Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Football is in the air, and with school opening last Monday we'll be hearing those "Yea Team" yells for a period of several weeks.

Football practice has been under way now for several weeks, and Coach Stewart and his assistants are getting the team in shape for the season. Come Friday night of next week, and we'll be trekking to the athletic field to view the first game. This will be with Seymour, which has been our traditional opening game for several years.

Members of the Quarterback Club and others interested in the sport are making plans for taking care of ticket sales and reserved seats for the season.

Reserve seat tickets are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office. They will be $2.50 each—or just 50 cents per home game—and lots of folks believe it's worth four-bits to know you'll have a seat when you get to the game, even if a few minutes late.

Those who had reserved seat tickets last year will be given preference on their old seats again this year—but you won't get them if you wait until game time. The committee in charge say they will hold them in reserve until noon Wednesday, September 11, and if you haven't gotten them by then you may lose out. They will be placed on sale on a first come, first served basis.

Season tickets are for reserved seats only, as they have been in the past, and with them comes membership in the Quarterback Club. General admission tickets must be purchased ahead of each game.

General admission tickets will be placed on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office several days ahead of the game, and if you buy them before game time it will greatly help the boys who are on duty at the gates. Those boys who serve at the gates are football fans, too. They enjoy the game as well as you and I, and if tickets are bought ahead of the game, it would likely give them an opportunity to see more of the play.

Munday's side of the field—the north side—will not have as many seats as before, it was stated. The east section of bleachers has been torn away—and this makes it more important that you get reserved seats to be assured of a seat when you get there—if you're going, and most everybody will be!

General admission will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students this year, the same as last year. Admission prices are set, we are told, by the district according to interscholastic League rules and will be the same for high school games over the area.

Footballers are working out in earnest, and chances are the Moguls are going to give their backers their money's worth this season. So get out your cushions and get ready for the game on Friday night, September 13. Friday, the thirteenth, isn't considered unlucky anymore—especially by those who are not the least bit superstitious.

And the people of the Quarterback Club, as well as the Moguls, coaches, pep squad members and leaders, will appreciate the support you'll give them. Operating the activities of the Quarterback Club this year will be:

Charles McCauley, president; Lonnie Offutt, vice president; Tommy Harper, secretary and treasurer, and Wendell Partidge, program chairman.

Films On Italy Being Featured At Lions Club

Members of the Munday Lions Club are enjoying a series of films in the cultural and religious life of people of Italy, being shown by Harold Paden, minister of the Munday Church of Christ, who spent some eight years as a missionary to Italy. The first of these was shown last Tuesday, and they will be continued for a period of several weeks. In showing the slides, Mr. Paden gives a lecture telling of the culture, customs, religions, etc., of the Italian people. The film last Tuesday dealt chiefly with the cultural and agricultural side.

Members of the club are being divided into two teams who will invite guests to see the remaining films. This will culminate in the annual membership drive for the club.

Munday School Enrollment Up

Enrollment in the Munday Public Schools possibly reached a record high with the opening of the 1957-58 term this week, according to Supt. W. C. Cox, who announced the totals last Tuesday.

Where some grades dropped off in enrollment, others were increased, bringing the overall enrollment to possibly its highest point in history at the beginning of school. Mr. Cox stated other students would be enrolled as classes become further advanced.

The overall enrollment registered the first of this week was 653 students, which are broken down according to schools as follows: High school, 148; junior high school, 150; elementary school, 250; Dunbar colored school, 105.

Jas. A. Stephens Pioneer Lawyer, Dies In Dallas

Funeral services for James A. Stephens, pioneer Knox County lawyer and former county attorney, were held from the Benjamin Methodist Church on Sunday, August 25, at 2 p.m. with Rev. A. T. Mason, pastor of O'Brien Baptist Church, officiating.

Mr. Stephens passed away in Dallas on Friday, August 23. He moved to Benjamin about 1880 and lived there until he moved to Dallas several years ago to make his home with his daughter.

He was born in 1869, and was affectionately known to many as "Uncle Att." Besides serving as county attorney, he maintained a law office in Benjamin until moving to Dallas. During his latter years he had written a book on the early days in this area.

Survivors are a daughter, Miss Lucille Stephens, who teaches school in Dallas, and one grandson, J. T. Boaz III of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harlan and Cheryl of Goree and Maynard and Arletha Moore visited Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lamb and family in Denver, Colo., over the holidays. They also visited Wencil Jones who is stationed at Fort Carson, Colo.

Educator Tells Local People Students To Need More Preparation For College

Speaking before a group of Methodist men and their wives last Tuesday night at the Methodist Church, Dr. Floyd Ewing, dean of the graduate school of Midwestern University, painted a gloomy picture for poorly prepared high school graduates who try to enter college in the future. With overcrowded conditions on the increase in our college, he cited statistics to show that just 12 years from now several thousand students would apply for college training and there would be no room for them.
Dr. Ewing stated that nearly

Oil Activities

McMahon-Bullington Drilling Co. recently completed four more wells in the Voss (Tannehill) Field, two miles northwest of Munday.

No. 4 Joe Roberts pumped 83 barrels of 36 gravity oil per day from pay perforated at 1918-38 feet. Hole was plugged back from 1991 to 1969 feet.

No. 7 A. J. V. Johnson had a daily pumping potential of 54 barrels of oil from perforations at 1942-66 feet. Hole was plugged back from 2020 to 1985 feet.

No. 10 Johnson pumped 72 barrels per day from perforations at 1940-53 feet, with hole being plugged back from 2020 to 1984.

No. 11 Johnson had a daily pumping potential of 64 barrels of crude from pay perforated at 1916-43 feet, with hole plugged back from 2021 to 1982 feet. Gas-oil ratio for each well was 300-1.

Three more wells have been completed in the Goree Field. Glenn W. Cooper of Seymour No. D-4 Golden and Golden, 2 1/2 miles east of Goree pumped 103.74 barrels of 38 gravity oil per day from pay perforated at 1626-32 feet. Total depth was 1730, and gas-oil ratio was 200-1.

Lisle and Gray of Olney reported a daily pumping potential of 45.02 barrels of 39 gravity oil for No. 5 P. V. Cartwright, one-fourth mile southeast of Goree. Pay was perforated at 1608-12 feet, with hole bottomed at 1745. A 12-hour pumping potential of 20.75 barrels of 35.4 gravity oil, plus 30 per cent water, was reported by Amber Oil Co. of Fort Worth for No. 1 Laningham et al. in the Goree townsite. Production is from perforations at 1772-74 feet, with total depth at 1819.

Superior Oil Co. completed two oilers in the Plumlee (Second Tannehill) Field three miles north of Munday. No. 3 M. C. Khueler pumped 70.66 barrels of 34.4 gravity crude, plus 17.6 per cent water, from pay perforated at 2019-25 feet. Hole was bottomed at 2125 feet. No. 5 P. C. Phillips had a daily pumping potential of 48.49 barrels of 34.6 gravity oil from perforations at 2016-22 feet. Total depth was 2125.

In the Ajax (Tannehill) Field, Shell Oil Co. has finalized No. 1 O. A. Parker, about three miles northeast of Knox City, for daily pumping potential of 66.11 barrels of 39.8 gravity oil from pay perforated at 2101-08 feet. Hole was plugged back from 2245 to 2133 feet.

Guest and Moller et al have spotted No. 1 Wall, 4 1/2 miles northeast of Knox City, as a 2400-foot exploration venture.

Paragon Corporation and Hillcrest Oil Co., Wichita Falls, staked No. 1 Alvin Huskinson, six miles north of Munday, as a 2500-foot project.

A 2,000-foot venture 2 1/2 miles northeast of Goree is Amber Oil Co., Inc., Fort Worth, No. 1 V. V. Routon.

Six miles northeast of Goree, E. J. Moran of Dallas is drilling No. 1 Bertha Mae Haskin Thurman, which is a 2,000-foot venture.

all colleges "lost about $500 or $600" per year on each student above their tuition charges, and this was not much incentive for colleges to construct more buildings and hire more teachers to take care of increased enrollments.

"The teacher shortage is hitting the colleges, too" he said, "because most people can get more money in other fields." Our colleges will be going into the high schools to get their teachers, and this will add to the teacher shortage in high schools.

"In some colleges," he continued, "as high as 20 per cent of the students applying for admission are now being turned away. This is because of crowded conditions and the fact that students do not have proper training for college work." He urged that parents cooperate with the schools, help their children in the home, and, if necessary "get some more education themselves" to see that their children are properly prepared for college work.

He stated that more emphasis is being placed on mathematics, English, science, social science and foreign languages in high schools as college entrance requirements.

Citing the fact that education pays, Dr. Ewing stated the earning power of a college-trained person is $125,000 more in a lifetime than the untrained person. "The average cost of a college education is around $6,000—and anyone knows that's a pretty good percentage."

"Anyone who wants a college education can get it," he declared. "If parents will help their children to get into college and become adjusted, there are usually campus jobs for those who want to earn their way. At Midwestern, we've had to hire outside help because there were no students for the jobs that were available."

First Bale Of Cotton Ginned Here Tuesday

Sam Chamberlain, who farms ten miles southeast of Munday, brought in the first bale of 1957 cotton to be ginned in Munday last Tuesday. The bale was ginned by Paymaster Gin and arrived at the gin about 6 p.m.

From 2,200 pounds of seed cotton, Mr. Chamberlain received a 560-pound bale. The bale was gathered from about 15 acres of dry-land cotton.

Following the usual custom, Mr. Chamberlain's bale was ginned free of charge. He also received a premium of $25.

Most of the cotton is later than usual this year, and ginning is not expected to get into full swing for several more weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones visited Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Jones and family in Amarillo over the holidays.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nelson last week were Miss Ann Nelson of Dallas, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Nelson and children of Abilene, Jim Nelson and Jimmy Harber of Pasadena.

FREE COMPETITION VS. STATE CONTROL

We are embarking on a multi-billion dollar federal highway program, involving 41,000 miles of roads. And just how effectively motorists will be serviced along tomorrow's vast network of limited-access expressways will depend on whether fuel and other products are marketed competitively or under state control.

That observation is made by an officer of the Ohio Oil Company, writing in the American Petroleum Institute Quarterly. He points out that exclusive franchises awarded by the states along various toll roads have resulted in unfavorable conditions for the oil industry and the motoring public alike. The motorist found that he lost his choice brands on the new highway, that his credit card was frequently useless, and that, because of excessive royalties paid to the state, he had to pay more for his gas, oil and other supplies.

This authority believes that the need is for freedom of competition along the superhighways, whether or not they are part of the federal system—and that the only way that goal can be achieved is to keep all commercial enterprise on private property and off state-controlled rights-of-way. Their businesses of every size can compete for a share of the market, with the independent, the jobber, and the individual operator all given the chance to buy or lease a site on the approaches to the highway system.

In this, as in almost everything else, free competition will best guarantee the consumer maximum service at minimum cost. That is the American way.

NARROW MARGIN

A continual war is being fought between those who believe in the responsibility of local governments for local problems—and those who would forever extend the authority and duties of the federal government, at an almost unimaginable cost in money and in the infinitely more precious coin of liberty for the people. And, often, battles in this war are decided by the narrowness of margins.

An example is the federal school-aid bill which, in the view of many, would have been simply a prelude to sweeping federal control of local school systems. It was beaten in the House by only five votes—208 to 203.

An old and justly famous saying covers such matters—"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

POWER OF THE PRESS

A 81-year-old country newspaperman, Chet Lampson, editor of the weekly Jefferson Ohio Gazette, has provided the country with a dramatic example of the power of the press. Mr. Lampson's paper is small, and its power was exerted against one of the biggest organizations in existence—the U. S. Treasury Department. But David slew Goliath!

Here's what happened: Mr. Lampson received notice from the Internal Revenue Service demanding payment of an alleged income tax indebtedness of $9. The notice sent his blood pressure soaring. First of all, he didn't believe he owed the money. But that was a minor consideration. What really angered him was the insulting wording of the notice, and its threats of attachment of income and seizure of property unless the claim was paid at once.

Mr. Lampson didn't confine his views to the columns of his own paper. He wrote the President of the United States and various other officials, including members of Congress. He stated that, "No agency of Government should be allowed to insult any citizen, or deny him his constitutional rights or inflict cruel and unusual punishment on a mere assumption that the taxpayer is a willful violator of the income tax law." To make a long story short, Mr. Lampson got results. The Internal Revenue Service is changing the wording of its form, and you can bet that the new version will be couched in much more courteous language.

So a small-town newspaperman took up the cudgel against a branch of a great government—and won a battle that affects the rights and dignity of all our citizens. Honor to him!

CRUEL HOAX

J. Edgar Hoover ranks highway killings with major crimes such as kidnapping and armed robbery, and is convinced there should be an end to listing speeders and careless and reckless drivers as "petty offenders." Is a child killed by a kidnapper deadlier than one lifeless under a speeding car? he asks. Is a person crippled by an automobile less pitiable than a person permanently maimed by the gun of a robber?

He also finds that much of juvenile disrespect for law can often be traced to the "miserable examples" of adult motorists who "beat the law" on the highways and boast about outwitting traffic officers.

Farm Fire A Tragic Waste

Fire is bad business anytime and for everybody . . . but it's particularly bad on the farm where a family's livelihood and home are both at stake. When the barn above was totally destroyed by fire last year, the direct dollar loss to this Midwestern farm family was estimated to be $50,000. The real loss in terms of crippled earning power and one family's well-being can never be estimated. Total direct cost of fires to American farmers last year was estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture to be more than $150,000,000. The USDA and the National Fire Protection Association are co-sponsors of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13.

BOYCE HOUSE

Newspaper staffs have a lot more members than they used to have. When I "broke in", the Memphis Commercial Appeal had, if my memory is correct, only seven reporters—not counting me, as I was working only for experience. The city editor was Arthur Forbes and the assistant city editor was Fred Beneke, but he worked mainly as a reporter. Tom Fauntleroy was the "star" reporter. George Fossick had the courthouse run. Pat Brown was on the federal building and river assignment—and the river in those days teemed with steamboats. (He was hard of hearing but that did not seem to handicap him). The police reporter was named Penney. He resigned right after that with the announcement that he was going to Muskogee to work for a millionaire oil man—at $50 a week! (This was more than double his salary as a reporter). The seventh reporter was named Neeley.

Seven reporters to record the activities of a city of 150,000. And for "the South's greatest newspaper", too.

I became a salaried member of the staff as the result of a combination of circumstances: Penny's resignation, Neeley's taking a leave to handle the publicity for Congressman Kenneth McKeller in his successful race for the United States Senate, and the arrival of the summer vacation season.

The newspaper's society department had two members: they were the city editor's daughters, Herbert Caldwell and Al Wilson comprised the sports department. Bill Adler was telegraph editor; Ned Courtney was tri-state editor and George McCormack, the night editor, also aided on the copy desk. The editor was C. P. J. Mooney.

Mooney wrote the headlines for our own stories—though, in our enthusiasm, we might make the "heads" too prominent, in which case they were cut down. We worked six days a week and we worked until we got through a minimum of 10 hours a day.

The paper also had a market

People who can easily pay any price say:

"Pay more... what for? Ford's the buy!"

Why? Because this 1957 Ford gives you the advanced features, the solid ride, the effortless handling that you once expected to find only in expensive cars. And when it comes to looks, where can you find fresher styling than in the sculptured-in-steel lines of this new Ford?

Ford's superiority is evident in many places. In the vital rear axle, the pinion gear that turns the rear wheels is straddle-mounted . . . supported between two anti-friction bearings instead of being "overhung" from a single bearing. This makes operation quieter, smoother and longer-lasting. It's a feature that Ford shares with only one other car maker in the world—Rolls Royce.

Or consider Ford's famous V-8 engine. No other manufacturer in the industry today electronically balances every V-8 engine, while operating under its own power, the way that Ford does. This means you get a smoother-running engine—the finest V-8 in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership.

These are only a few of the features that indicate why so many people who can pay almost any price for a car—are buying Ford today. Action Test this great performing car at your Ford Dealer's just once and you, too, will ask, "Pay more . . . what for?"

YOU CAN SPEND HUNDREDS MORE . . . BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER THAN THE NEW KIND OF FORD

Easy to serve, easy to eat and a wholesome food, ice cream is everybody's dish. Even weight watchers are provided for with the low calorie versions now on the market.

With over 200 flavors to choose from, according to United States Department of Agriculture, scoops of ice cream heaped in a dish leave no room for improvement. For a little dressing up, sundaes are the answer. There are almost as many sundae sauces to choose from as there are ice cream flavors.

Chocolate, strawberry and butterscotch hold their own as favorite sundae sauces, but with variety the spice of life, it's a pleasant change to have some other now and then. Maple Walnut Sauce is a flavorful quickie. Boil 1 cup maple syrup over a medium gas flame for 5 minutes. Stir in 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts and continue boiling 1 to 2 minutes. Serve warm or cold. Makes 6 or 8 sundaes.

Right now is the time for Peach Sauce. Peel, stone and mash 6 very ripe peaches. Stir in 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 1/4 teaspoon almond extract. It's best to make as short a time as possible before serving. Store in gas refrigerator until serving time. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Good any time, but a real conversation piece after a Chinese dinner, is a Candied Ginger Sundae. To make the sauce, combine 1/2 cup honey, 1/4 cup hot water, 1/4 cup chopped almonds and 1/4 cup chopped candied ginger. Mix well and chill in gas refrigerator. Makes 6 to 8 sundaes.

Coffee ice cream is taking its place among best sellers and there are many who spoon a little coffee from the cup over ice cream when the two are served. Nothing wrong with either means to coffee flavor, but Coffee Sauce provides a deluxe route. Beat the yolks of 2 eggs with 2 tablespoons sugar until the mixture is creamy. Stir in 1/2 cup very strong coffee. Cook over low gas flame until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool to room temperature then chill in gas refrigerator.

Just before serving fold in 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and 1 cup whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 sundaes.

Receipt Of The Week

Praline Sauce: Combine in a saucepan 2 cups brown sugar (firmly packed), 1/4 cup water and 1/8 teaspoon salt. Heat over low gas flame until sugar is melted, stirring constantly. Stir in 1/2 cup heavy cream and 1/2 cup chopped pecans. Continue cooking until sauce is smooth, stirring constantly. Serve warm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollis, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—"Pedodontics" is a big word with a simple meaning—the care and treatment of children's teeth. A major part of pedodontics is preventative dentistry, and preventative dentistry for the very young is one great hope for a realistic solution to our dental woes.

If a child's teeth are properly cared for up to age 15, a strong foundation has been laid for minimizing dental troubles in later years.

At about 6 months of age the four front teeth—two upper and two lower—begin to peek out. These front teeth are incisors, the cutting teeth. By age 7 to 11 months, four more teeth, upper and lower, start to come in. These are the lateral incisors at either side of the central teeth.

Then Mother Nature wisely skips a few spaces in order to properly shape the jaw. In 12 to 16 months, the back teeth or molars, come in. Then the cuspids show to fill in the space between. At about 24 months, the second molars come in.

Up to this point all teeth which have erupted are primary teeth, and although temporary they are vital. They help shape the face help the youngster learn to speak distinctly, and help him nutritionally.

While all this is going on, the permanent teeth are slowly de-

YARBOROUGHS GREET TEXAS STATE DELEGATES

The first permanent teeth to erupt are molars—sometimes called "six-year" molars simply because they emerge at about age 6. Because they do not replace the first teeth but come in just behind them, these molars tend to confuse parents who think they are also temporary teeth.

This error can lead to unfortunate consequences. Since the "six-year" molars are permanent teeth, they will not be replaced if lost.

Family dentists strongly emphasize the importance of watching for the six-year molars. They are important to the structure of the mouth. The manner in which they interlock with their opposite teeth will determine the eventual shape of the jaw, facial contour and regularity of alignment of other teeth.

Because of their importance, these first permanent teeth are often referred to as the "keystone of the dental arch."

The strength or weakness of adult dental health—barring loss of teeth through accidents—can invariably be traced to habits of preventative dentistry learned or left unlearned in childhood. And when it comes to preventative dentistry, the pedodontist is a child's best friend.

Miss Linda Lee Alexander, Kenneth Dean Searcey Marry In Church Rites

Miss Linda Lee Alexander and Kenneth Dean Searcey solemnized double ring wedding vows Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor, was officiating minister.

Dr. and Mrs. Delmon E. Alexander of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Searcey of Dallas are parents of the couple.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of pale blue chantilly lace over taffeta with fitted bodice, bouffant skirt and high neckline with three-quarter length tapered sleeves. Her accessories were pale pink, and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli centered with a pink carnation atop a white prayer book.

Mrs. Jackie Robinson of Waco, aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a pink brocade dress and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Howard Smith played the organ as Mrs. W. O. Ratliff sang. David Moore of Goree was best man. James David Gaither and Neil Neighbors were ushers.

Reception was in the home of the bride's parents. An archway of greenery and baskets of gladioli were the decorations. Supper was served buffet style. The bride's table was covered with a green lace cloth with a basket of white gladioli gracing one end while the beautiful wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom served as the center piece.

Fowler explained the general operations of the TEC with special emphasis on the farm activities, and the position and policy of the TEC in the Wage Survey procedure. Assist Fort Worth District Director Joe K. Manahan joined in the discussion. Fowler reviewed Public Law 78, 82nd Congress, as amended in July, 1957, which permits the importation of Mexican Nationals into these areas in which sufficient citizen workers are not available to meet the needs of farmers or ranchers. The method employed by the TEC in determining local labor demands and crop conditions, and the procedure followed in contracting Mexican National workers were discussed. Fowler explained how the TEC determines the supply of available citizen workers and the shortage of workers, if any. This estimate of labor shortage anticipated in the area, the number of workers needed to offset the shortage, and the time when the additional workers will be needed is submitted to the Secretary of Labor. The TEC gathers the information, but the responsibility of Certification of Shortage rests with the Secretary of Labor who also establishes the ceiling.

Fowler pointed out that Public Law 78 requires a bi-weekly survey in each county in which Mexican Nationals are employed. Again the TEC serves only to collect the information in behalf of the Secretary of Labor. The TEC representative contacts the farmers, crew leaders, and workers for information on wages actually paid citizen labor in specific areas and crop activities in which Mexican Nationals are employed. The TEC does not attempt to determine what the wages should be. This Agency merely collects the data and sends it to the Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., where the determination is made. Under Law, the Secretary of Labor is responsible for determining the prevailing wage rate. When this determination is made, the findings are wired to the TEC offices serving the area. Copies of such reports will be posted in the post offices, the County Court-house, PMA offices and Chamber of Commerce in each county. Local newspapers will also be furnished the information.

Mrs. Joe Butler of Wichita Falls visited relatives here last Monday. Her daughter, Barbara, who spent last week in Goree, returned home with her.

Benjamin Man Gins First Bale Of 1957 Cotton

Eddie Shaver of Benjamin ginned Knox County's first bale of 1957 cotton on Monday, August 26.

Shaver, who farms west of Benjamin, planted the Lankart 57 seed between April 12 and 15, getting the cotton planted just ahead of the rainy spell.

The 2,000 pounds of seed cotton ginned out a 500-pound bale and produced 820 pounds of seed. It was ginned at the Cotton Growers Co-op Gin in Knox City. Shaver serves as manager of the gin.

Mr. Shaver brought in his second bale about noon Wednesday, August 28.

Cotton Defoliation Guide Is Available

This year's last cotton crop and high rainfall may make cotton defoliation even more important in most sections of the state, according to Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist. But this does not apply to the High Plains area where they need all of the maturity they can get to beat frost, he adds.

In the rest of the state where farmers must meet the pink bollworm deadline, the specialist says that defoliation will probably be necessary. In the sections of South Texas, the Gulf Coast and Central Texas where strippers are to be used, it is a must.

In Central Texas, the small plants and dry weather usually make it possible to use a stripper with only light defoliation. But with this year's increased rainfall, the plants are larger and Elliott says that defoliation may have to be used.

A publication just released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, "Cotton Defoliation Guide for Texas," gives much information on the 1957 use of defoliants.

Included in this leaflet is a helpful chart that covers such points as the name of the defoliant, its chemical name, per cent active ingredients, rate per acre and dilution information. The bulletin also tells when to apply the defoliant and contains sections on cautions and care of equipment.

Copies are available from local county agents or the Agricultural Information office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-145.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cooksey returned home Monday from a vacation trip to Ruidoso, N. M., and Clovis where they attended the annual steer roping.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

Not many of us want to give away money to anybody. The Federal gift tax regulations allow a husband and wife in a community property state to give $3,000 each tax free during any one year.

If you happen to have more money than you can use and you have a son who has a wife and five children, Mama and Papa together can give the son and family as much as $42,000 per year without owing any gift tax. Maybe the would-be givers should see a good tax practitioner on this!

THE ECONOMIC PRESSURE ON FARMS

The story of the cost-price squeeze on the nation's farmers has gradually slipped from the front pages of the newspapers. It has been an economic reality so long that it just isn't news anymore.

But it is still with the farmers, just the same. Somehow, the charts and graphs of rising prices and falling farm prices just doesn't have the same dramatic impact—except to those who are suffering from its effects.

Eliminating the cold charts for a moment, here's what it means to its victims:

Five years ago, it took 951 bushels of wheat at $2.06 a bushel to buy a 20-29 tractor at $1,960. Today, it takes 1,130 bushels at the prevailing price of $1.91 to buy that same tractor at the current cost of $2,160. This represents 179 more bushels of wheat the farmer must raise to get that tractor.

Here are a few more startling examples.

CORN: In 1952, 147 bushels at $1.73 bought a 2 bottom plow at $255. Today it takes 214 bushels at $1.22 for the same plow at $262, or 67 more bushels.

RYE: 1952, 866 bushels at $1.72 for a combine at $1,490. Today, 1,528 bushels at $1.04 for the combine at $1,590, or 662 more bushels.

MILK: 1952, 447 cwt. at $4.38 for a two-ton truck at $1,960. Today, 744 cwt. at $3.84 for the truck at $2,860 or an increase of 297 cwt., amounting to 2,650 more gallons.

MILK COWS: 1952, seven head at $254 to buy that $1,960 two-ton truck. Today, 17 head at $163 for that truck now costing $2,860, or 10 more head.

EGGS: 1952, 390 dozen at $0.338 for a wringer-type electric washer at $132. Today, 562 dozen at $0.249 for same washer now costing $140, an increase of 172 dozen.

These few figures bring home the fact that the farmer must produce a great deal more at a reduced price to buy commodities which have increased in cost. It shows better than any chart how inflation combines with steadily falling farm prices to put a strangling squeeze on our farmers.

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

School Bus Safety Laws

Thousands of school children will soon be trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule probably outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing and intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of on-coming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.

(This column, based on Federal law and prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Whether you are a city housewife or a rural homemaker, chances are you fight the battle of the dust. Dust and dirt carried in the air and on the soles of shoes is a constant source of danger to your precious carpeting that was a major expense.

The daily amount of dust that settles in your home may be bothersome yet seem insignificant. It's sometimes easier to ignore it than fight it. However, surveys show that the average six room house collects 108 pounds of dirt a year. Servicemaster, the national home care organization, makes these suggestions to help the housewife keep this loose soil from becoming imbedded in her carpeting and ruining or dulling the beauty of her furnishings.

Your entire carpet should be vacuumed twice a week normally and daily in entrance ways and traffic areas. Concentrate on one small area, vacuum back and forth over it several times, and then move on to another area. There are fiber freshening solutions on the market that the homeowner can use in addition to vacuuming and in between professional cleanings that will reduce surface soil. These solutions can be applied by hand to small areas and furniture. Larger areas can be cleaned more efficiently by using a carpet brush filled with a cleaning solution.

Servicemaster, further points out that you should give spots and stains prompt attention before they have a chance to set and do permanent damage. Since no one cleaning solution will remove all types of spots it is desirable to keep a carpet and furniture spot removing kit handy.

Yearly professional cleaning is a recommended must. A professional specialist will come into your home and clean your carpeting on-location or pick up your loose rugs and take them to his cleaning plant.

It is important that you get the best professional care you can for your carpeting. So when it is time for your yearly cleaning, go back to your carpet dealer and he can give you service and advice.

Knox Prairie Philosopher's Spirits Soar, Then Droop, Over Proposal To Cut Down On Spending By Washington

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek must be behind with his taxes, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor:
Life is sometimes full of queer turns in the road. You think you're getting something you've been wanting, and it turns out it wasn't that at all.

For example, I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon wandering around sizing up the month of September and figuring what I could get out of it when my foot got tangled up with an open section of a newspaper which I hadn't noticed as I was looking off into space at the time and I found by lifting my foot I could pick it up without bending much so I got hold of it and kept going toward the shade tree I was heading for and sat down and read.

The thing that caught my eye immediately was an article out of Washington saying President Eisenhower was recommending that the Federal government give up some of its taxing powers.

Now this was just what I have been looking for. Everybody talks about high taxes, the national debt, and more and more spending, but here was a concrete proposal for putting a stop to some Federal spending. If the Federal government stops taking part of our money, it'd sure have to stop spending it. Tax relief is what everybody needs. Always have. Probably always will.

But then I read on, and here's what I found out: what the Federal government is proposing is that it stop collecting some taxes and let the states collect em.

Frankly, that's not what I had
