Odd Bits Salvaged

We reckon the best reducing exercise a person can take is that pushing motion that takes him away from the table.

k-k

After gouging around in the yard and flower beds a few days ago, the Missus prepared dinner. After eating, she remarked something to the effect that what she ate wasn't very conducive to reducing and would offset her reducing exercise. "You trying to reduce?" we inquired, and she replied that it wouldn't hurt to take off some of that "plus" she had.

k-k

Well, our activities had also kinda encouraged the appetite to become ravenous, and we noticed when the meal was over that our plusses hadn't been bothered with any minuses. That pushing away from the table idea came all too late for us, too.

k-k

We've reached the time of year for uneasiness, now. During the afternoon Sunday there came tornado or violent weather warning over radio and TV. Some deducted that Munday was included in the area mentioned, so sleep was out of order until that little quicke of a cloud came and passed. Quite a few were remarking Monday about how quickly the disturbance came and went, leaving in its wake another quarter of an inch of moisture, or more.

k-k

They've worked on it a long time. They've talked about it and planned it possibly longer, and the crowning event will be Friday night at the school auditorium. That's when the "Mogul Muscade of 1957" will be staged—and from all the talk that's going 'round this week, you'd better miss your supper than the Muscade;

k-k

Then next Friday night, March 22, is the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, and you won't want to miss that, either. Speaker will be Marshall Formby of Plainview, member of the Texas Highway Commission, who will likely tell us something of his trip to Europe. Formby, so we are told, is a very capable speaker.

k-k

Sue Bowden or any director in the Chamber of Commerce will gladly let you have tickets to this annual affair. Sue has some of the Muscade tickets, too.

k-k

John A. Smith, tax assessor and collector, and his helpers will be here Friday to let you have those tags that attach to the front and back bumpers of your car, those permits to keep your car on the road for another year. They won't cost you any more Friday than later on, and you save a trip to Benjamin by letting John issue them to you here.

k-k

So his calls won't interfere with fire calls or those made to the city secretary, Lee Bivins has a new line and telephone installed for the chief of police office and his residence. Installation came a few days too late to be listed in the new directory—but the number is 6241, the same as before he moved to the city hall.

k-k

Work is to be resumed soon on the Civil Defense bus, and Bivins says he appreciates the interest and donations made toward this project. Recent donations include: P-T-A, $100; Munday Lions Club, $25; Chamber of Commerce, $25, and Dairy Treat, $10.

k-k

"I'm for anything that's free," someone told us the other day in regards to the free yeast coupon that appears in this week's paper. But the biggest free project that's coming our way are the Salk polio shots that are to be started March 25. If you're under 20 years of age, be sure and get yours.

k-k

This is not a tirade against trading stamps, but just any kind of them. We received notice that Pacific Trading Stamp Co. has been adjudged bankrupt, leaving us holding the bag for $14.40 worth of advertising. We'll take our piece of this advice, too: Know your trading stamps!

k-k

Fruit trees are beginning to bloom, and it's yet over a month until Easter. Remember April 11, 1938?

Last Rites For Mrs. J. F. Simpson Held On Tuesday

Mrs. J. F. Simpson, beloved Christian mother and resident of this area over 50 years, passed away at about 9 p. m. Sunday night at Haskell. She had been in failing health for some time and just a week earlier had been released from a hospital after receiving treatment for a broken arm and pneumonia.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday from the First Baptist Church in Munday with Rev. Robert H. Lloyd, former pastor, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Roland Williams of Haskell. Burial was in Highland Cemetery at Stamford under the direction of McCauley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Simpson had been a resident of Haskell and Knox Counties since 1905. She was born Lucretia Matthews on December 6, 1871, and was 85 years, three months and four days of age at the time of her death. She was married to J. F. Simpson on January 15, 1888, in Bell County. They moved to the Pinkerton community near Rule in 1905. In 1935 they moved to Rule and to Munday in 1937.

After the death of her husband in 1953, she established residence in Haskell. She was a faithful member of the First Baptist Church.

Surviving are three sons, Otis Simpson of Munday, Floyd Simpson of Burleson, and Guy Simpson of Chandler, Ariz.; one daughter, Mrs. Sam Crawford of Stamford; one sister, Mrs. Molcie Arthur of Plainview; one brother, J. C. Matthews of Paint Rock; 18 grandchildren and 43 great-grandchildren.

Serving as pallbearers were G. W. Hawkins, J. O. Bowden, B. L. Blacklock, Ray Holcomb, Alvin Reid and Chester Bowden.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

For the benefit of farmers in the Munday and surrounding areas, an Extension Service Bulletin Rack is being maintained in the office of Leflar Flying Service.

The Knox County Program Building Committee met in the Courthouse in Benjamin Monday night to review the progress of our county extension program and adopt future plans. Members present included: Mrs. R. M. Almonrode, Chairman; L. B. Patterson, Jack Idol, Mrs. Joe Patterson, Lloyd Griffith, Gaylon Scott, Mrs. O. R. Miller, J. C. McGee and Maynard Moore, county delegate to the 4-H District Council.

Of interest to poultry producers will be a cage clinic to be held at College Station on March 27th. In 1956, Texas counties reported a total of 1,647,000 cage layers. This compares with less than 300,000 in 1953.

The practice of spot-oiling Johnson Grass proved very popular with farmers during 1956, and information pertaining to this practice is available at the county extension office. During the first part of the growing season, naptha alone does an excellent job of killing this grass. Later in the season, a 50-50 mixture of naptha and diesel will do the same job and is 4 cents per gallon cheaper.

"Mogul Muscade of 1957" Will Be Presented In School Gym Friday Night

Tops in band music and specialty numbers will be featured at 8 p. m. Friday when Director Harold Jackson and his Munday Mogul Band present the "Mogul Muscade of 1957" at the school auditorium.

For weeks after the 1956 Muscade, band boosters and others were commenting about the excellent program presented by the band, and Mr. Jackson promises that the 1957 event will top anything ever presented in Munday by the Mogul Band. The director and members have been working on this annual Spring music festival for several weeks.

The program will feature dances, pantomimes, stage band music, dance band music, and a large number of interesting specialty acts. The stage will be lighted in beautiful colors, and the colorful costumes of band members will add to this stage setting. The entire program promises to be interesting, colorful and entertaining.

Admission will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for school students. Proceeds will go toward purchasing additional band equipment. Tickets are being sold by members of the Band Booster Club and at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The entire public is cordially invited to this event. See the Mogul Band in its top performance of the year.

Quick Shower Dumps .27 Inch Sunday Night

With severe weather warnings out for two areas of the state Sunday night, and Munday figuring in the edge of one of them, a number of people waited up until the "quick shower" passed over.

The shower came quickly, accompanied with thunder and lightning, dumped .27 of an inch of moisture on Munday, and departed as quickly as it came. Other areas near Munday reported a half-inch and better from the spring-like cloud and disturbance.

This brought the year's total to 3.92 inches—a nice start toward a good crop year.

People from Munday will be vaccinated from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. on March 25; from Knox City on March 26; from Goree, Benjamin, Rhineland, Vera and Gilliland from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. March 27.

BIG TURKEY DINNER

The Goree Cemetery Association is sponsoring a dinner at the memorial building in Goree on Friday, March 15. Turkey and dressing and all the trimmings will be served, beginning at 11 a. m.

Directors of the Munday Chamber of Commerce met last Thursday night and canvassed the membership ballots which were mailed out some two weeks ago for the election of three new directors in the organization, and worked toward final plans for the annual banquet.

Results of the membership vote showed that Verne Frost, Dr. Delmon E. Alexander and Hugh A. Beaty were elected new directors for three-year terms. They replace Joe Bailey King, Dorse Collins and Charles McCauley, whose terms expire.

New 1957 officers were scheduled to be elected Thursday night of this week, being selected from the new board of directors. They will not likely be revealed until the night of the banquet.

Tickets for the banquet went on sale last week, and a large number are being sold, indicating that possibly a capacity crowd will attend the banquet this year.

Marshall Formby of Plainview, member of the Texas Highway Commission, will be the principal speaker. An interesting and forceful speaker, Mr. Formby recently made a trip to Europe and will likely touch on interesting phases of his visit to the European countries. The meal will be served by a Fort Worth catering service.

Tickets to this annual affair may be purchased from any member of the board of directors or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

MEDICAL EDUCATION WEEK

Medical Education Week is coming. It will be given a well-deserved national celebration during the April 21-27 period. Its purpose is to develop a better public understanding of what is going on in the all-important field of medical education, to explain the problems and to inspire greater public support of the medical schools.

In this connection some more or less widely held misconceptions concerning medical education should be dispelled. One of these is that the medical schools have not been keeping up with our population growth and that, as a result, a serious shortage of doctors exists or is impending. Actually, since 1940, both medical enrollments and graduations have each increased by more than 34 per cent, as against a population gain of some 27.5 per cent. For seven straight academic years the schools have established new high records in enrollments and graduations, and still another record is in the making this year.

One problem has been in the geographic distribution of doctors. There was a lack of balance here. Some years ago the American Medical Association recognized this situation and went to work on it. And so successful has been that work that, according to authorities, more doctors are in search of communities in which to practice than there are communities seeking doctors.

During Medical Education Week we will all have a chance to learn the facts—to separate truth from myth. We should take advantage of it.

LIKE THE EMPEROR'S CLOTHES

"Whence comes all the supposed clamor that the Federal government spend more money?" That question is asked by the Wall Street Journal.

The obvious answer, constantly made by many men in government, is that the people are demanding ever-bigger spending and that their wishes must be obeyed. But the Journal points out that, according to official reports, mail received at the White House, the Treasury, and the Congressmen has been heavily weighted with expressions of alarm at the high spending, and with pleas for economy. Businessmen, housewives, and farmers are among the letter-writers.

So the Journal concludes: "We wonder what would happen if some shrewd politician were to ask, Where is all this large public clamor for bigger spending? We suspect he would find that, like the Emperor's clothes, it was never there at all."

IN 20 YEARS

Everyone is agreed that in the next 20 years the demand for industrial energy will grow at an amazing rate. And some people seem to think that almost the sole source of additional energy will be the atom, harnessed to peace-time service.

A series of authoritative studies have been made, by such bodies as the President's Materials Policy Commission, the U. S. Bureau of Mines, and the Panel on Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy. These studies have taken all available facts into account, along with responsible opinions and forecasts. And they all agree that 20 years from now coal production will be the highest in our history.

Some estimate that, at that time, coal production will range as high as 1.5 billion tons a year. Last year's production was about one-third that figure.

Why should this be the case? There are two main reasons. One is that coming demands for energy are so great that every source will have to be used to the limit. The other is that coal remains an economical and efficient energy source, in limitless supply.

Coal will have to spend great sums to prepare for the needs of tomorrow—which means that it must earn a reasonable profit in order to make that possible.

MONTICELLO, IND., TIMES: "In his state of the Union message to Congress, President Eisenhower devoted considerable space to the subject of inflation. . . . The chief executive noted that the nation stands on a peak of prosperity. He then went on to say: 'But in any realistic appraisal, even the optimistic analyst will realize that in a prosperous period the principal threat to efficient functioning of a free enterprise system is inflation. This was a clear warning, supported by further remarks about the responsibility of government, business, labor and individual citizen to guard against any further undermining of the dollar.'"

STURGEON BAY, WISC., ADVOCATE: "The future of polio is certain. Its past will be with us for some time. We must not forget those for whom the vaccine came too late. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will not forget them. We must not forget the Foundation. Give as generously as you always have to the March of Dimes. Help clean the slate of Polio."

His Seven-League Marketing Boots

Every fifth ton of America's $15 billion export trade comes from its farmlands. One farm income dollar in eight comes from overseas sales. The prosperity of our farmers is directly dependent on the strength of the American Merchant Marine and the assured access its ships provide to foreign markets.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

If ideas for menus are running low and appetites are lagging during the Lenten season, a variety of seafoods are available to brighten any meal. With the many kinds of fresh, frozen and canned fish and other seafoods so easy to obtain, there is no end to the delicious meals that can be planned around these items.

And with fish on the menu, you are certain that the family is getting a nutritious meal as well as a tasty one.

Delicious baked fish fillets in a cheese sauce make an exciting main course any time of the year. Fish fried, broiled or served in a steaming casserole is an equal aid in bolstering sagging menus.

A shrimp salad makes an especially good light lunch and is quick and easy for the busy homemaker to prepare. After cutting three cups of cooked or canned shrimp into pieces, add one-half cup chopped stuffed olives. Toss lightly with enough mayonnaise to moisten thoroughly. Makes four servings.

Savory oyster stem is popular on cold, wintry days and is equally easy to prepare. To the liquid from two dozen canned, fresh or thawed frozen oysters, add one quart hot, rich milk, four tablespoons butter or margarine, a dash of onion salt, one-half teaspoon pepper. Heat this mixture, add the oysters and cook over simmer flame until oysters curl at edges. Serve at once. Makes four servings.

For a tangy tartar sauce to serve with fish, combine one cup mayonnaise and one tablespoon each of grated onion, minced parsley, minced sweet pickle, minced green olives and vinegar. This recipe makes one and one-fourth cups. Many other delicious sauces are just as easy to prepare.

Recipe Of The Week
BAKED FISH FILLETS: Roll and secure with wooden toothpicks, eight fresh or thawed frozen fish fillets. Place in shallow baking dish and pour over them one and one-half cups milk, one teaspoon salt and a dash pepper. Bake in moderate gas oven (350 degree F.) thirty minutes. Drain, saving milk. Melt over low gas flame three tablespoons butter or margarine and blend in three tablespoons flour. Add the milk drained from fish and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add one-fourth pound processed American cheese, grated, and three tablespoons lemon juice. Pour the sauce over the baked fillets and sprinkle with paprika.

BOYCE HOUSE

A Comanche pioneer, W. J. Nabers, was in an Indian fight when he was only 13—and all of the Cunningham boys were in at least one Indian battle except the youngest. He begged to be allowed to go but Captain James Cunningham, his father, said no. But the mother declared she would hate to have a son who wouldn't defend his country—words as heroic as those of the ancient Spartan women who told their sons, as they were leaving for war, Return with your shields—or on them." So the lad was taken on the mission but no Indians were found.

Aunt Susie Cunningham molded the bullets for the companies of Texas Rangers that guarded the frontier: she cooked their food and she dressed their wounds and attended them until they recovered. This remarkable woman, a true heroine, had 12 children. She visited the sick, bringing them food. She split rails to enclose ten acres and carried the rails on her hip. When the food supply ran low, she did weaving in exchange for corn and carried a hundred pounds a mile and a half. Once, when Indians were reported in the country and the women were urged to go to a stronghold, Aunt Susie said, "I can't go; I've got a hen about to hatch a setting of eggs."

Uncle Tom and Aunt Fannie Brown in 1876 settled two miles south of where DeLeon now is and for two years she walked three miles each day to a neighbor's house and brought back in a bucket the water for their daily use.

Truly our pioneer grandmothers were brave, hard-working, self-sacrificing.

News From The U. S. Congress

Within the next few weeks, Congress will be considering some form of so-called "civil rights" legislation. Hearings are now being held in the House Judiciary Committee on this question. That Committee is expected to report a bill shortly. I am opposed to any such legislation; however, it seems that in the heat of the discussion of this highly controversial issue there are other questions that undoubtedly will be raised by the legislation that are equally as important to all of our individual rights in this country.

A good many of the bills that have been introduced would presume the fact that the Federal Government had the right to control the qualifications of voters in the country. Historically and Constitutionally, the States have had the right to determine what the qualifications of their residents must be in order to vote. If the Federal Government moves into this field, as it would under most of the civil rights legislation, it would be usurpation and force a person to come here at his own expense to sit around for days until they were through with him. The subpoena power has traditionally been viewed as a very extraordinary power—so extraordinary, in fact, and so readily subject to abuse that under the rules of the House of Representatives only three Committees are given the power of subpoena. Oddly enough, the sponsors of this legislation who claim that their purpose is equal civil rights are, in their efforts, striking at the very foundations of our system of individual liberty and completely destroying our system which, wisely, separates the authority of our States from that of the Federal Government.

The House Committee on Appropriations this week reported a resolution which will come before the House for action within the next few days, the effect of which is to call upon the President to restudy his Budget and to advise the Congress where he feels that it can and should be cut. The resolution goes further in that it states that the Budget is too high and that it must be substantially reduced. There is little doubt but what this resolution will be favorably acted on by the House, and the effect of it should be that an immediate reappraisal of the President's Budget be made and that substantial savings be worked out.

A visitor in the office this week was Mr. Steve Carroll whose home is Gainesville.

SOUTHWESTERN COTTON GINNERS' SCHOOL SET

Texas cotton giners operate plants designed and equipped to give cotton producers the best possible grades. Changes in production practices, especially mechanical harvesting, have brought on new problems for giners. In order for gin operators to keep abreast of these changes, an annual operators school is held each year.

Joe Jones, extension cotton gin specialist, says the 1957 school will be held at Lubbock on March 21 and 22. The first day's session will be held in the Ballroom of the Student Union Building on the Texas Tech campus while the second day will be devoted to gin operation studies. Four clinics handled by factory representatives of five different cotton gin equipment manufacturers will take up the second day of the school. Jones says meeting places for the four schools will be announced later.

Highlighting the first day's program will be addresses by V. L. Stedronsky, Southwestern Cotton Ginning Research Laboratory, State College, New Mexico; George Pfeiffenberger, Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.; Don L. Jones and Lavon Ray, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Amarillo and J. M. Ward, Texas A & M College, College Station. Their discussion will center around the effect of harvesting, handling and ginning as factors lighters. James Styles was best man and ushers were Terry M. Edwards of Munday and Kenneth Benson of Seymour.

Commissioner Rudder said that his statement was prompted by numerous enquiries that the Veterans' Land Board had received about a time limit.

Texas Popular State For Tourists As Number Continues To Increase Annually

AUSTIN—Texas last year played host to 8.4 million out-of-state visitors who spent a total of $379 million while in the state, D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced today. A report on the Texas tourist industry for 1956, released today by the Texas Highway Department, shows that the average tourist stayed 5.9 days and spent $7.71 per person.

For the first time, a survey of accommodations used by tourists has been included in the report. The majority, 62 per cent, favored motels, 9 per cent stayed in hotels, 5 per cent camped out, and 24 per cent used other accommodations including trailers and homes of friends and relatives.

A total of 3.1 million vehicles carrying an average of 2.7 persons each entered the state in 1956. California again led the list of out-of-state visitors by sending 1,223,000 to our state, Louisiana was second by sending 645,000 to our state.

From a study of other states, Texas ranks high as a tourist state, topping the popular state of Florida by more than 4 million visitors last year.

Figures used in preparing this annual report are obtained from survey cards distributed to tourists at the seven Highway Travel Information Bureaus located on major highways at the state's borders. Greer stated. Information from these cards is supplemented with data from other sources to compile the report, he said.

More than 170,000 out-of-state visitors, in addition to 65,794 Texas vehicles, stopped at the Texas Highway Department Information Bureaus last year and, through the use of descriptive material and their knowledge of the state and its attractions, Bureau personnel increased the mileage of each out-of-state vehicle by 13 per cent.

In addition to operating these Travel Information Bureaus, the Highway Department publishes and distributes the Official Highway Travel Map, road condition bulletins, and other descriptive materials in an effort to assist and stimulate travel in Texas, Greer said. During 1956 the Information and Statistics Division of the Department answered 210,700 requests from the public for travel information. The division also maintains a large collection of 35 mm color slides on points of interest and travel data which are furnished free to civic groups

NEW SPONSOR OF AWARDS NAMED

CHICAGO—The new donor of awards in the national 4-H food preparation program is Betty Crocker of General Mills, Minneapolis, Minn., according to an announcement made by G. L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Last year more than 600,000 members of 4-H Clubs between the ages of 10 and 21 years enrolled in the project. They prepared and served approximately 37 million different dishes and meals, Mr. Noble reported.

"At General Mills we cherish the opportunity to be a part of 4-H," said Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board. "Through the years we have endeavored to help in various ways. Now, our major effort will be focused on the food preparation project."

Six $400 college scholarships will be offered to the 1957 national winners who will be announced by the Cooperative Extension Service during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next fall. State champions will be awarded an all-expense trip to the Congress. In addition, it is estimated that General Mills will provide about 10,000 county medals of honor to be pinned on deserving 4-H members in 2500 counties participating in the food preparation project.

The purpose of the program is to develop leadership as well as skill in preparing and serving meals, and to acquire proper eating habits as a prerequisite of good health. The youthful cooks "learn by doing," which is the 4-H way. Along with meal planning they are taught to buy food wisely, and to utilize home grown products as well.

The Texas Department of Agriculture

A Hopeful Crop Year In Sight
Although Texas' drought remains unbroken, it has been eased somewhat and many farmers face their first hopeful crop prospects in years.

Not since 1951 has planting moisture been available to so many of our hard-hit farmers. Good February rains have fallen over much of the state, restoring confidence to hundreds of those who have survived the long, dry years in between.

In the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where early prospects were dim and irrigation water critically low, cotton plants have begun to emerge and many farmers have withdrawn cotton acreage originally signed up under the Acreage Reserve Program.

Probably the most encouraging report of all, however, comes from the real drought bowl which lies south of San Antonio and west of Laredo. That area has been virtually without rain for seven years, and only this year have many cotton farmers had proper planting moisture.

As a practical matter, pink bollworm regulations which prevented cotton planting in 22 of these South Texas counties before March 5 were changed to allow farmers to take full advantage of the mid-February rains. And those who planted on the heels of the first rains were blessed by later moisture which should bring their crops up.

But even with glowing reports from these and other sections of the state we are still faced with the lasting effects of drought hardship. Even if the drought should end soon, and we have no assurance that it will, recovery is

Awards For Texas 4-H Alumni

Arvie S. Elliot Mrs. A. W. Schaffner R. E. Hartman Mrs. L. C. Huff

The 4-H Alumni Recognition award for 1956 was given to four outstanding Texans who have carried the 4-H ideals into their home, community and business. Former Texas 4-H Club members, they were selected by the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College for this honor.

They are: Arvie S. Elliot, 812 Progress, Edna; Mrs. A. W. Schaffner, Box 267A, Cuero; R. E. Hartman, 238 Westgate Drive, Corpus Christi; and Mrs. Lewis C. Huff, Box 43, West Columbia.

A handsome inscribed burnished copper plaque was presented to each by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation.

Mr. Elliot worked as extension agent in four Texas counties, developing 4-H Club programs among farm boys. He financed many 4-H demonstrations for deserving members. His record as a 4-H boy and his everyday practices indicate his strong belief in 4-H youth training. As a member, he was chosen the outstanding 4-H Club boy in his state.

Mrs. Schaffner is a leader in 4-H Club work. As a girl, she rode horseback four miles to attend 4-H Club meetings. She received her 20 year diamond 4-H pin last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartman are both adult 4-H leaders and their two children are members of a 4-H Club. Mr. Hartman assists in negotiable instruments which we wouldn't ordinarily have any reason to know about, there are one or two simple rules we should follow:

We should make certain we read what's on the paper, that we know what the words mean, and what the penalties and dangers may be, before signing our name.

Remember: You are the only person in the world with that signature, and the courts, as a rule, must take your signed promises at their face value.

still a long way of.

The dry weather has left its mark with many mortgages, wind-eroded fields and broken spirits. Drought relief measures must be continued without relaxation and all future aid consideration must go on.

The future, as in all of these lean years, remains uncertain. But Texas farmers are at least thankful for the opportunity to be hopeful, and this year their hopes are high.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service forum of the State Bar of Texas

"Negotiable Instruments"

The average person does not often use the term "negotiable instruments" in his everyday conversation, and the words may not mean much to him. Actually, it is just a mouth-filling term used in law to describe certain important pieces of paper that we normally call by simpler names.

Even though we seldom use the words, we deal with negotiable instruments all the time. Every check we write to pay the gas bill is a negotiable instrument, and so is your paycheck or pension check. The note you sign to buy a new car, the money order you purchase at the bank or post office, or the traveler's checks you take with you on a trip instead of cash, all are negotiable instruments.

It was all started by merchants who had to send large sums of gold or currency between cities or nations. They worked out a way to exchange money, or the value of money, by written messages, much of the time through a third party like a broker or bank. But when you deal in pieces of negotiable paper instead of hard money, there have to be certain standards and safeguards or the paper could lose its value.

Consequently, there developed a whole system of laws within nations and between nations, upon which all our business rests. Through the courts, if necessary, the owners of negotiable instruments may enforce the terms written on the paper.

In the United States things used to be confusing some times because of different state laws, but by 1924 all 48 states had adopted a Uniform Negotiable Instrument Law which sets up the same rules nationwide.

Since so-called negotiable instruments are so important; since they are ordinarily just like money in many ways; since they often are used like money, or are sold to other persons or companies, and since there are special laws defining the ins-and-outs of

Livestock Prices Mostly Unchanged
FORT WORTH — Moderate numbers of livestock were reported around the major market circle Monday, and at Fort Worth, with the result that price changes were on the upside where any changes were reported.

Some interests were talking lower on slaughter calves and on some classes of slaughter cattle, but this effort to cheapen costs of livestock was routed by mid-morning. Cattle and calves held steady to both slaughter and replacement outlets. Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $17.00-20.50; common and medium $12.00-17.00; fat cows $12.00-13.50; canners and cutters $8.00-12.00; bulls $10.00-14.75; good and choice slaughter calves $17.00-20.00; cull to medium slaughter calves $10.00-16.50. Stocker steer calves $21.00 down; light steer yearlings $20.00 down; heavier stocker and feeder yearlings $19.50 down; replacement cows $10.00-14.00.

Milk Lambs Open At Top Of $21.50

The first representative showing of new crop milk fat lambs topped at $21.50 at Fort Worth Monday, and started the movement of what some observers believe will be one of the largest early fat lambs crops in history to market. January and February rainfall improved winter grazing in many sections to the extent that it is believed a bigger percentage of the new crop lambs will be fat than had been hoped, a situation that will bring welcome dollars to the pockets of sheepmen who have been struggling to stay in the face of the drought.

Old crop fat lambs were strong to 25 cents or more higher, and feeders and old sheep were scarce, fully steady to strong.

Comparative prices: Good and choice milk fat lambs $20 to $21.50; good and choice wooled old crop fat lambs $20.00-20.50, a few club lambs to $21.00. Shorn fat lambs with No. 1 and Fall shorn pelts sold from $19 to $20; No. 2 pelts were quoted from $19 to $19.50 down; No. 3 pelts sold around $17.50 to $18.50. Cull to medium slaughter lambs $13 to $17.

Woolled feeder lambs $20 down; shorn feeders $16 to $18, with longer pelts above that range. Slaughter ewes $6.00-9.00; old wethers $12.00 down; yearlings and two's $16.50 down; old bucks $6.00-7.00.

Hogs Open Higher At Runs Again Moderate

Numbers of hogs were seasonally light around the major marketing circle Monday and at Fort Worth this situation was reflected in a 50 to 75 cents higher market in butchers. Sows were about steady.

Choice meat hogs topped at $17.75, a few $18. Medium grades sold from $14.50 to $17.25. Sows cashed at $15.50 down. A few pigs drew $12 to $14. Stags cashed at $8 to $11.

Stocker Cow Demand Picking Up Rapidly

The demand for stocker cows and heifers has been picking up greatly in the past two weeks, and according to the views of the most observers here, will continue to do so if Texas and the Southwest continue to be favored with some moisture.

Until recently the Southwestern stockmen had centered their activities on stocker calves and steer yearlings to graze the improved fields and pastures. The theory behind this being a quick gain and hence a quicker pay-check.

The run-up of stocker calf and yearlings prices of the past few weeks, which priced out-of-state buyers out of the market, has also tempered the enthusiasm of of Southwestern buyers to some degree and hence attention is focussed on females which are a slower route to a livestock check. However, many stockmen consider them the safer bet, even though a little slower.

The most of the replacement females which are for sale, according to information coming to this writers desk, are very mixed as to ages and mostly in smaller sized lots. Many stockmen who plan to sell females this Spring report they have some aged cows, some pairs and many have heifers due to calve soon.

Apparently this mixed offerings will be typical of the kinds that will be seen in the stocker cows sale at Fort Worth April 12, and in the offerings will be many of the plainer and mixed breed types.

Considerable interest from out-of-state owners has been shown, and it appears the April 12 sale at Fort Worth will contain a liberal number of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana females. This reverses the trend of recent years when most Texas cattle were drifting from West to East.

WE THINK HE MOVED!

Folks we moved him to Munday too quick. We moved him here last week and he tells us that he did not move and that moving day was Wednesday of this week. Now if that is not right we wash our hands of the whole affair. Oh yes we're speaking of Mr. Sellers, our new manager of West Texas Utilities Co.

A cool summer fashion designed by Helen Harper features the slim-sewed silhouette. The fabric is a new cotton knit by Fair-Tex. Dramatic stripes are used vertically for a slender effect with a contrasting knit neckline trim. Cotton knits are making a big hit for town and travel this summer. National Cotton Council fashionists report.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Harris, former residents of Munday and now residing 7 miles west of Seymour, visited friends here last Tuesday. Mrs. Harris was in the Times office for a subscription to the paper. She stated she could keep up with her old friends better the Times way.

TEXAS BIRD MANUAL SET

AUSTIN—A new book "A Field Guide to the Texas Birds" has been ordered for June delivery in 1958, reports the Executive Secretary for the Game and Fish Commission. It will be sold to the public at cost.

"This is an important documentary publication," said the Executive Secretary, "because birds are an indispensable factor in our ordinary lives and because there is not now available a reliable reference book covering the subject."

Dear Friends and Customers: I take this means of expressing my deepest thanks for your kindness and understanding during my recent illness. Your concern has been a great help to my recovery. I am now able to give you more efficient and faithful service. Thanks again. Riley D. Bell 1tc

That's why it pays, when laying out your irrigation program to choose power engineered and built for the really tough jobs.
