Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

It was sleet like everything when Jasper Bevers, who had killed his deer but not his limit, sat down in the shelter of a huge pine near Pagosa Springs to rest and get his breath. He had two shells left in his rifle, had just fired at a deer and had little thought of another coming near him as he rested.

Suddenly and without warning, a big buck came by. Jasper knocked him down with his first shot, then as he started to stick him, the animal got up and started off. Jasper felled him again with his last shot, and again before he could stick him he got up and disappeared, as the hunter watched with an empty gun. And that's the best story we've heard this year about the one that got away.

We guess we'll never be rich—but we'd never know how to act with a billion bucks, or even $75 million. Our chief interest is to see that those little checks we give occasionally are honored at the bank.

We noticed Monday that most of the nation's 76 richest people can contribute a portion of their wealth to oil. The only oil we have is that refined kind that's purchased at service stations, and our only chance to getting oil money is from our 90x85-foot lot on which our house stands, so you can see it's a slim one.

Fortune Magazine identified J. Paul Getty, American oil man now living in Paris, as the nation's richest man. His meager fortune is estimated from $75 million to a measly billion bucks. A few of the 76 whose bank accounts place ours in the shade are Texans, too.

Which reminds us that we got our local bank a lot richer last week than it really is. In our story about the bank's deposits, we stated they showed a gain of $861,000,000 over last June—which is a pretty good wad of folding money. The actual increase in deposits was $861,000, and that's not to be sneezed at, either.

We imagine the newspaper game would get to be pretty dull if it wasn't for those little errors that get by once in a while.

"He's new, isn't he?" We've been asked that question several times in the past two weeks—and that's right, he is new in these parts. He is Fred L. Waggoner, who came to work with The Times force last week, and he kinda took hold of that old Model 8 Linotype like he knew what it's all about. Fred comes from a newspaper family. His father, the late Thos. T. Waggoner, owned the Claude News when we started in the newspaper business 30 years ago. He has a brother who knows his way around in a newspaper plant and two half-brothers who now run the Claude News. Fred fits in right well here at the office.

We were among the 20-odd people from Munday who attended the "Thanks, Neighbor" stag get-together at Haskell on Tuesday night. It was sponsored by wholesalers, manufacturers, transportation companies and service companies of Wichita Falls, and a dozen towns of the area were represented. The barbecue feed was good, band music by Midwestern University students was fine, the barber shop quartet was excellent, and there were no long speeches—a very fine event. It was the way this group from Wichita Falls, who were not after retail business, had of saying thanks to towns of the area for their wholesale business.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn D. Weaver and daughter and Mrs. Willie Weaver returned home during the week end from two weeks visit with relatives in Wichita Falls, Dallas, Houston and in Lawton, Okla. Glynn has just returned home from an eighteen month tour of Japan. He received his discharge in California and states he has no definite plans for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Elliott and Dickey of Dalhart were guests of her sister, Mrs. Muriel Mitchell, last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Russell and sons of Denver City were week end guests of her mother, Mrs. W. W. McCarty.

Vegetable Growers Plan Increased Acreage In Cucumbers And Peppers

Members of the Munday Vegetable Cooperative Growers Assn. have indicated they will put about 2,675 acres in vegetables next year, Knox County Agent Roy England said this week.

Cucumbers and peppers will be tried on a large scale for the first time next year and will boost the total vegetable acreage well above this year's crop, England said.

About 10 acres of peppers and 150 acres of cucumbers were grown around Munday this year. Farmers next year will raise that to about 500 acres of cucumbers and 100 acres of peppers.

Acreages of other vegetable crops will be about the same, except for cantaloupes. Farmers didn't get to put their normal acreage in cantaloupes this year because of a long siege of spring rains.

England said there'll be about 800 acres of Irish potatoes in 1958, approximately 100 acres of cabbage, 75 acres of onions and 500 to 600 acres each of watermelons and cantaloupes.

"We think cucumbers and peppers are going to be very excellent crops for our area," England said. "They really looked good this year."

Income off peppers this year, England said, averaged about $250 an acre. He couldn't give the average income off cucumbers, but he said they were the Munday area's most profitable vegetable crop this year.

"Our only problem with vegetable production is marketing," England said. "We have everything else well in hand."

The Munday cooperative has contacted vegetable concerns, and farmers believe they'll have no trouble marketing the cucumber and pepper crops off 600 acres.

Potatoes give Munday farmers their biggest marketing problem, England said. He said it is difficult to "bring them off at the right time."

The potato market suffers of course, when the Munday crop hits the market at the same time as potatoes grown to the south east and west of Knox County.

"But if we can get our crop off between those other areas we can get good prices for our potatoes," England said. — Abilene Reporter-News.

Oil Activities

Stallcup Drilling Co. and J. D. Stack No. 1 G. M. Nix is an 1800-foot wildcat, one-half mile south of Goree.

Dublin-Kiel has plugged at 2-148 feet the No. 1 W. H. Freeman, Knox County wildcat three and three-fourths miles northeast of Knox City.

McMahon and Bullington Drilling Co. of Wichita Falls plans No. 1 Fain and Brown as a 2,700-foot wildcat four miles southwest of Truscott.

Completion was under way for Katz Oil Co. of Abilene No. 1-B Green, three-fourths mile west of the North Knox City Tannehill pool, but separated from it by failures. A drillstem test at 2,300 to 2,315 feet returned oil, mud, oil and salt water, and casing was being perforated from 2,299 to 2,304 feet in completion attempt.

Hard Freeze Comes Earlier Than Usual, Does Severe Damage To Irrigated Crops

The thermometer dipped below the freezing mark last Friday night, earlier than usual, earlier than expected and earlier than wanted, and made folks realize their winter clothing needed to come out of storage.

Coming at least two weeks earlier than expected, the cold snap did considerable damage to irrigated cotton in this area which had much of its late fruit still immature. Some irrigation farmers, according to reports, estimate the damage as high as above 30 per cent, while others believe the damage will not run so high if pretty weather continues.

Farmers with dry land cotton stated damage was not so great as most of the bolls were almost matured.

The mercury dipped to 29 degrees Saturday morning, was down to 28 degrees on Sunday, but it had warmed up to above freezing — 34 degrees — on Monday morning.

The frost was really "on the pumpkins" Sunday morning, and most tender plants were almost bitten to the ground by the cold weather.

Cotton Quota Vote To Be Held On December 10

The referendums on marketing quotas for the 1958 cotton crops—both upland and extra long staple—will be held on December 10, 1957. Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers today.

A national marketing quota of 11,920,290 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 17,391,304 acres were proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture for the 1958 upland cotton crop on October 11.

The quotas will be subject to approval by growers voting in the December 10 referendums. At least two-thirds of those voting must approve the quotas if they are to be in effect.

A national marketing quota and a national acreage allotment for upland cotton must be proclaimed for the following year if the Secretary finds that the total supply of upland cotton for the current marketing year exceeds the normal supply. For extra long staple cotton, quotas and allotments must be proclaimed whenever the total supply exceeds the normal supply by more than 8 per cent.

Growers have approved quotas for both types of cotton for the last four crops.

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Each year, as the Christmas season approaches, the National Tuberculosis Association carries on its annual Christmas Seal campaign. And it would be hard indeed to find a cause more worthy of public interest and support.

Great strides have been made in fighting tuberculosis—due in no small part to the work of the Association, and to the financial success past sales have achieved. But a great deal more remains to be done and must be done. The latest estimates indicate that 250,000 Americans have active TB, 100,000 of them unknown to health authorities. In addition, there are 1,750,000 people with inactive TB, and 550,000 of them are still in need of medical supervision or public health follow-up. And an estimated 55,000,000 Americans—a third of the population—are infected with the germs that cause TB. Some 2,700,000 of this huge group will develop TB in their lifetimes, if the present rate of development of disease from infection continues.

Early diagnosis and immediate treatment are essential in the control of TB. Education of the public and continued research are other vital weapons in this war. The Christmas Seal Sale supports the work of the 3,000 voluntary tuberculosis associations in this country and its possessions. Significantly, of the money raised each year in local communities, 94 per cent remains within the state.

The campaign begins November 15 and will continue through December. Do your part by buying seals.

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., DISPATCH: "Publicly supported schools lose more students than the private colleges . . . But it is maintained by the University of Kansas, that it would not be wise to reduce dropouts by limiting admissions. In a graduating class of 1,006 students, 208 scored below average in tests given their freshmen year. Had they not been admitted, the loss would have included 40 teachers, 22 engineers, seven lawyers, seven doctors and seven pharmacists. Most of the graduates entered professions in which they were badly needed."

BRIDGEPORT, ILL., LEADER: "There is to be a shortage of lawyers. Enrollment in the law schools of the nation has dropped to below the 1920 level even though the population has increased many millions and legal work has increased substantially. This information is being released by Albert J. Harno, retiring after 35 years as head of the University of Illinois College of Law."

GOOD BYE HUCK FINN!

Stephen Foster's "Old Black Joe" is a piece of immortal Americana, loved and sung by tens of millions of people over the generations. But it has been banned from certain air networks—on the grounds that it contains racially offensive phrases.

Now the New York City Board of Education has taken "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" from its approved textbook list for grade and junior high schools. A great many excellent critics regard Huck Finn as the greatest of all American novels, and practically all put it very high on the short list of genuine classics. The New York Times reports a publisher as saying the book was banned because, like Stephen Foster's wonderful old song, it was held to contain racially offensive material.

There is only one logical end to such a trend. All literary and musical material which happens to offend anyone should be banned—whether those offended are white men, yellow men, or black men; Protestants, Catholics or Jews; business men or labor leaders, and so on ad infinitum. Then we can all live in a cultural vacuum comparable to the Dark Ages.

A HEALTHY SHOCK

Americans have lived like children in Paradise for a long time. They have been surrounded by the "good life". Still not satisfied they have besieged government in massive pressure groups for special benefits and privileges. Inflation has been destroying the only common measure for material value we have—the dollar. In one case Federal military authority is being used over the opposition of state and local agencies, to enforce federal court orders by sheer might. Our people, by their abuses and lack of restraint, are threatening this republic.

They needed a healthy shock, and they have it in the Russian "Moon" which circled the earth at 18,000 miles an hour.

Senator Bridges, in commenting on the Russian rocket achievement, aptly calls for "an immediate revision of National psychology . . ."

"The time has clearly come to be less concerned with the depth of the pile on the new broadloom rug or the height of the tail fin on the new car and to be more prepared to shed blood, sweat and tears if this country and the free world are to survive."

MOTOR MAIDS

Survey Shows, Mile for Mile, Men Crumple More Fenders

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

THAT WOMEN HAVE FEWER ACCIDENTS than men is a fact long known and accepted—even by male drivers! However, most men believe that this is only because women drive fewer miles.

But now, from a man who knows his drivers, comes proof that this is not the only reason.

Dr. A. R. Lauer, head of the Iowa State College driver training laboratory says: "Most men prefer to believe that women are involved in fewer accidents because they don't drive as frequently. But we have made comparisons on a mileage basis which show that, mile for mile, men drivers have two and one-half times more traffic accidents than women."

Dr. Lauer, who has been delving into highway accidents and ways to reduce them for 25 years, also believes that women are better equipped emotionally for the task of teaching teenagers to drive.

In both field and laboratory tests, also reports Dr. Lauer, women show more of the patience and understanding necessary to teach young drivers the safe rules of the road.

"There is definitely an advantage in favor of the quiet, non-aggressive approach when it comes to traffic driving," he says.

"Easy does it" is one of the trademarks of the good driver and the 'Casper Milquetoast' or introvert has never been pictured having his car towed in for repairs. The extrovert or "show off" type, who wants to attract attention, is a far greater highway menace, Dr. Lauer believes. As a class, younger male drivers have a greater percentage of "shew offs", and a proportionately higher accident rate, he says.

A two-year study by Dr. Lauer of driver fatalities per 100 million miles shows that male drivers between 15 and 19 and from ages 75 to 79 have the highest rate. Women boast a consistently better record throughout the age ranges with the exception of ages 25 to 29 when there is only a slight difference and from ages 56 to 67 where they have a slightly poorer record than men.

The over-all driving record of women is two and a half times better than that of men. Dr. Lauer stresses—a talking point which all of us gals should remember!

Hot breads give a certain elegance to any meal. Serve unexpected guests something as everyday as bacon and eggs, but add a fragrant golden bread piping hot from the oven and the meal becomes something special. The family appreciates hot breads, too. With all the mixes available, with the simplicity of quick bread recipes and with a few dress-up tricks, hot breads are as easy as they are elegant.

Celery Seed Pin Wheel Biscuits can well make that bacon and egg meal something special, but they are just as good with soup, with salad or with a meat and vegetable dinner. Just make a standard biscuit dough from a mix or from a favorite recipe, 2 cups of mix or a 2 cups of flour recipe. Roll the dough in a rectangle 1/4 inch thick. Brush with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, sprinkle with 1 tablespoon celery seed and 1/2 cup grated American cheese. Roll up starting at long side of rectangle. Cut in 1/2 inch slices and place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in hot gas oven (450 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Makes approximately 12 pin wheels.

STOCKER DEMAND DOMINATES TRADE

FORT WORTH — Cattle and calves at Fort Worth Monday again met broad demand from stocker and feeder buyers, and prices on replacement kinds were fully steady to stronger. Almost any kind of animal that appeared capable of going back to the pasture and making a gain or raising a calf, moved to stocker buyers at prices well beyond the reach of the packer contingent.

This feature of the trade put a strong prop under most cattle and calves, and defeated efforts of any buyers who sought to lower costs. Fed cattle were very scarce, and about steady.

Comparative prices included: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearling cased at $19 to $22, and common and medium offerings sold from $14 to $19. Fat cows cased at $13 to $14.50, and canners and cutters cased at $8.50 to $13. Bulls brought $11 to $16.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $19 to $21.50, some baby heaves of yearling weights above that range. Common and medium offerings sold from $14 to $19. Culls cased at $11 to $13. Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $20 to $24.50, and heifer calves sold from $22 downward. Stocker steer yearlings of good and choice grades sold from $18 to $22. Stocker cows cased at $10 to $16, and some pairs sold with the $66-pound cows at $14.75, and the 323-pound calves at $21.

a steadily increasing flow of cattle and calves from Texas and other Western areas into the once cotton and tobacco empire of the South and Southeast has built up steadily. Reasons for the increased interest in livestock was primarily the removal of acreage from those basic crops under acreage allotments. Tens of thousands of these were shipped from Fort Worth.

Soil building crops became more popular, and the best way to market such roughage was with cattle or sheep.

In the recent drouth years Texas and other Western areas were forced to cut and cut again the numbers of livestock they could carry. Then the drouth began to break. This Fall livestock production prospects are excellent in view of recent rains, and lots of cold weather pasture in the form of wheat, oats and winter cover crops is assured.

Texas is ready to get back into the cattle and sheep business!

This situation has led to a reversal of the flow of livestock suitable for restocking from West to East, to East to West.

Thousands of cows, calves and yearlings are moving Eastward from the farms and plantations to the Great Plains country where once again the ground is moist and promises to once again sustain the accustomed millions of head of cattle and sheep.

Recent days have seen thousands of these "Southerners" on the yards at Fort Worth. The yard trade in the dealer division is the most active it has been in a score of years as stockmen shop around for cattle and sheep to harvest the bumper crop of green feed.

The tide has turned, and the flow is reversed, and should conditions continue favorable Texas' cattle and sheep population is going to be sharply higher in very short order due to this "Southern transfusion!"

HOGS OPEN LOWER; CORNBELT NUMBERS UP

The trade was slow in the hog yards at Fort Worth Monday. The 12 major markets reported more than 26,000 more hogs around the circuit than a week ago, and elimination of daylight saving time delayed usual reports from most North and East markets an additional hour.

However, trade developed 25 cents lower, with most choice hogs at $17.25, and a few $17.50. This was around 50 cents or more above Northern quotations. Sows at $17.25 downward shared the weaker market.

Yearling muttons sold from $17 to $18, and slaughter ewes sold from $7.50 to $9.00. A few breeding ewes sold at $20 per head. Aged bucks sold from $5 to $6.

A few goats sold for around $6.00.

Needs of Munday, Its Possibilities Viewed By Club

The needs and possibilities of Munday was presented in a symposium at the Study Club Thursday, October 24. Mrs. Tommy Harper was hostess for the afternoon.

Mrs. A. L. Smith, director of the program, presented Moulton Wiggins, Varney Moore, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, Mrs. Herbert Partridge and Charles Baker, who represented the civic groups of Munday.

Moulton Wiggins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the housing condition in Munday was one of the greatest needs at the present time. He discussed the possibilities of a cannery factory to take care of the surplus vegetable crop. A welcome committee has been appointed to organize a "Welcome Wagon" for newcomers.

Charles Baker, president of the Lions Club, assured the group of the club's desire to work on all worthwhile projects being sponsored by the other organizations. He reported on glasses which are being bought by the club for needy children.

Mrs. Herbert Partridge, representing the schools, reported that out of 600 voters in Munday that less than 10% vote in a trustee election. She said that we are all products of our community rather than products of our school. That the school is what we as citizens make it — and if we are not satisfied with our school then we should do something to help the situation.

The Home Demonstration Club was represented by Mrs. Almanrode. She says that one of Munday's greatest needs is a social center and she sees the possibilities of this materializing through cooperation of all organizations.

Varney Moore gave a very interesting and important talk on the North Central Texas municipal water supply. He said plans are being made to give the people an opportunity to show whether they want to join the other towns in the project. He urges everyone to vote either for or against this proposition.

The director, Mrs. Smith, closed the symposium with this remark, "Our hopes, our aspirations and our faith for the future of our town is even greater than those of yesteryear. Let us remember no one can defeat us but ourselves".

Mrs. Bertha Yarbrough came in last week for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough. She has accepted employment as cook for the Yarbrough Coffee Shop.

New 1958 Chevrolet Cars And Trucks On Display Thursday At Frost Chevrolet Co.

1958 CHEVROLET MODELS
Dramatic new styling and outstanding engineering advances mark the 1958 Chevrolet which makes its bow this week.

Labeled "the car of the year" by newsmen and technical writers who have attended private showings, the new model will be unveiled Thursday, October 31, in the showrooms of Frost Chevrolet Co. in Munday.

Also on public display for the first time will be the rakish 1958 Corvette and the latest in the Chevrolet truck line.

The 1958 Chevrolet is new from bumper-to-bumper and from frame to roof line. The all-new features include:

A completely re-styled car which is longer, lower and wider and emphasizes flowing sculptured lines from the dual headlamps to softly flared rear fenders.

An X-shaped frame which allows a lower silhouette but retains ample head room and increases leg room and luggage space.

Two suspension systems for a more luxurious ride along with remarkable handling, stability and durability. Sturdy coil springs, front and rear, are system which automatically adjusts to all load weights is optional.

A 348 cubic inch engine which is new from fan to flywheel. Designed primarily around a new combustion chamber, the optional Turbo-Thrust V8 offers greater torque for improved mid-range performance.

Chassis-body design integration to supply exceptional structural strength and greater rigidity.

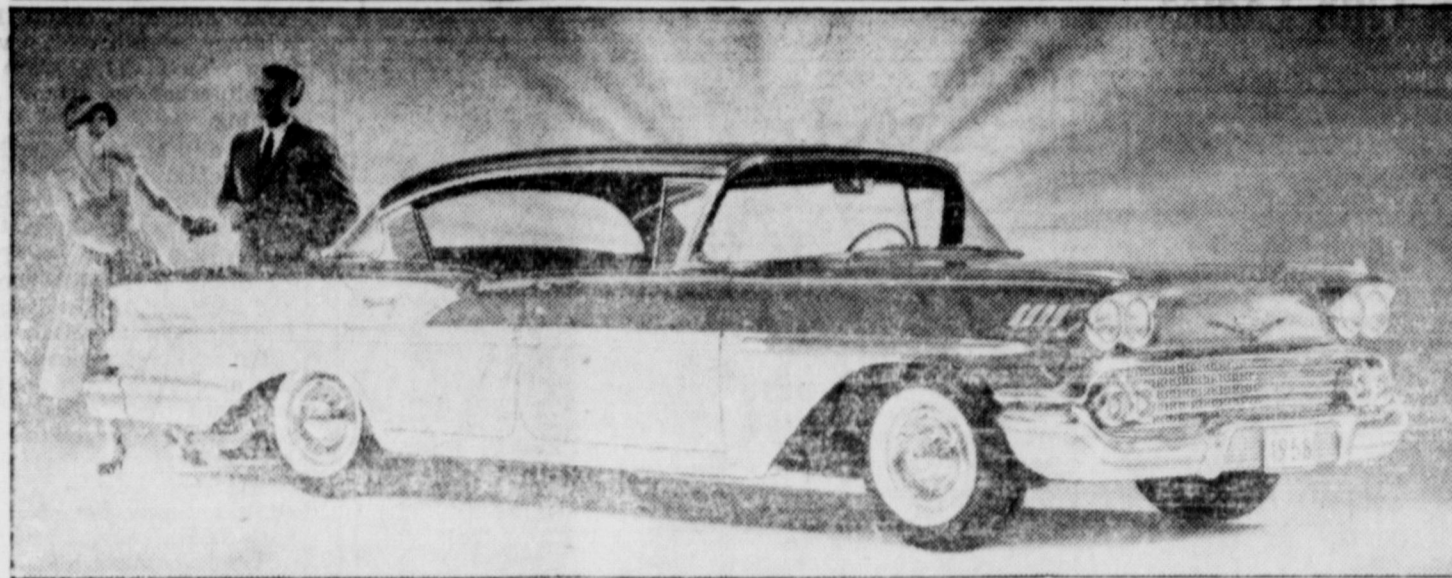

Forward-mounted steering linkage which provides more responsive action and reduces road vibration to the steering wheel.

Some idea of the fresh newness of the Chevrolet line is suggested by the new body groupings and identification.

In recognition of the growing popularity of station wagons, an exclusive five-unit series of this body type has been established.

The Bel Air series is continued but adds among its six models a sumptuous sport coupe and convertible under the Impala name-

LEAN, LOW LINES SPARK CHEVROLET BEAUTY

Chevrolet stylists have taken full advantage of nine inches in added length to mold low, fleet beauty into their 1958 models, as shown by this view of the Bel Air sport sedan. Strong eye-appeal is found in the modish grille, the dual headlamps and low, flat hood. Notable also is an unusual Sculpturamic styling which supplies an air of distinction. A new engine, new frame and two new suspension systems are only a few of the major chassis advances. Station Wagon, Bel Air, Biscayne and Delray Series are offered.

plate, introduced on a "dream car" at the General Motors Motorama in 1956.

In the middle range of the low-priced car bracket is a Biscayne series, with two sedans. The bottom end of the price spread will be occupied by three models making up the Delray series. In 1957 comparable series were known as Two-Ten and One-Fifty, respectively.

Roominess and quality of the new line, says the company, will be immediately apparent.

Over-all lengths have been extended a full nine inches to a new measurement of 209 inches. The wheelbase is up two and one-half inches to 117½. Roof lines have been lowered up to 2½ inches, yet design skill has retained ample passenger headroom.

In looks, the cars have an air of liveliness. Because of the thoroughness of the transformation, stylists and engineers were able to correlate their ideas into a single unit of bumper-to-bumper progress.

Dual headlamps, a grille with fine grid concave ribs and a low, flat hood unbroken by ornamentation, distinguish the front view. Judicious use of chrome moldings. Varied two-tone color patterns, a and decorative panels give each series an individuality and supply the latest examples of the industry's new art of "sculpturamic" styling. The rearward treatment also is unique. Avoiding sharp fin protrusion, rear fender lines sweep outward from the body, then curl around the tail light ensemble to form a shape which stylists likened to a graceful gull-wing in flight.

Yarborough was making his first State race and I was handling his publicity, we saw—over in his native East Texas—the first dogwood blossoms of the season—the first I had ever seen for I was from West Texas. He stopped the car, sprang out and got two sprigs for our lapels.

When we reached El Paso, where he had started in the practice of law, he hurried, with boyish eagerness, to the park in the center of the city and on over to the pool to see the alligators again.

He suggested we have dinner in Juarez and we did. Afterward, as we walked around looking at the shops, we came to the jail. "Would you like to see it?" he asked. I thought he was jesting but when I said, "Yes," he escorted the sentry and we were admitted for a sight-seeing tour.

As Judge Yarborough, our guide and I were standing in the jail yard and the prisoners were around in little groups, guards were pacing along the wall, rifles in their hands. I asked, "Do prisoners ever try to escape?" The guide replied, "Oh, yes, every now and then. Right here, the ground is a little higher and, only last week, a prisoner tried to get over the wall at this point. He was shot and fell dead right where you are standing now." I moved several paces.

Judge Yarborough's knowledge of Texas history was amazing and in order that I might see some interesting spot for the first time, he would drive out of his way and lose valuable campaigning time. For example, Langtry, incidentally, the roof of Judge Roy Bean's old Jersey Lily building was almost worn out and I wrote an article about it. Whether as a result or merely a coincidence, the State Highway Department repaired it soon afterward.

Yarborough was an eloquent speaker. At Elgin, he cited a bill which one of his opponents had voted for as a State Senator, and the description which Yarborough gave of the provisions of the measure was so stirring that, afterward a citizen walked along the street and, with a pocket-knife, slashed each of that opponent's placards as he came to them and his fellow townsmen looked on approvingly.

And at Richmond, Yarborough spoke with such eloquence that when he had finished, a dozen men piled into cars and drove to Rosenberg to hear the speech all over again!

Interesting Tour Of Area Homes Made By Home Demonstration Club Ladies

Forty interested Home Demonstration Club members proved that "seeing is believing" when they went through four homes in Truscott, Gilliland and Vera on Tuesday afternoon, October 29.

The ranch home of Mrs. J. R. Brown of Truscott was the first one visited. This home had been completely remodeled, the high ceilings being dropped four feet. The living room was paneled in mahogany and carpeted in rose beige. A porch had been turned into a bedroom with an immense walk-in closet. The bathroom had been moved. The kitchen and dining room were divided by cabinets opening to each side, with open serving space between. The original pine floors which could be saved were sanded and refinished; other exposed floors were finished hardwood. Soft pinks, greens and tans were used throughout all rooms, with touches of yellow in the kitchen.

Outside a double car port with storage room had been built. The house had been painted, new screened front added with concrete porch extending across.

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Burgess of Gilliland, the group saw a house which was remodeled and enlarged a few years ago. This year, new tables and sectional furniture has been added in the living room, where the color scheme is in shades of brown with accents of gold and rose. In one bedroom, the furniture has been refinished in rose pink.

The next stop was also at Gilliland, at the O. R. Miller home. A piano, which had been redone with a light finish, was an inspiration to a number of the group to go home and use this same method in refinishing furniture of their own. Mrs. Miller has also reupholstered several pieces.

Mrs. L. D. Allen at Vera explained to the group how her living room floor had been finished to give good service under hard wear. Several rooms in the Allen home have been refinished recently.

Mmes. Gill Wyatt, R. M. Almonroe, Joe Patterson and Tolbie Winchester were Munday club members who saw the improvements in these lovely homes.

Goree Study Club Meets Recently For Turkey Dinner

Using "Federation Day" as the topic of discussion, the Woman's Study Club of Goree met recently in Roddy's banquet room in Seymour where a turkey dinner was served to fourteen members.

Mrs. Chas. R. Mathis offered the invocation.

The president, Mrs. Orb Coffman, after greeting club members spoke on Federation tracing its history and work. T. F. W. C. commemorated its 60th anniversary in Waco this year where it was organized in 1897.

The Goree Study Club is one of the earliest clubs to become federated, having been organized in 1915 and federated in 1916.

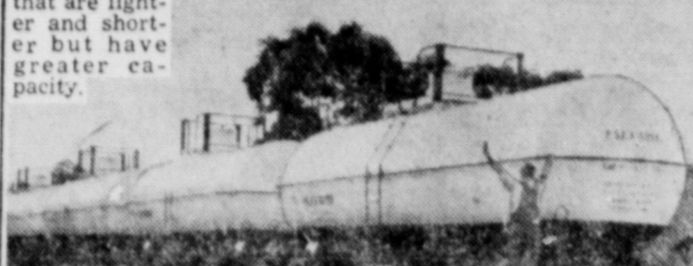

The group sang the "Federation March" which was written in memory of the occasion by the State Federation president, Mrs. A. J. House of Yoakum.

Mrs. Sam Hampton, chairman of the program committee, gave a resume of the years work stating that the title "pot purri" for the years study is neither boastful nor misleading as it means a great variety of ingredients, richly seasoned, as the programs will prove to be varied in nature.

Hostesses for this affair was the program committee, Mmes. Sam Hampton, W. M. Taylor, J. B. Lawson and Alma Reeves.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The community property laws make a lot of difference in how much estate tax a man dying in Texas may owe. Generally speaking the estate can be twice as large in Texas as in non-community property state before any estate tax is due.

Since the wife owns half of the community property the estate must be worth $120,000 instead of $60,000 before any Federal taxes are due. However, on the date of your death the value of your half and the widow's half of your property assume a new value for future income tax purposes.

After the death of either the husband or wife in a community property state, land bought for $1.00 an acre may be worth $1,000 an acre for future income tax purposes or on the other hand you may have paid $1,000 an acre and it will only be worth $1.00 an acre in the future. This makes it profitable for many small taxpayers to get a reliable appraisal of their property as of the date of death. It also makes it profitable for many people to pay an estate tax because the increased value of the widow's property for income tax purposes may save many times the small estate tax payment in future income tax payments.

It may pay you to see a reliable tax planning man.

A recent study indicated that on many dairy farms green-chop feeding may be more profitable than grazing, says A.M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman. The study revealed a higher efficiency of grassland when it was chopped because it prevented loss of grassland feed due to trampling by the cows.

By January 1, 1958, the total U. S. laying flock is expected to be down 6 to 8 percent from January 1, 1957. Statistics show a 25 percent decrease for Texas. The reduction will be due to fewer replacements with the decrease greatest in small flocks.

A coulometry is an instrument for measuring the amount of electricity passing through a circuit.

THE GREAT PLAINS CONSERVATION PROGRAM

The Great Plains Conservation Program which was authorized by Congress last year provides farmers and ranchers long-term assurance of assistance in carrying out a complete plan of operations for their farm or ranch unit.

221 counties in ten Great Plains states are eligible to receive program assistance.

The program is designed to aid farmers and ranchers in carrying out conservation measures through long-term, cost sharing contracts that will help to minimize climatic hazards and protect the land from erosion.

The Great Plains Conservation Program supplements existing programs and does not replace any of them. It establishes no new agency since it will be carried out in co-operation with local, already established agencies and farm organizations.

To participate, a farmer or rancher must have a workable plan that incorporates needed land use changes, cropping and grazing systems and soil and water conservation practices in proper combinations. The plan agreed upon and contracted with the Secretary of Agriculture must be completed in ten years. However, contracts may be made for a period of less than ten years. The farmer or rancher must agree to carry out the plan within the contract period; however, there are provisions for changing the plan when the practices cannot be applied through no fault of the landowner.

The program will be initiated, approved and supervised on a local county level by a County Committee composed of the work unit conservationists with Soil Conservation Service, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, and County Supervisor of the Farm and Home Administration. This committee will work with the County Agricultural Agent, Soil Conservation District Supervisors, and other local farm leaders.

The Soil Conservation Service will provide available technical assistance to a farmer or rancher in developing and carrying out a plan of operations under the program.

CULTIVATED GRASS

Cotton and Grain sorghums are major money-makers in the Texas Panhandle but a third commodity looms on the horizon whose possibilities are just now being explored.

That commodity is cultivated grass.

A few farmers have been reaping large profits from grass as a seed crop. Indian grass grown on a farm near Morton produced 12,500 pounds of seed on 14 acres which sold for $1.25 a pound in 1955.

Two acres of Blackwell switch grass in Hockley country threshed 400 pounds of seed at $1.25 per pound, grossing $250 an acre.

These, and other trial plots, point up the fact that grasses may soon become an important part of every crop rotation. Although the price of $1.25 per pound will not hold up long with successive good crops, those few far sighted farmers gambled on grass and it has paid off handsomely.

In spite of the high prices, the growers had no trouble selling all the seed raised. From a total of around 800 acres in grass seed production in the Panhandle during 1956, the acreage is expected to increase by leaps and bounds.

Most growers agree that the price of seed will nose-dive after a few more big crops. This may be a "left-handed" blessing for all concerned, however.

At present, the cost of buying and broadcasting this seed on over-grazed rangeland can run as high as $15 per acre. For many ranchers today, this cost is prohibitive. Cheaper seed of good quality will be in even greater demand than at current price levels, however.

Some growers have proved that grass will fit into money-making rotations. A farmer may grow a seed crop and get several months grazing as well. He can graze the grass in summer, pull off the livestock and make a seed crop. Or he can make a crop, water heavily and have good grazing all through the winter.

Most plots of grass were in the irrigated sections of the High Plains. The growers plant the grass seed in a small ridge, cover it very shallow and irrigate. Previously, plantings in the bottom of furrows proved only moderately successful since even light rains would wash the dirt and bury the seed too deeply.

Grass farming is sound, profitable, and will bring the soil back to its original fertility. The days of fabulous profits may be numbered but the prediction is that grass will spread year by year over many parts of the country as a money crop.

the living room with pieces of torn rags, smelly oil and cleaning rods.

The reason being that hunting season is only two weeks off and it's time to get the ol' '30-06' out of the closet or off the mantle and start cleaning it so as to be ready on the first day to get that big buck you know is just waiting for you.

Just how many Americans and Texans are going to blow their heads off with an unloaded rifle is a matter of conjecture, but it is a hard statistical fact that the death rate from firearms jumps up from an average of about 150 deaths per month to over 250 in October.

In November, when hunting starts in earnest, and normally sane men start blasting away at one another on deer leases or contriving intricate methods of suicide such as climbing over barbed-wire fences with their rifles off safety, the figure climbs to 340 deaths more or less.

In Texas 169 persons died from firearm accidents last year. It is only reasonable to assume that half of these were attributable to hunting mishaps of one kind or another.

However, death from firearms is not the only way to die during hunting season. A good many hunters slip and fall over precipices while gazing off into the distance instead of watching their steps on unsure ground.

Some get killed before they get to the deer lease in their frantic effort to get there fast combined with a few warming drinks on a chilly pre-dawn morning drive.

Common sense, starting with cleaning the rifle until you bring the deer meat home a wrapped up in foil, will save a lot of heartbreaks in a good many Texas homes this hunting season. Why not try some?

AROUND THE WORLD

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. This is the most dramatic and most grueling test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaya, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford powered over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies. It crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Tiber, the Arno, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and paused at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris couturieres at the famous fashion salons where its "sculptured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world.

The 58 Ford rode smoothly down the rugged, beautiful seacoast of Tito's country, to a festival in Dubrovnik, and into Greece to Athens, where this newest classic met such ancient classics as the Parthenon and the Temple of Poseidon.

Into Turkey; and the 58 Ford passed the great white lacework palaces of the Sultans along the Bosphorus and the Golden Horn. Then the Ford went where few but nomads travel, up into the hot days and chill nights of the ancient mountains of Afghanistan. And thence along the route Alexander the Great followed with his chariots to cross the historic Indus river.

On and on the Ford moved, down into the heat of mysterious India, through New Delhi to the Taj Mahal, and to the great pink palace of the Maharajah of Jaipur.

This great new car met the challenge of the monsoons—rains that for centuries have stopped all road movement throughout Indo-China, but didn't stop the 58 Ford. It drove on to Penang in Malaya, and then north to Bangkok.

Further on came Saigon, the Paris of the Orient, at the farthest tip of Southeast Asia. Finally, it powered across the great Rockies and plains of North America and back, at long last, to Detroit, Michigan.

The 58 Ford . . . has been proved and approved around the world. A natural question arises. Why did Ford go to such great lengths with its 1958 model? Why spend so much money and time and go through all the problems of negotiations, customs, border transit, diplomacy in so many countries?

The answer: in the competitive automobile market of today, only the best in all-around value can survive. And this round-the-world test is the most decisive demonstration of the best.

The 1958 Ford is value: hard-dollar value. It is also style, power, performance, and a dozen great new features. But above all, it is value.

This is the car you've been waiting for. See it November 7—there's nothing newer in the world than the 58 Ford!

Careless Pedestrians And Motorists Are Cause Of Many Accidents After Dark

AUSTIN — Early twilight calls for drivers to ease-up on speed and use extra caution.

"Motorists must be aware of the fact that dusk can be deadly, and drive accordingly," J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today. He was speaking in behalf of the safety-after-dark program sponsored by TSA during October.

"There is no doubt about it, many future traffic accident victims are walking and riding on the streets right now. Victims who will be struck down after dark," Musick said. "I'm talking about the careless pedestrians and motorists—the one who do not realize that from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. are particularly dangerous hours. That's when people are rushing home from work, tired, fretful, impatient and inconsiderate. And, when visibility is especially poor."

Musick stressed that it is important for pedestrians and motorists to look out for each other. He emphasized that this could be made easier if they would "light up" at night.

"Darkness reduces visibility, and it is important that the pedestrian be easily seen. It is a good idea for night walkers to wear white or light colored clothing and carry a flashlight if possible," Musick said.

"Of course the idea of being seen also applies to the drivers.

They should make it a point to turn on their headlights at the first hint of dusk. Parking lights won't do, because they make the distance of the car too easy to misjudge by others."

Musick also stressed that motorists should have their lights checked regularly to make sure they are in good condition. And each driver should take it upon himself to be the first to "dim" when another vehicle approaches.

With the rains and winds of winter just around the corner, farmers are reminded that cover crops can be extremely beneficial in preventing erosion. But cover crops do more than just protect the land, says R. J. Hodges, extension agronomist. These crops improve the soil itself, leading to increased yields. Grazing, hay silage or seed taken from the winter crop will also mean more pro-

Hog Producers Asked To Avoid Heavy Production

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has asked hog producers to consider their production intentions for 1958 with special care in light of the present hog price situation.

Hog prices have been fairly good this year—running between $17 and $22 per hundred pounds through September. But what will happen to prices by fall of 1958 and the following year depends upon the number of pigs produced next spring. Too many sows farrowed early next year could mean a severe decline in price next fall.

Except for slight seasonal downturns, hog prices have been steadily recovering from a low point of around $10 per hundred pounds to which they fell in Dec. 1955. The gains of the past two years can be maintained only if supply is kept reasonably close to prospective demand.

The Secretary is concerned because conditions exist this fall which could stimulate production to the extent that prices would again dip disastrously. And the market would be flooded with pork beyond consumers' demands.

Among factors which point to increased hog production next year is a large supply of feed grains at a relatively low price due to bumper crops this year. The number of bushels of corn that could be bought with the price of a hundred pounds of hogs has averaged slightly above 12 over many years. This Sept. it rose to a high of 16.6 bushels, and it is expected to run between 14 and 15 during the current breeding season. Such a situation almost invariably leads to increased farrowings.

Increased population should take care of a moderate increase in the 1958 spring pig crop, but growth in consumer demand for pork has been slow. The Department's market analysts warn that more than moderate increases could lead to a repetition of the unfavorable price situation of late 1955. They think that at least a 7 percent increase is in prospect.

HURRICANE AUDREY winds shriek across the flat marshes of southwestern Louisiana as cattle are herded to safety before the onrushing storm of last June 27. The Southwestern exposition will be held Jan. 24 through Feb. 2. Persons interested in obtaining a premium list or entry blanks may write the Stock Show at P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth 1, Texas.

On November 5, 1957, three proposed constitutional amendments will be submitted for approval to the voters of Texas. One of these, House Joint Resolution No. 37, will, if approved, authorize several important changes in the State Employees Retirement System.

The System presently covers all regular employees of State departments and agencies. It does not apply to part time employees nor to elected office holders. Persons covered by other state supported retirement systems are excluded.

The amendment would permit extension of the System to cover some who may now be under county retirement plans, and authorizes inclusion of employees of judicial districts of the State who draw part or all of their pay from the State, directly or indirectly.

The amendment would also allow the legislature to extend coverage to elected officials. However, in House Bill 790, which implements the amendment if and when the amendment receives approval, no elected officials, including members of the legislature, were included in the coverage.

Under present law, the State matches any contribution made by the employee, but the employee's annual contributions is limited to $180, which is 5% of $3,600. The amendment would retain the 5% rate, but the $3,600 limit is removed and the contributions of both the State and the employee would be based on the employee's total pay.

The proposal would remove the present provision that persons receiving benefits from the State Employees Retirement Fund must release the State's contribution on their behalf to this fund before becoming eligible for other state aid or pensions.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Provence Says Public Tired Of Floods; Will Vote For Proposal 3 On Nov. 5th

Regardless of the kind of water legislation that comes out of the special session of the Texas legislature, the constitutional amendment (Proposal No. 3) to be voted on Nov. 5, must be adopted by the voters to make a state water program work.

So stated Harry Provence, editor of the Waco News-Tribune and chairman of the Governor's steering committee for the Water Development Amendment.

"This amendment was overwhelmingly approved by the Texas Legislature last spring," Provence pointed out. "Its sole purpose is to provide a fund with which the State of Texas can help finance water development projects."

Provence explained that there are bound to be differences of opinion among Legislators as to the kind of water legislation that is needed. "There always are differences of opinion on any legislation," he emphasized. "But differences can and will be settled."

Recent rains, the Waco editor cited, again point up the necessity for adequate dams and reservoirs. And he added that the people of Texas are getting tired of losing millions of acre feet of water and suffering thousands of dollars in property damage, because of lack of water storage facilities.

"What the legislature decides to do with the water after it is in storage is a matter for them to determine," Provence added. "But the people of Texas first of all must vote for water development. Proposal No. 3 must be passed on Nov. 5 before Texas can start to do, under its own power, the conservation work that still needs doing."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wonders If Russian Farmers Are As Happy Over Sputnik As Their Big Bosses Are

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek reviews the satellite situation once more, with a different slant, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

You may think I'm in a rut, writing about the Russian satellite for the third week in a row, and I may be, although if I am I got there on my own without the help of the Russians and anyway I don't mind, being in a rut is a lot safer than being on most highways I know about, but I have been thinking some more and have come to the conclusion the reason the Russians were in a hurry to get that satellite up into space was to take the Russian farmers' minds off their share of the earth.

Now I don't know anything about the Russian farmers personally, but I have an idea the average farmer over there, working the land for the government and being told how many hours a day he has to work and how much of his crop he can keep, had just as soon believe the earth is flat and own some of it, than to work for the state and conquer space.

Khrushchev may chortle when that satellite goes hurtling around the globe, but I imagine a Russian farmer, looking up in the twilight from his job of milking a government cow, would enjoy the sight of Sputnik more if the cream went to him instead of Moscow.

Understand, I'm in favor of the United States getting on a little faster with its guided missile program, and I have an idea it will, now that Washington has heard from the folks at home, but I'd like to point out that science is not the complete answer. The man who thought up the idea of a system that allows me to own a piece of land out here and live on it like I please, with nobody able to take it away from me as long as I pay the taxes, well, he was a pretty smart man, but he wasn't a scientist.

Science makes freedom more fun, but science without freedom is like a penitentiary with air-conditioning—it's still a penitentiary.

I wouldn't swap my farm for a dozen satellites, but I have an idea there are a good many Russian farmers who'd swap all the Sputniks the Communists can launch for one little piece of land they could call their own. But they needn't be looking to me. This Johnson grass farm out here on the creek is not for sale or trade.

Yours faithfully,
