Odd Bits Salvaged

We've always been pretty well acquainted with work. There's been some of it attached to our every-day living, in some form or other, all of our life. Sometimes when work becomes bore-some, we kinda get to wishing we didn't have to do it. Then, we realize, too, the way to be completely unhappy is to not have a thing in the world to do.

A man by the name of Bob Burdett, whoever that is, gave some advice to his son on the matter of work. We ran across it the other day and came to realize that work is a more blessed privilege than we think it is when we're head over heels in it. Here it is:

"Son, remember you have to work. Whether you handle pick or wheelbarrow or a set of books digging ditches or editing a newspaper, ringing an auction bell or writing funny stories, you must work. Don't be afraid of killing yourself by overworking on the sunny side of 30. Men die sometimes, but it is because they quit at 6 p. m. and don't go home until 2 a. m. It's the intervals that kill, my son.

"Work gives you an appetite for your meals; it lends solidity to your slumber; it gives you a perfect appreciation of a holiday. There are men who do not work, but the country is now proud of them. It doesn't even know their names; it only speaks of them as Old So-and-So's boys. So find out what you want to be and do. Take off your coat and make dust in the world. The busier you are, the less harm you are apt to get into and the sweeter will be your sleep, the lighter your holidays, and the better satisfied the whole world will be with you."

We used to shun work even before we were old enough to work in the fields. Our mother used to go out to chop cotton and leave us and a younger brother to do the churning. To us, that constantly up and down motion with a churn dasher was work of the meanest type.

We brothers devised a scheme of taking turn about with the churn dasher. One of us would churn while the other ran around the house a certain number of times, then we would change chores. We realize now that the work we were doing to get out of work was harder work than the work we had to do—if you get what we mean.

Our two older brothers had the wash washing chore each evening, while we were yet too young for that. When we got old enough, to dry them, the older brother stepped out of the picture. It was a long time before another one grew up to take our place, and we began to think we'd never get old enough to quit drying dishes. Know something? We never have!

We got old enough to chop cotton, eventually. Along about 10:15 we'd get to thinking it was dinner time, and we'd ask Dad about it. He'd stand up straight and look at his shadow—he could tell time more accurately by his shadow than with a watch—and say, "No, we've got time to hoo another round."

Dad wasn't with us that time we were hoeing on our seventh birthday, and we guess our own shadow kinda storied to us. Any way, we sauntered in for dinner at about 10:30. After a good switching and a rather stern order from Mom, we went back and hoed that other round!

Picking cotton was another type of work we never did relish. But after we got old enough to know we should work rather than idle around, we had some rather strict rules to follow. Dad would give us a dime for picking 200 pounds in a day, a whipping if we didn't. It was very seldom we came under that 200 mark without a valid excuse!

We're not on the sunny side of 30 any more, but we reckon certain types of work don't hurt us none. But we're not hiring out for the boll patch today, nor tomorrow, if we can help it!

Oil Activities

Christie-Stewart Drilling Co. of Wichita Falls tore down the rig on the No. 1 Lee Roy Leflar, 1/4-mile southeast of Munday, last Monday. The 2,200-foot test was reportedly abandoned as a dry hole.

Six miles southeast of Munday, the same drilling company is drilling the No. 1 J. W. Goode, a 2,000-foot venture.

I & L Development Co. and Hayden Farmer abandoned the 2,100-foot H. J. Michels, one mile northeast of Munday, as a failure.

Abandoned at 2,401 feet three miles northeast of Knox City was E. B. Clark Drilling Co., Wichita Falls, No. 1 Roy Day.

Other wildcat locations made recently include:

Glenn W. Copper of Seymour No. A-2 Golden and Golden, two miles east of Goree.

Schulz and Brannan Drilling Co. et al No. 1 D. B. Weaver Estate, 1 1/2 miles north of Munday.

Throckmorton Oil Co. of Throckmorton No. 1 City of Goree, one-half mile east of Goree.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England,
Knox County Agent

Due to the prolonged drought, livestock can be expected to go into winter at much less than peak condition. They can also be expected to do a much better job of utilizing feed if the lice and ticks are kept under control. This can be done by spraying with a .5% solution of toxaphene or a combination of a 5% DDT and 0.3% lindane. For milk cows, a 5% solution of methoxychlor should be used.

A considerable number of farm operators will miss their refund on gasoline used for farming between January 1 and July 1, 1956 unless they act at once. Claims for the two cents per gallon refund must be filed on or before October 1, 1956.

A supply of Form 2240 for reporting this claim is available at the County Extension Office, Munday Coop Gin Office and the ASC Office in Knox City.

Mr. and Mrs. Derald Gray of Hale Center visited relatives and friends over the week end.

TO BROTHER'S FUNERAL
Mrs. Della Parnell attended the funeral of her brother, Elmer Scott, in Abilene last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Scott passed away Friday at his home in Abilene. He had been in ill health for three years.

Lions Entertain Faculty Of Goree School On Monday

The Goree Lions Club entertained the school faculty and trustees at their meeting last Monday night, when around 63 persons attended.

The meeting was called to order by Rev. C. R. Mathis, president. Invocation was given by Rev. Walter Hadley, and Supt. J. B. Lawson introduced the trustees and faculty members.

Pete Beecher introduced the speaker, J. H. Bardwell of Munday, who gave a very interesting talk on the teacher problem, essential needs for student, teacher and parent relations, and the teacher shortage in Texas. He said teachers were going to other states at an alarming rate due to the higher salaries offered. Mr. Bardwell has 38 years of teaching experience, 20 of which were in the Goree school.

The meeting was also ladies' night for the club, and Mr. Bardwell was accompanied by his wife, who also teaches in the Munday schools.

Ladies of the Goree Cemetery Association served the dinner. Benediction was given by Dr. W. M. Taylor.

Salvation Army Fund Drive Will Open On Tuesday

With a goal this year of $750.00, the annual fund campaign for the Salvation Army program in Munday will begin Tuesday, September 25, 1956 at 7:00 a. m. with a kick-off breakfast at the American Legion Hall. This meeting will be for all of the volunteer workers that will be helping on the drive in Munday and the northern part of the county, according to M. L. Wiggins, chairman of the local Salvation Army program.

The local committee, composed of persons representing all of our area, helped many people locally with emergency relief during the past year, Wiggins said. Services rendered are done through the local committee and with a minimum amount of "red tape". Usually it is only a matter of minutes before a person received the help that is necessary . . . once their case has been brought before the local committee.

Moguls To Play Albany's Lions Friday Night

They're old foes—those Albany Lions—but the outcome of this year's game won't mean anything in district standings because the Moguls and Lions are in separate districts this year.

But the Moguls and Lions have put up stiff battles, and the game next Friday night, when the Moguls journey to Albany for their annual tilt will be no exception.

Both teams are smarting under two defeats in non-conference play this year, and both have yet a win to add to their side of the ledger. This should spell an interesting game to any football fan.

While the Seymour Panthers were downing the Moguls last Friday night 27 to 13, the Lions went down by a close 14-13 count at the hands of DeLeon.

The Moguls are getting stronger and more determined as the season advances and they draw nearer to their district games. The game Friday night will hold interest for the large number of fans who plans to accompany the team to Albany.

TWO REVOLUTIONS

Every schoolchild learns of the industrial revolution—a revolution that utterly transformed man's way of manufacturing goods of every kind. The agricultural revolution has been equally thorough-going—and should be given equal attention.

A Boston bank sums up what has occurred in a single century. One hundred years ago two-thirds of all the workers in this country devoted their efforts to producing our food and fiber. Now that production is accomplished by only 10 per cent of the working population. Thus, 90 per cent of all workers can turn to doing other jobs and making and processing and distributing other things. That is one reason for American material abundance—and American living standards.

This almost unbelievable change has been brought about by better farming tools and methods. Among them, mechanized farm equipment dominates. It is not too much to say that the first workable tractor ended one era and began another. Then came all the other modern machines and attachments, to make possible production at maximum efficiency with minimum labor—and to provide the means for conserving the land for the future.

The industrial revolution continues, with ever-improving tools and techniques. So, in exactly the same way, does the agricultural revolution, thanks to farm equipment and the other aids.

NEED OF THE HOUR

Writing in U. S. News & World Report, David Lawrence reviewed the appropriations record of the last Congress and said: "More than $60 billion were appropriated at this session, and much of it as a plain subsidy to big voting groups."

"Where is all the money coming from to meet the new obligations just piled on the taxpayers by Congress? It may turn out that the 84th Congress made a new record of some kind in preventing any income-tax cuts for many years to come."

The need of the hour, Mr. Lawrence then said, is nonpartisan taxpayer groups in every congressional district "to encourage those candidates to run for office who will check the spending streak."

"The biggest and most legitimate congressional lobby in the country is the public. But it seldom gets going." San Francisco News

BEFORE YOU DIET

Reducing diets seem to have reached the dimension of a craze in this country. A word of warning is in order. Elemental wisdom demands that no one should undertake a diet—especially those of an experimental and strenuous kind—without first obtaining competent medical advice.

An example is provided by two new low-protein diets which have been given much publicity. One is based on a liquid combination of corn oil, evaporated milk, and dextrose. The other employs regular foods, but the foods chosen contain little protein.

Two physicians and the American Medical Association's council on foods and nutrition have now warned against the indiscriminate use of these diets. Their statements appear in a recent issue of the AMA Journal. One statement questions both the safety and effectiveness of the diets. The other two urge that people use them only under strict medical supervision. A note of discouragement enters too—even patients on whom the original diets were tested successfully regained weight when they quit the diets.

It is also pointed out that some people wrongly blame protein for causing their obesity and, left to their own devices, may go to a dangerous extreme of protein reduction or elimination. The science of dietetics has proven that a substantial protein intake is necessary to the mental and physical vigor of the great majority of people.

In any event—before you diet, see your doctor.

SIX OF THE BEST!

Sydney, Australia, like many an American community, has been plagued with juvenile crime. Duck-tailed teen-agers, called bodgie-boys Down Under, have wantonly destroyed automobiles, engaged in gang wars, and beaten innocent bystanders.

Sydney's answer takes the form of a two-pronged ordinance. First, the parents must pay for the damage done by their delinquent offspring. Second, as Robert Ruark vividly phrases it, "A father must, in the presence of a police officer, apply six of the best to sonny boy's stern—with a police whip, and to the satisfaction of the attending officer."

Sydney has set a precedent that every city and town could profitably follow.

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

Church of Whose Choice?

Occasionally we hear encouragement to "attend the church of your choice" or to "Go to Church Sunday, any Church but go." Although this is well meant it is out of harmony with God's word.

God's word does not support every doctrine taught by man (Matt. 15:9). Every "plant" which the Father did not plant "shall be rooted up" (Matt. 15:13). And Jesus warned of "blind" leaders (Matt. 15:14). Therefore to encourage men to follow someone regardless, is out of harmony with scripture. Surely no one would knowingly encourage honest people to believe doctrines condemned by Jesus.

It would be much better to say, "Attend the church of Christ's choice" or "Go to the Lord's church Sunday". After all—Jesus has a choice. He promised the church of His choice (Matt. 16:18). He gave Himself for the church of His choice (Eph. 5:25). He shed His blood for the church of His choice (Acts 20:28). And He is coming again for the church of His choice (Eph. 5:27).

But how may we know which is the church of His choice? We have the New Testament which declares it. We know what it was called (Rom. 16:16). We know those in it had repented and were baptized to be saved (Acts 2:38, 47) before being added to it. We know that all of the saved were members of it (Acts 2:47). We know that it was one undivided body (1 Cor. 1:10; 3:3; Eph. 4:4). We know that members believed and followed the apostles' teaching (Acts 2:42). We know members partook of the Lord's Supper and contributed on the first day of the week (Acts 20:7; 1 Cor. 16:12). We know that it could teach no more or less than what the New Testament teaches (Gal. 1:8-9).

Following the New Testament it would be simple to locate His choice today. We need to look in God's word for the New Testament. We need to encourage men to look for the church of the Lord's choice. Otherwise we will be doing that which finds no parallel in the word and which is contrary to our Lord's will in the matter.

Building improvements on the 31.11 acre site, located directly behind the State School for the Blind, will cover approximately 15 acres. Space will be provided for parking approximately 650 cars. The remaining ground will be devoted to sheep enclosures and animal houses, used for research and laboratory testing procedures.

Construction on the first phase is scheduled for completion by August, 1958. When finished, the health agency "will be housed in one of the most modern and best equipped facilities of its type in the nation," Dr. Hollie said.

Housed within the first phase structures will be complete laboratory facilities, including areas devoted to biological production, virus and rickettsial studies, medical bacteriology, sanitary bacteriology, chemistry, parasitology, serology, entomology, tetanus toxoid production, general services, shipping and receiving, animal quarters, and laboratory administration.

UNORDERED MERCHANDISE

Suppose the mailman delivers to you a package containing a necktie—or a book, key-ring tags or a phonograph record—that you didn't order. Either with it, or by later mail, is a bill or request to remit the price.

What are your obligations, assuming you don't want the merchandise? Must you return it? Can you use it and not pay for it? Must you keep it, or can you throw it away?

Generally speaking, recipients of unordered merchandise are under no obligation (a) to return it; (b) to acknowledge its receipt; (c) to pay for it unless used; (d) to give it particular care; or (e) to keep it beyond a reasonable time.

You are obligated to surrender the merchandise if called for in person by the shipper or his agent within a reasonable time. But you can demand storage charge before surrendering the item. If you mail it back at your own expense, you very likely will stay on the sender's mailing list and will receive other shipments in the future.

There are no postal regulations governing unordered merchandise, except where fraud is involved.

Congress is trying to draft some legislation that will cover the situation. However, if you know what is in the envelope or package, you can write "REFUSED" across the face of the piece of mail and hand it back unopened to the mailman. No further explanation is required. You don't have to accept any class of mail. Further, your refusal probably will result in the sender having to pay return postage.

A ruling by the Federal Trade Commission holds it a violation of the Federal Trade Act for a sender of unordered merchandise to claim that "the receiver is under obligation . . . to pay for or return the merchandise." Hence, if you don't use the merchandise, you are within your rights in refusing to pay for it.

In summary, unless you want to use the item, in which case you should pay for it, you should keep it for awhile and then may throw it away.

If another person's mail is improperly delivered to you, do not open it, as such action might make you liable to serve legal penalties. Such mail should promptly be re-deposited in a postal box with an appropriate notation thereon, such as the or "not 14 South Brown Street", showing the address to which the mail had been delivered.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

FARM SOCIAL SECURITY RETURN DUE ANNUALLY

Farmers are no longer required to file Social Security returns on a quarterly basis, according to Mr. C. B. Dixon, Administrative officer of the Wichita Falls office.

During 1955 farmers were required to file a quarterly Social Security return with the District Director of Internal Revenue. Due to a change in procedure, farmers now file one return in January covering all taxable wages paid to farm employees during the preceding calendar year.

A farmer must file a Social Security return during the year when he quits farming before the end of the year and has paid taxable wages during the year.

Beef Promotion Check-off Fails In California

FORT WORTH—National attention has been focused on the state-wide vote in California to check-off 10 cents per head on all cattle sold, the money to be used in promotion of beef. It was announced that 10,846 cattlemen voted on the matter, and that some 46,000 ballots had been mailed out by the state government.

In the balloting only 54% voted for the check-off and 46% were opposed. The act passed by the California legislators provided that 65% must approve before the check-off could become law. The levy would have yielded about $400,000 a year. According to state law another referendum can be held in two years.

Cattle Prices Weaken: Weak To 50 Cents Lower.

One of the largest offerings of grass cattle and calves of the year arrived at Fort Worth Monday and most classes reflected weaker prices. Sales ranged from steady to 50 cents lower, with the medium and common cattle and calves showing the larger declines.

Continued dry weather in the Southwest has narrowed the outlets for stockers, especially the plainer kinds.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $17.00-26.00; fed heifers $24 down. Plain and medium butcher cattle $12 to $17, with some canner kinds down to $10. Fat cows $9.00-12.00, few young choice cows $13.00 or above. Canners and cutters $6.00-9.00. Bulls mostly $9.00.

12.50. Good and choice fat calves $14.50-17.50, baby beef heavies to $18 or above, one such lot of 15 creepfeds weighed 650 pounds at $20. Cull to medium slaughter calves $8.00-14.00. Stocker steer calves $19.00 down; stocker steer yearlings $18.00 down.

Hogs Advances 25 Cents, Sows Steady At Fort Worth.

Choice butcher hogs topped at $16.50 to $16.75 at Fort Worth Monday, a 25c higher market than at the close last week. Heavy butcher drew $14, to $16.25, and some pigs drew $12 to $14. Sows cashed at $13 to $14.50.

Sheep And Lambs Strong: Killers And Feeders Active.

The rather small supply of sheep and lambs at Fort Worth Monday was sold and weighed early in a very active market at stronger prices. Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $18 to $20, strictly choice kinds quotable to $21, and shorn lambs sold from $19 downward. Cull to medium lambs drew $10 to $17. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $13 to $16.25.

Yearling muttons sold from $10 to $16.50. Old wethers drew $8 to $12.50. Slaughter ewes sold from $4 to $5, with a few emaciated lightweight ewes to $3, and some fancy fat ewes to $5.50. Old bucks sold around the $4 marker.

U. S. D. A. Buying Spreads To Poultry And Eggs

The recent announcement that the USDA would launch a hamburger buying program to support the live cattle prices this fall was preceded very shortly by a similar announcement that turkey and eggs were in line for government purchase, too.

Texas' turkey crop is a record one, and the overall supply across the nation is far larger than had been expected earlier this year. The big increase in laying flocks, reported early this year, is creating a chaotic egg price situation, hence the buying programs.

The food will be used in the school lunch program and federal institutions, as permitted under the law.

Farmer And Stockman Ain't Neutral!

We had a request from Fort Worth's NBC outlet to help Announcer Bud Sherman line up a couple or three farmers or livestock men to be interviewed and their ideas be carried on the nation-wide "Monitor" program.

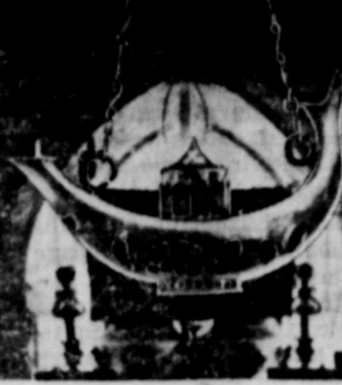

Question was "I'm going to vote for _____ because _____"

Then the farmer or stockman would tell whether it was Ike or Adlai he was for, and why.

We consider it a certainty that who ever gets asked this question ain't likely to be neutral! No, suh!

Lamp Lights Columbus' Tomb

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic—This beautifully molded silver lamp, embedded with precious stones, gives perpetual light before the tomb of Christopher Columbus in the Cathedral of Santo Domingo in this city. The lamp, a gift of the city of Genoa, Italy, the great Discoverer's birthplace, is in the shape of a crescent moon and reminds one of the lamp used by Aladdin. Ten panels surround the lamp depicting other explorers, who with Columbus, brought European civilization to America. The white marble tomb itself visible behind the lamp at the main entrance to the oldest cathedral in America shelters the bronze casket which is opened to reveal Columbus' remains on October 12 each year in this lush semi-tropical tourist haven.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS MEET SEPTEMBER 12

The Munday High School Future Homemakers of America held its first meeting in the high school building of September 12 to organize and elect officers.

Mrs. Canafax, sponsor, presided for the election of officers. The following officers were elected: Margaret Yandell, president; Ava Mary Taylor, vice-president; Carroll Claburn, secretary; Lorene Armstrong, treasurer.

Meetings will be held once a month. Approximately 73 girls attended the meeting.

FAST SERVICE ASSURED ON ALL SOIL TESTS

The number of soil samples being sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory at College Station have dropped to a new low for this season, reports M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist who has charge of the lab.

The chemist says the big reason for the slow down is the continuing drought and the uncertainty that rains will come in time to permit the seeding of fall and winter pastures or winter legume crops. But Thornton is sure that Texas farmers and ranchmen who go ahead with their planning will be far ahead when rains do come.

General rains could cause a last minute rush of soil samples to the lab which would overtax the facilities and delay analysis reports to producers for many days; thus slowing the job of seeding if the lab report is to be of value.

Thornton believes that farmers should be prepared to take advantage of any situation which gives them enough moisture to insure a stand of fall seeded crops. By submitting soil samples now while the lab is not too busy, producers can be assured of getting fast returns. Too, they will be in a position to go ahead with the planning for fall and winter crops.

The dollar spent for a soil analysis is often described as the best dollar which can be spent for fertilizer. The soil analysis could mean the difference between an average or below fall and winter cropping season or a highly successful one. Top yields of high quality forage are needed now in every section of Texas and the use of fertilizers will play a big part in making these objectives possible, says Thornton. A soil analysis will show the amount and kind of fertilizer needed to get the most from crops or pastures regardless of the growing season.

The Black Blight On Cotton

A little considered but increasing alarm among processors of cotton is the costly presence of "tar spots" which result in big losses to the mills.

These black blight, unnoticed in the ginning process, are collected among freshly gathered cotton either through use of asphalt-coated pick sacks or by carrying cotton to market over freshly tarred roads.

When this happens and the cotton is subsequently ginned, all cotton in the bale is "contaminated" with tar spots which show up during cloth processing at the mills.

What's worse, when one bale of tar cotton is mixed with 39 other bales in the bleaching room at a mill, all material made from the entire 40-bale lot contains tar. This results in necessary price reductions of 10 to 20 percent, and in some instances, total rejection.

Now, more than ever, mills are pin-pointing areas from which blighted cotton continues to come. This may result in general penalties by industrial price-cuts to innocent farmers who live in an area full of careless neighbors.

The wise thing would be for everyone to discard the old asphalt-covered pick sack and to keep his raw cotton as clean as possible as long as it is still in his hands.

immigration officials is the cause of growing concern among fruit-growing states.

The mediterranean Fruit Fly, black and yellow and about 1/2 to 2/3 the size of a housefly, was first seen about three months ago in a grove near Miami, Florida. Since that time the pest has spread into 20 Florida counties and a resultant concentrated campaign is underway to check infestation.

For if the Medfly should get a foothold in this country, the fruit industry of which Texas is a major part will be doomed to great losses.

The female of the species lays her eggs under the peel or skin of the fruit, and when they hatch, little white worms emerge and burrow into the fruit. Their wide appetite includes citrus, peaches, figs, peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, and cantaloupe to name a few.

Texas and Federal quarantine experts are keeping a close watch on this worst of all fruit pests with a determination to pre-empt any westward movement.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Favors Not Only Getting Out The Voters, But Also Getting Out The Candidates

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses politics this week, another subject he's no authority on.

Dear editor:
As you know, I'm no politician. It's true I may not work very hard or very productively for a living, but still I'm no politician; as far as I'm concerned how hard a man works is his own business, and if he wants to quit his job on the Suez Canal or turn the motor off on his tractor and go fishing, it's nobody's business, yours or Egypt's.

But that's not what I started out to say. What I started out to say was that I've been reading in newspapers lately and hearing over the radio and television about the importance of getting out the vote in the November elections.

I even heard one candidate say he'd rather have a man vote against him than not vote at all. Well, now, I'll tell you. Aside from the fact most candidates wouldn't share that view privately, at least if I was in a close race and a man who was opposed to me had a flat on the way to the polls, I'd stop and help him fix it but it would take me so long the polls would be closed before the job was done, what a lot of people seem to neglect in their campaign to get out the vote is a campaign to get out the candidates.

That is, you take a race for a minor office where two men are running and there ain't a nickel's worth of difference between the two and neither one of em really suits you, I never have been able to figure out what the advantage was in trying to make a decision. In most cases, the country is bigger than the candidates, anyway, or we never would get anywhere.

I have noticed that generally when there's something or somebody to vote on, the voters turn out. I'm not saying the voters don't have a duty to vote, it's an important duty, and as far as I'm concerned it's easier and more fun than plowing, and I never miss a chance, but a little more attention ought to be devoted to the task of getting out the candidates, too.

How this can be done though is out of my department. It's my job just to be in favor of better candidates and higher farm prices. How to do it is somebody else's job. How about you taking it?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Baptists believe in a supreme Book, one that presents the laws of God for man to follow. They believe that this Book is from God, and that it remains the same from one century to another. Though written long ago, it is just as supreme as when recorded.

It is not a book to be changed by congresses and courts, even if these are set up by churches or religious organizations. Nor is it a book for any single class.

This Book, of course, is the Bible. Written by many authors, it has sixty-six books that unfold real life stories. Their accuracy is supported by men of today who have explored the civilizations of nations that no longer exist.

Despite the various nationalities and languages of its writers, and the hundreds of years over which they lived, there is a remarkable unity in the Bible that indicates its inspiration by God, a truth that Baptists devoutly believe.

The Bible is a Book of history, telling how man and God have dealt with each other. It is a Book of law setting forth rules by which man must live in his relation both to God and his fellowman. It needs no supplement to bring its message to the twentieth century.

Moguls Drop Second Game To Panthers

If they'd played the first half like they did the second, we might have beat them!

That's what fans remarked of the fighting Munday Moguls last Saturday, after they had dropped their second game of the season to the 4-AA Panthers on Panther Field last Friday night.

The Panthers scored twice in the first quarter to gain a substantial lead, then rolled to a 27-13 victory over the Moguls. Larry Walling scored the first two touchdowns for the host team on runs of 41 and 22 yards, and Bill Moss kicked both extra points.

E. L. McClung passed to end Cecil Forester from the 20 yard line in the second quarter to make it 20-0 before the Moguls got their taste of pay dirt.

This came in the form of a 31-yard to end D. Elliott from quarterback Glen Amerson, whose aeriels were accurate and meant the difference for the local team. Amerson flipped another pass to Lee Bruce from 33 yards out in the fourth quarter, as the down to the final gun. Amerson kicked Munday's only extra point. Seymour's fourth TD was scored by Larry Ware in the third quarter, and Bill Moss kicked three of the extra points.

Salvation Army—

and Milton Kirby of Vera. All money received in the campaign to be launched Tuesday will be turned over to the local treasurer to be prorated for local and statewide use. The state agencies of the Salvation Army which receive a portion of the funds offer services which the county may use at any time that they are needed. These agencies include disaster relief work; a prison parole system; home and hospital for un-wed mothers, men's social service centers, evangeline homes for working girls, and a fine summer camping program.

Tom Bullington is campaign chairman for the drive this year and names the following as team captains. Charles McCauley, Winston Blacklock, Mrs. O. O. Putnam, Bill Quattlebaum, Dr. Delmon Alexander and Mrs. Johnny Feyson. Each of these team captains will have four or five workers who will be named shortly, according to Bullington. Every effort will be made to give every person an opportunity to have a part in this worthwhile work in our town and in the state of Texas.

Mrs. Florence Bowden had a nice surprise last Thursday afternoon when her cousin, Mrs. Tessie Serrell Waldon, of Merkel, whom she had not seen for fifteen years, and Mrs. George Serrell and Mrs. Georgia Cox of Trent visited with her. They were enroute to Seymour for a visit with relatives.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our many friends for the cards, flowers and visits to Mrs. Robertson while in the hospital. They helped make the two weeks more pleasant.

CONSERVATION RESERVE is for ALL FARMS

All farm land regularly used to produce crops, including tame hay, is eligible for the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces. Farmers participating in the Conservation Reserve will sign contracts through County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees to shift land from production to conservation uses. Contracts will be for 3 or 5 years if the land already is in an approved cover crop; for 5 or 10 years if approved cover must be established; and for 10 to 15 years if trees will be planted. Up to 80 percent of the costs of conservation practices may be paid by the government. In addition, annual payments on the land will be made during the life of the contract. Farmers also may participate in the Soil Bank's Average Reserve if they have allotments for wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice, or tobacco.

BOYCE HOUSE

A glory this generation has never known is the circus parade.

I have never understood just why circuses quit having parades. Perhaps they took too much time and effort. Or maybe the owner felt that the parade gave away too much of the show. One reason ascribed is the damage to the street by the marching elephants—a reason which needs only to be stated for one to see just how absurd it is.

Another reason advanced is that city officials demanded too many passes. That sounds more likely. But whatever the cause, or combination of causes, the world is the poorer.

Can you remember the expectancy that the coming of the circus produced? At school, a week ahead of time, everybody would be asking everybody else, "Are you going to the parade?" Of course, we all were.

Not everyone could spare the money for a ticket to the circus but everyone could see the parade—and did. The whole family went. Some even took a box of sandwiches along. People lined the route for an hour before time for the parade to begin. In fact, it seemed that the time for it to start would never come, so slowly did the minutes drag by.

But at last there was the cry, "Here it comes!" and we saw, in the distance, glinting in the sunlight, a wagon of gilt and crimson, drawn by four white horses. Some of the wagons were open, revealing a sleeping lion or a pacing tiger. Other wagons were closed and we boys speculated on the mystery of what they held. There were bands, and pretty ladies in pink tights and spangles, and clowns—and the elephants, including a baby one at the rear of the line.

And then we heard, far away but growing steadily more distinct, the sound boys and girls all dreaded—the notes of the steam calliope—we called it a "cale-ope" and the reason we dreaded the music from the puffing pipes was because we knew that the calliope was the last of all and that the parade was ending.

This generation has motion pictures, radio and television—but we had the circus parade.

OCTOBER PLENTIFUL FOODS ARE LISTED

The harvest moon of October will shine on a cornucopia bulging with plentiful foods. This despite the prolonged drought which has cut deeply into agricultural production in many states of the nation.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, Southwestern Regional Office, Dallas, reports that protein-rich foods dominate the October list.

These include beef turkeys, stewing chickens, broilers and fryers, as well as eggs, peanut butter, cheese, milk and other dairy products.

Potatoes and cabbage are the only vegetables carried on the October listing of plentiful foods.
