

Kracker Krumbs

Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Our 6-year-old second cousin, Cathy Phy of Borger, came to visit us, along with her parents and older sister, a few weeks ago. Arriving at lunch time, as expected, on Saturday, Cathy came through the kitchen, paying no attention to what was being prepared for lunch, took a fleeting glance at the den, and possibly examined another room in the house.

k-k

"Don't you have TV, yet?" she inquired. When answered in the negative, she showed disappointment and replied: "Well, Sissy and me wanted to see 'Gunsmoke!'"

k-k

That just about broke down our last ounce of resistance. Usually, when we began to get the TV fever, we'd go visiting—maybe a special invitation to watch a program—and the screen would display a snowstorm to which the real one we had last Thursday night would hold no comparison. Our fever would get back to normal, and we'd settle back down to our radio and newspaper. We could listen to the radio or read the newspaper, doing one without being bothered with the other.

k-k

But after the "Gunsmoke" ordeal, we began thinking more about a "flicker box." The dealer must have heard about our little cousin, because the next time he saw us he brought up the fact that we didn't have a "snow box" and we should have one. Within a short time, a matter of about three days, he had an antenna erected, then phoned that it wouldn't do a bit of good unless there was something hooked onto it inside the house.

k-k

So we have a TV up there on trial.

k-k

And we've discovered something quite queer about the contraption and its snowstorms. It seems to snow every time there's something you especially want to see, then clears up for the commercials.

k-k

Used to be, we felt kinda left out when in a group and the talk got around to TV programs. We couldn't carry on an intelligent conversation because we didn't have a TV. Now, we can hardly carry on one at our house because we have one.

k-k

It causes us to stay up later than usual. One time we got started on one of those late shows, became interested in the theme and saw it to a finish. Next morning, we kinda about half-wake off of such foolishness, and when we told our experience to a friend, he said: "Oh, but you'll break over and see another one."

k-k

Now we have to re-educate ourself again. Like we said, we can read with the radio going. But it's different with TV, especially when the lights are turned off for better vision on the screen. And we haven't yet learned to watch the programs, then read through the commercials. We might accomplish that feat, though, if the dealer doesn't decide he isn't going to get any pay for the things and comes and takes it out.

k-k

And speaking of snow, that little visitation we had last Thursday night must not have been in the book, according to the man who gave us the "flicker box" weather report that night. We've had almost everything in the book thrown at us, weatherwise, anyway, so what's a snowstorm in November? With a wet spring, dry summer, wet fall, early freeze, etc., lots of fields yet untouched by harvest people who had crops in the hands couldn't appreciate the beauty of this snow much. We can't blame them.

Eastern Star To Hold Initiation

Members of the Munday Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a special meeting on Friday night, November 29, at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Hall.

The purpose of this meeting is for initiation of new officers. All members are urged to attend this important meeting.

Vera Home Demonstration Club Host To Benjamin Club On November 12th

The Vera Home Demonstration Club held its achievement day program on Tuesday, November 12, in the fellowship hall of the Vera Methodist Church. Members of the Benjamin club were special guests for this program.

The program consisted of group singing of "Look For The Beautiful," after which Mrs. L. D. Allen gave the devotional. A special Thanksgiving song was presented by a group of fifth and sixth grade children: Vicki Fuller, Marcia McGuire, Brenda Beck, Jo Carol Dowd, Billy Beck and Larry Bratcher. Mrs. Clyde Beck gave a poem on "Thankfulness."

A game session was directed by Mrs. Clyde Beck, Mrs. J. A. Fuller and Mrs. Grady Hardin. Displays consisted of quilts, crochet work, sequin pictures,

Salk Vaccine To Be Given On December 4-5

Dr. D. C. Eiland, county health officer, announced Tuesday that the Salk polio shots will be given people of the county next Wednesday and Thursday. This is a continuation of the program to give vaccine to all eligible persons in the county.

"Anyone who has not had all three doses are urged to take the shots next Wednesday and Thursday," he said. No fourth shots will be given at this time, as the government is cooperating in giving only three shots. The schedule is for everyone in the county under 20 years of age, and all pregnant women."

Those not in school are asked to go to the Knox County Hospital at Knox City for their shots at 3 p. m. on the above dates.

A schedule will be worked out for school children, and they will be transported to the hospital by bus, Dr. Eiland stated.

Plans Begun For Spelling Bees

Plans are already being laid for selecting a contestant in the national spelling bee at Washington in June, 1958.

A booklet, "Words of Champions" is being sent Knox County schools, M. D. McGaughey, county superintendent, stated, and others may be obtained from the Times Publishing Co. in Wichita Falls at 15 cents per copy. It is a practice book for contestants.

McGaughey said Knox County must select its contestant to the district contest in Wichita Falls by April 8.

Oil Activities

New wildcat locations announced recently for Knox County include Tex-Star Oil and Gas Corp. and A. H. Bruner, Wichita Falls, No. 1-A L. W. Hobert, a 2500-foot rotary test, one and one-fourth miles north of Munday.

Tex-Star has also staked No. 1 J. J. Denton, Jr., a 2400-foot rotary test, four miles northeast of Knox City.

Munday And O'Brien Split Cage Games

Munday and O'Brien split a doubleheader basketball game here Monday night with O'Brien copping the boys' game 49 to 38, and Munday winning the girls' game by a 41 to 36 score.

George Offut led all scorers in the boys' game, hitting the basket for 24 points for the Moguls. He was followed by Charles Partridge, who racked up 22 for the Moguls. High for O'Brien was Danny Walsworth with 21. This marked the third straight setback for the Moguls and was the first win for the girls' team in three tries.

dolls, shoes, aprons, candles, canned goods, formal and street clothes, costumes, waste baskets and various other handcrafts.

An antique exhibit included a sidesaddle, coffee grinders and wooden dough boards owned by Mrs. Clifford Roberson and Mrs. Zoe Beck. Some of them had been in their families for two generations.

Visitors from Benjamin were Mmes. J. W. Melton, Earl Sams, Lee Snailum, L. A. Parker, Bill Dodd and Roy England. Mrs. Simon Bengie of Seymour was also a visitor.

Special Care Urged For All Gift Packages

Postmaster Lee Haymes said today, "Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting all of the mail delivered before Christmas."

The Postmaster urged special care in preparing gift packages for the mails. Make sure that all addresses are legible and complete.

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them," the Postmaster warns. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package.

When wrapping gifts for mailing, it is always better to use corrugated cartons, especially where there are a number of various sized objects in the shipment. Use plenty of wadded tissue or newspaper for extra protection against shock, and securely wrap each package or carton in heavy paper, and then tie it with strong cord. Be sure to include an extra label with your return address and the recipient's address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

Another good idea is to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label on your package to prevent defacing in transit, and always make sure to include the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone and state.

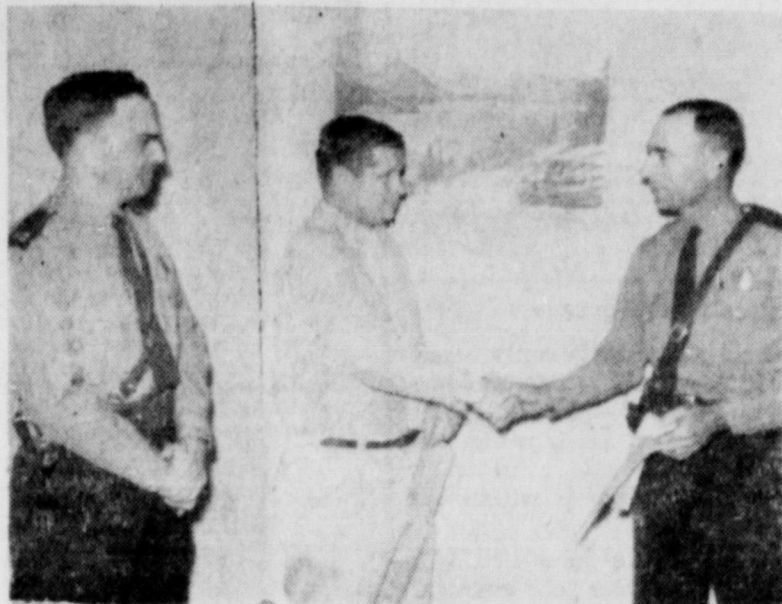

Mrs. Alexander, Pioneer Of Area, Dies Tuesday

Mrs. Jim Alexander, 78, resident of the Weinert area since 1904, passed away at 12:45 a. m. Tuesday in the Knox County Hospital. She had been in failing health several months.

Mrs. Alexander was born Ophelia Jane Barber on October 23, 1879, at Dale and was married to Jim Alexander July 19, 1896. The couple moved to Haskell County in 1904 from Caldwell County and lived on a farm 6 1/2 miles northwest of Weinert. Mr. Alexander died in 1954.

Survivors include six daughters, Mrs. Ben Redwine of O'Brien, Mrs. R. T. Young of Lubbock, Mrs. Ima Stewart of Munday, Mrs. R. E. Fisher of Stockton, Calif., Mrs. Henry Volkufka of Weinert and Mrs. Glenn Caddell of Weinert; five sons, S. A. of Cisco, Henry of Haskell, Leonard and Edward, both of Weinert and H. D. Alexander of Knox City; four sisters, Mrs. Robert Threadgill and Mrs. Mollie Hillburn, both of Dale, Mrs. Roy Stacey of San Antonio, and Mrs. Ida Copeland of Houston; 33 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

RECEIVE AWARD — In recognition of his assistance at the scene of a highway accident five miles east of Sherman, Billy Mitchell, center, local grain merchant who was trucking at the time, received the Hobbs Knight of the Road award last Tuesday in the offices of Billingsley and Bullington.

Shaking hands with Mitchell is Patrolman John Smith of Seymour, with the License and Weights Division of Texas Highway Patrol, who presented the award. Looking on is Capt. Jim Miller, who gave a brief history of the award, which was started some three and one-half years ago for truck drivers showing courtesy on the road. Miller explained that this "goes beyond courtesy now and often goes into heroism."

Mitchell received the parchment proclamation award, a pocket identification card, and a cigarette lighter with his name in gold.

The accident occurred last May when a car overturned into a muddy ditch. When Mitchell drove by, he saw a man trying to free a woman, trapped inside the car. Upon investigation, Mitchell saw that the victim's foot was pinned between the steering column and the left side of the car. He got two pry bars from his truck, and the two men tried in vain to get the woman from the wreck. A wrecker soon arrived, and Mitchell was instrumental in moving the auto so that the woman could at last be helped out, and into a waiting ambulance. The two wreckers were unsuccessful, however, in pulling the car from the ditch; their cables broke under the strain. Mitchell used heavy chains from his truck and pulled the vehicle back onto the highway so that it could be towed into Sherman.

City Square Lighted For Yuletide Season

Activities pointing toward the approaching Christmas season began taking place on the city hall lawn last Monday, as workmen from the City of Munday and West Texas Utilities Co. started bringing the Christmas wiring and lights from storage and stringing them along the city hall square.

New transformers to take care of the extra light load were installed, and the stringing of lights were almost completed Tuesday.

The Christmas lighting is following the same pattern as last year, with the lights being erected only in the city hall square. Lighting of the streets, with stringers across the main streets, was abandoned last year because of the heavy oil field traffic coming through town. It was impossible to string the multi-colored lights high enough across the streets to permit heavy trucks to pass under them.

An added attraction to the city hall lawn this year will be a nativity scene erected by the Munday Chamber of Commerce with Dr. D. E. Alexander and his corps of helpers in charge. This is now under way, and the scene will be erected east of the city hall in full view of all travelers who pass through Munday.

The Chamber of Commerce is also planning for the annual visit of Santa Claus, possibly on several occasions during the Christmas season. More details regarding Santa's visit will be announced later.

Moguls Annual Banquet Set December 10th

The annual football banquet honoring members of the 1957 Munday Moguls will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday, December 10, at the school gymnasium, it was announced this week.

Delmar Brown of Texas Tech in Lubbock will be the principal speaker. He is athletic teacher and trackman for the Texas Tech Red Raiders, and helped to train the Olympic teams in 1953.

Tickets for the banquet will go on sale at the high school on Tuesday, December 3, or they may be purchased from members of the pep squad.

MASONIC LODGE TO CONFER DEGREES

Knox Lodge No. 851, AF&AM, will hold its regular meeting next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Hall. Work will be done in the master's degree, and all members are urged to be present. Visiting Masons are welcome.

Important Questions To Be Decided By Cotton Referendum On December 10

The nation's cotton producers by their votes in the December 10 cotton marketing quota referendum will determine whether quota penalties will apply and also the level of price supports for 1958-crop cotton. Therefore, reminds Chairman R. G. Shrauner of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the referendum is of vital concern to every cotton grower.

at a level between 75 and 90 percent of parity, and quota penalties will apply on any "excess" cotton. If more than one-third of the votes are against quotas, there would be no quota penalties and the price support level to eligible growers would drop to 50 percent of parity.

The chairman points out that, even if quotas are disapproved, acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

All farmers who were engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1957 will be eligible to vote in the referendum and Shrauner urges them to do so. He also says that if growers have questions they'd like answered, they should visit the ASC office in their county.

Polling places will be announced in each county in advance of the December 10 referendum.

TWO BAD LEGS AND ONE GOOD ONE! — Young Brian David Billstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Billstein, route 5, Victoria, is previewing the Thanksgiving season by chewing on a big fat turkey leg. The traditional turkey will appear on the menu at Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation on Thanksgiving day. Young Billstein, a polio victim is a patient at the Foundation for the third time since the onset of his polio attack in May 1956. He isn't going to let a small matter of two long leg braces interfere with polishing off the huge meaty turkey leg.

The snow again delayed cotton and maize harvest, but laborers returned to the fields early this week.

Quail Season To Open December 1st

Quail hunters will find the best crop of birds in years when the season opens in Texas Dec. 1, according to the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. He says reports from wardens throughout the state indicate not only a heavy hatch, but an unusually large survival.

This applies to practically every section of the state. There was an ample food crop during the summer and fall months, affording plenty of seed for the birds.

More than 28,000 bobwhites and 8,500 cottontail quail were released by the State Hatchery at Tyler this year, through clubs in different parts of the state. These, with a heavy hatch of native birds, are responsible for the big crop.

The bag limit is 12 in one day or not more than 36 in one week or in possession.

School Holidays Being Eliminated

In order to gain some of the time lost through illness and bad weather, the Munday school is cutting short some of its holidays and eliminating some altogether.

At a faculty meeting last Monday, it was decided to eliminate all holidays except two for Thanksgiving and five for the Christmas holidays. The school is closed for Thanksgiving on Thursday and Friday of this week. It will dismiss Friday, December 20, for Christmas and resume classes on Monday, December 30.

Holidays eliminated are at Easter and for the annual teachers meeting in Abilene.

Early Snow On Friday Brings More Moisture

Been dreaming of a white Christmas? Would you settle for a week before Thanksgiving? That's what we received last Thursday night, a pre-season snow that blanketed all of this area.

The "early to bed, early to rise" person was greeted with a surprise Friday morning, as he looked out the windows. The snow started out as sleet early in the night and by bedtime very little snow or sleet was falling. When alarms roused people to every-day duties, the ground, trees, shrubbery, house-tops were blanketed with snow.

H. P. Hill, local U. S. weather observer, stated that Munday received around 4 1/2 inches of snow, with moisture content of around .36 of an inch. The unseasonable snowfall extended on down into South Texas during the week end.

The official weather thermometer dipped to 22 degrees here Friday night, according to Mr. Hill, but began to rise some Friday. By Sunday afternoon practically all of the snow had melted.

The snow again delayed cotton and maize harvest, but laborers returned to the fields early this week.

Cotton Allotments Now Being Set For Knox County Farms

Acreage allotments for the 1958 upland cotton crop are now being established for all the eligible farms in Knox County, says H. H. Partridge, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Each cotton farmer will be notified by mail of the acreage allotment for his farm before the December 10 marketing quota referendum.

Mr. Partridge explains that the total 1958 allotment of 17,554,528 acres available for distribution within the States is apportioned among counties and the county allotments among farms according to provisions of the law and regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Most of the county allotment must, under the law, be divided among farms on which cotton was grown in 1955, 1956, or 1957. To the extent that the county allotment is adequate, each of these so-called "old" cotton farms will receive an allotment for 1958 which is equal to the smaller of 4 acres or the highest number of acres planted to cotton on the farm in any of the last 3 years.

In addition, a small reserve is set aside for "new" cotton farms, for adjusting allotments for "old" cotton farms, and for hardship cases. In distributing the acreage reserve, the county committee considers the type and productivity of the soil, the labor and equipment available for cotton production, past cotton production, and other factors.

Applications for allotments for "new" cotton farms must be filed with the County ASC Office not later than February 21, 1958.

Mr. and Mrs. David Alexander and little son of Lubbock visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Matthews, Sr., and Dr. and Mrs. Delmon E. Alexander, over the week end.

THE FIRST OBLIGATION

In a speech made some time after Russia's first space satellite had started whizzing its way around the earth, the President said that we must not demand federal spending for non-essential purposes "when the costs of defense and of waging peace must be so great."

Putting it bluntly, the first duty of this country is to do everything the national interest and honor permit to prevent war—then, should that effort fail and war come, to win the war. Any other result would mean slavery for the survivors and a new Dark Age in which every ideal of freedom and of the importance of the individual would be destroyed.

Whether or not this means that still vaster sums must be spent for military strength and related matters is still unresolved. There is apparently a belief in high circles that the present defense budget, of some $38 billion a year, is adequate, and that the principle need is to channel funds away from obsolete weapons and activities and into such new fields as missiles and rockets.

Whatever the final decision, one thing can be said with certainty. The demands on the government—which simply means all the people—for defense spending will continue to be enormous. In light of this, it is the obligation of government to pare spending in every area where the national security and the true national interest are not involved. For instance, that means that government should, without waste of time, divorce itself from every and any activity that can be carried on by private enterprise. Getting government out of business not only saves the taxpayer's money—it also brings in tax revenue that government sorely needs.

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Since its establishment in the United States in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America have touched the lives of 26,000,000 American boys and their adult leaders . . . Chartered by the Congress of the United States, the organization seeks to promote the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues."

STERLING, ILL., DAILY GAZETTE: "Whether the nation's taxpayers really bit into the seat of government spending or merely came out of the 1957 Federal budget battle with a piece of cloth in their mouths still remains to be seen."

PARALYSIS IS PERSONAL

There has been a lot of talk recently about polio statistics. They look very good. The incidence of the paralytic disease went down sharply in 1957. The Salk vaccine obviously works and works wonderfully well. There is considerable patting on the back that victory is within our grasp.

Fine and dandy. But do we know that 1957 would not have been a light polio year anyway? We do not. Polio is a notoriously unpredictable disease, up one year and down the next.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis points out that there is one thing we do know for sure, and that is that a lot of people either haven't been vaccinated at all, or have not completed their full series of three shots. These people will be in just as much danger if next summer is a heavy polio summer as though they lived before the age of Dr. Salk.

Statistics are figures—marks on a piece of paper. Paralysis is personal. If you or your children contract paralytic polio, all the encouraging statistics in the word will not ease the tragedy. And tragedy it is, in the fullest and most awful sense, if men, women and children are stricken by this venomous disease when the means to protect them are at hand.

The statistics that count, so far as any family is concerned, are its record of vaccination. Make no mistake about it, your own vaccination is the pay off. Get it done. Finish your full series of three shots. National statistics are pretty meaningless in a family where a child or adult is struggling to breathe with muscles that have been knocked into nothingness by polio.

"Wherever the State has taken it upon itself to build monumental works—canals, dams, pyramids, palaces, great walls—it has tended to total tyranny," John Chamberlain in The Freeman.

QUINCY, MASS., PATRIOT LEDGER: "The United States as a nation and educators as members of a profession must re-examine their own attitudes towards scientists and the educational process. Mathematics may not be for the millions but more pupils would take it if Americans put greater value upon it. There will always be some 'eggheads' who will study science out of innate curiosity."

GIFT WRAP IDEAS

Wrap the Christmas gifts you make, or those you buy, with thin sheets of cotton covered with multi-colored glitter. This new gift wrap material also is ideal for tree or mantel decorations. Thicker sheets of cotton batting, used inside gift boxes, will protect fragile objects like glassware and pottery and will prevent jewelry from scratching.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

About this time of year preparation of holiday foods begins with the making of fruit cakes. There is much shopping for ingredients, much preparation of pans and much chopping of fruits and nuts to be done. All of this takes time, but rich spicy fruit filled with plump fruit and nuts is worth every minute of the time.

The job can be made easier by accurate shopping lists and by spreading the preparation over two days. In making a shopping list it is helpful to know one pound dried peaches, dried apricots, dried pears, dried figs, raisins or prunes will measure 3 1/4 to 3 1/2 cups. One pound cut-up candied fruits, candied peels, shelled almonds or shelled Brazil nuts measures about 3 cups. One pound shelled walnuts or pecans measures about 4 cups.

Spread the preparation by assembling ingredients, preparing the fruits and nuts and getting baking pans ready one day. On a second day, mix and bake the cakes. When they are cool, store them for aging.

Fruit cakes require long slow baking so certain practices should be followed to prevent their developing hard heavy crusts. Line greased pans with brown paper then grease the paper. Fill the prepared pans to not more than one inch from the top.

For aging, wrap the cooled cakes in waxed paper or aluminum foil and place them in airtight containers. Place cut apples around the cakes. If desired, cakes may be aged in fruit juice. Sprinkle them with fruit juice and wrap them in cheese cloth or other thin white cloth sprinkled with fruit juice and then in waxed paper or aluminum foil. Place in air-tight container. Check the cakes every week during the aging period. If they seem dry, add additional cut apples or fruit juice. If they seem too moist, leave off wrappings and cover of container several hours.

Fruit cakes of all types will slice easily if they are chilled several hours before slicing and sliced with a thin sharp knife. Fruit cake mixture baked as cookies completely eliminates the matter of slicing. Just as fruit cake they may be baked early and aged for several weeks before serving.

Grace for Thanksgiving Day

We thank Thee, Father, for Thy love
 That gathers us in sweet accord
 To count our blessings and enjoy
 The bounty of our gracious Lord.

We see our harvest-mellow land
 Round out another peaceful year,
 Assuring all men, everywhere,
 Those joys of life that are more dear
 Than daily bread: home, love, work, friends;
 The blessed right to speak and pray
 As each one wills. God keep us strong
 To follow on our chosen way!

Help us to look beyond the feast
 To sharing with our fellowmen

Miss Geneva Redder, Julius Pennartz Marry In Saturday Rites At Rhineland

In a beautiful and impressive double-ring ceremony conducted Saturday morning, November 16, in St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Rhineland, Miss Geneva Redder became the bride of Julius J. Pennartz. Rev. John Walbe, pastor, performed the ceremony with Nuptial High Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Redder of Rhineland and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pennartz of Decatur.

Vows were exchanged before an altar adorned with arrangements of pink gladioli and fern in white vases flanked by burning candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white gossamer chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The lace bodice was finished with a Queen Elizabeth neckline. The fitted bodice had long tapered sleeves ending in points over the hands and terminating in a point at the center front waistline. From this stemmed a voluminous skirt shirred at the waistline with scalloped edge of lace outlined with a double tiered nylon net dust ruffle at the bottom edge. Her imported French silk illusion veil fell from a headpiece of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white stephanotis centered with Flora de amour on a white prayer book.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Lucille Redder cousin of the bride. She was attired in a ballerina length turquoise blue acetate taffeta dress fashioned with a bouffant skirt accented with floating panels in back. Her headpiece was a white Juliet halo covered with sequins. She carried a bouquet of white asters showered with pink ribbon.

The bridesmaids included Miss Ilene Bellinghausen of Wichita Falls and Miss Ruth Pennartz, sister of the groom, of Fort Worth. They were dressed in pink acetate taffeta dresses identical to that of the maid of honor.

Clarence Pennartz of Fort Worth, brother of the groom, was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Louis Redder, brother of the bride and Edward Redder, cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Parish Hall for approximately two hundred guests. The bride's table held a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pink gladioli completed the table decorations.

Mrs. Pennartz is a graduate of Rhineland High School and is presently employed in Fort Worth.

Mr. Pennartz attended Decatur High School and served four years in the U. S. Air Force. He is now attending Arlington State College in Arlington.

After a short honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at 1963 College Ave. in Fort Worth.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollis, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

The curtains looked dirty, so she decided to clean them in a pan of gasoline in the bathtub. She forgot about the pilot light on the floor furnace just outside the bathroom door.

She was buried just a couple of weeks ago, this usually alert woman who was "accustomed" to doing her own dry cleaning. It happens to someone somewhere practically every day.

Many victims of home dry cleaning accidents, like the woman above, routinely used flammable liquids to clean curtains or clothes. Others were beginners, motivated by economy or convenience.

Most of them were ordinarily sensible, with full awareness of the peril of gasoline or naphtha or other dry cleaning preparations. One moment of carelessness to which we are all prone turned them from happy homemakers into sad statistics.

Explosions are only one of several risks run by the thoughtless do-it-yourself operators. Some cleaning agents are flammable; others give off injurious vapors; still others are harmful to human skin. All could be lethal if taken internally.

So inflammable is gasoline to keep it stored at home is to openly court disaster. Gasoline emits vapors to form explosive mixtures in the air. A transient spark from a light switch or cigarette and the mixture may be ignited.

Vapors may flow in an invisible stream for 200 feet from the point of use, lashing back and exploding the main container when touched off by flame or spark. Static electricity generated by synthetic or silk fabric being cleaned is fully capable of igniting the fumes of gasoline or naphtha.

Care must be taken to avoid inhaling concentrated vapors, since the common ones — excluding turpentine — are anesthetics. Some, after prolonged exposure, are injurious to internal organs.

If gasoline or naphtha can dissolve dirt and grime on fabrics, obviously these same fluids are able to cut through the natural oils of human skin.

You still insist on doing your own dry cleaning? Then do it right.

Use only non-flammable cleaning agents, keeping in mind that "non-explosive" markings on a label do not necessarily mean "non-flammable." Never, under any circumstances, use gasoline or naphtha.

Do your cleaning outside, where toxic vapors will be quickly and safely dissipated. Use a dip stick in the liquid instead of your bare hands.

Keep children and pets away from your cleaning operations. Children are often the innocent victims of home cleaning accidents.

Walking Blood Bank Now Part of Community Program

A walking blood bank promises to be one of the most outstanding projects undertaken by the New Bielau community in Colorado county, says Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist.

The idea for the bank, he says, originated with President Otto Ulbricht and the community board of directors. Working closely with the community of officers in planning the program were the local county extension agents Doyle Moore and Edna Prentice and Dr. Willis Youens of a Weimar clinic.

Dr. Youens told 106 members of the community organization, which is enrolled in the Rural Neighborhood Progress program, that their effort could be of great benefit in times of emergency and that individual blood-typing information would also prove most helpful when a person was in need of blood or might be asked to give to others.

Under the program, members of the community will have their blood typed and each will be provided with a blood-type identification card. A record will be kept in the clinic and the same information will also be available at the New Bielau Community Center.

Already 199 members of the community organization have been contacted and 59 have had their blood typed. Of the remaining 140 members, all have agreed to participate in the program. Brown said indications point to at least 200 members for the walking blood bank.

He cited this action as another example of what a community organization can do to make life in rural areas more pleasant and satisfying. Members of this community, Brown said, can be proud of this achievement for it means they have provided a service which could be of great value to them and their fellow citizens in case of an emergency.

$100 MILLION COTTON LOSS

The long awaited rains came to Texas this year — and came again, and again, and again. Now that blessing has become a kind of curse in many cotton areas of Texas. Ill-timed fall rains on the unharvested cotton have caused a crop quality loss conservatively estimated as over $100 million.

Cotton farmers in the rain soaked areas are suffering economically now almost as much as they did during the drought—particularly in central and East Texas. Many of them made their first cotton crop in several years, only to see it slowly ruin in the rain.

In early November, an estimated 1.4 to 1.2 million bales remained unpicked in Texas fields. The pickers could not get in the muddy rows to gather the cotton.

These unpicked bales represented a current value of somewhere between $150 to $250 million, depending on its grade. But the fiber quality and value dropped more each day as the rains continued.

In some areas, the farmer had to begin thinking in terms of 'salvaging' his cotton, rather than harvesting it. This is a real blow to the growers who had early prospects of the best cotton crop in many years.

On the brighter side, prospects for winter grains were considerably increased by the fall moisture. But this is poor consolation to a vast number of farmers whose main cash crop is still cotton.

Most of the cotton still unpicked will eventually be harvested, even though the grade is poor. In this respect, Texas joins Mississippi this year where rains also damaged one of the best crops of a decade.

provision for taking care of needy physically disabled persons, other than the needy blind. But now, under a bill passed by the Regular Session of the Fifty-fifth Legislature (H. B. 78) other disabled persons may obtain public welfare assistance.

To become eligible for assistance, the needy person must first establish by competent and qualified medical examination that he meets certain standards of disability. Generally speaking, he must be disabled through some physical or mental impairment, disease or loss, or a combination of both physical and mental impairment.

His condition must be not likely to change, or be progressive and not responsive to treatment, or require treatment that is continuous, extremely hazardous or of questionable benefit. The condition must make him an invalid or necessitate considerable help from others in getting about.

Persons who meet the above requirements are considered to be permanently and totally disabled. The same holds true if a person's physical and mental impairment is such that he requires close and constant supervision or personal care by others, or if he is not a likely subject for vocational rehabilitation.

Needy persons who can thus prove themselves permanently and totally disabled are eligible to receive Public Welfare assistance under the following circumstances:

1. If 18 years of age or older but less than 65 years of age.
2. If a citizen of the United States with residence in Texas for five (5) years or more within the last nine (9) years preceding the date of his application for assistance, and has resided in the State of Texas continuously for one (1) year immediately preceding the application.
3. If such applicant is not at the time of receiving assistance an inmate of a public institution (except as a patient in a medical institution) or is not a patient in an institution for tuberculosis or mental disease, or has not been diagnosed as having tuberculosis or psychosis and is a patient in a medical institution as a result thereof.
4. If he is not receiving Old Age assistance, Aid to the Blind,

Aid to Dependent Children, or 5. If he has not disposed of property, either personal or real, for the purpose of qualifying or increasing need for assistance.

The State Department of Public Welfare determines whether or not a person is in need by the application of reasonable rules and regulations. The purpose of the act is to provide reasonable financial aid compatible with health and decency to those without resources of their own for such purpose. The amount so determined cannot exceed the amount of Federal aid for that purpose.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

The first time I ever saw Dan Moody, he came to Eastland to assist in the prosecution of a man accused of murder. At that time he was the prosecuting attorney of Williamson County and soon afterward he was elected Attorney General.

The trial resulted in a hung jury. The case was transferred to another county and the defendant was freed. (I don't whether Moody took part in the later trial or not.)

Years, later, I sat down beside him at the counter in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel coffee shop in Austin and he related an incident of his first campaign for governor.

He said, in substance: "I made about the same speech everywhere, after making the local references, and I had given it so many times that it was almost automatic. As I was speaking in one town my eyes were roving over the audience when I saw a face that I had seen before. I began to wonder who he was and then it came to me; he was the man I had prosecuted in Eastland. It further occurred to me that he might try to make some trouble. You will recall he was a husky man with cold eyes and he was looking at me intently.

"All this time, I was going on with my speech.

"When it was over, a good many in the audience lined up to shake hands and I suddenly found myself face to face with him. "As he shook my hand, he said in a tone that everyone around could hear, 'You tried to send me to the electric chair but you're a good man and I'm for you.' "I shook his hand extra heartily."

Speed doesn't shorten the road . . . it shortens your life!

A FREE PRESS . . . and CENSORSHIP

America is at peace. While we have men in uniform stationed over the world, we are not at war. In every way, we are working to preserve our peaceful relations with other peoples whose ideologies and aspirations differ from ours.

Figuring largely in that huge undertaking is America's Free Press. Even during the peaceful years, it has become necessary that certain information regarding discoveries and inventions be protected. Security has become big business.

"Keep this out of the newspaper," are fighting words to any newspaper editor who is a conscientious craftsman. Yet editors of all newspapers, large and small, realize the responsibilities facing them, to help preserve the securities that are so important to all of us.

Government, the military, and the scientific fields, receive full cooperation from the men and women who, by training, are accustomed to dig out and know the news . . . and who, by instinct, strive to keep the people fully informed.

Americans have a right to expect that full freedom of the press be preserved, within the bounds drawn by these securities.

For a completely free press is the only safe foundation on which government of the people can build all other freedoms.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Isn't Reassured To Learn The U. S. Missile Program Is Keeping Right On Schedule

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is concerned about the U. S. missile program, his letter this week indicates.

J. A.

Dear editor: Everybody is looking for reassurance in these days of intercontinental missiles, and while I am not prepared to believe yet that Russia can line up all its long-range missiles, take aim, and blow up every city in the world in thirty minutes, still her success in launching a 1100-pound satellite is hard to argue with when it comes to saying who's ahead in this department, and naturally all of us have been dole."

I have thought his answer over and don't know whether I'm reassured or not.

That is, you take my farm out here. According to the agricultural experts, it's one of the worst run-down places in this area, fences falling over, barn doors sagging, front steps rotted out, loose boards on the back porch, loose bricks in the chimney, etc., but according to my work plan, it's right on schedule.

The reason I haven't fixed the front steps is because I've scheduled that work for year after next. The barn door hinges are coming up in 1959, the front gate has sagged through two world wars and no tax assessor has failed to get through it yet.

Now I'm not saying the U. S. missile program is in the same shape my farm is, I don't know, but I do know it's possible to be concerned. Consequently, Washington is getting on the ball and I think we can catch up all right, but I was interested in what a Washington expert had to say to a Congressional committee the other day along this line.

According to an article I read in a newspaper which I paid a nickel for, after all, I recognize this missile program is going to cost us all some money and I figured the least I could do was face up to my part of the load and spend a nickel to keep posted, this expert in Washington, when pressed for an answer on how our missile program is coming along, said it "was on sche-

Farm Bureau Of Texas Names West President

J. H. West of Bishop, Nueces County farmer and businessman, was elected president of Texas Farm Bureau in Dallas last week at the state convention and to succeed J. Walter Hammond of Tye. The election took place at a meeting of the organizations' 13 directors following its twenty-fourth annual convention.

Hammond had been president of the Texas Farm Bureau for 18 years. He was a charter member of the Texas Agricultural Association, predecessor to the present group, which was formed in 1934. He has been credited with creating and leading a fight for a soil bank plan which the Texas Farm Bureau has endorsed for 10 years. Unlike the present soil bank plan, it calls for total farm acreage to be reduced in line with total consumption of farm products.

C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma was elected Vice-President and Edwin Sanderson of Paris, was named secretary-treasurer. The Texas Farm Bureau went on record for a gradual elimination of government regulations and the right to seek lower price supports in exchange for an increase in cotton allotments. Delegates suggested that the present soil bank act should be allowed to expire with the end of present contracts. Wheat growers put through a resolution asking that grazing be allowed on wheat before the January 1st end of the soil bank year, in order to save crops that would be harvested the following year, when the soil bank contract has expired.

The delegates backed up the rights of farmers to use the water which falls on their land in a resolution stating that they support "the theory that diffused water belongs to the land on which it falls. Water stored behind retention dams located outside of stream beds should be available to the land owner for any beneficial use."

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Musser of Houston were Monday guests of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Reddell and children of Wake visited relatives here and Knox City over the week end.

Practice Safety In Winter Months

"If all the amateur weather prognosticators (made up of old-timers, newcomers, sinus sufferers and those who play hunches) are correct — Texans are in for a rough winter." So says J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association.

"In fact," he continues, "many expert weathermen also forecast an unusually severe winter. One thing for certain — winter will bring numerous dangerous driving days.

"And we can foretell, with certainty, that hundreds of Texans will be killed or injured unless extra safety precautions are taken."

To minimize traffic hazards, Musick listed six tips with which every motorist should concern himself.

1. Like a good Boy Scout — be prepared. Winterize your car and your driving habits at the same time.

2. In addition to a thorough mechanical winterizing, check tires, headlights and tail lights. Carry chains and a shovel for emergencies.

3. Make sure you can see. Keep windshield and windows clear. Check windshield wiper blades and replace if they do not do a good job. Also make sure the heater and defroster are in good working condition.

4. When starting out — get the feel of the road. If in doubt about the road's icy condition, test your brakes occasionally to learn how quickly you can stop.

5. Keep well behind the car ahead (a good rule to follow in any kind of weather) so as to give yourself plenty of stopping distance.

6. To stop quickly, pump your brakes in a series of quick applications. To slam on your brakes, on icy roads, is to invite locked wheels and an uncontrollable skid.

"Above all," Musick concluded, "take it easy. Hang on to your patience — and your life."

FIRE DESTROYS CHAPEL AT HSU

ABILENE — A $250,000 fire completely destroyed Hardin-Simmons University's Behrens Chapel at noon Monday just one hour following an assembly program when more than 1,300 persons were inside the building.

The chapel, built in 1927 and remodeled in 1945, was named for the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Behrens of Abilene, longtime friends and benefactors of the university. The 30-year-old chapel, constructed of Lueders stone, had a seating capacity of about 1,500. In addition to the building, a Baldwin grand piano and organ were destroyed.

There were no injuries. When wiled by frost or drouth, certain chemical changes sometimes occur in Johnson grass or sorghum and they develop a content of prussic acid which is very dangerous to livestock. Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, warns that the poison acts quickly, and can kill an animal within a short time.

Cotton Vote Set For December 10

Cotton growers will make an important decision on Tuesday, December 10, H. H. Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds farmers.

On that day, growers will vote in a referendum to decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect for their 1958 upland cotton crop. All farmers who engage in the production of upland cotton in 1957 will be eligible to vote in the referendum.

"If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas," Mr. Partridge explains, "marketing quotas will be in effect on all farms growing upland cotton in 1958, penalties will apply on 'excess' cotton, and price supports to those growers who comply with their cotton acreage allotments will be available at the full level of effective supports. Under current legislation, this support will be between 75 and 90 percent of parity, the minimum level within this range depending upon the supply situation at the time the determination is made.

"If more than one-third of the growers disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, and price supports to eligible growers (who comply with their allotments) will be available at 50 percent of parity. "In either case, acreage allotments will continue in effect for the 1958 cotton crop as a means of determining eligibility for price support."

The Chairman pointed out that legislation directs the Secretary of Agriculture to proclaim marketing quotas for the next upland cotton crop when the cotton supply exceeds normal. Quotas are not put into operation, however, unless they are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum on the question.

Selfish Attitude Of Drivers Cause Pedestrian Deaths

"The pedestrian may be wrong, but he doesn't deserve a death sentence."

Thus, a safety warning was given drivers today by J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, who spoke in behalf of TSA's current pedestrian protection program.

"Our high pedestrian fatality rate is an indictment of the selfish attitude displayed by many drivers," Musick said. "Of course, pedestrians often invite disaster by their careless actions, but this doesn't excuse drivers from blame."

About one-in-four traffic fatalities involves a pedestrian, according to National Safety Council statistics. During 1956, 7,950 pedestrians were killed.

Musick said the fact that cars generally weigh well over 3,000 pounds, while the average man weighs around 160 pounds, should convince any driver that he needs to take extra precautions to protect pedestrians.

Musick listed the following rules as musts for drivers who want to discharge their responsibilities to pedestrians in traffic:

1. Stop at crosswalks for pedestrians.
2. When stopped at a crosswalk, stay behind the line until signals change.
3. When signals do change, don't charge impatiently forward — give the walker a chance to get safely to the curb.
4. Be sure crosswalks are clear before turning corners.
5. Be extra cautious when approaching blind intersections or lines of parked cars.
6. In cities where "walk" and "wait" signals are used, do not drive into crosswalk until the pedestrian's "wait" signal is flashed — then proceed carefully.
7. Always keep a sharp eye out for children and elderly people, their movements are frequently unpredictable.

Goree Football Team Honored At Banquet Monday

The annual football banquet was held Monday evening, November 25, at the Goree school cafeteria, with Mickey Land, senior, as master of ceremonies.

Invocation was given by Stacey Mathis; the welcome by Jo Moore, and response by Doug Donoho. A trio was given by Jean Orsak, Brenda Hutchens and Linda Latham.

Jo Moore was crowned football sweetheart by co-captains Doug Donoho and Jerry Brown. She was also presented a corsage and sweetheart sweater by the football boys.

Doug Donoho was crowned football hero by Nahwana Lambeth and was presented a trophy from the pep squad girls. The girls also presented their sponsor, Mrs. W. O. Ratliff, a gift, and the boys presented a gift to Coach Wayne Bingham.

Gordon Wood, coach at Stamford High School, was the principal speaker and was presented by Supt. J. B. Lawson. He told the group that "football was a way of life" as is industry, and it takes a lot of character, faith, confidence and cooperation, as well as teamwork to build a team. No one man is indispensable. It is like building your town's churches and schools. Don't be a kicker, but get in there and push, he said, and that if you are not enjoying your school and ball team, you are getting cheated.

At the close of his talk, yells were led by the cheerleaders and school songs were also led by the girls, Jo Moore, Brenda Hutchens, Ruby Hammons and Tomye Harlan.

The banquet room was decorated in school colors of gold and black with place cards and programs in keeping with the football theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lemley spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Lemley and family in Wichita Falls.
