

Kracker Krumb's

Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

One of them "furrighners" from up Chicago or New York way was giving out with the weather report via radio a few days ago. He closed with "It's raining down in Texas—the first rain they've had in seven years."

Isn't he the smart guy? First off, he kinda implies that Texas is not much bigger than Stone-wall County and when it rains it rains all over Texas. We're just a bunch of drouth-riden cowboys who haven't seen a drop of rain in seven years. What he didn't know is that it rained a total of 11.11 inches right here in Knox County last year!

But we reckon none of it was appreciated any more than what we received over last week end. Made things kinda inconvenient so far as getting around or going places were concerned but plumb convenient for staying by the home fireside.

And that .69 of an inch of moisture that came along with the sleet and snow is not to be sneezed at. Although the ground wasn't entirely covered—we had some clods in our freshly plowed back that showed—the stuff stuck like a stick-tight and melted in a slow, easy manner. Made things kinda sloppy, but the only places where there was a runoff was on concrete and pavement.

It'll give the old wheat a boost—and it's boosted morale as much as any .69 could. All folks think we need now is just more of the same.

It brought about some very pertinent remarks, such as this we heard Monday: Chester Bowden at post office, "This is just about enough moisture for me to sow my wild oats," to which came a rejoinder by Bud Nelson, "By the way, if you haven't done already sowed them, you never will!"

Anyway, it's a very important step toward breaking this prolonged drouth.

Others have been in the same quandary we were in about just what is an Eisenhower-Democrat, because they'd told me they would like to know, too. Answering the ting-a-ling of our telephone last Tuesday, we received an answer—maybe not the answer but an answer. Owner of the voice on the other end of the line wouldn't reveal himself until we pledged his name wouldn't appear in print, but here's his answer: "An Eisenhower-Democrat is a fellow who is ashamed to admit he's a Republican."

Height of ambition—to long to be able to sit by the fire with an ample supply of good old home-made ice cream—on a day like last Saturday or Sunday!

He walked carefully, stiffly across the icy street, holding himself rigid, taking short, meditated steps. As he reached the other side safely and was inside the drug store, Judge Billingsley remarked: "You know a fellow can fall out there and break his watch crystal unless he's careful."

You won't be able to vote, come April 2, for our next U. S. Senator unless your poll tax is paid before midnight tonight (Thursday). Likewise, you will be denying yourself the privilege of voting for city officials, school board members, or in any tax or bond issue that might come up. Better tie yourself over to the tax collector's office in a hurry!

Joe Spann Now With Blacklock's

Announcement was made this week that Joe Spann, former assistant coach in the Munday schools, is now associated with Blacklock's Grocery. The "tall boy" needs no introduction to local people, 'cause he's lived here just about as long as he's lived. And he's "in the harness" at Blacklock's, busy and smiling. He's going to shoulder some of the load carried by Ben Blacklock all these years, and Ben plans to take it a little more easy in the future.

Joe invites all his friends to visit him at any time they're in the notion of buying groceries.

Merchants Bring Dollar Day Feb. 4

Several merchants of Munday are continuing their dollar day event into 1957, with the next dollar day being on Monday, February 4. "We believe the merchants of Munday can offer the people of this trade area values equal to those to be found in any other town," a spokesman for the Dollar Day event stated, "and we want to continue serving the customers of our trade area. Our Dollar Day was not designed in an effort to attract crowds outside our trade area, but to bring our own people values comparable to those outside our area and to show them we appreciate their trading with their home town merchants. Although fewer of the local merchants are participating in the February Dollar Day, those who are carrying ads in this week's paper involve the variety stores, most dry goods stores, and some others. You'll find Dollar Day values next Monday at the following stores: Bertha's Babyland, Cobb's Department Store, Ben Franklin Store, Kenletz and Carl, Perry Bros., The Fair Store, and The Friendly Store.

Additional Towns Will Be Contacted On Millers Creek Reservoir Project

The possibility that several neighboring cities might be interested in joining with present towns on the proposed Millers Creek reservoir project was indicated at a recent meeting in Munday. Towns originally considering the project are Munday, Seymour and Haskell. The meeting was called by Tom Craddock of Seymour, chairman of a general steering committee for the project. Also present were representatives from Olney, who said their city was interested in development of additional municipal water supplies. S. W. Freese of the engineering firm of Freese and Michols, Fort Worth, met with the group and presented information concerning the potential of the Millers Creek project. He explained that since the proposed reservoir could serve considerably more than the three towns that possibly other area towns might be interested in joining in the project. The first step in developing the project, Freese said, would be to make an aerial map of the watershed and core drill at the reservoir site. This initial work might cost as much as $11,000, Freese said. However, he stated he would secure a definite estimate which would be given the committee. After discussion, the group authorized the appointment of a committee to contact city officials in other area towns which have indicated interest in the project. These include Olney, Knox City, Rochester and Rule. The committee appointed, headed by Craddock as chairman, includes Art McMillen and Brooks Middleton of Haskell. A meeting of representatives of all interested towns is planned at an early date.

Moguls Defeat Chillicothe Teams

The Munday Moguls remained unbeaten in three district starts here Tuesday night by defeating Chillicothe, 49 to 43 in a 11-A make-up cage game. The local team was originally scheduled to play Holiday and when it was cancelled, slated the Chillicothe game which was postponed last Friday. The Moguls handed the Eagles their third consecutive loss in district play. Munday now has a 15-5 season record. Lee Bruce scored 23 points to lead the Munday team. John Quimby was high for the visitors with 17. Margaret Clouds and Audrey Trammell each hooped 14 points for Munday in the girls' 54 to 23 victory in the night's opener.

"We are expecting all Methodist men and their wives for this meeting," said W. R. Moore, president, "and we plan to make this one of the best meetings of the year."

Cotton Acreage Agreements To Be Accepted Monday

Opening date for accepting 5011 bank agreements under the 1957 cotton acreage reserve program will be 8 a. m. Monday, February 4, it was announced Tuesday by County Agent Roy England. This program will be carried out on a first come, first served basis, due to the amount of money being limited to $465,000, it was stated. Under terms of the program, a farmer may designate a maximum of 30 per cent of his cotton allotment, or 10 acres, and request up to 100 per cent if money is available at the conclusion of the initial contract period, which is March 1, 1957.

CASHES BONDS—U. S. Senate candidate Ralph Yarborough cashed the last two war bonds he bought with soldier's pay overseas in World War II. He used the money from one of the bonds to make his candidacy in the April 2 special election official by paying the $50 filing fee to the Secretary of State. He gave the $50 from the other bond to Austin's lagging March of Dimes polio drive.

STUDY CLUB MEET

An interesting program and a very important business meeting is on schedule for the Munday Study Club program Friday, February 1. The regular program on "Mental Health" will not be given.

A large crowd of people who are interested in livestock projects are expected to attend.

Key Motor Co. To Hold Formal Opening Friday

The formal opening of Key Motor Co., newly appointed Ford dealers for this area, will be held on Friday, February 1, it was announced Monday by Dwight C. Key, owner.

The new Ford agency has been in operation several weeks, but the formal opening was delayed for several reasons. First the owner wanted to get a complete line of parts in place, and another primary reason for holding the opening next Friday is so visitors may see the new 1957 Ford pickups and trucks, on display for the first time.

New shop equipment has also been installed to better service all makes of cars and trucks, and the public will be invited to see the shop and equipment during the formal opening.

"We plan to make next Friday an interesting day for all who visit our showrooms," Mr. Key said, "and we extend an invitation to all, young and old, to visit us. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served, and we will have balloons for the kiddies."

"In addition, we plan to award door prizes and all adults are asked to register for these prizes. One of these will be a new portable radio, and we will also award ten free wash and grease jobs. These awards will be made at 4 p. m. Friday, and we invite you all to be here."

Benjamin's Water Supply Approved

Benjamin's water supply has been recently approved by the Texas State Department of Health, according to W. M. Hertel, city secretary, who said the state department's signs had been erected on highways approaching the town.

Hertel said Benjamin was the first of the 14 towns comprising the Lone Star Waterworks Association to receive such approval.

The water supply comes from wells on the T. B. Hertel place, approximately 8 miles southeast of Benjamin "as the crow flies"

Wetness

Some four or five days of dampness has brought welcomed moisture to this area, with H. P. Hill, local U. S. weather observer reporting a total of .88 of an inch up to three o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Biggest amount was the .69 which came with the sleet and snow during the week end—and was proclaimed a "stabilizer" for the young wheat of Knox County, with the moisture carrying it along for some time. Showers and mist boosted the total of .88.

PLENTY OF MEAT

The prospect is that there will be adequate supplies of meat at reasonable prices, but without an overburdened market, through the coming spring.

That pleasant forecast has been made by the head of the American Meat Institute.

He also said that beef breeding herds appear to be increasing somewhat this year. Beef supplies will be adequate during the winter months, and consumers will enjoy excellent buys in pot roast, hamburger and the finer cuts of beef. The outlook for pork supplies isn't quite so good—but it is by no means poor. Consumers can anticipate finding bargains this winter among such favorite pork cuts as chops, bacon, loin roasts, and ham. The total amount of pork coming to market will be under last year's near-record figure, but larger than was the case two years ago.

Meat—which does not have the dubious "benefits" of price supports or other governmental aids and controls—moves in a free, supply and demand market. The amount available, seasonal factors, and other such natural and normal considerations cause meat prices to go up at times, and to go down at other times. That always works, in the long run, to the advantage of both consumer and producer. The first gets the cuts of meat he wants when he wants them, and at a fair price. The second always has a ready market for his livestock, and the price he gets is the best that is possible under the conditions of the moment.

PREFERENCE FOR NEWSPAPERS

Writing in Editor & Publisher, Philip N. Schuyler says: "A new coast-to-coast check of representative automobile dealers shows a continued preference for newspaper advertising. A vast majority of 344 dealers questioned . . . declared they put this local form of advertising ahead of all other media."

An editorial in the same issue of the same magazine refutes the claim that TV is dominant among young people. It cites a factual survey in which 39 percent of 18 and 19 year olds questioned said newspapers are "hardest to do without," whereas only 18 per cent said the same thing about television.

Newspapers aren't only here to stay—they're still the leaders of all media.

A TAX WITHOUT FRIENDS

The transportation excise taxes were imposed strictly as a wartime measure. Their purpose was to discourage unnecessary travel and shipping at a time when all the agencies were strained to the limit, as well as to produce some revenue for the government. But so far as these taxes are concerned, the last world war is still going on!

The history is interesting. In 1941 a 5 per cent tax was levied on passenger fares. It was doubled in 1942, and a 3 per cent tax was levied on freight charges except for coal, which was taxed at 4 cents per ton, and pipeline movements, which were taxed at 4 1/2 per cent. In 1944 the tax on passenger fares was boosted to 15 per cent to further discourage wartime travel.

In 1945 the war with Germany and Japan ended. But it was not until 1954 that any tax relief at all was provided—and then it was very minor. The tax on passenger fares was reduced to 10 per cent, while the levies on freight, coal, and pipeline movements remained at the wartime levels. They are all still in effect.

As the Transportation Association of America points out, the transportation excise tax is a tax on a necessity, not a luxury; it is a tax on the flow of commerce, not a tax on goods, and it undermines the for-hire transportation industry—the life-line of our economy. The Association also says: "Here is a tax that no one—no government agency, no private individual, no area—has testified is good, fair, or beneficial."

CHRISTIANITY VS. THE WELFARE STATE

Thurman Sensing, of the Southern States Industrial Council, makes this important observation: "The thinking of many people seems to have been misled in recent years by the fallacious belief that the philosophies of Christianity and the welfare state are one and the same . . . The fact is that they are just the opposite."

"Under Christianity, a man must work out his own salvation, the individual is supreme. Under the welfare state, a man's needs are taken care of through the planned economy of a bureaucratic government, the state is supreme."

It should be added that when the supreme state reaches its extreme and logical development—as under communism—Christianity is always one of the objects of oppression and destruction, and the care the individual gets is at the subsistence level only. Under the welfare state the bureaucrats are the only ones who get the gravy.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

LAWS OF OTHER STATES

We're all proud that Texas is a growing state. Each year thousands of people swarm here from other parts of the country to benefit from the many opportunities in business and industry. In addition to their skill and brainpower, these newcomers bring with them a variety of legal papers and ideas which are based upon the laws of other states.

We don't always remember that federal laws are only a part of our system and that each of the 48 states has "reserved powers" under the constitution to make its own laws. "States' rights" is one of the most jealously-guarded principles in American government.

Because of this difference in state laws, for example, a state like Nevada becomes a popular spot to get a divorce, many businesses incorporate in Delaware, and some other states become havens for quick marriages. But there are many lesser-known variations in state laws which can have quite a bearing on your legal affairs.

If you own property in another state, or prepared your will before moving to Texas, or have business interests elsewhere, no matter how small, the variations in state laws could make a difference to you and your family.

If one is new in Texas he should take a second look at his legal standing in the light of Texas law. If one should move to another state, he should do the same thing when he gets settled there. Or if one has a plot of land in Florida or California as part of his retirement plans, let's say, or even minor interests in another state, he should protect himself beforehand against any

BOYCE HOUSE

Lives You in Texas

Recently, I saw a moving picture entitled "The Kettles in the Ozarks." (Kettle" in this case, in case you don't know, is the name of a family and not of the cooking utensil which is always calling the pot black, or vice versa, whichever it was.) The movie was exaggerated; they all are.

But the "hero" reminded me of a man I once knew in the hills of Northeast Arkansas (the Ozarks are in the northwestern part of the state—which, by the way, is my native state). The individual in the movie was lazy—in fact, shiftless. And so was the real-life individual, whom I'll call McCall, which is near enough to the right name.

My grandparents had a small rent house on their farm and grandpa rented it to McCall. The tenant got behind in the rent—if it is correct to say that, when he never paid any rent at all.

Grandpa decided to try to get some form of service from McCall, more as a face-saving gesture than anything else.

There was a rocking chair with one rocker snapped off in the middle. We all knew about this but would forget and there the rocker would be with its cushion and a silk cover over the back, a baited and inviting trap. So one would seat himself and start to rock and the chair would go over backward. So would the occupant.

Grandpa asked the tenant to repair this chair.

McCall had a sad face and a weeping willow mustache. His thoughts were slow and his words were wide apart. His deliberate—it was more than that but I don't know any other word—style of speaking gave his utterances great impressiveness. Well, he eyed the rocker like a horse-trader examining an animal, cleared his throat and said, "The—man—who—made—this—rocker", then he paused—for station identification, perhaps. After half a minute he repeated the words halted again, and then for the third time, he asserted, "The—man—who—made—this—rocker"—another period of silence, then—"didft"—know—whut— he wuz—a'doin'."

My Cousin Christine fled into the next room, whence came the sound of laughter even though she had stuffed half a pillow down her throat.

McCall knew "whut he wuz a'doin'"—which was nothing. So grandpa fixed the rocker.

This year will be another one of tight margins for Texas farmers. And for those who have another belt notch left after lingering drouth and slim profits, a further hitching up may be in order.

Although the soil bank program will benefit some farmers, its value in drouth-ridden Texas is doubtful, since there is no present potential on which to base payments. So the Texas farmer will have to look to his crops and produce for income. Here, in part, are his prospects:

COTTON—Fortunately for Texas' big cotton industry, price prospects are most encouraging here. The unexpected export of seven million bales in 1956 reduced Commodity Credit stockpiles considerably. That, plus war threats and probable reduced production through the Soil Bank make the cotton outlook better. It is even possible the Administration may have to raise the support level.

WHEAT—The 1957 wheat crop is expected to be considerably shorter than that of last year, due to reductions from soil bank and drouth. Surpluses will probably drop, especially if exports continue to improve. All this, however, is not calculated to bring prices much higher. Supports will likely remain unchanged, although market prices should be up very lightly.

CORN—No prospects for improvement as prices still will depend entirely on support levels. The corn inventory is high.

GRAIN SORGHUM—Prospects here are poor price-wise. The crop promises to be big and cheap, although the drouth will likely pare down the estimates notably. The market will probably be below loan rate.

POULTRY AND EGGS—Broilers have already gotten off to a bad start this year, but prices can't go any way but up. The climb will have to be gradual, and though prices should top the dreary '56 picture, they still won't be high. Egg prices are currently low and may remain below the same period last year until late spring. After that they should be about the same as last year.

LIVESTOCK—Pork production will be down which means some improvement, although it will likely be very slight. Fat cattle prices averaging better than last year's lows are predicted, although feeder cattle prospects are doubtful with little or no improvement in sight. Sheep population is expected to increase and lamb prices should average slightly higher. Wool will remain well below the incentive payment level of 62 cents. Dairy prospects are unchanged with whatever late-year gains anticipated being eaten up in production costs.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Dogs continue to pose the most imminent danger of human exposure to rabies, a State Health Department animal disease summary shows, although the problem in Texas wildlife is one of the most acute in the nation.

Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle recommended control action aimed at both the wild and domestic facets of the disease.

Covering the October-December quarter, the report shows 71 dog heads were laboratory tested and found positive for rabies, as were the heads of 48 foxes, 16 skunks, 8 cats, and 11 other unnamed species. The heads were submitted from 51 counties.

The double-edged control program encourages counties facing potential epidemics to hire professional hunters to reduce fox and skunk populations, and dog wardens to keep stray dogs under check and to enforce annual vaccinations of owned pets.

Five persons—three of them children—succumbed to rabies during the whole of 1956. Rabid dogs infected the three children and one adult, all of Dallas. The fifth fatality was a State Health Department entomologist, apparently infected by a rabid bat in the course of his work.

Bats are now protected by state law, but pending legislation would change this.

Indicative of the serious import animal rabies holds for humans is the fact that the health department last year furnished 2064 boxes of rabies vaccine to exposed persons, each box containing sufficient vaccine for one complete series of 14 injections.

Foxes, skunks, and other species of wildlife are known to be the principal reservoirs of rabies in Texas, and the abundance of wildlife makes the problem rank in seriousness with the situations in New York and California, department officials say.

"Since there are no natural boundaries to wildlife movements in this state, the only feasible means of breaking the chain of infection is through the work of professional hunters permanently employed by the various counties," Dr. Holle said.

Tom Green County farmers and ranchers are vaccinating large animals, indicating an awareness of widespread fox rabies in the western section. And Jeff Davis County is poised to take emergency action against the disease, under authority of the state rabies control law.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lemaster of Wichita Falls were week end guests of her mother, Mrs. Lucile Stodghill. Mrs. Lemaster remained for a longer visit.

J. I. Hughes, who has been in a Houston hospital the past two months, returned home Friday. He is reported to be much improved.

Don Reynolds of NTSC in Denton is spending the between semester holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reynolds.

George Salem attended market in Dallas several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gaines visited last week in Ropesville with their son, Gordon Gaines, and family and to welcome a new granddaughter.

Two new yellow corn hybrids, Texas 36 and 34, have been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Texas 36 is recommended for upland soils in the Blackland and Grand Prairies, Rio Grande Plain and West Cross Timbers, where earliness and drouth resistance are essential factors in corn production. Texas 34 was developed especially for the Gulf Coast Prairie section of the state. Seed of both are available for 1957 plantings.

Homecoming Of Pleasant View, Union Chapel Missionary Society Held Here

On Wednesday, January 23, 1957, the Munday Methodist Church was the meeting place for a homecoming of the missionary society of the former Pleasant View and Union Chapel churches, which lasted for 44 years. The missionary society was organized in 1920, with Rev. J. R. Bateman as pastor.

The church began to function in 1928, with Rev. Cecil Fox as pastor. It closed its doors on January 1, 1950, with Rev. L. W. Tucker, Weniert pastor, in charge.

The program of the day began at 11 o'clock, with Mrs. E. E. Lowe as leader. Music was under the direction of Rev. F. R. Pickins and Mrs. J. F. Michael. Prayer was given by Rev. E. L. Hill. Corsages were presented to Mrs. C. T. Jones, as first president, and Mrs. W. T. Ford as the oldest charter member. A devotional was given by Mrs. Pearl Irick, followed by sentence prayers which were closed by

CIVIL DEFENSE 'KEYPOINT' for Los Angeles is typical of some 200 such communication centers throughout the nation maintained by local civil defense. In less populous areas, "keypoints" are often police or fire stations, where someone is always on duty. They depend on the Federal Civil Defense Administration's 14,150-mile warning net (inset) to link them to Air Force air defense division control centers. Keypoints notify, in turn some 3,500 "sub-keypoints" which set off sirens and call out civil defense personnel.

Rev. J. F. Michael.

A covered dish dinner was served at noon in the fellowship hall with 14 members and seven guests being present. The table was beautifully decorated with white linen and silver and a centerpiece of yellow gladioli and fern, with a miniature white church.

A friendship quilt was displayed by Mrs. F. R. Pickins which was pieced in 1927.

The meeting was reconvened at 1 p. m. with the song, "The Kingdom is Coming," followed by prayer by Mrs. F. R. Pickins. A roundtable discussion on the 24 chapter of Matthew was directed by Mrs. H. H. Cowan, followed by a solo, "His Eye Is On The Sparrow," by Rev. Pickins.

In a business meeting, the society appointed a committee to set a date for the next meeting, which will be church-wide. Mrs. Walter Rodgers was elected by acclamation to serve as president, Mrs. E. E. Lowe as vice president and Mrs. O. O. Putnam, secretary and treasurer.

Short reports were given by the former presidents, led by Mrs. C. T. Jones, who also called the memorial roll of the society: Mrs. W. O. Sargent, Mrs. H. C. Griffith, Mrs. W. A. Bowman, Mrs. R. F. Priddy, Mrs. B. B. Chamberlain, Mrs. Dan Chamberlain, Mrs. Hugh Womack, Mrs. P. C. Edwards, Mrs. R. L. Edwards and Mrs. J. E. Suggs.

Closing meditation was given by Mrs. E. E. Lowe on Psalms 111. The closing hymn, "Blest Be The Tie" was followed by prayer by Mrs. J. W. Medley.

Members present were Mrs. C. T. Jones, Mrs. Floyd Bowman of Weibert, Mrs. Lela Lowe, Mrs. J. W. Medley of Haskell, Mrs. A. D. Irick, Mrs. O. O. Putnam, Mrs. Tom Price, Mrs. R. F. Suggs, Mrs. E. E. Lowe, Mrs. D. G. Griffith, Mrs. Gil Wyatt, Mrs. W. T. Ford, Miss Florence Gaines, Mrs. H. H. Cowan, all of Munday; and guests: Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Pickins of Stamford, Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Hill and Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Michael of Munday, and Rev. Gene Lowder of Weibert.

Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Rodgers, Mrs. Harold Partridge and Mrs. Sargent Lowe of Munday, and Mrs. Nored Boone of Haskell. This was an inspirational meeting which was enjoyed by all.

Bridal Shower Given To Honor Mrs. W. Lawrence

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Wayne Lawrence of Seymour, the former Carolyn Lee Blacklock, was held last Monday night in the home of Mrs. J. C. Campbell.

Mrs. Campbell greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the honoree, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. B. L. Blacklock; the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. B. C. Lawrence of Seymour, and Mrs. Bobby Lawrence.

The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were used in the decorations. The table was laid with a lace cloth over pink, and was centered with the bride's cake, which was a beautiful white cake decorated with pink roses, with two upright white hearts across the center, and a large crystal punch bowl. Bouquets of pink gladioli surrounded by wedding bells and a miniature bride and groom adorned the buffet. The bride's book also carried out the pink and white motif, and was crossed with a small corsage of carnations.

A beautiful and useful assortment of gifts were displayed by the younger hostesses, who also served the cake and punch.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Campbell, Wayne

Korean Girl Is Guest Speaker At Church Meeting

The Wesleyan Service Guild was hostess to the ladies of the church Tuesday night with a covered dish supper. Mrs. John Spann, director of the program, welcomed the guests. Rev. Michael gave the invocation. Mrs. R. M. Almanrode welcomed all out of town guests and introduced the speaker, Miss Bak Sen Lea.

Miss Lea gave a talk on her life in Korea and of her escape from the communists. Just behind Miss Lea were crossed hand painted American and Korean flags. Miss Lea is a student in McMurry College in Abilene and plans on returning to Korea to teach.

The Korean theme was used in the decoration scheme, using hand made miniature ming trees,

American flags and hand carved Korean figures on the tables.

The honoree was favored with gifts from the Woman's Society of Christian Service, the Guild and with love offerings from individuals. The Guild also surprised Miss Lea with a Valentine birthday cake on her 21st birthday which was Tuesday. This was her second surprise and cake as her friends in McMurry surprised her with a cake in the shape of Korea before she left for Munday.

Approximately sixty ladies were present for the supper.

Successful Year Reported For Soil Testing Laboratory In Baylor County

Roy L. McClung, Baylor county agricultural agent and operator of the soil testing laboratory at Seymour, has reported to M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, that 854 soil samples were tested last year.

McClung reported the final figure was below expectations, but that the worst drought in the history of the area no doubt reduced the number of samples which under more favorable conditions would have been submitted.

Too, points out the county agent, the word is spreading about the benefits which can be derived from following the recommendations which go back to the farmer with his test results. Many irrigation farmers have reported yield increases that ranged from 200 to 434 pounds of lint cotton an acre. They credit the use of recommended practices and fertilizers with being responsible for this increase, said McClung.

The Seymour Laboratory is operated as a branch of the state laboratory which is located at College Station. McClung told Thornton that he still predicts that farmers and ranchmen in his section of Texas will derive more benefit, through increased production, from the services of the Seymour lab than from any one thing yet done for them.

McClung is making a strong effort to get 15 to 20 agricultural producers in each county of the area to act as demonstrators by following the recommendations, on at least a part of their farm, made by the laboratory after soil tests have been made for them.

The lab operator is a strong

Farmers Benefit In Freight Rates

AUSTIN—Drought-aided Texas farmers, dairymen and ranchers will reap additional large benefits as a result of the railroads' extending their 50 per cent freight reduction on shipments of hay.

Since Oct. 13, when the rate slash went into effect through mid-January, Texas agriculturists were aided by the railroads to the extent of $1,669,389. During that time the railroads shipped 134,993 tons of hay into Texas at the 50 per cent rate.

The rate cut tendered by the railroads covered eight states. The total saving to agriculturists in the 8 states has been $2,371,882, of which $1,669,389 has benefited Texas.

Action of the railroads, the only carriers which have come to the aid of farmers, ranchers and dairymen, has been hailed by Texas agriculture leaders as the biggest contribution to the drought-stricken area. The move was also commended by President Eisenhower.

The rate reduction, originally scheduled to expire Jan. 15, has been extended through March 31, the Texas Railroad Association announced.

Early Maturing Grain Sorghum Variety Released

Redbine 58, a new early maturing grain sorghum variety, has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the Midwest Research Institute and Corn Products Refining Company.

Redbine 58 is earlier in maturity than most presently grown combine varieties of grain sorghum. It blooms in 58 days at Lubbock and is 3 to 4 days earlier than Martin and about 2 weeks earlier than Redbine 66. It usually performs better and is a surer crop under dryland planting in areas of low rainfall or in dry years. It is also adapted to higher altitudes and latitudes where early maturity is important.

The bright reddish-yellow grain of the new variety is hard like Martin, germinates well, does not weather badly in the field and threshes well. It is highly superior to Combine 7078 in these respects and is a more attractive grain than its Martin parent. Head bearing stems of the variety are long and the heads dry early as the grain matures.

In tests, Redbine 58 has produced as much or more grain per acre as other early maturing varieties and coupled with its good combining characteristics, makes it a desirable variety. Adequate supplies of planting seed for farm use should be available for 1957 plantings since seed were released last spring to certified seed growers.

Mrs. W. C. Hertel and Henrietta were visitors in Fort Worth during the week end.

Barton Carl attended market in Dallas several days this week.

News From The U. S. Congress

Now that the inauguration is over, the Congress is in position to get on with its work. At the beginning of each new Congress there is not a great deal done until after the President makes his State of the Union address and delivers his budget message. It is in this way he lays before the Congress his program. As has been pointed out heretofore, this year's budget message calls for the greatest peace time spending in our history and if the program of the President as outlined in this message is carried out, it would make impossible any reduction in taxes during this session of Congress. There is little question in my mind that there are many areas in which the budget can be reduced. It is my hope that Congress will make substantial reductions in the President's recommendation to the extent that we may have some tax relief as well as a balanced budget.

There are many inequities in our present tax laws and many of our tax laws were enacted in their present form during the war years for the purpose of discouraging non-essential activities. It seems to me it is high time that we scaled many of these wartime taxes downward and made a real effort to make provisions for reduced taxes in both the income and excise tax fields.

This is how Federal revenue is provided; 51% from individual income taxes; 29% from corporation income taxes; 12% from excise taxes; and 8% from customs and other receipts. The President in his budget message recommends that total expenditures of the Federal Government be apportioned as follows; 59% for military security; 10% for interest on the national debt; 7% for veterans programs; 7% for agricultural activities; 2% for retirement of the National debt, and 15% for all other activities of the Government combined.

This week the Committee of Agriculture in the House is considering several plans for relief to the drought-stricken Southwest. One of the measures being considered is one I introduced which would make available immediately protein feed for livestock in the drought area and

MODERN HOMEMAKING RECIPES... HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

A meat dish is usually the basis of a meal. Such a dish may well be a meat and vegetable combination. Cold winter days are just right for steaming, deep brown stews, pot roasts and meat pies. These dishes are appetizing, nutritious, and, at the same time, easy on the cook and on the budget. Easy on the cook, for meat and vegetables are all in one dish. Easy on the budget, for since the meats steam slowly, less tender (and less expensive!) cuts are used.

For the rich brown color so necessary for eye appeal in beef and vegetable dishes, brown the beef slowly and thoroughly before adding liquid. So that vegetables keep their shape, texture and color, add them to the simmering beef just in time for them to cook until tender. If they cook for the several hours usually necessary for the beef, vegetables will become soft and lose much of their food value.

As in cooking any meat, low, constant temperature is important in cooking the less tender cuts of beef for beef and vegetable dishes. Low constant temperature will give a more flavorful, more tender product with less loss of natural juices.

For more free information on meat and vegetable dishes, send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601 at 301 S. Harwood, Dallas 1, Texas.

Recipe Of The Week

POT ROAST WITH VEGETABLES: Mix 1/2 cup flour, 2 tablespoons salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Dredge thoroughly in seasoned flour 3 to 4 pound pot roast (round, chuck, English-cut.) Heat in deep heavy kettle or Dutch oven over medium gas flame, 4 tablespoons meat drippings or shortening. Brown roast thoroughly on all sides in hot fat. (Slow browning is important and should take about 30 minutes). Add 1 cup boiling water. Cover and cook over simmer gas flame 2 hours, adding more hot water if necessary to keep roast surrounded with moisture. Add 6 potatoes, cut in half, 6 medium carrots, 6 medium onions, 6 small turnips. Cover and continue cooking until vegetables are tender, about thirty minutes. Remove meat and vegetables from liquid. Add to liquid hot water to make two cups liquid. Mix thoroughly 1/2 cup flour and 1/2 cup cold water. Add flour-water mixture to hot liquid in kettle, stirring constantly. Simmer 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

More Texas radio and television stations than ever before regularly broadcast or telecast market news on farm commodities. This fact was established by a recent USDA survey which showed 118 radio and 14 TV stations in Texas carried market news information. One hundred forty one radio and 21 TV stations in Texas answered the survey questionnaire.

at $17.00-20.00, and fed heifers ranged from $19 downward. Medium and lower grades sold from $12 to $16. Fat cows drew $11.50 to $13.50 and canners and cutters cashed at $8 to $11.50. Bulls were reported from $10 to $15.

Good and choice fat calves cashed at $15.00-19.00; and medium and lower grades scored $10 to $15. Stocker steer calves were quotable from $20 down, and steer yearlings around $18 down.

Lambs Advance Again, Old Sheep Scarce.

Good and choice wooled fat lambs sold from $18 to $19.25 and a few club lambs sifted from the Stock Show topped at $19.50 at Fort Worth Monday. Shorn lambs of choice grades and with No. 1 skin sold from $18.50 down and No. 2 skin lambs from $17.50 down. Cull to medium lambs sold from $12 to $16.50.

Stocker and feeder lambs of good and choice grades cashed at $16.50 to $17.50, feeders at $17.50 having No. 1 pelts. Full wooled feeders were considered quotable to $18. Old ewes sold from $6 to $8. Old bucks sold from $5 to $6. Old wethers were quotable from $10 to $12, and yearlings and two-year-old muttons were quotable around $14 to $16.

Hogs Open Stronger; Sows Sell Steady.

Hogs at Fort Worth last week went through the wildest gyrations in months by advancing $1 or more per hundred through midweek, and then losing the advance in the closing days of the week to sell in a "spread" of around $1 to $1.50.

This wide swing followed several weeks of extremely narrow changes in the hog prices from day to day. On Monday at Fort Worth there was some indication that more activity was due in this sector as butcher hogs climbed 50 cents above the previous week's close, but sows were barely steady. Choice butcher hogs opened at $19.25 and $19.50 and less desirable kinds sold from $16 to $18. Sows drew $15.50 to $16.50.

Cattle Sales Tax Upped To Ten Cents Per Head.

Preliminary draft of the proposed bill to bring livestock markets under control of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, as well as to set up a sales tax on livestock sold in the state, was displayed at Fort Worth late last week.

The projected new legislation still not in final form, lifts the tax on cattle to ten cents per head. Calves over 2-months old also would be taxed ten cents per head, and "veal calves" under two months age, would pay two cents per head. Horses were to be taxed 20 cents per head and swine three cents. Sheep or goats would face a levy of one cent.

Under the provisions of the proposed bill, as shown, the previously advocated ten cents per ton tax on feed would be discarded, with this development apparently stemming from the practically universal opposition presented in recent hearings concerning the feed tax in Austin.

This factor is credited with creating the suggested five cents per head check-off on cattle, sold either in terminal markets or through auction rings, the money to help finance the Livestock Sanitary Commissions operations.

Scofield was due to address the annual meeting of the Texas Livestock Auction & Commission Sales Ass'n in Waco last week but bad weather prevented his appearance. At this meeting the proposed bill was discussed briefly by this writer, and the apparently discriminatory features were pointed up. Best available figures reveal that if applied in its present form 50% of the livestock sold in Texas would escape paying their share. Presently 245 of Texas 254 counties are under drought disaster relief, and considerable opposition to a special tax on stockmen hit by the worst natural disaster ever to strike the State has been heard here.

The proposed bill is not alone an animal health measure, but would set the commission up as the regulatory body on scales and weighing of livestock, as well as policing market practices, bonds, and trade rules, a much wider field than the agency had ever covered before.

FORT WORTH—Numbers of livestock at Fort Worth dropped sharply below a week ago due to icy weather over much of the territory, and prices Monday reflected strength through most of the grades and classes of livestock offered.

Lone Star Gas Co. Names J. H. Smith To Engineering Post

Appointment of James H. Smith as utilization engineer for Lone Star Gas Company's West Texas Region of Distribution has been announced by E. L. Buelow of Abilene, regional manager. He succeeds H. V. Rankin, Buelow said.

With headquarters in Abilene, Smith will direct gas air conditioning sales activities and industrial gas installations throughout Lone Star's West Texas Region consisting of some 100 towns and cities in the Abilene, Ballinger, Brownwood, Childress, Cisco, Colorado City, Eastland, Ranger, San Angelo, Seymour, Snyder, Stamford, Sweetwater, Vernon and Wichita Falls districts.

Smith, a licensed engineer with a mechanical engineering degree from Texas Technological College, began his career with Lone Star at Wichita Falls in 1950. He was transferred to Abilene December 1, 1953, to participate as sales engineer in the gas industry's "test city" project. In April, 1956, he returned to Wichita Falls as utilization engineer.

He was reared in Moran. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have two children.

Science Features "Getting Old" Symptoms Can Be Fought

A leading life insurance company announced recently that, for the first time in history, the average life expectancy in the United States is now seventy years. In 1900 it stood at about forty-five. While this welcome development has brought about a sharp increase in the proportion of older people in our population, it has created new challenges for medical research. One of the great problems is how to keep older people "young." By maintaining their good health and vitality, doctors are making it possible for our senior citizens to enjoy their later years instead of suffering through them.

It is estimated that more than thirty-five million of our people today are between the ages of forty and sixty-five, and that another fifteen million are sixty-five and over. In 1900 there were only three million past sixty-five. Currently the average general practitioner sees each month more than 100 patients over the age of fifty. In many cases these people suffer from the "aging process"; they complain of vague aches, chronic fatigue, faulty memories, but seem to be free from any specific illness. A growing number of physicians believe that such patients are afflicted with so-called "middle-age slowdown", due to the fact that tired thyroid and sex glands have lowered their output of vital hormones needed to sustain youthful vigor.

Fortunately research scientists have learned how to produce hormonal substances in the laboratory so that deficiencies can now be met with drugs that combine the necessary hormones. A notable example of such a drug is Plestran, a tablet that was specifically developed to treat aging patients of either sex. It contains both male and female hormones, as well as the purified thyroid extract, Prolid. In trials with scores of patients, the drug restored capacity for work and a sense of well-being, usually within seven to ten days. Plestran improved appetite and mental alertness, and increased the older people's tolerance of cold. Doctors noted that the texture of the patients' skin and hair improved, and that the drug helped to correct degenerative arthritis, which afflicts approximately 25 million older Americans. Some researchers believe the drug also may help to retard atherosclerosis, a common form of hardening of the arteries.

By freeing patients from the disabling symptoms of aging, doctors enable them to remain productive and vital individuals who can make the last years "the best years of our lives."

Top Stars, Large Cast To Enact Epic of "War and Peace"

A tremendous cast, containing a host of the brightest names of the American and European screen, enact the vast panorama of human experience that is the substance of the mammoth film version of "War and Peace". The three-hour-and-twenty-eight-minute filmization of the great novel by Leo Tolstoy, which opens Sunday at the Roxy Theatre, tells the interwoven stories of more than a dozen of literature's most unforgettable characters, and the utmost care went into the vital problem of casting.

The complex plot, covering a period of seven years during the Napoleonic invasions of Czarist Russia, contains a triple love story; that of the gentle Natasha, growing to womanhood through the turmoil of war, the sensitive Pierre, searching for a meaning to life, and the brooding, cynical Prince Andrey. Producer Dino DeLaurentis set top stars Audrey Hepburn, Henry Fonda and Mel Ferrer for these pivotal roles, around which revolve a dozen other stories.

Co-starring are Vittorio Gassman, the wastrel who uses his worldliness to trap the innocent Natasha; Hebert Lom as Napoleon; Oscar Homolka as the aging Russian general, brought to bay with his country in ruins; Anita Ekberg, Moscow's most beautiful and unscrupulous woman, Fonda's wife in a tragic marriage; and John Mills, Fonda's companion in prison.

The distinguished featured cast or the VistaVision, Technicolor,

Pont-DeLaurentis Production, a Paramount release directed by King Vidor, is headed by Helmut Dantine, with the number of speaking parts coming to a prodigious sixty. This gigantic tapestry is background by three epic battles, in which a staggering total of 18,000 take part.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims That Automatic Machines Will Never Replace The Necessity Of Working

Knox Philosopher— Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is arguing about automation, his letter this week reveals. We can't tell whether he's for it or against it.

Dear editor:
I noticed in a copy of a newspaper which the wind blew against my back screen door, I could have pulled it through a hole in the screen but I was afraid I'd tear it and anybody who is too lazy to open a door to pull a newspaper off ought to stay ignorant anyway, where a scientist has predicted that in a few more years the automatic coin machine and push-button controls will just about relieve man of most of his work.

As I understand it, you can buy anything from hot coffee to an insurance policy to a full meal merely by dropping coins in a machine, but I would like to say that while I'm in favor of anything that will eliminate work, I don't believe automatic coin machines and push-button controls will do it.

For example, I would like to see the inventor who thinks he can shoe a horse automatically.

While it's true you can milk a cow automatically, nobody has been successful in figuring out how to get the automatic machinery attached without somebody getting up before daylight to do it. They make automatic hay balers, it's true, but they haven't replace the man who throws out the hay in the winter time, with one foot caught in the balling wire. Oh I know they can bale it with twine, but you can trip on twine the same as wire.

In fact, surveying the whole field of automatic controls, it seems to me that while man has eliminated a lot of old-fashioned ways of doing things, enabling him to do a lot of things faster and better, the main result has been that he has wound up doing more things at the same hours.

It's a lot nicer to start a tractor with a button than a crank,

"No Young Man Believes He Shall Ever Die..."

Charles Lamb wrote "not childhood alone, but the young man till 30 never feels practically that he is mortal."

But young men do die, too! The Bible urges all to prepare for life, as well as death. The fleeting years are richer spent in Church.

Good Records Can Save Dollars At Tax Paying Time

It is usually the small-expense items, especially those paid for in cash, which are overlooked at income tax reporting time, says Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist. In his work, Parker says he has observed that farmers could save additional tax dollars by learning which of these items are tax deductible and by keeping accurate records of all expenses and receipts regardless of their size.

Parker has further observed that farmers have little trouble keeping records of major transactions for most are paid by check and the cancelled check then becomes a part of the record. Don't overlook the small items, he advises, for they can amount to a lot of money over a period of a year. They may include such items as interest payments, membership dues in farm organizations, subscriptions to farm magazines or small fees for services required in connection with the farm business, overnight business trips and losses on household goods and equipment used by hired help.

The specialist suggests that all cancelled checks, receipts and records be kept for at least five years and that checks be used whenever possible. Extra check fees are well-worth the protection provided by the cancelled check.

Depreciation records should be kept on equipment, improvements and installations and machinery as well as on all purchased breeding animals. These items lose some of their value each year and the loss is deductible for income tax purposes only at the end of the year in which the depreciation occurs. And finally, Parker suggests a visit with a good farm-income tax consultant. Here advice and suggestions can be secured on all the items which should be included in the farm record system and also a listing of the small items which are deductible and most often overlooked.
