Here's a message to all the people of Munday:

k-k

In case a fire breaks out sometime in the afternoon, all people of Munday are requested to shut off their water hydrants so ample water will be available for fighting the fire. This request comes from members of the Munday Fire Department. Present water consumption just about exhausts the supply during late afternoons, and fireboys are anxious that water is available in case of fire.

"We don't want a fire," they said, "nobody wants one, but you can never tell when one might break out. Your co-operation in making all water possible available to us if a fire should break out will be appreciated."

k-k

During afternoons, the water wells get low, the water tank gets low, and water is used directly out of the mains as it is pumped into them. So if the fire alarm sounds, just shut off your sprinklers, etc., until the emergency is over.

k-k

Politics is (or are, as the case may be) picking up.

k-k

On the national scene, the news centers around Stevenson, Kefauver and Harriman on the Democratic side, and President Eisenhower on the Republican side. With the national conventions in the not-too-far distance, of course everyone is wondering and predicting who will be the banner bearer for the Democrats.

k-k

Eisenhower's heart attack and more recent operation are still causes of doubt as to whether he will run again. But most people expect he will—unless, of course, he stumps a toe on the golf course or slices a ball into the rough. The least little incident seems to bring up the question of whether Ike will run, or who could be nominated in case he doesn't.

k-k

On the state scene, the big blow in the gubernatorial campaign, with politics getting hotter and hotter on this level. The five candidates are going strong at present, and the question of who will our next governor or the two the runoff will be decided in about two weeks—July 28 to be exact.

k-k

Which reminds us of another news item. W. Lee O'Daniel, ex-governor and ex-senator—and planning to occupy the governor's mansion again, will speak at Benjamin Saturday. Time has been announced at 9 a. m., and the place as the court house lawn. To our knowledge, O'Daniel will be the first 1956 hopeful to make his appearance in Knox County.

k-k

On the local level, politics is rather quiet, but there are several races, county and precinct, in which there are two or more candidates for the honors. Politics has an excuse for not getting hot—at, with the weather like it's been for some time. We've had 4-degree days, several of them, so we guess that 109 last Sunday was the hottest yet.

k-k

Rain clouds shy by, the sun beams down, and the fish don't bite!

k-k

It seems the fish know exactly when we plan to go fishing, they hide themselves into reeds. Way long last spring, promised relatives up Berger. If they'd come to see us go fishing, but naturally we can't guarantee results.

k-k

They came in late Friday, so Sunday morning we heads for the Kemp with plenty of fishing equipment, bait—and food—keys to a friend's cabin. Had been for the facilities of cabin, we couldn't have tarried on the lake shores in heat. We returned home late night with the usual report, food had been eaten, our shirts sunburned, our bait nibbled, our water supply low after being replenished twice—and our just the right size to be tossed into the lake.

FAMOUS ACTRESS ARRIVES

—Emmaline from Abilene (fictional, of course) but one of the stars appearing in "My Home Town," original show celebrating Munday's Golden Jubilee, which will be staged July 20. Emmaline is portrayed by Miss Opal Booe.

EMMALINE FROM ABILENE

—Now Emmaline from Abilene is coming into town. She wears a Paris hat and owns a bugle-beaded gown. The Wichita Falls opera house has had her there in shows. She's danced in Texarkana, and she's got a string of beaus. She's coming for a visit to her Grandma Jones's farm; The girls are green with envy of her glamor and her charm. They copy how she walks and talks and twirls her parasol. Without Emmaline from Abilene, we'd have no fun at all! —Donna Kay Partridge, vocalist RAIN?—Mrs. Traphine Welborn, hopefully watches for rain clouds as she sings the soulful drouth song, "If It Would Only Rain" in the original show, "My Home Town," which will be staged on July 20 celebrating Munday's Golden Jubilee.

IF IT WOULD ONLY RAIN

If it would only rain my man and I could set our wedding day. For soon it would be planting time with cotton on the way.

If it would only rain, then we could buy a tractor and plow. And pay the mortgage on Dad's place and start our own home now. Somehow, some way, we still have faith to try, so we'll pray that clouds will fill the sky.

For it will surely rain, and when it does, our lives will start anew with plans we made last Spring. If it would—only sometime—oh, just one time rain!

Many Local People Are Taking Part In Production Of Show, "My Home Town"

Progress toward the staging of the Golden Jubilee musical production, "My Home Town," has brought to light a tremendous community spirit, ranging from "The Town Loafer," a secret character of the show, to the youngest participants of "The Lullaby Ballet." Many of the townspeople who have never attempted a public performance have found themselves thoroughly enjoying the pantomime and singing, and doing a creditable job as well.

Behind the scenes, the local stage hands are completing their plans and assembling the props and necessary equipment.

Stage manager for the show is Winston Blacklock. Mrs. Mauryse Blacklock designed the set, which is being built by Cameron Lumber Co. and Munday Lumber Co., with lumber donated by Paymaster Gins. In charge of the lighting will be Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kane. West Texas Utilities is furnishing the cable and equipment, with the services of their lighting engineer, Ernest Price. Spotlights used in the show belong to the Roxy Theater. Mrs. Kane is also supervising the make-up for the cast. Audio equipment is being loaned for the show by R&R Electrical Co. of Abilene, with Bill Wright in charge of installation. The Hammond organ Miss Melissa Lee will play is from Max Kruetz House of Music in Wichita Falls.

Misses Jerrilynn Kane and Natalie Harrell have assisted with the clerical work involved in the production. Substitute dancers working with the director, Mrs. Travis Lee, are Jan Pendleton and Claire Harpham.

In expressing appreciation for the cooperation received by the Chamber of Commerce as sponsor of the show, president Gene Harrell stated "There has been nothing since the end of World War II that has united the community or aroused as much interest as this purely local effort to celebrate our Golden Jubilee in a show written, staged and acted by Munday citizens."

EASTERN STAR CHAPTER TO MEET ON JULY 17

The regular stated meeting of Munday Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will be held at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening, July 17, it was announced this week.

All officers and members are urged to be present.

Knox Acreage Into Soil Bank

More than 60 Knox County farmers have placed their cotton land into the acreage reserve program of the Soil Bank, it was announced recently by J. T. Gilpin, office manager of the Knox County ASC.

Most of these farmers, he stated, have not planted their cotton on account of the continued drought.

About 50 farmers in the county have placed wheat land in the acreage reserve program. Most of them were farmers who did not harvest their wheat on account of the drought.

Bill Sams Is Candidate For Representative

Bill Sams, of Benjamin, Knox County, this week authorized his announcement for State Representative, from the 83rd District, comprised of Knox, Baylor, Throckmorton, and Haskell Counties.

The delay was caused when Haskell County election officials notified Sams that his name would not appear on their ballot. The question was posed, when the application was mailed "Special Delivery," instead of "Registered." However, the law holds in favor of Sams, and the County Democratic Committee did place his name on the ballot.

Bill was graduated from High School in Benjamin, studied Government, and pre-law in Texas Tech, and at present is completing his requirements to become an attorney.

Sams, age 33, is the son of G. B. Purcell, manager of the Wichita Falls Office, and H. P. Barton, also of the Texas Employment Commission, were here Wednesday to make preparations for placing a representative here to work with farmers and laborers.

Mr. Barton will be located here on a semi-permanent basis, and if enough need is seen, a representative will locate here permanently. Mr. Barton will work with farmers who need agricultural laborers and with laborers and crew leaders.

He will maintain office in the Chamber of Commerce office, and Mrs. Sue Bowden, secretary, will work with him in supplying labor needs for this area. Mr. Barton stated he would be in the field a lot of the time, while Mrs. Bowden will receive phone calls, etc., in connection with the farmer's labor needs.

If the need justifies, a permanent office will be established, possibly at the labor reception center.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

Bollworms have spread through practically all the irrigated cotton fields in the county, and seem to be the only insect of serious concern to county farmers at present. One field of cotton near Vera developed a heavy infestation of Red Spider Mites, but these were very effectively brought under control by the application of Parathion spray.

D. D. T. and a combination of D. D. T. and other Chlorinated Hydrocarbons are proving very effective at controlling the Bollworm infestations, if the treatment schedule is maintained at 7 day intervals or less.

Farmers are reminded that they have until October 1st to file a claim for refunds of Federal Tax on gasoline used for farming. The claim will cover the period from January 1 through June 30, 1956. Forms may be obtained from the County Agent's Office.

Wheat Quota Vote Slated For July 20th

Friday, July 20, is the date when growers will determine how they want to market their 1957 wheat crop. H. H. Partridge, Chairman of the Knox Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers today.

Farmers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat as grain on a farm in 1957 are eligible to cast ballots in the wheat quota referendum. Polling places will be set up in convenient locations in the county, and wheat growers will be notified where they may vote.

A two-third favorable vote will mean that marketing quotas and penalties on excess wheat will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop. Under quotas, too, price allotments will be at the full level available—between 75 and 90 percent of parity.

If more than one-third of the growers voting disapprove quotas, the quotas will not be in effect, and the available price support on the 1957 wheat crop to those who comply with farm wheat acreage allotments will be at a level of 50 percent of parity.

When a marketing quota program is in effect, the excess wheat of a grower who does not comply with his farm wheat acreage allotment and who has more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on the farm will be subject to a marketing quota penalty. This penalty will be equal to 45 percent of the May 1, 1957 parity price for wheat.

Chairman Partridge emphasized that the vote is on wheat marketing quotas and not wheat allotments. Whether or not the vote is favorable on the quotas, acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop.

Marketing quotas have been approved by growers voting in referendums for the past three wheat crops. Last year, 77.3 percent of the growers voting favored quotas for the 1956 crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan L. Littlefield and Danna of Austin visited his brother, E. B. Littlefield, and family several days this week.

GETTING A MEDICAL DEGREE

The educational process that leads to a doctor of medicine degree is a long one. The cost of the schooling is high—a fact which may have discouraged many young people with the ambition to study medicine but little or nothing in the way of financial resources.

An encouraging word, however, has come from the president of the American Medical Association. Last year, he reports, the largest groups of medical students—33 per cent—came from families in which the father was a laborer or in the lower levels of business. And only 11 per cent of all medical students could look to their parents for their sole source of income.

Where did they get the necessary money? Vacation earnings were one important source—and so were the earnings of wives. The AMA's president said that, while he did not want to encourage students to take on the added responsibility of a family, it is a fact that 18 per cent of the students reported that wives' earnings, averaging $2,500, accounted for the largest part of their incomes.

Gifts and loans also enter into the income picture. In this connection, the schools themselves can be a source of needed help. Of the country's 81 approved medical schools, 43 offer scholarships and 59 offer loans to freshmen. Twenty of the schools give cash prizes, 72 offer scholarships and 81 offer loans to upperclassmen.

Getting that medical degree is a problem for young people without a backlog of money. But—given the requisite determination and ability—it can be done.

MORE GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS

The government is still going into business—and on a big scale.

Example: by a 41-38 vote the Senate approved federal construction of 135,000 public housing units each year for four years. That amounts to about half of one year's total residential construction in this country. By its action, the Senate rejected a Presidential proposal that the program be restricted to 35,000 housing units for each of two years.

Who must pay? You, of course—and everyone else in the country.

"Next thing, we suppose, fishermen will be asking the government for a guaranteed annual catch." . . . London, Ohio, Press.

TO KEEP A MAN AT WORK

The American system of mass production is celebrated, admired and imitated the world around. The American system of mass retail distribution may not be so well-publicized—but it is equally important. In fact, mass production couldn't exist without it.

For instance, to keep one man at work in the soap industry people must take 6 million baths in the course of a year. To keep one man at work in the refrigeration business, 60 of the machines must be sold. To keep one man at work in stocking production, 12 thousand pairs must move into the hands of consumers. So it goes, down the endless list of things we all use.

It takes a tremendously efficient and vital retail industry to sell the wares our factories produce. It is an industry which works on an amazingly small unit profit, too—one to three or four cents on each dollar of sales, depending on the kind of goods involved. And it is an industry in which there is room for all kinds and sizes of stores to prosper—all the way from little family enterprises to the big national chains.

In distribution, as in production, there is fair and aggressive competition all along the line. That is what makes for good service, a wide variety of offerings, and a fair price.

EQUALLY WONDERFUL

It is safe to say that few of us Americans fully realize the progress this country has made in a handful of years. The editor of the Port Gibson, Mississippi, Reveille touches on this in relating how that town has improved its community life. In 1928, he said, "Port Gibson was struggling along with flickering lights, and a few small motors, which seemed they might burn out any minute, until the town finally voted to sell its worn out municipal plant to the Mississippi Power & Light Company.

"Had there been television in 1928," he said, "we think it would have been useless in Port Gibson, to say nothing of home freezers, electric refrigerators, washers, dryers, garbage disposals, industrial motors, air conditioning, and a host of other gadgets run by that wonderful force which no one can adequately define, but everyone calls electric power."

This editor might have added that all these modern conveniences would have been slower in coming were it not for another wonderful force which no one can adequately define but everyone calls private enterprise.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

The Name Of Christ

When Peter healed the lame man, he said, "In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk" (Acts 3:6). It is said that the people were filled with wonder and amazement when they saw this man walking. His face was familiar to those who entered the temple to worship. They knew he had been unable to walk, and thought his lameness was incurable. The rulers of the Jews apprehended Peter and John and placed them in prison for this deed.

The offence was not so much for healing the lame man, as it was for preaching in the name of Jesus. If they had ascribed this miracle to their own power, there would have been no trouble; but they said the healing was due to the power vested in the name of Jesus. The apostles were set at liberty with the warning that they must speak no more in the name of Jesus.

While Peter was now facing the same group he faced when he denied Jesus, yet he was not afraid. He had learned the power in Jesus' name, and his heart was filled with courage. He and John answered the threats of the Sanhedrin by saying, "Whether it be right in the sight of God to harken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard" (Acts 4:19-20).

In this same connection it is said, "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). Paul says, "Wherefore God also hath exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name (Phil. 2:9). The name of Jesus stands above all other names, because it is the only name in which salvation from sin is provided.

The name of Jesus must be preached. All who would become Christians must believe in his name, they must confess his name, they must confess his name, and be baptized in his name. Christians can work and pray only in the name of Christ.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Icard

Long before the final vote on the highly controversial Federal Aid-to-Education Bill, it became apparent that it would not be approved by the House. Considerable support for this measure was lost when the Amendment offered by the Chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor, Congressman Graham Barnden of North Carolina, which provided for guarantees against Federal control of the curriculum in the schools and the faculties, was defeated. The final doom of the bill was sealed when the so-called "Powell Amendment", which would have denied any Federal funds to non-integrated schools was adopted. The Democrats in the House voted 146 to 77 against the Powell Amendment, while Republicans assured its success by voting 148 to 46 for it. This much discussed Powell Amendment sought to implement the Supreme Court decisions on segregation. As has been pointed out heretofore, this Federal Aid-to-Education Bill had provisions in it that unquestionably would have led to complete Federal domination and control of the point where the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

180 Years Old

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individuals rights, guaranteed by our federal and state institutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early Americans colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 180 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George I of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following: "He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; . . ."

Some 5 years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Our courts day by day guard these rights for us.

VERSATILE KHAKI

Cotton khaki today is part of the fashion world, as well as an essential fabric for the military. Seventeen magazine reports that cotton khaki is popular in young fashions this winter. This eye-catching outfit pairs a khaki and white blazer of cotton twill with cotton khaki shorts. The hood is an important fashion trend, the National Cotton Council notes.

Silence Weather Stripping
THERE'S nothing quite so annoying as a whistling or vibrating metal weather strip on a door. A strong wind will cause the noise. This nuisance can be stopped effectively by inserting a thin strip of felt or rubber between the leaves of the spring, according to Popular Mechanics.

Fit the strip and make sure the door will close snugly against the weather stripping without binding. Then cement the felt or rubber into place or fasten it with brads.

Cheerleaders Of Munday Attend Wichita School

The five cheerleaders of Munday High School attended the special school for cheerleaders at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls July 1st through July 6th. Those attending were Ava Mary Taylor, Lorene Armstrong, Maurycie Tidwell, Audrey Trammel and Margaret Yandell. Mrs. R. B. Bowden accompanied the girls to Wichita Falls on Sunday and she and Mrs. W. C. Cox went back for them on Friday. Mrs. Bowden is sponsor of the pep squad.

The school was directed by Lawrence Herkimer, better known as "Mr. Cheerleader", USA. He was head cheerleader for SMU for several years. Other instructors were head cheerleaders from Texas Christian University and Sam Houston State College, also a gymnast instructor from Holland.

Each days schedule included tumbling, workshops and lectures. Special attention was given to the study of pep rallies and stunts for assembly programs. Sixty schools of this area were represented. Each day the schools were requested to present two yells at the daily workshop. They were judged and the Munday girls felt very proud of themselves tying for first with Snyder on Monday. They placed third on Tuesday and Wednesday. They won first again on Thursday and second on Friday. They were competing with groups from Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Abilene, Ardmore, Okla., Duncan, Okla., Artesia, N. M. and several other large schools.

The girls were worked hard and learned a lot, but they also had a good time. They roomed in the University dormitory and ate at the dining hall. They had several planned entertainments including a swimming party and stunt night.

The girls thoroughly enjoyed their week at the cheerleader school and are so full of pep and school spirit that they are ready for school and football season to start now. They are looking forward with great enthusiasm to the 1st Mogul game and hope all of Munday will be out for every game to help them back the Moguls all the way.

Misleading Advertising

One huge gasoline price sign plus one small fraction of a cent sign equals one angry automobile driver.

Every auto owner has seen them! A gas war flares in an area and filling stations erect tremendous signs with letters four feet high advertising their cut-rate prices. Then in the upper right hand corner of the sign, barely visible to the naked eye, is that awful fraction "9/10ths".

This type of advertising—while not actually misquoting prices—violates the intent of the Texas Weights & Measures Law.

Weights and measures standards, administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture, are aimed at guaranteeing buyers a full amount of goods for their money. There is also a clause which regulates certain types of advertising. This clause is much abused in Texas.

The weight of the contents of any packaged commodity such as pre-packed meat, tinned goods, bread loaf and similar foodstuffs must be clearly marked. The law also books no trifling with attempts to mislead the customer on prices of these sales. Many attempts are made to hide those "fractions until the buyer has already been lured into the driveway.

Most of the filling station operators are unaware they are violating a state law with near-illegal signs. Their competitors do it—and so do they. As a result of a continuous campaign by the Texas Department of Agriculture, most chain stations and many individual owners have corrected their signs. But many of these signs still exist.

A clarification of advertising laws and more publicity for them will be requested next January when the Texas Legislature convenes. This is one of the points of a program being prepared by the Department of Agriculture. Three main objective include:

1. A new poultry and egg inspection law to prevent Texas from becoming a dumping ground for inferior or diseased products from other states.
 2. Heavier penalties for repeated violations of existing laws.
 3. Strengthening of license requirements of agricultural firms operating under present laws in order of protect legitimate operators and consumers.
- These are but a few of the changes proposed by the Department. A full protective program is planned for Legislative action.

BOYCE HOUSE

In ancient Athens, a brilliant teacher of law had a brilliant pupil. One day, however, the young man said, "I am no longer able to pay you and will have to give up my studies." The instructor replied, "No, continue; finish the course and you can pay me when you win your first case." The young man agreed. But, after he was licensed to practice law, time went by and he did not get so much as one client. So at last the teacher sued for the tuition fee.

When time came for argument, the instructor said, "Gentlemen of the jury, it a matter of complete indifference to me how you decide this case because I am bound to win. If you decide in my favor, I will win by virtue of your verdict; and if you decide against me, I will win by virtue of the agreement, which was that he would pay when he won his first case."

The young lawyer proved that he was indeed an apt pupil.

DRESSING FOR DUTY is Miss Mary Morrissey, of Minneapolis, who attended a one-day, eight-hour course in fire fighting offered to industry by Minneapolis Civil Defense. She was one of five women participants employed by the First National Bank. O'GADA Photo

He said, "Gentlemen of the jury, I too care not how you decide because I am bound to win. If you decide in my favor, your verdict will mean I am released from the agreement and, if you decide against me, the agreement will save me because I was to pay when I won my first case—and I will be losing it."

Many old-time followers of the "manly art" think that, as far as fighting heart was concerned, Stanley Ketchel was the greatest of them all. He was only a middleweight champion but he fought Jack Johnson and actually knocked him down. Ketchel was the only man (until Tony Zale to lose a world's title by knocking out and then regain it by knocking out the man who had put him to sleep.

For a time his manager was Wilson Mizner, renowned Broadway wit. When the news was telegraphed to Mizner, that Ketchel had been shot to death, he wrote a reply, tears coursing down his cheeks:

"He can't be dead; start counting and the dear boy will get up."

OF DINING

The warm months of the year provide a fine opportunity to plan some get-togethers—perhaps a luncheon party or a buffet supper after the movies or theater. Here are some dining ideas for the gorgeous days ahead:

Flowers from your garden or picked from the wayside add charm and color to any table setting. One rule to remember is to keep your flower centerpiece low enough so that guests can converse easily across the table. A too-high, bulky flower arrangement, no matter how eye-catching or costly, will strain the party spirit if people have to crane their necks over it.

Need more serving room for your buffet party? Try this space-saver: instead of spreading out cutlery and napkins on the table, stack service plates with a colorful paper or linen napkin between each plate; arrange knives and forks in individual clusters instead of in rows.

Modern Melmac dinnerware is so light it can be stacked in a jiffy for serving or clearing; its gay colors provide just the right touch on the buffet table. Every Mother will treasure it as a gift. Made by a number of quality molders, it's remarkably break- and chip-resistant.

The most delicious and well-planned meal cannot be served to advantage without proper utensils. Always provide an adequate number of serving spoons and forks for relishes, salads and sauces. Each vegetable dish should be equipped with a serving fork and spoon for ease in service. When the entree is a roast or fowl, be sure to double check your carving knife for sharpness—a dull blade can spoil the finest cut of meat.

Texas Entomologists Declare War On The Common House Fly

As warm weather begins in earnest, an all-out effort should be made to control the population of house flies in dairy barns. Texas A & M entomologists have been conducting a series of experiments for the purpose of finding more effective controls of the flies.

Experimentation with various insecticides began in 1953, states Manning A. Price, Assistant professor, department of entomology, Texas A & M College. Several different insecticides were used with different methods of application in determining most effective control. Treated strings suspended from ceilings, syrup baits and residual sprays were all considered.

Results indicated residual sprays to be most satisfactory, while diazinon, malathion and chlordion were the most effective materials used. To determine the most effective of these insecticides and most satisfactory concentration, experiments were conducted near College Station in 1955. Results were based on average number of days protection given by each application at various concentrations of each insecticide.

The insecticides were used as wettable powders and emulsions at various concentrations, says Price.

Malathion emulsifiable concentrate diluted to two and ½ and five percent gave protection for 47 and 87 days, respectively. Diazinon as a ½ of one and one percent wettable powder gave protection for 87 and 73 days, respectively. As an emulsifiable concentrate diluted to ½ of one and one percent diazinon gave 74 and 48 days protection, respectively.

Diazinon was used at one percent concentration only in barns where sanitation was extremely poor and where there were numerous nearby fly breeding areas.

Chlordion emulsifiable concentrate at ½ of one percent averaged 20 days protection.

The considerable variation in number of days of control in individual barns resulted from differences in extent of sanitation and presence of adjacent areas for suitable fly breeding. Price states. In barns of poor sanitation, adjacent to suitable fly breeding areas, effectiveness of the control was understandably lower than in barns of good sanitary conditions.

KITCHEN KOMMENT

Waffles and hot cakes are back in season with the arrival of fall weather. Serve them piping hot with plenty of margarine and syrup. Make a special treat by adding chopped walnuts or pecans to the batter.

The 7 step Cotton Program sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service is 10 years of age. During its life the average per acre yield of cotton in Texas has increased 40 pounds per acre over the previous 10 years average.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Keep The Change"

If you've seen "Mac" Johnson this week, chances are he's told you his waitress story. For those who haven't heard:

"Mac" recently stopped at an out-of-town diner. He ordered the chef's special—and his waitress (brand new on the job) made every possible mistake. She confused the order, spilled the soup, dropped the rolls, brought him a wrong dessert.

Despite it all, "Mac" left a substantial tip. But she smiled and handed the money back. "Keep it, Mister—you've sure earned it more than I have," she said. From where I sit, that girl deserves credit for admitting her shortcomings—something not everyone is big enough to do. For instance, I'm convinced lots of folks know they're wrong when they deny me the right to a glass of beer with my supper... just because they happen to prefer some other beverage. They wouldn't like me ordering them to accept my choice.

FORT WORTH—Most classes of cattle and calves were sold in a fairly active trade at steady prices at Fort Worth. Shippers, independent packers and order buyers were aggressive buyers from the outset and despite lower offers from some of the major packers the early trade was steady. However, later in the day weakness prevailed on cows and averages for the day on slaughter cows were steady to 50 cents lower, with fat cows showing the most weakness.

Stocker and feeder trade was active and generally steady with last week close, and again there was more activity on the higher quality kinds and on fleshy feeder steers and yearlings. Some fleshy feeders were stronger in spots.

Hogs scored advances of 25 to 75 cents, and choice butcher hogs topped at $16.25 to $16.75, mostly $16.50 to $16.75. Less desirable weights and grades moved at $12 to $16. Sows cashed at $10 to $14, or steady to 50 cents higher than at the close last week.

Trade was active and prices were fully steady to unevenly higher on sheep and lambs. Slaughter lambs and yearlings drew strong to $1 higher prices in spots. Spring lambs topped at $22, and yearlings topped at $17. Feeder lambs sold from $15 down.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $16 to $21.50, and common and medium offerings cleared at $10 to $15.50. Slaughter heifers sold from $20 downward, some at that figure sorted off steer yearlings that brought $21.50.

Fat cows cleared at $9.50 to $12, and canners and cutters drew $6.50 to $9.50. Bulls sold for $10 to $13.50, a few outside that range.

Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $14 to $17, a few heavies above that range. Common and medium butcher calves sold for $10 to $13.50, and rannies sold from $8 to $10.

Good and choice stocker calves cleared at $15.50 to $17.50, and stocker and feeder steers and steer yearlings of good grades sold mostly from $15 to $16.50, a few to $17. Plain and common stockers sold from $10 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter spring lambs ranged from $17 to $22, and cull, common and medium springers sold from $10 to $16. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $12 to $15.

Good slaughter yearlings sold from $15 to $16, and some choice medium yearling muttons sold from $8 to $14. Slaughter ewes cashed at $4.50 to $5. Old bucks sold around $4.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Surplus Money Voted For Defense Department Deposited In Soil Bank

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses banking this week, a subject he's invariably confused on.

Dear editor:
Sometimes you have to read some news out of Washington two or three times before it soaks in.

The other day I read where Congress had voted 800 million dollars for the air force to build more jet bombers and Defense Secretary Wilson said he didn't need it, didn't want it, take it back. I didn't pay too much attention to this at the time, figured the next day's paper would have a denial in it, saying Sec. Wilson had been misquoted again. But as luck would have it, I got hold of a paper the next day and sure enough, Sec. Wilson was still resisting that 800 million, and a few days later I got hold of still another paper, somebody had used it to wrap up a piece of ice and while it was pulpy and a little hard to read, I managed to find out it was a fact, one department in Washington was actually complaining because Congress had voted it too much money.

I can't understand this, I know it's been hot in Washington, the same as it has here, but this is the worst effect of the heat I've ever seen.

At any rate, I've been thinking. As I understand it, Sec. Wilson says he will have to accept the money, but that since the defense department has no use for it now he'll put it in the bank.

Now here's my point. He didn't say what bank, and I was just wondering, why couldn't he put it in the Soil Bank? As I understand it, the Soil Bank is turning out sort of like some other phases of banking. That is, occasionally a bank will advertise that it has money to loan, but when I go in and inquire about it, the story is a little different from what I had hoped for. The size of the loan, and its terms, fall considerably short of what my situation demands.

This Soil Bank sounds fine, but when they get down to the size of the check they can write out for you, the story is a little different.

And I was just thinking, why can't Sec. Wilson turn this unwanted money over to the Soil Bank? That's one department that could use a little more. This country may be producing jet bombers at a satisfactory rate, but right now the production rate on solvent farmers is a little low.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

ment of Health has announced.

State Health Commissioner H. A. Holle said the failure to find significant numbers of mosquitoes of the type capable of transmitting yellow fever was probably due to intensive spraying of insecticides on cotton crops on Valley farms.

Another study will be made in September, Dr. Holle said.

He said the mid-June study by an international team of mosquito specialists had failed to show the presence of yellow fever mosquitoes within the city limits of Brownsville, but isolated breeding was found in a rural section of Hidalgo and at two points in Matamoros across the Rio Grande.

"The urban yellow fever mosquito is a very fragile insect, and the intense spraying may account for its absence at this time of the year," said Holle.

The survey was undertaken at the behest of Valley health authorities in an effort to get a clear picture of the number of mosquitoes present in the section.

Two specific types of the winged insects are responsible for the transmission of yellow fever, known to be flourishing among the monkeys of Central American jungles.

The Valley study was made by entomologists and sanitarians from the State Department of Health, The U. S. Public Service, the International Cooperation Administration, Mexican Ministry of Health, and the Pan-American Sanitary Bureau.

They checked 256 houses in Brownsville and made random inspections of so-called "breeding hot-spots" around the city. Investigations were negative.

In Matamoros, 428 premises were checked, with positive results in two instances.

"The Brownsville area remain under suspicion until a further study can be made," the commissioner said, "since Brownsville and Matamoros, Mexico have virtually contiguous populations and since two breeding pools were in Matamoros."

"Findings may be different in September when the use of agricultural insecticides is at a minimum. We'll go back then."

Dr. Holle said all local health departments along the border have been alerted and are keeping watch on known mosquito breeding areas.

A yellow fever study is currently in progress in San Antonio under Dr. J. C. Ellington, city health department director, and a Pan-American Sanitary Bureau entomologist has been assigned to do similar work at points along the border.

Meanwhile, Mexican government officials are reported to be making preparation for a nationwide study of its mosquito problem. The study will be completed by September and will reportedly be followed by an eradication project.

shame admitting, that our scandal from land grab's, Insurance and Security Frauds' have been approved, by the silence of the legislature. By allowing the long tenure of powerful elected officials, our State has gradually had all boards packed, with 'disciplined appointees'. We must have elected representatives that will not follow the directors of any, except the voters of his particular district. We must first clean out, then clean up, our great State of Texas. From this District, I would work unceasingly, to construct and pass legislation, instead of forever approving or disapproving what 'the distant power politicians' write. I would regularly inquire among those effected by legislation, as to their opinion, prior to vote. I certainly would never be guilty of reducing taxes to large bus companies, and attempting to make up the deficit by a "Sale Tax" on College tuition, as the SILENT SINNERS of the past legislature have done.

As a general picture of my platform, here is what I stand for:

More EFFICIENCY and ECONOMY, and thus eliminating any need for tax increase.

Old age benefits, in accordance to the cost of living.

Strict enforcement of Insurance and Security Laws, without monopoly privileges to the few.

Improvement of Mental Institutions to the degree that the families of those confined, will not be disgraced.

Exposing the N. A. A. C. P. as the 'YANKEE CARPET BAGGERS' that they are, and allowing each school district to handle segregation according to local needs.

Less C. I. O. - P. A. C. power influence, and DEFINITELY NO FORCED MEMBERSHIP, in the organizations.

More, and better EDUCATIONAL facilities for all, with increased benefits to the educators.

A DEFINATE water conservation Program for West Texas, and under the control of West Texans.

REMOVAL OF THE 'SILENT SINNERS WHO PERMITTED THE TEXAS LAND SCANDAL FRAUD.

I would like for it to be well known that I am not a candidate AGAINST a person, but; I am a candidate FOR, State Representative of our District.

I am not independently wealthy, nor retired, so will be unable to see everyone personally, but will appreciate your support, and vote.

Requests Aid For Drouth Areas

WACO—Texas Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond has urged Governor Allan Shivers to request an emergency federal hay program for drouth-stricken Texas livestock producers.

In a telegram to the Governor, Hammond said the present federal feed grain assistance program is inadequate to meet the existing need for roughage for cattle.

"I strongly urge that you request Secretary of Agriculture Benson to institute adequate direct subsidy payments to eligible producers in Texas drouth-designated counties," Hammond wired the Governor. He suggested that county ASC committees could determine eligibility of producers.

"Direct payments would permit purchasing of hay on the open market," Hammond said. "This would expedite the hay program and reduce administrative costs."

The Texas Farm Bureau president said that his organization "deems immediate action necessary to enable producers to retain foundation stock and to prevent a disastrous run on the market."

Eligible producers in drouth-designated counties are able to buy feed concentrates under the present emergency feed program. Livestock producers and dairy-men can get $1 per 100 pounds reduction for feed fed to foundation herds. Feeds eligible for payment include corn, maize, barley and rye.

Hammond said that such feed concentrates did not meet needs of livestock for a "filler" feed such as hay.

FILM TO BE SHOWN AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The second section of a thrilling sound film which faithfully traces the origins and development of the Holy Bible, entitled "Our Bible — How It Came To Us," will be shown in Munday at First Baptist Church on Wednesday, July 18, at 8: p. m., it was announced today by Robert Lloyd, pastor.

Produced by the American Bible Society, "Our Bible — How It Came To Us," has been hailed as the most authentic film document ever made on the history of the Bible. Years of diligent planning, research and scholastic collaboration went into the script before the first actor took his place before the camera. It has a cast of over 250 players. The public is invited to see this inspiring film.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough and Mrs. John Phillips and daughters were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.
