B. H. S. JUNIORS HONOR SENIORS WITH BANQUET

The Juniors honored the Senior Class of Baird High School with a very colorful banquet on Saturday night, May 7, in the basement of the Methodist church.

The theme of the affair was a patriotic one and the national colors and the Texas colors were used in the beautiful decorations. Bluebonnets, red roses and blue gentians were used for the flower decorations while streamers of red, white and blue crepe paper were used to decorate the columns and walls. The lovely evening dresses of the girls and the boy's neat attire made this a very charming scene.

The Seniors and faculty were ushered in by girls dressed in bluebonnets and blue aprons, and when all were assembled the group joined in singing "Texas, My Texas."

The invocation was pronounced by Mr. Jamison, Junior Class sponsor, and all sat down to the delicious banquet.

A three course banquet was served, fruit jello, salad, chicken, potatoes, dressing, hot rolls, ice cream, angel food cake and iced tea.

The Texas theme was carried out in the place cards, which were hand painted bluebonnet place cards, small bluebonnets made out of crepe paper, and Texas flag stick-ups in the ice cream. Small seniors, doll dressed in the black cap and gowns of senior day were at each Senior's place.

Beatrice Hickman presided as Toastmistress after making a very clever introduction of each speaker, the following program was given:

Greetings—Beatrice Hickman.
Response—Inez Hunter.
Phrophecy—Lola Mary Singleton.
"Enthusiasm Essential to Success"—
Talk by Mr. Boren
Songs—Mrs. H. H. Shaw.
"On The Road to Mandalay"—
Reading by Miss Pressley
Class Will—Alton Hornsby.
Address—Mr. T. E. Hayden, Abilene.

After words of eulogy and humor from the different members of the faculty, all departed pronouncing this occasion one of the most enjoyable events of the year.

Special thanks are due to the following: Mothers of the Juniors, Home Economics Girls, and Miss Rice, and all those who helped to make this the delightful occasion it was.

The New Ford V-8 Now On Display At The Joyce-Crossley Motor Co.

The new Ford V-8 is now on display in the showroom of the Joyce-Crossley Motor Co., the new car having arrived yesterday evening and Mr. Joyce the manager, extends a cordial invitation to all to visit their show room and inspect the new car, which is a revolutionary automobile.

The Ford Motor Co., has been working on this car for many months and from the outset it has not been the purpose of the company to bring out just an improved model, but to design an entirely new car that would bring the advantages of the high priced automobile into the low-priced field. It has been the aim to do this without the disadvantage of bulk and weight which results in high operating costs although this new Ford has a roomy body, 8 cylinder, 65 horsepower engine, synchronized gear shifting, silent second, strong double-drop frame and improved riding qualities it still weighs only about one hundred pounds more than the former model A. This new Ford represents a new standard value in the automobile industry; it is a new car to meet the economic conditions which now exist.

Every desirable feature of convenience and comfort has been built into this new Ford, which retains the basic principles that have characterized Ford practice in the building of over twenty million cars.

C. L. Gunn, Confederate Soldier, Answers Last Call

C. L. Gunn, died at his home, Monday morning, May 9th following an illness of ten days with pneumonia.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Joe R. Mayes.

Six grandsons of the deceased were named as pallbearers: Arvin Melton, Bill Melton, Zolon Melton, Donald Melton, John Virgil Boatwright, all of Baird and Clarence Boatwright of Pampa.

At the close of the services at the church, Baird Lodge No. 271, I. O. O. F. of which order Mr. Gunn had long been an honored member, took charge of the services and conveyed the remains to Ross cemetery where interment was made with the beautiful burial services of the order, his resting place being beside his wife, who preceded him in death some years ago.

Clarence L. Gunn was born in Salisbury, Charlton county, Missouri, Apr. 23, 1847. He was the eldest of a family of nine children, six sons and three daughters and is survived by three brothers and two sisters, viz: Noble Gunn of Turpin, Okla.; Joseph Gunn of Huntsville, Mo.; and Ben Gunn of Colorado; Mrs. V. F. Boor of Kansas City, Mo.; and Mrs. Rebecca Scroggins of Dodge City, Kansas.

Mr. Gunn enlisted in the Confederate army while in his teens and served until the close of the war, serving in Mattocks Co. B, Perkins Battalion, 1st Brigade, Missouri Infantry, and received his discharge at Alexander, La., on June 7th, 1865.

Soon after the close of the Civil War Mr. Gunn came to Texas and settled at Birdsade, now Temple, in Bell county. He was married there to Miss Josephine Freeman, on Feb. 22, 1877 and this happy union continued for more than fifty years, Mrs. Gunn having died Sept. 30, 1927. Seven children were born to them, the eldest, a son, Thomas Earl, died at one year of age. The children surviving their father are: Mrs. W. H. Boatwright, Mrs. Lenora Boatwright, Mrs. W. E. Melton, Misses Lorena and Myrtle Gunn and Edmund Gunn. He is also survived by ten grand children Misses Viola and Cleora Boatwright, Miss Van Boatwright, John Virgil Boatwright, Arvin, Bill, Zolon and Donald Melton, of Baird; Clarence Boatwright of Pampa; Mrs. Charles Lee Smith of Denton; and two great grand children Frederick Vaughn Boatwright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boatwright and Marilyn Annetta Smith, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Smith.

In November, 1889, Mr. Gunn and family moved to Callahan county, first living for one year at Admiral, then moving to Belle Plaine, where they lived for four years when they moved to Baird, where the family have since made their home.

Mr. Gunn was a good man in the full meaning of the word. He was a true friend and a devoted and loving husband and father and a dependable friend and in his going we have lost another of our valuable citizens, one who was ever interested in the progress of our country and the welfare of his fellowman.

Mr. Gunn was a faithful christian, having been a member of the Christian Church since early young manhood. He was a member of the Oddfellows Lodge and was always faithful to the principles of that order.

Horace Jarrett Residence Burned

The Horace Jarrett residence in North Baird was practically destroyed by fire at five o'clock Tuesday morning. The residence was occupied by T. H. Benninger who was alone in the house, Mrs. Benninger and the baby being in Alvarado visiting.

The fire was discovered by S. E. Settle, county clerk, as he was coming to his office, and he went to the house and after knocking at the door and calling to Mr. Benninges, finally aroused him, but not before the covering on his bed had caught fire from the fire falling from the ceiling.

Some clothing which was in a closet and quite a bit of furniture was saved from the building which was so badly damaged that it will have to be torn down. We understand that Mr. Jarrett carried some insurance on the house, and he will rebuild it. Mr. Benninger also carried some insurance on his furniture.

Texas Memorial Day

The Texas Centennial Committee, through Will H. Mayes, Executive Vice-President, suggests that Memorial Day be observed this year by Texans as a TEXAS Memorial Day, and that all public addresses be centered around the glorious history and achievements of our State.

Memorial Day, May 30th, will fall on Monday, and it is suggested that a TEXAS Memorial Day sermon be preached, in every church in Texas on the preceding Sunday, and that all social and civic clubs of every character holding meetings that week, have TEXAS Memorial addresses delivered.

This is particularly appropriate this year, Mr. Mayes suggests, inasmuch as the public mind in Texas is fixed on a great memorial Centennial celebration on the 100th. Birthday anniversary of Texas in 1936.

Quoting from a San Jacinto address by Ex-Gov. Neff: "A country should never forget its heroic and historic past. A people who do not hold in reverence the resplendent achievements of their ancestry will not of themselves accomplish anything worthy to be remembered by posterity. A citizenship that does not now and then take a backward glance at the landmarks already passed, will not develop sufficient vision to see very far into the future. We must keep an eye on the shrines of yesterday if we would rock aright the cradles of tomorrow."

The Centennial Committee will be glad to mail historical data and material on which such sermons and talks may be based, to those who send requests for same to its office at Austin.

Old Friend Commends T. E. Powell

Gilmer, Texas,
May 5, 1932.

The Bairst Star
Bairst, Texas

Dear Star and Force:

I have learned that my good friend Mr. T. E. Powell is a candidate for County Judge of Callahan County, and I would like to speak a word in his behalf. Although conditions have called me away from Callahan County, yet I am still interested in my old home county and its people. As perhaps, will be remembered by many readers of this paper, I worked for Mr. Powell ten years while he was in the mercantile business, and afterward did business with him while he was in the banking business, also jointly owned with him real estate, both farm and town property. From these business dealings with him I feel that I am as well qualified as any one to speak concerning Mr. Powell's business ability, honesty and fair dealing. During all my acquaintanceship and dealings with him I found him to be upright, honorable and honest in every respect, also a capable and careful business man, both in reference to his own affairs and handling the property of other people.

I do not feel that I could pay too high a complement to Mr. Powell, and recommend him to the people of Callahan County as a man worthy of their confidence and one who is able to handle and will handle the affairs of the county in such a way as to protect the rights and business interest of all the taxpayers.

I also wish to take this opportunity of expressing my regards for your newspaper and for all my old friends in Callahan County.

Yours very truly,

A. A. CALLAHAN

The Star is glad to learn from a private letter that Mrs. Callahan, who has been in ill health for some years is recovering her health, now being able to be up most of the time and go out driving—and we trust that she will soon be entirely well again.

A suicide attempt, shooting himself in the head, resulted in restoration of the hearing of Guy O. Gwyn of Paris Mo.

Happiness

David of old said: This is the day which the Lord hath made—we will rejoice and be glad in it.

Are we happy today? If not—let us count our blessings over one by one and we will soon discover that they far out number our troubles. So today, let us rejoice in the bright sunshine of God's love; and remember the health and strength that He has given us, and be glad.

To-day, let us put out of our minds all thoughts of wars, and crimes and disasters of every kind, and listen to the sweet songs of the birds, and revel in the fragrance of beautiful flowers.

To-day, let us meditate on sweet friendships new and old, and think of home—the dearest spot in all the world, and be thankful. Forgetting the disappointments of yesterday, and the depression of to-day, let us heed the admonition of the good poet who said:—"Build a little fence of trust around today. Fill the space with love and work and therein stay. Look not through the sheltering bars upon tomorrow, God will help us bear what comes of joy or sorrow."—Yae, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be over past: Ps. 57-1.

The Way of Life

by BRUCE BARTON

TOMORROW

It is sometimes my sad misfortune to have to deliver an afterdinner speech.

Few experiences are more distressing.

One sits up at a high table like a specimen at the zoo. One waits with increasing discomfort while the toastmaster works slowly down the line, and tries to look appreciative as the other speakers unfold their solutions of world problems with a sprinkling of stale pests.

Only now and then there is a bit of compensation. The other night, for instance, I found myself beside Strickland Gilliland. He ate sparingly, and when I remarked on it, he said: "I always have to feel well tomorrow. If you live today so that you will feel all right tomorrow you don't get into much trouble."

That made me think that you can estimate men according to their attitude toward tomorrow.

How many tomorrows can they see? How much are they willing to sacrifice for tomorrow? How much do they dare to trust?

A day laborer can see only a half-dozen tomorrows. He must be paid every week. An entrepreneur may cheerfully invest half a life-time in a new business from which not he but his children will profit.

Artists and writers have been known to disregard entirely the near tomorrows, pinning their faith on the fairer and more enduring verdict of posterity.

The prophet, of course, looks farthest of all. Stephen, on his way to death, cried: "Behold I see the heavens opened." Jesus, about to be crucified, assured His disciples: "I have overcome the world."

It strikes me that what we need these days is the habit of taking a little longer look, envisaging a few more tomorrows.

Some of us act as if this present distress were the first test of the world's endurance that has ever come. We are afraid that if it is not straightened out immediately civilization will perish.

It is not so much a test of the world or of civilization, as it is a test of us. It is like the war. Some of us lost courage, and said: "It will never end," and took thought only of ourselves. Others can now look back with satisfaction on the record they made then.

Today we are making another record on which we must look back.

Back from some future and better tomorrow.

Bumm—I told that man I was so dead broke that I had to sleep outdoors, but he wouldn't give me a nickel.

Bummer—What's the matter—was he a Scotchman?

Bumm—No; he said he was sleeping outdoors himself and had to pay the doctor for telling him to do it.

The Revolt Of The Taxpayers

From all over the country we read and hear reports of a rising tide of protest against the high cost of government.

National, State, County, School and Local taxes have grown in the past dozen years until the combined burden is more than most taxpayers can bear even in normal times. And in these times of reduced incomes and poor business the tax burden has become intolerable.

Congress is trying to "balance the budget" by imposing more and higher taxes. Doubtless there will be some show of reducing government expenditures, but so far we have heard very little about those. It seems to us that should be the first point of attack, not the last. This country got along very well for a hundred years and more without trying to regulate every body's business and teach everybody how to live. We think there are hundreds of millions of dollars literally wasted every year by Federal bureaus which never would be missed if they were abolished entirely.

The same is true of State governments and, to perhaps even a greater degree, of most county governments. It is characteristically American, and something in which we take pride, that as a people we all want the best of everything. We want the best possible roads, the best possible schools, the most magnificent public buildings, the finest parks, and all that. But haven't we been trying to get these things too fast, without counting the cost, without finding out first where the money is coming from? We think that is the principal trouble with the United States today.

The inevitable result of this orgy of public spending is to stir up widespread discontent, which may easily result in an actual revolt on the part of taxpayers. Too much of the tax burden is laid upon land and its improvements, not enough upon the individuals, groups and enterprises directly benefitted by specific expenditures of public funds.

What this country needs right now is to cut all governmental expenses squarely in half—Federal, State, County and Local. That might cause some temporary embarrassment, but it would be only temporary. Relieved from half of the tax burden, property of all kinds would earn more for its owners, capital would be freer to go into productive enterprises, men and women would get their jobs back, prosperity would return speedily.

We would like to see some real leader arise who would adopt for his political slogan, "Cut taxes in half!" He could be elected to any office to which he should aspire, in the present temper of the American people.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Lusdeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. HONOR FOR HERMIT IN HIS "MARATHON"

The world laughed tolerantly at last summer's "Monkey Marathon," when small boys took to trees in endurance contests; and there could be no better proof that times have changed. The Fourth century took similar performances more seriously. Consider Simeon Stylites. He chained himself to a great rock on which he began to erect a column of smaller stones. Aided by his admirers, who rapidly increased in numbers, he raised the pile, first to a height of nine, and finally of 60 feet. In this last and lofty situation, he endured the heat of 30 summers and the cold of as many winters.

"He sometimes prayed in an erect attitude with his outstretched arms in the figure of a cross; but his most familiar practice was that of bending his meager skeleton from the forehead to the feet, and a curious spectator, after numbering 1,234 repetitions, at length desisted from the endless account."

Simeon died, without descending from his pillar, as a result of an ulcer on his thigh. The ulcer owed its origin to pride. The devil, so the story goes, assumed angelic form and drew up beside the pillar top in a fiery chariot. He invited Simeon to ascend, as had Elijah, and the saint was ready. As he lifted his foot to step in, the devil spanked him cruelly and vanished in a cloud of sulphurous smoke.

This chastisement to pride won for the hermit great repute and when, a few years later, his bones were borne to Antioch, the patriarch of the city, the master-general of the East, six bishops, 21 counts or tribunes and 6,000 soldiers formed the guard of honor.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?
Look to this cause

When your baby fusses, tosses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regulative help will bring relaxed comfort and restful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the name: Cast H. Fletcher

Unhappiness in Letting Chivalry End at Altar

"If men would treat their wives with the same thoughtfulness and chivalry after marriage as they did prior to it," remarked Bernal Dyas.

"I think the family circle would be happier. The trouble is that too many men look upon courtship as a sporting event, successfully climaxed at the altar.

"Yes, a lot of men are like a friend of mine who went home one afternoon with a limit of trout. As he stood floating over them his wife remarked: "That's all very fine for you, but how about me? You never bring me candy, the way you did before we were married."

"Is that so," drawled the husband, regarding his trout limit complacently. "Well, you never heard of a fisherman feeding bait to a fish after he'd caught it, did you?"—Los Angeles Times.

Big Area Burned Over

Forest fires in the United States in 1931 swept over a total of more than 52,000,000 acres, an area greater than the state of Ohio and Indiana combined. Careless smokers were responsible for more fires and greater losses than any other cause. The damage caused by these forest fires reached an estimated total of $65,968,350, not including damage to young growth, wild life, water-shed values and other intangible values which could not be measured in dollars and cents.

Division of Wealth

Dr. Wilfred I. King estimated that the richest 1 per cent of the income recipients in the United States received in 1926 about one-eighth of the realized income in the country. Ninety-nine per cent of income receivers secured in 1926 87.84 per cent of the total income. In another estimate Doctor King concludes that 10 per cent of the people of the United States own nearly two-thirds of the wealth, while the poorest 26 per cent own just about 2 1/2 per cent.

POULTRY FACTS

RAISING TURKEYS IS NOT GAMBLING

Study Being Made of Parasites and Diseases.

With no poker game handy the farmer who was overtaken by a spasm of the gambling fever has always been able to get his excitement by raising turkeys. Now the United States Department of Agriculture is trying to spoil the sport by removing from it the element of greatest uncertainty—parasites and parasitic diseases. The parasites have been the factors responsible for the greatest losses in the turkey flock and for making turkey raising a side issue and a gamble for the average farmer or poultryman.

A foundation flock of turkeys raised for experimental purposes has been established at one of the federal experiment stations in Montana, and a specialist in charge has devoted his time to the investigation of parasitic disease in the flock. He does other work later, however.

The flock was established by artificially incubating the eggs, and brooding the poults in special brooder houses with clean yards until they were eight weeks old. These precautions were taken in order to prevent infestations by parasites introduced by adult turkeys. When large enough to range the poults were given large fenced lots and shelters.

"Artificial brooding has been of particular value in preventing losses from blackhead disease which at one time threatened to destroy the turkey industry," says the specialist in charge of the flock. "Prevention of this disease calls for rearing the young turkeys on clean ground and away from chickens and other turkeys."

Check Up on Flock's Production for Year

In case you wish to check up on your flock's production for the past year, the average per hen should be about as follows: December, 10; January, 10; February, 12; March, 19; April, 21; May, 20; June, 18; July, 16; August, 13; September, 6; October, 7; November, 8; or a total of 160 per hen. When records are kept it is interesting to check each month by these figures to see where the hens fall below the average and where they exceed it. These figures have been taken from many records made by hens that were trap nested for the purpose of finding the average egg production per month for a number of years. The hens in the 90-egg class lay almost all of the eggs in the spring and early summer, while those in the 100-egg class lay every month during the year.

Night Light Will Pay for Chicks in Brooder

Experiments at Massachusetts Agricultural college seem to prove that a dim light burned at night in a brooder house increased the growth of small chicks from 8 to 15 per cent at four weeks of age. This gain did not come from eating during the night, but more from the chicks spreading out and sleeping more comfortably and to finding their way back to the hover without being chilled. About a 10-watt electric light seemed to give the best results in the experiments.

Poultry Facts

Place the egg on its side—not on end.

Poultry need direct sunlight and ventilation to keep in the best health.

The hens should be laying an average of ten eggs each during December.

When chicks are crowded in the house respiratory diseases, such as cold and roup, are more likely to occur.

Adding cod liver oil to the poultry ration will help to maintain the health of the flock and also to improve the texture of egg shells.

Clean litter on the floor, plus clean material in the nests, will eliminate most of the dirty eggs. In some cases, additional nests will be required.

Chicks should be raised on a plot of fenced ground, not used for poultry raising operations last year, or if such a plot cannot be provided, turn under the surface soil.

To clean contaminated soil in a poultry yard the first nest thing to do is to disinfect the surface.

There should be enough hopper space to give each bird a chance to eat whenever she is hungry.

No factor in brooding chicks or poults is more important than an even and correct temperature. For that reason the selection of a good colony brooder stove and its careful attention is well worth the money and time involved.

With Baird Baptist

These are days long to be remembered and never to be forgotten days when people are to busy or careless to go to church, but we will all take out some time, and those times are coming mighty fast. Oh! How fast they are coming. I want to cry out to everyone I see and ask if they are ready for their time. How terribly important it is to be ready.

Well, next Sunday we will have our program in honor of our Mothers and I suggest that we make it include both. We will have the morning hour and we give everyone an invitation to come and join with us, let's have a good time. In spite of the rain we had a nice day Sunday. Never missed a single appointment and Sunday night was a real good service. At the close of the service three were baptized. Miss Jack Taylor, Mrs. A. D. Coffie, and Mr. Gus Ryan. We just thank God for these three fine folks and earnestly pray that soon others like them may come into our fellowship.

Here is our schedule and we are ready to take on all the passengers who will come with us.
Sunday School each Sunday at 10 o'clock, Preaching at 11 o'clock A. M. and 8 o'clock P. M. each Sunday, Junior B. Y. P. U. at 3 o'clock each Sunday with Mrs. Arvin as leader and she is a good one, Women Missionary Society on Monday at 3 o'clock, Prayer Meeting each Wednesday at 8 o'clock P. M., Choir practice on Thursday at 8 o'clock P. M., and Sunbeam meeting on Saturday at 3 o'clock with Mrs. L. B. Lewis and Mrs. Royce Gilliland as sponsors and they are fine. Come with us folks. We will be glad to have you and will treat you so well that you will want to come back.
Joe R. Mayes, Pastor
