Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

We are growing an unusual quality of cabbage here. That's the word passed on to us last week by O. B. Southern of Trautman Bros., who is here to oversee the harvesting and marketing of vegetables in this area. Since this is the first venture of farmers in the cabbage business, it's encouraging to know the quality is good.

Workers started cutting the cabbage last week on Doris Dickerson's place, but the rain Friday night put a stop to operations. Some fields of the crop are ahead of others, and it will probably take several cuttings to harvest the entire crop.

We got the report Tuesday that most of the activity around the vegetable processing sheds was "just piddling around." Seems there's some cabbage and potatoes about ready to harvest if the soil was dry enough.

Not so encouraging was the report of Mr. Southern that the rains of the past weeks have cut the spud crop short. He estimates production in some of the fields has been cut in half.

"I sure wish it would dry up so I could get to work," is the remark we heard t'other day. Well, we learned how to stop the rain. Heard just recently that some scientist, astronomer or something, said there were spots on the sun that were causing the rain. Just climb up there and wash the spots off, and the rains are over. It's as easy as that!

This job of moving ain't no picnic, and you may take the word of Mrs. J. H. McNabb for that. Skinny didn't have time to comment, as he was too busy with remodeling details of the store. Anyway, the McNabbs are residents of Munday, now, having moved their household goods down from Quanah last Saturday. They are occupying the C. C. Harpham residence which was vacated last week by the Bill Quattlebaums.

A number of persons reportedly got gyped last year in having their pecan trees sprayed against case bearer. Mrs. W. P. Farrington has contacted Mr. Charles E. Swinson of Haskell, who was recommended to her, to spray the trees in Munday on Monday of next week. Those interested in having their trees sprayed should leave their names with E. W. Harrell at the city secretary's office.

One of the most interesting events we've attended lately was the kindergarten graduation last Thursday night. Those little boys and girls won't be any prouder of their program or of their diplomas when they receive their college degrees!

The fellow with the biggest job in town, we believe, is L. H. Shropshire, who has undertaken the task of converting the old oil mill property into the home for Agricultural Chemicals, Inc. While doing this, he is also operating and supplying some of his company's products to farmers of this area. He has made a big showing in clearing out the old oil mill building, which is getting almost down to a hull, now, but Shrop says it will take two years to get things like he wants them. Shrop doesn't have to look around for work to do. Only worry he has is what to do next.

Now is the time to start doing something about those mosquitoes. It looks like we'll have a good crop this year.

To Spray Pecan Trees In Munday

Word was received here Tuesday that Mr. Charles S. Swinson of Haskell will be here Monday, June 3, for the purpose of spraying pecan trees within the town for protection against case bearers. The spray will also contain fertilizer and other things to insure a healthy tree growth and pecan crop.

Those desiring to have this work done should call E. W. Harrell at the city secretary's office so an itinerary for Mr. Swinson can be arranged.

Oil Activities

E. L. Wilson of Dallas No. 1 M. F. Whitten is a 2500-foot rotary wildcat two miles north of Knox City.

Staked recently in the Voss (Tannehill) Field two miles west of Munday was Darnell Oil Co., Inc., of Lubbock No. 2 Dickerson as a 2050-foot rotary project. This was reported a dry hole the latter part of last week.

Nebitt and Null of Wichita Falls have spotted No. 1 F. W. Franklin as a 2000-foot rotary project in the Goree Field, one mile south of Goree.

Another location for a new wildcat six miles north of Goree is Perking-Prothro Co. of Wichita Falls No. 1 O. P. McCullough. Proposed depth of the rotary project is 2000 feet.

Three new projects were staked in the Goree Field, two of them by Consolidated Gas and Equipment Co. of America operating from Plainview. They are No. 1 W. L. Thornton, a 1900-foot rotary project three miles north-east of Goree, and No. 2 Thornton in the same area.

S. L. & S. Drilling Co. of Goree No. 1-A McLennon was staked as an 1800-foot project within the city limits of Goree.

Staked in the Voss (Tannehill) Field three miles north of Munday was Union Oil Co. of California No. 1-79 C. G. Yost, slated for 2100 feet with rotary.

28 Attend School On Soil And Fertilizer

Twenty eight farmers and associated business men enrolled in the five-day short course Monday night, under the instruction of J. F. Mills, professor of Soils from Texas A. & M. College. Among those enrolled are Herbert Partridge, Gaylon Scott, B. B. Bowden, Ira Bowden, John Spann, Robert Vadney, L. D. Offutt, Welton Leflar, Gene Thompson, Leroy Leflar, M. L. Wiggins, J. D. Gillespie, J. E. Hunter, B. E. Smith, Edward Smith, James Everett, Gilbert Jones, Ted Russell, Edwin Fly and Clyde Yost. Crownover, M. H. Brumley, Aubra L. Smith, Chalmer Hobert, W. H. Smith, William Browning, Doris Dickerson, J. B. Reneau, John Meetings were held each night at the High School Library in Munday. During his stay here, Mr. Mills visited as many farms in this area as time would permit in order to better fit the course to the needs of farmers in this area.

Mr. Mills has made an excellent presentation of a subject that is as complex as it is important, and the information he has left will be of great benefit in planning future farm operations over the county.

Two Local Men To Get Degrees

DENTON—Donald Eugene Reynolds and Bobby Winchester of Munday are among 550 seniors who have applied for bachelor's degrees at North Texas State College this semester.

Baccalaureate services have been scheduled at 11 a.m. Sunday, June 2, in the main auditorium. The Rev. Carlyle Marney, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Austin, will give the baccalaureate sermon. Commencement exercises will be held in Fouts Field at 7:30 that night.

Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reynolds, is a candidate for the bachelor of arts degree in history. He is a member of Young Democrats and Phi Alpha Theta, national honor society in history.

Winchester, a candidate for the bachelor of science degree in secondary education, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tolbie Winchester.

Margaret Yandell Wins Annual C. of C. Scholarship; Second Girl To Win

Miss Margaret Yandell, graduating senior, won the annual Chamber of Commerce $100 scholarship award at the graduation exercises last Friday night, thus becoming the second girl to get this award since it was started in 1947.

The award was presented by M. L. Wiggins, C. of C. president, and it came as a complete surprise to Miss Yandell. It is presented each year to the graduating student who has been outstanding in academic and athletic achievements during the senior year.

The recipient was third high in scholastic standing among the graduating class, was outstanding in basketball during high school and was captain of her team for three years, and was all-district performer for three years.

Her activities were not confined to basketball and studies. She has been elected most outstanding girl in Munday High School for two years, and the most popular one year. She also served as assistant editor of the annual, editor of the school paper, and head cheer leader during high school. She plans to use the scholarship to attend McMurry College next year.

Munday Receives First Load Wheat

With a few days of drying weather, farmers of this area started their 1957 wheat harvest, and the first load of 1957 wheat was trucked into Munday last Tuesday.

The first load to reach the elevators was brought in by Nolan Phillips, and was cut on the 150 acres which Nolan rents from his father. It was grown 2½ miles north of Munday.

The wheat was cut by Clifford Rhoads, local combine operator, and was brought to the J. B. Graham Grain Co. elevator, where it tested with 15 per cent moisture content. The elevator is operated by Arthur Smith, Jr.

Following closely with the second load to reach Munday was that grown by H. P. Decker of the Rhineland community, whose farm is about six miles north of town. Decker brought his wheat to the Graham Mill and Elevator co., which is operated again this year by Don Boyles. This load tested 14.5 per cent moisture.

The third load was received by Farmers Elevator, M. H. Reeves, operator, also on Tuesday. It was grown by Edward Burns and tested No. 1, 62 pounds, with 13.90 per cent moisture. The field was making an average of around 35 bushels per acre.

The Burns wheat was cut by Clifford Cluck, combine operator. If warm days and sunshine continues, the wheat harvest is expected to get into full swing in Knox County by the latter part of this week. Much of the grain will be ready to cut by the time the soil dries enough so equipment can be operated.

At the Royal Gorge, they crossed the world's highest bridge (1100 feet above the roaring Arkansas river), rode the world's steepest incline railway (100 per cent grade), and viewed some of Colorado's most magnificent scenery.

Sponsors on the tour were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Simpson, and Mr. Wesley Kinman.

Students were Gaylon Chamberland, Joe Peterson, Noel Neighbors, Clifford Bradley, David Moore, Ken Searley, Samye Bates, Glenda Thornton, Nell Beecher, Calbert Haskins, Ruthann Beatty, Jimmie Routon, Frank Bates, Gaylia Mobley, and Martha Rodgers.

Contract Let On Brazos Bridge

Tri-State Construction & Equipment Co. of Borger was low bidder on construction of the new Brazos River bridge at Rhineland last Tuesday at a hearing of the State Highway Department, at which time road work bids totaling $11,752,320 for Texas were let.

The bid on the Rhineland bridge was $167,987.

H. T. Cunningham, local resident engineer, stated a representative of the company was through here on Tuesday and indicated construction on the project would begin in the next ten days. It is expected to be completed within six months.

Approaches to the bridge, which will be located east of the present one, will be straightened out, thus eliminating the dangerous curves. This completes bridge construction in the county, with the exception of one north of Truscott, Cunningham said.

LOOK AROUND YOUR HOME

What has happened to the value of your home and its contents in the dozen years since World War II ended? It's a safe bet you couldn't immediately answer that question with any degree of accuracy, and an equally safe bet that if you make a thorough-going job of listing the changes and additions, you'll be in for a considerable surprise.

It is very likely that you have made major improvements to the house itself — ranging from storm windows to a larger garage or a game room in the basement.

It is a certainty that your possessions have grown like flowers in the spring, with new rugs, clothes, labor-saving appliances, TV sets and hi-fi phonographs, kitchen ware, do-it-yourself equipment, musical instruments and so on ad infinitum.

Finally, you've probably made important improvements to your grounds.

All of these things cost money. They now cost a great deal more than they used to — about double the figures obtaining when the last world war ended. This brings up the big question: Has your fire insurance coverage been adjusted to take care of both your increasing list of possessions, and of the price rises that have taken place?

Few people can answer that with an honest Yes. The great majority of us are underinsured — and if fire or some other disaster strikes we will suffer a heavy out-of-pocket loss. The remedy is to see your local insurance agent, total up your values, and bring your coverage in line.

MORAVIA, N. Y., REPUBLICAN-REGISTER: "Now the next move I am going to push for is that the recommendations of the Second Hoover Commission be put into effect. Its study showed how the government could save about 7 billion dollars a year. That would be a neat reduction in the national debt. Come on boys, get moving!"

RAYNE, A. ACADIAN-TRIBUNE: ". . . we believe high farm land prices reflect confidence on the part of most Americans in the future of agriculture. There is widespread and justifiable confidence in the future of agriculture as one of the most rapidly developing industries and as the most essential of all industries."

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

A TRAINLOAD OF COMBINES

A Wyoming newspaper recently ran an unusual picture on the front page. It showed a great freight train, 96 flatcars long, which had but one item of freight aboard . . . agricultural combines. There were 288 of them in all, and the shipment had originated at a farm equipment factory in Illinois and was enroute to an Oregon destination.

This is symbolic of modern farming. Efficient, economical farm equipment is essential to success. The tractor, so to speak, has revolutionized agriculture. It is a means of obtaining greater production at far lesser cost in money and human effort. And, equally important, it is the tool which makes possible the type of conservation practices that will save and improve our farm lands for the future.

Farm equipment is a better buy today than in the past. The machines, like practically everything else we use, cost more in terms of dollars. Soaring wages and material prices made that inevitable. But it is a fact that proportionate increases in the selling price of the machines have been generally less than increases in the prices the farmer gets for his crops. In other words, a given amount of crops will buy more machinery.

Then the machines are better. They are capable of more work. They have a longer life. That in itself is a form of price reduction.

YOUR NEIGHBOR CAN'T BAT FOR YOU

Some diseases, once an effective vaccine has been found, are easy to conquer. Take smallpox, for instance. If a large part of the country's population is vaccinated, the "chain of infection" is broken and the virus fades out. The same is true for diphtheria.

But polio vaccination works differently. It sets up antibodies in the bloodstream that prevent the polio virus from attacking and destroying the nerve centers. A person thus protected against paralysis, however, can still harbor the polio virus in his system and can still transmit it to some one else — his family, his neighbors, the public with whom he works. Everybody, in short, regardless of vaccination, is a potential "carrier."

That's what Dr. Jonas Salk meant when he warned: "Your neighbor's vaccination won't protect you." If you want protection against paralytic polio, you must get it yourself. Even if every other person in your town were vaccinated and you were not, you would still be in the category designated as "susceptible to paralytic polio."

THE CONSUMER IS BOSS

A constant change is under way in modern agricultural marketing.

For example, the retailer has lost the important role he once played in marketing farm products. Today's consumer no longer buys merely what the retailer offers.

The merchandise itself is the salesman.

In other words, the boss of agricultural marketing today is the consumer.

The Texas Department of Agriculture is proud of the role it plays in marketing — the work it does on the consumer level. Inspections, grading of commodities, testing of weights and measures, are but a few of the services TDA renders for consumer benefit.

Marketing changes in recent years — caused by "Boss" consumer — have created greater competition among producers and their products. And this competition for the consumer's dollar has improved efficiencies and cut costs.

Farmers have many responsibilities. In this "super market" era of commodity promotion. They must be constantly alert to the demands of "Boss" consumer. To meet the growing competition, they must produce better products at lower production costs.

The Texas Department of Agriculture — like the farmer — has gone through a transition period marked by a changed agriculture.

Its operations are now geared to keeping open the channels of trade within and without the state. It has become chiefly and agricultural law enforcing agency with primarily administrative and regulatory duties. And its work concentrates heavily on the consumer, through the TDA Marketing Division.

As the agricultural marketing picture continues to change, TDA must likewise assume different roles to meet the challenge.

After all, we must either move forward or backward.

MODERN HOMEMAKING Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

If yours is a typical household, salted peanuts are probably served as a snack with beverages, and peanut butter is kept on hand to go into sandwiches for school lunches and to spread on crackers for between-meal nibblers. Very good uses, true, but don't limit peanuts to these, for they go so well in many recipes.

For a change from salted peanuts try peanut butter popcorn served with beverages. Combine and heat over a low gas flame, stirring constantly until thoroughly blended, one-half cup melted butter or margarine and two tablespoons peanut butter. Pour mixture over eight cups freshly popped corn and toss lightly until well mixed.

Especially good to serve with a fruit salad plate are peanut butter sticks. Remove crusts from whole wheat bread slices. Spread the slices with peanut butter, then cut each slice into four strips. Broil the strips three inches from a full gas flame until they are piping hot. Serve at once.

In cookie recipes calling for chopped nuts, use chopped salted peanuts to vary flavor. The peanut flavor is extra good in chocolate cookies.

With bowls of steaming tomato soup, peanut butter and bacon sandwiches make a fine luncheon or supper menu. Add fresh fruit and cookies or fruit-topped ice cream for dessert. To make the sandwiches, spread thin crisp toast with peanut butter, top with crisp bacon slices and a second slice of toast. That's all there is to it, but make plenty, for believe it or not, men really go for these.

A nine-inch white, spice or chocolate cake takes well to peanut butter broiled icing and it is ready for the eating in a matter of minutes. Combine one-half cup brown sugar, three tablespoons soft butter or margarine, three tablespoons milk, three tablespoons peanut butter and three-fourths cup chopped salted peanuts. Spread the mixture on a cooled cake. Broil three inches from medium gas flame until icing is bubbly and lightly browned. Leave out the chopped peanuts if you prefer.

This discussion of peanuts and peanut butter recipes wouldn't be complete without a peanut brittle. So, the Recipe-Of-The-Week is for peanut brittle. All though it takes a little longer cooking time than most peanut brittles, the results are well worth the extra time.

Recipe Of The Week
PEANUT BRITTLE: Combine in a large saucepan (4 to 6 quart), three and one-fourth cups sugar, one cup light corn syrup and two cups water. Cook over a medium gas flame until sugar dissolves. Continue cooking without stirring until mixture begins to thicken slightly (200 degrees F.). Add one-fourth butter or margarine and one pound raw peanuts. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until a small amount of syrup dropped into cold water becomes brittle (290 degrees F.). Remove from flame. Combine one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt and one tablespoon cold water, mixing until the soda is dissolved. Quickly stir this mixture into cooked mixture. Immediately pour into well-greased 12 by 18-inch jelly roll pan. When cool, break into pieces.

BUILDING YOUR HOME

When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details.

1. Your lot: Junior's school or church may be nearby, but find out . . .

(a) Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvements for which you can be assessed.

(b) What "covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford to?

(c) Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings, for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in a residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Codes: Be certain that the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4. Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some of your money back on the principal; but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in reselling the house.

Well worked-out contracts can help make your dream house come true. A construction contract or a so-called "earnest money" agreement or receipt is no job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved. Your lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and closing real estate deals.

You know what you want. You should be careful to get what you want through careful planning and a properly prepared and executed contract.

John Wesley Hardin is supposed to have killed more men than any other gun-fighter in the history of Texas — 40, say some chroniclers.

Without a doubt, he was the most adroit of all when it came to handling a pistol. When he had been arrested and was being escorted, overland, by Rangers to stand trial, while in camp, one of the officers would hand him a pistol — unloaded, of course — and these men, who knew a thing or two about handling a gun themselves, watched with admiration to his quickness and skill.

Some credit Hardin with originating the maneuver known as the "border roll." In any case, he was a master of this maneuver, which consisted of offering a pistol, barrel first, with a finger in the trigger-guard, then — with a twirl — the pistol was pointed squarely at the other. Hardin used this trick to keep Marshal Wild Bill Hickok from disarming him in a Kansas cattle-drive town.

At the end of the trip under the Ranger's guard, Wes was tried and sentenced for the killing of a deputy sheriff. He served a long term.

During his outlaw days, Hardin demonstrated daring and fast thinking. For example: he and a companion were being pursued by a posse. As the two men dashed over a hill, here came another posse toward them! What was to be done?

The two posses, of course, could not see each other. Hardin and his friend wheeled their horses and yelling and shooting, they rode into the first set of pursuers. This totally unexpected development naturally created confusion. And next moment, here came the other posse. The two parties of horsemen became almost hopeless entangled and, in the mixup, the two outlaws got away.

While in prison, Hardin studied law and, after he was freed went to El Paso ostensibly to practice law, but perhaps with the plan in mind of resuming a career based on his skill with a gun. That town had more gun-fighters than any other in the country at that time. They were not daunted by Hardin's reputation. Each was anxious to be pointed out as the man who had killed John Wesley Hardin.

The years in prison had taken their toll. Hardin was no longer young and dashing. He was a name, a shell.

Even so, he was shot from behind as he was rolling dice at a bar. The man who killed him got killed soon afterward — and that man in turn was killed. Being a pistoleer in the old days was not a healthy career.

Valera Albus Becomes Bride Of Robert Hertel In Rhineland Rites Tuesday

In an impressive double-ring ceremony conducted Tuesday afternoon, May 28, in St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Rhineland, Miss Valera Albus became the bride of Robert Hertel. Rev. Father John Walbe, pastor, was the officiant for the four o'clock marriage and also the celebrant of the nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Albus, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hertel, both of the Rhineland community.

Vows were exchanged before an altar adorned with arrangements of pink and white gladioli and stock and flanked by burning candelabra. A lace-covered prie-dieu, on which the couple knelt, completed the setting.

Nuptial music was provided by St. Joseph's Choir, accompanied by Sister Mary Christopher.

Presented by her father, the bride wore an original model gown of white imported French lace and pleated tulle, over net and taffeta, designed with sabrina neckline outlined with scalloped lace and embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The fitted bodice had long sleeves, ending in points over the hands. The skirt was fully shirred and made of alternating ruffle tiers of scalloped lace and pleated petals outlined with seed pearls and sequins to match her dress. She carried a bouquet of stephanates, showered with satin streamers and centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Albus attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of pink nylon chiffon over net and taffeta, designed with a shirred bodice, fashioned with a cowl neckline and bouffant skirt, accented with floating panels in back. A matching headpiece and a bouquet of pink asters completed her attire.

Bridesmaids were Misses Henrietta Hertel, Melanie Verhalen, cousins of the groom; Marilyn Albus, cousin of the bride, and Juanita Decker. They were dressed in aqua and orchid chiffon gowns made identical to that of the honor maid, and carried bouquets of shaded asters.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rayburn and daughters were Mr. and Mrs. James Rayburn of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Rayburn of Whitesboro.

Cecil Kuehler was best man, and groomsmen were Maynard Moore, Collis Michels, Gerard Kuehler and James Duke.

Miss Gail Morek, niece of the groom was flower girl, and Richard Albus, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Charles Kotulek and Urb Bellinghausen served as ushers.

Acolytes were Dwight and David Albus, Urb Bellinghausen, Jr., and Lyndon Moore.

The reception was held in the Parish Hall following the ceremony. The table was covered with a lace cloth over pink satin. Fern and sweet pears formed a ring around the three-tiered wedding cake. Miss Linda Carol Kuehler registered the guests.

The former Miss Albus is a graduate of Rhineland High School, attended Draughon's Business College and was until recently employed in the Knox County Abstract office at Benjamin. Mr. Hertel graduated from Munday High School, and is at present engaged in farming west of Rhineland, where the couple will make their home after a honeymoon trip to Mexico.

Menard Rancher Receives $5,000 Award For Advancement Of Texas Rural Life

RENNER—John L. Royal, 53, Menard County ranchman, has been selected at the 1957 recipient of the $5,000 Hoblitzelle Award for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life in recognition of his notable achievements in the practice and promotion of soil and water conservation.

"Mr. Royal has established and outstanding program of range improvement on his own ranch. He has furnished outstanding leadership locally and on a statewide basis in promoting conservation. And he has been influential in effecting harmony among the major farm and ranch organizations in their task of supplying the legislature with essential information on the state's water problem," Dr. C. L. Lundell, Director of Texas Research Foundation, said.

Mr. Royal received the Award, together with a gold medal recently at the Foundation's Annual Field Day and Awards Dinner at Renner. Established by the Hoblitzelle Foundation in 1950, the Award is administered and presented biennially by Texas Research Foundation.

As owner-operator of ten sections of land near Menard, Mr. Royal is a conservation ranchman who has won wide acclaim for his program of improving ranges through deferred and rotational grazing.

Mr. Royal's own range management practices have enabled him to market fat, heavy calves and lambs consistently during the long years of the drought, and to market pasture grass as a profitable cash crop.

During the drought, he has maintained his basic grasses and breeding stock, improve the physical facilities of his ranch, maintained a high credit rating, and extended his services to civic and farm organizations of his county and his state.

He decided at the beginning of the drought that grass was his basic resource and that he must make his ranching operations highly flexible. He worked continuously at improving his grass cover.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal have ranched at Menard since 1937. They have increased their original three sections of land to ten sections. They have two children: Lucille, 18, and Bill, 16, in whom they are instilling a love of the land.

The Hoblitzelle Award for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life is based on work done during the four years preceding presenta-

New Bulletin Of Greenbugs, Other Pests Available

Greenbugs have threatened American small grain crops for three-quarters of a century. Since 1882, these unusual pests have caused periodic crop failures all over the nation.

Greenbugs are generally very abundant in winter and spring, long before most other pests appear. They are a small aphid, nearly the color of leaves. Sometimes greenbugs are undetected until yellow or brown spots appear in infested fields. Male greenbugs have not been observed under Texas conditions.

Information in a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station bulletin gives data on biology, distinguishing characteristics and control of greenbugs. Mites and false wireworms are also discussed. The work reported in the bulletin was done cooperatively by the Texas Station, Texas Technological College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Insecticides currently offer best greenbug control and parathion or methyl parathion appears to be the most profitable. Best test results were obtained on days with temperatures of at least 50 degrees F. and with winds of less than 10 miles an hour. In irrigated wheat, treatments made as soon as possible after water application insured better kill.

Research at Denton and Amarillo indicate promising future control methods in the form of resistant small grain varieties.

Greenbugs are preyed upon by a number of insect enemies such as lady beetles, nabids, lacewing flies and syrphid flies. They also are parasitized by a tiny wasp. Long periods of cool weather permit greenbugs to increase rapidly due to a relatively low temperature tolerance. Color as well as black-and-white illustrations supplement descriptive passages in the bulletin. Copies of B-845, Greenbugs, are available from the Agricultural Information Office at College Station, Texas.

Mr. Royal was chosen to receive the Award from nominations representative of every geographical section of Texas. Members of the State Awards Committee making the selection were: Dr. E. N. Jones of Lubbock, Mr. Clinton Harbers of West Point, Mr. J. C. Porter of Wichita Falls, Mr. Louis P. Merrill of Midlothian, and Mr. Sleet Wright, Jr. of Nacogdoches.

TEXAS COWBOY REUNION SET FOR ANNUAL SHOWS

A giant parade at 11 a.m. on July 2 will open the 27th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford with a matinee performance in the afternoon. Night performances will be held on July 2, 3 and 4th with hundreds of cowboys and cowgirls who will participate in the parade and rodeo events.

Directors and chairmen of the annual affair are predicting this year will be one of the best shows ever, according to Mr. W. G. Swenson who has been the president ever since the beginning in 1930. Over 500 contestants entered last year's shows.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rayburn and daughters of Albuquerque, N. M., are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rayburn and daughters.

Mrs. W. C. Hertel and Mrs. H. F. Jungman were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Michael and J. C. Harpham of Munday and Rev. and Mrs. Walter Hadley and Barton R. Carl of Goree are attending the annual Methodist Conference in Amarillo as representatives of the Munday and Goree churches.

Mrs. R. L. Ratliff left last Tuesday for Dallas to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Ratliff and to attend the graduation exercises of her grandson, Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes left Thursday morning for Amarillo to attend remaining sessions of the Methodist Conference.

Aerial application of chemicals for brush control have proved to be both effective and economical. Extension Range Specialist A. H. Walker, reports that farmers or ranchmen should not expect miracles from chemical control, but if the job is properly done, dividends will be good. To insure success, Walker advises that the right chemical must be used at the right time; qualified flying personnel should be hired for the flying job and all treated areas should be rested after spraying.

Weekly Health LETTER

Edited by Henry A. Hoar, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Within the next 10 years 100,000 Texans will die of cancer if the present trend continues. That's almost enough people to populate a city the size of Corpus Christi.

Almost 54,000 or those cancer victims will be men, since the disease is now claiming almost 15 per cent more men than women. It wasn't always like that, however. Back in 1940, 7 per cent fewer men succumbed to cancer than did women.

Cancer today is second only to heart disease as a general cause of death for the population as a whole. And when death rates are broken down according to age groups, it is tragically easy to see the wide swath the disease cuts through the cream of Texas youth and young adults.

If you are a girl between 15 and 29 years of age, cancer—chiefly leukemia—is your most relentless disease enemy, killing more of your group than anything else except accidents. Among boys of the same age, cancer—again leukemia—is the third leading cause of death, claiming more lives than anything except accidents and homicides. Accidents are way out in front.

And as young people mature, the picture changes only slightly. From age 30 to 44, cancer still ranks third as a killer of males, but assumes first place as a cause of death among women. It holds this first-place spot for women through age 59, by which time the disease has crept into second place as a cause of male mortality. At age 60, cancer ranks second for both sexes, falling off into third place after age 75.

During the 15-year period from 1940 to 1955, comparative rates of cancer deaths for men and women changed considerably. In 1940 the male rate was 7 per cent less than the female rate, but by 1955 men were leading women by 15 per cent. The greatest variance is shown in the 45-49 age exceeding the female rate by 8 per cent.

Significant disparity between men and women is noticed in mortality rates according to body sites attacked by cancer. For example, in cancer of the stomach, the death rate is almost 90 per cent higher for males than females, and cancer of the larynx kills men 10 times more often than women. On the other hand, women suffer 30 per cent more deaths from cancer of the genitourinary organs than do men.

Cancer of the lung kills six times as many men as women. Eighteen per cent of all cancer among men is cancer of the lung but only five per cent of all cancer in women involve the lung.

The present trend toward increasing mortality from cancer can be lessened only by the people themselves—through periodic medical check-up and proper medical care when cancers are discovered.

"Slow Down And Live" Is Highway Patrol's Slogan For Memorial Day

Captain K. B. Hallmark in charge of the Wichita Falls District of the Texas Highway Patrol says, "Beginning with Memorial Day and continuing through Labor Day there will be a National Safety effort based on the slogan 'Slow Down and Live'." This special effort is slated for this particular time due to the fact that many people will be on our highways during this period of time who do not normally drive much outside of cities and towns. Many people will be trying to cover too many miles in too short a time. The resultant driver fatigue, due to long hours of driving, and the speed to which the driver is unaccustomed will kill many of our citizens.

This slaughter can be avoided by planning on the part of our vacationers. Plan your trip to allow for frequent rest stops and don't try to make too many miles in one day. See that your car is in shape before you leave and then make a point of obeying all traffic laws and traffic signs on your trip. Remember 85 per cent of all accidents in Texas last year involved at least one driver who was in violation of traffic regulations. Driving too fast was by far the highest caustic factor in fatal accidents last year. Slow down and Live.

The Governor of Texas has called on your Texas Highway Patrol to cut down on deaths on our rural highways. He has asked us to step up our enforcement of traffic laws giving special attention to violations causing the accidents. We sincerely hope that none of our drivers will need to be arrested but past experience shows that many of our drivers will get out of bounds and be subject to arrest.

Beginning May 29th and continuing through Labor Day the Patrolman in the Wichita Falls District and throughout the State, are under orders to pay particular attention to the "Hurry" violations. Speeding, Passing in No Pass Zones, Passing without sufficient clearance and similar violations. Try not to get a ticket, but by all means don't get a headstone.

The Highway Patrol will be using radar extensively over the summer vacation period and through out the entire year. This radar will be used as a traffic control device and for the law-abiding driver there is no fear of arrest. For the traffic violator all we can say is be alert. We will be in many places detecting and arresting the "Hurry Bug" in an effort to reduce the rising death toll on our streets and highways. When 2,611 people die needlessly on our streets and highways enforcement of the Traffic Laws cease to be a sporting proposition and your Highway Patrol fully intends to enforce the traffic laws by all available means. Radar will be concealed in many places and if you are unlucky enough to be apprehended by it, remember you have no one to blame but yourself. "Speed is on accident, only the ingredients of one." "Be alert today. Alive Tomorrow."

Civil Defense Gets 37-Millionth Chevrolet

The nation's civil defense program was spotlighted as Chevrolet Motor Division marked production of its 37-millionth vehicle. The milestone unit, a four-wheel drive Chevrolet truck, was turned over to the Federal Civil Defense Administration recently at the company's Willow Run, Mich., truck assembly plant. E. N. Cole, left, Chevrolet general manager, and Vaj Peterson, FCDA national administrator, examine the truck with a rescue kit near the 37-millionth vehicle.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Offers President Eisenhower A Little Bit Of Advice On His Farming Operations

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has some advice for a well known farmer this week.

Dear editor:
I know that President Eisenhower, with the budget on his hands and the fate of the world hanging on the size of it, has no time to be worrying about farm problems, but a little matter has come to my attention which he ought to know about in advance.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, the manager of Ike's farm at Gettysburg said the farm isn't making any money right now because they aren't selling any of the cattle they're raising. They're keeping the calves to build up and improve the herd.

Well, now, I'll tell you. I guess all herds ought to be improved, probably the same thing goes for human beings too if anybody can figure out how to do it, but just in case Ike is interested in the benefit of somebody else's experience, I'd like to point out to him it's possible to sell cattle and still not make any money on a farm.

I mean, just because he's not selling any calves off that Gettysburg farm, doesn't mean that's all that's keeping him from making a profit on it. I don't know anything about the financial details of the place, I have enough trouble keeping up with the financial details of this place out here on the creek, but I can tell Ike and his farm manager too that there have been years when I sold calves and lost money just the same.

That is, there's more to making money in the cattle business than just getting some calves ready for the auction ring, and it's possible to work all year with a bunch of cows, pouring feed to them in the winter, fighting bloat in the spring, doctoring them through the summer, and getting their calves safely born and up to market stage, only to find out when you get your check you ain't any better off financially than you were when you started. This county who are richer in experience than cash.

I'm not saying Ike's farm wouldn't make any money if he sold his increase, I'm just saying that if he has any time left in between fighting for his budget and modernizing the Republicans and dodging the Democrats, he ought to prepare himself and consider the possibility his farm may not show a profit, even after he sells some calves. It wouldn't be the first time for something like that to happen to a cattlemaster. Yours faithfully, J. A.

News From The U. S. Congress

The first appropriation bill in the 1958 Budget to reach the President was finally passed by both the House and the Senate, and it is important to note the kind of cuts that were made. The Senate's action on the State and Justice Departments' appropriation bill is even more significant for in the Senate the funds were reduced further than the House had reduced them. The President had requested $665,649,802 to operate these two Departments for the next year, and action of the two Houses of Congress cut it to $563,085,293 which amounts to a reduction of slightly more than 15 per cent. The bill is now in the Conference Committee in an effort to iron out the differences between the House and the Senate Bills. The important thing is that a pattern of reduction in the Budget has been set, and in all probability will be fairly closely followed in the appropriation bills yet to be acted upon.

The troubles of the Treasury Department grew as Secretary Humphrey attempted earlier this month to re-finance some 4.2 Billion Dollars in U. S. Government bonds which became due this month. It had been assumed that the recent increase in interest yields would be sufficient to lure reluctant investors to quickly buy up the new issue. Such was not the case, however, and distressed Treasury Officials face what now seems to be an extremely difficult task of re-financing Government issues as they come due. As we all know, interest rates for the last several years have been creeping upward. This increase has resulted in an additional expense for servicing the National debt of about $931,000,000 annually. This extra cost in interest on the public debt is about enough to pay for this year's big highway building program, or to put it another way, it could finance the Defense Department's entire research and development program or build 620 new jet fighter planes or buy three fully equipped aircraft carriers of the largest class.

The Chancellor of Germany, Konrad Adenauer, is visiting in this country. He is truly a remarkable man. Under his leadership, West Germany has risen from the terrible destruction of World War II to become the most prosperous country in Western Europe and by far the strongest economically. He has been strong in his opposition to the Communists. It is also refreshing to know that on his visit here he does not seek American Dollars but only asks us to help him bring about German unity and to back him up in his strong anti Red stand.

Visitors from home this week were Mrs. Leoti Deaton; Mr. and Mrs. Hal Dyer; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shirik; and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rogers, all of Wichita Falls.
