The newspaper serves its field as no other media can serve it; and, therefore, is a vital part to our every-day living.

k-k

And newspapers are the best media for advertising. You may sit down to enjoy your favorite radio or TV programs and find it interrupted by advertising—an interruption that sometimes rubs you the wrong way. You may have your mind or eyes diverted from these programs. Did you ever try to go back and pick up the part you lost? You can't pluck it out of the air again.

k-k

But you can with your newspaper. Cast it aside if friends call for a visit, look up from its pages to take care of your child for a moment, lay it aside to go outside and change the water sprinkler, then come back and your newspaper is there. Pick it up and resume reading where you left off.

k-k

That's an important part of your newspaper, and the advertiser's message is still there when you decide to resume perusing the newspaper's pages.

k-k

We think, in most instances, the weekly newspaper is serving its field as efficiently as the larger dailies are serving theirs. The newspaper is the town's criterion of progress or lack of progress. That's why a person, when contemplating locating a business in a town, usually asks for a recent issue of the town's paper. Through its columns and pages he can get a picture of the town and its merchants.

k-k

A friend of ours, now deceased, used to pay tribute to our publication in these words: "Why, you can pitch the blamed thing up into the air and read it before it hits the ground, but if you miss it, it's just like missing your breakfast."

k-k

Every week is "newspaper week" for friends of the weekly press. The newspaper is welcomed into their homes so they may read news of their friends and loved ones, those with whom they are associated during the days, weeks and months of the year.

Moguls Down Greyhounds, 54 to 0; Play Paducah Here On Friday Night

It wasn't long after the opening whistle until the Munday Moguls had charge of the football game last Friday night as they trampled the Throckmorton Greyhounds, 54 to 0, to give the visitors their third loss of the season. Led by quarterback Glen Amerson, the Moguls evened their record 2-2 prior to entering district play.

With only four minutes gone in the first period Boyd Meers plowed 15 yards for the first Mogul tally, and Amerson added the extra point with a kick through the uprights. The play was set up by a 75 yard run on which Amerson crossed the goal marker, but a clipping penalty brought the ball out to the 15 from where Meers tallied.

Meers again started off the scoring in the second stanza with an off-tackle play which went 25 yards, and Amerson again converted.

On the last play of the half, Amerson passed to end Lee Bruce for 25 yards and another tally. Amerson's toe was good again as the half ended 21 to 0.

Amerson started the third period off with a 45 yard scamper for six points, and his conversion was again good.

Grabel plunged five yards for the lone Greyhound tally, and the kick was wide.

Amerson took the Greyhound kick on his own 20 and returned it all the way for another Mogul score, but this time his kick was wide.

With only one minute gone in the final period, Bruce raced 55 yards to score again for the Moguls, and Amerson converted. Only two minutes later, Freddie Caram duplicated the run made by Bruce for another six points, but Amerson's conversion missed its mark.

Then as the clock was ticking away its last 15 seconds of the game, Amerson rambled 25 yards on the last play to add the final Mogul score. Extra time was needed for the extra-point kick, which was wide, and the Moguls had racked up the final 54-6 score.

While the Moguls were adding their victory, their next opponents, the Paducah Dragons were battling to a 20-20 deadlock against Floydada. The Dragons are the first district opponents for the Moguls, and the game will be played on Scruggs Field at 8 p. m. Friday.

The superior playing of the Moguls, plus good teamwork between line and backfield are pointing them toward district wins, and many fans from this area and from Paducah are expected to attend the first conference game next Friday night.

Members of the Munday Mogul Band came home with prize trophies last Thursday after competing in contests at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair at Iowa Park.

Outpointing their nearest competitor—Roosevelt, Okla.—the band won enough points to take the sweepstakes in these contests. They won second place in marching with 90 points, while Roosevelt was first with 92. The Mogul Band won first in concert, with Roosevelt second, giving the two bands a tie.

But twirlers, Gayle Littlefield and Jacqueline Clowdis, came through with enough points for sweepstakes. Miss Littlefield placed second, while Miss Clowdis was fourth.

Six bands were scheduled for the contest, but only four were in competition.

Kick-off For Scout Fund Drive Slated

The Boy Scout program in the Northwest Texas Council requires a 1957 budget of $65,290.55 to continue current operations and provide for the increasing number of boys wanting in the program, Dwight Key announced.

Mr. Key is chairman of the fund campaign which kicks off here Oct. 9 to raise the Scout budget. It is part of a state-wide coordinated Scout fund-raising drive which will raise approximately $2,250,000 for Scouting in Texas during 1957.

"Too much stress cannot be placed on the importance and the need for meeting our local fund campaign," said Mr. Key.

"We are only asking for the money to continue training the youth of our community to be better prepared in body, skills and in spirit as they grow into young men and finally into the leaders of tomorrow."

Each year, he added, the demand for enlarged Scouting facilities and more Scouting groups continues as more and more boys reach Scouting age.

"This year we have 3615 boys in our local Scouting program," he said. "And we expect to have a record number next year. We want to be able to offer Scouting to any boy who asks for it next year."

"To do this, we must be able to help our local Scouting executives and the churches, schools and other sponsoring groups."

At a special meeting of the Commissioners Court last Friday, John Smith of Knox City was appointed tax assessor and collector for Knox County to fill the unexpired term of M. A. Bumpas, Jr., deceased.

Mr. Smith has had a number of years' experience in the office and is able to take up the office duties in an efficient manner.

Outpointing their nearest competitor—Roosevelt, Okla.—the band won enough points to take the sweepstakes in these contests. They won second place in marching with 90 points, while Roosevelt was first with 92. The Mogul Band won first in concert, with Roosevelt second, giving the two bands a tie.

"Notice is hereby given by the Knox County Democratic Executive Committee that they will hold a meeting in the county court house at Benjamin, on October 11 at 2 p. m. for the purpose of naming and appointing a nominee of the Democratic Party for the office of Knox County Tax Assessor and Collector on the November ballot to fill the vacancy of M. A. Bumpas, Jr., deceased, and to notify and certify to the County Judge of Knox County of said appointment."

"All persons interested in making application for said appointment must do so by filing an application for said office with Leroy C. Melton, chairman of the Knox County Democratic Executive Committee, with a letter to said committee stating qualifications and signing the pledges required by law. Application and pledges may be obtained from Leroy C. Melton, chairman, at Benjamin, Knox County, Texas. All applications must be filed with the chairman, Leroy C. Melton, no later than 12:00 noon on the 11th day of October, 1956. Any applications received after that time will not be considered by the committee."

"Notice dated and signed on this 2nd day of October, A. D. 1956, at Benjamin, Knox County, Texas."

Nearly 100 Farmers Hear Irrigation Specialist In Meeting Monday Night

Dr. John Schunk, irrigation specialist of Denver, Colo., discussed "Use of Irrigation Water for Profit" before a group of 95 irrigation farmers and other interested persons from Knox and adjoining counties last Tuesday night. The meeting was held in the Munday school auditorium, and farmers gained some valuable information that will aid them in future crop irrigation.

Earlier in the afternoon, a tour was made by Dr. Schunk and 36 persons, including James Simmons, district extension agent, officials of the Burlington Railway and irrigation farmers, to the farms of Herbert Partridge, Johnny Michels and B. E. Smith. During the tour, Dr. Schunk demonstrated a method of determining the amount of water penetration in an open ditch system of irrigation. He also emphasized the importance of head pressure in maintaining an adequate pattern of water application with a sprinkler system.

Dr. Schunk's visit to Munday was made possible through a

A WELL-DESERVED TRIBUTE

Plans for the observance of Oil Progress Week—October 14-20—include paying tribute to the oil industry's ambassadors of good will—the service station operators.

There are some 200,000 service stations in this country, of which the great majority are run by competitive small businessmen. They are the chief contact between the consumers of oil and the oil industry. Thus, the station operator is a symbol of the industry he represents. "Just as we can drive into his station, say 'Fill her up,' and be sure of prompt and efficient service, so can Uncle Sam say to an oil company 'I need a million gallons of jet plane fuel' or 'Ship a hundred tanker loads of diesel oil to our defense forces in Europe'—and be equally sure of prompt action." And the day-in-and-day-out pressure of competition which has brought the service station to its high level of development is equally as strong in the 42,000 larger businesses within the industry.

From the community standpoint, the service stations and the men who own and work in them are a tremendous asset. As one local chamber of commerce said, "We salute the men from whom visitors get their first impressions of our town, the first local residents most visitors get their first impressions of our town, the first local residents most visitors meet, and the only residents many travelers talk to. They send a stream of customers to our restaurants, stores, hotels and other businesses. . . ." Oil Progress Week is certainly a good time to give these men a hand.

SIGN OF THE TIMES

The government now uses a check writing machine which produces 100 checks a minute. But, apparently, this machine is obsolescent. A new one is on order—and it will zoom out the checks at the rate of 300 a minute.

That is about as typical a sign of the times we live in as anyone could imagine.

BELLINGHAM, WASH., HERALD: "Despite the political cry of 'giveaway' when any diminution of government-owned property is suggested, if much of this property were on the tax rolls as private property the tax burden. . . . would be materially lightened. Basically, the nation was built on a policy of private enterprise."

WELL-INTENTIONED—BUT!

Once again a drive is underway to bring about revision of the federal wage and hour law. One goal is to raise the minimum wage again. Another is to extend this wage to certain service enterprises, retailing being one, which are and have been exempt ever since the act was first passed.

An arbitrary raise in the wage would be an invitation to more inflation. It would lead to demands for wage boosts all along the line, for workers in more skilled and responsible jobs would naturally want to maintain their traditional differentials in the pay scales. It is likely that the minimum wage group would soon find they were no better off than before—and very possibly would be worse off.

Blankets extension of coverage to the presently excluded groups would be another blow to state's rights. It would ignore the plain fact that retailing and other service functions are 100 per cent local in nature. Whether a store is a one-man operation or part of a big chain, it must compete on the local level, meet local needs—and adapt itself to local costs and other conditions which vary greatly throughout the country.

Finally, these proposed changes would hurt those they are designed to help by depriving them of opportunity. Retailers and others would be forced to pare marginal employment to the limit—the service rendered would not be worth the wage cost. Then the inexperienced would have a diminished chance of learning the skills that would qualify them for better jobs.

ROOM APLENTY

According to the last census, almost 9,000,000 people earn their living, in whole or in part, from employment in retailing. This makes retail trade one of the biggest of all businesses.

At the same time, most retail stores constitute small business ventures. The Census Bureau also tells us that, of the approximately 1,720,000 individual retail stores, about 1,500,000 of them do an annual business of less than $100,000.

Retailing is an enterprise in which there is room aplenty for stores of every size and kind—from the biggest chain system to the little family operation.

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

But He Was A Leper

Of a Syrian army officer it is written, "Now Naaman, Captain of the host of the King of Syria, was a great man with his master, and honorable, because by him the Lord had given deliverance unto Syria; he was also a mighty man of valor, but he was a leper" (2 Kg. 5:11). This great military man had what was regarded at that time an incurable disease by human skill.

Naaman had about every thing that people want to make them satisfied with life. He stood at the top in the estimation of his king, like many other men, he was great with man, but not with the Lord. He was honorable and mighty, but he was a leper. All of his advantages in life were set at naught by one physical defect.

To a rich young man, who inquired about eternal life, Jesus said, "One thing thou lackest, go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give it to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, take up thy cross, and follow me" (Mk. 10:21). This man had asked the Lord what he must do to have eternal life. When Jesus told him to keep the commandments of the law of Moses, he said he had kept all these things from his youth up. He had a covetous heart and was very rich, and went away sorrowful.

This prompts us to ask if this young man really wanted eternal life if he could have it on his own terms. And remember this, "For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all" (Jas 2:10). One disease can ruin life; one bad habit ruins character; one duty neglected will cause a person to lose eternal life.

As Naaman went to the house of Elisha to be healed, he made up his mind as to how it should be done. He wanted to be healed servant told him to go and wash seven times in Jordan, he was in his own way. When Elisha's wroth. He thought the prophet would come out to him, and call on the name of his God, strike his hand over the sore and heal him. He was healed only when he obeyed God's command.

No one can be saved by doing he think it right. He may do what his conscience approves and still not be a Christian. Doing all of God's commandments but one does not make a Christian.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollie, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Fear of cancer can not help its victim, and unreasonable fear should be replaced by intelligent action concerning this disease, is the opinion of Dr. Henry A. Hollie, Commissioner of Health.

The commissioner said that cancer can usually be cured in its earlier stages, before it spreads to other areas of the body. This has been demonstrated by the fact that many persons have been treated successfully by surgery, radium or x-ray and are living now, many years after a definite diagnosis of early cancer was made. Many people postpone diagnosis when they suspect cancer either because they dread to hear the truth or because they believe that a cure is impossible.

In the treatment of cancer, time is the most important factor, according to Dr. Hollie. To produce satisfactory results, treatment must begin early in the course of the disease while the cancer is confined to a small area.

Persons suspecting cancer should consult their physician as soon as they notice any unexplainable lump, unusual discharge, a persistent sore on any part of the body, or any change in the appearance of a mole or wart. It is disastrous to wait for pain, as this is a late symptom that usually doesn't occur until the malignant growth has made considerable advance. Two main rules should be followed in combatting cancer. First, have an annual physical examination by a reputable physician. In this way incipient cancerous conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease can be conquered. The second rule is to mistrust high promising statements of "amazing new discoveries."

The value of early diagnosis cannot be stressed too strongly. For that reason all persons, especially those of middle age or older should have regular periodic physical examination at least once a year.

Mrs. Wheatley Is Speaker At Study Club's Meeting

Mrs. Robert Wheatley of Hasell, second vice president of the first district and state board director of "Know Your America Week," told the Munday Study Club members and their guest "What's New in Federation" last Thursday night.

After naming new officers in general, state and local federated clubs, she told of her plans for the new year. In the Texas organization, a new department, "Religions of the World" has been added, and a new project "Dorothy House Vieman Oriental Scholarship," has been established. The project is in memory of the daughter of Mrs. A. J. House of Yoakum, state president.

Mrs. Wheatley closed her remarks with these words based on Ogden Nash's poem, "September: 'A club year is a challenging thing that I wouldn't part from for a day. Whatever and how much you put into it determines how much you get from it.'"

Mrs. Don Combs, director, introduced the speaker and the president, Mrs. W. O. Ratliff, who brought greetings to the guests, presidents of neighboring clubs: Mrs. C. J. Reese and Mrs. Sam Emory Clonts of Knox City, Mrs. Orb Coffman of Goree, Mrs. Dutton of Weinert, and Mrs. Helen McClure of New York.

Mrs. Dwight Key entertained with piano selections while the guests arrived.

The fellowship hall of the First Baptist church was decorated in garden fashion for the dinner, using the cornucopia filled with fruit, ivy and Pyracantha berries. Mrs. Robert Lloyd gave the invocation.

Hostesses for the dinner were Meses. Gene Thompson, A. A. Smith, Jr., J. C. Borden, R. D. Atkinson, Bill Stewart, Leland Floyd and Bob Brown.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. G. P. Burns over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cheek and Donovan, Mrs. T. A. Walker, Ronnie and Patti Ann Price all of Fort Worth.

Peggy Armstrong Honored At Shower On Saturday Night

Miss Peggy Armstrong, bride-elect of Adrain Albus, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday night, September 29, in the home of Mrs. Fred Lain.

The bride-elect's table was covered with a lace cloth over pink. The centerpiece featured a large spray of white mums as the background with a miniature bride and groom standing before a white gate in front.

Miss Helen Ford greeted the guests at the door and Miss Maxine Henson presided at the guest book. Miss Ilene Bellinghausen served the cake and Miss Arleida Moore laded the punch.

Hostesses for the occasion were Meses. Nora Broach, Earl McNeill, L. J. Hill, J. C. Elliott, T. H. Clark, Edd Johnson, Quel Hughes, Fred Lain, Kenneth Baker, Floyd Patton, Larry Don Lain, Joe Lane, Mike Albus, Misses Helen Ford, Arleida Moore, Ilene Bellinghausen, and Maxine Henson.

Mrs. J. B. Phillips Honored On Her 85th Birthday

With all of her children except one here to help her celebrate, Mrs. J. B. Phillips was honored with a birthday dinner last Tuesday, celebrating her 85th birthday. Don Phillips of Plainview was unable to be present.

Children present for the occasion were Mike Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Norvill, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hickabee, all of Munday, and Troy Phillips of Phoenix, Ariz.

Other guests for the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Jim Phillips, Mrs. Ellie Phillips and Mrs. T. I. Phillips, while Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Phillips and Miss Helen Phillips visited in the home during the afternoon.

Troy Phillips of Phoenix, Ariz., visited his mother, Mrs. J. B. Phillips, and other relatives here over the week end.

Cartons For Picnics Of No Returns

Here's how you can set a complete picnic lunch and throw away all serving items entirely without cost. It's all done with milk cartons. 1—For plates you simply split empty half-gallon waxed paper milk cartons the long way. 2—You fetch your beans, hotdogs and other foods in half-gallon cartons which you have re-sealed (by cutting off the peak of the gable top and refolding the pouring spout). 3—For serving pickles, cottage cheese, relish and condiments, use split halves of quart cartons. 4—Bring your own ice, frozen in smaller size cartons in your deep freeze unit. Your milk or fruit beverage, of course, comes in a sealed carton, also disposable. 5—A couple of extra cartons takes care of leftovers, if any. 6—You start your picnic fire with cartons, and when you are all through you dump all the used serving cartons in the fire or trash container. To return home... with no returns.

MODERN HOMEMAKING RECIPES... HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter
HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

Today's busy homemaker who learns to prepare a variety of salads will find she is well on the way toward easier-to-prepare, more tasteful meals.

Salads can serve either as a main dish, as an accompaniment to the main dish, as a dessert or as a party food. Other advantages of learning to prepare a variety of good salads include saving time on meal preparation, being able to prepare meals ahead of time and turning leftovers into tempting table extras.

During hot summer months, salads permit the homemaker to serve light foods to her family. Salads can make a meal refreshing and add color to the table.

It seems there is always a salad to suit each individual personality. Today, for instance, many people are dieting. They turn to salads as a source of low calorie food. Others who cannot eat certain foods find their appetites satisfied with salads.

When youngsters rebel against eating a needed vegetable, they may often be induced to eat that particular vegetable when mixed into a salad. The same may also hold true with fruit.

Salads afford the homemaker opportunity to use her imagination freely when preparing a meal. She can substitute an ingredient in an old favorite recipe and often come up with a new delight for the whole family. Or she can create her own salad recipe and bring a new touch to the table.

Here are some suggestions that will add the "artistic touch" to a salad: (1) For a crisp and fresh appearance, combine or arrange salads just before serving; (2) Chill ingredients thoroughly before combining in a salad; (3) Keep the arrangement of the salad plate as simple as possible; (4) Watch for color, texture and flavor variety when combining salad ingredients.

For additional free information on salads send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601, 301 S. Harwood, Dallas, Texas.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Green-cabbage Salad: Combine two cups shredded cabbage, 1/2 cup chopped parsley, and one medium onion sliced and separated in rings. Chill in refrigerator. Combine stirring until sugar is dissolved, two teaspoons sugar, three teaspoons vinegar, two tablespoons salad oil and one teaspoon salt. Pour over vegetables, toss lightly until well mixed. Garnish with additional onion. Yields four servings.

Ike Better Democrat Than Adlai, Says Supporter

A bunch of us were standing around talking the other day, and the talk got around to politics like it usually does. Some of the boys said they'd voted for Ike in '52 and were going to do it again; some of them said they'd always voted the Democratic ticket straight and always expected to—you know how it goes around a little Texas town.

One fellow said something that made the rest of us stop and think. He said he was a Democrat, sure—always had been, and his father and grandfather before him. And he always felt like he had to vote for the best Democrat in the race, which he was going to do this year.

"And that means," he said, "that I'll have to cast my vote for Ike Eisenhower. He's a better Democrat, by my definition of a Democrat, than that other fellow ever will be."

And besides that, he said, Ike kept his promises to Texas and Texas ought to return the favor by keeping Ike.

You know, he might have had something there. "Gratitude" is one of the greatest words in the English language, and we all like to think of ourselves as being grateful when people do something for us. Like I heard a man say one time: "Texans are people who never forget anything that is done TO them—or FOR them." That's the way we think of ourselves, and it's about right.

This Eisenhower man pointed out that Ike promised to give the Tideland back to Texas, and he kept that promise; he promised to do his best to close out Mr. Truman's war in Korea, and he kept that promise, and he promised to give us a government in Washington that we could be proud of, because it was clean and honest and efficient—and, in this man's opinion, he had kept that promise.

"I know you're reading and hearing a lot of stuff to the contrary," he told us, "coming from Brother Stevenson and Brother Kefauver and the rest of the politicians on the other side. That's politics for you. Everybody expects them to jump on Ike every way they can, and I guess they'll keep on doing it right up to Nov. 6. But the American people are smarter than some politicians give them credit for being, and before they vote they're going to sit down and ask themselves this question:

"Remembering 1952, when our boys were dying in Korea and the newspapers were full of talk about mink coats and Communists and corruption in Washington—now, be honest about it: If you could, would you go back to 1952 and start over with Adlai Stevenson instead of Dwight D. Eisenhower?"

This man said he wouldn't, and come to think of it, I wouldn't either. As a matter of fact, I think Ike has made us one of the best presidents we ever had. If we had to go to war, I'd certainly rather have him at the head of our government than any other living American. But even more importantly—I'm convinced he is the best man to keep up OUT of war.

That's why I still like Ike—better than ever!

Yours truly,
Tex

How To Redeem Soil Bank Certificates

Redemption of soil bank certificates, an important item to many Texas farmers, has been explained by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Under certain circumstances, the certificates will be worth a little more than face value. But mostly, they are on par.

The soil bank chits earned by farmers for reducing acreages of wheat, corn and rice will be valued at 105 percent of their cash value when exchanged for grains in the Commodity Credit Corporation inventory or when used to redeem grain they have put under price support loans. This is a minor "give-away" to farmers, themselves, in order to reduce politically hot surpluses.

For exchange purposes, the value of the CCC-owned grain will be set at the current support price for the grade, class and location of the grain. The certificates may also be redeemed for cash at 100 percent of face value.

CCC-owned grain will be available through warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement. The grain will be delivered at local warehouses or terminal elevators but CCC will not supply grain at locating other than where it has stocks. In other words, no cross-country movement of grain into an area where it is not grown.

Wheat certificates may be exchanged for wheat, barley, rye, oats or grain sorghums—but not for the other two basic grains.

CARD OF THANKS

The kindness and sympathy of neighbors and friends in our recent sorrow will always remain with us as a precious memory.

Our sincere gratitude for all those comforting words, the flowers, cards and other kind-

Mrs. Clara Sue Bumpas, Billy, Brett and Bryan Mr. and Mrs. Bill King Mrs. Maggie Bumpas Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Newberry. 1tc

corn and rice. This limitation applies to corn or rice acreage reduction certificates. Rice chits cannot be swapped for corn or wheat, and corn chits will not get rice or wheat.

Grains will not be available during harvest periods, CCC officials point out. CCC will not exchange a particular grain for certificates during the harvest season for that grain in the area. This harvesting limitation will also apply to redemption of grain under loan by use of certificates.

One of the saddest things about wrong-doing is the suffering it brings to the innocent members of the family of the law-breaker. A man was on trail and his wife was seated at his side. A newspaper photographer raised his camera and said, "Smile." The wife replied, "What is there to smile at? Tell us something to smile about and we will."

Had you always thought of Daniel Webster as great in size? That was my idea of him until recently I read a description by Senator George F. Hoar who had seen him and he said that Webster was five feet, nine and weighed about 154 pounds.

When I was a boy living in a large Southern city, the ice-wagon were really wagons, drawn by horses. The drays were horse-drawn. The two-wheeled carts that hauled bales of cotton from the steamboats were pulled by a horse, or his kinsman, the mule. The same was true of the vegetable huckster's wagon, the street-sprinklers, the delivery wagons of stores.

At night when there was a fire alarm, the fire engine rushed by, steel shoes of horses striking sparks from the pavement.

Except for the trolley cars, the traffic of the metropolis moved to tempo of horses' feet.

Even the hearses. Thousands and thousands of horses! But now not one—not even the sound of the hoofs of a milkwagon's horse, with slow and lonely clatter breaking the quiet of a street in the gray of early day.

Gone, all gone. Just ghosts . . . Memories.

A lawyer was trying a very important case. On the stand was a scientific expert. The attorney asked a hypothetical question which covered all the points in the case. It took him 45 minutes to ask the question. The witness' answer, in full, was "I don't know."

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

EARNEST MONEY CONTRACT NO CASUAL MATTER

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their respective legal rights in the transaction are thereby set and determined. If the contract is poorly and haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost without exception involve the deposit. The fact that such deposited sums are usually to be forfeited in event the depositor later fails to go through with his specified contractual obligations lends additional weight to the often stated admonition that no contract should be signed without complete understanding as to its terms.

But many home purchasers (and sellers) rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps the fact that a partially printed form is used may contribute in causing the true importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate, many are lulled into a lapse of good business judgment.

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must, the street number being inadequate by itself.

Articles and fixtures included in the sale but not always sold with houses generally should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction, complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement.

The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated loan transaction falls through, his contract requiring payment of the entire consideration is cash.

The sales contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished.

The buyer's individual circumstances and desires may require that various matters not mentioned above be provided for in the contract. All too often people try to squeeze a sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving to easily misconstrued or forgotten oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pit-fall of the printed form." Too many unfortunate entanglements have been announced by clients to lawyers with the words, "I have signed a receipt for a house on Blank Street. Will you take over now and see that everything is O. K.?"

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Last Quarter Starts With Livestock Rush.

FORT WORTH—The livestock industry tore September off the calendar and started the month of October with a rush of all kinds of livestock to market. The 12 major markets reported 178,000 cattle and calves Monday, some 33,000 ahead of the previous week and near 15,000 ahead of the same date last year. Hog and sheep runs were also far in excess of the previous week, but hogs dropped slightly behind a year ago. At Fort Worth cattle and calves were in considerably large numbers than a week earlier or a year ago.

Trade was rather slow on cattle and calves at Fort Worth with most classes selling steady at best, and by the time a clearance was completed most grassers were inclined to drift lower.

Comparative prices included: Good to choice fed steers and yearlings $17.00-24.00; and common and medium sorts $10.00-16.50. Fat cows $9.00-11.50, canners and cutters $5.00-9.00; bulls $8.00-12.00; good and choice fat calves, all weights, 14.00-17.00; baby beef heavies $17.00-19.00. Some 550-pounders at the higher figure; cull, common and medium calves $7.00-13.50. Stocker steer calves $19.00 down; a few stocker cows $7.00-$10.00.

Sheep and Lambs Open Active, Steady to Strong.

Somewhat smaller supplies of sheep and lambs at Fort Worth found trade active and strong Monday. The offering around the major market circle put pressure on prices at other markets, however, here the trade was oblivious to goings on elsewhere.

Sales included: Good and choice slaughter lambs $18.00-20.00, top paid for shorn lambs with No. 1 or No. 2 pelts. Cull to medium sorts $10.00-17.00; stocker and feeder lambs $12.00-17.00; slaughter ewes mostly $4.00-5.50, a few hard shells, fresh clipped, from $3.00-3.75; old bucks $3.50-4.50; old wethers $8.00-13.00; yearlings $10.00-16.50; some stocker ewes $6.00-8.00; yearling ewes to $15.00.

Hogs Open Steady; Runs Getting Heavier

Top butcher hogs scored $16.75 at Fort Worth Monday, despite the fact that 12 major markets chalked up over 33,000 hogs that day and prices waived almost everywhere. Less desirable weights and grades sold from $13 to $16. Lightweight unfinished hogs were discounted sharply. Sows drew $13 to $15.

Next Feeder Sale Set For October 19th.

Next stocker and feeder special show and sale at the Fort Worth Stockyards is set for October 19. It'll feature Herefords, white-faces, crossbreds Herefords, etc.,

as usual.

Drouth Breaker!

Rudolph Pulkrabek lives about two miles west of Bartlett, and he has been hauling water for 16 head of livestock since July. But, according to the story he saw in the Granger News he has partially broken the drouth on his place. Seems that County Commissioner F. E. Martinets has been hauling gravel from the dry creek on Pulkrabek's place to repair the roads.

He had to quit, because the digging uncovered the long dry springs and started them running again. Picture in the Granger News showed a lovely, lovely patch of stock water as a result.

Like To Gaze In The Crystal Ball?

U S D A forecasters think livestock prices will continue above the relatively low levels of a year earlier for the rest of 1956. Hog prices, though declining seasonally as marketings increase, will stay above the Fall of 1955 with the greatest difference late in the year. Some decline in prices of fed cattle is probable because of the likelihood of sizeable marketings of shortfed stock. Some decline is also expected for feeder cattle but cattle prices generally will average above a year ago.

Egg product is now increasing seasonally. Output will probably continue above a year earlier for the rest of this year and prices will probably be lower. Broilers will continue in about 20% larger supply than in the closing months of last year, with prices below those of a year ago.

The above from the "Agricultural Outlook" by Agricultural Marketing Service, U S D A.

Private sources think long fed cattle prices may hold well, but shortfeds will break sharply late this year.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says He Favors 4-Day Week For Those Who Just Want To Work That Much

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses work this week, a subject he's as familiar with as he is high society.

J. A.

Dear editor:
I visited my neighbor's house the other night to return a newspaper I'd borrowed a couple of weeks ago and when I walked in he held his finger up to his lips in a sign, to be quiet, he was watching television, and since I didn't have anything else to do, which I understand is the frame of mind you've got to be in to get the most out of your set, I sat down and watched too.

But the program he thought was coming on failed to show up on account of a political broadcast, which I really preferred anyway, and I was interested in what the speaker, who happened to be Vice President Nixon, had to say.

He talked a good while, but the thing that made me sit up was his statement that this country is heading toward a 4-day week. Work four days, take off three. He said though for us not to look to the government to bring this about, it'd have to be up to industry and the people.

Now, while I've never had much use for a man who had to ask the government how many days a week he had to work, I'd like to say too that as far as I'm concerned I don't want to have to ask industry or the people, either. I don't want to ask anybody. I'm in favor of everybody or anybody having the freedom to work four days a week, 'if he wants to work that much.

I understand there has been some discussion and possibly misunderstanding over a Congressional candidate's visiting Washington and saying the troubles of the small farmer wouldn't be so great if he'd get up and go to work. This seems to just exactly backwards to me.

The trouble with the farmer, big and little, is that he's been working too much, or how else do you explain the surpluses? As I see it, there are two ways to avoid a surplus: (1) consume more of it, or (2) stop producing so much of it. And up to now, it seems like all the brains have been devoted to producing it, at least the people in charge of increasing the consuming part don't seem to be holding up their end.

I don't want to be bragging, but it looks like I've been way ahead of the rest of the country. I tried the 4-day week long ago, then the 3-day, the 2-day, the 1-day, and occasionally the no-day week, but my trouble is that when I got my work week down to nothing, it took care of the over-production end, but threw a monkey wrench in the consuming end.

The trouble with this country is it's got to the point where it's a lot easier to put groceries on the store's shelves than it is to take them off. You or Congress one ought to work on that end of the problem.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

4-H DRESS REVUE TO BE STAGED AT TEXAS STATE FAIR

October 6 is the date set for the 1936 State 4-H Dress Revue, top achievement event in the 4-H clothing program.

Forty-six high-scoring district contestants will represent more than 6,000 girls who took part in the county and district revues this year.

The revue will be staged in the women's building on the State Fair grounds at 10:30 a. m. October 6 as a feature of Rural Youth Day, according to Extension clothing specialists.

An added feature of this year's revue will be the participation of twelve 4-H Club boys, district State Fair Honor Award winners. They will show proper dress for various occasions as they escort models in the different divisions of the revue. Mrs. Jessie Southworth, fashion coordinator for Sanger Bros., will instruct models and serve as commentator.

A highlight of the total 4-H clothing program, the State dress revue is really an achievement event. Training in grooming, poise, health, clothing care, repair and construction are a regular part of the program. Eligibility for the district and State revue require also that a girl be between the ages of 14 and 21 years and have completed at least three years of club work.

Judges will consider construction, selection of design and fabric, becomingness, fit and choice of accessories; grooming, posture, poise and record add to the score.

Top award will be an all-expense trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago to model in the National 4-H Dress Revue.

The SOIL BANK has 2 PARTS

The Soil Bank is a two-pronged attack on surpluses and soil depletion, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says. The Acreage Reserve seeks reduction of the six basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice and tobacco. The Conservation Reserve encourages the shift of general cropland to conservation uses. Payments help farmers make these adjustments. Acreage Reserve Payments are based on normal yield of land taken out of wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice and tobacco. Two types of payments are made for participation in the Conservation Reserve. One is a practice payment, which may be as much as 80 percent of the cost of applying approved conservation measures. The other is an annual payment for cropland placed in the Conservation Reserve. The national average for this annual payment is about $10 an acre. Additional information may be obtained from the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, which are responsible for carrying out the Soil Bank program.
