 152 counties during the period covered by the report.

Among the abnormal findings were 9,887 cases of "suspicious, minimal, moderately advanced, or far advanced tuberculosis", 7,276 cases of heart involvement, 1,029 cases of other "nontuberculosis" cases such as tumor shadows, diaphragmatic hernias, etc.

Past experience has shown that findings of chest abnormalities in children under 15 are so few that it is not economically feasible to include youngsters in the mass surveys. Also, health authorities hold that since the source of tuberculosis is in the adult population, finding a case in an adult presents sufficient opportunity to closely examine the children in that adult's family.

Although no age breakdown was available for the abnormal conditions discovered in last year's surveys, indications were that most of them occurred in persons over 35. Said Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle: "We are concentrating on this age bracket."

Both tuberculosis and lung cancer are most easily curable in their early stages. The health official stressed. "But since both are almost symptomless in their early stages, early detection is virtually impossible without a chest x-ray."

The health agency adopted the mass x-ray surveys as part of its program of public service in 1946. Five units are in operation, each one staffed by two technicians.

Units are assigned to individual counties only on request of the county medical society.

Tuberculosis, heart disease, and lung tumors are the conditions most frequently found. Cases of abnormality are reported to the private physician named by the individual involved.

Specific diagnosis is left to the private physician. It usually requires 4 weeks from the time the x-ray is taken until the report is forwarded to the individual or the physician of his choice.

The usual procedure in cases of chest defects is for the person to visit his family physician for further study.

The number of people receiving chest x-rays in mobile units last year was the greatest in the 9-year history of the program.

Mrs. Joe Patterson and Mrs. J. B. Bowden visited relatives in Albany from Wednesday until Friday of last week.

Miss Naomi Brown of Truscott visited her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Haynie, Sr., several days last week.

The Greeks Didn't Even Have a Word For It—

Nor did the Romans. It was many centuries later that insurance, as we know it today, came into being.

Like so many good things of this day and age, we take insurance and the protection it provides, for granted.

To many, an insurance policy is just a piece of paper, to be tucked away in a desk drawer and forgotten until something happens.

If something does happen, we suddenly realize that this piece of paper may save us from ruin.

That is why it is important to buy your insurance through an experienced agent who represents strong and long established companies.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants The Job Of Teaching Farmers How To Loaf If The Government Rents Their Land

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek sounds like he's fighting a windmill this week, but you never can tell.

Dear editor:

Naturally I have been following all the political speeches and comments in the papers over what ought to be done about the farm price situation, and while I am not sure anybody can come up with a complete solution, it's awfully comforting to know that somebody is thinking about you.

Naturally also every time that somebody makes a suggestion, somebody else has an objection.

Along this line, one of the proposals to cut down on the surplus and raise the price for the farmers is to have the government rent some of your land and thus keep it out of production, and I guess it's work, because I don't know many government workers who'd be very much at farming anyway, that'd be an excellent way to cut down on production, but the objection to this is that it would be unfair to a farmer to rent part of his land and throw him out of part of his year's work, even if he got paid for it.

"It might spoil a farmer to let him get in the habit of seeing part of his land lie idle," the argument goes. "The government can't afford to risk getting a farmer out of the habit of working all his land. Idleness is the devil's workshop."

Obviously, this calls for an expert, and if there's anything I'm an expert at, it's watching land lie idle.

I will be glad to take on the job of letting other farmers in on how they can survive with their character intact the dangerous job of letting some of their land go un-worked for a year or so. For a reasonable fee, which in lawyer's language means a pretty hefty price, I will set up a school of instruction in the art of safe, non-habit forming loafing. I have pioneered in this newer branch of agriculture and I'm just the man the government's looking for. It has taken me years to reach this point, but I am prepared to face the government's land rental program unafraid and confident I can meet it and survive, if the rental payments are high enough.

In case the government doesn't hire me, though, and still goes ahead with its plans for paying a farmer for not producing on part of his land, I think it would be only fair that they make the payments retroactive. I've got land out here that's been non-productive for years.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Don Haynie of Wichita Falls was a Monday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Haynie, Sr.

Management Hints Given On Grazing Winter Pastures

The amount of winter grazing you get from small grains and annual clovers depends in a large measure upon the management practices used.

Give the young plants time to develop a hardy root system before turning in the livestock, says E. M. Trew, extension specialist. The plants should be at least six inches tall before they are grazed. Their root systems will be developed to the point that grazing livestock will not materially reduce the stand by pulling up the plants. Grazing the young plants too early can result in depleted stands and a corresponding loss in production.

Trew says that rotation grazing gives the most efficient use of the forage produced by fast growing small grains and legumes. He recommends portable fencing for cutting the pasture into smaller plots because it is easy to move and inexpensive.

If weather conditions continue favorable and the grazing gets ahead of the livestock, mow the excess to prevent early booting. Too, if allowed to make too much growth, small grains are more susceptible to winter killing, says Trew.

Winter grazing usually is very succulent and a little dry hay should be provided to help balance the diets of livestock.

First year plantings of bromes, orchard, fescue or perennial ryegrass should not be grazed unless irrigated or growing on very fertile soil. This delayed grazing gives the plants a chance to become well established, says Mr. Trew.

And, finally, he adds, pastures are a cash crop and they should be managed as such.

Jack Lang of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls visited friends here over the week end and attended the Mogul-Plowboy football game on Friday night.

Plowboys Upset Moguls 18 to 12 On Friday Night

Roscoe's visiting Plowboys upset the Munday Moguls 18 to 12 here last Friday night to even up their season's record at 4-4. The visitors untied a 12-12 game in the third quarter to take this conference battle.

Roscoe's Billy Don Nemir went over from the ten yard line in the third period after the Plowboys recovered a Mogul fumble in midfield. The Moguls threatened again in the same quarter but lost the ball on downs at the 15 yard marker.

The Moguls were playing without the services of Skip Cure, one of their best backs.

Roscoe piled up a 12-0 lead before Munday hit pay dirt. Rodney Hastings scored twice in the first half, the first on an eighty-yard plunge which climaxed a 65 yard drive. The second came on an intercepted pass and a 45-yard return.

Both Munday scores came in the second quarter. Wyman Tidwell went over from the two after a 60-yard march and Glen Amerson tallied from the 10 after a 35-yard pass by Amerson set it up.

On defense Boyd Meers and Gerald Tidwell stood out for Munday and Don Richburg and Howard Hunter for Roscoe.

Soil Testing Laboratory To Be Set Up In Seymour; To Serve Wide Area

A soil testing laboratory will soon be in operation in Seymour, Roy McClung, Baylor County Agent, reported this week. The laboratory is being made possible through the Extension Service of Texas A&M, the county, the city, and local people. In the past, all the soil analysis work has been done in the laboratory at College Station on a state wide basis.

McClung said the officials of A&M had felt, for some time, that the people were not using the laboratory as they would if it were located within the county or near by, and they wanted to establish one out in the county to see what the results would be. The county agent stated that the laboratory was offered to Baylor County if the county wanted it, and provided an office could be found to locate it in; if someone would agree to hire a technician to do the analysis, and raise approximately fifteen to seventeen hundred dollars with which to purchase the necessary equipment. As usual, the people of Baylor County responded very quickly; the Baylor County Commissioners Court agreed to hire the technician; the City of Seymour agreed to furnish an office; and a number of Baylor County businessmen, farmers and ranchers have given generously of their money to help purchase the equipment.

The Commissioners Court has employed Mrs. Joe T. Boone, a Seymour resident, to do the analysis work under the supervision of the County Agent, and to do secretarial work in the County Agent's office when she is not busy in the laboratory.

The County Agent reported that a committee consisting of three farmers, a rancher, and one businessman has been set up to handle the money for the laboratory, purchase the equipment and help in any way possible in getting the laboratory set up and operating. The committee is composed of Lowe Stout, G. C. Wirz, M. M. Busby, Merton Couch and Jack Jones.

The equipment was ordered last week and should be delivered within fifteen to twenty days.

County Agent McClung stated that he hoped that the laboratory would be ready for operation by November 15.

The County Agent and Mrs. Boone will go to Texas A&M for a week or ten days of training in the laboratory there on the technique of actually running the test. After each sample is analyzed the County Agent will make recommendations as to what the soil needs to grow a particular crop.

"We want to emphasize that the laboratory is not just for Baylor County farmers only, but will be used by Knox, Haskell, Throckmorton and other surrounding counties," McClung stated. "In fact, anybody who wants to have their soil analyzed can get it done here."

This will be the only such laboratory in this part of the country, with the exception of the one located at Midwestern University. It will be the only one located between Wichita Falls and Las Cruces, New Mexico.
