Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"The leaves are falling, and the ducks are flying," we heard a voice say over the radio Sunday night. We imagine some of the boys who like to take to the open spaces with their shooting irons are now cooling them off and oiling them up for the duck season.

Although duck season opened in Oklahoma last Saturday, it will not be open in Texas until November 1. Heavy flights of ducks are now coming in, according to reports from the coast, and shooting in Oklahoma may cause the birds to be coming on down this way.

Sue Bowden came in the office Monday with a big smile on her face. She's nearly always smiling, but this one seemed bigger and brighter than usual. She had heard from her sister, Mrs. Bob Lloyd, who is with her husband at San Jose, Costa Rica.

Sue had sent the Loyds this paper for a period of time, and Mrs. Lloyd had just received her first copy, about a month after publication, but it was news to them anyway. "You can tell Mr. Edgar," she wrote, "that I didn't know it was such a newsy paper—I don't believe it was when I was in Munday. I have already read it twice."

We like them kind of words, but it's only fair to say that a hometown paper becomes more newsy when one gets away from home and does not know most of the happenings before the paper comes off the press. Every news item, every advertisement is newsy to the person away from home and who likes to hear from home.

Which brings us back to repeating what we've said before. You can throw your home newspaper aside and do something else for an hour, or a day or two, then go back and pick it up and continue pursuing its contents. Not so with the radio or TV program. Place them aside, and they're gone for good. All of which would have been pretty good palaver for National Newspaper Week, which had already passed.

Wet weather, such as we had the first of this week, stops cotton harvest, stops maize combining, and brings the cotton pickers into town. When not working, the pickers seem to like loafing on the streets and visiting some of the stores, even if they haven't been making the spending money. We guess they'd rather be in the fields, farmers and ginners had, and most merchants would like to see them busy, rather than loafing.

That norther that blew in Wednesday morning may mean the end of this damp weather. With sunshine and a brisk breeze blowing, cotton and feed will soon be dried out and activity in the fields resumed. Then's when a number of places, idle during the falling moisture, will be rushed no end.

Most of the Lions were glad to get rid of those brooms which had been dangling from belts or sticking out of hip pockets for a week. The annual broom sale, sponsored by the Lions Club, was conducted Tuesday morning with results that were somewhat surprising. This appeared to be the most successful of all of the sales, with the total running up in the neighborhood of $850. That's a lot of brooms, mops, etc., to be purchased by people of a small town, and the Lions are most gratified.

Begin sharpening your ballot marking pencil for the special election to be held throughout the state on Tuesday, November 5, to vote on the constitutional amendments. Briefly they are: 1. To provide a retirement, disability and death compensation for officers and employees of the state; 2. To increase the monthly payments for needy aged persons from $20 to $25 per month; and, 3. To authorize the sale of bonds to create a Texas water development fund.

Miss Billie Belcher and Wayne visited Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Belcher and daughters, Carrol Rae and Darlene, in Abilene over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Coffman spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Everton B. Hosea and son in Sterling City.

County Over Mid-Way Mark In Sales Of Bonds

Sales of E and H Savings Bonds in Texas for September were $14,626,577. This represents an increase over August sales of more than one million dollars, Mr. Nathan Adams, Chairman and Mr. Ed Gossett, Co-Chairman of the State Savings Bonds Committee announced today.

Sales in Knox County amounted to $170,419 for the nine month period, which was 55.4 per cent of the 1957 goal, according to W. E. Braly, Chairman of Knox County. "I am sure that if every citizen of Knox County will buy an extra Savings Bond during 1957 our county will reach its goal. There is no safer investment than U. S. Savings Bonds, since both the principal and interest are fully guaranteed by our Government," Chairman Braly concluded.

Auction Sale To Open Monday

The sales barn, scene of many lively livestock auction sales in the past, will resume activities next Monday when Bill White of Wichita Falls, auctioneer for the local sales, and his son, Wolford C. White of Mountain Park, Okla., re-open the Munday Livestock Commission Co.

The auction sales were discontinued here about a year ago, when continued dry weather forced many cattle off the ranges.

The sale next Monday will begin at 1 p. m. "We have several stocker cattle already listed for this sale," the managers said, "so if you need some cattle, it will pay you to be there. We will have plenty of buyers for all classes of cattle, and we will have a good market for your hogs."

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

The Munday Vegetable Growers Cooperative met at the P. C. A. office Monday night and initiated plans for the 1958 crop year. Estimated acres of vegetables expected to be produced in 1958 include: 800 acres potatoes, 500 acres cucumbers, 600 acres cantaloupes, 500 acres watermelons, 100 acres bell peppers, 100 acres cabbage, 75 acres onions, and 200 acres sweet potatoes.

Mr. H. H. Partridge, co-op president, asked that anyone planning to produce vegetables for marketing through the co-op please notify him of the acreage to be grown so that adequate seed supplies can be ordered and marketing plans completed.

Edward, John and Tom Moorhouse and Larry Bratcher, Knox County 4-H members, exhibited steers in the Market Steer Class at the Dallas Fair last week. Three of these steers were awarded red ribbons and graded choice in a class of more than 700 steers. These steers were marketed through a special auction at the fair, but final tabulations are not complete and the final selling price won't be known until next week.

Pioneer Of Area, Walter Price, Dies Wednesday; Funeral At 2 p. m. Friday

Walter Price, 82, beloved pioneer of this area and resident of Goree almost 50 years, passed away early Wednesday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Dee McMeen of Wichita Falls. He suffered a stroke about two months ago, and had been in failing health since that time.

Mr. Price was born March 5, 1875, in Navarro County and was married to Willie Hardin in Wise County on December 22, 1897. To this union, four children were born, one of whom died in infancy.

The couple moved to Haskell County in 1899, then to a farm near Goree in 1909. Mr. Price was engaged in farming until 1930, when he moved into Goree and operated a service station for twenty years. He suffered his first stroke in 1955, after which he retired from active duty.

A typical pioneer of this area, he hauled cotton in a wagon to Seymour to be ginned in the ear-

Bank's Deposits Over 3 Million

Bank deposits in the First National Bank of Munday were over the $3 million mark at the close of business on October 11, 1957, according to the bank's financial statement published in this week's paper.

The statement, published in response to a call made by the Comptroller of Currency, Washington, D. C., showed total deposits of $3,051,637.03, which was an increase of some $861,000.00 over the deposits when the last call was made the latter part of June.

Deposits are expected to increase further as the weather clears and farmers get back into the fields to gather their cotton and maize crops.

But, Doctor, How Can I Tell?

The big news in sports at the moment is flu, who has it and who hasn't. The following anonymous verse is mournfully dedicated to helping you find out if you do, or—in the case of football coaches—if your players do:

When your back is broke and your eyes are blurred
And your shin bones knock and your tongue is furred,
And your tonsils squeak and your hair gets dry
And you're doggone sure that you're going to die,
But you're skeered you won't and afraid you will,
Just drag to bed and have your chill
And pray the Lord to see you through
For you've got the flu, boy, you've got the flu.

When your toes curl up and your belt goes flat
And you're twice as mean as an old tom cat
And life is a long and a dismal curse
And your food all tastes like a hard-boiled harse;
When your lattice aches and your head's a-buzz
And nothing is as it ever was,
Here are my sad regrets for you: You've got the flu, boy, you've got the flu.

What is it like, this Asian flu? Ask me, brother, for I've been through.
It is by misery out of despair, It pulls your teeth and singses your hair,
It thins your blood and brays your bones,
And fills your craw with moans and groans,
And sometimes maybe you'll get well.
Some call it flu, I call it—well— We've had ours, have you?

After two unsuccessful attempts at re-opening the Munday Public Schools since they were closed on Tuesday, October 8, because of flu, classes were resumed last Monday.

W. C. Cox, superintendent, stated Tuesday that classes were nearing normal, with the schools opening last Monday with around 90 per cent attendance. Illness had taken its toll of both students and teachers.

The teams are about on even standing, so far as the records go. Iowa Park has lost seven games, while the Moguls have lost four, tied one, and cancelled the game with Knox City last Friday night.

Big Pears Grown By Munday Man

A pear tree, which seems unusual in that it's producing a very large fruit, has produced a good crop of pears at the home of Ed Johnson this year.

Mr. Johnson brought us a couple of the pears last Monday, the largest of which measured 12 inches in circumference. The other was almost as large. The tree produced about 2½ bushels this year, Johnson said.

He has gathered the crop, wrapped them in paper and placed them in the cellar to complete the ripening process.

THE FLU EPIDEMIC

It is generally expected that Asian flu will reach epidemic proportions in this country this fall or winter. But there is no cause for panic and wild fears. The illness is of short duration, is generally mild, has few complications, and has a very low mortality rate. An effective vaccine (safe except for patients with a known allergy to eggs) has been developed, and the supply will gradually increase.

In this connection, the American Medical Association has made an important statement, asking for the cooperation of American business and industry. If the expected epidemic materializes, business firms will experience a marked increase in absenteeism. Even so, the AMA emphasizes, industry ". . . should not get panicky and rush into a program of mass inoculation for its employees until essential priority groups in the community have been inoculated." First priority on available vaccine should go to those persons vital to the community—such as health, police, fire, communications, transportation, and utility personnel—and to those who, in the opinion of physicians, constitute a special medical risk. Individual physicians are urged to adhere to local priority systems, which may vary from place to place for one valid reason or another.

As for those who get Asian flu, the AMA points out that there is no specific treatment. Bed rest and fluids are necessary. All patients should be isolated so far as it is convenient. And during the acute stage of the disease, the patient should not be allowed visitors.

WAGES AND PRICES

For many months, the government's cost-of-living index has been edging up. One primary reason being higher food costs. This trend has caused much concern, as it should. Inflation is the enemy of us all. At the same time, there are certain factors which take some of the grimness out of the price picture.

The fact is that in many cases, the buying power of typical workers has outrun the price increases. Meat is a good example—it being something that practically everyone wants, buys and eats once or more each day. A recent factual compilation tells the story. As of last July, the typical worker could earn enough money to buy a pound of bacon with 24 minutes of work, as compared with 26 minutes in August, 1952, when bacon was 10 cents a pound cheaper. A pound of rib roast cost him 22 minutes of work as compared with 32 minutes in the earlier period. And leg of lamb at 73 cents a pound cost only 21 minutes, as compared with 31 minutes at the prior time. The situation is comparable in the case of other meat items as well.

What has happened is that wage boosts have commonly been larger than price boosts, hence the enhanced buying power. And the wage boosts, needless to say, have been responsible for many of the price boosts. That is true in the meat industry as in all other enterprise. But an excellent job has been done in holding price increases to the lowest percentages compatible with today's costs of doing business.

SIMPLE AND FUNDAMENTAL

The country is witnessing tremendous furor in connection with civil rights legislation—the right of certain persons to vote and go to public schools.

There is another civil right that seems equally important—namely, the right to work without joining any specific union and paying for that right. But such is not the case for tens of millions of American citizens. U. S. Senator William F. Knowland, speaking in his home state, says "union democracy" is a key issue. He stands for the right of individual unionist to a voice in union affairs and the right of workers to join or not to join a union.

Following the revelations of the McClellan Committee, the demand for right-to-work laws is increasing. It is a strange situation that in a supposedly free country there should have to be specific legislation to enable citizens to vote or go to public schools. But strangest of all is the fact that it will take specific legislation to guarantee them the right to work at their trade without paying some organization for that right, unless they so desire.

What does freedom mean if it doesn't guarantee one of the simplest and most fundamental of all rights, the right to work?

The methods of Communism are succinctly described by a top authority, Mao Tse-tung, Chief of the Communist Chinese State: "We in China . . . have used force to deal with enemies of the people. The total number of those who were liquidated by our security forces numbers 800,000. This is the figure up to 1954." Since then, he added, "persuasion and education" have been substituted for terror.

Extend Honors To Top 4-H Youth

HONORS will be extended to high ranking 4-H boys and girls during the 36th national 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago December 1-5, 1957, when outstanding achievement records bring rewarding trips to more than 1300 Club members. As businessmen offer a hand locally scores of nationally known individuals and business concerns express their admiration of deserving boys and girls by giving them the "time of their lives" during the Congress.

Over two million 4-H Club members will be represented at the 4-H Congress in the Windy City. Boys and girls from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico will register for the annual event. In addition to all expense trips honoring state, sectional and national winners, 218 college scholarships totaling $82,430 will be awarded.

Sharing the responsibility for providing these incentive awards are individuals and business enterprises that cooperate in furthering the ideals and philosophy of 4-H work. They also make possible the many wonderful and never-to-be forgotten experiences of Club Congress. Awards in approximately 40 different types of projects and activities have been announced by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, which arranges the programs in cooperation with the Extension Service.

Nearly half a million dollars in scholarships and awards are offered annually to teen-agers. The national 4-H Congress gives recognition to those who have shown exceptional leadership and ability. Throughout their Club careers they have been guided and inspired by local leaders and others interested in 4-H work.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

One of the nicest things about fall is the abundant supply of fresh apples. True, apples are available the year around, but early September starts the harvesting of the new crop and it goes on until around the middle of December. Picked at the peak of goodness, hardy, full-flavored apples with cheeks plump and skins aglow, are ready for out-of-hand eating or for cooking in a variety of ways.

Tangy apples, baked in solitary splendor are hard to beat, but they take well to stuffing. Choose firm medium-sized apples for baking. Rome Beauty, Jonathan Winesap, Grimes Golden and Baldwin varieties are especially good for baking. Wash and core apples all the way through and pare around stem to remove about 1 inch of skin. Place apples in a deep baking dish. If desired, fill centers. Pour over apples water or syrup, cover and bake in moderate gas oven (375 deg. F.) 40 minutes or until tender. For 4 apples use 2 3/4 cup water or 2 3/4 cup syrup made by combining 1 3/4 cup water and 1 3/4 cup light corn. Make a raisin stuffing by combining 1 1/4 cup seedless raisins and 1 1/4 cup finely chopped extra apple. Add 1 tablespoon red cinnamon candies to the syrup. Makes enough stuffing for 4 apples.

To stuff 4 apples with cranberry nut stuffing, combine 1 1/2 cup finely chopped fresh cranberries and 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Drop 4 cloves and 1 stick of cinnamon into the syrup. 1 1/2 cup moist mince-meat and 1 1/4 cup chopped pecans combine to make mince-meat nut stuffing for 4 apples. Unless a very sweet dish is desired, add water instead of syrup for the baking.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
 Spiced Apple Halves: Wash, core and cut in halves lengthwise, 3 baking apples. Place in shallow baking dish cut side up. Cover with 1 1/2 cup brown sugar and 1 1/2 cup catsup. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Cover bottom of baking dish with water. Bake in moderate gas oven (350 deg. F.) 20 minutes. THE MUNDAY TIMES

Miss Patricia Faye Putnam Becomes Bride Of John Marion Elliott Saturday

Wedding vows were read Saturday evening at seven o'clock in the Putnam home for Miss Patricia Faye Putnam and John Marion Elliott. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Grady Allison, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Nuptial music was provided by Miss Melissa Lee, pianist and Mrs. Grady Allison, soloist, who sang "Always," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Before a background of palms and candelabra holding pink cathedral candles and baskets of pink gladiolus, the couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride was attired in an Alfred Angelo original gown of nylon lace and tulle over net and satin. Designed with a portrait neckline framed with scalloped lace, the fitted lace bodice and long sleeved ending in points over the hands and terminating with points at center front waist. From this stems a voluminous floor length skirt made of lace fully shirred over net and satin extending into points over wide ruffles of tulle out lining bottom. The immense fullness of lace tulle and satin was emphasized by crinoline worn underneath. Her finger tip veil was of imported silk illusion and was joined to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white gardenia with showers of stephanotis and ribbon to the floor. Her jewelry was a cultured pearl ring, a gift from the groom.

Miss Carlene Morgan was maid of honor. She wore an aqua gown of chiffon and satin which was waltz length. It featured an empire waist line and was accented by a wide satin cummerbund. She carried colonial nosegay of aqua carnations.

Miss Shirley Cammack was bridesmaid. She wore a gown identical made to that of maid of honor of pink chiffon and satin and carried nosegay of pink carnations.

Ricky Couch and Stacia Collins, cousins of the groom, were candle lighters. Michael Putnam, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Best man was Martin Bowman, groomsmen were Robert Wayne Elliott, brother of the groom. Ushers were Lynn Reynolds of Munday and Jerry Gribble of Abilene.

A reception was held in the bride's home. The serving table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth over pink satin and centered with wedding bells. The appointments were of crystal and silver. Miss Barbara Clifton of Colorado City presided at the guest book. Mrs. Lynn Reynolds and Miss Martha Kaye Elliott served. Others in the house party were Misses Darlene Elliott, Patti Carlson, Betty Ruth Stroman, all of McMurry College and Miss Rexene Howell of Seymour.

Approximately fifty guests attended the wedding. They were from Dallas, Pasadena, Balmoeira, Abilene, Sweetwater, Canyon, Munday and Eunice, N. M.

For her wedding trip the bride wore an original two piece suit of champagne beige wool with mink collar and cuffs. Her hat was of matching color being a Jan Leslie original. Her other accessories were in brown.

Mrs. Elliott is a graduate of Munday High School where she was football sweetheart her junior year, friendliest girl her senior year and was salutatorian of her graduating class and was editor of the 1956 Mogul. She served as president of the Methodist Youth for two years and was active in district and subdistrict church work and is a member of the Order of the Eastern Star. She attended McMurry College in Abilene for two years and was a member of TIP Social Club.

Mr. Elliott graduated from Munday High School, was in band three years, FFA for two years and served in the United States Army for two years, eighteen months being in Japan.

After their wedding trip the couple will live south of town on route 1, Munday, where the groom will be engaged in farming.

One-fourth the U. S. population today is troubled with water shortage, poor water, or both, reports the Soil Conservation Service of the USDA. The potential supply of water remains constant while the need, which is expected to double by 1975, increases with growing population. Industry and irrigation are by far the largest users.

Recent Shower Given To Honor Miss Pat Putnam

A bridal shower honoring Miss Pat Putnam, bride-elect of Marlon Elliott, was held recently in the parlor of the First Methodist Church in Munday.

Receiving guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. O. O. Putnam; her grandmother, Mrs. Maude Merrell, and Mrs. J. C.

Elliott.

Miss Martha Kay Elliott registered the guests, and Miss Melissa Lee played piano selections.

The room was decorated with vases of roses. Pink sweetheart roses under a lace umbrella with pink and aqua streamers centered the table. The table was covered with pink net over aqua and caught up with pink rosebuds. Misses Shirley Cammack and Rexene Howell served.

Miss Putnam wore an aqua silk dress featuring a scoop neckline and a full skirt. Her corsage was tiny pink rosebuds.

The hostess' gift was an electric percolator. Hostesses were Misses Geneva Cammack, Rex Howell, Don Wardlaw, Layne Womble, Travis Lee, Wendell Partridge, Wallace Reid, Floyd Bowman, Vester Bowman and Hugh Beatty.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollis, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Severe infections of the ear are not as common as they were before the appearance of sulfa drugs and antibiotics. But while the severity and frequency of these infections have been reduced, earaches still occur.

Most ear pain comes during childhood, the reason being that small children have shorter passages for infections to reach the ear. When they get colds, they do not blow the nose or clear the throat as adults do. This results in an accumulation of mucous which may congest narrow passages and start an ear infection.

Infections of this type begin when bacteria reach the middle ear. The pain - intermittent at first, then constant - is a sign that this has happened. In this condition, pain may be followed by drainage. The start of drainage may mean the end of pain because the pressure has been relieved. Pain subsides only when pressure and infection have been brought under control.

As bacteria multiply and produce their poisons, the body's natural defenses rise to fight the infection. Blood vessels expand to carry more blood to the ear. Serum passes from blood vessels into the middle ear to try to neutralize the invading bacteria. White blood cells, normally present in the body, increase in number to destroy bacteria.

In mild infections the bacteria

Spring Preview

PLANTING DUTCH BULBS in the fall is a sure way to insure early spring bloom. This golden daffodil, for example, will reach its beauty peak when you want it - next April. It is but one of the many hundreds of millions of bulbs imported from Holland every year to beautify American homes. Good quality daffodil bulbs can be purchased for less than a dime apiece, are easy to plant, and pay dividends by increasing every year.

may be overcome before reaching the middle ear and there will be no middle ear involvement. In situations like this, the condition often subsides within 24 hours.

Children with acute running ears should be taken to a physician for examination and treatment. While infection of the mastoid part of the ear bone is not as common as it once was, due to newer drug therapy, it still occurs. The mastoid part of the ear bone is connected to the middle ear. Its cellular composition resembles a honeycomb. The cells contain air and each has a thin lining membrane. An infection in the middle ear may spread to the mastoid air cells and cause them to become infected. This infection may destroy bone tissue and form an abscess in the mastoid which can be relieved only through surgery.

Earache in children may stem from causes other than infection. Nasal blocking due to the congestion of a cold, or large adenoids may be responsible. Blocking of the eustachian tube prevents air from approaching the middle ear during swallowing or yawning.

Don't ignore an earache and don't probe into the ear to relieve distress or the sense of pressure. Let your physician decide the cause and the method of correcting it.

Texas State Fair Closes On Sunday

The 1957 State Fair of Texas wound up its 16-day run Sunday evening, Oct. 20, with a whopping total attendance of 2,540,967, in spite of considerable rain during the fair.

This maintained the big state fair's rank as the largest annual fair in the country in terms of attendance.

The attendance figure was 131,286 less than that for the 1956 fair. Rain during three days of the fair held crowds down on those days and contributed to the attendance loss.

However, officials termed the 1957 fair one of the finest expositions ever presented by the State Fair of Texas.

When the weather cleared up after a rainy spell which began during the second weekend of the fair, visitors turned out by the tens of thousands to give the fair record-breaking attendance days for its final four days. Attendance was 236,711 for the last Saturday and 132,119 for the final day.

A total of approximately 89,000 people saw the musical in the State Fair Music Hall, "My Fair Lady." It was one of the best-attended shows ever presented at the fair.

Dates of the 1958 State Fair of Texas have been tentatively set for October 4 through 19.

Outlook Shows A Higher Demand For Agricultural Products For Next Year

Domestic demand for agricultural products will probably be good in 1958, because consumer income should remain at a high level, and general economic activity should continue strong. However, there are signs of weakening.

At the present time, it appears that exports in this fiscal year, July 1, 1957, to July 1, 1958, may not be as high as they were last year, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. Agricultural exports in the fiscal year 1956-57 were about 35 percent greater than the preceding, due primarily to government export programs. The main trouble with agriculture, says the economist, is that our production is over-expanded in terms of available markets.

Cattle prices in 1957 are better than in 1956 because of higher incomes, a larger number of people, a smaller slaughter and improved range conditions which have created a good demand for range cattle. Cattle prices in 1958 will probably be somewhat higher than in 1957 because employment and incomes should be high and the number slaughtered should be a little less than in 1957, points out McHaney.

Feeder cattle will probably not decline as much seasonally this fall as they usually do because there will be an abundance of cheap feed in the form of corn, grain sorghum and other grains, says the economist. This should create a good demand for feeders. Hog production in 1958 will probably be larger than in 1957, and beef will have to compete with more pork. Poultry products will also give beef strong competition.

It is estimated that about 418 million bushels of grain sorghum will be harvested this year. This is more than double last year's crop and is 72 percent more than the record crop of 1955. The production of corn is average. The oat crop is 20 percent larger than last year and the barley crop is up 17 percent. As a result, McHaney says that lower feed prices can be expected during the feeding year of 1957-58.

The cotton picture shows that the carry-over is down and the acreage is down; the big "unknown" is how much cotton will be exported in 1957-58.

TURKEY HEADS NOVEMBER PLENTIFUL FOODS LIST

Many Thanksgiving menus will likely include turkey and the trimmings, for turkey heads the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list for November. Heavy supplies of pork, lamb and broiling and frying chickens also will be available for main dish servings in November.

Cranberries and fall fruits such as apples, pears and canned purple plums are in good supply. Grape products — juice, jelly and jam — made the plentiful foods list for the first time in recent years.

November plentiful vegetables are limited to Irish potatoes, pinto beans and peas, including dry, canned and frozen. Peanut butter, almonds and filberts round out the listings. John J. Slaughter, southwest food distribution chief, Agricultural Marketing Service, points out that food stocks in the major trade areas of this region are checked regularly and only those foods in especially heavy supply make the USDA plentiful list.

Graham To Speak At Baptist Meet

DALLAS — Nearly 15,000 Texas Baptists are expected to attend three statewide conventions in Fort Worth Nov. 47 in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, officials said here Wednesday.

Evangelist Billy Graham heads a list of prominent speakers who will appear before the messengers, representing more than 1,558,000 Texas Baptists.

A closed circuit television system will be installed to take care of overflow crowds expected to spill into a nearby auditorium.

Purpose of the conventions is to conduct the annual business of the Woman's Missionary Union of Texas, the Texas Baptist Brotherhood and the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Leaflet Available On Hybrid Sorghum

A white-seeded sorghum hybrid, showing a very favorable performance when compared with the other hybrids, has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Seed will be available in limited quantity for the 1958 crop.

This new hybrid, RS 630, is the first white-seeded hybrid released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. In 25 tests in nine states, it yielded 67 bushels per acre—higher than any of the other hybrids tested. It is a medium-early grain sorghum hybrid that matures in 90 to 100 days after planting. The head is well above the upper leaf and dries readily, thereby permitting harvesting soon after the grain is mature.

A recently released leaflet, L. 302, gives detailed information on this new hybrid.

DAMAGED HIDES MEAN DOLLAR LOSSES

About $200 million in profits are lost by the livestock hide industry each year which might be saved with just a "little extra care" by both producers and packers.

Animal hide is a sideline of livestock production that is not often thought of as a big profit factor by the average person. Yet, a perfect hide can mean as much as a $10 'bonus' to the producer.

The hide has quite a few 'enemies,' however, which must be guarded against. Grubs eat holes in them. Barbed wire, nails and jagged edges of carriers scratch them. Mange leaves a dark spot or unpleasant mottling and prod poles and rough handling tactics create unsightly blotches.

Still another damage factor are high brand marks which frequently cause up to a quarter of the hide to be discarded. These four pre-tannery dollar-robbers can best be brought into control by cattlemen themselves while the packers can attempt to cut losses from skinner slashes and hide-cellular rot.

The biggest problem for the cattlemen is elimination of cattle grubs which cause $100 million or 50 per cent of the annual hide damage. Early treatment of mange, plus dehorning will help cut down blemishes and punctures. Feed lots, loading chutes, fences, and truck beds should be checked for sharp objects that will puncture, bruise or scratch.

It is always a good idea, also, to start the livestock to market with clean skins. Caked manure and other lot soil cause unsightly stains which may influence the buyer to cut the cattle price. Proper care of the hide is especially important these days when leather products are losing their markets to synthetics. At the same time, leather goods prices are going sky high because perfect hides are something of a rarity. Just a little more caution and planning can mean that extra 'bonus' for the producers.

While I was editor of a county seat weekly in Arkansas, a lawyer had our shop to print a brief to be filed in a case which was on appeal. The circumstances were so unusual that perhaps you will be interested.

There was a railroad man—a brakeman, as I recall—who, with his wife, lived in Arkansas. His "run" carried him into Texas. After he died, it was discovered that he had also married in Texas. Neither woman had known about the other.

He had taken out an insurance policy, naming the Texas wife as the beneficiary. The Arkansas wife sued in the Arkansas court, it being her contention that she was the only wife as her ceremony had been performed first and that, therefore, the Texas marriage was bigamous. The Texas wife sued the insurance company in a Texas court.

The company, represented by the attorney who had us to print the brief, took the position that the Arkansas wife was not entitled to collect because she was not named as the beneficiary. The company also took the position that the Texas wife, although named as the beneficiary, was not entitled to collect, either, because she was not really the man's wife.

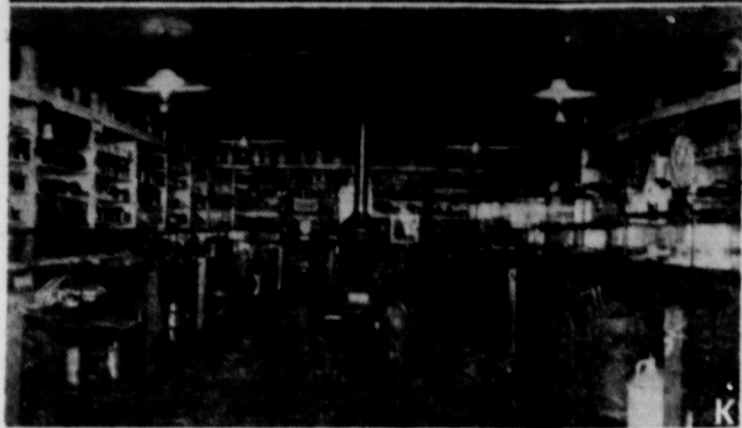

However, the lawyer for the company said he wanted to be fair about the matter and that his client would be glad to refund to the estate the amount of the premium which the railroadman had paid.

Both cases were tried. The Arkansas court gave a judgement in favor of the Arkansas wife. The Texas court gave a judgement in favor of the Texas wife. There was only one policy but the company found itself ordered to pay two judgements.

When I left Arkansas and came to Texas, the two cases were still pending on appeal and I never did learn how they came out.

When Abe Lincoln was practicing law in Springfield, a man came to him with a case. Lincoln said, 'You have a good suit, technically, as far as the law is concerned but not from the standpoint of justice. Get some other lawyer. If I were up before a jury arguing for you, I would be liable to blurt out, 'Lincoln, you're a liar!''

EVER SEE A "SHEBANG"?

Almost everyone has heard the expression "there goes the whole shebang", but did you ever see a "shebang"?

If you're more than 30 years old, the chances are that you have, because the term was applied, at least in the west, to the predecessor of today's supermarket—the old general store with its stock of everything from rat traps to yard goods to dried prunes.

The "shebang" shown here is the restored People's Store that is part of the unique Pioneer Village, located at Minden, Nebraska, on transcontinental U. S. Highway 6. It is one of 20 buildings housing 20,000 fascinating items that constitute one of the nation's most complete collections of Americana, covering the period from 1830 to the present.

The People's Store is complete with pot-bellied stove and spit-irons; a wooden Indian in the front window advertising the store's stock of tobacco; a china cat napping on the cracker barrel; a postoffice window; and a complete stock of merchandise including groceries, drug sundries, hardware, and dry goods. Open to the public the year around, the People's Store and other buildings in Pioneer Village—among them an Indian stockade, a western land office, fire house, railroad depot, sod house, china shop, school house, church, and Pony Express relay station—have been viewed by thousands of visitors from all over the world.

ing law in Springfield, a man came to him with a case. Lincoln said, 'You have a good suit, technically, as far as the law is concerned but not from the standpoint of justice. Get some other lawyer. Tax-Man Sam Sez:

Some folks get plum excited about an income tax audit. The Internal Revenue Service examines thousands of taxpayers' returns each year. The Internal Revenue Agent has as much responsibility for establishing a refund for the taxpayer as he does for establishing additional tax for the government. He is required by law, regulations, and procedures to establish the correct tax due.

The taxpayer is required by law to prove all of his deductions on his tax return. Failure to prove the deduction will result in additional tax, not a jail sentence. The government must prove an intent on the part of the taxpayer to defraud before he goes to jail.

Relatively few of the many thousands of taxpayers audited are accused of fraud. When the Internal Revenue man calls you will save time if you calmly produce your records and work with him in determining the correct tax due.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment Would Increase Aid To Aged, Blind And Needy Children

On November 5, 1957, three proposed constitutional amendments will be submitted for approval to the voters of Texas. One of these, House Joint Resolution No. 2 would provide increased payments from State funds to needy aged persons (over 65), needy blind, and needy children (under 16). Total authorized State expenditures for these purposes would be increased from $42 million to $47 million per year.

The maximum payment out of State Funds to each needy aged person could be as much as $25 per month, a $5 increase over the present $20 limit. But State payments could not rise above $21 per month unless matched by Federal funds.

There is no individual limit on amounts paid to needy blind or needy children under our present constitutional provisions or under the proposed amendments.

Under present laws, the maximum monthly payment of old age assistance to any individual in which the Federal government will share the costs with the State is $60. The immediate effect of increasing the State's per person limit would be to provide this full $60 amount, instead of the $58 limit now in effect.

According to figures published by the Texas Industrial Conference, for the fiscal year 1956, these three programs cost the State $41,996,045, while the total State and Federal cost for Texas was $130,669,700.

Under the proposed amendment, as under present laws, no payments may be made to needy aged or needy blind persons while an inmate of any state supported institution.

An additional requirement is that such persons must have actually resided in Texas for at least 5 of the 9 years immediately preceding the filing of an application for assistance. And they must have resided in Texas for 1 year preceding the application.

A needy child over 1 year old must have resided in the state continuously for 1 year preceding application. Or if the child is less than a year old, its mother must have continuously resided in Texas for 1 year preceding the application for assistance.

(This column, based on Federal law and prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

TEXAS 4-H MEMBERS TO SHARE IN $1,500 EDUCATIONAL FUND

CHICAGO — Two Texas 4-H Club members may share in the $1,500 special scholarship program provided by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad. Similar scholarship awards will be available to 4-H'ers in 10 other states according to the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. The Texas winners to be selected by the State Extension Service will receive a $100 scholarship.

This marks the 35th year in which the railroad has provided awards to 4-H Club members.

ELECTRONIC DUCK CALLS PROHIBITED

AUSTIN—Don't plan to use an electronic duck call or a phonograph record for calling ducks this season, is the warning of the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission.

Conventional mouth callers are still permissible, however.

The standard penalties for taking migratory birds now prohibit the taking of such birds "by use or aid of recorded bird calls or sounds recorded or amplified imitations of bird calls or sounds." The maximum penalties call for a 6-month jail sentence, a fine of $200 or both.

EVACUATION PLANNING for Jacksonville, Fla., made difficult because the city is divided by the St. Johns River, got a boost recently when Operation Dunkirk proved with the help of 168 boats that the river could serve as a highway to safety. One of the boats is shown checking in at the CD evacuation point, where its passenger capacity was noted and it was sent on a mock mission to one of two "destination points." STOCKER CATTLE AND CALVES OPEN HIGHER

FORT WORTH — Strong demand for replacement cattle and calves of all kinds developed Monday at Fort Worth. Prices on all kinds of stocker and feeder cattle and calves ranged from strong to 50 cents higher, and some of the lighter weight calves and yearlings were 50 cents to $1 above last week's close.

Slaughter classes of cattle and calves were slow and steady to easier following the sharp advances of the previous week. Fed steers and yearlings and bulls sold steady. Cows were steady to 50 cents lower and slaughter calves sold on a steady to weak basis.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $19 to $22, high choice and prime lacking in the run; common and medium sorts $13 to $18.50. Bulls $11 to $16. Fat cows $13 to $15 and canners and cutters $8.50 to $13. Good and choice fat calves $19 to $21, and common and medium sorts $13 to $18.50. Culls $11 to $13. Stocker steer calves $20 to $25, and heifer calves $22 down; stocker steer yearlings $22 down; and stocker heifers $18.50 down; feeder yearling steers $20.25 down; older feeders $19.50 down. Stocker cows $10 to $16.

TEXAS CATTLE ON FEED OFF 38% FROM YEAR AGO

On October 1 report from USDA's Crop Reporting Board issued this week at Fort Worth the population in Texas feedlots is well below a year ago, as 38% fewer cattle and calves were reported on feed.

Despite the big crop of feed being made in most areas of the State, the numbers of cattle on feed continue relatively small.

Commercial feedlot operators report lots of "talk" about feeding but indicate a little improvement in the fat cattle market is needed to really start sizable numbers of cattle to the drylot. Another contributing factor has been the good gains being made on pasture, and a stepped up cattle feeding operation is expected to follow the first killing frosts.

Current high prices of stockers and feeders has been a deterrent factor, but with pasture conditions improving in nearly all sections of the Southwest and Great Plains States, the likelihood of much reduction in prices on replacement cattle seems remote.

HOGS AND SOWS SELL NEAR SAME LEVELS STILL

The trade in hogs was again highly uneven at Fort Worth Monday, with some sales a little higher and some a little lower than the low close of the previous week. Actually the range was up or down less than 25 cents.

Once again sows were selling almost on par with choice butcher hogs. Practical top on butcher hogs was $17.50, with a few $17.75, and while most sows sold from $17 down, a few choice light-weight sows reached $17.50. Medium to good butcher hogs sold at $16 to $17.

HOG EXPERTS WORRIED: PRICES BELOW ESTIMATES:

A checkup of prices this week with those in effect a year ago, made in the files of the Weekly Livestock Reporter at Fort Worth, reveals prices about $1.50 to $1.75 higher this year than last.

In the week ending October 26, 1956, hogs topped at $16 and $16.10. The top Monday at Fort Worth $17.50, a few $17.75.

Some of the so-called experts earlier this year had estimated swine prices would remain well ahead of last year throughout the Fall, and the current margin is too close for comfort!

SHEEP AND LAMBS ACTIVE STRONG, TOP $21.50

Opening trade at Fort Worth in the sheep yards Monday was a fully steady to strong affair, and high grades were again scarce. Fat lambs topped at $21 and $21.50, and some small lots of woolled feeders sold at $20 and $20.50, with shorn feeders at $19 down.

Goats sold from $5.50 to $6. Old wethers cashed at $13.50. Shorn yearlings sold at $17 to $18. Aged slaughter ewes drew $7.50 to $8.50.

13 STATES REPORT 11% LESS CATTLE ON FEED

USDA's Crop Reporting survey as of October 1 reveals the thirteen principal cattle feeding states had 11% fewer on feed than one year earlier.

The report indicated Western feeding areas had the largest declines.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wonders Whether Conquering Of Space Is As Hard As Conquering His Own Farm

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is still thinking about satellite, his letter this week reveals. He'll get used to it eventually.

Dear editor:
I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon speculating on the Russian satellite, I don't know of a thing I could conclude on the thing that'd be worth anything to me or the rest of the world, but speculating is easier than farming, and the thing that interests me is not what conclusions I've come to, but what opinions a lot of other people have come to.

According to the reports I've been reading, everybody is saying the Russians are ahead of us and thus have a great psychological advantage, it's a great propaganda weapon for the Russians, and our reputation as a top-notch scientific nation has been tarnished.

WINDSHIELD GLASS—Installed while you wait. Guaranteed not to leak. Munday Paint and Body Shop. 8-tfc

Well, now, I'll tell you, trying with propaganda, on earth or in space, is about like trying to control the weeds in your garden with psychology. I'd be in favor of doing it if I could, nothing would suit me more than to scare my weeds to death or frighten them into pulling themselves up by the roots and moving on or to fall down where they are in complete surrender, but it won't work, at least not with the type of weeds I've got out here. These aren't any first-generation weeds, they've been reproducing themselves out here for generations and can't be propagandized into giving up.

I'm perfectly willing to admit the Russians were first with a 1958 model instead of a 1957, with longer tail fins, and everybody knows the later the model the better, although this doesn't apply to some things, say to water pipes for example—fortunately man is just as happy with a 1929 model water pipe as he is with a 1957 if it produces running water, and it's a good thing, as it's all we can do now to change models in cars and clothes without pulling out our plumbing every year—and after we get up one, or a dozen up, life here on this farm isn't going to be very much different.

I don't care how far out into space man explores, he's still going to have to operate from within the same style body he's been using for thousands of years, and a hundred satellites circling the globe ain't going to change the fact a man still needs three good meals a day and some body is still going to have to go up one row and down another to provide them.

Maybe man will be able to conquer space some day, but somebody is gonna have to stay behind and keep on conquering this land, although I'll admit there are times, when I look at this place, when I believe I'd just as soon tackle space.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
