Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"Who here gets the Amarillo paper? she asked, which question we couldn't answer. We supposed, though, she was possibly trying to get a hold of one to read about the big snowstorm. But Mrs. W. M. Mayo said Monday, after the "big blow" had begun to subside, that she found a portion of Saturday's Amarillo Globe blown against her yard fence, and she just wondered if it hadn't blown all the way from Amarillo.

k-k

"Hospitality like this could happen only in Texas."

k-k

This statement was accredited to an unidentified woman whom the papers said obviously was from Texas, who was one of the 91 snowbound guests in the Andy Brown home near Jericho, along Highway 66, during the week end. Shucks, if that there woman weren't from Texas, we bet she wishes she were!

k-k

Those were hectic times up in the Panhandle of Texas and in several other states. Stories of heroism, hospitality, good neighborliness, etc., will be coming from that area for some time, we imagine.

k-k

Right now, we don't think we'd like to live in that area. We wouldn't like to live in California, either, with its earthquakes and threats of them. We wouldn't like to live in the coastal lowlands where the humidity just bows your head down low, nor in a densely wooded section where you can't see anywhere for those blamed trees!

k-k

We reckon the final words of the chorus to "My Home Town" are pretty timely at that. "For there's no place like Munday—it's my home town!"

k-k

That "Bank Around the Clock" business that went up early in construction of the First National Bank building had our curiosity up for some time until we inquired about it and found out it would be a night depository. We gradually got used to it and could pass by without wondering about the details.

k-k

Now that envelopes and materials have arrived, the contraption has been placed in operation, and customers of the bank may make a deposit at any hour of the day or night. You don't have to wait until the bank's doors open for business. The thing will accept deposits on holidays, too.

k-k

Directions: Just pull open the little glass door at the top and secure one of those green or are they blue? envelopes. Make out your deposit, following directions printed on the envelope, put in envelope and seal, then push it in the slot and go on your merry way. Your deposit will be checked for accuracy, and your receipt will be sent you by mail. Pretty snazzy, eh?

k-k

Which one of the 22 candidates for U. S. Senate will you vote for next Tuesday? Who will get your vote in the city election on the same date? Who will you elect to the school board on the following Saturday? You don't have to give us a personal answer, but the idea is that you should vote in each of these elections.

k-k

We take our voting somewhat as a matter of our own personal business, and we give others the same privilege. We are constantly presented with polls through the mails, such as one we received the other day: "Who, in your opinion, are the two leading candidates for senate in your area?" Now, our opinion is not worth any more than the other fellow's, and we're not spinning our wheels and using up our neighbor's time in gathering opinions, so such questionnaires find themselves headed for our big File 13.

k-k

Those Chamber of Commerce pictures in this week's paper came to us by courtesy of the Abilene Reporter-News. The group is always doing nice things for us, and Kathryn Duff once said: "We like to be nice to you because we want you to be nice to us." It works both ways, you know.

Knox City Boy Spelling Champ; Sue Garrett, Munday Wins Second

KNOX CITY—Dickie Goodson fought his way back from the brink of defeat here Saturday morning and emerged as this county's representative in the April 27 District Spelling Bee in Wichita Falls.

Dickie, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Goodson of Knox City, outspelled four girls, representing Munday, Vera, Benjamin and Gilliland, all of Knox County, and thus became the second boy to enter the District Bee. He was crowned champion speller of Knox County on the 483rd word pronounced by Mrs. W. O. Ratliff, Goree High School English teacher who was official pronouncer.

Runner-up was pert Sue Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garrett of Munday. Dickie, 14, is three years older than Sue and his eighth grade rank is one notch higher than the Munday schoolgirl who saw an "E" rober her of a chance to represent the county.

Sue misspelled "loveable" by spelling the word "loveable" to lose her bid for the championship. Dickie correctly spelled the word and then cinched the verdict by correctly spelling "loveliness."

However, the margin of Dickie's victory hinged on a ruling by Mrs. Ratliff and the three county school teachers who acted as judges for the meet. On his 163rd word, Dickie was asked to spell "levee"—meaning a dike. He spelled its homonym, "levy" meaning a collecting or exacting by superior force.

He was at first declared to have misspelled the word but the judges ruled that since no definition was given the spelling of the word would be counted. That point is covered in Rule Six of the National Spelling Bee.

During course of the 171 rounds needed to determine the victor, Dickie would gaze out the window of the eighth grade classroom of the Knox County Elementary School, looking at Mrs. Ratliff only when it became his turn to spell.

In contrast, Sue was poised and gazed intently at Mrs. Ratliff even when others were spelling. She would pronounce each word before she spelled and often after. Numerous times she asked that the word be defined.

Dickie never pronounced the word before he spelled nor asked a word be defined.

Before Dickie and Sue entered the finals, Marianne Coffman, 14, of Vera, spelled word for word through 119 rounds and seemed to gain confidence with each word she spelled. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Coffman is an eighth grader and during the first few rounds of the county Bee Saturday, the judges repeatedly asked Marianne to spell louder. At the end, Marianne spelled—golden jubilee celebration last year. The bouquet was presented by Charles Baker, outgoing president of the Munday CC, while the University Quartet of Hardin-Simmons University hummed the chorus of "My Home Town."

Banquet Speaker Tells Of Trip To Europe And Behind The Iron Curtain

"God has not forgotten the people behind the Iron Curtain and the Communist satellites!"

This significant statement was made Friday night by Marshall Formby, Plainview attorney and State Highway Commissioner, as he spoke to between 250 and 300 people who attended the annual Munday Chamber of Commerce banquet. "The people are going to church more in Russia than for the last two generations," he said.

This was one of the sidelight observations of life behind the Iron Curtain in summing up some of the things he and other newspapermen saw on a tour last spring.

Charles Baker, outgoing president, presided at the banquet and introduced new officers, directors. The meal was served by Jetton's Catering Service of Fort Worth.

New officers introduced were M. L. Wiggins, president; Vern R. Frost, vice president; Hugh A. Beaty, treasurer; and W. E. Braly, West Texas Chamber of Commerce director; and Sue Bowden, re-elected secretary.

New directors are Wiggins, Frost, Beaty, Tom W. Bullington, J. C. Harpham, G. W. Hawkins, Baker, V. E. Moore, and Dr. D. E. Alexander. Retiring directors are Charles McCauley, Joe Bailey King, and Dorset Collins.

Invocation was given by the Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor of the First Methodist Church. The Hardin-Simmons University Quartet sang five selections, including "My Hometown," written by Mrs. Travis Lee of Munday. As the song was sung, Mrs. Lee was presented a bouquet for "the outstanding job of staging Munday's anniversary celebration."

Wiggins introduced guests and J. D. Gillespie of Munday member of the highway committee, introduced Formby.

Formby got a chance to see the bodies of Stalin and Lenin, and Russians were lined up for blocks to get the same opportunity. This goes on day after day, he observed.

He said the 200 million persons in the Soviet Union are ruled by a nine-man committee and the people themselves have little to say about the way the government is run.

Formby returned from a trip to 20 European countries with a group of 28 radio and newspapermen only a few weeks ago. The editors interviewed prime ministers, presidents, the pope, king and queen of Greece and other high government officials on this trip. Most of their traveling was by plane.

They found the people extremely friendly towards Americans and very appreciative of the financial aid given to them by the United States. Formby said that most countries had made sub-

YOUR STAKE IN MEDICAL EDUCATION

Medical Education Week, which is to be observed April 21-27, has specific goals—and all of them are vitally important to the country.

Here, briefly described, are those goals: 1. To portray the key role that medical education plays in the maintenance of the nation's health and security. 2. To explain how our 82 medical schools are striving to meet the demand for a larger number of physicians and at the same time maintain high standards. 3. To call attention to the steady progress in the medical sciences, showing what this means in terms of longer life, better health, and greater freedom from disease and disability. 4. To point out the wide range of activities, such as teaching, research, service and leadership, the schools carry on in addition to the job of training new doctors. 5. To make clear the extent and nature of the new challenges to the medical profession, resulting both from our constantly expanding fund of knowledge and from the mounting complexity of our civilization. 6. To point out some of the steps being constantly taken to push back the horizons of medical science in every field.

President Eisenhower, in endorsing the observance of Medical Education Week, said: "Each American has a personal stake in the country's medical schools. The schools . . . are a vital resource for the health of our people and the strength of the nation." Keep that in mind when April 21 rolls around.

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK 1957

The week of April 8th through the 14th has been aside as National Sunday School Week, dedicated to America's Youth in Religion. The sponsor of the week, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., has chosen this guiding theme for the occasion: "Sunday School—Source of Spiritual Strength."

More than ever before our young people need the guidance of religious training and education. It is through our Sunday Schools that tomorrow's leaders are introduced to fundamental principles that lay the groundwork for a fuller, happier and more useful later life. It is through the Sunday School that religious appreciation and understanding can be applied in terms of everyday living, and help our young people to become better citizens. This is the significance of Sunday School Week.

LEARNING AS YOU SAVE

The New York Stock Exchange recently issued a report on investment clubs—and it's quite a story. These clubs consist of groups of friends who decided to start investing together to get practical investment experience and to put their money to work. As a rule the members meet once a month and invest a set sum, such as $10 or more, in a stock of their choice.

This idea is not new—one club has been in operation for over 27 years. But, with the growth of the American economy and the increased interest in investing, the number of clubs has grown fast. Now, it is estimated, there are some 10,000 clubs in operation, with more than 100,000 members.

A soundly conceived investment club can be a great and valuable educator. The point is that the members must have a sincere desire to learn—not to get rich quick—even as they accumulate funds for worthwhile objectives. It is reported that only two out of 13 investment club members have had any previous investments experience. The clubs are organized so as to give these beginners the experience they need—and that they do so successfully is indicated by the fact a very large percentage of the members go on to invest on their own account.

There has been a very marked growth in share ownership by people of modest means. The investment club is a valuable stimulant to that healthy trend.

THE GOVERNMENT NEVER GETS OUT

Senator Byrd has a habit of going to the heart of matters in his public statements. He has done this in his analysis of the proposed $71.8 billion federal budget.

Much of this increases, he says, is accounted for by an increase in civilian domestic spending. The budget would provide for federal grants to states in 13 new fields, bringing to 67 the number of such activities in which the federal government is involved. Total contributions would be $4 billion.

This has much more significance that its inflationary influence on one year's budget. For, as Senator Byrd states, "Once the federal government gets into a field it never gets out and it inevitably increases its contributions from year to year." So, if these budget proposals are approved, we will have established a precedent leading to ever-increasing spending in the years ahead.

Gov. Price Daniel Designates March 29 As Knights Of Columbus Day In Texas

Governor Price Daniel has designated March 29, 1957, as Knights of Columbus Day in Texas. This proclamation was issued through the special efforts of Menton J. Murray, representative from Harlingen and State Deputy James F. Houlihan from Port Lavaca. Seventy-five years ago on this date the State Legislature of Connecticut issued a charter to the Knights of Columbus.

In Rhineland, Marvin Zeissel is Grand Knight of Rhineland Council No. 1766.

On this Diamond Jubilee there are more than one million members of the Knights of Columbus in over four thousand councils in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Panama and Philippine Islands. Texas has almost thirty thousand members in one hundred fifty-two councils, located in one hundred thirty-eight communities.

Governor Daniel, in designating March 29, 1957, as Knights of Columbus Day in Texas, paid tribute to the record of this organization of behalf of country, church, community and fellow-men and in recognition of its contribution in religious, social welfare, youth work and patriotic endeavors.

JURY SERVICE IS CITIZEN'S DUTY

One of these days—perhaps soon—you may get a notice telling you to report for jury duty—and to "fail not." In serving, you share one of the most solemn duties known to our democracy.

Some people try to get out of jury service. It may be inconvenient or unpleasant. Yet, when you are put on a jury you should think of this as a chance to help make good one of the promises of our Constitution—trial by jury. Say the following to yourself:

"My forefathers wrested my right to serve as a juror from tyrants.

"Under our law no one's life, liberty, or property can be taken without due process of law.

"Trial by jury is our basic right. All who seek their day in

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

Stewing hens are now in good supply and at attractive prices, too. This is lucky for the homemaker, for cooked until tender and cooled in the broth, the meat from these older birds is the basis for a variety of good dishes, both hot and cold.

To cook a stewing hen, cut it into serving pieces or leave it whole. Place it in a deep kettle with the giblets, add water to cover, salt lightly, cover the kettle and simmer over a low gas flame until the chicken is tender, probably three to four hours. Pieces take about as long as a whole bird.

If the chicken is to be cooled before using, meat will be juicier and more flavorful if the hen is allowed to cool in the broth. Let it cool in the broth, breast side down for whole birds, for an hour or more. Since warm chicken broth spoils easily, cooling should be done in as cold a place as possible.

Old-fashion chicken and dumplings is our favorite recipe for a stewing hen cut in pieces and cooked until tender. To make the dumplings, sift together one and one-fourth cups flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Blend in one-fourth cup shortening. Add enough milk to make as soft dough, approximately one-third cup. Turn the dough onto a well-floured board and roll it to one-eighth-inch thickness. Cut in strips. Add the dumplings to vigorously boiling chicken pieces and broth; cover the kettle, reduce flame to simmer and cook 20 minutes without removing the cover. Makes four generous servings.

If meat is to be removed from the bone, plan on three to four cups cooked lean meat from a four to five-pound bird. Do not discard the skin. Ground or chopped fine, it adds flavor and richness to hot dishes, sauces, soups and gravies.

Removed from the bone and diced, stewed chicken is ready for a favorite chicken salad, savory creamed chicken, a steaming casserole or dozens of other dishes. Try it in Chop Suey, for instance. Cook a chopped green pepper and two cups shredded onion for two tablespoons salad oil for a few minutes. Add two cups sliced celery, two cups chicken broth, one tablespoon cornstarch mixed with one tablespoon water, stir until smooth and slightly thickened, cover and simmer over a low gas flame five minutes. Stir in two cups chopped cooked chicken and one cup sliced canned water chestnuts. Season to taste with soy sauce and salt. Serve over hot fluffy rice and crisp fried noodles. This makes six servings.

Creamed chicken is taken from the ordinary class when given a little special treatment. Cook over a low flame until tender, one cup chopped celery, one tablespoon grated onion and two tablespoons chopped green pepper in four tablespoons shortening. Stir in until smooth, one-half cup flour. Gradually add, stirring constantly, three cups warm chicken broth. Stir in one cup cream. Cook, stirring frequently, until smooth and thickened. Season to taste with salt and stir in three cups diced cooked chicken. Heat thoroughly and serve on rice, noodles, waffles, toast or in pastry shells. Makes six servings.

For that special treatment, split flaky hot biscuits and serve them with creamed chicken, short-cake fashion. Mix creamed chicken with cooked spaghetti, turn the mixture into a baking dish, top with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate gas oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Make a chicken pie by pouring creamed chicken into a baking dish, topping with biscuit rounds and baking in a hot gas oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Mashed potatoes may make the topping.

Recipe Of The Week

DANISH CHICKEN: Cut a small stewing hen into serving pieces. Dredge the pieces in seasoned flour and arrange them in a single layer in a shallow baking pan. Cover pieces with warm milk. Add two cloves garlic and bake in a moderate gas oven (350 degrees F.) three and one-half to four hours, removing the garlic after the first hour. (If garlic cloves are stuck on toothpicks, they are easily found and removed.) Add warm milk as necessary to keep the chicken well-covered. At the end of the cooking time, remove chicken to platter and thicken gravy with four tablespoons flour moistened with four tablespoons water. Add additional seasoning to gravy, if necessary. Makes six servings.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holt,
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—People who suffer hypertension, or high blood pressure, nowadays have more reason for optimism than they would have had a generation ago.

In itself hypertension is not a disease. It's a sign a something wrong, like the stuffy feeling that comes with a cold. The danger accrues because of the possibility of serious heart or kidney damage when blood pressure is consistently high.

It isn't true that the higher the blood pressure the more reason to fear heart damage. Research has shown that temporary increases in pressure do not really make much difference. But even mild elevations in the blood pressure considered normal for the person involved—if the increases persists—may cause the walls of blood vessels to thicken, exactly as callouses are formed on hands by regular use of an axe or hoe.

In the most common type of high blood pressure, called "essential hypertension," the tiny branches of arteries which carry blood to all body tissues (called arterioles) begin to tighten up. Blood passageways become smaller, and the heart has to work harder to push the blood through. After a time the blood vessels lose their elasticity and the heart muscles thicken with the extra work load. Result: high blood pressure, and ultimately heart damage.

What causes the arterioles to tighten and constrict? No one knows.

High blood pressure sometimes goes up for a period of days or weeks—or even longer—and then drops back to normal. Sometimes it may jump from pure nervousness while your physician is examining you. Perhaps there is a connection between hypertension and the strain of modern life. People who work under constant stress, who worry too much, are often susceptible. Heredity is a probable factor, and the condition occurs most often in persons between 30 and 50.

Low blood pressure seldom causes trouble. Afflicting relatively few people to a serious extent, the condition is usually a symptom of a specific disease which can frequently be treated successfully.

The thing which will count most in adding years to the life of hypertension sufferers is the willingness to change their living habits, following the rules of moderation in everything. By getting under a doctor's care and following a few simple rules for moderate living, they can probably work and enjoy life as long or longer than their next-door neighbors without high blood pressure.

There is nothing to gain from

Parents Slate Compilation Of New Community Calendar For Mogul Band

Building neighbor relationships promises to be the greatest reward for the Mogul Band Booster drive to circulate the community calendar this year. The project, which is for the purpose of raising money to buy equipment and band uniforms, will begin April 1 and close April 6.

Twice before the calendar has been presented to the public and this year the band parents will try to emphasize to all-over-town aspect of the attractive wall calendar which lists birthdays, anniversaries and other personal dates, and civic, school and church activities. Properly subscribed to, the calendar is a great factor in closely knitting various clubs and age groups in a way no other medium serves.

Old friendships are strengthened and new ones stimulated when certain dates on the calendar indicate special personal dates for remembrances, and teachers, shut-ins, public servants and other special citizens can be remembered on days significant to them.

A representative from the Band Booster Club will contact each home and a special committee of men will consult with those in the business district about the advertising which will be limited to eighteen displays on the calendar front. Calling attention to the advertising will be a recent picture of the Mogul Band.

Bob Brown, president of the Boosters, is proud of the project and expresses his personal feelings. "Remembering Granny D's birthday because it is listed on the calendar is a two-fold pleasure since both sender and recipient are made happier. Let's link the whole town together in friendliness by placing a community calendar in every home and business."

EGGS AND BEEF TOP APRIL PLENTIFUL FOODS LIST

April has always been known as the noisiest month of the year so far as nature is concerned. Spring induces birds to sing insects to drone and hens to cackle.

This April there will be an egg to match almost every cackle. The Agricultural Marketing Service says that April egg production is heading for a new high.

So eggs along with beef have earned the top spot on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's April plentiful food list throughout the country.

Record numbers of cattle in feedlots with plenty of grain to fatten them have produced unusually heavy supplies of quality beef—U. S. Prime Choice and Good.

Two other meats—lamb and turkey—are also in heavier supply than they normally are in the spring.

Most plentiful vegetables in the area include Irish potatoes, canned sweet corn and canned beets.

Only fruits on the USDA plentiful list are canned purple plums and dried prunes.

Rice, peanuts, peanut butter, milk and other dairy products complete the April plentiful foods list.

VERA SCHOOL NEWS

A feature of Public School Week at Vera was a Spelling Bee held, March 6, for the Grade School, High School, and the community. Elizabeth Brown won first place in the high school and then entered the community spelling bee and won first with Bernadine Fuller second.

In grade school Marianne Coffman won first with Vicki Coulston second.

Awards for first place in High School and Grade School were medals. Awards for first and second in the community spelling bee were loving cups.

Mrs. Bob Goodwin and her two sisters of Seymour visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Pierce, in Oklahoma City, Okla., over the week end. Mr. Pierce returned home with them for a visit.

Beta Chi Chapter Meets Saturday At Cafe In Haskell

Miss Doris Thompson, Waco, state president of Delta Kappa Gamma, International honorary society for women educators, and Miss Mildred Sterling, Waco, state corresponding secretary of the organization, were special guests of Beta Chi chapter when members met in the Texas Cafe, Haskell, on Saturday. Members from Goree, Vera and Haskell served as hosts.

Initiation for Mrs. Aura Lee Thornton, Haskell Public School teacher, as an active member of the society, was conducted by Mrs. T. C. Clark, Aspermont, initiation chairman. To conclude the ceremonies Mrs. Mary Martin, music chairman from Haskell, led the group in singing the "Delta Kappa Gamma Song."

Presiding at a table centered with an arrangement of red roses, the organization's flower, in a brass bowl, Mrs. Luther Burkett, president, Haskell, introduced Mrs. Ina Cowan, Munday, who was program chairman for the afternoon.

Furthering the club's thought of the "Magic Carpet of Understanding" Miss Thompson chose to develop most interestingly the pulsating idea "Freedom through Faith." She also urged members to make plans to attend the state convention in Waco, April 25-28.

Corsages of American beauty roses tied with gold and emphasizing the society's colors were given to the honorees. Miss Thompson was presented a piece of silver from the group.

Members brought gifts that were sold at the "White Elephant sale" and approximately $40.00 was added to the chapter's scholarship fund.

Apple pie a la mode and coffee were served to forty members from Aspermont, Old Glory, Rule, Munday, Weinert, Knox City, Vera, Goree and Haskell.

Lawn Disease, Brown Patches Can Be Controlled

Brown patch is a rather common lawn disease in Texas. Most lawn grasses are susceptible but San Augustine lawns are most often attacked, says Extension Plant Pathologist Harlan Smith.

He says the disease starts as small spots in the lawn, but the circular brown areas spread rapidly and the grass soon takes on a dead appearance. Infected area often regain their green color following changes in the weather, says Smith. Brown patch is most prevalent during humid weather on lawns with a dense turf when night temperatures remain 70 degrees F. and above.

To prevent the disease, Smith says to avoid overwatering at all times. If serious outbreaks of the disease occur, avoid watering during the late evening or at night and apply fungicides. The specialist recommends the use of Ter-san, Semesan, Special Semesan, Kromad, Calo-chlor or Actidione. These chemicals, he adds, should be used in strict accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations, including precautions in handling them.

Brown patch disease is caused by the same fungus which causes serious diseases in cotton, Irish potatoes and many other crops. It lives in most soils regardless of the plants being grown and when conditions become favorable causes the disease outbreaks.

1957 Maid of Cotton Chooses Eight Basic Vacation Outfits

Maybe you, like the Maid of Cotton, will be lucky enough to go to Bermuda this year. Helen Landon, the 1957 Maid of Cotton, will visit the fashionable island resort during the Easter holidays in mid-April. Her trip will combine both business and pleasure, as it will be in the nature of a good will visit for the American cotton industry.

The 1957 Maid of Cotton will take with her to Bermuda 25 suitcases of beautiful clothes—43 dresses, suits, coats, beach togs, and rainwear. From this collection of smartlooking cottons, she has chosen a model vacation wardrobe of eight basic items.

Model Wardrobe

They include a wrinkle-resistant tweed suit for traveling, a rain and shine hammered satin coat, a cotton knit skirt and cardigan, a full-skirted denim sun dress, cotton faille slacks, shirt, and jacket, a pair of canvas deck pants with contrasting jacket, a swim suit and matching beach robe, and a short ruffled evening dress.

Helen believes that these clothes . . . or cottons like them . . . are suitable for travelers going to Bermuda or anyplace where there are warm, sunny days and star-studded nights filled with romance and glamour.

The 1957 Maid of Cotton will leave New York for Hamilton, Bermuda on April 19. She will fly to the island abroad the luxurious Viscount, British Overseas Airways Corporation's new special powerful turbo-jet airliner. Helen will model her complete 43-piece wardrobe in an all-cotton fashion show at the Castle Harbor Hotel, where she will stay during her five days in Bermuda.

Time for Fun

Aside from her duties as the official representative of the cotton industry, Helen will have time to do many things which vacationers do on the sunny resort island. She will sightsee, swim, play tennis and go boating.

The 1957 Maid of Cotton hopes that you will be able to join her in Bermuda in April or to visit there sometime this year. But wherever you go on vacation, she suggests that you take cotton clothes that are pretty, practical, and packable. The Bermuda Trade Development Board is sponsoring Helen's trip to the island.

SEVERAL FACTORS INVOLVED IN GOOD RANGE MAAGEMENT

A combination of practices is essential in any good range management program, asserts Extension Range Specialist G. O. Hoffman, and all share equal importance. Some of the most common ones are proper stocking, effective brush control, knowledge of range plants, range re-seeding and range fire protection.

Don't plan on restocking pastures until this winter, warns Hoffman. Most of the current early spring growth which has followed recent rains is annual weeds and grasses and probably won't last over six weeks.

Where growth conditions are favorable, the specialist recommends planning for aerial spraying of oak and mesquite. Original normal mesquite growth must be sprayed with at least 1 1/2 pound of 2,4,5-E or silvex acid of low volatile esters mixed in 1/2 gallon of diesel oil and enough water to make 3 gallons of spray solution per acre. Swath width should not exceed 60 feet.

Hoffman says regrowth mes-

School Program Slated April 4th

Sixth grade students of Monday Junior High School and the Junior High Band will present their annual program on Thursday evening, April 4, at eight o'clock in the Sunset gym. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 15 cents of students.

The band, under the direction of Harold Jackson, will begin the program with their concert.

Under the direction of Mrs. Alice Partridge, 6-A will present the one-act play, "Tom Sawyer Always Wins Out" by Pauline Phelps.

The program will close with an original Negro minstrel presented by 6-B, which was written by class members and directed by Mrs. Lucille Couch.

Glen D. and Billy Ray Henson of Texas Tech in Lubbock spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Henson.

quite with heavy foliage should be treated with a mixture of 1/2 pound 2,4,5-T or silvex acid mixed in one gallon of diesel oil and enough water to make 4 gallons of spray solution per acre. Swath width should not be more than 42 feet, he concludes.

Other recommendations for good range management stressed by the specialist include brush control along fence rows around cultivated fields and a well-planned deferred grazing program to take advantage of the early moisture supply. Local county agents, suggests Hoffman, can supply information on recommended range improving practices.

"Defensive Driving" Is Recommended To Cut Down Accidents, Save Many Lives

How good are you in a high-way emergency? Would you know what to do if a car you were trying to pass suddenly speeded up, leaving you too little room ahead to pass safely?

Knowing the answer to questions such as this and reacting correctly and quickly when confronted by such a situation could save your life.

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice President of Employers Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, reminded motorists of this fact today as he urged them to drive defensively. McFadden spoke in behalf of the defensive driving program which the Texas Safety Association is conducting throughout March in cooperation with the National Safety Council. This is part of the nationwide Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents campaign aimed at cutting the scandalous traffic toll. The spring phase of this campaign stresses the moral responsibility of drivers for their own and other's safety.

McFadden explained that the defensive driver is one who drives in such a manner as to avoid accidents by anticipating and allowing for hazards created by the unsafe acts of others and adverse traffic and weather conditions.

"If a defensive driver suddenly found he did not have enough time to pass safely, he would not step heavily on the gas and take a chance on making it," McFadden said. "He would slam on his brakes, let the car he was trying to pass move ahead then drop back behind it."

The defensive driver realizes that in addition to turning in a top-notch driving job himself, he also has a responsibility to make up for the short-comings of others, McFadden said. He pointed out that such an attitude comes naturally to persons accustomed to accepting their moral responsibilities in other departments of daily living.

"Unsafe actions of other drivers and pedestrians are not the only hazards that may confront the motorist," the TSA President warned. "He must also be alert to the dangers presented by adverse traffic and weather conditions."

McFadden said drivers should be aware of the emergency situations that can arise when they're behind the wheel and should know how to cope with them. It is equally important to be constantly alert to anticipate danger and act quickly to remedy it, he said.

Car Care Tips

by JIM KANE

With warmer weather just a few week-ends away, your car's cooling system needs attention. Now is the time to drain worn-out anti-freeze and flush the radiator.

Add clear water and a good anti-rust. Your dealer can check and make sure the hose connections are tight and hoses free of leaks.

Summer is the season to watch out for overheating. So when you find yourself in constant "stop-and-go" traffic, don't shut off your engine while waiting to move. Frequent restarting heats up the engine and weakens the battery. Just keep the engine idling, racing it moderately for 30 seconds every two minutes.

Getting stalled on the road is not only inconvenient but a major cause of accidents, and failure to clean out the radiator thoroughly is a big cause of stalling. There's no doubt about it, experts can tell you: In summer months, preventive maintenance and sensible driving pay off!

AGRICULTURE

Released by
The Texas Department of Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

Dairying and Texas Agriculture
Dairying, one of the youngest of all phases of Texas agriculture, has made such remarkable strides that it is now a leader in the state's farm economy.

A $250 million annual business, Texas dairying during the past three years has ranked second only to cotton in total farm income value.

This position, of course, is partly due to the drought which has taken as part of its terrific toll large drops in profits from livestock and other major farm products.

Still, the fact remains that Texas has come a long way from the days when most of our dairy products were imported and milk-producing was more a side-line than an industry in its own right. Dairy income today accounts for one out of every eight dollars earned in Texas agriculture.

This development from eager beginnings has been brought about by several economic factors and the foresight of state dairy leaders.

First, dairy development was recognized as a year-round income source as opposed to seasonal income from crops and livestock. Because of this, the dairy dollar is said to multiply itself approximately seven times in trade activity, far ahead of other farm products.

Then, too, the dairyman's productive capacity was challenged by tightening of the cost-price squeeze on all farm industries in recent years. To meet the challenge, Texas milk producers have become some of our most efficient farmers, modernizing and increasing production through use of new equipment, such as tank trucks for hauling, plant pipelines and other major improvements.

The drought, curiously enough, has also had an effect on these increases. Imported feeds, although expensive, have improved dairy cattle diet and increased the amount of milk produced. In 1956, for example, dairy production was up 14% from 1955.

To handle marketing problems resulting from such increases, Texas dairymen organized themselves into the business of selling their own product much the same as other farm industries have done. The Texas dairy promotion and marketing program through milk-producers co-ops and their branch of the American Dairy Association is one of which we can be proud.

The dairy industry has truly come into its own as a full-fledged and vital partner in Texas agriculture.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

TALKING IT OVER—M. L. Wiggins, new president of the Munday Chamber of Commerce; Marshall Formby, center, member of the Texas Highway Commission, speaker for the evening, and Charles Baker, outgoing president, are conversing prior to opening ceremonies of the annual Chamber banquet Friday night.

News From The U. S. Congress

Ranchers and farmers who have been forced to sell their basic herds because of drought conditions are forced to pay taxes on the gain resulting from the sale if they are not replaced within one year from the time they are disposed of. I have introduced legislation which would allow them a five year period in which to replace their foundation herds without seeking an extension from the Internal Revenue Service. This bill should have a good chance to be favorably acted on before this session of Congress adjourns.

The unrest in the Near East continues to be a subject of great concern here. Colonel Nasser, the Ruler of Egypt, continues to prevent the peaceful settlement in that area. He is nothing but an absolute dictator who has substantial backing from Soviet Russia. Any chances of working out the differences between the Nations in that part of the world are pretty slim as long as Nasser continues to woo the Russians and ignore the efforts of the free world to bring about a permanent peace.

Last week the House acted on the first of the major appropriation bills and sliced well over a Half Billion Dollars out of the President's request. This week another appropriation bill will be up in which the Committee has recommended additional cuts which will bring the total reduction in the Budget up to this point of about Three-Quarters of a Billion Dollars. If this trend keeps up, and all indications are that it will, the Budget will really be substantially reduced.

The Administration's civil rights bill which we discussed here recently was reported out of the Committee on Judiciary and should be on the Floor of the House for consideration within the next few weeks. If this measure is enacted into law, it will destroy many of our historic concepts of individual freedom.

The Department of Agriculture has given assurances that it will be in a position to announce the acreage reserve program regulations for next year by December 1, 1957. If the Department does have its regulations out by December 1, much of the difficulty that occurred this year on account of the late announcement of regulations will be avoided, and farmers will have the information in plenty of time to plan for their next year's plantings.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. Earl Nunneley of Decatur, Mr. C. D. Meador of Saint Jo, Mr. R. H. (Dick) Coffee and his niece, Miss Sandra McCrary, of Vernon.

Fed Cattle Highest Since Last November
 FORT WORTH—Fed steers, yearlings and heifers opened 25 to 75 cents higher at Fort Worth this week, with two loads of steers scaling about 1,085 pounds topping at $22. This was 50 cents above the extreme top last week, and represented the highest price for commercially fed steers here since last November.

Other slaughter cattle and slaughter calves shared the strong market in the face of very light supplies, and many sales were strong to 50 cents or more higher. Stockers and feeders were very scarce and also strong to unevenly higher.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings $18.00-22.00; medium lower grades $13.00-18.00. Fat cows $12.00-14.50; canners and cutters $8.00-12.50. Bulls $10.00-14.50, odd head higher. Good and choice slaughter calves $17.00-21.50; medium and lower grades $12.00-17.00. Good stocker calves and yearlings $20.50 down, choice kinds quotable above that range.

Prospects Continue To Brighten For Stockers.

More rains reports last week further strengthened the hands of cattle owners in the Southwest, and at the same time brought many pasture areas a big step nearer the time when replacement cattle will be needed and restocking drouth decimated cattle numbers can start.

Winter grasses and weeds still make up the bulk of the available pasture grazing, along with grain fields and soil bank acres. Most sections reports perennial grasses still coming slowly, but surely.

Interest is the special market day for stocker cows and pairs to be held at Fort Worth April 12 is increasing in proportion, and strong demand for virtually all sections of the Southwest appears certain in view of the betterment of pastures this spring.

The sale is open for females of all ages, cows, pairs and all breeds.

Lambs Weaken First Time In Two Weeks.

After two weeks of steadily rising prices which had lifted milk fat lamb prices $4 to $30 per hundred, the market reacted late Monday at Fort Worth and some sales were $1 lower. Feeder lambs were strong to $1 higher.

Good and choice milk fat lambs sold from $23 to $25, while cull to medium milk lambs sold from $15 to $20. Good and choice shorn old crop lambs with a No. 2 pelt or better, sold from $20 to $22.25. Choice full woolled lambs were lacking. Cull to medium old crop lambs cashed at $17 to $20, those at $20 carrying No. 2 skins. A few cull ewes sold from $6 to $8.50 out of the wool, and old wethers drew $13 down.

Stable Lamb Market Is Possible, More Profitable.

Market observers this year recommend topping out the lambs as they get fat and bringing them to market when weighing 70 to 100 pounds. This topping out and selling of lambs when at the most desired slaughter weights will prevent bunching of shipments and the resultant sharp swings on prices which large runs create.

Since both excessively heavy fat lambs and also the underweight lambs are always brought well below the top prices, market men advise selling the big lambs when ready, and holding the little fellows back until they weigh around 70 pounds or better. This procedure will enable the sheep man to sell a bigger percentage of the crop in the high end of the price range, and at the same time avert market glutts and subsequent price breaks.

Extremely favorable conditions in much of the early lamb sections of the Southwest points to a big crop of fat lambs this Spring before hot weather hits.

Late crops in the far West and the native lambs of the Eastern cornbelt and Southeast States, offer Southwestern producers less competition this Spring in the early part of the season.

Hogs Open With 75 Cents Advance, Sows Up 50 Cents.
 Choice meat type hogs topped at $18.50 at Fort Worth Monday, a gain of 75 cents above last week's close. Sows at $16 downward were 50 cents higher.

Lighter receipts across the West and Western Cornbelt markets due to the big blizzard were reflected in the stronger market here and at other points around the major market circle Monday.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants The Right To Ruralize The Cities If Cities Can Urbanize The Country

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is talking about something that's probably none of his business, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
Where I live, there's not much danger of any city ever bringing my farm into its city limits, cities may be hungry for more area but no city could be that hungry, yet a lot of cities throughout the country are growing and expanding and taking in land all around them, and I understand it creates a problem, especially for a farmer who wakes up some morning to find his barn on the city tax rolls.

I was reading last night in a newspaper which some city man threw out of his car along with some tin cans while he was driving through the countryside out here earlier in the day where a big New York real estate developer says a city ought to have the right to annex the area around it. It's not fair, he said, for people living near a city to enjoy its advantages and not pay any of its taxes, and he said the city should have the right to take in the territory without the consent of the people taken in.

Now this may be a good idea, if it's allowed to work both ways.

For example, take city people. They enjoy the advantages of the land around them, at least they still enjoy food, and if they've got the right to urbanize the country, the country ought to have the right to ruralize the city.

A lot of city area would be hard to plow, but many's the time I've driven through a big city and thought about what my hungry cows could do to all the grass they've got growing on those city lawns. If the city has the right to rope in a country barn, the country people ought to have the right to fence off some of those lawns, although as I say the question is really none of my concern as any city that got so hard up for space it had to take in my farm would be faced with indigestion anyway.

BOYCE HOUSE

When I was editor of a daily paper in Eastland for several years, I also served as local correspondent for one of the big dailies of the State.
A man was going to be tried on the charge of having been the Santa Claus in the bank robbery in Cisco. The selection of a jury was slow and tedious. The big city paper asked me to cover this but about the time that testimony was going to begin and there would really be something exciting to write about, the State's most famous newspaper correspondent arrived.

I continued to cover the case but only for the Eastland paper, along with all the other news in the town, the writing of headlines and the numerous other tasks on a "one-man daily".
Testimony and arguments ended and then the jury began its deliberations. During a morning, the jury reported it could not agree but the judge sent it back. It nearly 2 o'clock that afternoon and I had written all my news and was approaching the square when I saw men running toward the courthouse. The jury was about to report!
My rival and friend, Frank Jones, editor of the other Eastland paper, was there—but the famous newspaper correspondent was nowhere to be seen.

Jones and I quickly worked out a plan because it was close to press time. I would wait only to hear the verdict and he would remain for all the other happenings which he would tell me when I returned after having given the "flash" to my paper and his.
The courtroom was crowded so when the verdict was read, I opened a door back of the judge's stand and sped down a "secret" spiral stairway.
On reaching a phone, I called my own paper and then Franks. Then I placed a call to the metropolitan paper and gave them the verdict.
The star staff writer was so sure that the jury was hopelessly deadlocked that he had gone to Breckenridge to visit friends. Imagine his emotions when, late that afternoon, he bought a copy of his paper on the street in Breckenridge and read the headline, "Santa Claus Gets 99 Years!"
He had been scooped—scooped in his own newspaper.

stantial recovery in their economic conditions since the end of World War II. He said Western Germany had made rapid strides in rebuilding.

Formby said the Berlin Airlift in 1948 was the best gesture the United States has made since World War II. It put the United States in solid with the rank and file of the German people. It brought home to the average German the fact that Moscow was willing to let him sit and starve, whereas the United States went to a maximum effort to bring him food and circumvent the purposes of the Russians.

The Plainview attorney said that Berlin offers the best contrast between our way of doing things and the Russians' way. In East Berlin where the Russians are in control, little if any of the bomb damage has been erased, there are few new buildings, wages are meager and the Germans in East Berlin wear a worn and defeated look. Just a few hundred feet make a dramatic contrast. In West Berlin, employment is high, thousands of homes, commercial buildings, and churches have been rebuilt, and streets are teeming with small German-built cars.

"The editors concluded that the average Russian does not want war but is a believer in peace," Formby said. "But unfortunately the policies of Russia are determined not by the people but by the nine ruthless rulers who sit in a yellow building behind the walls of the Red buildings."

The speaker said among other things that English is becoming the world's second language; the Turks are unafraid of Russia, having fought that country to a standstill several times; Charles (Chip) Bohlen is doing a good job in Russia as U. S. Ambassador; Yugoslavia, wooed by the Reds and the West alike, borders seven countries and therefore would be a strategic place in the event of another war; Cyprus is the hottest spot in Europe today; Russia has 400 divisions ready for any emergency and has 20,000 serviceable planes at the front.

ing rapidly in a clear, and audible voice. She gained third place honors when she reversed the "i" and "e" in hygiene. She misspelled it "hygeine."

First to fall was Peggy Jennings, 14, of Benjamin. The eighth grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jennings spelled "adequate" "adiquate" on the fourth round of the Bee that commenced at 10 a. m.

She was followed to the sidelines 46 words later by Sherry Cook, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cook of Gilliland. Sherry was eliminated by the word "assist" which she spelled "asist".

Marianne spelled 119 words before she missed and Sue didn't miss until her 171st word. Dickie, of course, spelled 172 words correctly.

By virtue of his win, Dickie was presented a handsome engraved plaque by Merick McGaughey, Knox County superintendent of schools. The plaque is inscribed "Knox County Champion Speller, 1957."

McGaughey said following the meet, "Each person who entered received his own award from having tried," and then explained that each champion in the county will receive an award.

After his victory, Dickie received a warm hug from his principal and teacher, Mrs. E. F. Branton, who complimented the youngster on his achievement.

The judges Saturday in addition to Mrs. Ratliff were Mrs. Alice Partridge, Munday sixth grade teacher; Mrs. H. C. Couch, Munday sixth grade teacher, and Mrs. Ann Lee Benham, Benjamin High School home making teacher.
