Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"Once it gets into the hands of the U. S. Post Office Department, it will come through."

This remark was made to us Monday by L. B. Patterson, who exhibited a wrapper from a newspaper he had received. It came through, all right, and Mr. Bert may be still wondering just how it did. The paper was dated August 16, 1955—and, according to him, was just a little over two years coming from De Leon.

They came from far and wide for the first Goree homecoming last Saturday, and the crowds exceeded all expectations. They had us print a bunch of tickets for the homecoming feed, then ran out and placed a rush order for more tickets.

They came from long distances and by almost every means of modern transportation. One ex-student flew to Wichita Falls and was met there by relatives who brought him on to Goree for the celebration.

Coming the greatest, we were told, were Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCauley, both ex-students, who came from some point in Oregon—a total of 2,300 miles.

Crowning of the homecoming queen was a surprise event, and we imagine no one was more surprised than the queen herself, Mrs. H. D. Arnold, who has been more or less associated with the school for over 40 years. And we can say it couldn't have happened to a nicer person.

Our own J. H. Bardwell—we call him ours now, since he's been with the local school a number of years—must have been in his full glory at the homecoming. Mr. Bardwell taught in the Goree schools for some 20 years, and many of those returning for the reunion were those he "tutored" through their difficult years.

"It's raining just like we wanted it to do two months ago," said one farmer during the heaviest of last Monday night's downpour—but the thing of it was, he didn't want it that way now. "I sure hate to see it," said another who had cotton ready to be picked, "but we learned long ago to take it as it comes."

"I was unlucky and lucky, too," said H. C. Claburn after reviewing his damage on Tuesday. "Pickers had just gone over my field, and I had very few open bolls."

What's damaging to some is helpful to others. Moisture can be made without clouds, and wheat farmers who are depending on the elements to supply the moisture will soon be putting this small grain into the ground.

Those dark colored glasses Judge M. F. Billingsley is wearing are for protective, not decorative, purposes. Judge returned home the latter part of last week after a stay in a Wichita Falls hospital, where he underwent an operation on one of his eyes. He says he's getting along "pretty good" and we expect him to be back to normal soon.

Once every four or five years, they say, is as often as these small towns can come up with a winning football team, and the activities of the Moguls, Iowa Park, Holliday and Archer City, which had good teams last year, seem to bear out that belief. We've heard some express doubt if the Moguls will win a game this year, but we're going to venture a guess—we'll win over Chilliwothe on Friday night.

CATTLE SHIPPED FROM SAN ANGELO AREA

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Moorhouse spent several days last week in San Angelo, and Mr. Moorhouse and son, Deaton, shipped cattle out of Richland Springs, San Saba, and Eldorado, and some sheep from Blackwell.

They stated good young cattle and sheep are very scarce these days with lots of demand for them. Mr. Moorhouse says he has more buyers for stocker cattle than he can find.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bowden were Mr. and Mrs. Riley Brooks and children of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bowden and daughter of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Beecher of Dimmitt.

Golden Reunion Of Goree School Is Held Saturday; Old Times Discussed

"Back on the good old days" was the conservation last Saturday as Goree High School observed its first reunion of ex-students, which was also the golden anniversary of the school. The curtain on this first reunion was pulled down Saturday night after ex-student officers were elected and the next reunion date set for 1960.

Almost every Goree class from 1907 to the present was represented at the two-day celebration. The Goree school was founded that year, and the event was a golden jubilee.

More than 500 guests were served dinner Saturday night, while an estimated 750-800 persons attended the Saturday afternoon program at the school.

Officers named during the business session who will head the old grads are Walter Coffman, re-elected president; Mrs. Billy Hutchens, first vice president; George Hunt, second vice president; Mrs. Lee Patterson, secretary; Sam Hampton, treasurer.

During the program Mrs. H. D. Arnold was crowned surprise homecoming queen. She was one of the first graduates, about the class of 1913, and is now teaching the first grade. Her husband, a former superintendent, was associated with the Goree schools about 30 years.

Homecoming started Friday night with a pep rally and bonfire. A special display of twirling fire batons was given by pep squad majorettes.

Open house was held Saturday morning in Goree schools, with visitors inspecting the new grade school cafeteria and homemaking buildings. Improvements have also been made to the high school.

At the Saturday afternoon program, Walter Coffman, homecoming committee chairman, introduced Gene Heard, master of ceremonies. Heard a Goree graduate, is now with a Houston TV station.

City Supt. of Schools, J. B. Lawson gave the welcome. George Hunt, school board president, delivered the opening prayer. Entertainment was provided by a girls quartet, Mona Mobley, Sherry King, Dona Jetton and Linda Joyce Hendon, with pianist DeLores Lambeth. Connie Bingham led the group in singing with Pearl Falls as pianist.

Emcee Heard introduced and reviewed all graduating classes. J. H. Bardwell, former teacher for 20 years, introduced ex-teachers and board members, while James Carver, principal, recognized former lettermen and coaches. At the pep rally, cheer-leaders Tommy Harlan, Joe Moore, Brenda Hutchens and Ruby Hammons led the yell, closing with the school song.

Homecoming wound up with the six-man conference game against Benjamin.

STUDENT — Miss Barbara G. Fields, daughter of Mrs. Dessie Fields of Munday, recently enrolled at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene for the fall term. She is a 1956 graduate of Wichita Falls high school. She has not chosen her major field of study; however, she is contemplating a minor in interior decorating.

Cellar Teams To Meet Here On Friday Night

Despite the fact that the local schools are closed because of illness, the Munday Moguls' football activities will go on as usual. The Moguls and the Chilliwothe Eagles, two teams holding cellar positions in the conference thus far, will meet in a conference game here on Friday night. These two teams, as well as Holliday and Iowa Park, have yet to win a game in the season's play.

Last week, while the Moguls dropped their game to Paducah, 20-0, the Eagles were suffering a 32-0 defeat at the hands of Archer City. Crowell downed Iowa Park 46-0, and Throckmorton defeated Holliday 24-12.

Mogul fans will be on hand Friday night to urge their team toward their first victory of the season.

Masons To Meet At Goree Tuesday

The regular meeting of the 91st Masonic District Association will be held at Goree next Tuesday night, with the Goree and Munday lodges serving as host lodges. Masons are expected to attend from the following lodges of the association: Seymour, Benjamin, Knox City, Rochester, Rule, Haskell, Throckmorton, Woodson and the host lodges.

A delicious dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., at the school cafeteria.

District Attorney A. W. Davis of Paducah will be the principal speaker.

School Closes Because Of Flu

That old flu—either Asian or some other type—reached almost epidemic proportions in the Munday Public Schools early this week and caused the schools to be closed.

Supt. W. C. Cox said Tuesday that fewer students attended classes each day, and several went home each day, because of the illness. Since the disease is weakening and could result in pneumonia, it was thought advisable to discontinue classes. A few cases of pneumonia was reported.

Mr. Cox said school was closed on Tuesday afternoon, and classes will be resumed next Monday morning.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

Verticillium Wilt, a fungus disease similar in many ways to Fusarium Wilt, is causing heavy damage to some cotton fields southwest of Munday. This disease has followed irrigated cotton northward and westward across Texas, and is much more incidious in its action than is cotton root rot, mainly because cotton of Verticillium Wilt requires conditions and practices that tend to promote the spread of cotton root rot.

The Verticillium Wilt fungus favors cool weather for development, whereas cotton root rot favors hot weather. Frequent light irrigations to prevent excessive cooling of the ground aid in controlling Verticillium Wilt, but promote the growth of cotton root rot. Any cultural practice that aids in raising the soil temperature helps control this disease, such as summer fallowing or planting on top of the bed. Rotations that include a small grain following summer fallow also are beneficial.

Characteristics of Verticillium Wilt are a shedding of the leaves and small bolls, beginning at the bottom and gradually moving up the plant. On cutting the stem in two, a cross-section will reveal a brown flecked appearance of the normally white woody stem. Losses from this disease will range upward to 50 per cent on heavily infested soils.

Benjamin FFA Wins Area Judging Honors

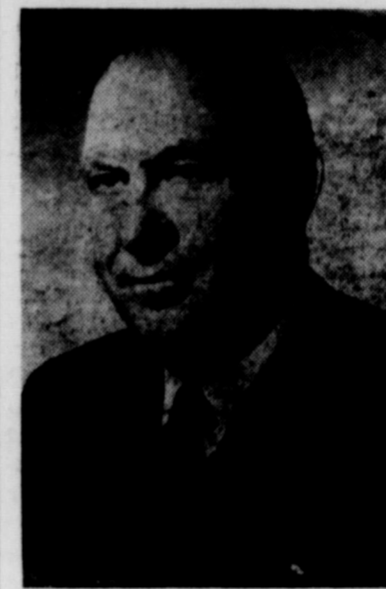

The Benjamin FFA grass judging team scored 1,049 points out of a possible 1,080 to win first honors in the grass judging contest at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair on Saturday, September 28.

Second place team was Quanah FFA with a score of 996, and Tioga FFA chapter took third with 987 points.

Benjamin also had first, third and fourth high individuals in the contest. Jim Cox of the Benjamin team made a perfect score for top individual honors.

Twenty-one teams competed in the contest which was sponsored by the Little Wichita Soil Conservation District. Ray Stine, chairman of the board of supervisors, presented banners to the top teams, and engraved plaques were awarded each of the five high individuals.

DIRECTOR — Chester L. May, senior vice president of Lone Star Gas Co., Dallas, was re-elected a director of the American Gas Association at the 39th annual convention in St. Louis recently. His two-year term will expire in October, 1959. Mr. May was made vice president of Lone Star in 1942, in charge of distribution. He was elected to the board of directors in 1949, and five years later was elected senior vice president.

Oil Activities

E. J. Moran of Dallas has completed two wells in the D-K (Upper Tenehill) Field, six miles northeast of Goree. No. 1 Thurman pumped 91.06 barrels of 35 gravity oil per day from pay perforated at 1682-96 feet. Total depth was 1730, and gas-oil ratio was 490-1.

No. 2 Bertha Mae Haskin has a daily pumping potential of 80.02 barrels of crude from perforations at 1684-1700 feet. Total depth was 1741, and gas-oil ratio was 300-1.

Another new completion has been reported in the Plumlee (Second Tenehill) Field of the county. Arnold H. Bruner and Co., and L. H. and C. E. Williams No. 8 L. W. Hobert, two miles north of Munday had a daily pumping potential of 90.90 barrels of 34.6 gravity oil, plus 30 per cent water, from pay perforated at 1897-1907 feet. Total depth was 2080, and gas-oil ratio was 168-1.

PULLING LEATHER

This convict rider shows great skill and balance in the Saddle Bronc Bustin' Contest, one of the many thrilling features of the 26th annual Texas Prison Rodeo in the prison's million-dollar stadium at Huntsville. The rodeo is held each Sunday during October beginning at 2 p.m.

That rain which farmers were looking for and hoping for two months ago, or more, came last Monday night and with it much destruction because of hail and heavy wind.

Hail, which fell during the heavy rainstorm, brought heavy damage to maturing crops in several sections of the county—at Truscott, Vera, east of Rhineland and an irrigated area between Munday and Goree. Hundreds of acres of cotton and maize, which was just about ready for the combines, were damaged by the storm.

The worst area for the county, reported by Jess Gilpin, ASC office manager at Knox City, was about a mile wide and about 20 miles long through the county's crop producing area. Farmers estimate a loss of from 50 to 100 per cent on cotton and feed crops.

The damaged area began at Gilliland and lay to the southeast through the Vera, Rhineland and Hefner communities, and the area between Munday and Goree. Among farms east of Munday and near Goree with crops reportedly heavily damaged were B. E. Smith, Vernon Routon, Tom Harlan, Dewey Melton, H. C. Claburn, Pete Beecher, Elbridge Coffman and others.

Other farmers reporting losses are: Ollie Ilseng and Omar Cure, Gilliland; Dude Coffman, Goree; John Spann, Munday; Phillip Homer and C. H. Herring, Rhineland; Milton Ford and Calvin Christian, Vera; V. F. Routon, Clifford Rhodes, Andy Hutchinson and Clyde Taylor, Munday.

Trees were uprooted in the Goree area and rainfall ranged from three inches at Goree to more than four inches west of town. The storm struck this area between 7 and 7:30 p.m.

Cotton was stripped of leaves and practically all the bolls were damaged. Maize heads were shattered on the side facing the storm.

Two Mexican farm workers were injured when hail pounded a wide area around Gilliland and Truscott. The two were treated at the Knox City Clinic after they were caught in the hailstorm near Gilliland. "Big as baseballs."

The strip between Munday and Goree which bore the brunt of the storm was reported about two miles wide, extending on both sides of the highway.

The heavy rain washed "chug holes" out of the ballast on half a mile of railroad track of the Burlington Lines, according to M. H. Dean, depot agent at Munday. The damage did not delay trains Tuesday, but repair crews began work of repairing the damage.

Irrigated cotton not damaged by the hail was reported heavily twisted and matted by the rain and hard winds.

Very little hail fell at Munday, but some residences, outbuildings and TV antennas were damaged by wind.

County Divided Into 4 Areas For '60 Census

In a joint program with the State of Texas and each of its counties, the Bureau of the Census is establishing areas, known as "Census County Divisions," for use in statistical reporting. Similar areas were established in the State of Washington prior to the 1950 Census, and since 1950 have been put into effect in eleven other States.

Mr. James R. Kirby, a member of the Census Staff, is here from Washington to consult with county officials and solicit their advice in regard to the proposed areas for Knox County.

The proposed Census County Divisions should be particularly useful for local administrative purposes. The Census County Divisions are generally larger in area and population than the Justices' or Commissioner's precincts; they have clear-cut boundaries which can be easily identified; and they are intended to remain as permanent areas. For the most part, they are based on the communities which serve as the focal point of each area. The statistical data for these divisions will serve as a yardstick with which to measure the sphere of influence exercised by such communities. It is believed that the Census County Divisions will be a handy tool for the use of county officials, local newspapers, and business and civic organizations.

Mr. Kirby said that the county divisions set up by the Bureau of the Census will not interfere in any way with the use of Justices' or Commissioner's precincts by the State or counties.

For Census purposes Knox County has been divided into 4 Census County Divisions. They are at Benjamin, Goree, Knox City and Munday.

"MUSTS" FOR INVESTMENT

Who should put a part of their savings in the stocks of American corporations? Wealthy people only? Or people of moderate means as well? A good many million people of moderate means have answered these questions for themselves and acted affirmatively. Today two out of every three shareowners have incomes of under $7,500 a year. And the number grows at a steady pace.

Stock purchasing is not a thing to enter blindly or in a rush. Provision should be made against family contingencies, in the form of life insurance, a reasonable cash backlog, and so on. Then, once a man or woman decides it is time to invest, certain steps are "musts." No one should ever buy on tips and rumors—these turn out to be wrong far more frequently than they are right. The big thing is to get the facts and that is easier than you may think. Any broker who is associated with a member of the New York Stock Exchange has the information you need. He'll gladly discuss investment plans with you, then, if you so desire, act as your agent in buying or selling securities at a modest service cost.

Moreover, there's no need to start out in a big way. A monthly investment plan has been in force for several years under which you can invest as little as $40 a quarter and build up your holdings on a pay-as-you-go basis. And this plan differs in one vital particular from ordinary installment buying. If, for any reason, you abandon it, you'll still get the full amount of securities you've paid for.

FIRST LOOK

Two recent news items from widely separated regions are of unusual interest.

An Oregon newspaper asked the general manager of a New York company owning a metallurgical plant in Oregon about projected expansion plans. The manager said the plans were under discussion, but would develop slowly pending adoption by Oregon of a "realistic economic program, taxwise."

At about the same time, Pennsylvania announced that it was putting into effect a special and favorable tax law designed "to attract new industry."

Moral: States and communities looking for job-creating new enterprises had better take a long analytical look at their tax structures first.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK

You'll be hearing a lot about oil during the October 13-19 period. That is when the 1957 Oil Progress Week will be observed, and the oil men will make their report to the nation they serve.

We live in a nation on wheels—and oil makes all these wheels turn. There is a car for every three Americans, and today there are more than 181,700 service stations to meet the vast needs of motoring America. And gasoline is a real bargain. Since 1925, its cost has risen only 12.1 per cent—far less than for most commodities. On top of that, quality has markedly improved, to the point where today's premium gasoline is comparable to the aviation fuels used in World War II.

In agriculture, oil has been a sparkplug of a revolution that has transformed the arts of tilling the soil. A century ago, when oil-powered machinery didn't exist, one farmer could produce enough to feed five people. Now he can produce enough to feed 19.

The list of valuable products in daily use that derive from oil literally runs into the thousands. The gamut is extraordinarily varied—from cosmetics to medicines to synthetics and so on. New ones are constantly being found in the research laboratories. And every time that happens, life in this country becomes a little richer, a little pleasanter, a little more comfortable.

Facts such as these will be stressed during the Week. They're worth hearing.

WRITING ON THE WALL

It is significant that a distinguished Democratic Senator, Lausche of Ohio, and a distinguished Republican Senator, Knowland of California, have both spoken out in favor of right-to-work laws—laws which give each individual the privilege of deciding for himself whether he shall join or not join a union, and guarantee him the right to his job in either case.

There is writing on the wall in the action of these Senators. More and more people, in and out of government, now see that corruption and bad practices in the unions stem directly from monopoly power—the power to tell a man that he must join and take union's orders or go hungry. Not until that power is exercised and this form of "involuntary servitude" is legally forbidden, will it be possible to cleanse the unions of the crook, the racketeer, the goon, and the dictators.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

This is the time of year for week-end guests, after-the-game crowds, after-school groups, morning coffee sessions, all kinds of visiting and entertaining. All this activity means snacks with hot and cold beverages are much in demand.

The warm days of fall call for cooling thirst quenchers, especially for the after-school folks. Milk is usually preferred, but fruit juice is refreshing and packed with vitamins. Apricot nectar with the juice of a fresh lime stirred into each glass is delicious. Make note of Halloween and serve it with chocolate cookies.

As days get a little nippy hot drinks will please. Serve hot apple juice or hot apple cider with a stick of cinnamon in each cup for a stirrer. On the sweet side, ginger cookies go well, otherwise cheese snacks give good flavor combination. An easy-to-fix member of the cheese snack family is cheese butter. Combine 1/2 cup butter or margarine and 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese or snappy cheese spread. Mix until smooth. Spread the mixture on crackers or toast strips and slide them under a full gas broiler flame for just a minute or two.

A variety of snack butters can make an appetizer or refreshment tray interesting. For egg butter combine 1/2 cup butter or margarine 4 hard-cooked egg yolks and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Make chili butter by combining 1/2 cup butter or margarine and 1/4 cup drained chili sauce. Olive butter is made with 1/2 cup butter or margarine and 1/4 cup minced ripe or green

Watch Out For The Witchweed

A cluster of small reddish flowers on low-growing weeds may spell death to a corn crop in a matter of days.

Witchweed, a parasitic plant that attacks primarily corn, plus a few other crops, has been found in the United States.

Although the weed has not yet come to Texas, farmers are warned that it can thrive in the South and Southwest. At present, it is believed to be confined to about 38,000 acres near the coast in North and South Carolina, but all areas have been alerted to be on the lookout.

Farmers are asked to watch for an unfamiliar weed with bright green, slightly hairy leaves and the bright, generally reddish flowers. First discovered in the Carolinas in the fall of 1956, it is known that the plant can spread rapidly.

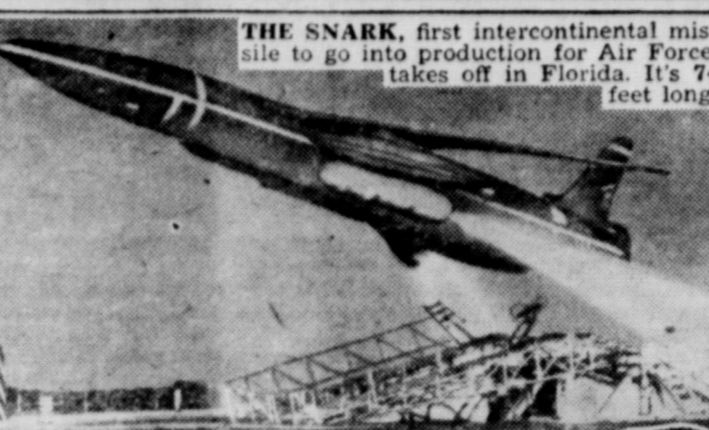

Symptoms of this parasite resemble damage done by acute drought; the corn plants are stunted, wilt quickly and turn yellow. The witchweed accomplishes its work with a vast network of fast-growing roots which entwine with roots of the host plant. This mass of witchweed root chokes off the food and water supply of its host, starving it and making fruitation almost impossible.

The first witchweed blooms usually appear in June and will continue to bloom until frost. The flower is small and usually brick red, although it can be scarlet, yellowish-red, yellowish or even almost white.

Any farmer suspecting the presence of this plant should notify his county agent. The agent can arrange for positive identification and suggest measures for eradication. Witchweed plants or seed SHOULD NOT BE MOVED from the field, since the minute seeds are easily spread. And one plant can produce up to half a million tiny seeds.

Stock Certificates, Capital Required To Start Corporate Business

Every corporation organized under the Texas Business Corporation Act is required to deliver stock certificates to its shareholders.

And, as a protection to corporate creditors, a certain minimum amount must be received by a corporation for the issuance of shares of stock before it commences to transact business.

Formerly, a corporation was required to have received $1,000 or ten per cent of its total capitalization, whichever was greater. However, the 1957 amendments to the Texas Business Corporation Act have removed the second requirement. Now it is only necessary that a minimum amount of $1,000 have been received for the issuance of shares before the corporation commences business.

There is no requirement that the organizers earmark any money at all for the corporation before filing the articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The requirements are merely that the minimum be received by the corporation before it commences business.

As amended, the Corporation Act permits a corporation to use a reasonable amount of the proceeds received from the sale of its stock to pay organizational and sales expenses without thereby rendering the stock subject to further assessment.

The price to be paid to the corporation for its shares is fixed by its board of directors, subject to the restriction that it be in an amount at least equal to the par value of the shares. The directors may also specify whether payment must be made in cash, or whether payment may be in the form of property or labor performed for the benefit of the corporation.

Stock certificates must be signed by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary of the corporation, or by such other corporate officers as may be specified in the bylaws. If the certificate is countersigned by a registrar or transfer agent, facsimile signatures of the corporate officers may be used.

On the certificates must appear certain formal statements such as the name of the stockholder, the name of the corporation and the number of shares. They must also contain a statement of any preferences afforded to any class of shares, any restrictions on the transfers of the shares, and any provisions denying preemptive rights to the stockholders.

As a result of the 1957 amendments to the Texas Business Corporation Act, these statements may be made in full or in summary form or there may merely be a reference on the stock certificate to the document in which a full statement can be found.

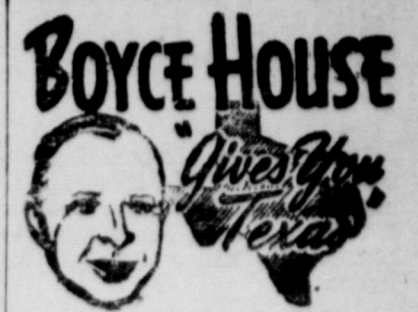

Stock certificates are not required to be in any particular form. They need not even be typewritten or printed so long as they contain the statements required by the statute.

LOCALS

Mrs. H. H. Cowan and Miss Merle Dingus visited Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Boynton in Springtown last Sunday.

Deaton Moorhouse of Amarillo was a visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse last Friday and Saturday.

Back in the 1920's when I was editor of the Eastland paper, that city had a citizen who was destined to international fame. He was Harry Johnson, district superintendent of a major oil company. He had entered World War I as a private and came out with a commission. He continued active in the reserve and, in World War II, became a major general and was military governor of Rome.

He was one of the most popular men in Eastland, jolly and a "jollier." In the Lions Club, he was always proposing or opposing something just for the fun of it. One day, a lawyer-member moved that Johnson be suspended from membership. Another attorney seconded the motion. Someone else objected and rapped the two lawyers and the legal profession in general.

The chief justice of the court of civil appeals arose, declared if any member of the club felt that way about the legal profession, he was resigning and then stalked angrily from the hall. The district governor, a member of the club, was present and kept trying to inform all and sundry that a member could not be suspended but no one gave the slightest attention to him.

Johnson obtained the floor, paid his respects to the author of the resolution and stalked out.

The attorney who had introduced the motion hastily explained to the club that he had intended it as a joke. Committees were sent to inform the departed brethren back. Johnson was waiting at the foot of the stairs and was chucking for he had sensed it was only a prank; but the chief justice had returned to his office and considerable argument was required to convince him that the calling of Coke and Blackstone had not been affronted.

Such was the most memorable episode in the Eastland career of the future governor of the city of the Caesars.

Everton B. Hosea of Sterling City spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Hosea. His wife and son, who spent the past week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Coffman in Goree, returned home with him.

Mrs. Troy Denham and children of Luaders were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Leland Hannah.

Out of town guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Haynie, Sr., were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Richmond and children of Carlsbad, N. M., Miss Janie Hanie of Fort Worth, Lloyd Haynie of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Butch McCannies of Benjamin.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Browning on Wednesday night of last week were Mrs. Browning's grandmother, Mrs. Howe, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Weed, all of Glendale, Ariz.

There's Color, Fun At The Fair, You Can Capture It All On Film

By ARTHUR W. SEDLER
Technical Editor, Eastman Kodak Company

Ever think of lassoing the whole big State Fair of Texas? Like to bring it back home with you complete in all its color, action and thrills?

This is easy. Just take your camera along. Advance planning and careful use of your still or movie camera will let you capture the Fair and hold it for years on film.

Here's some simple advice to help you make better pictures at the State Fair:

The first suggestion is important to a good cook or a seasoned traveler as well as a photographer: plan ahead. What you've read about the Fair will provide good ideas of what you'll want to see and photograph. Decide on the sequence of pictures you'll take at the Fair. Later on, this sequence will tell a complete story about the day your family spent at the Fair. And to make it a complete story, plan to take pictures before and after your actual stay at the Fair. Snaps, slides or movies of the family getting ready for the Fair should be included as well as pictures of the sleepy children arriving home at the end of an enjoyable day.

Be sure you're equipped to take good pictures. If the family camera has been on a shelf for several months perhaps it should be checked by a photo dealer. You can have this done at the same time you buy enough film to shoot all the pictures you'll want at the Fair.

Take enough pictures. The professional photographer often shoots several hundred negatives on one job. To be sure, this is more than the family snapshotter will need, but by "overshooting" you'll be sure to have all the pictures that will tell your story. Too often, the "perfect picture" is spoiled because its subject blinked his eyes or a stranger walked in front of the camera.

Many of the finest pictures you'll find at the Fair will come up fast. You'll see and shoot . . . to capture fast action or a charming expression. Keep the camera ready for instant use.

Other shots should be carefully arranged. But when posing people, don't make their presence in the picture meaningless. A straight line of people looking at the camera is uninteresting and unrelated to what's going on at the Fair. Have the family watch some one of the Fair's attractions when you snap their picture. Compose adults and children in different poses. And vary your camera angle and distance too. Shoot some pictures from eye-level, others from a kneeling position or get up high and look down at the subjects. Try close-ups of facial expressions, tight group shots and long-range pictures to achieve variety.

Some of the most exciting activities at the Fair take place indoors and at night. Here's where you'll probably need to use flash. A tiny flash bulb packs a lot of action-stopping light. Even in daylight flash can be an effective means to better pictures. It fills in the shadows of facial expressions, makes outdoor photos extra snappy. A supply of blue bulbs is convenient to carry when you're shooting Kodachrome or Ektachrome transparencies outdoors.

How about exposures . . . what lens opening and shutter speed to use? There's a wide range of cameras and films on the market today and the best general advice is to follow the manufacturer's instructions which are enclosed in each carton of film.

At the State Fair of Texas, you have a center where photographic experts are on hand to answer any and all questions about picture-taking. Drop by and ask for the answers at the Kodak Photographic Information Center, General Exhibits Building.

VETERANS LAND BONDS SALES MORE FAVORABLE

AUSTIN—Land Commissioner Earl Rudder noted Friday that the bond market seems to be growing more favorable for the sale of some part of $100,000,000 of Veterans' Land Bonds.

The bonds were offered for sale in May by the Veterans' Land Board. No bids were received.

"The average interest rate on bonds of our type was 3.50 per cent this week," Commissioner Rudder said. "The market has got to go down a long way yet," he added.

The average interest rate on the market was 3.57 per cent several weeks ago.

The State Constitution says the Veterans' Land Board can pay no more than three per cent interest on its bonds.

"One of two things must happen before we can sell our bonds," Commissioner Rudder said:

"1. The Constitution must be amended so that more interest can be paid, or

"2. Bond market interest rates must drop considerably."

Mrs. O. O. Putnam and Pat were visitors in Abilene last Tuesday.

Ag Conference Set October 28-29 At Texas A. & M.

To give leaders of business and industry a clearer understanding and more appreciation for what is happening in Texas agriculture is a major objective of the Agricultural Relations Conference on Business and Industry scheduled for Texas A. and M. College, October 28-29. Dr. Tyrus R. Timm, head, Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology and conference chairman, said changes are taking place in agriculture at a very rapid rate and the conference will give leaders a chance to get the latest available information on the situation.

"Retailers, brokers, wholesalers, transporters, insurers, processors and manufacturers of food and fiber and of supplies and equipment used by farmers should benefit particularly from the conference," Timm said. "But," he added, "the conference is open to anyone."

Some of the topics on the program are: How Much is Texas Agriculture Worth to Texas Business and Industry?; How Do Federal Agricultural Programs Affect Business and Industry?;

AS SHE SHOWS . . . SO SHALL WE PEEP
Doreen Johnson, petite GM Proving Ground secretary, carefully lifts the dust jacket from the rear end of a 1958 Chevrolet, revealing a small portion of the startling new styling which will distinguish the new line of cars soon to be unveiled to the public.

Why Are Agricultural Representatives for Business and Industry so Important?

Timm concluded that "the increasing commercialization of agriculture, the growing use of group effort in agriculture and the continued participation of government in agriculture is making agriculture and other forms of business more interdependent with one another. Furthermore, intelligent discussion of these trends seem to be the best ally for all concerned. We hope and believe the conference will have this kind of discussion."

Details on the program and about registration and reservations may be obtained from local county agents.

Moguls Come Up Short 20-0 At Paducah

Playing a somewhat ragged type of football, the Munday Moguls came out on the short end for a 20-0 score last Friday night with the Paducah Dragons. The game, played on Paducah field, was the first conference game for each team.

The Dragons scored in the first, third and fourth quarters. It was the Dragons' first win in five tries, and the Moguls' fourth loss in as many starts.

The Moguls got the ball over the goal line once, in the third quarter, but the play was called back because of clipping.

Paducah drove 35 yards in the first quarter, and fullback Tommy Reketia went over for the score. Don Burrus kicked the extra point.

In third quarter, Paducah took the kickoff and immediately marched 68 yards down the gridiron for the Dragons' second score. Right end Jackie Biddy took a pass from quarterback Charlie Johnson for eight yards to make the tally.

The Dragons chalked up their final TD in the fourth quarter. After a 60 yard drive, Reketia scored from the one-yard line with a plunge. Johnson passed to left end Tommy Richards for the extra point. The Dragons drove to the one-foot line, another time, but a 15-yard penalty ruined the prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huckabee and children, Donna and Bobby, of Plainview visited Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Huckabee and other relatives over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beaty and Gary visited Mr. and Mrs. John Brown in Arlington over the week end. They also attended the State Fair in Dallas on Saturday.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie Gunn were her mother, Mrs. C. M. Warren, and brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Boddie Warren and children, all of Fort Worth.

Fat Steers, Feeder Cattle Again Slow
FORT WORTH—Grainfed steers and yearlings were again very slow, and bids 50 cents or more lower prevailed on most of the fed steers. Feeder cattle shared the slow and weak market with the finished cattle.

Thin stockers were steady, and the cow trade was active and fully steady to strong. Bulls ruled steady to weak. Slaughter calves were generally steady.

Comparative prices included: Good and choice fed steers and yearlings $18 to $22.50, and medium and lower grades $13 to $18. Fat cows $13.50 to $15.50, and canners and cutters drew $8.50 to $13.50. Bulls mostly $11 to $16.

Good and choice slaughter calves $18 to $20, few baby beef heavyweights to $21 and better. Common and medium butcher sorts $13 to $17.50, and culls $10 to $13. Stocker steer calves of good choice grades $19 to $23.75, and heifer calves drew $21 down. Stocker steer yearlings cashed at $20.50 down, and feeder steers cashed at $18.50 downward. Replacement cows ranged from $12 to $14.50.

Higher Support Prices Weaken Feeder Prices
Western sources are blaming the higher support prices on feed grains, and especially the $1.10 support level on corn produced by farmers who did not comply with acreage allotments, with part of the break in feeder cattle prices in the past few weeks, according to word received at Fort Worth this week.

Their contention is that many of the non-compliers will now put corn in the loan and head South for the winter. On the theory that it will save work and be a better bet, perhaps, than feeding the corn to high priced feeder cattle.

Certainly, feeder prices are at least $2 lower than they were four or five weeks ago, however, most observers here are inclined to credit the sag in fat steer prices with the weakness in feeder cattle prices.

Fed steers and feeder steers and yearlings, are currently selling about in line with a year ago at Fort Worth. Other classes of cattle and calves enjoy at $2 to $5 spread above prices of a year ago here.

Hogs Open On Weak Tone, Top $18.50-18.75
Top butcher hogs cashed at weak to 25 cents or more lower prices at Fort Worth Monday. Choice butcher hogs scored $18.50-18.75 and medium to good butchers sold at $17 to $18. Sows held steady at $18.00 downward.

The weakness in the hog trade stemmed directly from the resumption of heavier marketings in the Northern livestock centers. The some 80,000 hogs reported at 12 major markets was some 13,000 above a week earlier.

Sheep And Lambs Steady High Grades Lacking
The offering of sheep and lambs at Fort Worth last Monday was again met by strong demand and steady to strong prices. However, once again the offering contained mostly medium and lower grades and strictly choice kinds were absent.

Some good to low choice fat lambs cashed at $20 to $21, and both woolled and clipped lambs sold at $21, and something strictly choice was quotable higher. Cull to medium lambs drew $12 to $19. Stocker and feeder lambs ranged from $16 on some common stuff to $20.50 on the better feeders, something fancy quotable higher.

Yearling and aged muttoms were virtually lacking. A few old slaughter ewes drew $7.50 to $8.50, and some breeders drew $10 to $16, with better young ewes quotable well above that.

AUSTIN—Your general state health can be first line of defense against illness, particularly now that the season of infectious diseases is here. Resistance to complications of colds, "flu" and other illnesses is influenced by how you eat, sleep, exercise and relax before you get sick.

Food means different things to different people, but the net effect is the same: food not only supplies energy to the human machine but also provides building materials to renew body tissue.

Good nutrition is largely a matter of getting enough of the right foods. And since this is true, it is a good idea to take a look at your eating habits. Your regular diet should be built around:

A daily serving of meat or fish, about four eggs a week, some cheese, at least two glasses of milk daily, two daily servings of raw or slightly cooked green or yellow vegetables, two servings of fruit, and some potatoes, bread or other grain products.

Desserts, candy, and beverages such as soft drinks and coffee are not essentials, but they are sometimes pleasant additions.

Other items in your diet can be as extensive or as limited as you wish, provided you watch for "spoon-in-mouth" diseases, leading to overweight.

One fact about food that cannot be overemphasized is the value of a good breakfast. And a coffee break isn't breakfast! Many people find the demands of their job in home or office takes so much out of them they feel all used up at the end of the day. This is apt to be literally true, especially if breakfast has been by-passed.

Many times an "all gone" feeling in the late morning comes about like this: When you get up in the morning you've been without food for a good many hours. Yet, you may not experience a feeling of hunger. You seem to get along for a few hours on a sub-standard breakfast, but around 11 o'clock you can't wait for lunch. Errors in your work are most apt to happen at this time.

To forestall fatigue, to reduce errors, to assure yourself of a yourself with a sure combination—a good night of sleep and a really basic breakfast, such as fruit, toast, eggs, cereal and milk. If you can't eat breakfast through lack of appetite, start now to cultivate the habit of a good morning meal and soon you'll find you can't do without it. Remember, too, as you review your eating habits to take a look at your ways of eating as well. The relaxed, pleasant meal—tempting, colorful dishes—quiet conversation are all tools for better health.

Savings Bonds Smaller

WASHINGTON, D. C. Don't be surprised if that United States Savings Bond you buy from now on looks and feels a little different—it's just gone streamline.

In keeping with the electronic brain and other advancements of the modern era, the new Series E bond is going to have more "punch." In fact, it's full of punches—13 of them. But don't let these worry you. They're just another sign of progress in this day of mechanization. And, incidentally, will save you 500,000 tax dollars a year in reduced printing costs.

The Treasury says the only other Savings Bond now offered, the current income H bond, will continue to be printed on paper stock in the old size.

The punch card bond is smaller than its predecessor, and will be handier to carry in a man's coat pocket or a lady's handbag. (It might even prevent some of those washing machine tragedies, caused when the fellows had to fold the old bond, then forgot to remove it from a shirt pocket.)

The new size will also make it easier to stow away bonds in your strong box or bank safety deposit box. The actual size of the new E bond is 7 3/8 by 3 1/4 inches. The old bond is 7 1/2 by 4 1/4 inches.

For any who might be curious about the 13 punches, the Treasury offers this explanation. The first punch denotes the size of the bond. For example, a $100 bond would have a punch down in the fourth position. The next 10 columns, or punches, represent the serial number, and the twelfth indicates it is a Series E bond. The thirteenth column is reserved for special accounting operations by the Treasury when the bond is cashed.

Other than the smaller size, the punches, and the flexible card-board stock on which it is printed, the new bonds looks very much like the old one. It contains about the same wording and illustrations.

One exception is the wording, "eight years and eleven months from the issue date . . ." This change in maturity from "nine years and eight months" reflects the increase in the interest rate, from 3 to 3 1/4 per cent, effective on bonds bought since February 1, 1957. The new table of redemption values also appears on the back. The other exception: most of the punch card bonds carry the signature of the new Secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson, who succeeded George M. Humphrey on July 29.

So don't worry when your next Savings Bond is "shot full of holes." The Treasury wants to assure you it's the same "safe and sound" Series E bond you've been buying since 1941—to the tune of nearly one hundred billion dollars worth.

Household Tips

When you prepare your house for fall and winter, don't overlook one small but very important spot.

That's your medicine cabinet. Some supplies for it undoubtedly need replenishing. Other items have served their usefulness or can be stored elsewhere to conserve space. For the sake of your family's health and welfare periodic check of the cabinet is essential. Here are some pointers:

1. Review everything in the medicine chest. Remove old prescriptions. Often you'll find you can't even recall what they were used for. Don't discard them carelessly; see that they are destroyed.

2. Check to be sure you have all the supplies every family needs for minor emergencies. These include such items as a mild antiseptic, sterile gauze, adhesive tape and bandages.

3. Check whether you have on hand a preparation for common colds. Medication such as Citroid Compound helps relieve cold symptoms, so that cold sufferers feel better as they get better. Having such a remedy in stock for the cold season is a wise plan.

4. Reduce medicine cabinet clutter by storing such items as nail polish, hair tonics and cosmetics in bedrooms. As far as possible, reserve bathroom cabinet space for essentials needed there.

5. Be sure that drugs, laxatives and aspirin cannot be reached by small children. A locked space will keep them safely away from pint-sized would-be samplers.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Unable To Help His Town Friend Decide What Goes On The Reckless Spending List

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek wants us to compile a list for him, his letter this week reveals, but we're pretty busy right now.

Dear Editor:
A friend of mine from town was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon telling me about his troubles.

According to him, he has been trying to convince his family President Eisenhower is right when he says reckless spending is helping cause inflation, and he called a family conference to go over the situation.

He claims everybody in his family agrees with him, reckless spending ought to be cut out, this inflationary spiral can't keep going on forever, President Eisenhower is absolutely right, and every family ought to pitch in and help.

But it's when he gets down to the individual cases he runs into trouble. For example, his teen-age daughter says reckless spending ought to stop, but not until after she's gotten a formal evening dress, and besides, Mrs. Eisenhower wears evening dresses frequently and she knows Mr. Eisenhower doesn't include that on his list of reckless spending items.

His 10-year-old son says he's opposed to reckless spending too, but buying a football suit, with helmet and shoulder pads, is not reckless, on the contrary, it's reckless to play without one. He claims he saw a picture of Ike's grandson wearing exactly the kind of football suit he has in mind.

His wife says reckless spending ought to be stopped, but if she doesn't get a new kitchen range, the one she's got may blow up any time.

And the man further said if he didn't get a new set of tires on his car, further driving is gonna be mighty reckless.

He says what he wants is a list of items from President Eisenhower classifying the things that constitute reckless spending.

But I told him this country is depending too much as it is on Washington and the only solution is to work things out for himself. He said he could work his problem out, if he could only find an inflationary bank that's making reckless loans.

Personally, I can't help him out myself. I've got more problems out here now than I can handle, but I've got an idea; why don't you sit down and figure out a list of all the items that constitute reckless spending and publish it in your paper?

Yours faithfully,
