Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Ever since Sputnik was launched into outer space and began competing with the moon and sun in their orbits, we American people have begun to get too many "niks" into our vocabularies.

k-k

Following old Sputnik a few weeks ago, came word last Sunday that another satellite had been catapulted into space, and it got the name of Sputnik II for a while. Inside this job was a live Russian dog with a batch of instruments attached to its body to send recordings back to earth—so the satellite was promptly called Muttnik.

k-k

Along about the same time, things were happening in Texas. A mystery object, big and ablaze with light, was seen near Leveland and at other places in the area, and some thought it was a flying saucer from another planet. A negro truck driver is said to have fainted from fright when his car lights went out and his motor stalled as he neared the object. Then came reports that this frightening thing was Spooknik.

k-k

Let's all start a project of sky watching. Seems we're missing a lot of funny objects by failing to do so.

k-k

And if you want our opinion about conditions in Munday during the week end, we'll tell you that the weather was "wettnik."

k-k

Anywhere a group is gathered and conversation continues for any period of time, you can bet that the weather comes in for its share. We've heard about "too little too late," but in our opinion the weather has been dished out to us "too much—too late!" Last summer, we wanted it to rain and it wouldn't. We welcomed the rain in the early fall, even though it was rough on the cotton farmer, but an aid to the wheat farmer. It continues to come and we're informed that cotton and maize is ruining and we'll all have web feet before it's all over.

k-k

Will the town be closed next Monday? That's the question that has been asked us several times this week. Our answer has to be "We don't know." Observance of the day, as Armistice Day or as Veterans Day, don't mean so much to us as American people any more, as wars have followed wars, both fighting wars and cold wars — and the general turmoil of the world today.

k-k

November 11, an Armistice Day, was voted by directors in the Chamber of Commerce as one of the holidays to be observed this year. But the Chamber of Commerce is a civic and service body, and not a ruling body. Nobody has to close a place of business simply because this body would like for the day to be observed as a holiday. Individual problems confront every businessman. Will your store close on Armistice Day? You're the one to decide in the final analysis.

k-k

M. L. Wiggins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday that the directors could not foresee the weather, of course, when they voted November 11 as one of the holidays last April. Due to these conditions, the directors are not urging anyone to close — but leaving it up to their own discretion. City offices, the Chamber of Commerce, the U. S. Post Office, and possibly others will be closed for sure and certain.

k-k

They're talking about a 40-year record rainfall in Dallas, a record for the first part of November in Wichita Falls, and other records being broken this year, and we imagine some records have been broken here, although Mr. Hill didn't say when he brought in the weather report Wednesday. Anyway, we've received 3.64 this week, up until 7 p. m. Tuesday and 30.87 for the year. That's lots of moisture, compared with the puny 11.11 inches we got last year.

SELL FRUIT CAKES

The Mogul Band students will again sell fruit cakes for Christmas, and are now taking orders for them. If not contacted by some of the band members, those desiring cakes are urged to turn in their orders as soon as possible. Students will work for cash prizes, so "be a band booster."

New Ford Cars On Display At Key Motor Co.

Dwight C. Key, owner of Key Motor Co. in Munday, has "rolled out the plush carpet" for the first showing in Munday of the new 1958 Ford cars and trucks. The new cars went on display in the showrooms of Key Motor Co. on Thursday morning.

"There's nothing newer in the world."

This is the slogan for the new cars, which feature beautiful automotive developments, based on strong, clear-cut design which is meeting the approval of motorists.

"The new safety-twin headlights, the superb honeycombed front grille, the extremely advanced rear look with the new safety-twin taillights and sculptured rear deck, new power-flow hood, and slipstream roof — all of these features are simply the glittering outward result of the mechanical excellence inside," the manufacturers state.

Other Ford features are the new Ford Interceptor engine with precision fuel induction, new Ford-Aire suspension that really cushions road shock and the Cruise-O-Matic drive, a great advancement in automatic transmissions.

"The Ford Motor Company is trying to discourage inflation," Mr. Key said, "by holding prices down as much as possible. Although there is a small increase in prices of all makes of cars, Ford prices have advanced from 2.4 to 3 per cent, depending on equipment, while other competitive makes went up quite a bit more."

The entire public is cordially invited to come in this week end and see the new Ford cars and trucks which are now on display. As visitors come in to view the new 1958 Fords, they are served free coffee and doughnuts, and free door prizes are being offered the children.

Moguls' Game At Holliday Is Set On Thursday

Coach Troy Stewart announced last Monday that the Mogul-Holliday football game, originally set for Friday night, will be played tonight (Thursday) at Holliday.

The Moguls will be entering the game as underdogs, statistically speaking, as they have a 1-2-1 season record to 3-1-0 for the Eagles. Season records stand 1-5-1 for the Moguls and 4-4-0 for Holliday.

While Munday was suffering a 32-0 defeat from Archer City last Friday night, Holliday was taking Iowa Park to a 40-7 count.

Despite prospects for probable inclement weather, a number of loyal Mogul fans are expected to accompany the team to Holliday.

6-B CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

In their first business meeting of the year, held recently, the 6-B class of Junior High School elected the following officers for the year:

Kenneth Smith, president; Ronnie Ward, vice president; Sherry Owens, secretary, and Kathy Burnett, reporter.

"World of Ideas" will be shown on Thursday, November 7, at 4 p. m. at the study club house of the regular Munday Study Club program. Mrs. Helen McClure will read the commentary on the 55 color slides in this program, which includes 35 room settings. In addition to the room settings, the program includes a group of colorful pictures of countries visited. These pictures are from pages of Holiday Magazine and they transform the program into a home decorating travelogue.

The color slides also show how fabric design is created. These fabrics are featured in room settings which have captured the moods of the various countries.

While maintaining their international flavor, the room settings have been designed for adaptation to our American homes.

An added feature of the program is a dress length which will be given a door prize.

Club members are urged to see this program and enjoy a thrilling trip around the world right in the clubhouse.

Oil Activities

Another new Tannehill pay has been opened in Knox County with the completion of Anderson Petroleum Co. No. 1 Ada Jarvis, about seven miles west of Munday. Twenty-four hour pumping potential for the well was 53 barrels of 35 gravity oil from perforations at 2067-74 feet.

Bridwell Oil Company originally drilled the venture and abandoned it last June at 2207 feet. Jarvis (Tennehill) Field has been suggested as the name for this new pay.

Katz Oil Co. of Abilene has completed No. B-1 O. A. Green in the Knox City, Northwest (Tannehill) Field, two miles northwest of Knox City. The well flowed 86 barrels of 35.3 gravity oil per day through 13-64 inch choke from pay perforated at 2299-2304 feet. Hole was plugged back from 2410 to 2321 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 147-1.

E. J. Moran of Dallas has reported a daily pumping potential of 66.68 barrels of 35 gravity crude for No. 3 Bertha Mae Haslin Thurman in the Golden (Tannehill) Field, six miles northeast of Goree. Pay was perforated at 1692-1700 feet, with total depth of 1730. Gas-oil ratio was 200-1.

Jack C. Staley No. 1 Minor Coffman is a 1975-foot wildcat four miles north of Goree. A wildcat failure was reported when Akin and Dimock abandoned at 2248 feet No. 1 R. C. Partidge, four miles west of Munday.

Katz Oil Company of Abilene is in process of completing No. 2 Bridges, two miles northwest of Knox City, at 2392 feet. An early drillstem test at 2294 feet returned oil and heavily oil and gas-cut mud, with no water. In a more recent test, recovery was 880 feet of oil, 70 feet of mud-cut oil and 120 feet of salt water.

Akin and Dimock of Wichita Falls have completed No. 1 John Michels, three miles northwest of Knox City. The well is pumping 26 barrels of 35 gravity oil per day from open hole at 2220-27 feet. Jack C. Staley et al, Wichita Falls, is drilling No. 1 Minor Coffman, four miles north of Goree, at a 1975-foot venture.

Homecoming For Benjamin School Is Set November 9; Plans Are Completed

Plans have been completed for the annual homecoming of Benjamin High School, which is slated for Saturday, November 9, a highlight of which will be the Benjamin-Mattson football game.

Several hundred cards were mailed to the known addresses of ex-students and teachers. The steering committee asked the cooperation of ex-students and teachers in passing on word of the event.

Activities will begin at 2 p. m., and feature the first parade in homecoming history. After the parade, registration will begin and the program visiting and business meeting will be on schedule until 5:30, when dinner will be served by a Wichita Falls catering service.

The football game will start at 7:30 o'clock, and the clubroom will be headquarters for visiting after the game.

All ex-students and teachers of Benjamin High School are urged to attend.

Rear Window Of Auto Blown Out

The J. F. Michaels, who occupy the Methodist parsonage, were getting ready to retire the other night when they heard an explosive sound. Thinking it was a car backfiring, or something of that nature, they went to bed and slept soundly.

Next morning, when Rev. Michael went to start his car, he discovered the rear glass broken, with a big hole in each end and glass shattered everywhere. He first looked for a rock inside the car, but discovered the force that broke the glass was from the inside.

It is presumed that pressure of warm air inside the car against cold air outside caused the glass panel to break, but the pastor and wife have plenty of ventilation in their car, now!

Munday Junior Team Plays Crowell Monday

Suffering a defeat their first go-round with the Crowell junior team the Munday Junior High School team is eagerly awaiting their chance to tangle with them Monday night on the local field and plan to give them a run for their money this time.

The game will start at 6 o'clock Monday, November 11. After this game the Munday Mogul B team will play the Crowell B team. This also promises to be a good game, so go out and root for the home teams.

The Goree Cemetery Association will serve chicken dinner, with dressing and all the trimmings, on Friday, November 8, in the memorial building, beginning at 11 a. m. The public is invited to come out and enjoy a good meal.

Munday Junior High School To Observe American Education Week, Nov. 10-16

Munday Junior High School student body and faculty will join the Nation's schools in observance of American Education Week, November 10-16, by holding open house with parents and friends of the school as honored guests.

American Education week had its beginning in 1921 when representatives of education met with American Legion representatives and set aside this week in order to acquaint the public with the work of education and its problems of training children for effective citizenship. Since that time this observance has been promoted by the National Education Association and the U. S. Office of Education. Under the leadership of the World Federation of Education Associations the custom has been adopted in other countries also.

In keeping with the purposes set forth by the promoters of this observance, classes at Munday Junior High will go on as usual, and guests will be welcome to come and go at will, visiting any or all classes. From 10:30 to 11:00 and from 2:00 to 2:30 each day refreshments will be served by members of the Good Manners Committee.

Student Council members assisted by members of the Building and Grounds, Good Manners, Health and Safety, and Program Committees will serve as hosts, registering guests and conducting them to points of interest throughout the building.

On Thursday (at 10:30) the following program will be presented by the student body in the school gymnasium:

- I. "America" — Student Body and Guests.
- II. Invocation — Mr. W. C. Cox
- III. Presentation of Student Council and Citizenship Club.
- IV. Music by Junior High Band — Director, Mr. Hulise
- V. Skit: "Munday's First School"
- VI. Music by Junior High Girl's Chorus

Since classrooms are small and space limited, parents are requested to follow as nearly as possible the following schedule when visiting individual classes:

Parents whose names begin with A through C — Monday; D through H — Tuesday; I through M — Wednesday; N through R — Thursday; and S through Z — Friday.

All parents and others interested in the school are invited and urged to attend the program on Thursday.

Rattlesnake Den Found In Cellar

Joseph Decker, farmer of the Rhineland community, reports that he could have easily gone into the rattlesnake business a few days ago — but he prefers farming to that type of business.

He discovered a den of them in an old abandoned cellar about a half mile from his place. He killed two of them and saw another sunning itself in the cellar, but failed to bag this one.

Joe will probably keep this weather eye peeled for this one, because the most harmless snake is a dead one.

Road Projects Slated For Area

The Texas Highway Commission has taken the first step to inaugurate a new two-year Farm-to-Market Road Program for Texas, Marshall Formby, Chairman of the Texas Highway Commission stated today. Money for this program is derived from the fund established by Senate Bill 287, Fifty-first Legislature.

Palmer Massey, District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department at Childress has stated that the following farm-to-market roads in this area are scheduled for work under this program:

From FM Road 2365 at 1.6 miles south and east of State Highway 222, south to Haskell County line, a distance of approximately 0.6 mile.

From FM Road 267 at Rhineland, east to FM Road 266, a distance of approximately 7.2 miles. It was announced that work will begin on these projects just as soon as final planning is completed and right of way secured. Resident Engineer H. T. Cunningham will be in charge of the work in this area.

Voss of 1718 Walnut Street, Abilene, Texas. Mrs. Cunningham had suffered from a heart condition and had been bedfast for some time.

A native of Athens, Tennessee, Mrs. Cunningham was born Addie Shell August 2, 1874. She was married August 18, 1895, to Elijah Cunningham in Athens. The couple moved to Texas about 1900, settling in Celina where Mr. Cunningham engaged in farming. They came to West Texas in 1922, first settling near Goree. They moved to Munday early in 1926. Mr. Cunningham preceded her in death on January 21, 1952.

TOP QUALITY AT MODERATE COST
Oil Progress Week was observed during the week of October 13 this year, and so is over. But it's a good bet that millions of people will long remember the information dispensed during that period.

It would be impossible to enumerate all the activities that helped to make the Week the success it was. In every part of the country there were displays and exhibits, rallies and meetings open houses and parades, speeches and luncheons, contest and courtesy campaigns, advertisements and motion pictures—and so on and so on. Newspapers and other media of communication gave wide coverage. Everything possible was done to bring the Week and its significance to the attention of the public.

The Week's slogan was a memorable one—"With Today's Gasoline, You're Driving a Bargain". The objective was not to promote gasoline as a product, but to show how it symbolizes the oil industry's progressiveness, competitiveness and awareness of its social and economic obligations. Gasoline prices have risen substantially less during this age of inflation than the prices of most commodities in general use. Gasoline here commonly costs much less than in other countries. And the quality has been steadily and markedly improved—which is a form of economy for the user in itself.

This is true of all the other oil products we consume in such vast quantities. Competition assures that we get top quality at the most moderate cost.

PILGER, NEBRASKA, ENTERPRISE: "The products of American industry—undreamed of luxuries a century ago—could not be distributed until advertising created new demands. . . . The early communist government in Russia considered advertising to be an economic waste. However, the Russians found that people accustomed to doing without would not buy even necessities once they became available without advertising. Today, consumer advertising is common in Russia."

LAKEWOOD, N. J. CITIZEN: "It has been suggested that the reason there were fewer wrecks in the horse and buggy days was because the driver didn't depend wholly on his own intelligence."

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

WHAT IF YOUR HOME BURNED DOWN?
What would you do if your house burned down? There's a superficially easy answer to that question—you'd rebuild it with the insurance money.

However, unless you're one of a comparatively small minority of people, you'd be shocked to learn just how inadequate your fire insurance coverage is.

The main reason that is true is explained by one little word—inflation. Sylvia Porter tells the story in one of her recent syndicated columns. A house that cost $8,000 in 1937 would cost $21,600 to replace today. A house that cost $12,000 as late as 1946 carries an $18,300 price tag now. So it goes. Miss Porter quotes an authority on the subject as saying: "There's no doubt that the overwhelming percentage of America's tens of millions of homeowners are underinsured."

And that isn't the whole story. The same thing is true, and in many cases to an even greater degree, of the contents of our homes. We buy all manner of things over the years, and we just don't realize how much the total worth comes to. Then, on top of that, inflation has driven up the replacement cost of all commodities, just as it has driven up construction and repair costs.

This year fire losses will hit an all-time high, and may reach or pass $1 billion. Your home and everything in it could help make up that grim statistic. Carefully inventory your possessions, then see your local insurance agent and make sure your fire policies really meet your needs.

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "Lebanon is a small, attractive country, militarily weak but with a now ingrained Western cultural influence. Intellectually, it can play a role in Arab affairs far beyond its size or strength. And its pro-Western intellectuals are a force and a factor in this situation. It has survived, and democratically, an assault similar in intention to that which nearly toppled Hussein. The Eisenhower Doctrine was but one factor in the election. More deep was the healthy influence of Western culture."

YOUR $2,400 TAX BILL
Are you interested in startling facts? Here's one produced by a recent study: Last year taxes levied by the federal, state and local governments took an average of $2,400 from each of America's 42 million families. Part of this was paid directly and part of it indirectly. Either way, it came out of our pockets and left us poorer.

'Death Valley Days'—Livelier Than Ever

Still going strong after 27 years before the public, the last five on television, "Death Valley Days" ranks as one of the top-rated adult westerns in the nation.

The producer, Dorothy B. McCann, who created the series back in 1930, believes the reason for the longevity of "Death Valley Days" can be summed up in two words: Authenticity, honesty.

More than 50 persons, including lovely Rosemary DeCamp, face the camera each week to bring each episode to life. Keeping yesterday alive for millions of fans is Stanley Andrews, "The Old Ranger", who narrates true stories of the old west.

The result is a series that garnered numerous awards, including recognition by the Governors of Nevada, Utah and Washington.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

Cranberries and turkey go together like ham and eggs, but cranberries go equally well with many other foods. Their fresh tangy flavor goes well with all poultry, with meats of all kinds and with casserole dishes. They make delicious salads, pastries and breads.

When buying fresh cranberries, select those that are plump and dry, firm and bright. They should be of rich red color. Pink berries are not ripe.

Easy to keep, cranberries may be stored several days in the refrigerator. They freeze very well and may be frozen just as they are purchased. However, most plastic bags used for packaging cranberries are perforated for ventilation, so they should be over-wrapped with freezer material. To have a top quality product to take from the freezer, it is better to sort and wash the cranberries before they are frozen.

Make delicious Cranberry Nut Bread by sifting together 2 cups sifted flour, 3/4 cup sugar, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Add 1 cup chopped pecans. Combine 1 egg, 1 one-pound can whole cranberry sauce well-drained and 2 table-spoons shortening, melted. Stir dry ingredients into egg-cranberry mixture, thoroughly combining. Bake in well-greased 9 x 5-inch loaf pan in moderate gas oven (350 deg. F.) 1 hour.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Old Fashioned Cranberry Jelly: Drop 4 cups fresh cranberries (1 pound) into 2 cups boiling water. Cook 6 to 8 minutes or until all cranberries pop. Remove from flame and pour into sieve, pressing cranberries through. Add 2 cups sugar. Return to full gas flame. Cook until mixture reaches a full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Remove from flame and pour into glasses or mold.

Note: This is truly a non-collapsible cranberry jelly, but the secret of success lies in making it in the small quantity given here. Do not double the recipe. If a larger quantity is needed, make the recipe several times.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The time for farmers to read their tax instructions or the Farmers Tax Guide printed by the Internal Revenue Service is in the fall.

Tax planning works for a farmer on the same basis as it works for a big corporation. The big corporation always knows how much tax a sale or trade will cost them. Unfortunately a lot of farmers do their income planning after the end of the tax year on December 31.

When a farmer is selling his crops and buying his supplies for the next year it may make a big difference in the amount of taxes he pays whether he buys or sells in December instead of January. Selling a farm, selling timber, or even dying requires a man to think about the tax problems he may create.

some caution as buyers feared a "too high" level had been reached.

In the packer trade there was some effort also to cheapen costs, especially on fed cattle, and some bids in that department were 25 to 50 cents lower. Cows and bulls ruled steady, and slaughter calves sold pretty much in line with a week ago, except for a slow tendency which appeared to reflect some of the stocker trade's drag.

Comparative prices: Good and choice steers and heifers $19.00-22.50; common and medium

CATTLE AND CALVES SLOW IN OPENING TRADE
FORT WORTH — Trade on stocker cattle and calves at Fort Worth Monday turned uneven, as the lighter and thinner types sold about steady, but other replacements were inclined to drift lower.

The settling tendency in the market appeared to stem from a combination sympathetic weakness toward developments late last week around the country when stockers slowed up. There was also indications that the recent sharp advances had brought $13.00-19.00; fat cows $13.00-15.00; canners and cutters $9.00-13.50; bulls $11.00-16.00; good and choice fat calves $19.00-21.00; common and medium $14.00-18.00; culls $11.00-13.00; stocker steer calves $20.00-25.00; heifer calves $2.00 down; stocker steer yearlings $21.50 down; replacement cows $10.00-16.00.

CORNBELT BUYERS ARE WARNED ON PRICES

Advices reaching Fort Worth this week indicate that observers in the Cornbelt are advising farmers there that further waiting for "cheaper" stockers and feeders is useless. The improved conditions in the former drought area are resulting in many cattle being held at home and many others going into restocking programs in the area.

Reports reaching here this week from Western and Western Cornbelt areas indicate that this Fall the offerings of stocker and feeder calves and yearlings have been far below last year, in many cases well established special stocker sales drew only 50 percent as many.

The same pattern developed in the special stocker and feeder sales at Fort Worth this season as offerings were well below last year in each event.

GOATS OPEN HIGHER, SHEEP, LAMBS STEADY

Demand for goats continued very strong at Fort Worth in the opening trade Monday prices were strong to 50c or more higher. Some sales were as much as $1 higher. Prices on slaughter goats ranged from $5.50 to $8, the lower figure on hard canners.

Sheep and lambs were in small supply. Good grade yearling wethers sold from $18 down, a shipment of wethers from Colorado at the $18 mark. Recently shown old wethers sold from $13 down. Slaughter ewes cashed at $8 to $9.

A few fat lambs sold at $21 to $22, and some medium to good feeder lambs sold from $18 to $20.50.

LAMBS TERMED BEST BET FOR LONG TIME TO COME

Market observers in Fort Worth in recent weeks in commenting on the quick buildup in sheep population in the Southwest this year were agreed that sheep look like a "best bet". Their reason is "lambs will not be a surplus commodity for a long, long time". The sharp reduction in sheep population in the past 15 years seems to guarantee this view. Sheep and lamb numbers in 1942 and 1943 were around 55 to 56 million head in the United States. Estimated less than 31 million in 1957, leaves room for an increase since the big drought is apparently history.

Collapse of the wool market, plus the drought, caused the decline. Biggest buildup is in the farm sized flocks, which have been steady money makers for the past several years.

HOGS STEADY AFTER SHAKY START MONDAY

Hogs opened 25 cents lower and later sold steady at Fort Worth Monday. Lighter supplies in the Cornbelt enabled salesmen to successfully resist lower bids for the most part.

Choice hogs ranged from $17.50 to $18, mostly $17.75. Medium and good hogs sold from $16.50 to $17.25. Sows drew $16.50 to $17.75.

Motorists Face Uncertain Future For Two Months, Highest In Traffic Deaths

The traffic accident records of the next two months will decide whether or not Texans will plunge deeper in the traffic quagmire of death and destruction.

Frankly, the future isn't bright, for December has come to be regarded as the most deadly month of the year — from a traffic standpoint — with November close behind.

In 1955, for example, 263 persons died on Texas streets and highways during December's 31 days, bringing the traffic fatality toll to 2547 for the year. In 1956, 252 were killed during the same period — for a record year's total of 2611.

Thus far, more than 2,000 people have been killed during the current year. The final outcome of a higher or lower toll depends on what the individual motorist and pedestrian does in the next 60 days.

Yes, believe it or not, we more or less have control of our own destiny. If we are careless, we are sure to meet with accidents in every walk of life. But if we are careful and keep on the lookout for hazards, we may easily steer clear of those things which cause trouble. It is folly to say that it is all a matter of luck, because luck actually doesn't enter into it at all. The degree of safety we enjoy will be determined by our attitudes. A good safety attitude means being aware of potentially dangerous situations we must face each day, and learning to act in advance so as to prevent accidents.

Consider, for a moment, this season of the year and your own attitudes. We may not have ice and snow within the next two months, but we will certainly have damp, cool and occasional foggy days and nights. We know that winter is on the way just as surely as we know it will be followed by spring. Too, shorter days create special hazards that are inherent with darkness on streets and highways. Therefore, it behooves each driver and pedestrian to be aware of these unsafe conditions and stay alert to their dangers. Slower speeds, if necessary, autos need to be in exceptional mechanical condition and pedestrians must use extra caution when crossing streets.

It is true there won't be much vacation travel in the next two months, but traffic will be heavy during Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, and over the football weekends. Also, there will be considerably more driving after dark. That is, the earlier hours of the evening will necessitate more nighttime driving. Records of the Texas Safety Association reveal that 14 percent of all rural fatal traffic accidents occur between 6 and 8 p. m.

One thing for certain, Texans are entering the most dangerous traffic period of the year. A record will be set — whether it is GOOD or BAD will depend on each of us.

SUPER-REFINERY FOR SUPER-FUELS

New refinery combines scientific wizardry of oil and electronics industries

This "refinery of the future" is what it takes to make the super-fuels required by car engines of today—and tomorrow. Costing $200 million, the refinery was recently completed near Wilmington, Del. by Tidewater Oil Company, manufacturer of Flying A gas-olines. Refining operations are governed by batteries of automatic and electronic devices. These controls insure the purity and quality of the 100-octane-plus gasolines which the vast installation manufactures—enough each day for 41,000,000 miles of driving.

Miss Michels Is Munday's Queen

Miss Kathleen Michels, daughter of Mrs. Gene Michels, was given reign over the annual P-T-A sponsored Halloween carnival at Munday last Thursday night. Her subjects were a large group of Munday people who gathered at the school gymnasium to join in the Halloween festivities.

Sharing honors with her was George Offutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Offutt, as king.

Attendants were James Goodwin and Ava Mary Taylor.

Each class of the high school had candidates for the queen's race, and competition ran high as members of all classes were soliciting votes for their favorite candidate during the last days of the race.

This annual carnival, a highlight of the fall school season, was highly successful, as a large group of people joined in the merrymaking. Various booths for fun and enjoyment, and to bring in the nickles and dimes, were erected at the carnival site.

Retired Munday Minister, Typewriter Have Served Together For 50 Years

Rev. E. L. Hill, retired Methodist minister of Munday, and his faithful Corona typewriter have completed 50 years together in the service of his church. The ancient typewriter, which Rev. Hill purchased when he started in the ministry, has written thousands of sermons for him and carried the burden of a half century in the ministry.

Today, retired, he frequently sits at the machine, outlining his thoughts. It does not have a standard keyboard, but "I use the hunt and peck system anyway," the minister said.

The Rev. Mr. Hill was born at Paris, Tenn., August 22, 1873. He took care of an invalid mother until he was 16 years old.

He came to Texas at the age of 18 without any money. He bought a cotton sack on credit from the Methodist Church members and with the sack picked enough cotton to pay for his board in 28 months of school. As a result he took an examination for teaching certificate and secured a second grade certificate. He taught five years in Parker County, Texas and Beckham County, Oklahoma.

When he was 22 years old, the minister felt the call to preach. At the same time he carried mail on a rural route for four years. He was at first refused licenses to preach because he stuttered so badly.

His strong desire to preach overcame the handicap and he was received by the church in full connection at the Conference.

His pastorate included Springtown, Powell, Cisco, Plainview, Vega and Dumas. After a failure in health he went to Plainview as an assistant and then took the Plainview circuit for two years.

Rev. Hill has wed more than 500 couples and still assists in spite of his 84 years.

Rev. Hill has two children, a daughter, Mrs. W. L. Holder, Loving, Texas and a son, Rev. L. L. Hill, Methodist pastor for 22 years. He is at Seminole now. There are 10 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. — Wichita Falls Record-News

About one-eighth the amount of lime is being used in Texas as is needed. This valuable soil nutrient serves a fourfold purpose. It gives the correct soil acidity, furnishes available calcium for plants and animals, increases the efficiency of manures and fertilizers and improves the growth of beneficial soil organisms.

Letters From The People

Editor: I think that now is the time for everyone to get busy and help the cotton industry in every way possible.

We are having quite a bit of competition from orlon, nylon, plastic and foam rubber.

RAINS FILL TANKS; MORE FISH SOUGHT

Fall rains in Southwest Texas have brought in scores of additional applications for fish for restocking tanks and ponds in the area, according to the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

A warning also was issued by the biologists to those who plan to renovate their stock tanks or lakes by poisoning. It is not advisable to attempt poisoning just before impending rains, he points out. The additional water will dilute the poison. There also is a possibility the impoundment will overflow during the rain. The poison then might be carried into a neighbor's tank or lake, resulting in the poisoning of his place, too.

It is recommended that efforts be made to rid lakes and tanks of undesirable aquatic plants. Some of these will die-off during the winter months. Others can be removed from small areas. This will give catfish a chance to feed on the sunfish this winter, especially where sunfish have taken over.

If you're sewing with new cotton knitted fabrics, be sure and reinforce underarm, shoulder, and waistline seams with matching bindings. Use a slightly longer than usual stitch on a straight sewing machine. On an automatic zigzag sewing machine, use a small zigzag stitch. In this way, the seam will have the same "give" as the fabric, and the sewing threads will not snap.

Moguls Lose To Archer City On Friday Night

The Archer City Wildcats won their third District 11-A football game here last Friday night with an easy 32-0 decision over the hapless Munday Moguls. They ripped through the Mogul line almost at will for 4, 6 and 8 yard gains and smashed through to keep the Moguls in deep trouble on their offensive plays.

Deepest penetration made by the Moguls came late in the fourth quarter when Charlie Partidge returned a kickoff 63 yards to be run out of bounds on the Wildcat 16 yard line. Four plays later the Moguls were backed up near the 40.

Kenneth Estill climaxed a 50-yard drive early in the second quarter to score the Wildcat's first TD. He sneaked across from the one. Tommy Thurkill's try for extra point was no good.

Wayne Eckstine picked up the next two TD's in the third and fourth quarters respectively. Eckstine tallied both touchdowns from within the 10. The last one came at the end of a 63 yard drive.

Halfback Jerry Pierce picked up an Archer City fumble to score six more points for the Wildcats. Pierce scooped it up on the seven and raced in standing up.

Thurkill tallied the final Archer City TD late in the fourth stanza from four yards out. He also booted the point after.

Texas Farmland Bought For Veterans

AUSTIN — The Veterans' Land Board has now purchased $114,143,000 worth of Texas farmland with the $100,000,000 available to it. Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said this week. Payments from veterans participating in the program are used to buy more land.

Eventually, a $25,000,000 "profit" will be realized from the first $100,000,000 in the program, Commissioner Ruddersaid. This money will be put in a fund which the State Legislature controls.

The land commissioner also noted that the bond market continues to block the sale of some part of the second $100,000,000 worth of bonds in the program.

No more than three per cent interest may be paid to purchasers of these securities. Bonds on the market are now selling at an average interest of 3.43 per cent.

WHAT PRICE CAN YOU AFFORD FOR PIGS?

The price a farmer can afford to pay for feeder pigs depends on the value of the finished hogs, cost of raising them, and death loss.

Recent studies on midwestern hog raising has produced a gauge for estimating in advance, the possibilities of profit and loss.

To determine the finished value, a farmer first estimates the prices at the time he will sell the hogs, and their probable weight. For example, if farmer Jones wants to buy 35-pound feeder pigs in late May to sell in October, he may estimate their ultimate weight at 225, the price at $16.

The weight is based on experience with rate of gain, and the price is a forecast. His expected income or net value at the farm is 225 pounds times $16 per hundredweight or $36 altogether.

Probably costs should be estimated next. Figures vary from year to year and farm to farm but experimental results show the average midwestern farmer uses 350 lbs. of protein supplement to add 100 lbs. weight.

This would be a total of 665 pounds (about 12 bushels) of corn and 100 pounds of supplement to increase the 35 pounders to 225 pounds.

With corn at $1.15, the cost for 12 bushels would be $13.80. And with supplement at $3 a hundredweight, total cost would be $18.

Feed is the largest cost item, but labor, shelter, equipment and veterinary count too. Usually, these amount to one-fifth of the feed costs. This is $3.76, bringing total production costs to $22.56.

Difference between income and total costs is the first estimate of the price a farmer can afford to pay for a feeder pig. This figure is $13.44. But the amount should be adjusted for death loss. Probable survival rate is multiplied by the margin over cost per pig.

For example, Jones expects a death rate of 5 percent—or a survival rate of 95 percent. Multiplying margin per pig ($13.44) by 0.95 gives price per pig; $12.77 in this case. If Jones pays this price for a feeder pig, he can expect to get market price for his feed and average wages for his labor. In addition, he will cover all his costs for shelter, equipment, and other items. When a pig may be purchased for less than $12.77, the difference constitutes profit.

NEW MENTAL HEALTH CODE DISCUSSED

The Texas Legislature passed a new Mental Health Code which goes into effect on January 1, 1958. This new code was enacted both to keep pace with new discoveries in the area of mental health, and to eliminate objectionable provisions of the old laws which required the mentally ill persons to be tried as a criminal before he could receive treatment at a state hospital.

Society recognizes that mental illness is no more than a disease which affects the mind. As a result of this recognition, the new code allows the patient to receive treatment as quickly as possible, while keeping disturbing influences at a minimum. The new Mental Health Code provides for both voluntary and involuntary treatment. This article discusses how a person may receive State medical treatment when he recognizes his own need for psychiatric care.

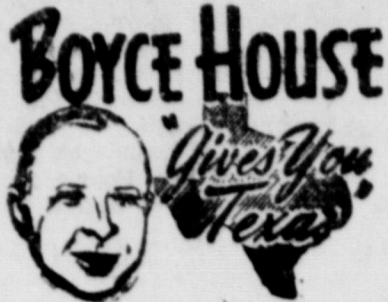

When the proposed mental patient seeks care from a state hospital he should go directly to the nearest mental hospital and make written application to the head of the hospital. He must agree in his application that he will stay at the hospital for at least ten days, unless he is sooner cured and discharged. The application must be signed by the patient, unless he is a minor, in which case it may be signed by his parents, guardians or county judge with his consent.

Upon his admission the head of the hospital will inform the patient that he must be discharged within 96 hours if he should request it in writing. It will also be explained that he loses no legal or civil rights by voluntarily receiving treatment.

All patients, whether voluntary or not, are entitled to bring a writ of habeas corpus if they feel they are being unlawfully held. Moreover, they may write uncensored letters to legal counsel. All patients are entitled to receive visitors, worship in the faith of their choice, and communicate with persons outside the hospital. Although the head of the hospital may restrict the above rights if it is necessary to do so for the welfare of the patient, any such restrictions, and the reason for it, must be made a part of the clinical record of the patient involved.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Upon how slender a thread may a man's destiny depend!

New York City had a very popular mayor who was urged by Pulitzer, the New York World publisher, to run for governor but he could not persuade Mayor Gaynor. So a weaker Democratic candidate was named and he lost to the Republican nominee by the comparatively narrow margin of 18,000 votes. The new governor of the nation's most populous state gained national attention and became president. He had previously been beaten for mayor of New York City and a defeat for governor probably would have finished him, politically. He was Theodore Roosevelt.

A young Kansas editor, about to leave on a vacation, got into an argument on politics on the way back from the postoffice. Angry, he sat down and wrote an editorial to be run to help fill space while he was away.

When he returned, he found himself famous. The editorial had been republished all over the country. It began, "What's the matter with Kansas?"

The author was William Allen White of Emporia.

Incidentally, Mark Hanna, managing McKinley's campaign for president had several million copies of the editorial printed and it helped to beat William Jennings Bryan.

Far-reaching results indeed from a heated argument on the street about politics!

Speaking of Bryan and the serious consequences of relatively small factors: He had stamped the national convention with his oratory and, when he came to New York City, a vast crowd packed Madison Square Garden to hear the silver-tongued speaker. He felt that the occasion was of such importance that he should exercise the greatest care in what he said — so he wrote out his speech and read it.

The audience was disappointed and many left before he was through. Had he made a spontaneous, electrifying speech, such as he had delivered at the national convention, he might have won New York State and the presideny. Daniel Webster's lifelong ambition was to be president. He was offered the vice presidential nomination but spurned it. The ticket was elected; the president died and, had Webster accepted the nomination, he would have become president. As it was, he never achieved his ambition.

Christmas Seals To Again Aid In Fight Against TB

AUSTIN — Texas' increasing population is reflected in the 430 million Christmas Seals which are being readied for mailing in the state Friday.

This is the greatest number of seals mailed in Texas in the 50 years tuberculosis associations have been organized here.

What, exactly, do you buy when you buy Christmas Seals?

You buy a share in the fight to outlaw the dread disease of tuberculosis. You buy a share in the vigilance necessary to keep this disease from each home in each town.

True, you can purchase less expensive seals for your Christmas cards and packages, but they do not bear the magic message that the fight against TB continues, and that you are a part of that fight.

You buy research when you buy the seals, research which has already resulted in the wonder drugs which are helping curtail this illness. None of those drugs, unfortunately, works for all patients, and none is an absolute cure. Further research, it is hoped, might someday accomplish these aims.

It is estimated that about one-third of all the people in the U. S. have TB germs in their bodies. Not all of them will develop active cases of the disease, but some of them will break down. In the U. S. last year 15,000 died of TB. But many more are spending their lives as chronic invalids as a result of this oft-recurring illness.

Of your Christmas Seal dollar, six cents goes to the National Tuberculosis Association which supports year-round research. The remaining 94 cents stays in Texas, to aid in research here, medical scholarships, and all the other factors in the fight against tuberculosis.

Mrs. Calvert is a long-time member of the board of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, and she and her daughter have spent many past pre-Christmas seasons working with Christmas Seals. Miss Calvert is the first named Miss Christmas Seal of Texas, adding another title to her previously acquired Miss Texas title.

Chicago Trip, Scholarship For 4-H Dairy Champs

Records of achievement in the national 4-H dairy program have been judged for the 1957 state winner. The top ranking boy or girl will be a delegate to the 36th national 4-H Club Congress opening in Chicago on December 1. In addition to the state award, they also are providing up to four gold-filled medals in each county, and six $400 college scholarships on the national level. The scholarship winners will be announced during the Club Congress when state and national champions will be guests of Oliver at a gala recognition banquet.

As a delegate to the Chicago Club Congress, the 4-H'er will have opportunities to visit with other club members from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and several foreign countries. Many educational and social events are scheduled during the five-day meeting.

The 4-H dairy program is arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, and is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Relaxed Standards In Inspection Law Said A "Mockery"

Relaxing of standards for testing brakes on Texas motor vehicles "makes a mockery" of the State's Automobile Inspection Law, the Highway Safety Council has charged in a letter to the Chairman of the Public Safety Commission.

Executive Director G. C. Morris, of the 1,000-member Highway Safety Council, protested the Commission's recent order cancelling the directive that authorized inspection stations should "pull wheels" to inspect brake linings, condition of drums, and fluid level on hydraulic systems.

"It is a recognizable fact that you cannot check brakes by road test only," Morris told Dyche. "As a result of the action taken by your Commission, the inspection of brakes becomes a farce because brakes can now be tightened sufficiently to pass inspection when there is little, if any, brake lining." Morris disputed the Commission's contention that there is no way to check the adequacy of brake linings and said that there are methods by which this can be made "uniform and not left to chance."

"Under your decision," Morris wrote, "a braking system could be approved which did not have any fluid in it and such a condition makes mockery of the purpose of the law."

Morris expressed the desire that the Highway Safety Council be given an opportunity to present "the side of safety" to the Commission on his decision.

Glenn D. Henson of Winters spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Henson.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

A statewide Irrigation Conference, sponsored by the newly organized Inter-Industry Irrigation Council, will be held at Lubbock Nov. 14-15. All persons interested in irrigation are invited to attend the meeting, to be held at the Lubbock Hotel.

"It is an opportunity of a lifetime," points out R. V. Thurmond, Extension irrigation specialist, "for those interested in all phases of irrigation farming to get information from a group of the nation's most outstanding men in the irrigation field."

Good cotton planting seed will likely be scarce next Spring, due to a combination of too much rain, a late planting, and an early frost that has severely reduced the size of our forecast crop. Fred C. Elliott, Extension Cotton Specialist, advises farmers to save and properly store the available good quality seed of known varieties. The critical moisture content for storage is 13.6 percent, and every effort should be made to bring this down to 10 or 11 percent by drawing air through the seed during warm dry daylight hours. Small quantities of seed should be sacked and turned regularly.

Colder Weather Increases Danger Of Farm, Home Fires

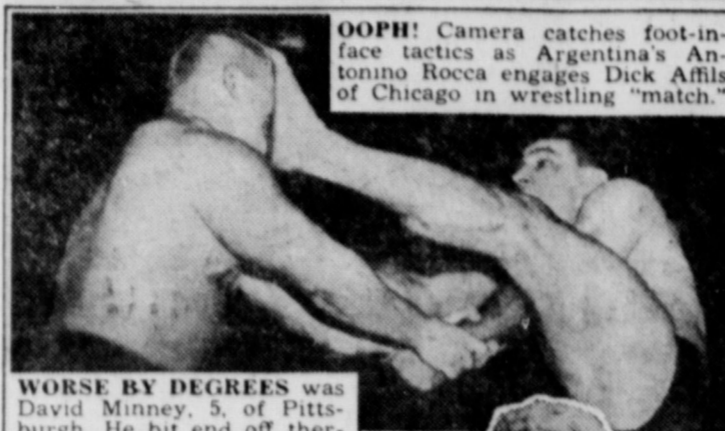

Fire cost the nation's farmers last year an estimated $145 million. During the past 10 years, almost a billion and a half dollars worth of farm property has gone up in flames, according to economists in the USDA's Agricultural Research Service.

"Don't let a fire happen on your farm or in your home," is the word of caution from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. "As the weather becomes colder and heating equipment is put back into active service, the chances for fires takes a big jump," says the Council. They add that the USDA survey shows that farm fires are due to 7 principal causes and most are preventable. The chief causes are: faulty flues and heaters, combustible roofs, spontaneous combustion, matches and smoking, defective electrical wiring, gasoline and kerosene and lightning.

"All heating equipment should be checked carefully and adjusted by a qualified person," says the Councilmen. A check of all lines and connections should be made for leaks, and flues and chimneys should be thoroughly examined for cracks and breaks. "The most important item of all," points out the Council, "is don't give fire a place to start. In other words, prevention by following the rules of good safe farm and home living can save not only the loss in dollars but also the misery and suffering to family members. Some 3,500 rural residents annually are killed in farm fires and another 300,000 persons are injured," says the Council.

Too, reminds the Council, most deaths from fires involve the very young and the old, those less able to make their exit from a burning building. Provisions should be made for getting such persons out of a building and for that extra insurance, the council-

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims The World Has Caught Up With Him, It Is Now Short Of Capital, Too!

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek claims the world is catching up with him, but catching up hardly seems the right phrase.

J. A.

Dear editor:
I know a lot of people think I'm backward, either opposed to progress or unable to achieve any, but I can't be held responsible for other people's ignorance, and would like to point out that in some respects I'm ahead of my time.

For example, I was reading in a newspaper last night which I picked up in Munday the other day — somebody had dropped it on the street and while I can't

The history of human opinion is scarcely anything more than the history of human errors. — Voltaire Popular opinion is the greatest lie in the world. — Carlyle out here on this farm ever since I can remember. If the world is just now reaching that stage, it's been years behind me.

However, I'd like to suggest to the thinkers in Washington that the situation isn't as bad as they imagine.

I mean, a shortage of capital isn't the worst thing on earth, and if it is, a lot of people are sure making the most of a bad situation. Sit down right now and run up in your mind the number of people you know who aren't bothered by a shortage of capital. One of the hardest things on earth to do is to find somebody who isn't a little short on the stuff, whether it's your neighbor or a business man in town or a big corporation. Everybody needs a little more capital.

But the world needn't worry too much about this, I know people who have lived very satisfactory lives and been short of capital 99 per cent of the time. In fact, if Washington is gonna worry because me and the rest of the world are short on capital, it's got an everlasting job.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

CARD OF THANKS

To our many friends who have been so thoughtful and so generous in our time of sorrow, we express our deepest thanks.

When the cards were removed from the floral pieces, four lovely sprays were not tagged. We regret that we cannot acknowledge them personally. The ones responsible for their having been sent must know how much their kindness has meant to us.

Prayerfully,
Mrs. Walter Price and Family 1tc
