Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

Tuesday, December 13, is the day for farmers to vote again, and it will be an important decision for the cotton growers.

k-k

On that date, growers will vote in a referendum to decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect for their 1956 upland cotton crop. If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas, marketing quotas will be in effect on all farms growing upland cotton in 1956, penalties will apply on excess cotton, and price supports to these growers who comply with their cotton acreage allotments will be available at the full level of effective supports.

k-k

Under current legislation this support will be between 75 and 90 percent of parity, the level depending upon the supply situation at the time the determination is made.

k-k

If more than one-third of the growers disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but price supports to the eligible growers who comply with their allotments will be available at 50 percent of parity.

k-k

All farmers who produced cotton in 1955 are eligible to vote in the referendum, and our guess is that a lot of Knox County farmers will vote. If memory serves us correctly, Knox County has always approved the quotas in all past referendums.

k-k

The county will receive another slice next year on cotton acreage allotments, according to news released last Friday. Many East and Central Texas counties received some increases, but most of them in our area got a reduction.

k-k

Information released from College Station shows that Knox County will be cut from 62,526 to 60,659 acres, which runs nearly 2,000 acres.

k-k

Such doings always have had us bumfuzzled. Farmers are always encouraged to build up their land so it will produce more per acre, and the various governmental agencies then come along and reduce acreage to, it seems, reduce production and cut down on surpluses. It's all a vicious merry-go-round to us.

k-k

Noticed a headline in one of our daily papers just a few days ago that said: "Smelly Dog Could Need Bath." Reckon there'd be no doubt about the matter in regards of a smelly person!

k-k

It's getting to the point where you can't trust those signs along the highway any more. The Grady Roberts were in Monday kinda kidding us about one they saw as they approach town from Haskell. Not that we doubted their veracity, but we could hardly believe their tale, so they invited us to drive out and see—which we did.

k-k

Sure enough, just this side of the Munday Sales Barn as one comes in from toward Haskell is the sign: "Goree City Limit, Population 625." We drove by and stopped to look back at the other side of the signpost. As one leaves out of Munday, gets well out of town, and glances to the left and there'll be the sign: "Munday City Limit, Population 2270." Wonder where we live, anyway?

Land Levelling Is Popular Practice In Wichita-Brazos Conservation Dist.

Irrigation land leveling is one of the most popular conservation practices now being established on farms in the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District.

Last week B. E. Smith finished leveling 34 acres on his farm 3 miles east of Munday. Truman Winchester has also completed leveling 7 acres on his farm one mile north of Hefner.

Other district cooperators who are now doing land leveling are Joe Voss, L. B. Patterson Jr., Buster Coffman, Edward Smith, Howard Word, and S. D. Jones. Soil Conservation Service technicians located at Knox City report that O. E. Moore, J. B. King, Bill King, Orb Coffman and Buddy Urbanczyk have applied for technical assistance in the laying out of land to be leveled on their farms.

Conservation farmers, who are leveling land and installing systems with the proper length of run, realize that they will be getting more efficient use from the water that is applied on their land. Also rainfall can be better utilized where the land is level.

Irrigation according to a conservation plan saves money for the owner by insuring that the practice is applied correctly the first time.

The district has available to farmers in the district two scrapers and one land-plane that will help cooperators with their irrigation practices. A rental fee of $5.00 per day will be charged to help keep the equipment repaired and replace district money used in purchase of this equipment.

Early Mailing Of Christmas Packages Being Urged By Postmaster Lee Haymes

Reporting that his "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign is really in high gear, Postmaster Lee Haymes today gave some helpful hints on how you can be sure that your Christmas cards will reach everyone on your list before December 25th.

"When you use three cent stamps on your Christmas cards, you get first-class mail service," he said, "first-class friends deserve first-class mail and the use of first-class postage makes it certain that your Christmas cards will be delivered promptly. Also, use of first-class postage insures forwarding service if the addressee has moved or the card will be returned to you if the recipient cannot be located. Then, too, on Christmas cards sent by first-class mail, you can include handwritten messages making your greetings more personal."

It is perfectly correct and, in fact, advisable to include your return name and address on each Christmas card envelope. This helps your friends to keep their mailing list up-to-date and insures correction of your list if the card is returned as undeliverable.

Postmaster Haymes warns that if any of your Christmas card envelopes are larger than 9"x12" or smaller than 2 1/4"x4" they must be sent by first-class mail because such cards require hand cancellation.

When your Christmas cards are ready to mail, you will do both yourself and the Munday Post Office a real favor by putting the cards with local addresses in one bundle and those for out-of-town destinations in another. Then mark each bundle with special identification labels you can get free at the Post Office which read "All For Out-Of-Town Delivery" and "All For Local Delivery."

If you have a large card list mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those for local delivery and try to get all cards for distant points mailed by December 15th and those for local delivery should be started on their way at least a week before Christmas.

OUR FIRST LETTER TO OLD SANTA

Martha Alicia Ponciono of Goree was the first child to write to Old Santa Claus this year. We received the letter last week, but since then several other have come in.

This is a reminder to all kiddies that they must write their letters and get them to us soon so we can publish them and get them forwarded to Santa Claus at the North Pole. Letters will be published in our issue of December 22, but they should be in by December 15 to insure publication.

So hurry, Kiddies. It's later than you think!

Mrs. Ida White, resident of Munday for many years, passed away at 10 p. m. Thursday at a Lubbock hospital following a serious illness of about a month.

World Population Of Three Billion Is Seen By 1965

At the rate population has been rising, the world will have about 3 billion people 10 years from now, according to estimates made by the Population Division of the United Nations in connection with a study of international food production and consumption trends.

The world's present population is placed at 2.6 billions. If the expected increase materializes, the number of persons on the globe in 1965 will have risen by about a billion, or 50 per cent, since 1930.

The fastest rise is expected to take place in Latin America, with a gain of over a fifth by 1965. Western Europe, with an anticipated rise of less than 10 per cent, shows the smallest rate of growth. U. S. population is expected to grow by about 15 per cent by 1965.

Football Boys Honored Friday Night at Annual Banquet By Pep Squad Girls

Football fans, players and pep squad girls, numbering 221, gathered at the school gymnasium last Friday night to pay tribute to the 1955 edition of Munday Moguls. This annual event honoring the football boys is sponsored by members of the pep squad.

The theme for this year's banquet was "Tonight's Game." Glenda Guffey, senior cheer leader, served as toastmistress. Wyman Tidwell gave the invocation; Peggy Thigpen gave the welcome, and Durwood Thigpen made the response.

Dr. W. O. Beasley, vice president of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, was the principal speaker. He made an interesting and inspirational talk on the subject, "The Challenge of Life." He was introduced by Margaret Vandell.

The Mogul Madkats, led by Harold Jackson, band director, provided musical entertainment.

For half-time entertainment Gerald Tidwell, Jerry Lemley, Don Whitworth and Lester Phillips sang, "In the Evening by the Moonlight," the second verse being composed by Gerald Tidwell and Don Whitworth. Their second number was "Seeing Nellie Home."

Santa Claus got impatient after postponement of his visit to Munday last Thursday night—but even Santa Claus didn't know it was going to fair off and be pretty enough for a band concert and everything.

He's a busy man, too, and the postponement of just one visit throws him behind schedule. It's kinda like employees of the Munday Times losing Monday and having to get out the paper on time—doing four days' work in three days.

So Santa has stepped up his visit to Munday that was scheduled for 6 p. m. Friday. He's going to come into town two hours earlier, at 4 p. m. instead, so he can meet all the kiddoes here before supper and get on with his busy schedule.

As previously planned for last Thursday night, Santa will come into town riding one of Munday's big fire trucks. In the parade, too, will be the Munday Mogul Band that will be featured in a 30-minute band concert on the city hall lawn.

Santa will have gifts for the kiddies, and some of the grown-ups will get prizes, too—merchandise certificates from Munday merchants.

It will be an event everyone will want to attend. So be here a little before 4 p. m.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SEA POWER

A very distinguished authority, Admiral Robert B. Carney, formerly Chief of Naval Operations, has contributed a compelling article on "Principles of Sea Power" to the U. S. Naval Institute Proceedings.

In one section, Admiral Carney points out that—difficult as it is for many Americans to believe it—this country is not and never has been a self-sufficient nation. Foreign trade has been a necessity to us from our national beginnings. Today a long list of essential strategic items—chromite, antimony, bauxite, mica, and so on and so on—must be imported, via the seas, from other countries. We are even becoming increasingly dependent on overseas sources for such basic materials as iron ore.

Trade expansion is vitally related to sea power. Our exports and imports both have more than doubled since the pre-World War II era. As Admiral Carney says: "All of the American dollars and human effort being placed in overseas improvement and development for our trans-oceanic friends would be lost if we lost our ability to use the seas."

Sea power, using the term in its broadest aspect, is inextricably a part of our military security and our economic well-being alike. And sea power must have naval and related military forces to keep the sea lanes open to us—along with a large and modern merchant marine, flying the U. S. flag, which can carry our exports to the corners of the world and bring our imports back.

YOU CAN'T WIN $64,000!

The radio-TV program, "The $64,000 Question," has received an enormous amount of publicity. And here's the fact that most people may have overlooked—even though a contestant answers all the tough questions, right to the end, he can't possibly win $64,000.

He'll get a perfectly good check for that amount, of course. But—assuming he is a single man earning $4,000 a year—the check would have to total $48,711 before he'd have $64,000 to keep for himself, free and clear.

Why? The answer is: The federal income tax. It goes up so far and so fast that it becomes virtually confiscatory in upper brackets. A man who does take the long chances and wins the $64,000, actually gets to keep about $25,000—well under half.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

OUR PLEA

The basic plea being made by churches of Christ is the restoring of New Testament Christianity in its purity and simplicity. Since we have the inspired word of God to direct us in each age we can know the principles and examples which came from Christ, God's Son. Our worship reflects this basic plea.

For example we observe the Lord's Supper as a vital part of our worship each Lord's day as we have the approved example in Acts 20:7. The early church practiced this. Each worshipper is given an opportunity to partake of both the fruit of the vine and the bread, which represent the blood and body of our Lord. "Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread and drink of the cup" (1 Cor. 11:28).

Each Lord's day a collection is taken (1 Cor. 16:2). Each Christian is encouraged to give cheerfully as he has been prospered (2 Cor. 8:10-11; 9:2). The Jews under the law were required to give a tenth. Christians are not under the law, but under Christ. They should not be demanded to give a certain amount as a matter of law, but certainly should give even more liberally than the Jews as a matter of love. It is more blessed to give than to receive.

Music in our worship is vocal. The New Testament teaches us that every Christian should sing and make melody in his heart (Eph. 5:19; Col. 3:16). We do not use instrumental music in worship because it is not commanded and we have no approved example of its use in the New Testament church. As one scholar put it: "Instrumental music was conspicuous by its absence in the first century church." They came into general use in worship in the fifth century after Christ. We want to get back to the purest form of Christianity.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Finds Out Solution To The Farm Problem, But It Won't Be Any Simple Matter

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has been thinking about the farm problem again, but the problem is still here.

Dear editor:
Secretary of Agriculture Benson has called on "everybody" to send him some answers to the farm price problem, so I brought the matter up at the meeting around a stove during the cold snap last week and here are some of the ideas I picked up, and Sec. Benson is welcome to them:

(4) "Won't work. All it'd do is bring on a depression for the tractor manufacturers. The thing to do is put all the white collar farm experts and professional agriculturists at work farming. Nothing will produce a scarcity faster than that."
(5) "What about this soil bank idea? Take a tenth of the land out of cultivation, build up the soil's fertility and hold it in readiness until the country's population doubles."
(6) "Won't work. It'd work all right maybe if you could get Mexico, South America, Brazil, etc. to join up, but you cut down on production in the U. S. and production on every scrap of land elsewhere on earth will be doubled. Every time the U. S. cuts production by 1 acre, Brazil steps hers up by 4."

As you can see, this area is pretty well divided on the solution to the farm problem, and if the rest of the country is in the same shape, you can understand how it's hard for me to understand how anybody would want the job of finding an answer. Secretary Benson is welcome to his job. I don't think anybody out here wants it.
Yours faithfully,

Experts Getting Busy On The Farm Problem

FORT WORTH—One of the big guns of the advertising and public relations business is currently conducting a mail poll out of Chicago. The fact this firm is centering their survey in the politically sensitive Midwest is significant.

They are asking questions about government support programs for hogs and cattle. They also are asking what percentage of parity farm supports should be leveled upon, and whether the old corn-hog ratio should be used in arriving at support levels.

Watch for news on this. Big question is "Who launched this effort to get farm problem answers?" One thing sure, they've people working on it that are experts at finding answers for the knotty problems that have been handed them before.

For a long time it looked like the "farm problem" was sort of like Mark Twain said the weather was—everybody talking and nobody doing anything much. A lot of the farmers' grief has been blamed on poor public relations which led to apathetic interest in his woes from city folks.

Well, they've got a real public relations outfit on the farm problem now. Gonna be interestin'. Very, very interestin'!

Mature Fed Steers Weak, Other Cattle, Calves Steady

Heavy fed steers of 1,000 pounds and above found the market weak to 50 cents lower or more at Fort Worth Monday. Fat cows held steady, and canners and cutters were strong to 25 cents up. Bulls ruled fully steady. Slaughter were steady to strong, some good and choice kinds a little higher. Stockers were steady throughout.

Comparative prices: Good to choice fed yearlings and heifers $17-21.50. Latter price for a package of yearling steers from Ferris Brick Company, Ferris (Ellis County), Texas, indicates they can build choice fat cattle as well as better bricks, I reckon! Fed big steers able to sell above $18.50. Common to medium steers and yearlings $11-16. Fat cows $9.50-11.50; canners and cutters $7-10. Bulls $9.50-13. Good to choice fat calves $16-19; cull, common and medium butcher calves $9-15.50. Stocker steers $15-18.50, few higher; and steer yearlings $17.50 down; replacement cows $8-12.

Hogs Open Steady to 25c Higher; Run Is Lighter

Twelve major markets Monday reported over 2,000 fewer hogs than a week earlier, and at Fort Worth Monday butcher hogs and sows sold steady to 25 cents higher. Spread between top butchers and sows was again very, very narrow as only $1 per hundred separated them.

Top hogs $12 to $12.25, less desirable weights and kinds $10.50-12. Sows $10-11.25.

Lamb Top $18.25 for No. 1 Pelts, Ewes 25 to 50 Up

Slaughter lambs were strong, and feeder lambs fully steady at Fort Worth Monday. Old ewes sold 25 to 50 cents higher. Good and choice fat lambs sold from $17 to $18.25, the top price for a load weighing 85 pounds from W. H. Bacon, Belton (Bell County), Texas, which carried No. 1 pelts. At this time a shorn lamb with No. 1 or No. 2 pelt seems as attractive to packers as a longer pelt, a situation that is unusual and may not last long

Texas State 4-H Winners Named

FOUR Texas 4-H Club members have won state honors in the 1955 Beautification of Home Grounds, and Dairy Foods Demonstration programs. The winners were awarded 19-jewel wrist watches for their achievements.

Mary Pazzi, 18, of Victoria, is the 1955 State winner in the 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds program. Her 19-jewel wrist watch was provided by Mrs. Charles R. Walgren of Chicago.

During her six years in club work, Mary Dolores improved the family's home surroundings by laying sidewalks, tearing down an old shed, replacing flower beds with shrubs, and making a new porch. Bushes were dug up, divided and replanted, trees set out and bulbs and annuals planted. Mary leveled the ground, spread sand and planted grass. She is recreation and junior leader of the Victoria County-Wide 4-H Club led by Mrs. B. B. Payne.

The State winners in the 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration program are Ives June Casey, 16, of Rule, who gave the winning individual demonstration, and the team of Barbara Benson, 17, and Mary Bockholt, 18, both of Robstown, who won in the team demonstration division. Each of the girls received a 19-jewel wrist watch from the Carnation Company.

Ives June, under the leadership of Mrs. H. Russell, presented a "Calories Count" as her winning demonstration. She carried 10 other projects, made 22 dairy foods exhibits, and was enough for you to read this comment. Medium and low grade lambs sold at $12-16.50; feeder and stocker lambs largely $14-16, some $17 lambs to packers likely to be sorted and the feeder end to be put in the lot for more finishing. Yearling muttons $10-15.50; old wethers $12 down. Slaughter ewes mostly $6-7.50, with those suitable for breeders sorted off at $8-9.

Meat-Type Hogs Get Biggest Boost Yet

The new leaner pork trim being applied to primary pork cuts by major packers, if maintained, spells the doom of the overfat and fat-backed type hog. The excessive lard which packers will be trimming off will some result in orders to their buyers to pay a premium for the hog that will produce lean pork and penalize the overfat hogs to take care of the higher prices for better hogs.

This will revolutionize hog buying practice all over the nation and probably will eventually eliminate the practice of buying hogs according to weight differentials. The old idea that "pigs is pigs" will give way to selling hogs, and buying them, on merit and quality. Breeders of meaty type hogs will profit and get the premium prices to which they have been entitled all the time.

The FAIR Store

A good many years ago, there lived in a Texas town a man who owned a general store and a cotton gin. One season, what with the drouth and the boll weevil, the county's cotton crop was almost a complete failure.

A farmer drove into town with a load of cotton—all he had to show for a year's work. There were a number of vehicles in line awaiting their turn so he left his boy in charge. From some cause (perhaps the farmer, in lighting his pipe, had been careless with the match), the cotton caught fire and, when the blaze was put out, the load was a sodden mass.

Sadly, the farmer climbed into the seat to drive back to his place when the gin owner hurried up and said, "Bill, where do you think you are going? Don't you know that when a man drives in to my ginyard, the cotton is mine?" And he counted out the full price for that load of worthless cotton.

There was truly a man who believed in, and practiced, the Golden Rule.

Writers are not the best judges of their own writings.

A Conan Doyle rather regretted that he had ever written about Sherlock Holmes. He tired of the character, "killed" him and had to bring him back because of public demand. Doyle considered his historical novels his finest work.

Washington Irving believed his foremost productions were his elaborate biographies, the result of much research. The world does not read them but will always read "Rip Van Winkle".

Why have bakers practically quit putting cinnamon in pies? The rich brown adds an appealing touch to the sight, imparts an aroma and gives a spicy flavor.

For a number of years, I had a radio network program. The stations belonged to NBC, I believe. I was not permitted to make mention of any radio personality, even though his name was a household word, if he was on the other network. And yet folks think the ostrich is silly!

Perhaps, however, radio has grown up now and permits mention of Crosby, Benny and Charlie McCarthy even though they're not on that network.

A brand new service for Texas dairymen has been announced by Extension Dairy Husbandman R. E. Burlison and A. M. Meekman. They call it "Herd Sire Analysis". Local county agents have the details. It is offered as an aid to help take some of the guess out of herd sire selections.

30-Minute Workbench

NOWADAYS, with do-it-yourself projects a "must" in nearly every household, a workbench is essential. It needn't be pretentious or large. Give the man a vise, hammer, saw and chisel, and he'll soon be in business at his workbench fixing up his home the way he (and the missus) want it!

A simple, strong workbench can be assembled in 30 minutes, using pre-cut lumber and panels.

of Masonite 1/2" Tempered Presdwood for the wearing surface and a storage shelf below. An easy-to-follow plan showing how it's done and listing the materials needed from your lumber yard may be obtained by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting free plan No. AE-312.

Instructions are given, too, for framing and hanging a Masonite "Peg-Board" panel above the workbench for tools.

In most communities, the materials needed for the 30-minute workbench will cost under $15. The bench may be fastened together with nails or screws. The top surface is Tempered Presdwood, popular for this use because it has been found so satisfactory in industry.

Burning Of Gin Trash Wasteful In Many Ways

There is a simple and practical answer to the fire problem which confronts cotton ginner and farmers during every harvest season. A majority of the destructive fires originate from sparks blown from bur burners or bur pits, says F. C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist, eliminate these hazards and the problem is pretty well whipped, he says.

He strongly recommends that cotton burs be returned to the land. Each ton of gin waste contains about $7 worth of plant food to say nothing of its value for adding needed organic matter to the soil. This organic matter greatly increases the water holding capacity of the soil and helps make it more drouth resistant. Elliott says that tests conducted on the Spur Experiment Sta-

TEXAS FARMERS ASK RIGID PRICE SUPPORTS

Texas farmers recently had a rare opportunity to tell federal farm policy makers what they believe is behind the critical decline of farm income.

Almost without exception they asked for a return to rigid price supports of at least 90 per cent of parity on all basic commodities.

Appearing before the U. S. Senate Agriculture Committee at a Fort Worth hearing some 67 farm witnesses from all over the state gave a word picture of stifling financial conditions.

In general, testimony showed that farmers realize their personal share of the responsibility in making a farm program work. But they were unanimous in their feelings that the present farm program is not working and should be changed.

Representatives of all phases of Texas agriculture—from peanuts to livestock—gave graphic illustrations of how their products had decreased in value while their expenses had increased by leaps and bounds.

I think the over-all sentiments were rather representative of farm thinking in Texas today.

Cushions Are Loaded and Nobody Walks — — —

CHEVROLET SCORES WITH NEW NINE-SEATER

It takes nine for a baseball team and that's the number of passengers who can be accommodated in two new Chevrolet station wagons for 1955. Just to illustrate the point, the Queens, a girls' baseball team from Flint, Mich., climbed into the new car and found plenty of room left behind the third seat for equipment. This is one of six Chevrolet station wagons.

Those witnesses who appeared are to be congratulated on their willingness to travel—some for great distances—to attend this important meeting.

After talking with the Senators present, I feel certain that the farmers' pleas did not fall on deaf ears. Whether or not these hard-working, sincere men are able to put their findings into actual practice through enactment of a sound farm program remains to be seen.

However, my temperature soared to a new high when I learned that backers of the present farm program are branding these farm-level hearings as a "smear campaign of immense proportions."

The Texas hearings were examples of Democracy in action. If the value of honest public opinion is to be so grossly underestimated, overtones from the abuse to farmers are sure to be felt in other segments of our population.

The three points foremost in the minds of most witnesses at the meeting will be presented in this column next week.

U. S. farm exports during the first quarter (July-September) of the current fiscal year are valued at about $720 million, which is 20 percent more than for the same period of last year. The value of cotton exports is estimated at $40 million, or about one-third as large as a year earlier.

Munday Girl Is Nominated For Beauty Contest

ABILENE, (Special) — Julie Massey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Massey of Munday, has been nominated as one of the 15 most beautiful girls at McMurry College by her classmates.

A beauty contest was held at the college Tuesday, November 29, in which Julie and the other 14 candidates were interviewed by a judging panel of seven Abilene men.

The girls were judged on such qualities as beauty, charm, graciousness, poise and personality. From the group of 15 McMurry belles, the judges picked the eight most beautiful, who will be featured with full-page pictures in the 1956 Totem, McMurry yearbook.

Identity of the eight most beautiful girls at McMurry will remain a secret until publication of the yearbook next spring. The seven runners-up will also be pictured in the beauty section.

Miss Massey, a 1953 graduate of Munday High School, is an Elementary Education major. In 1955 she was McMurry football sweetheart. She has served as secretary of the Sophomore class and has been a Totem Beauty for two years.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Welch of Wichita Falls are announcing the birth of a daughter, Jan Laynette, on November 19. She has two sisters, Cindy, 4½ years, and Rose Ann, 3 years old.

Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendrix of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Welch of Gilliland.

Miss Joann Ejems, W. E. Stovall, Jr. Marry Saturday

Miss Joann Ejems, daughter of Joe Ejems and the late Mrs. Ejems of Weinert, became the bride of W. E. Stovall, Jr., of Munday in a double ring ceremony held on Saturday evening, December 3, in the home of Rev. Layton of Weinert, who officiated.

Mr. Stovall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stovall of Munday.

Members of the Munday Home Demonstration Club were invited into the home of Mrs. Joe Patterson on Wednesday, December 7, for their annual Christmas party.

A covered dish luncheon, which composed a real holiday meal, was enjoyed at 1 p. m., after which a party of singing Christmas carols and poems really gave each one the true meaning of the Yuletide.

The ladies have started saving their dimes for the "March of Dimes."

The party ended with an exchange of gifts. Members present were Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, J. O. Tynes, Frank Bowley, Buster Pape, Johnny Peysen, Fred Lain, Dick Moore, S. G. Smith and the hosts.

Blackboard Helps Learning

THE skills learned at school, like writing, can be improved and enjoyed at home, too, especially if the youngster has a wall blackboard like the one illustrated.

Any Dad can make a blackboard and install it. The cost is low and the work is simple. Just get a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood from the lumber dealer, give it a coat of blackboard paint and attach it to the Wainscot of the room either with screws fitted through drilled holes and attached to wall studs or with a wallboard adhesive.

Instead of just one panel, as illustrated, the entire wainscot on one side of the room may be lined with the Tempered Presdwood and covered with a chalkboard material. That way, there'll be plenty of room for the writing and art work of the beginning pupil and her friends, too.

While Dad's making a blackboard for his daughter, or son, he might as well make one for Mother, who can use it to advantage in the kitchen. There it can be hung on a nail.

When a blackboard's so simple to make on smooth, splinter-free hardboard, there's no excuse for wanting one wherever it's needed.

Letters From The People

Editor's Note: Mrs. Paul Jones, wife of Col. Paul A. Jones, who is now stationed in Japan, recently wrote his mother, Mrs. Ed Jones of Goree, who gave permission to reprint the following description of Japan and her people.

The people tell us there will be Christmas trees, but very few, and to get one as soon as we can. The PX had a lot of decorations, but it doesn't seem Christmas without department store windows, street decorations and hymns from the church. I've celebrated Christmas in Germany and Japan, but I like it best in the good old U. S. A.

This country is very interesting however. A typical Japanese house has no furniture, and they sit on pillows. They do have a low table to eat on and it is known as a chow bench. Their stove is a sunken hibachi which is an iron pot in the earth of their cooking room. Only the wealthy have refrigerators, and every afternoon the Japanese housewife buys food for the evening meal and what is left over they eat for breakfast. Their beds are quite like mats which are rolled up and put away during the daytime. It is true that one does not wear shoes inside the house, and their floors are all covered with straw mats known as tatami.

I was thinking about telling you next about tabis, which is a sock-like bedroom slipper with a separate place for the big toe, which they wear inside their houses instead of shoes.

When we took a train to Yokuska, we saw the farmers harvesting their rice in water fields that were waist deep. They hang it up to dry in clumps, like tobacco.

Japanese children are so cute, especially when they are all dressed up in gay kimonos on festival days. Small babies are carried papoose style under their mother's kimono. If they cry their mother just jostles them a bit and they rest their little sleepy heads on her back.

There is one tremendous difference which makes Japan the horrible smelling country that it is. They do not have western style flush toilets, but theirs is a tiled receptacle in the floor. Most homes do not have a sewerage system, so little men with dippers remove this stuff into wooden buckets and carry it to farmers who use it to fertilize their gardens. Well, it took me a good two months before I could even look at a raw carrot. However, the vegetables which are in our commissary are grown with chemical fertilizer, but, nevertheless, should be well washed and well cooked.

A prominent Japanese doctor who had studied in the states for 16 years called on us last week. We were most anxious to make his acquaintance, as there are very few doctors here and in case of an emergency we might call him. He was most charming and possessed a very good sense of humor.

This is the day before Thanksgiving and our turkey is thawing out in the kitchen. We think of home folks and hope, too, that it

Chicago Trips Won By Texas 4-H'ers

IMPRESSIVE records in the 1955 Dairy, Field Crops, and Safety programs, have won all-expense trips to the 34th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27-Dec. 1, for three Texas 4-H Club members.

Joe Weaver, 20, of Temple, will attend the Club Congress as state winner in Field Crops. His trip is provided by the Nitrogen Division of Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. Joe was able to achieve this recognition through careful attention to crop production practices, such as soil management, selection and treatment of seed, proper tillage and insect and disease control.

Joe has given demonstrations on Cotton Defoliation. He was first high individual. He gave the demonstration at the H & H Club at Texas A & M, and won second place.

He also won awards on his other projects. Since joining the club he has made seven radio and two television appearances.

Leah Ann Patton, 18, of San Antonio, is the 1955 State 4-H Safety winner. Her outstanding achievements have earned the General Motors trip award to the Club Congress.

During a six-year 4-H career, Leah helped make her community more safety conscious by means of surveys, demonstrations and other aids, under the guidance of Mrs. R. Cook, her local 4-H leader. Leah made her first safety survey in her own home and yard and was surprised to find so many hazards in a place she thought was safe.

She warns about faded labels on medicine bottles, tools left in the yard and stresses the importance of keeping guns locked in a special cabinet.

Leah has given four radio talks and has appeared eight times on television. One of her demonstrations was "Treatment for Snake Bites," and another on "Family Fire Control."

Ezekiel Grogan, 21, of Longview, is the 1955 State Dairy Winner. He will be a member of the Texas delegation to the Club Congress. Funds for the trip are provided by the Larro SureFeed Division of General Mills. A 4-H Club member for 11 years, Ezekiel has an outstanding record in dairy production and management.

Ezekiel started his project in 1945 with one heifer. By 1955, he had enlarged his herd to 96 head, including 58 cows in production.

In 1948, the young dairyman took over the operation of the family farm after his father was disabled. He improved pastures, revised the crop rotation plan, and increased the number of livestock.

In 1951, Ezekiel, with the help of his brother, built a new dairy barn. A year later, he mortgaged his holdings and purchased 30 additional cows. He followed a careful culling program, and rented additional land to supply the needed feed.

In spite of the fact Ezekiel carries on a one-man operation on his dairy farm, he is getting his college education. He graduated from Kilgore Junior College in 1954, and that fall enrolled as a junior at Stephen F. Austin State College. He drives 150 miles a day to attend classes, and continues to operate his dairy.

won't be as long as we think until we can give thanks with you. This is indeed a very interesting experience and rich in its worth for Phillip. He already knows a lot of Japanese words and is learning about their culture in school. He, too, is in excellent health as I keep poking vitamins down everybody, for the corner drug store isn't, and the hospital is a good 40 miles away over bad roads. I am a plumber, doctor, electrician and a few other things besides a housewife."

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Smith attended a dinner at the Baker Hotel in Dallas last Tuesday night honoring the eleven 1955 Master Farmers of Texas. This event is sponsored annually by The Progressive Farmer. Mr. Smith was selected as a Master Farmer in 1953.

First Class Mail May Be Inserted Into Packages

With the peak of the Christmas mailing season just around the corner, Postmaster Lee Haymes today called attention to a new combination mail service which he said many patrons of the Monday Post Office should be interested in. The new service, he explained, allows the presence of a first class letter or other written message inside a package. All that's necessary is to note on the outside of the package that a letter is enclosed and put an additional stamp on the package.

Under the new service letters or other single pieces of First or Third Class mail may be placed inside Fourth Class parcels or inside copies of publications mailed under Second Class mail entry. Letters or other single pieces of First Class mail may also be placed inside Third Class packages.

This means the familiar phrase, "We are sending under separate cover," is no longer necessary, the Postmaster said. In the past it has been impossible to send a letter along with a package only by pasting the letter on the outside of the package and affixing the necessary postage.

This new combination service, which went into effect November 28, meets a genuine need, the Postmaster said. "It is one more improvement to add to the list of more than seventy procedural changes that the present postal management has adopted for the convenience of the public and for the improvement of the postal service."

Postmaster Haymes said the new combination mail service is on a 60-day trial basis. During this period comments of the public will be welcomed.

Mr. Haymes quoted Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield as saying he felt certain most mailers will welcome this more convenient system for mailing different classes of mail together.

"We are here to serve the public," the Postmaster General said, "and we are especially pleased that we can introduce combination mailings before the Christmas season when so many Americans depend upon the Department for delivery of their gifts and personal messages."

Among the postal patrons needing to send two classes of mail together, the Postmaster also cited business firms sending substitute products and wanting to explain why that was done; magazine publishers sending gift certificates naming the donor with first copies of their publications to new subscribers; manufacturers sending operational, or maintenance, and repair instructions with household appliances; and companies including sales letters with samples of merchandise.

FHA Emergency Loan Program Is Extended To 1956

The Farmers Home Administration emergency loan program has been extended in Texas for the 1956 crop year, according to Walter T. McKay, the agency's state director.

McKay stated that authorization for the extension was given by Secretary of Agriculture Benson in keeping with the Department of Agriculture's policy of continuing emergency assistance measures where necessary.

Under the extension of the program, loans will be made through December 31, 1956. Loans may be made in all counties in the State except in the 57 West Texas counties designated on September 15, 1955, for the Great Plains Special Credit Program.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1955, emergency loans totaling more than $33,000,000.00 were made to Texas farmers and ranchers. Considering the prolonged drought conditions, collections on these loans are very good, McKay stated.

Emergency loans are made in areas where the Secretary of Agriculture finds that there is a need for credit that is not available from other sources. The need may be due to the damage done by a natural disaster, such as drought, flood or hurricane, or to economic reasons.

To be eligible for an emergency loan, a farmer or rancher must be unable to obtain the credit he needs from any other source. In addition, he must be engaged primarily in farming, have suitable farming experience and reasonable prospects for success in the farming operation he plans to carry on with the loan.

Emergency loans are made to finance normal operations. Loan funds can be used to purchase feed, seed, fertilizer, farm and home supplies; and replacement machinery and livestock.

Repayments are scheduled according to the borrower's ability to repay. Ordinarily, loans secured by liens on chattel property are scheduled for repayment within one to five years. Loans for crop production are due when the crop is harvested.

Applications for emergency loans are made at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. The local county Farmers Home Administration Committee determines the eligibility of applicants for these emergency loans.

Activities of The Colored People

We wish to thank our colored friends for their wonderful help last week in our drive for funds for repairing our church. $62.49 was raised.

Church services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Church of God in Christ Church with Rev. W. W. Fields, district superintendent, of Coleman, Rev. J. L. Bennett of Abilene, Rev. J. L. Shellman, pastor of West Beulah Baptist Church and Elder Sylvester Sanders of Munday taking part in the services in order to raise funds.

We are again asking our white friends for donations and we have a building fund at the First National Bank where you can leave your contribution or you may call 6821 or 2791 and we will pick up your donation. We want to thank Dr. R. L. Newson, who gave us $5.00.

FOOD... through the ages...

In the early 1800's the colonial tavern became the American hotel—with strange results.

Many discriminating 19th century families, dreading such primitive manners and accommodations, stayed home or vacationed in Europe.

Everything's charming!

Today's globe-leading American hotels—large and small—feature exquisite food from ultra-modern kitchens, planned by the world's top chefs.

Competitive 19th century hotel menus offered 50 to 100 dishes and the American plan included lodging and the vast menu.

Gone—summoned guests stampeded to long tables, gorged rapidly and left without social conversation.

Hungry?

Too noisy to converse!

HOW A TRUST CAN SERVE YOU

When property is placed in trust it is turned over to a trustee who will see to it that it is properly managed for the benefit of a person or persons you name as beneficiaries. It is a method of disposing of your property and may be used in conjunction with a will.

Trusts have many advantages. A trust may be used to provide income for persons unable to support themselves, to provide funds for a child's education, as a means of establishing an annuity, or to provide a gift for a charitable institution.

In these days of high taxes, a trust may be utilized to minimize the tax burden. If carefully planned, a trust may decrease income and inheritance taxes.

A trust arrangement works roughly in this manner. A person who desires to create a trust is called a grantor. The grantor chooses a trustee. The trustee may be a bank, an individual, or a trust company. The grantor through a trust instrument tells the trustee how to distribute the trust property or income. The trustee will then manage and distribute the trust proceeds or property in whatever manner the grantor desires.

A very common arrangement is to place the property in trust with directions to pay the income from the property to a wife for her life, and on her death the trust is to end and the property is to be distributed to the grantor's children.

An interesting type of trust is that which is sometimes called a spendthrift trust. This is an arrangement whereby one sets up a certain sum of money to be given out to another at a definite rate per month or per year, or under definite restrictions.

This type of trust is generally used in wills where a person desires to leave money to an individual, but feels that the individual is not capable of properly caring for the money and that if left to them in full that the party receiving the money will spend and waste the money and not receive the maximum benefit from it.

Trust property quite often consists of securities. The law regulates the type of property in which trust funds may be invested. However, the grantor may designate the type of investments the trustee may make.

The effectiveness of a trust is dependent largely on its proper creation. To avoid the pitfalls and dangers of lawsuits and ineffective trust operations, a trust instrument should be properly prepared. A poorly planned or carelessly drawn trust instrument can not only defeat the objectives of its creator, but may prove costly as well.

Your lawyer can advise you whether a trust arrangement will be advantageous in your particular situation, and is qualified by education and experience to prepare properly the legal papers necessary to set up a trust. If you have in mind some bank or trust company to act as trustee, that firm's trust officers will be glad to discuss the matter in a conference with you and your attorney.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform and to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCall and Debbie spent last Saturday in Lubbock, visiting with friends and relatives. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Rose Jones, who had been in Lubbock at the bedside of her granddaughters, Jeri and Margaret Clements, who underwent tonsilectomies last week.

Miss Marguerite Hammett of Abilene spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. George Hammett.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Briley of Sweetwater were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hawkins and Jan.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Texans lose 170 million dollars every year on account of rats. They destroy and waste large quantities of food and are responsible for the spread of certain diseases to humans. "There is just one thing to do about rats," declares Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, "and that is get rid of them."

Rats have been found to spread infectious hepatitis (jaundice), rabies, typhus fever, rat bite fever, dysentery and other diseases. More eggs, chickens and small game are destroyed by rats than by all other animals. Sometimes they start destructive fires by gnawing wires and short circuiting them.

Exterminating rats is an endless process. If your building is not soundly protected against additional invasions. New buildings should be made rat-proof, and old ones can be made so at reasonable expense. Building rats out is a whole lot cheaper than having them around. Solid concrete or heavy metal are about the only materials that keep rats from entering a building, and unless foundations extend about two feet under ground, rats can burrow underneath. You certainly cannot trust to luck—the rat is too clever and aggressive for that.

Red Squill is one of the poisons commonly used to kill rats, but this poison is not only death on rats, it is deadly for humans too. Warfarin is a comparatively new poison designed for killing rats—but it, too, is equally dangerous to humans. Both these poisons must be handled very carefully, and put out where neither children nor pets can get near them. Any kind of such poison must be stored in very safe places too.

If rats were starved out, by rat-proof construction, and with complete sanitation in our communities—around our homes and places of business, and all wastes and trash were properly disposed of in sanitary land-fills—we would make an enormous economic saving and eliminate a real threat to health.

Capt. Howard Honeycut of Waco spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Cecil Honeycut.

Mr. and Mrs. Derald Gray of Hale Center visited relatives and friends here over the week end. They also moved their household goods to Hale Center, where they are making their home.

Miss Shirley McAfee of Wichita Falls visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McAfee, over the week end.

New Postal Regulations Talked At Supervisors Meeting Held In Haskell

New postal regulations which went into effect early in December were discussed at length last Saturday at the quarterly meeting of the Postmasters and Post Office Supervisors Association of the 19th Congressional District held at Haskell. The regulations going into effect were embodied in Public Law No. 68 enacted at the last session of Congress.

Registering for the meeting were postmasters and supervisors, their wives and guests, from 31 towns in the 19th district, and post office inspectors from Abilene, Wichita Falls and Lubbock.

Also attending as guests were several rural route carriers in this area, members of the Brazos Valley Postal Workers Association.

Levelland Picked

In the opening business session held in the elementary school auditorium Levelland was selected as the site for the next meeting to be held the third Saturday in March 1956.

Postmaster Don Quinlan of Idalou is president of the association. Two discussion sections were held with postmasters in first and second class post offices in a group presided over by Inspector V. E. Bell of Lubbock. Presiding on the panel of the group from third and fourth class post offices was Inspector W. A. Foster of Abilene.

The new law becoming effective today carries a 6 percent increase in pay for postal workers and reclassifies working hours and pay rates for substitute and temporary postal workers.

Pay periods are also changed for all workers, including postmasters. Under old regulations postal workers were paid semi-monthly on the 15th and at the end of the calendar month.

Under new regulations workers are paid on Saturday every two weeks. Because the last pay period was Nov. 30, and effective date of the new law carrying a 6 percent increase was Saturday, one question posed was the pay scale to be used for the two days, Dec. 1 and Dec. 2. Opinion of inspectors was that the old hourly pay rate would prevail.

2-Hour Minimum

Another new regulation provides that substitute clerks or extraworkers must be paid for a minimum of two hours even if a lesser time period is worked. For example, Inspector Foster explained, a substitute clerk working 30 minutes during the morning and 30 minutes during the afternoon would have to be paid for two hours.

Other questions concerning new regulations dealt with the new type of money orders and numerous other changed forms.

"A lot of these problems," Inspector Foster explained, "will have to be threshed out and clarified by regional officials and this information will be included in future postal bulletins."

Concerning news releases from the department, one postmaster who said the newspaper in his town would not use the releases, brought comment from Inspector Bell that postmasters should use care in selecting only timely and important releases in asking for newspaper publicity.

"We have had wonderful cooperation from nearly all the newspapers in my territory," Bell said.

Wives Entertained

During the business session for postmasters, their wives were guests at a tea and book review at the Magazine Club hosted by the Brazos Valley Association. Mrs. Arlos Weaver, English teacher in Haskell High School, reviewed the autobiography of George Burns, "I Love Her, That's Why." Tea hostesses were Mmes. Lee Haymes of Munday, S. G. Hampton of Goree, Jeff Graham of Knox City, Harold Spain of Haskell, Pete Frierson of Haskell and Miss Mamie Jones of Haskell.

The meeting closed with a banquet served by the home economics class of the high school.

Haskell Postmaster Harold Spain was toastmaster. Dinner speaker was Inspector Bell. Miss Glenda Givens, a junior in Knox City High school, was soloist in vocal numbers during the banquet with Mrs. Kenneth Myers of Knox City accompanying at the piano.

Postal officials introduced at the banquet in addition to those conducting the panels were Inspector A. A. Slingerland of Lubbock and Inspector L. H. Schwoerke of Wichita Falls.

Munday Man In College Work At Mexico College

MEXICO CITY — Donald S. Waheed, son of Mr. Sled Waheed of Munday, Texas, has joined the increasingly popular fall migration to Mexico City College, the only American liberal arts college south of the Rio Grande. This term there are 765 men enrolled and 199 women.

Looking out over Mexico City, site of the ancient Aztec Empire, and across to the snowy slopes of the famous volcano Popocatepetl, the college is a combination of Mexican murals and American campus chatter.

Though cosmopolitan Mexico is no more than a few hours by plane from any part of North America, the perspective of distance allows students to realize fully their own national heritage and to appreciate the customs and living standards of their foreign neighbors.

Waheed graduated from Arthur Hill High School, attended the University of Michigan, and received his B.B.A. degree from Texas Technological College and served three years in the U. S. Air Force in the Far East before coming to Mexico City College, where he is gaining an idiomatic mastery of Spanish and becoming familiar with Latin American customs and culture. He was president of Sigma Nu Fraternity and on the Board of Student Organization in his previous colleges.

Waheed, among a quarterly average of around 900 students from nearly every State in the Union, is studying for the same degree he could receive at home, but has the heightened advantage of living in a foreign atmosphere where the striking contrasts of Mexico range from prehistoric pyramids to some of the most advanced architectural structures in the world.

On the famous Paseo de la Reforma Boulevard in its capital city, or on the cobbled streets of Taxco, in its sophisticated modern ballet or its feathered Indian dances, in its mariachi serenades or the majestic tones of its symphonies, Mexico appeals to every individual in a distinctly different way.

An all-time high for corn production in Texas, 251.5 bushels an acre, has been set by a Lamb county 4-H club boy, Royce Turner. He topped the field in the annual Texas hybrid Corn Production program. Last year his twin brother, Doyce, became the first program participant to break the 200 bushel an acre barrier with a yield of 204.3 bushels. Out of the 118 participants completing their 1955 records, 55 produced in excess of 100 bushels an acre.
