Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"I'm the best blamed pea sheller in seven states."

We made that remark to our mother one day when we were home to help take care of Dad during his last illness. She had come out with some of those purple-colored cow peas to be shelled for Sunday dinner, and we flew in to help her.

We don't think she appreciated the remark for several reasons. She didn't approve of our slang, or our bragging. Besides, it was a slam on her ability. She was no mean pea sheller, herself.

We've just about cornered the pea shelling operations at our house. Don't know just how it came about. Back yonder before air conditioners, we used to sit in the shade of the house late of evenings and shell peas. Our wife and herdaddy got to bragging on us — how we could shell faster than they could — and we guess it kinda went to our head.

Now the little woman generally announces: "I've got some peas in the refrigerator for you to shell," and that's that.

We won't be shelling very many more from our own individual 1957 patch. The peas seemed to continue drying up with us pouring the city water to them, so finally we got discouraged and quit watering. Talk about ice cream melting in the hot sun! You'd be amazed at how fast those vines dried up.

There really isn't much to pea shelling. By keeping continually after them, you'll soon notice those pods in the bucket are diminishing.

One reason we don't particularly mind the job, is that you don't have to think to shell peas. Your mind can take you off on a pleasant vacation — we hadn't intended to get off on vacations again this week — or have you seated in the Music Hall listening to the Philharmonic Orchestra. It can take you to almost any point in the world, or it can just remain a complete blank as you continue shelling peas.

We've visited Borneo, Singapore. The Virgin Islands, Monte Carlo — lots of places — while engaged in the art.

Our favorite pea shelling spot is our own platform rocker, in front of the air conditioner and beside the radio. We don't have TV; therefore, we imagine pea shelling can be done better listening to the radio than looking at TV.

We take off our shirt and shoes to be comfortable as possible, turn on the radio, get a pan in our lap, the pea bucket and wastepaper basket nearby, and go after it. It doesn't matter if the air waves are bringing classical music, rock-n-roll, the news, or Amous-n-Andy, we don't disturb the radio. We either listen or don't listen, just as we like, while the little edibles drop from our fingers into the pan.

Then when we reach the last one and arise from our chair, a big batch drops from our lap into the floor. We make a circle of the room gathering them up, as well as those frisky ones that pop out of the shell and bounce off the wall on the other side of the room.

We turn our finished product over to the Missus, who does the finishing up. If we've shelled cream peas, she picks out all the blackeyes we might have in them. She sees no need of having even one blackeye mixed into her favorite creams — but you just can't beat blackeyes, to our notion, that are about half shells and half snaps.

Cooked with a big hunk of soy-belly and with a liberal mixture of okra, and we have a dish that compensates for all the trouble of shelling — even if the job was considered a tedious one.

At the present writing, we have a batch of creams and another of blackeyes ready for cooking. And they are probably our last batches from our 1957 crop.

Mrs. Lansford Is Injured In Wreck

Mrs. Caz Lansford, known to her many friends as "Ma Shugart," was critically injured last Sunday when her car overturned on the outskirts of Throckmorton. She was returning from De Leon, where she had been for the week end.

It is supposed she hit a soft shoulder and lost control of the car, which overturned several times. She was brought to the Knox County Hospital, where X-rays were made, and it was found she suffered a broken back, broken ribs on the left side and a severed spinal cord. She is paralyzed from the waist down.

She was carried to Baylor Hospital in Dallas last Monday for further examination and treatment. Mr. Lansford is with her in Dallas.

The Red Sox are proving their ability on the playing field, as they continue to win in the Little League games.

Last Thursday night, the Sox ran up a 14 to 3 lead over the Cards to take their second game of the season.

Friday night saw the Cards blank the Yanks to the tune of 11 to 0.

Again the Cards fell prey to the fine playing of the Sox last Monday night, taking their third victory by defeating the Cards 12 to 4. Freddie Smith was the winning pitcher, with Larry Skiles catching. Losing pitcher was Gerald Morgan, and his catcher was Jimmy Duncan.

Officials were Ray Snyder, behind the plate; M. H. Brunley, on first, and Gene Floyd at third.

The schedule for the next week: Thursday, Sox vs. Yanks; Friday, Cards vs. Yanks, and Monday, Cards vs. Sox.

The formal opening of Mac's Food Market in their completely remodeled and air-conditioned building opened on Thursday and will continue through Saturday.

Since J. H. McNabb purchased Atkinson's store early in May, workmen have busy remodeling the building and installing new fixtures and shelving. The store is very modern and is a credit to this area.

"We invite you to attend our grand opening," Mr. McNabb said, and we appreciate the opportunity of being in Munday to serve you with a complete line of foods and a big selection of choice meats.

Circulars mailed out this week were numbered, and a total of 568 items of merchandise will be given away during the opening to persons holding the circulars with the lucky numbers. Other free gifts will also be awarded, and everyone is urged to attend the opening.

Showers Bring More Moisture

Scattered showers fell again during the week, bringing additional moisture to Knox County to help tide crops along.

Munday was in the favored area for two of these showers, giving us a total of about an inch. Saturday morning .87 fell, and another shower Monday added another .15 of an inch.

The cloud Saturday hung to the north of town, and around 2 inches was reported on the Tidwell farms, with a good rain north of Goree.

Monday's rain was heavier to the east, with Andy Hutchinson reporting 1.7, and other farmers a good rain. Another two inches fell east of town recently, but the shower covered a small area.

Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, left, in his first official act as Secretary of the Treasury sold a $100 United States series E Savings Bond to outgoing Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, right, who was prohibited by law from acquiring Government securities as long as he was in office. Secretary Anderson is shown accepting a $75.90 check from Mr. Humphrey in exchange for the $100 Savings Bond. Mr. Humphrey said that he was "just delighted as my first act as a private citizen again to buy a Savings Bond and join the forty million other citizens who own these Bonds and prize them highly." The sale was made immediately after the two returned to the Treasury following Secretary Anderson's swearing-in in the presence of President Eisenhower and other top officials at the White House.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

Crockett wheat, a hard red winter variety developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, performed very well in Knox County this year. Twenty acres of foundation seed were grown under irrigation in the Sunset community and compared to an adjacent field of Early Triumph. Crockett yielded 43.5 bushels per acre, compared to 34 bushels for the Early Triumph. Crockett wheat is rated excellent in milling quality, rust resistance, and test weight. Several hundred bushels of certified seed are now available to anyone interested.

A new early-maturing hybrid corn which produces good yields under low moisture and high temperature conditions has been developed in the corn improvement program of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. This new hybrid, called Texas 38, is a shorter growing plant than the regular corn hybrids and produces an ear lower on the stalk. Seed will be available in 1958.

Melvin Cypert left on Wednesday of last week for Fort Worth for two weeks visit with Randy Tomlinson.

FARMERS IN BUSINESS SUITS
 "Farmer In A Business Suit" is the striking title of a new book by John Davis and Kenneth Hinchaw, published by Simon and Schuster. It deals with what the authors call "agribusiness"—a term that succinctly indicates the vast change that has taken place in farming in, comparatively speaking, a handful of years.

In their introduction the authors say this: "The farmer in a business suit has taken the place of the old homesteader. His horsepower is fixed in factories and his stock is fed by the white-frocked scientist in the laboratories that produce those fabulous substances known as antibiotics and hormones. His family farm is a costly, efficient, revved-up complex of fields, barns and equipment . . . His productivity is a hundred, a thousand times his family's own needs."

This is what technology has done. A farmer of the old homestead days wouldn't believe his eyes if he was to see a typical modern farm of the present. Tractors and other mechanized equipment, the new seeds and fertilizers, scientific methods of soil improvement and conservation—these have almost completely revolutionized farming from grandfather to grandson.

Such revolution inevitably brings problems as well as opportunities. There is less and less room for the inefficient marginal farmer, or the farmer who refuses to adapt himself to modern conditions. But there is plenty of room for the family farm that is run as a business by people who know their business. These are the farmers in business suits.

PRICE-MAKING AND WAGE-MAKING

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors during President Truman's administration, recently testified on the problem of price inflation before a Senate investigating body. He made statements that cannot logically be contradicted.

He said that "the process of price-making and of wage-making are so intertwined in the modern world that neither can be effectively analyzed in isolation from each other." He then said that labor unions should be subject to the anti-trust laws, exactly as are business and industrial organizations.

The public is entitled to the protection of the law against all monopolies—not just one kind.

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

"LAST DAY OF BONDAGE"
 It is pointed out that on May 10, the average American will serve a theoretical "last day of bondage," so far as 1957 taxes are concerned. What he has earned up to that time will just about cover his tax bill for the year.

What this means is that taxes in the United States currently take about 36 per cent of all our earned income. Putting it another way, all that we earned during the first 130 calendar days is needed to support our own governments of one kind or another.

So much for 1957. What of the years ahead? Will the "last day of bondage" come earlier in the year . . . or will it come later?

That depends on whether the people really want cheaper government, with the reduction in government activity that will involve, or just want to talk about it. Every billion dollars cut from the overall cost of government would permit it to come one day sooner . . . and, conversely, every billion dollars added to the cost would delay it one day longer.

That brings up a slogan which is 100 per cent relevant. Here it is: "I'll take less from government . . . if government will take less from me."

WHERE ADVERTISING IS WELCOMED

An impressive evaluation of the merits of newspaper advertising as compared with television advertising has been provided by Robert J. McBride, director of Research for the Detroit Free Press. He says: "People watch television because of the entertainment—commercials actually are intruders. A survey by Northwestern University shows that 61 per cent of housewives would prefer TV without commercials."

"At the same time, advertising is an integral part of the newspaper. Readers buy the paper for the ads as much as for the editorial matter. Both men and women readers plan their shopping from the newspaper. The Northwestern survey shows that 9 per cent of the respondents want their newspaper with advertising."

This brings Mr. McBride to his completely logical conclusion: "The advertiser gets the best results when his message is welcomed and desired."

A new survey finds that 25,000 U. S. citizens are working for American business abroad. Thirty oil firms employ the greatest number—a total of 10,840.

FLASH FLOOD in Lampasas, Texas, made rescue workers of many townspeople. Shown here is the rescue the following morning of an exhausted victim of the flood, which swept into the town of some 5,000 persons so fast many didn't have time to evacuate. (FCDA Photo)

When I was police reporter in Memphis long years ago, it was the custom to "check" with the hospitals and undertakers for victims of accidents and shootings. I had difficulty in getting information from one hospital and so some thought was given to cause those in charge to be more co-operative.

It was the practice to mention the hospital to which an injured man was taken but, in the event of death, we wrote, "He died in a local hospital." I continued this procedure with all the hospitals except the uncooperative one. When a death occurred there, I would write, "He died in the Blank Hospital."

After a week or so, the superintendent protested to C. P. J. Mooney, the editor of the Commercial Appeal. "If these mentions keep on, people will soon think that our hospital is the gateway to the graveyard; we might as well engrave above our entrance, 'Abandon hope, all ye who enter here!'"

Mr. Mooney chuckled and replied, "I imagine Boyce will be glad to stop if he can just get the news when he phones." Thereafter, that hospital "played ball" just like the others.

If you are a young singer aspiring to fame, you are likely to succeed if you can get one good song and identify yourself with it. Think of Ted Lewis and you think of "When My Baby Smiles At Me." Fannie Brice's name is associated with "My Man." Nick Lucas became famous for two songs, "Tiptoe through the Tulips" and "Painting the Clouds with Sunshine."

Al Jolson gained his early renown with "Mammy" though of course we remember his also for "Swanee," "California, Here I Come" and "April Showers." Eddie Cantor also is identified

A band leader named McCoy staked out "Sugar Blues" and DeWolfe Hopper, the renowned actor, when recognized in any gathering, was called on to recite "Casey at the Bat." So get yourself a tune or a recitation (remember Abbott and Costello's "Who's on First") that will be like a campaign slogan for a candidate or a brand on a can of corn. IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5, 1957.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 3 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a section to be known as Section 49-c of Article III, providing for the issuance and sale of bonds of the State of Texas to create the Texas Water Development Fund to provide financial assistance to certain political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas in the conservation and development of the water resources of the State, providing for the payment of such bonds, creating an agency to administer said Fund and to perform other duties prescribed by law, limiting the period during which financial assistance may be granted, and providing for the calling of an election and the publication and issuance of the proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49-c, as follows: "Section 49-c. There is hereby created as an agency of the State of Texas the Texas Water Development Board to exercise such powers as necessary under this provision together with such other duties and restrictions as may be prescribed by law. The qualifications, compensation, and number of members of said Board shall be determined by law. They shall be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate in the manner and for such terms as may be prescribed by law.

"The Texas Water Development Board shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000). The Legislature of Texas, upon two-thirds (2/3) vote of the elected Members of each House, may authorize the Board to issue additional bonds in an amount not exceeding One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000). The bonds authorized herein or permitted to be authorized by the Legislature shall be called 'Texas Water Development Bonds,' shall be executed in such form, denominations and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, providing, however, that the bonds shall not bear more than four per cent (4%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as the Board finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

"All moneys received from the sale of State bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created in the State Treasury to be known as the Texas Water Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the Texas Water Development Board in such manner as prescribed by law.

"Such fund shall be used only for the purpose of aiding or making funds available upon such terms and conditions as the Legislature may prescribe, to the various political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas including river authorities, conservation, and reclamation districts and districts created or organized or authorized to be created or organized under Article XV, Section 15 or Article III, Section 52 of this Constitution, interstate compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party and municipal corporations, in the conservation and development of the water resources of the State, including the control, storing and preservation of its storm and flood waters and the waters of its rivers and streams for all useful and lawful purposes by the acquisition, improvement, extension, or construction of dams, reservoirs and other water storage projects, including any system necessary for the transportation of water from storage to points of treatment and/or distribution, including facilities for transporting water therefrom to wholesale purchasers, or for any one or more of such purposes or methods.

"Any or all financial assistance as provided herein shall be repaid with interest upon such terms, conditions and manner of repayment as may be provided by law.

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision or while any of the bonds that may be authorized by the Legislature under this provision, or any interest on any of such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

"The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Water Development Fund, and the interest and sinking funds established for the payment of bonds issued by the Texas Water Development Board. Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature. The Legislature may also make appropriations from the General Revenue Fund for paying administrative expenses of the Board.

"From the moneys received by the Texas Water Development Board as payment of principal for financial assistance or as interest thereon, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this Section sufficient moneys to pay the interest and principal to become due during the ensuing year and sufficient to establish and maintain a reserve in said fund equal to the average annual principal and interest requirements on all outstanding bonds issued under this Section. If any year prior to December 31, 1957, moneys are received in excess of the foregoing requirements then such excess shall be deposited to the Texas Water Development Fund and may be used for administrative expenses of the Board and for the same purposes and upon the same terms and conditions prescribed for the proceeds derived from the sale of such State bonds. No grant of financial assistance shall be made under the provisions of this Section after December 31, 1957, and all moneys hereafter received as repayment of principal for financial assistance or as interest thereon shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the State bonds, except that such amount as may be authorized by the Board may be annually set aside and provided, that after all State moneys have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys so received shall be deposited to the General Revenue Fund.

"All bonds issued hereunder shall be approved by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the 5th day of November, 1957, same being the 1st Tuesday after the 1st Monday in said November, 1957, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon, the following words: "FOR the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-c of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Water Development Fund to provide financial assistance to certain political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas in the conservation and development of the water resources of the State."

"AGAINST the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-c of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Water Development Fund to provide financial assistance to certain political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas in the conservation and development of the water resources of the State."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for publication and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The expenses of publication and election for such amendments shall be paid out of the proper appropriation made by law.

TALK ABOUT ECONOMY... FORDS COST LESS PER MILE!

Fords cost less to buy! No doubt about it! Model for model, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low-price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '57 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.*

Fords cost less to run! In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy, the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered! This remember, was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between 12 different makes of cars... supervised by the United States Auto Club. And when the test was over, Ford led all other cars in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!

Fords cost less to trade! Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too!

twenty years ago. Comparing the hang-over depression days of the thirties with present-day living conditions, people will not find this information too surprising. Still, foods need not be expensive to be nutritious, and the trend of southern families toward better-balanced diets as evidenced by a recent survey is most encouraging.

To illustrate, a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1936 showed about 40 per cent of southern diets to be "poor." Judging from the same standards used in that study, a similar survey conducted in 1955 indicates only about 20 per cent of southern family diets to be nutritionally deficient now.

This is not to say, however, that 20 per cent of southern families are actually undernourished since the levels of nutrients recommended provide for a safety margin over average needs.

The most common fault among diets studied was a shortage of vitamin C, calcium, vitamin A, and riboflavin, in that order. About 80 per cent of southern families were getting two-thirds of the vitamin C recommended, 90 per cent had diets providing two-thirds of calcium and vitamin A recommendations, and other nutrients studied were being consumed at an even higher degree.

The most discouraging aspect of the study was the finding that southern diets, while greatly improved, are still below those of the United States as a whole, and that there is a more direct relationship between southern income level and nutritional quality of diets than in other regions of the country.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. H. M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—One of our most important public health enemies in America to day is tooth decay, a virtually incurable chronic disease which must be prevented if it is to be conquered at all. The ailment is so widespread that it involves 95 of every 100 persons and is still increasing.

It is estimated that there are now one billion cavities in the mouths of Americans, mostly children of elementary school age. And for every cavity a dentist fills, six are left unfilled because of failure to visit a dentist.

Dental authorities say the situation is now so acute that at its present rate of increase, within 10 years decay will have turned us into a nation of dental cripples.

Children develop cavities at about the same rate as do adults, approximately one per child per year. But whereas one-third of the adult need for fillings is being met, only one-fifth of the cavities in children's teeth are being repaired.

Perhaps the reason is that so many parents still cling to the totally false notion that so-called "baby" teeth are unimportant because they are temporary. The frequent result is that good dental health for children is still a relatively scarce commodity.

There is one positive step all parents can take to avoid a fate of toothlessness among their children. It's a simple step, requiring only that the youngsters be taken to a dentist for tooth and gum inspection before being enrolled in school each fall.

The dentist will follow a careful routine in making the inspection. He will painlessly probe all tooth surfaces, looking for signs of impending trouble. Using an ingeniously simple little mirror, he can check even the most difficult-to-get-to corners, removing accumulations of "tarter," the name given to incrustated salivary mucous and food residue.

If spots of decay are found, he will remove it and fill the cavity with a material called "amalgam," a combination of mercury and bits of silver. Or perhaps he will choose a porcelain cement, also in use as a filling material.

Before the visit is concluded the dentist will have tutored the youngster in good dental hygiene at home — such things as when and how to brush his teeth, and how to make an excellent dentifrice from baking soda or table salt.

When enough children have received such instruction, and are encouraged by parents to follow them, we will be well on the way toward avoiding the fate predicted for us: that within a decade we will be a nation of dental cripples.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCall and Debbie, Mrs. Rose Jones, Mrs. Frank Clements, Jeri and Margaret, left Sunday for New Orleans, La., where Mrs. Clements and children will fly to Caracas, Venezuela, to make their home. The McCalls and Mrs. Jones are vacationing in the southern states before returning home.

Speed doesn't shorten the road . . . it shortens your life!

Hang Up Tubes of Glue

A MIGHTY smart way to organize adhesive containers tubes at the work bench is to adopt the recommendation of The Home Craftsman magazine. Instead of using the threaded pins which usually come with such containers, obtain some inexpensive cup hooks and use them as caps. With their concave flanges, these hooks create a double seal which keeps out the air. They also enable the craftsman to hang the tubes of glue, household cement, wood putty and other items in a neat row above the workbench, within reach and quickly identifiable.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

PLANNING YOUR WILL

In planning your will, your lawyer will want to know your true wishes; and then, to help you realize them, he will want to know a few vital facts.

Are you married? Any children or grandchildren? Previously married? Widowed? Your age and those of your beneficiaries? Legal residence? Health?

Why these questions? You'll have to work out your plan in view of the laws governing death taxes, property laws, and, if you are married, separate any community property.

Age? If you wish to set up trusts in the will, your age and those of your beneficiaries may help you to decide whether, for example, to use capital of the trust fund as well as its income for the beneficiaries.

Your residence? Most important, since state laws govern many items of personal property. Do you plan to move to another state? If so, consult its laws. Many people who come to Texas from other states should see that their wills conform to and take advantage of our laws.

Some people live half the year in Texas and half elsewhere. If you do, take steps to nail down your claim to reside in one state or another, to avoid needless litigation and possible claims to taxes in both states.

Your health? If possible, have your will drafted while you are in good health and clear minded.

Contests, though relatively rare in Texas, still do take place. In some cases, for example where non-relatives inherit, it may be a good idea to give reasons for these bequests in your will and to tell why you may have left some relative out (for instance, where a child has been taken care of by gifts or in other ways).

(This column, based on Federal law and prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Most Cattle And Calves Sell Fully Steady

FORT WORTH—Movement of cattle and calves got back to near normal proportions Monday at Fort Worth and all around the major marketing circle. Trade was active on most classes, although some fat cows closed unevenly lower. Bulls were strong to 25 cents higher. Grainfed cattle again were very scarce.

Slaughter calves and stocker and feeder classes of cattle and calves were very active to all interests, and high grade replacements were virtually lacking. Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $20 to $24.50, with only odd head eligible to sell above the $23 marker. Medium and lower grades sold from $13 to $19. Fat cows cashed at $12.50 to $14, a few higher, and canners and cutters sold from $8 to $12.50. Bulls brought $11 to $15.75.

Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $19 to $22.25 and common to medium kinds drew $14 to $18. Cull sorts sold from $10 to $13. Stocker steer calves of good grade sold from $19 to $23, and load lots of choice dehorned calves were eligible to sell comfortably above that range. Steer yearlings bulked at $21 down.

Old Ewes $1.00 Higher Feeder Trade Stronger

Slaughter ewes sold fully $1 higher at Fort Worth Monday as most sales for the class ranged from $7 to $9, relatively few merchantable kinds below $8. Feeder lambs were stronger, and other classes were fully steady. Top end of the price range on most classes was poorly tested due to the scarcity of the high grades in the run.

Good to choice slaughter lambs sold from $21 to $22, and cull, common and medium sorts sold from $14 to $20. Stocker lambs sold from $18.50 downward. A few yearlings sold from $14 to $18. Old ewers cashed at $13 down, a few higher. Aged bucks sold from $5 to $6.

Hogs Hit New High In An Active Trade

Choice butcher hogs sold from $22.75 to $23.25 at Fort Worth Monday, the higher figure marking a new high for the year, and once again setting a new high here since August, 1954. Medium to good butchers sold from $18 to $22, and sows cashed at $18 to $20. Stags sold around $12 down.

What Are Cattle Going To Be Worth?

A question which comes daily to the livestock market men at Fort Worth these days is, "What will calves and yearlings be worth this Fall?" Naturally, the answer to that question would come in handier than the key to Fort Knox, if a person had it for certain!

The sharp rise in prices for stockers and feeders which developed this Spring and lasted through the Summer so far, has got cattlemen wondering just how much their calves or yearlings may REALLY be worth come Fall.

It is now obvious that a great many Texas cattle will stay at home this Fall as some of the drouth hit ranches strive to get restocked. Certainly, if the usual late Summer and Fall rains comes the demand for replacements in the Southwest will pick up with extreme rapidity. Some observers predict a strong market for cattle in Texas from farms where there is now being raised a big crop of grain sorghums and other feed.

Just how much higher will feeders from Cornbelt or Western States go in price, before they figure the market has outstripped the price for finished cattle?

That is another of the big "ifs" in the picture.

If the fat cattle price continues to rise, some say it will, others say it won't. The negative thinkers here point to the huge turkey and broiler production, and an increase in pork output as factors weighing against much higher beef prices.

If the rains come to Texas and the Southwest in the next two months.

And, if domestic and foreign affairs do not upset the consumer demand for meat.

If all these things are favorable, then the drouth-harried Southwestern stockmen may indeed enjoy his best Fall season for a long, long time.

If you and I had the answers to all of these ifs, we could get rich before New Year's!

If your hens show a lack of vim, vigor and vitality, it's not because they're lazy—they're just hot. Some symptoms of this hot and bothered condition, say Bob Griffin, Extension poultry specialist, are low egg production, lower feed consumption, a higher water consumption rate and some death losses. Good hot weather management of the laying flock, he says, will pay big dividends.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Favors Part-Time Farming; That's Provided No Other Off-Farm Job Will Be Involved

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has had another one of his dreams exploded, his letter this week indicates. He probably has plenty more.

Dear Editor:
A lot of experts who don't know that the farm problem is sort of like a family problem—you can solve one problem today, but there'll be another one tomorrow—have now come up with another solution.

According to them, the answer to the farm problem is part-time farming.

Now, when I first read this, I came to attention. That is, I laid my newspaper down in my lap, rested both arms on my chair and looked into space. Part-time farming is what I've been preaching and practicing for years, and I was proud to know the experts in Washington had finally come around to my way of thinking.

But when I returned to my paper and read on, the worse the things got. Those experts and me are talking about two different things. According to them, part-time farming consists of farming part of the time and working in town the rest of the time. If a man can't make ends meet on the farm, he can take up the slack by working in town too.

That's not part-time farming, that's full-time working.

You might as well suggest that if a man can't make a living working one farm, let him work two. If a bank clerk can't make a living at the bank in the day time, let him take on the job of a night watchman too.

There's nothing wrong with part-time farming, but the time to do it is not after you get off work from a job in town.

I know a lot of farmers are doing this, and some of them seem to be making out all right, but the solution just doesn't appeal to me.

What I want the experts to do is tackle the farm problem from within the boundaries of the farm. It doesn't take an expert to tell me if I don't make enough farming, get a job in town. Where do you think half the barbers in this country came from. They fled the farm.

I don't know about the rest of the farmers, but what I want is part-time farming with a full-time living. Farming ought to be like a business tycoon going into government service. No conflict of interest. He ought to give up one or the other, according to Congress, and that's the principle I want to approach the farm problem on.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

News From The U. S. Congress

Of the twelve appropriation bills that have been acted on by the House, a total of over Four Billion Dollars has been cut from the Budget requests of Fifty-Six Billion Dollars. Everything indicates now that this cut of approximately Four Billion Dollars will stand up. The principal appropriation yet to be acted on is foreign aid in which substantial reductions undoubtedly will be made.

Last week the President acted to limit the imports of crude oil to a little over one million barrels a day. This action was welcomed by most people in Texas due to the fact that a great percentage of our State revenues are derived from the oil and gas industry. If imports of foreign oil continue to skyrocket as they have in the last several years, it would mean that production in Texas would be further cut and that the State would have to seek new sources of revenue. In this way the oil imports effect every tax paying citizen of Texas. It has been estimated that the recent reduction from fifteen to thirteen producing days a month, if continued, will cost the State of Texas something like Eighty-Two Million Dollars in tax revenue over the next two years. In addition to this, unrestricted imports can mean only complete financial ruin to the independent producers of Texas.

It was disappointing to see the President's statement that he was opposed to the amendment that was adopted in the Senate providing for a jury trial in criminal contempt cases. The right to trial by jury is one of our most fundamental civil rights itself, and it seems that this Senate Amendment simply guarantees our traditional rights under our law. Undoubtedly the Senate will now pass the "civil rights" bill as amended. The bill will come back to the House, and the debate on this measure will continue there for some time. It now looks as if chances of final passage of the "civil rights" bill is about fifty-fifty.

The House Armed Services Committee voted last week thirty-one to four to give the United States Military the power to decide whether a service man should be turned over for foreign trial for an on-duty offense. This was designed to take care of cases like the Girard Case. Approval of this bill by the Committee came in face of strong Administration protest. In all probability it will be approved by the Congress even though the Administration will object all the way.

This week it was my pleasure to have a visit with M/Sgt. Thomas F. Bell, Jr., of Vernon, who has just won the distinction of being named one of twenty-one most outstanding Airmen throughout the entire United States Air Force. This is an honor indeed for Sgt. Bell and for our District of Texas. I am proud of Sgt. Bell and of his fine and outstanding record of service with the Air Force.

Other visitors this week were Mrs. R. W. Ancell and daughters, Miss Sandra and Mrs. M. D. Childers.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist Church in Vera at 2 p.m. Wednesday for John Thomas Brown, who passed away at his home Monday, August 5, 1957 were conducted by Rev. S. A. Wolfe of Moran, with Rev. Bill Tanner and Rev. Gene Louder assisting.

John T. Brown Passes At Vera

Mr. Brown was born February 9, 1876, in Tompkinsville, Kentucky. He passed away at the age of 81 years, 5 months and 27 days. He was united in marriage October 17, 1904, to Emma Elizabeth Hood at Greenville. They soon moved to Hill County. In 1926 they moved to Knox County where they have lived until his passing.

He became a Christian at the age of 17 and has been a member of the Methodist Church since 1919. He was an active concenated church member as long as his health permitted.

He is survived by his wife and eight children. One son preceded him in death. The children are Mrs. Grace Curtis of Odessa; Mrs. Hazel Lewellen of Seymour; Mrs. Ruby Dennis of Abilene; Mrs. Agnes Schroeder of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Johnny Gray of Monday, Raymond of Seymour, and Fred of Vera.

He is also survived by 26 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends.

Grain sorghum hybrids produced from 10 to 25 percent more grain than pure varieties in 155 field demonstrations conducted in 1956 and scattered from the Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle. Sorghum hybrids were developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and seed were released in 1954 for multiplication in 1955.

If the 63,672 Texas farmers who signed agreements placing cropland in the acreage reserve part of the soil bank program comply with all rules and regulations, they can earn more than $23.8 million. Bob Cherry, extension economist, says the total acreage involved is 1,970,235-3/10. Total acreage signed up in the U. S. exceeds 10.7 million.

Chemical treatment of lumber is advised by Extension Farm Forester C. W. Simmons as a means of controlling termites and rot and retarding fires in homes and other farm buildings.
