Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

A man walked into a local drug store recently and purchased a supply of cigars.

k-k

"I have just been stopped south of town for speeding, and paid a $25 fine. I asked them when they stopped me how they knew I was speeding, and they said radar said so.

k-k

"This is going to hurt your town," he continued. "People will quit coming through here. This is my last time to come through Munday!"

k-k

This method of thinking, to our mind, is childish, indeed. If vacationers, local people or local legal authorities try to interfere with the state highway departments method of trying to keep down highway accidents and deaths, we believe it is taking the matter too far. And when a motorist blames a town for being picked up for violation of the state's traffic laws, it's a pretty one-sided track his mind is travelling on.

k-k

In telling of the incident, the clerk said: "Guess all of Texas will be hurt, then. The incident could have happened anywhere in Texas."

k-k

If the town can be blamed for action of the highway patrol, then why can't we as citizens be burdened with the blame for the accident that occurred just west of Goree, recently, claiming two lives and demolishing two late model autos?

k-k

This motorist must have thought it was kid stuff as he traveled Texas' highways and saw the sign: "Speed Limits Radar Controlled." Our guess, too, was that he came through Munday quite by accident and never intended to pass through again, regardless of speed laws and fines.

k-k

Sied Waheed says a number of people told him during the week end they hated to see him leave Munday, and the fact had him disturbed. He doesn't know where the idea originated, unless it was moving some of his merchandise away.

k-k

He did move some goods to Morton, where he opened a store. But Sied said he's not leaving town, just expanding. He plans to keep his store here and his home here.

k-k

Next Monday is Labor Day—but it's also an important day for the Munday area—Dollar Day.

k-k

Royce Hardy of Cobb's Department Store had had very successful dollar days on the first Monday of each month for over a year. He's been joined most of the time by Bertha's Babyland and Perry Bros.

k-k

But now, merchants are having dollar day on a more town-wide basis. Fourteen business firms of Munday have come in to make next Monday the first big dollar day for this area, and present plans are to continue the event for a period of several months.

k-k

So come to Munday next Monday. Values will be awaiting you in 14 stores of the town—and merchants will be glad to see you.

k-k

Did you ever see politics? Seems that most of the races over the area were very close ones, and our own governor's race was said to be the closest in history—in fact, so close that the winner wasn't definitely determined until the official count was made.

k-k

It was nearly a photo finish in our own commissioner's race for precinct three, too. J. B. Eubank, Jr., came out winner by only a 17-vote margin over incumbent C. A. Bullion. Races like these are hard on the nerves!

k-k

He took us back and showed us where moisture was showing in the concrete floor. "That's the best barometer in the world," he said. "We'll have falling weather before tomorrow night." Oates Golden was right, for as we stepped on the outside raindrops began falling. That .19 of an inch was not enough, though!

MERCHANTS BEGIN DOLLAR DAYS

County Keeps Good Record In E Bond Purchases

During July the sales of Series "E" United States Savings Bonds in Texas increased 18 per cent Mr. W. E. Braly, Knox County Savings Bonds Chairman announced today. Texans purchased $13,700,543 in Series E and $3,021,000 in Series H Bonds, Mr. Braly continued.

The sales in Knox County for July were $17,606. In Texas sales for the first seven months were $115,029,501 and the sales in Knox County for the same period were $174,158.

Mr. Braly also stated that of the Series E bonds that have matured, over 70 per cent are still being held for the additional option period of nine years and eight months.

Mr. Braly also reminded those people who hold matured F and G bonds that these bonds do not earn interest after maturity and that they should exchange these matured F and G bonds for Series E or the new H, J, and K bonds in order to earn additional interest.

As of August 1 Knox County had reached 54.4 per cent of its quota of $320,000, Mr. Braly concluded.

FHA Officials Discuss Expanded Credit Program

How credit needs of a larger number of farm families can be served by the Farmers Home Administration under recently enacted legislation was discussed at a meeting of agency officials held in Mineral Wells, Aug. 27, 1956.

The new law provides broader authority to assist family-type farmers with loans to improve and operate their farms. It also authorizes, as a part of the rural development program, loans for operating and developing farms where the farmers has part-time employments off the farm. Included in the broader authority are loans for refinancing existing debts, and an increase in the maximum amount that can be advanced for operating loans.

All of the present loan services of the Farmers Home Administration which include loans for the operation, development and purchase of family-type farms, farm housing, soil and water conservation, and loans to meet emergency credit needs will continue to be available.

Taking part in the meeting here were Walter T. McKay, State Director, W. W. White of the Real Estate Branch, John A. Hill of the Production Loan Branch, Marguerite Kennemer of the Administrative Staff, Area Supervisors Marvin Bryan and Oris R. Bruner, and all County Office Staffs in Area 10 and 11.

Attending from Seymour were W. A. Satterwhite, county supervisor; F. L. Smith, assistant supervisor; Alfred A. Harrison, emergency loan supervisor, and Rayleen Pitcock, office clerk.

Misses Donna Haynie and Claire Harpham spent Tuesday night with Miss Haynie's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. White, in Rule.

Fourteen business firms of Munday are uniting their efforts this week to bring the people of the Munday trade area one big day of outstanding values—Monday, September 3rd—when they hold their first big Dollar Day event.

For a period of a little over a year, some of Munday's firms have had successful dollar days, these being on the first Monday of each month. Leading this event has been Cobb's Department Store, and the manager, Royce Hardy, has stated this monthly event has been very successful. Most of the time during this period, Perry Bros. and Bertha's Babyland have joined in the first Monday dollar day.

The September 3rd event will be the first in which a number of merchants have joined together in making this more of a town-wide event, and they are offering some good bargains for next Monday.

"This is an effort to encourage people of this trade area to buy at home," the merchants stated, "and to prove to them that their dollars will buy just as much in Munday as anywhere else. We want the people of our trade area to visit us next Monday and take advantage of this special event."

Local business firms featuring specials for Dollar Day are: Cobb's Department Store, Atkinson's Food Store, The Fair Store, Campbell Variety Store, Perry Bros., The Friendly Store, Whitworth Army Store, Kay's Department Store, Bertha's Babyland, Nora's Dress Shop, Kemletz and Carl, Elland's Drug Store, The Rexall Store and Reid's Hardware.

County Included Under State Hay; Roughage Program

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, today advised Wilburn A. Satterwhite, FHA County Supervisor, of the designation of Knox County under the Hay and Roughage Program for Texas.

Applications to participate in the Hay and Roughage program will be received by the county Farmers Home Administration committee, John H. Atterbury, B. E. Smith, and Earl A. Burgess, at the A. S. C. office located in Knox County, Texas, immediately.

The Hay and Roughage Program was worked out between the Governor and the Secretary of Agriculture to provide emergency assistance to farmers and ranchers in the State's designated disaster counties. Under the program the local county FHA Committee will determine each applicant's eligibility and will issue a certificate good for $7.50 per ton on roughage actually purchased. The applicant will then apply the purchase price of roughage from any dealer he chooses. The dealer endorses the certificate and draws on the Emergency Drought Committee's account.

Applications may be filed through Dec. 3, 1956 for a supply of roughage needed to last through Dec. 31, 1956. Roughage under the program includes hay either baled or loose, cotton seed hulls, peanut hulls, corn cobs, sorghum bundles or ensilage.

WHEN WE GO SHOPPING

The cost of living has been the news again. The government's official index recently climbed fractionally to an all-time high. One reason was a rise in food prices.

However, before you angrily decide that someone is extorting you when you go shopping, a few more facts should be taken into consideration: The National Association of Food Chains reports that food prices are still nearly three per cent below the 1952 peak, and that the average factory worker's take-home pay will buy him from 15 to 18 per cent more food now than it did in that prior year.

When prices rise, we tend to blame the retailer. That's a human failing—he's the man who sells us the goods and takes our money. But the fact is that a very small part of what we spend at retail does more than pass through his hands. Food chains, for instance, commonly earn a profit of about one cent on each sales dollar. Other kinds of stores earn three or four cents, and often less. The rest of the money goes for payrolls, supplies, rents, taxes, and so on.

There is still another factor that demands consideration in any price discussion. This is the tremendous change that has taken place in recent years in processing. We see it in its most dramatic form in foods which come to us in virtually a ready-for-the-table stage, and demand a minimum of time and work on the part of the housewife. Advanced processing of this nature requires much labor and costs money, and the consumer must pay for it.

We get top value when we go shopping—thanks in large part to our highly competitive mass distribution system.

BOONE, IOWA, NEWS-REPUBLICAN: "More and more of America's cooking is being done, not in the family kitchen, but by food processors. Even on the farm, where good home cooking is traditional, easy-to-prepare foods from the supermarkets and grocery stores are making substantial inroads. . . . Much has been made of the do-it-yourself rage in this country. But the trend in the nation's kitchens is exactly the opposite."

FORT PAYNE, ALA. TIMES-NEWS ERA: "Some of the old-timers may remember people who were considered fairly well off in the old days but who would be rated as underprivileged now."

"PROGRESSION"—BUT NOT PROGRESS

We have a progressive federal income tax—which simply means that the more taxable income a man has, the higher the tax rate becomes. Our income tax has also proven "progressive" in still another way.

When the tax first went into effect, a Citizen Public Expenditures Survey reminds us, the highest rate was six per cent—and that applied only to taxable incomes in excess of $500,000.

By 1941, the lowest rate had risen to the six per cent level.

Today the lowest rate is 20 per cent on the first $2,000 of taxable income—and from there the rates "progress" to a high of 91 per cent, which is just nine per cent short of confiscation.

The federal income tax, moreover, is just one of the multitude of taxes we pay. On top of it come social security taxes, excise taxes, state income taxes, school taxes, sales taxes, cigarette taxes, property taxes—and so on ad infinitum. The Survey shows just what this pyramidical tax structure does to people of comparatively small means. Take a man who works a 40-hour week and gets $86 in return for his labors. He works 13 hours and 20 minutes to pay his taxes—as against eight hours to pay for his food, two hours and 35 minutes for clothing, and eight hours and 35 minutes for shelter.

This is "progression" all right—but it certainly isn't progress. We are, in effect, devoting a third or more of our working time to just supporting government. Where will we go from here?

MALTA, MONTANA, NEWS: "We are opposed to any plan for federal intervention in education financing beyond those in which the government is already engaged. . . . We pay a huge price for every service or commodity we receive from Washington."

MANISTIQUE, MICH. PIONEER-TRIBUNE: "Many years ago Abraham Lincoln made the sage observation that government should keep out of those activities where private initiative and effort can do a better job. Of late years there has been an increasingly loud cry for the government to do it. . . ."

PALATKA, FLA. DAILY NEWS: "The advocates of public power are all too ready to disregard the drain on the public pocketbook through taxes."

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

Walking in The Light

Corn will not grow in the shade. All vegetable life requires sunshine. If the light of the sun should become extinct all natural life would perish. John says, "But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin" (1 Jn. 1:7). In the same chapter it is said, "God is light, and in him is no darkness at all". God, through Christ and through his word, is to the spiritual world what the sun is to the natural world. There can be no life and no growth where the light of God does not shine. The Bible is the divine medium of light. To walk in the light means to follow the teaching of the Bible. Where it is said, "In him is no darkness at all," it means that in God there is no ignorance. The Lord is not in the darkness on any subject he knows all things. There is no light in the most brilliant intellect of man. All who walk in human ways walk in darkness. When the way of the Lord is shaded by human wisdom, spiritual light is blighted, and the light of righteousness is withered. When the Israelites decided that their own way was as good as the Lord's way, Israel said, "Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow" (Isa. 50:11). The wisdom of man compares with the wisdom of God as the light of sparks compare with the light of the sun. The light of the sun has revealing power, purifying power and life-giving power. The light of God shows us the way to heaven, purifies our hearts and gives life to our souls.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollis, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Don't assume that a child will outgrow crossed eyes, warns Dr. Henry A. Hollis, Commissioner of Health. Crossed eyes are a serious defect. Vision in the crossed eye may fail to develop and the child will grow up without useful sight in that eye. In later years, the eye may straighten and appear normal, yet the person will be partially blind—often without knowing it.

Various factors may be responsible for crossed eyes: near-or-far-sightedness, faulty muscles and excessive nervous incoordination; a blow on the head; heredity or disease. Any one of these may affect the ability of the two eyes to work together, causing one of the eyes to turn in, out, or upward. As a result, the two eyes are unable to focus on the same object at the same time. The youngster sees double, because his crossed eyes view an object from widely different angles. The child is disturbed, but often too young to explain his difficulty. He squints his eyes and tilts his head, unconsciously trying either to combine the two images into one, or simply to ignore one image altogether. But neither attempt succeeds. So he finally gives up trying to see with both eyes. He subconsciously eliminates the image in one eye, now sees only one image, and actually becomes accustomed to "one-eyed" sight.

The longer a child is cross-eyed, the more difficult it is to improve his vision. If treated early—preferably before the age of four—crossed eyes can usually be corrected. Some forms of treatment can be started as early as the age of one year. And even cross-eyed children up to nine or later can occasionally regain normal sight if they receive competent medical treatment. The specialist may first recommend glasses if the youngster is near-or-far-sighted; in some few cases that alone will

Fed Cattle Due To Pull Stockers & Feeders Up.

FORT WORTH—A glance at cattle and calf prices a year ago on September 1 and those in effect today, appears to augur higher prices for stocker and feeder classes in the near future.

A year ago at Fort Worth fed steers and yearlings of choice grades sold in the $20 to $22 field, as August fades similar cattle are selling in the $22 to $25 bracket here.

Choice stocker steer calves a year ago sold around $19 to $21, and steer yearlings sold at $18 to $19 down. This week similar yearlings are selling from $18 down, and choice steer calves around $18 to $20, possibly more on lightweights in straight loads.

Granted the "spread" between replacement cattle and fat cattle was too narrow a year ago, the spread now appears too great to be maintained when the feed crops get a little closer to "in" in the cornbelt.

This situation could spell a more favorable fall stocker and feeder price range than any had dared hope for earlier.

Prices Again Strong On All Cattle & Calves.

All classes of cattle and calves sold on a strong to higher basis at Fort Worth Monday. Some slaughter steers were 25 to 50 cents higher. Trade was very active, virtually everything sold before noon and weighed shortly after noon. An unusually swift clearance for this time of year and with a heavy run.

Comparative prices: Good and choice steers and yearlings $17.00-23.00. Plain and medium steers and yearlings $12.00-17.00. Rannian yearlings and very common kinds $10.00-12.00. Fat cows $9.00-12.00, few heiferish kinds to $13.00. Cannons and cutters $6.00-9.00. Bulls $9.00-13.00.

Good and choice fat calves all weights $15-$17.50; fancy heavies $17.00-18.50, two loads prime creepfeds from Bonds Ranch, Hicks, Texas, averaged 516 pounds and topped at $19.50. Cull to medium grades $9.00-14.00. Stocker steer calves mostly $15.00-19.00, quotable to $20 or above in choice load lots. Heifers and stocker heifer calves sell $2 to $3 under similar steers. Some good stocker steer yearlings $18 down.

William Bonner And Happy Shahan Judges.

William Bonner of Gainesville and Happy Shahan of Brackettville will serve as judges of the special Aberdeen-Angus Stocker and Feeder at Fort Worth September 7. Both are widely known in cattle circles all over the nation and both are breeders of both commercial and registered cattle.

Hogs Open Strong; Sows Sharply Higher.

Choice butcher hogs topped at $17.50 to $17.75 at Fort Worth Monday. This equals the year's best prices here, and represents a strong to 25 cents higher market. Sows were 50 to 75 cents up and sold at $14 to $15.

This price compares with a top of $17 at Fort Worth just one year ago this week. Sows in this week a year ago sold for $12 to $15. Heavy sows this week are $2 above a year ago.

Lambs Close Lower; Old Ewes Off 25-50 Cents.

Early sales of choice fat lambs were steady and up to a $20 top at Fort Worth Monday. Later sales were 50 cents to $1 off. Some of the lambs selling in the $17 range, were comparable to lambs $1 above that range at the close last week. Slaughter ewes at $3 to $4.50 were 25 to 50 cents under last week.

Feeder lambs sold from $16.50 down. Old wethers $10 to $12. A year ago this week fat lambs topped at $18 to $19.50, and feeder lambs sold from $15 to $17. Slaughter ewes a year ago sold mostly at $5 to $5.50.

Market Holiday On Labor Day

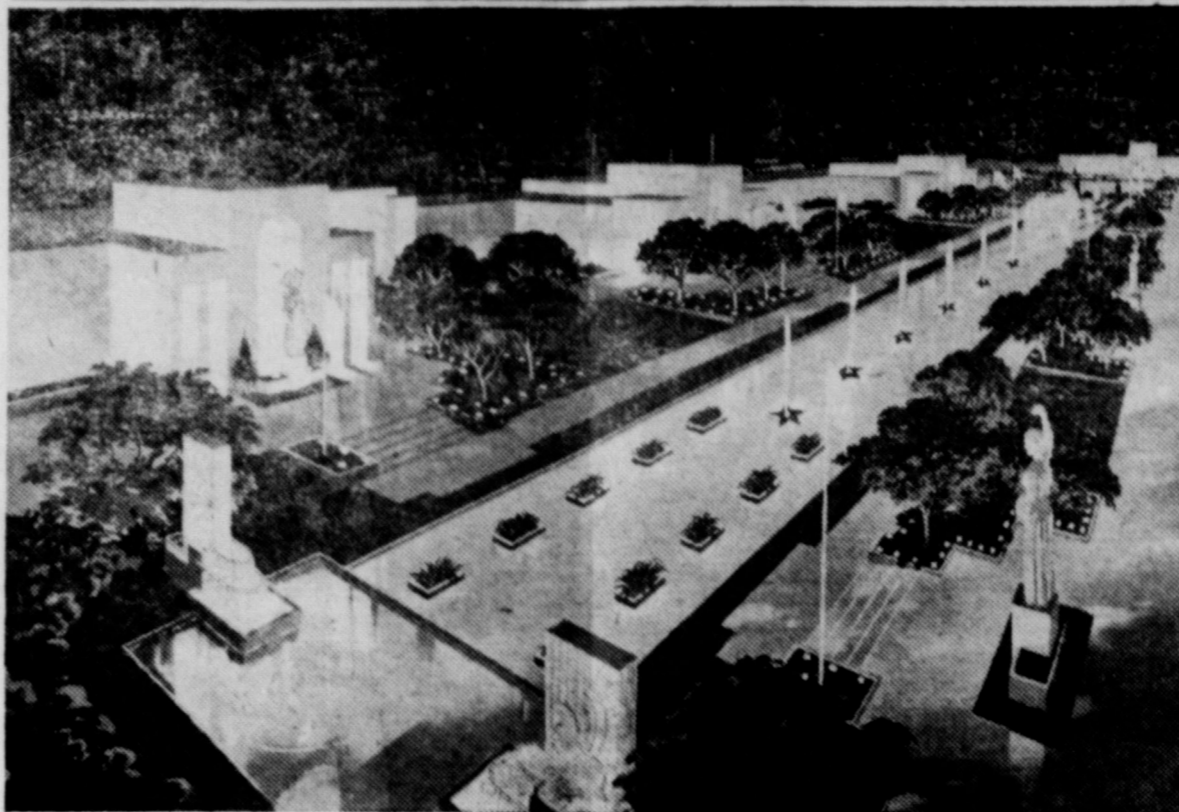

The Fort Worth Livestock Market will observe a holiday on Monday, September 3. Livestock will be received, as usual, and handled as it is on Sunday or other days when trading is closed. The market will be open as usual the following day.

'Esplanade of Light' Planned for Fair

Visitors to the 1956 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21, will be dazzled as they enter the fairgrounds by the brilliant "Esplanade of Light" which will transform the concourse just inside the main gates into a spectacular vista of dramatic illumination and scenic water effects. The lighting will be the most striking since the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936. This artist's impression of how the Esplanade will look at night shows how it will utilize enough electricity to light a small city and a total of 1,772 fountains of water shooting high into the air. The manmade scenic wonder is co-sponsored by the State Fair and Dallas Power and Light Company.

Violators Get Heavy Penalties

Texas Justices of the Peace continue to belabor persons caught telephoning fish, according to the monthly arrest report announced by the Director of Law Enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission.

Six different $200 fines were levied for using the old fashioned magnetotype electrical device to shock and subdue game fish. Costs on each of these cases averaged almost $40.

The individual fine for three Fort Worth men arrested on telephoning counts was $50, with costs added.

Justices of the Peace also moved to discourage night hunting of deer, which shows a seasonal rise this time of the year when the whitetails begin reappearing after the procreation period.

Several $100 fines plus costs were assessed. Three Beeville men caught by game wardens while trying for some pre-season venison paid fines totaling more than $200, in addition to court costs.

Cases filed included a Llano man who was fined $125 for using a wire trap to take fish and having more than the limit; a Houston man fined $25 for running deer with dogs; Pampa man and a Kingsville man each fined $50 for hunting wild turkey in closed season.

It cost a Lake Dallas man $25 for shooting fish with a rifle. The same penalty was assessed against a Longview man, for killing a dove out of season and against a Jayton man for killing a quail.

The monthly bag of persons fishing without a proper license was one hundred eighteen. Usual fine for this charge was $10 plus costs.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rhoads and children were business visitors in Plainview last Sunday.

'OKLAHOMA' MOVES TO HOME DECOR

The popular musical "Oklahoma" has been from Broadway to Paris to Hollywood—and now it's going into the American home via a new group of beautiful decorating fabrics.

A collection of cottons inspired by the famous Rodgers and Hammerstein show recently was introduced to the home furnishings market. The group includes five prints on sailcloth and two coordinated solid cottons. The designs are the work of Oliver Smith, prominent stage and screen set designer. They derive their themes from the colorful Americana settings of the movie.

Scenic prints are called "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "Aunt Eller's," "Oklahoma Sunflower," "Whatnots," and "Laurey's Room."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee warns farmers and their families not to disregard the dangers of heatstroke and heat exhaustion. Hard physical labor in the hot sun or a stuffy place might bring on heat exhaustion in a hurry. Prevention is the best treatment for both.

SUMMER SHORTY

The shorty cotton nightgown is making a hit for summer wear, the National Cotton Council reports. This cotton knit cooler by Carter washes easily and needs no ironing. The all-over print of dozens of rosebuds on a white background is done in either pink, blue, or yellow. The neckline, hemline, and matching bloomer are trimmed with ruffling.

COTTON KNIT MAKES BIG LINGERIE HIT

A lingerie hit of the summer season is cotton knit.

The National Cotton Council reports that the cool, easy-to-care-for material is a favorite of both vacationers and stay-at-homes because it washes and dries with minimum of effort and needs no ironing.

One large manufacturer has designed cool summer lingerie in the same soft, smooth cotton knit used for baby clothes. The knit is printed in tiny violets or rosebuds in soft blues, pinks, or yellows. Another pattern features a vivid geometric diamond print in aqua, blue, or red. Summer sleepwear styles in cotton knit are designed in shorty, full or street length.

Miss Julie Massey Becomes Bride Of Wayne Smith In Church Rites Sunday

In a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Robert H. Lloyd, pastor of the First Baptist Church, at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, August 26, 1956, in the First Methodist Church in Munday, Miss Julie Massey became the bride of Wayne Smith.

Benched candelabra burning white cathedral tapers were centered by a satin covered white iron kneeling bench. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. James H. Bardwell provided organ wedding music. David Arnold of Sweetwater sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer". Miss Nancy Dickson of Abilene read "poems of love" to soft background music played by Mrs. Bardwell, the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tulle dress covered with blue satin, and John Walter Massey, brother of the bride, served as candle lighters.

Paula Pendleton was flower girl. She wore a handmade white organdy with tucks and lace and a full short skirt with a light blue sash. She carried a small white basket filled with rose petals and covered with blue bows.

The two large crystal punch bowls were centered by a large four tiered wedding cake decorated with white and blue flowers, and topped by a miniature bride and groom. Table decorations included the bride's bouquet and the two bridesmaid bouquets. Princess floor baskets of white gladioli flanked the table and a large fan shaped arrangement topped the piano. Miss Pat Bennett of Abilene and Miss DeValva Bartlett of Roswell, N. M. laded the punch and Miss Fredia Harrington, Texico, N. M. and Mrs. Barbara McAlester, Artesia, N. M. served the cake. Mrs. T. Parker, sister of the bridegroom, of Taylor, presided at the musical bride's book playing "Wedding March". Members of the house party were Mmes. Levi Bowden, Bill Gaither, Paul Pendleton, Jimmy Harpham, Joe Bailey King, Lloyd Patterson, O. O. Putman and Misses Claire Harpham, Millie Moore and Nancy Penick.

The bride's traveling costume for her wedding trip to Estes Park, Colo. was a navy silk linen suit, white hat and gloves, navy bag and shoes and white orchid corsage from bridal bouquet. 37 WHEAT SOIL BANK PROGRAM AVAILABLE

The Acreage Reserve program now available for participation by farmers for their 1957 winter wheat crop is the second of four such programs authorized for wheat and the other "basic" crops, according to Robert G. Shrauner, Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Winter wheat growers who wish to take part in the 1957 program should call at the County ASC office and sign an agreement. Applications are expected to be available toward the end of August.

The Soil Bank legislation, enacted late this spring, authorizes such a program for basic crops over a 4-year period, that is, through 1959. Each Acreage Reserve agreement, however, covers the particular crop for only one year at a time. For 1957, the program is being made available early enough so that most farmers should be able to make their plans before planting.

Chairman Shrauner explains that the whole purpose of the Soil Bank's wheat Acreage Reserve is to help farmers reduce the acreage of wheat below acreage allotments, thereby, reducing excessive supplies of the crop. Land "reserved" under the Acreage Reserve may not be cropped or grazed for the period of the contract. For this reduction in his wheat acreage, the farmer receive a payment to offset the income he would otherwise have received from the diverted acres.

The Chairman emphasized that placing wheat in the Acreage Reserve will not reduce future wheat acreage allotments.

Farmers who wish to divert land from the production of tilled crops to a conservation use may also designate acreage for inclusion in the Conservation Reserve for periods of up to 10 years, or up to 15 years for tree practices. For this, they may receive two types of payment: An annual payment for "reserving" the land from production, and a payment for the first year of the contract covering a substantial part of the cost of carrying out an approved conservation practice on the land.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Pleased To Know That Ike, Stevenson And He Are All Losing Money On Their Farms

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has made a strange discovery, but we doubt if his conclusions will stand up, as he's had little practice himself in standing up.

Dear editor:
The last thing I'd ever want would be to be accused of wanting to run for office, I'm not even good justice of the peace timber, not to mention congressional or presidential timber, but I have been reviewing the presidential campaign situation and have discovered that in one department Eisenhower, Stevenson and me are on the same level.

That is, all three of us have farms we're losing money on. As I understand it, Eisenhower loses about $25,000 a year on his Gettysburg farm, Stevenson loses about $10,000 on his Libertyville farm, and while I'm not in that bracket, due to the bank's timidity, you could still classify my farm out here as on the presidential candidate level when the books are closed at the end of the year.

Understand, I'm not saying I'm as smart as Eisenhower and Stevenson, all I'm saying is that when it comes to farming, I'm right up with the best brains in the nation. I understand one reason Ike and Adlai give for losing money is that they don't have time to devote to farming that they should, and I can report I qualify on that test too. That is, all three of us have 24 hours a day all right, the same as everybody else, and while I don't know what system they use, I have always managed to find something to interfere when the crops needed working the most. I recognize that in their case, they don't have to hunt for something to keep them from farming, their importance in other fields takes care of that, but in my case I'm on my own, I have to dig for mine, and it's with considerable pride that I point out that never once have I been caught short on an excuse for avoiding going up one row and down another.

J. A.

You'd think that with the three of us with farms and each one losing money, one of us would come up with a solution to the problem. I know I don't have one, and if either one of them has, I don't believe he's gotten around to mentioning it yet, except in general terms. Some things you just have to learn to live with, and the farm problem must be one of them. At least, that's what Ike and Stevenson and me have concluded.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

NEW PARTRIDGE TEST OBSERVED

AUSTIN—The experimental release of Pakistanian bred partridges in the Palo Duro Canyon area in the Panhandle was accomplished with the loss of only four birds, stated the Director of Wildlife Restoration.

Sixty-four birds, including forty-three Seezee partridges and twenty grey partridges all imported from the dry areas of Pakistan, were turned loose. "They were quickly swallowed up by the good growth of cover in that area," reported Wildlife Biologist A. S. Jackson. "We may get a reading on them later when the vegetation recedes."

Jackson said only four birds were lost after they arrived by plane. Three died and one was beheaded by a night-prowling varmit that reached through the wire netting around the holding pens.

Mrs. Emma Mayo returned home last Thursday from a ten day vacation in south Texas. She visited Mr. and Mrs. Wade Mahan and children in Kerrville, spent one week end at Granite Shoals on the Colorado river and visited in Galveston and Houston. Mrs. Mahan and Tanner accompanied her home for a visit, and went on to Amarillo to visit her sister, Mrs. Agnes Mayes, a few days.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

If You Can't Afford To Stay Sick . . .

Maybe there was a time when patients could afford to mark two months off the calendar to nurse pneumonia; fritter away a fortnight or more on an ailing appendix; endlessly cottle a stubborn infection.

But not now! We value our living time—want to get well in a hurry.

And, fortunately, modern medicine is there to help. Your physician prescribes a product undreamed of a few years ago—and soon you're on the road to recovery.

NEW UMBRELLA HAS VISIBILITY 'WINDOW'

Now on the market is a new umbrella which some ingenious inventor should have thought of a long time ago. It has a little "window" that enables a pedestrian to see where he's going!

Schertz has developed this new umbrella with a plastic panel insert, allowing visibility to the holder. The umbrella is covered in water-proof, tightly woven cotton twill and has a handsome birch handle. The cotton twill comes in solid colors or bold continental multi-stripes.

It is especially handy for a golfer, the manufacturer says.

Here's a way to give your bed linens a longer life. Put freshly laundered sheets and pillow cases at the bottom of the drawer and use those at the top. Linens need rest between use.

By John C. White, Commissioner

Drouth Water Rations For Livestock

A major problem facing many Texas livestockmen in the face of prolonged drouth is that of providing and maintaining sufficient water to keep their herds going. Even the problem of feeding emergency rations is not generally as serious as a dwindling water supply, although the two go closely in hand.

Recent studies on livestock water intake, designed to help the stockman know more nearly how to gauge his water supply, may be of considerable help in borderline areas where water is neither plentiful nor too short to sustain animals.

Factors most closely affecting animal water consumption are feed and weather. Livestock naturally require more water in warmer weather, and also take in water in near-direct proportion to the amount of feed consumed.

In a pinch, the stockman's best chance of cutting water rations in half is simply halving the feed allowance. This would have to be done gradually and with particular care to see that the animals lose no weight but at least maintain that which they already have until the emergency is ended.

Never, in the case of lactating cows, should the feed-water cut-back be used if possible, since it would result in a product decline that might not be regained during the milking period.

Cutting feed allowances of steers in fattening lots to conserve water is usually safe, although a sharp reduction may mean a long time required to get them back on full feed once the water shortage is over.

The following illustrations show how water intake can vary with feed and air temperature differences:

A 1,000-pound animal on maintenance rations—neither gaining nor losing weight—will consume 4 gallons of water a day when the temperature is 40 degrees, 6 gallons at 70 degrees, and 9 gallons at 90 degrees.

The same animal gaining the normal pound-a-day on the range requires 7 gallons of water a day at a temperature of 40 degrees, 100 gallons at 70 degrees, and 17 gallons at 90 degrees.

With such information at hand, the stockman with a water problem might overcome some of his troubles at a time when saving his herd is imperative.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Crippling Diseases Treated At Warm Springs Foundation

GONZALES—Sited on 40 acres of land at the edge of Palmetto State park, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation provides a beautiful setting for the patients who undergo rehabilitation treatment here.

As unlike a hospital as any medical institution can be, Warm Springs opens its doors to victims of many types of crippling diseases and accidents. Infantile paralysis patients, both adults and children, still out-number other rehabilitation cases.

Non-polio cases treated include cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, arthritis, and other neuro-muscular diseases and musculoskeletal disorders. A number of industrial accident victims have been treated here.

A non-profit, non-sectarian organization, Gonzales Warm Springs has never denied treatment to a child under 20 for financial reasons. Many adults are admitted, but thus far welfare funds have not been adequate to accord them treatment free of charge.

Thousands of Texans contribute to the Foundation each year so that this comprehensive rehabilitation program may be carried on.

Anyone desiring information on admission procedures may get it writing the Registrar, Box 58, Gonzales, Texas.

William Allred of Grand Prairie was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roe Allred, over the week end.

Texans didn't originate this tall-tale business.

The ancient historian, Herodotus, tells some good ones. For example:

Egypt's sacred bird, the phoenix. He is frank to state, "I have not seen a phoenix myself" but this is scarcely surprising as it is a rare bird and visits Egypt only every 500 years and that visit is made to bring its deceased parent all the way from Arabia.

The bird shapes myrrh into a kind of egg, as large as it can carry, then hollows it out, puts the father inside, seals the container with myrrh and the lump weighs just what it did originally. Then the phoenix carries the cargo to Egypt and buries it in the temple of the sun. The old Greek writer weakens the effect however by adding, "I give the story as it was told me—but I don't believe it."

He throws in humorous touches every now and then; for example, with regard to the Trojan War. He says the reason King Priam didn't hand over Helen to the Greek army was because she was not in Troy but in Egypt. The historian declares, "There was an engagement (if we may believe the epic poems) in which Priam did not lose two of his sons, or three, or even more", therefore, if Helen had been in Troy, Priam would have handed her over even if she had been his own wife!

Herodotus tells about Scyllias, the most accomplished diver of his day, who was serving with the Persians and, after some of the Persian ships were wrecked, he recovered a good deal of treasure for the Persians, "besides getting a good deal for himself." Scyllias made up his mind to desert to the Greeks and he accomplished this, according to the commonly accepted account, by diving under the water at Aphetae and not coming up until he reached Artemisium, a distance of 10 miles. But again Herodotus mars his effect by saying, "My personal opinion is that he went in a boat."

He tells of the Atarantes, "the only people in the world to do without names"; and of a tribe known as the Lotophagi who owned cattle that walked backward as they grazed. This was understandable because, he informs us, the creatures had horns bending forward and downward and the horns would have stuck in the ground if the animals had tried to go any direction except backward.

No, Texans didn't originate this tall-tale business; they just brought it to a state of perfection.

No practice has more consistent record of weakening the hog market than does the marketing of overweight hogs. Such a practice, says E. M. Reegenbrecht, extension swine husbandman, not only results in lower market prices but feeding hogs to weights over 200 pounds is not efficient feeding.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

A Juror's Creed

Most of us want to do our civic duty but we hate to break up the pleasant routine of living. Sometimes we shirk our civic duty to vote. Sometimes we exert every effort to avoid jury service.

Perhaps we do these things because we don't value our freedoms enough, because we haven't had to pay for them through hardship and suffering.

Instead of a sacrifice, jury duty is a privilege enjoyed by the free citizens of our country, giving us an opportunity to participate personally in the administration of justice.

Here is a creed which we might do well to read when the call to jury duty comes our way:

I am a juror.

I am a seeker after truth.

I must listen carefully and with concentration to all the evidence.

I must heed and follow the instructions of the court.

I must respectfully and attentively follow the arguments of the lawyers, dispassionately seeking to find and follow the silver thread of truth through their conflicting assertions.

I must lay aside all bias and prejudice.

I must be led by my intelligence and not by my emotions.

I must respect the opinions of my fellow jurors, as they must respect mine, and in a spirit of tolerance and understanding must endeavor to bring the deliberations of the whole jury to agreement upon a verdict, but

I must never assent to a verdict which violates the instructions of the court or which finds as a fact that which, under the evidence and in my conscience, I believe to be untrue.

In fine I must apply the Golden Rule by putting myself impartially in the place of the plaintiff and of the defendant, remembering that although I am a juror today passing upon the rights of others, tomorrow I may be a litigant whose rights other jurors shall pass upon.

My verdict must do justice, for what is just is "true and righteous altogether"; and when my term of jury service is ended I must leave it with my citizenship unscathed and my conscience clear.

Judge John H. Flanagan Carthage, Missouri.
