THE MEDICAL CARE DOLLAR

Ray Vicker of the Wall Street Journal, in a story on the American Medical Association's recent convention in Chicago, had something interesting to say about the cost of medical care. It will come as a surprise to those who believe the doctor bills are outrageously high, and constitute a major drain on the average family's resources.

This year, Mr. Vicker says, America's total medical care bill is expected to reach $11.8 billion. The doctor's share of that will be somewhat over $3 billion. But this sum, Mr. Vicker continues, will be about a billion less than Americans will pay out to auto mechanics, repairmen and such for maintaining vehicles.

Mr. Vicker explains why doctors' income are rising—"a larger volume of patients is the chief reason since doctors have been somewhat slower to raise their fees than have many other sellers of merchandise or services." He states also: "The larger volume of patients stems from increase in the incomes of Americans, spreading use of pre-paid medical health plans such as Blue Cross and Blue Shield, a big jump in union sponsored health programs, a growing number of traffic accidents, a rising older population and a record pregnancy and birth rate." In short, doctors are working harder and more effectively than ever before.

No one likes to pay doctor or other medical bills. But, seen in the light of logic, it has to be admitted that we get a tremendous return for the medical care dollar. One of the greatest problems facing the medical profession is to preserve the doctor-patient relationship that has been the traditional hallmark of private medicine as contrasted to a state dominated medical system. A larger volume of patients per doctor inevitably endangers the individual human relationship.

LIP SERVICE

Woodrow Wilson—who was a teacher and historian as well as a statesman—showed rare presence when he said in 1914: "Liberty does not consist . . . in mere general declarations of the rights of men. It consists in the translation of these declarations into definite action."

Everyone, with hardly an exception, pays lip service to liberty. But more and more have seemed willing to surrender rights, obligations and responsibilities to the greatest enemy of human liberty—all-powerful government.

COAL DIGGING—TODAY'S STYLE

Can you conceive of a shovel capable of lifting a platform loaded with 166 automobiles 100 feet into the air?

A power shovel with that extraordinary capacity actually exists and is at work. It isn't, of course, used to lift automobiles. It digs coal.

This shovel is symbolic of the vast technological progress that has taken place within the coal industry in a comparatively brief span of time. All along the line, in producing, handling, cleaning and transporting coal, machines have been developed to do work that once was done by human and animal power. Many of these machines are complex and expensive. It is worth recording that the coal industry developed and bought them even in years when its profits were close to nil.

The industry did that because it managers knew that it could not stand still and survive. It pays very high wages and other payroll benefits to the miners. It is faced with tough competition from other fuels. So ways and means had to be found to make the industry mechanically more efficient. That has been done with outstanding success.

The industry, in the face of adversity, has demonstrated a never-say-die spirit. That's good news in a country in which coal is in essential basic enterprise.

More people read the editorial columns regularly than any other department of the newspaper—even including the comics.

That is one of the facts brought out in a reader-survey made by the Daily News, of Tucson, Arizona. Eighty per cent of men readers said they were editorial page followers, along with 72 per cent of the women. That means the editorial page is a "must" with more than three-quarters of the total readership.

This is an age of great controversy, great problems great questions. The opinion of the local editor is sought and respected by tens of millions of Americans.

HIGHLAND, ILL., NEWS LEADER: "By fighting cancer with a check, we are helping scientists to conquer cancer through research; we are helping cancer patients with a wide variety of comforting services at home and in hospitals; and we are helping the American Cancer Society to spread life-saving knowledge of cancer throughout the nation."

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

Sabbath or Lord's Day, Which?

The Jewish Sabbath came up on the day before the first day of the week. "In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, . . ." (Matt. 28:1). The Jewish Sabbath came on Saturday.

God once commanded the Jews alone to keep the Sabbath as a day of rest (Deut. 5:1-3, 12-14). On the Sabbath the Jews were forbidden to kindle a fire (Ex. 35:3), or to work (Ex. 35:2, etc.).

But this Jewish Sabbath was taken away when Jesus died upon this cross. "Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross; let no man therefore judge you . . . in respect of a holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath day" (Col. 2:14-16). Jewish Christians were no longer to be judged for neglecting the Sabbath, for the law that commanded it had been nailed to the cross.

Yet some Jewish Christians continued to observe the Sabbath after they became Christians. Paul expressed doubt about these. "Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years. I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labor in vain" (Gal. 4:10-11). In continuing to observe the Sabbath, which had been required by the law of Moses, they were rejecting Christ for Christ nailed the law of Moses to the cross.

What about Christians in our time; do they observe and day? Yes, but only the first day of the week, commonly called "the Lord's day". How do they observe it? As did the early Christians. "And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread Paul preached unto them . . ." (Acts 20:7). Christians observe the first day of the week by meeting to partake of the Lord's supper and to worship as did the early Christians.

Furthermore, Christians do not speak of the Lord's day as the Sabbath. Nor do they speak of the Lord's day as the Christians Sabbath. The Sabbath came on THE DAY BEFORE the first day of the week. The Sabbath was a day of rest for the Jews. The Lord's day is a day of worship for the Christians.

In the Rockies is the Continental Divide. Rain falling on one side finds its way westward down a mountain stream, into a river and at last reaches the Pacific Ocean. Rain falling on the other side goes eastward till it joins the Atlantic.

There is a lonely cabin squarely on the divide. Two raindrops fall, an inch apart, yet destiny will take them thousands of miles away from each other. Perhaps the flip of a bird's wing will divert a raindrop so that it will go to the Atlantic instead of the Pacific.

So many things, slight in themselves, affect the fate of a human life.

A great artist was nearing the completion of a masterpiece. He was painting high up in the interior of a cathedral dome. The better to view his work, he stepped back until he was almost at the edge of the scaffold but so intent was he that he was unaware of his danger. One more backward step and he would fall to his death.

His assistant saw the situation but feared that, if he shouted a warning, the artist would be startled and involuntarily would step backward. So the assistant ran toward the painted with brush upraised as though to

In Paris, many years ago, a man whose face reflected the deepest melancholy called on a physician. The doctor, after an examination, said, "There is nothing wrong with you, physically. All you need to do is relax. Go and see the great comedian, Bouffon."

Sadly, the visitor replied, "I am Bouffon."

A study made in the Navarroy-Hill Soil Conservation Districts, among other things, showed that participation in the district program was greater on farms where the tenant assumed the major responsibilities for management. The Soil Bank and The Drouth Farmer

In its clamor to relieve the bad situation of our nation's farmers through the recently adopted and inaugurated soil bank program, the administration is all but passing the very farmer who needs help most—the drouth farmer.

Payments have already begun for those who choose to relieve surplus by plowing under crops or letting potentially productive soil remain idle. But, for the farmer whose land refuses to grow crops because nature's water supply has been temporarily withdrawn, no help is forthcoming.

The intent of the program passed this year by Congress is to base soil bank payments on normal production, with the main purpose being elimination of surpluses.

A realistic interpretation of the measure would base consideration on production from a normal 10-year period. As it stands now, payments are being based on this season's potential production. This leaves hundreds of drouth-ridden Texas farmers out in the cold with a small token crop failure sum, plus the right to graze their grassless land. Are the drouth farmers whose crops failed to come up relieving the surplus problem any less than those who set aside productive land for the same purpose? Our parched but otherwise fertile farm are just as idle as any soil "banked" in producing areas this season.

The soil bank system should not reward a man for plowing under a productive crop and then penalize a man for having a crop failure. The results are the same in both cases. Neither produces a surplus of goods, if that's what the program is for.

The soil bank could be one of the easiest means of providing vitally needed aid to farmers suffering from drouth. The matter of interpretation is the key that can mean the difference between relief and repression to our farm people.

Turned Out To Be a Good Break

We had a water main break last Thursday. Happened early in the morning—about two a.m.—and the first thing most of us knew about it was when we tried to turn on the faucets and nothing came out but a hissing noise.

Nobody was inconvenienced much though. Repair crew went right to work—and things were fixed up in jig time.

Incidentally, the water company got a flood of payments on overdue bills that day. Lots of "forgetful" folks must have figured they were being warned!

From where I sit, sometimes our obligations slip our minds. Like the responsibility we all have to our communities... to see that our neighbors enjoy the right to work, how to vote, whether or not to enjoy a bottle of beer. Any time we "forget" we owe this right to others, we take a chance on stopping the flow of tolerance that makes this country such a grand place for us to live in.

Gonzales Carries On Fight Against Crippling Diseases

GONZALES—As Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation progresses during its 15th year of successful operation, patients with all types of crippling diseases find treatment and hope here.

Although poliomyelitis cases presently predominate at the Foundation, the hospital facilities are so designed, both personnel and equipment, to treat other types of cases such as Cerebral Palsy, Multiple Sclerosis, Muscular Dystrophy, Arthritis, and other neuromuscular diseases and musculoskeletal disorders.

Within the limits of its bed capacity, the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation is open to any adult or child who can be benefited by the treatment program. A medical examination and evaluation conducted at the Foundation determines whether the patient can be helped or not.

While limited welfare funds do not permit free care for adults, no Texas child under 21 is ever denied treatment for lack of funds.

The first step in securing admission for prospective patients is to write for an application blank to be filled out by the parents and the referring physician.

This application blank should then be returned to the registrar

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hooper, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Hay fever season is a year-around affair in Texas.

The reason behind this sad state of affairs, says the Department of Health, is Texas' wide range of climatic and soil conditions which produce an assortment of offending flora—trees and shrubs and grasses.

Ragweed pollen is still the biggest enemy of the watery-eyed set, Department officials say, but mountain cedar, scrub elm, and a variety of other plants and grasses also cause their share of sneezing misery.

There are some bright spots in Texas, though. Department hygienists say pollen counts in El Paso, Amarillo, and other West Texas towns have been "amazingly low."

From midwinter until early spring, susceptible people from Dallas southward will be affected by the pollen of cedar, a profusely growing tree with a bad habit of pollinating in late autumn and winter rather than in spring.

Fall hay fever sufferers probably have the scrub elm to blame for their troubles. A late summer and autumn pollinator, the elm is common over most of the state, but is particularly profuse in the bottomlands of the Guadalupe and Trinity Rivers. The mesquite, a member of the legume family, causes "minor" allergic trouble in West Texas during May, June, and July.

Grass hay fever is possible throughout spring, summer, and fall over most of Texas, and in the winter in the Rio Grande Valley. Bermuda grass is the chief offender. Rhodes grass is a "potential" hay fever grass in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Ragweed Pollen is almost as abundant at Dallas and Houston as in the north central states. It is a serious problem as far west as San Antonio and all along the Gulf Coast to Brownsville.

In Brownsville, the ragweed season begins in June or July. The source of the pollen has never been positively determined. Along the rest of the coast ragweed pollination does not begin before September, a full month later than in the north-central states. Pollination continues into November all along the Gulf.

In arid parts of Central and West Texas, Russian thistle is a leading cause of inhalent allergy. Other local causes are sugar beets and Palmer's amaranth. Sage pollen is a potential factor in West Texas, but information on distribution is not available. Sand sagebrush, a dominant native plant in the Panhandle, is suspect as a troublemaker.

How do you get relief from hay fever? A sea voyage during "your" season would do it. So would staying in an air filtered room. But since neither action is practical, check with your doctor about a series of "pollen extract" shots.

FORT WORTH
Trade was fairly active and prices were generally steady on cattle and calves at Fort Worth Monday. Again the buyers showed a marked preference for the better quality and the higher yielding types of cattle and calves. Some sales of fed cattle were considered strong, compared with last week.

Butcher hogs and packing hogs sold 25 to 50 cents higher. Choice meat type hogs cashed at $17 to $17.25, and the less desirable weights and grades sold from $13 to $16.50. Packing hogs cashed at $13 to $14.50. Stags cashed at $5 to $8.

Sheep and lambs were fairly active and generally steady. Choice fat lambs topped again at $20.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings cashed at $16.50 to $22, and common and medium offerings cashed at $10 to $16.50.

Fat cows cleared at $9 to $11, with a few smooth young cows higher. Canners and cutters sold from $16 to $9. Bulls drew $9 to $13, with a few lightweight dairy breeds down to $8.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold for $10 to $14, and culls drew $8 to $10.

Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $17 to $19.50 and were quotable to $20 in load lots. Stocker and feeder steers and steer yearlings of good grades sold from $15 to $17.50, and plain stocker of various ages sold from $10 to $13.50. Replacement heifers and heifer calves were quoted $2 to $3 under similar quality steers. Stocker cows were slow and weak, a few sales from $8 to $10.50.

Good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $18 to $20, and cull to medium lambs cashed at $10 to $17. Stocker and feeder lambs drew $13 to $16.

Slaughter ewes sold mostly from $4.50 to $5, with some freshly shorn ewes downward to $3. Pelt credit and old slaughter ewes were regarded as worth $1.50 to $2 or more per hundred, which accounted for the low price offered for those freshly out of the shearing pens. Old wethers drew $8 to $12.50. Yearlings wethers were reported from $10 to $16. Old bucks sold around $4.

The John R. Black Estate ranch. Judges who had accepted earlier include D. W. Lewter, Lubbock feedlot operator; Bill Green, Albany rancher and Jeff Slocum, Cresson rancher.

Judging of these special sales events has been one of the highlights of the affairs, and competition has been keen among the producers of quality commercial cattle.

First September event at the yards will be the stocker and feeder show and sale for Aberdeen-Angus cattle. This sale will be held September 7. Last year the September sale of blacks attracted over 2,700 cattle, and this year it is expected that many or more may be offered.

The dry conditions over much of the territory has made predictions difficult on just how many stockers and feeders will be available at that time.

Currently the rise in fat cattle prices and consistently good demand for stockers and feeders is being viewed at an optimistic sign for these prices to be paid this Fall on the available stockers and feeders.

Bob Stark, Mendota, Illinois, feeder buyer, reported here this week that a load of champion Angus feeders he bought here last year sold on the Chicago market recently at $24.50.

These cattle were the first to bring that price at Chicago and were sold a few weeks ago just as the market started to rise. They brought $25 as feeder calves here last year.

Owens took him home over the week end and attended the Knox County reunion at MacKenzie Park in Lubbock on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowden and Mrs. S. B. Campsey were among those who attended the 50th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Branton in Knox City last Sunday.

Miss Peggy Parks of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls was a week end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Parks.

Mrs. W. V. Tiner of Portales, N. M., visited friends here the first of this week.

Mrs. Jeff Mitchell of Seymour visited friends here last Monday.

make more of those apple pies. You think, at this point, that the writer is touched in the head, by this August heat, and a statement like that, just doesn't make sense. You are right, of course, until you have mixed together, the following ingredients, and tasted the result: quarter 16 saltine or Ritz crackers into an uncooked pie shell. Mix the following, and spread over them: 1 1/4 cups sugar, 1 tsp. each of cinnamon and nutmeg, also 1 1/4 tsps. cream of tartar. Last add 1 1/4 cups water, 2 tsps. lemon juice, complete as the real apple pie, brown and serve.

The tiny cheese crackers make this recipe even better, used portionately.

Then, too, one man cloud do little in raising taxes without the full cooperation of the Commissioners Court.

I am obligated to no one in this race, and I promise the people of my precinct and county a fair, impartial and honest administration if elected to this office.

Very sincerely,

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
To Be Voted On At An Election To Be Held On November 6, 1956.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 44 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Article VII, Sections 17 and 18, providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at State institutions of higher learning and repealing Chapter 330, Acts, Regular Session, 1929.

Section 1. That Sections 17 and 18 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereinafter read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the State ad valorem tax on property of Section 52 (7) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation herebefore permitted by Section 52 of Article 7, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by this Constitution, a State ad valorem tax on property of Two Cents (2c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at State institutions of higher learning, and for the establishment and maintenance of the State Building Fund, as provided in Section 51b, Article 3, of the Constitution.

Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution, a State ad valorem tax on property of Two Cents (2c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at State institutions of higher learning, and for the establishment and maintenance of the State Building Fund, as provided in Section 51b, Article 3, of the Constitution.

The amount of such taxes shall not exceed three per cent (3%) per annum and shall mature serially or otherwise not later than September 1, 1956, and September 1, 1976, respectively, provided, the power to levy bonds or notes hereunder is expressly limited to the period of time necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the Thirty Cents (30c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation, shall never exceed Thirty Cents (30c) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation, and all such bonds and notes shall be sold only through competitive bids and shall never be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest.

Funds raised from said Five Cent (5c) tax levied for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1956, shall be allocated by the State of Texas on the first of that year, based on the average long session full-time student enrollment (fifteen (15) semester credit hours shall constitute one full-time student) for the preceding five-year period of time, to the following State institutions of higher learning: Texas State College at San Marcos; Texas State College at Austin; Texas State College at Comanche; North Texas State College at Denton; Sam Houston State Teachers College at Houston; Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos; Stephen F. Austin State College at Nacogdoches; Sul Ross State College at Alpine; West Texas State College at Canyon; Texas Southern University at Houston; Lamar State College of Technology at Houston.

Not later than June first of the beginning year of each succeeding ten-year period, the Controller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, based on the average long session full-time student enrollment (fifteen (15) semester credit hours shall constitute one full-time student) for the preceding five-year period of time, shall re-allocate, to the above-designated institutions of higher learning then in existence, all funds to be derived from said Five Cent (5c) ad valorem tax for said ten-year period; and all such designated institutions of higher learning which participate in the allocation of such funds shall not thereafter receive any General Revenue Funds for the acquiring or constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements for constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements, except in case of fire, flood, storm, or earthquake occurring at any such institution, in which case an appropriation in an amount sufficient to replace the uninsured loss so incurred may be made by the Legislature out of any General Revenue Funds. The State Controller of Public Accounts shall draw necessary and proper warrants upon the State Treasury in order to carry out the purpose of this amendment, and the State Treasurer shall pay warrants so issued out of the special fund hereby created for said purpose. This amendment shall be self-enforcing, provided, however, it shall become operative on effective upon the adoption of this amendment, but shall become operative on January 1, 1958; provided, further, that nothing herein shall be construed as increasing the obligation incurred by any outstanding note or bonds herebefore issued by any State institution of higher learning, and this Section prior to the adoption of this amendment, but such notes or bonds shall be paid both as to principal and interest from the fund as herebefore allocated to any such institution, and this Section shall not affect in any way the prior allocation of the revenue for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1948, as herebefore authorized by the Legislature of Section 51b of Article VII of this Constitution as amended August 23, 1947, Chapter 330, Acts, Regular Session, Fifty-third Legislature is repealed upon the effective date of this Amendment, but the obligations incurred by the governing boards of Lamar State College of Technology and Texas Southern University at Houston under the provisions of said Chapter 330, Acts, Regular Session, Fifty-third Legislature are not affected by this Amendment, and the Texas Forest Service, the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas is hereby authorized to issue negotiable bonds or notes not to exceed a total amount of one-third (1/3) of twenty per cent (20%) of the net income of the Permanent University Fund exclusive of real estate at the time of any issuance thereof, provided, however, no building or other permanent improvement shall be acquired or constructed hereunder for use by any part of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, except as provided for and for the use of the general fund of the institutions of said System, namely, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, Arlington State College, Texas College, and Prairie View A. & M. College, without the prior approval of the Legislature or of such agency as may be authorized by the Legislature to grant such approval; and for the purpose of constructing, equipping, or acquiring buildings or other permanent improvements for the University of Texas System, including the Main University of Texas at Austin, the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston, the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, the University of Texas Dental Branch at Houston, Texas Western College of the University of Texas at El Paso, the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston, the University of Texas Postgraduate School of Medicine, The University of Texas School of Public Health, McDonald Observatory at Mount Locke, and the Marine Science Institute at Port Aransas, the Board of Regents of the University of Texas is hereby authorized to issue negotiable bonds and notes not to exceed a total amount of two-thirds (2/3) of twenty per cent (20%) of the net income of the Permanent University Fund exclusive of real estate at the time of any issuance thereof, provided, however, no building or other permanent improvement shall be acquired or constructed hereunder for use by any institution of the University of Texas System, except as for and for the use of the general academic institutions of said System, namely, the Main University of Texas Western College, without the prior approval of the Legislature or of such agency as may be authorized by the Legislature to grant such approval. Any bonds or notes issued hereunder shall be payable solely out of the income from the Permanent University Fund, bonds or notes so issued shall mature serially or otherwise not more than thirty (30) years from their respective dates.

The Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College System and all of the institutions constituting such System as hereinbefore enumerated, shall not, after the effective date of this Amendment, receive any General Revenue funds for the acquiring or

Knox Prairie Philosopher Pauses Between Convention Speeches To Give Thought To Farm Problems

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has been listening to the national convention, but apparently not closely enough, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: I have been following the national political conventions pretty close lately but in between major speeches and during recesses I've been keeping some newspapers handy to brush up on my mental work, and the other day while the delegates were recovering from a speech solving the farm problem and before they settled down to hearing the foreign situation taken care of, I flipped through a paper and ran into an article that said that in spite of the drought in many areas the nation's farm surplus will double in the next ten years.

If that's true, and despite the drought I notice the country is going to produce about as much this year as it did last year, then the problem of what to do with surplus farmers still remains.

I have seen several answers to this problem, but haven't made up my mind.

For example, one expert says farms should be taken out of politics.

Another says they should be taken out of production. The only trouble with these two solutions is that they won't work. Trying to take the farm problem out of politics is sort of like trying to take Congress out of existence. And trying to take a farm out of production is sort of like trying to teach a cow to eat up to your property line and not step into the adjoining pasture when the fence is down. You can take nearly any given farmer out of farming and make a barber or a grocery clerk out of him, but when he quits somebody else moves in, and production stays the same, maybe improves a little if the farmer who quits is no better at producing than I am.

To tell you the truth, and I don't want this to get around to the politicians as I like to see something in all platforms about the farm problem, it's sort of like seeing your own name in the newspaper, it doesn't mean anything but it reads good, but as I say, to tell you the truth, I don't think there is a solution to the farm problem. Eliminating the farm problem is about like eliminating the tax problem, or the problem of eventually needing a new car. All such problems are here to stay.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Write a Letter To Your Heirs

Every person should, of course, make a will, so that his wishes for those he cares for may be carried out after his death. Our courts will then see to it that his wishes are put into effect.

But as a rule your will is too important to clutter with detailed facts and advice to your survivors. It is not the place to tell where you keep your important papers, although your survivors should know. They might need these papers in probate proceedings or to carry on your business. Some of these papers may bear on your survivors' actions.

So put these vital facts in a letters to your survivors:

Where is your will? In a deposit box? At your office? Or tucked away some place for safe keeping? You might have hidden it so that nobody can find it. It might be destroyed by accident. Your will is no good unless it can be found.

Who is your executor—the person or institution you want to carry out your will? To whom do you look for sound business advice?

Where do you bank? With whom do you deal at the bank? Some persons have a savings account in one bank and checking accounts in others. Where are your safety deposit boxes? Do you keep important papers in other places? List these places.

Where do you keep all your insurance policies—life, health, car, accident, others? They may cover your family as well as yourself. Your family may wish to continue them.

Where are your personal account books? Letters about your business affairs? Your cancelled checks and receipts? These facts will protect your estate from false claims.

Do you own real estate? Where are the deeds and abstracts or title insurance policies? Do your records show a capital gains basis for your real estate and what you invested in any piece of real property? Tell your heirs what you think they should do about your real estate and other property.

Do your records show which property is separate and which is joint? The division of your property may rest on these records. Besides, good records may save tax dollars.

Besides current bills, do you have any debts? If so, list them and your creditors. Where are the copies of your income tax returns? Your car title?

Note these subjects: Old age and survivors' insurance, pensions, profit-sharing plans, group insurance, club memberships, royalties, estates and trusts, and joint ventures. Put down social security number.

These are just a few things to cover in the letter you leave. You will think of others. Give your heirs every bit of pertinent information about your properties and business activities.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

is how Will Rogers once described America. 'Belonging' to a friendly group provides needed fun and companionship. But an infinitely greater experience is 'belonging to God's family.' 'As many as received Him (Christ) to them gave He power to become the sons of God.' John 1:12

Sales of U. S. Farm Goods Overseas Upped In 1956, States Extension Expert

Surplus agricultural commodities valued at about $1 1/2 billion have been sold to foreign countries in exchange for their own currency since September 1954. Of this sale of $759 million worth was arranged for in the first six months of 1956, says Extension Economist John G. McHaney.

He reports that the USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service has had primary responsibility for these agreements for sales of surplus commodities. The program of foreign surplus sales was provided for by Congress under Title 1 of Public Law 480. To date 59 agreements with 27 countries have been arranged with 27 of the agreements coming during the first six months of 1956.

Commodities sold for foreign currencies include wheat and wheat flour, feed grains, rice, cotton, tobacco, dairy products, poultry, fats and oils, dry edible beans, fruits and vegetables, meat products, cotton lint and seeds. In terms of dollars value, wheat flour leads the list of commodities exchanged ($526 million worth), with cotton second ($358 million).

The foreign money received is being used to buy strategic materials, for developing agricultural markets abroad, payment of U. S. debts, and loans to friendly countries for trade and economic development.

Public Law 480 provides other ways of disposing of surplus farm commodities. These include shipments for famine relief and other assistance abroad, donations for foreign and domestic relief through non-profit voluntary agencies and inter-governmental organizations and barter contracts.

Under all these programs, about $3 billion worth of agricultural commodities have been disposed of since the beginning of operations under Public Law 480 in 1954.
