Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

One can look in the vicinity of implement houses most any time and see a bunch of combines. They're becoming very common items in this area right now, what with the wheat beginning to turn and a pretty harvest in the offing.

k-k

That's why farmers do not have that longing look any more when they gaze at approaching clouds. They believe the grain will be ready to harvest by the time the fields dry up enough so machinery won't bog down.

k-k

A few of those windy days with sand in the air, like last Monday, will help the situation. But rain like last Friday night with high, although straight wind, seem to sorta dampen hopes as well as fields.

k-k

Arnold Navratil, farmer of the Gilliland area, was in town Saturday and said lots of his oats were laying flat after the rain and wind. The stalks had begun to straighten up some, and he had hopes of them getting back up so combines will take them.

k-k

Looks like the grain harvest, tater harvest and cabbage gathering are going to hit at just about the same time, and a bunch of busier folks will likely never be seen in this section for some time.

k-k

A rather amusing incident occurred last Thursday night at the Lions Club's annual ladies' night. Charles Baker started "emceeing" long enough to give out the few awards that were to be made. Dr. Delmon E. Alexander was slated to receive the "perfect attendance" award by not having missed a regular meeting of the club for a year. But this Lion with the perfect attendance record was not present to receive his award.

k-k

Dr. Alex stated Friday that they did not have a baby sitter, so they were unable to attend the dinner. We also received one of the awards. We're right proud of it, too, but we imagine Delmon maybe came out ahead by not having to pay for baby sitting.

"Old Lake Kemp sure is pretty, now," we heard a local man say last week, "since she's full of water again." The rising waters have kept local boys busy who have cabins and boat houses on the lake. Some of them have moved their boat houses in as many as five or six times since the rain started.

During the economy move of Congress recently, the cutting of budget items, raking over the farm program and lambasting the soil bank, Secretary of Agriculture Benson reportedly remarked: "There must be a better way to make a living." We know of non-cabinet members, sometimes newspaper people, who have entertained the same thoughts!

k-k

Writing from Austin last Saturday, Sen. Cotton Moffett said the Texas Legislature would likely adjourn Thursday (today), and had his paper changed to Chilli-cothe. "This has been the hardest working session I have ever attended," he said, and he's attended a number of them.

BIG QUAIL CROP SEEN THIS YEAR

AUSTIN—Conditions right now are favorable for an excellent quail crop this year, according to the Assistant Executive Secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

"There will be more cover and more favorable conditions for the birds this year than we have had for a long time," he said. "This is particularly true of ground cover. There will be heavy ground vegetation and unless something happens later in the season there will be heavy hatches."

The Assistant Executive Secretary said he had not heard of any heavy damages done to the quail population by floods as yet except in the flooded Lower Brazos areas.

"There is still plenty of time for additional hatches and with ample food and cover there should be a big crop of birds and they should do well," he said.

Lions Hold Ladies Night On Thursday

Between 50 and 60 people, Lions and their ladies, attended the annual Ladies' Night Program of the Munday Lions Club held last Thursday night at the American Legion Hall.

A delicious dinner was served by Mrs. B. A. Yarbrough and her helpers. Tom Bullington had charge of the program in the absence of the president, W. C. Cox, and also had charge of installing the new officers. Charles Baker, incoming president, made perfect attendance awards to Dr. D. E. Alexander, Aaron Edgar, and to himself.

Following this program, an interesting film showing activities of the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville, which is sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Texas. Joe Weaver of Olney, one of the directors, gave some interesting highlights of the camp preceding the film.

For special entertainment, Mrs. Grady Allison sang several numbers, being accompanied on the piano by the Lions sweetheart, Anita Tidwell, who was presented a gift from the club as retiring sweetheart.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. Luren Campbell, all of Olney. Mr. Campbell is deputy district governor for this area.

Seniors Visit Cool Colorado

CANYON CITY, COLO.—Members of the senior class of Munday High School visited Colorado's famed Royal Gorge on their recent tour.

It was a highlight of a trip that included points of scenic and historic interest in and around Denver, Colorado Springs, and Canon City.

At the Royal Gorge, they crossed the world's highest bridge (1,100 feet above the roaring Arkansas river), rode the world's steepest incline railway (100 per cent grade) and viewed some of Colorado's most magnificent scenery.

Sponsors on the tour were Mr. Joe F. Canafax, Mrs. R. B. Bowden, Mrs. Jack Tidwell and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Amerson.

Veterans Land Sale Slated For Thursday, June 6

AUSTIN—The rain that has fallen over most of Texas recently will probably increase interest in the Veterans' Land Board sale of forfeited land on June 6, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said today.

Commissioner Rudder also reminded veterans that time in which they may submit bids is drawing short. Bidding in the sale closes at 10 a. m. on June 6. Land is being offered in Lamar, Red River, Hopkins, Rusk, Erath, Comanche, Brown, Hamilton, Coryell, Lampasas, McCulloch, Williamson, Bastrop, Bexar, Medina, Karnes, Frio, Zavalla, Maverick, Dimmit, Hidalgo, Cameron, Presidio, Culberson, and Oldham Counties.

Bid forms for the sale may be obtained from the Veterans' Land Board in Austin. Commissioner Rudder said.

Wheat Allotment Given Farms With None For 3 Years

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years, 1955, 1956 and 1957, may apply for a 1958 wheat acreage allotment, according to H. H. Partridge, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by July 1, 1957. Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Golf Tourney To Open On Saturday

Between 40 and 50 members of the Lake Creek Golf Club are expected to qualify in the annual club golf tourney which will be held on the local course, beginning Saturday. Friday evening has been set for the deadline for qualifying.

Preceding the tourney will be a big feed which will be served at the club house at 6:30 p. m. Friday, May 24. The feed will be served by Underwood's Catering Service of Abilene, and the entire public is invited to attend. Admission will be $1.25 per person.

The golf tourney will begin Saturday, May 25, with matched play being held all during next week. Finals will be played on Sunday, June 2.

Golfers of the local club are showing much interest in the tourney, which is expected to be one of the best held on the local course.

Graduation For Local Seniors Slated Friday

Members of the 1957 graduating class of Munday High School will receive their diplomas in graduation exercises Friday night at eight o'clock in a program to be held in the school auditorium. The class will present a program of their own choosing, as follows:

Glenn D. Henson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Henson, is one of 168 students of Texas Tech's school of engineering who will receive degrees in graduation exercises at 8 p. m. Monday, June 3. He will receive his B.S. degree in petroleum engineering.

Blood Typing Program For County Is To Get Under Way In Near Future

The county-wide blood typing program for Knox County is expected to get under way in the near future, according to Dr. D. C. Eiland, county health officer.

This county-wide program is sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs of the county at the request of Civil Defense.

Typing of blood of everyone in the county over 16 years of age is the aim of this program, and the typing will be free of charge.

Dates will be set at each school, Dr. Eiland said, and night dates will be set for taking the blood samples, so the program won't interfere with daily work operations and those being typed won't have to drive to Knox City.

This will be a cooperative venture upon the part of technicians, the offices of Drs. Eiland and Markward and Dr. R. L. Newsom, and the Knox City Clinic.

After typing is completed, each individual will be mailed a card with his name and blood type. It is hoped that all adult population of the county will avail themselves of this opportunity to be typed.

This could prove to be of real value in the case of disaster or war-like activity, it was stated.

County Reaches Third Of Bond Quota For Year

Sales of E and H Savings Bonds in Texas for April were $13,577,045. This represents an increase over March of $461,000, Mr. Nathan Adams and Ed Gossett, Chairman and Co-Chairman of the State Savings Bonds Committee, announced today.

In the first four months Texas achieved 30.4 per cent of its Savings Bonds goal. Total sales through April were $58,737,766. Sales in Knox County amounted to $109,817 during the first four months which was 35.7 per cent of the 1957 quota of $307,580, according to W. E. Braly, Chairman of Knox County.

"New Savings Bonds are better than ever due to improved interest rate. Series E and H Bonds purchased currently will now yield 3 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity. This new rate is effective for all Series E and H Bonds purchased on or after February 1, 1957." Chairman Braly stated.

Also in the Goree Field, SL&S Drilling Co. will drill No. 1-B Fowler as an 1,800-foot rotary project. Site is in the city limits of Goree.

Amerson To Play In Greenbelt Game

Glenn Amerson, Munday quarterback has been selected to play with the West All-Stars in the Greenbelt Bowl at Childress on August 16.

The west team will be coached by H. A. (Sandy) Sanford of Tarleton State College.

Amerson was a three-sport star for Munday during the present school year, being selected on several all-star teams of the area in Class A football, and also lead the Moguls in basketball and track.

The Greenbelt players will report for practice on August 11.

Dr. Cecil Will Be Here June 8 On Extension Courses

Dr. Rockover Cecil, dean of business administration of McMurry College in Abilene, will be here Saturday, June 8, to interview all those interested in taking extension courses in business administration.

The college has indicated that these courses will be taught locally this summer if enough people are interested in them.

Dr. Cecil will be at the Chamber of Commerce office, and all those interested in extension work during the summer are urged to meet with him at that time.

W. T. U. To Lease Spur Light Plant

SPUR—Citizens of Spur voted by a 2 to 1 margin Saturday to lease the city light plant and electric distribution system to the West Texas Utilities Company.

The relatively heavy vote was 281 "for leasing" to 128 "against leasing."

The proposal approved by the voters authorized the City Commission to lease to WTU the City of Spur's municipal electric plant and system for a term of 40 years. The lease arrangement will include a 40-year franchise for the utility company.

Since 1928, both WTU and the municipal plant have served Spur residents.

THE POST OFFICE PROBLEM

The financial problems of the post office department have been in the headlines. The Postmaster General had to go to Congress for a $47 million deficiency appropriation to carry the department through the fiscal year, and he estimates that unless rates are raised, the deficit in the next fiscal year will reach $651 million.

Writing of post office troubles in the New York Times, Jay points out that Congress has this broad problem on its hands — should it treat the post office as a business or as a public service? Mr. Walz adds: "If it is business, then postage charges should be raised until the post office can pay its own way — But just recently a Senate advisory committee turned in a report saying the post office is mainly a public service and its deficits are, therefore, not deficits at all, but expenses to be absorbed from taxes."

This "public service" argument may have validity when it comes to carrying matter which contributes to public knowledge and entertainment, and which is not in direct competition with existing private business. But it has no validity in the case of at least one service — parcel post. Parcel post is not a basic postal service function — it did not come into existence until 1913. The law creating it specified that it should be self-sustaining and that it should not unnecessarily compete with private parcel or express organizations. But the fact is that it is in direct competition with such organizations, on a tax-subsidized basis — and that during much or most of its life it has operated at a deficit.

Here is one place, at least, where the charges for a post office service should fully reflect and cover all the direct and indirect costs of providing that service.

UNCLE SAM BIG WINNER

Photo services recently carried pictures of beaming holders of winning tickets in this year's Irish Grand National Sweepstakes. A waiter in an eastern restaurant won $140,000.

The beams must fade a good deal however, come taxpaying time. For the federal income tax on $140,000 is over $84,000 leaving only $56,000 — which makes Uncle Sam the really big winner.

"We believe in price supports because it is the only system yet devised which gives agriculture something at least akin to an even break, but we do not like the way the system has been administered and abused."—Bedford, Va., Bulletin.

ADVICE TO A MOTHER

A subscriber writes us: "I am the mother of three children. My son, who is seven, got three Salk polio shots at school. But my oldest child, a 16-year-old high school girl, has had none. Neither has the baby, who is three. Do they need to be inoculated and should we do it now?"

Yes, they do need it and you should do it at once. Polio authorities, like the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, say that a large portion of elementary school children have already been protected. But most teenagers and still more preschool haven't. They are first on the urgency list.

At the moment, heavy demand has strained the supply of the vaccine. Temporary shortages will be made up as rapidly as the manufacturers can produce new supplies. Every family should protect itself at the earliest possible time. And that means the whole family—for polio is not exclusively a child's disease. The percentage of cases among adults aged 20 through 39 has taken a sharp turn upward. Furthermore, it is the adult, more likely than the child, who winds up in an iron lung. It is the adult, and not the child, whose paralysis leaves a family bereft of a mother or a wage-earner.

So bundle up your family—all who haven't had their three shots yet—and get them vaccinated. Don't delay any longer than is absolutely necessary.

BEYOND MERE HUMANS

Raymond Moley held high rank and was a powerful figure in the early years of Franklin D. Roosevelt's Presidency. At that time, he believed in economic planning and regulation by the government.

He has since changed his views. Writing in Newsweek, he tells why: "This was due to the conviction, which grew with close association with those charged with the power of government from the President down, that while planning is a grand idea, it assumes a wisdom and skill which mere humans can never attain. The safety of the individual is attained only when economic decisions are the product on an infinite number of individual judgements, and the power of government is kept close to the people through decentralization.

Decisions of that kind can be reached only in a free society whose economic system is based upon the free market.

TEXAS' NEW EGG LAW

The next few months mark a period of preparation for one of Texas' most important agricultural advances in recent years — the enforcement of an egg grading and standards law.

Recent passage of the Texas Egg Law brings the state into line with all other states which already have active egg programs, making possible the protection of Texas egg producers and consumers alike from misrepresented and mislabeled eggs.

The law became effective immediately upon its passage although it will not become operative in full for a six-months prescribed period. This period presumably is to allow for preparation of persons and firms for compliance with the law in full.

With a few minor exceptions, the new egg law provides that eggs sold for human consumption must be graded according to consumer grades and weight classes set up by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The new law also makes it illegal to sell or advertise shell eggs below the quality of grade "A" as "fresh," "selected," "henery," "newlaid," "cage," or other words which represent such eggs to be fresh. This does not include the sale of eggs from a producer's own flocks. The labeling provisions are among those which will not become effective until 180 days following the law's effective date, or in about six months.

Another provision involves licensing of certain dealers and processors of eggs, with fees set according to the volume of eggs handled. The proceeds of these fees will help to defray the cost of administration and enforcement of this act.

Any person desiring a copy of the new egg law or additional information on egg grading should send a request to John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

With young and old, puddings hold their place as favorite dessert. This should make the problem of what to have for dessert actually no problem at all, for in most kitchens are the necessary ingredients for making smooth chocolate pudding, a creamy rice pudding or an ever-popular bread pudding. Make a hit with the family by serving your tried and true versions of these favorites or add an element of surprise now and then with a new version.

Rice pudding goes modern when made this way: Bring to boil over a full gas flame a 12-ounce can of apricot nectar. Add one teaspoon cinnamon. Stir in 1 1/3 cups quick cooking rice. Cover, remove from flame and let stand 10 minutes. Stir in 1/4 cup sugar, mixing well. Cover and let stand until thoroughly cooled. Whip until stiff and fold in one cup whipping cream. Spoon into sherbet dishes and chill in gas refrigerator. Makes 6 servings. If you prefer omit the whipped cream.

For Raisin Spice Bread Pudding, put one tablespoon butter or margarine and two cups milk in a one-quart baking dish. Place in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) while mixing other ingredients. Combining two beaten eggs, two cups half-inch toasted bread cubes, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 1/4 cup chopped pecans, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/8 teaspoon allspice. Add this mixture to milk in casserole, mixing well. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Serve warm or cold. Makes six servings.

Turn chocolate pudding in Banana Chocoroon Pudding by arranging it in layers in a casserole with layers of thinly sliced bananas sprinkled with crumbled coconut macaroons. Start and finish with a layer of the pudding. Chill in gas refrigerator before serving.

Recipe Of The Week

MOCHA PUDDING: Combine and set aside to cool, four and one-half teaspoons instant coffee and three-fourths cup hot water. Sift into mixing bowl three-fourth cup sugar, one cup sifted flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-fourth cup cocoa. Combine in saucepan and heat over low gas flame until butter or margarine is melted, one-half cup milk, three tablespoons butter or margarine and one teaspoon vanilla. Add warm milk mixture to dry ingredients mixing well. Pour into well greased 10 by 6 by 2-inch baking dish. Combine and sprinkle over batter three-fourths cup sugar and two tablespoons cocoa. Over all pour cooled coffee. Bake in moderate gas oven (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Makes six servings.

be regulated as they are at this time rather than they would under a bill that contains the Administration's amendments.

The controversial "civil rights" bill will probably be up in the House the first week in June. This bill in its present form would do irreparable damage to the rights of all of our citizens and would do away with many basic principals such as the right of trial by jury that we have always considered so important.

A recent report by the House Appropriations Committee on Agriculture shows that during the last four years the farm income of the country has shrunk from over Fourteen Billion Dollars to about Eleven Billion Dollars. This drop represents about 17.5 per cent. This also occurred while the personal income of other segments of the American economy increased from $271.8 Billion to $306 Billion which was an increase of 12.5 per cent. During this same period the farmer's share of the consumer Dollar decreased from 47 cents to 40 cents or a drop of 15 per cent, while the share of the group between the farmer and the consumer increased proportionately. Also during this time the hourly return of the farmer for his labor dropped from $2.5 cents per hour to 70 cents per hour while the hourly earnings of every other group has substantially increased.

Mr. M. E. Eatherage and Mr. R. S. Mundlin of Wichita Falls were Washington visitors this week.

News From The U. S. Congress

The President's efforts to prevent any substantial cuts in his budget have not been very effective. The general feeling here seems to be that substantial cuts can be made in the budget without materially affecting our National welfare. The mood for economy undoubtedly still prevails in the Congress. The Appropriation Committees have been looking closely at all of the budget recommendations and up to this point have made significant reductions. This attitude, in my judgement, will continue throughout this session of Congress.

The chance of enacting a gas bill during this session of Congress continue to grow dimmer and dimmer. The amendments proposed to the bill by the Administration would practically destroy it. In all probability the gas industry would be better off to

ANCIENT JURORS AND ADVOCATES

Speaking before juries — the beginning of jury trials — goes back to Greek colonies in Sicily about 600 B.C., in lawsuits over lands seized by tyrants.

Soon Athens itself took over have worked out no rules of evidence or judicial control of the trial.

Juries often cheered or booed the parties. They talked together and shouted back to the speakers. What one man knew about the case he told his neighbor.

All evidence could go: Personal knowledge hearsay, prejudice, and the juror's opinion.

The Athenian jury had power. Each "dicast" (chosen by lot) was both juror and judge. Each juror got one obol a day — about three cents.

Each accused person had to come before the jury personally to defend himself — which was especially hard if he didn't know the art of advocacy, since he was assumed to be guilty.

Indeed, many hold that if Socrates had taken independent advice he would never have offended the boisterous and biased Athenian jury, which sentenced him to the hemlock there on the hillside in 399 B. C.

Less outspoken defendants in those days sought bootleg legal advice.

Antiphon (415) ghost-wrote and sold briefs to clients who had to put their own cases to the jury. He set out four steps of an Athenian trial: (1) the accuser's charge, (2) the accused's reply, (3) the accuser's reply, and (4) the accused's response.

Afterwards the jury let the accused off or found him guilty. The jury sentenced the guilty then and there, allowing some — Socrates, for one — to propose their own penalties, and even to bid them upward if they failed to please the jury.

After the trial the speakers (or in Socrates' case, his friend Plato) often worked their talks over, and sent them out for friends to admire or criticize.

What appeals were used to win the jury over? Pretty much the same ones we hear today. Aristotle listed a few:

The values the jurors shared with the speaker — reverence for justice, the law, and the city's founding fathers; the sanctity of the juror's oath; the verdict's effect upon public and foreign opinion, and sometimes upon women and youth.

(This column based on Federal law and prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Recently a university spent $30,000 to install elevators to the stadium press box.

I can remember when the Ranger High School football field was built for $11,000. (as I recall). Not only that but the stands were built in one week. The Bulldogs proved to be unexpectedly strong and they had a game coming up with a traditional rival. So the stands were to seat 6,000 or thereabouts. Barely completed in time for the game — with the Cisco Lobos, if memory serves a-right. Something like 8,000 squeezed into the stands and massed along the sidelines and back of the end zones — and Ranger's share of the gate receipts from that one game almost paid for the stadium.

When President William McKinley was a member of Congress, an acquaintance who started to relate an "off-color" story, glanced around and said, "There are no ladies present, I believe." McKinley replied, "No — but there are one or two gentlemen present."

An acquaintance of many years ago, when in a convivial condition, would sing, in a loud voice, a ditty the first verse of which was:

"Oh, the Joneses boys, they built a mill;
Half the time the mill stood still;
But when it ran, it made a noise,

Because it was built by the Joneses boys."
He would pause and announce, "Second verse" — which was the same as the first one. And so on.

My favorite name among Texas towns: Pflugerville.

Runner-up: North Zulch.

Thomas De Quincey, on the subject of the evanescence of articles that appear in a newspaper:

"Worlds of fine writing lie buried in that vast abyss, never to be disinterred or restored to human admiration. Like the sea, it has swallowed treasures without end, that no diving bell will bring up again."

Mrs. Muriel Mitchell visited relatives in Abilene and Baird over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Shackelford left Monday afternoon by train from Childress for a ten day visit with his brother and sister and their families in Long Beach, California.

Got a job for this giant killer?

Here's proof of the reserve strength in GMC's 370 that pays off in any operation.

DEEP in the pine woods, this 2 1/2-ton GMC, with locally added trailing axle, wades into a pile of forest giants, using its power take-off to flip 1,000-pound logs onto its back. In ten minutes it has a staggering load—and practically no road to haul it over.

You may never need to subject your trucks to such grueling service, but experience like this is your assurance of stamina and reserve strength far beyond normal requirements.

And the GMC 370 can be yours for hundreds of dollars less than comparable competitive trucks. Just check with your GMC dealer.

Illustrated: GMC 370 rated 19,500 GVW—22,000 with optional H.D. front axle. 206-hp V8 or 140-hp Six.

HUB-DEEP RUTS, soft ground, down and up ravines, it totes a Herculean payload day in and day out in the timberlands of North Carolina. Five trips a day, six days a week the year around—and it stays a stranger to the repair shop!

Vera Club Has Special Mothers Day Program

A special Mother's Day program was presented by the Vera Home Demonstration Club May 8th at the Vera Methodist Church.

Each member answered roll call by introducing their visitor or visitors. Corsages were presented by Mr. Grady Hardin and Mrs. Ray Escobar to the oldest mother present, Mrs. J. N. McGaughey; the youngest mother, Mrs. Robert Nix; and to the mother with the most children, Mrs. E. T. Hardin. Mrs. Minnie Myers was runner-up for the oldest mother and she was given a corsage also. The lovely corsages were made by a club member, Mrs. J. A. Fuller. Scripture was read by Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. D. D. Allen led in prayer. A poem "Mother's Love" was read by Mrs. Fred Wiles. Next was a piano solo by Mrs. Vera Teague. For the conclusion of the program a trio composed of Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Calvin Christian, and Mrs. Bobby Roberson, sang "Look For The Beautiful" accompanied by Mrs. Lee Wayne McGuire at the piano.

A short business session was held with committee reports given by Mrs. Alton Lee Patterson and Mrs. Christian.

Refreshments of spiced tea, coffee and Angle cake were served in the recreation room to the following visitors and members: Mmes. Vern Teague, J. H. Adker, E. T. Hardin, S. A. Wolfe, Robert Nix, Henry Patterson, E. A. Beck, Sr., Ted Russell, Jake Feemster, A. S. Jernigan, Tom Hurd, Perrin Hurd, R. E. Hughes, Mattie Russell Minnie Myers, J. Clay Ellis, M. A. Who Said Women Can't Drive?

Two happy girls, driver Patricia Jones, right and navigator Elizabeth Blich, celebrate their victory over men in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run. This is the first year that women were allowed to participate in the 4-day 1,568 mile marathon from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, Idaho. The girls were the first to cross the finish line with their 1957 Dodge and got more miles per gallon than all class winners, excepting an identical car driven by two veteran Economy Run drivers.

FORMER MUNDAY MAN IN LAMPASAS FLOOD

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Howell received word from their son, Bobby, who lives in Lampasas, that his house was not damaged in the recent flood, being on a hill. He lost his car, which was later found filled with mud and water.

Bobby also lost about half of his watch repair tools in the flooded downtown jewelry store. He said the full extent of damage by the disastrous flood could not be realized unless one could see it.

The date of the wedding has been set for July 20th.

STOCKER CALVES TOP AT $23.35 MONDAY

FORT WORTH—Increased supplies of all classes of livestock arrived at Fort Worth for the opening session of the week. However, there was a substantial reduction reported around the major market circle the same day.

The trade was active and strong with some spots higher on all species, grades and classes.

The good and choice stocker steer calves ranged from $18 to $23.35, with a shipment of 20 head from Sam Ball, Breckenridge, which averaged 461 pounds at $23.35. The cows along with these calves sold at $14, with a few at $12.50 to the packers. Good and choice steer yearlings cashed at $17 to $21.50, and heifer calves and stocker heifer yearlings averaged $2 to $3 under comparable stocker steers. The plainer stockers sold around $14 to $17, and a few stocker cows were reported from $10 to $14.

Good and choice fed steers and heifers sold from $19 to $23, two loads of around 800-pound heifers topping at $23. Plainer butcher cattle sold from $12 to $18. Fat cows drew $12 to $14, a few higher. Canners and cutters cashed at $8.50 to $12. Bulls drew $10 to $15.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $18 to $22, and medium and lower grades bulked at $12 to $18.

SHEEP AND LAMBS ACTIVE PRICES SHOW STRENGTH

About 13,000 sheep and lambs arrived at Fort Worth Monday and trade was active at strong prices. In this division the demand for stockers and feeders also set the price. Good and choice fat lambs sold to packer outlets at $20 to $21, and good and choice feeder lambs, with a percentage of fats on them, sold up to $20 and $20.50. This represented the most narrow spread between feeders and fat lambs in several months. Medium and low grade lambs sold from $14 to $19. Good and choice clipped lambs sold from $18 to $20. Old ewes drew $5.50 to $7. Old wethers sold from $13 down. Two-year-old muttons sold from $16 downward.

HOGS OPEN QUARTER HIGHER, TOP $18.50-18.75

Swine prices started out the week again with price changes held to an extremely narrow range. Opening top on choice butchers was $18.50 to $18.75, which was 25 cents above the close at Fort Worth last week. For several weeks the hog prices has idled in the $18.25 to $18.75 range here, with fluctuations rarely more than 25 cents in one day.

Medium grade butchers sold from $14 to $18. Sows sold mostly from $15 to $16, a few outside that range.

Mrs. Andy Habib and little daughters, Sherry and Cindy, of Corpus Christi are visiting her mother, Mrs. C. N. Smith and other relatives here this week.

28-Year-Old Mother Saves Lives Of 16 Persons During Lampasas Disaster

LAMPASAS—Lampasas disaster victims disclosed today how a 28-year-old mother saved the lives of at least 16 women and children when a 10-foot wall of water borne down upon the unsuspecting town Sunday night. Mrs. Gracie Storms, 28, took the victims to safety as her own four room house was being swept completely away.

Mrs. Storms is wife of John Storms, employed as a tire recapper, who was away when the flood came.

The mother with her children, Darlene, age 9, and John Albert, age 4, left their home as water began to come in and took a friend, Vivian Taylor, and her five-week-old baby to their home for dry clothing. Mrs. Taylor and her baby had been caught in the rising water while visiting. After leaving Mrs. Taylor with a promise to return, Mrs. Storms made a number of trips in and out of the flood area to the American Red Cross Disaster shelter. Among those rescued was another frantic mother, Mrs. Maurice Hamilton, her six children and four grandchildren. Mr. Hamilton, who operates a barbecue pit in Killeen, 30 miles away, was at his business when the flood came.

Mrs. Hamilton and the children were attempting to escape in their station wagon but it would not run and they were caught in the swirling waters. Mrs. Storms was successful in pushing the station wagon out of the flooded area.

As she went through the water-covered streets honking the car horn, Mrs. Storms picked up a number of other victims, including a teenage youngster and a child who had been trapped, and others.

Mrs. Storms herself said, in the Red Cross shelter where she and her husband are staying, "I knew some people had no way of getting out and I wanted to help if I could." As she timidly confirmed the stories of other victims, she also told how attempts to get her father-in-law out were in vain. Her father and mother-in-law refused to leave their home. He climbed to the top of the dwelling and his wife, who was unable to get to the roof, held to the porch rafters until the waters began to recede. Both are near 60 years of age.

While this young mother cared for her own two children and was saving the lives of others, the little four room frame house which she and her husband own was among those being carried away by the monstrous flood waters. Darlene and John Albert have been sent to stay with relatives in Austin. Meanwhile, the Storms couple are being cared for by the Red Cross. They have only one other relative living in Lampasas, her aunt, who is caring for another disaster family and has no more room available.

Mrs. Storms, with tear-filled eyes, and without thought of her efforts in assisting others, praised Red Cross for the food, clothing, shelter and other assistance given by Red Cross.

Mrs. Herschel Cowan and Miss Merle Dings visited their aunt, Mrs. L. W. Boynton, and family in Springtown last Sunday and Monday. Mrs. Boynton suffered a stroke last Sunday morning and was admitted to the Weatherford Hospital Sunday afternoon. She is reported to be doing fairly well.

Munday H. D. Club Meets Wednesday In Tynes Home

Mrs. J. O. Tynes was hostess Wednesday, May 22, when the Home Demonstration Club met in her home. The president, Mrs. Joe Patterson, presided.

Opening exercises were led by Mrs. Gill Wyatt and two games were played.

The club will serve the Last Man's dinner May 30th at the Legion Hall. Plans were completed and the menu made with the following committee in charge: Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, chairman, Mrs. R. Moore and Mrs. Gill Wyatt.

Mrs. Wyatt was elected the club nominee for delegate to the state meeting.

The agent, Miss S. C. Kinsey, gave a demonstration on "Living Room Accessories" to the following: Mmes. Otis Simpson, Gill Wyatt, Edwina Johnson, T. V. Yost, Richard Moore, S. G. Smith, Joe Patterson, R. M. Almanrode, John Peysen, F. L. Bowley and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John Peysen on June 12th.

KINDERGARTEN STUDENTS TO GRADUATE TONIGHT

Graduation exercises for the Munday Kindergarten class will be held Thursday (tonight) at 7:00 o'clock in the First Methodist Church, Mrs. J. S. Shannon, Kindergarten teacher, has arranged her program at this time so as not to conflict with the other programs.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hooper, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—This can be said without reservation: we'll have more insects to fight this year than ever before, especially flies and mosquitoes. The reason is the unprecedented seige of wet weather most of the state is going through this spring.

Mosquitoes breed in standing water—whether in a Gulf Coast marsh, a West Texas stock tank, or in a tin can or old tire in the back yard. They harbor in damp vegetation and undergrowth like we have so much of this year. As for flies, they'll be breeding in the garbage of washed-out sanitary land fills, and in sewer lines broken or overflowed by floods. And conditions are equally favorable for most other insect species.

Insects have troubled man ever since he has been on earth. They have bitten and stung him. They have destroyed his food, his clothes, his home. They have carried germs that brought him horrible death. In all, entomologists can identify some 10,000 insect "public enemies" that do $4 billion in damage annually.

Let's realize, though, that some insects are not harmful, and others actually do valuable chores for man. Various species of beetles feed on harmful insects, and some caterpillars eat weeds. And other insects, like the honey bee, pollinate crops. Nevertheless, with all his scientific knowledge, it is only by constant effort that man is able to hold his own against insects.

Consider just a single crop—wheat. Each year insects destroy in stored wheat the equivalent of 2 billion loaves of bread, enough to supply every person in the United States for seven weeks. Or consider just a single disease—encephalitis, spread by mosquitoes. At least 500 cases occurred in the Plainview area last summer. Many of the victims died.

But let's be fair about it. Insects got here first. They've been on this earth for at least 250 million years, 250 times longer than man. And in all that time, they have remained relatively unchanged. The roach, for example, looks just about as he did 250 million years ago. Old fossils and stone impressions tell us this.

For thousands of years man probably swatted or squashed insects to defend himself against them, but by 1,000 B. C. Homer was talking about sulphur as a fumigant. Since then insecticides have steadily improved. One, DDT, was developed in 1942, and gave early promises of providing the knockout punch against insect hordes. But it hasn't. Entomologists say flies, salt marsh mosquitoes, roaches, and lice quickly developed resistance to the chemical, and Mexican beetles, spider mites, and many aphids are not affected by it.

Today we know a complete program of insect control calls for constant application of good home and community sanitation—such things as garbage cans with tight lids, good systems of garbage pickups, and well-operated sewerage disposal plants—together with periodic spraying with effective insecticides. Information as to which insecticide is best for your specific use can be had by writing to your local or state health department.

4H Girls Look To Future In New Projects

A doubly assured future is awaiting 4H Club girls who enroll in home economics programs. They will learn about homemaking in their own homes, and also job possibilities if they are considering a future professional career.

Three of the projects conducted by the State Extension Service are girls' home economics, canning and clothing. Volunteer local 4H leaders, Extension agents and others guide the club members in practical training and education.

Finer, Faster Texas Zephyr

Finer, faster all-stainless-steel streamline service on the Texas Zephyr will be inaugurated Sunday, June 16, between Denver-Colorado Springs and Fort Worth-Dallas on the Colorado and Southern and the Fort Worth and Denver railroads. Schedules are one hour faster. Accommodations include varied private rooms, standard berths and deluxe reclining-seat coaches. Feature cars are a coach lounge, a mid-train dining car and a full length parlor-observation lounge car.

provided in specially prepared work manuals and handbooks.

Along with this personal instruction and enjoying the results of their completed projects, the girls will have an opportunity to participate in local, state and national competition. A total of 24 college scholarships of $400 each will be presented to national champions this year. In addition, state winners in each program will be a delegate to the national 4H Club Congress in Chicago with all expenses paid. Winners will be announced next fall.

Donors of the awards are as follows: Montgomery Ward girls' home economics; Kerr Glass Co. canning; Coats & Clark, Inc. clothing; Last year 4H Club members made a tremendous contribution to their homes and communities through participation in these activities. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, they canned 5½ million quarts of food, made more than 3 million garments and articles, prepared and served 37 million different dishes and meals.

UNCONTROLLED NUT CASEBEARER CAN CUT PROMISING PECAN CROP

Recent rains have greatly improved the prospects for a good pecan crop in 1957. But, warns Extension Horticulturist B. G. Hancock, pecan nut casebearers can cut the promising crop by millions of pounds if they are not controlled. Now is the time to begin the control job.

The three essentials in obtaining satisfactory control of the casebearer are listed by Hancock as correct timing of spray application, proper application of spray material and use of the correct insecticide.

To be sure of the timing, the specialist urges pecan growers to check the nut clusters closely and at regular intervals for the appearance of casebearer eggs. The eggs are usually deposited singly in the tip or blossom end of the small nuts; are pearly white with a bluish cast and about a third the size of a pin head. They hatch in four to five days. After hatching, the small worm moves down below the pecan cluster and feeds on the buds in the leaf axil. The buds are hollowed and the tell-tale webbing and black fuzz around the bud can be seen. After four or five days of bud feeding, the worm now much larger, moves back to the nut cluster and bores a hole at the base of the pecan and enters to feed.

Because of the short period of time the worm is exposed, timing of control measures is of utmost importance, says Hancock. Sprays made of long residual insecticides can be applied when a number of eggs are found in the orchard. If insecticides with fairly short residual period are used, it is best to wait until some of the eggs have hatched and the worms found feeding in the buds.

Proper application of the insecticide must include a thorough wetting of the nut clusters and the stems immediately below.

Hancock urges pecan producers to check with their local county agent on the details of a good control program. Ask for a copy of L-245, Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts in Texas.

Range Deferment Practices Will Improve Grasses

Now is the time to start thinking about pasture deferment for a growing season so that the vigor of the existing grasses might be improved, and that seed production can be obtained to help better range conditions.

Resting pastures during the growing season will give the best results. Two or three months rest in the spring will increase plant vigor and permit grasses to spread and make better cover.

A three months fall deferment will allow for a seed crop as well as for storing food in the roots.

The first growth a grass plant makes in the spring comes from food that was stored in its roots the fall before. After the plant has used the food from its root reserve it depends upon its leaves for its food. Since the plant is dependent upon its leaves for food, enough leaves must remain to manufacture food all during the growing season.

By practicing range deferment it will help to give the necessary treatment that is so badly needed on many ranges in the district that have undergone periods of continued use and a prolonged drought.

Partridge Is Appointed Head Of Special Education At Corpus Christi

Dr. Partridge yesterday was named the new coordinator of special education for the public schools. The life of this experienced teacher and elementary principal is anything but specialized. Trained for a career in business administration, he turned to teaching to keep from traveling. He turned to teaching, the new coordinator turned to an amazing variety of spare time work order to stay in the profession.

Partridge outlined two big tasks awaiting him when he begins his new job June 1. He wants to see the special education services expanded and he wants parents of handicapped children "to become aware that something can be done for their children." A current stumbling block to expansion of services throughout the country is the lack of teachers for special education units, according to the new coordinator. "Teachers like to see progress in their pupils, and progress is very slow with the retarded children," he explained. Partridge hopes, however, to find teachers who would consider special education "more than just a job" and have a personal interest in it.

PLANS FOR 1957 SUMMER COTTON SCHOOL ANNOUNCED

Texas A & M's 48th annual Summer Cotton School will be held June 3 to July 12, according to Prof. J. M. Ward of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology. Purpose of the school is to provide training for persons who expect to enter the cotton trade; for growers who wish to learn how to market their cotton more profitably, and for buyers who wish to review grade and staple standards or to become more familiar with the elements of quality in cotton. Instruction, by men with successful careers in the practical aspects of the cotton trade, covers cotton grading, stapling, determination of cotton properties and cotton trade procedure. Most of the student's time will be spent in actual practice and discussion; the rest will be spent in lectures and in visits to the U.S.D.A. Spinning Laboratory on the campus and to other laboratories of interest, such as the Cotton Seed Oil Research Laboratory, also on the campus.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. Monday, June 3, in the large room on the third floor of the Agricultural Engineering Building. Students who report on Sunday before coming to Corpus Christi. The coordinator has a bachelor's and master's degree from the University of Texas. He also has attended Texas A&I College, North Texas State College and the American College at Washington, D. C. He is school superintendent for St. John's Methodist Church.

His hobby is fishing "when I have time." —Corpus Christi Caller

Meat Animal Project Aids 4-H Members

More than 22,000 Texas 4-H boys and girls are expected to enroll in the Meat Animal program this year to learn the better way to handle farm animals, according to the Extension Service of Texas A&M College. They will learn the safe methods in caring for cattle, hogs, sheep, and the economic factors involved as well. Firsthand information concerning breeding, feeding and marketing is passed along to the 4-H'ers by their local leaders and County Extension agent. Members practice demonstration techniques and are taught how to show their animals at fairs and other events. Many of the youthful cattle raisers also become expert judges.

Superior achievement in this project is handsomely rewarded. For the 28th consecutive year, Thos. E. Wilson of Chicago is providing the county, state and national awards. Six national champions selected this year will receive $400 college scholarships. The state winner will be presented with a 19-jewel wrist watch, while county winners merit medals of honor.

The 1956 state winner was Ray Schneider of Seguin, Guadalupe County. Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 are eligible for enrollment. Complete information may be obtained from the State or County Extension office.

Report On Water Level Of Irrigation Wells Available

In most sections of Texas farmers right now are more concerned about excessive moisture than about the need for irrigation. But, says Extension Agricultural Engineer R. V. Thurmond, conditions can change in a hurry and supplemental irrigation may be needed before the summer is out.

It is a good idea, points out the irrigation engineer, for farmers to keep abreast of what is happening to the state's underground water supplies. One of the principal sources for this information is the Texas Board of Water Engineers with headquarters in Austin. Thurmond says the Board has just released valuable information on the water levels in observation wells in 20 counties in the Southern High Plains area of Texas.

The information is presented on base maps for each county. The observation wells all carry a number which is shown at its approximate location on the county map. Thus, a farmer can quickly locate his farm and at a glance see what has happened to the water level for his immediate area the past two years.

The studies are made in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey and cover observation wells in all sections of the state. The water level decline maps for the 20 Southern High Plains counties are carried in Bulletin 5705, and it may be obtained by writing to the Texas Board of Water Engineers, Austin, Texas.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out With Brand New Idea To Solve The Surplus Problem Via Style Route

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has a new idea for the farm surplus problem, but outside of saying it's new, that's about all you can say for it.

J. A.

Dear editor: Now that the Soil Bank has about gone busted, at least I read in a paper last night that Congress has decided it should close up after this year and be written off as a failure, and now that Sec. Benson has declared that it is virtually impossible to control farm production, and now that the drought is over in many sections of the country and a bumper crop is in prospect, the problem of a farm surplus once more is coming to the front and the door is now open for new ideas on its solution.

According to Mr. Benson, a "technological explosion" has taken place on the farm due to machinery, and the production per farm worker has doubled in the last 15 years, which makes the problem of surpluses worse than ever.

Now while it may be true production per worker has doubled in the last 15 years on the average, I'd like to point out in passing that this is no average farm out here, and if my production is any better now than it was 15 years ago, I can't tell it.

But as for the solution to the farm surplus problem, I hate to see Mr. Benson give up, and would like to offer an idea.

The trouble with us farmers is, we aren't style conscious. How far would the car manufacturers get if they brought out the same model cars year after year? The inside of the engine doesn't have to be any different, it still uses gas, oil and water, but if the windshield and the back fenders and the height of the top weren't changed from year to year, nobody would feel self-conscious about driving a car 10 years old, and how many new cars would get sold?

But what does a farmer do? He goes right on raising the same style wheat or rice or corn or cotton or potatoes or beans he's been raising for generations. A bushel of wheat today looks exactly like a bushel of wheat when Pharaoh farmed the Nile and rested in the shade of a pyramid. A man with a warehouse full of 1952 cotton has the same style cotton the cotton farmers will flood the market with this year.

Farmers just haven't caught on to the fact people are style-conscious. Why some people are so style-conscious if the plumbers were smart they could get them to change bathtubs every year if they had bathtub style shows like automobile shows and could attach a swept-back fender to the things. They could get people where they wouldn't be caught using a last-year's sink.

The agricultural experts ought to get to work on this idea. The only way to get rid of the surplus is to make last year's carry-over as out-of-date as a car that's tall enough for a man to get into without knocking his hat off.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Savings Bonds Sales Pushed For This Month

DALLAS—May will be Minute Man month throughout the nation in honor of the volunteer workers in the U. S. Savings Bond program since 1941. In announcing this the state chairman and co-chairman, of the U. S. Savings Bonds Committee for Texas, said the month will bring intensified promotion of bond sales through the payroll savings plan "where you work" and the bond-a-month plan "where you bank" as well as school savings, key industrial and farm markets for E and H bonds.

"To purchase Savings Bonds is to invest in the future of America," Mr. Adams said. "But as an even more practical matter, it is to invest in the future security of our loved ones. These bond savings help to strengthen our economy and build our economic defenses against the challenges of tomorrow. When we save for the big things in our lives, as the Treasury encourages us to do, we want to be sure that those important savings of ours are in the safest possible place. Any banker will agree that Savings Bonds, with principle and interest guaranteed by the United States and fully protected against physical loss or destruction, are completely safe and stable. There is nothing better, anywhere. Now, they are "better than ever" . . . paying 3 1/2 per cent when held to maturity of 8 years and 11 months.

"The Minute Men of Lexington and Concord were dispersed by the fire of the redcoats, but they came back to fight from behind the stone walls along the road back to Boston, and with reinforcements of other volunteers turned defeat into victory. During Minute Man month we expect our bond volunteers, reinforced by new recruits, to bring Series E and H bond sales in this state up to a figure that will represent a real victory for thrift and sensible saving.

"There is no safer investment in the world, and no better investment for the average saver than the E and H bonds of the United States Treasury."

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson of Canyon were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Elliott.

Mrs. Tom Martin and grandson, David Earl of Weinert, visited Mr. and Mrs. Dan Latimer in Paducah over the week end.
