Odd Bits Salvaged By The Editor

Of interest to every voter, and every citizen of the county for that matter, is the county-wide election which is coming up on Saturday, August 20.

By "voice of the people" it will be decided at that time whether the office of the assessor and collector of taxes for Knox County shall remain a separate and distinct office, like it has been, or shall be combined with the sheriff's office.

As most of you know, these offices are automatically combined when the population of a county falls below 10,000 souls, unless it is decided otherwise by a vote of the people. Knox County falls in that category, as a result of the 1960 census.

We haven't talked to many people, but we have talked to a few getting their views on this matter — and we have yet to contact one who believes these offices should be combined.

Both offices have been operated efficiently; and, we believe, as economically as possible during the past several years. To continue in this efficient manner, we believe they should be two separate and distinct offices.

And where would the economy come in by combining the two? Those we have talked can see none. The same number of people would necessarily be employed to carry on affairs of the two agencies.

Our sheriff's department, we believe, has its hands full in properly carrying out the duties of this office. We believe the sheriff's department is doing a good job at law enforcement and other duties of the office—and we wouldn't be for sacrificing law enforcement for a little bit of economy, if we could see the possibility.

The duties of sheriff are such as take him to all portions of the county—and out of the county in cooperating with other law enforcement officials. They are such that cause him to be out until far into the night and at all hours of the day and night. He is subject to call at all times.

To combine the two offices would only add to his responsibilities, as we see it, and would not cut down on the personnel necessary to carry on the duties. The sheriff would of necessity have to hire a competent deputy and personnel for assessing and collecting of taxes, and we have yet to be convinced that one penny would be saved.

Through the years, the duties of assessor and collector of taxes have been increased manifold, what with the ever-increasing number of motor vehicles, oil development and activities and many other things that have added to the business transacted by this office. To our mind, it could be classed as one of the most important offices of the county.

It should be manned by a competent person who is elected by the people and thereby responsible to the people for the conduct of this office. We believe the Legislature saw all these things when it passed the law several years ago whereby the people can vote to keep these offices separated. Prior to this legislative act, the offices were combined automatically and without recourse.

We further believe that we have competent people in both of these offices and that they should remain "as is" for the efficient operation of our county's affairs. These are our opinions—what are yours?

Anyway, you'll get an opportunity to express them by ballot on August 20. Be sure to vote!

HORSES, WATER AND GASOLINE

Everyone has heard the saying that you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink.

It is equally true that you can force up certain taxes to the point where the government's revenues decrease instead of increasing.

Take the gasoline tax, which now averages about 40 per cent of the retail price of the gasoline, and reaches 50 per cent in some states. A proposal now in the works would further increase the federal bite on the motorist.

The motorist is showing what he thinks about the high price of gasoline—which is due to the high price of taxation. He is buying more and more of the compact economy cars, both domestic and foreign. The result, according to a New York Times story, is that if the trend to smaller cars continues at the present rate, gasoline tax revenue by 1964 will be $548 million dollars below the current estimates, with the federal government losing $217 million dollars of this and the states the rest.

Thus, there would be greatly diminished funds to finance road improvement at the precise time when the vast multibillion federal road-aid program is supposed to reach its peak. This obviously, would spur demand for still higher gas taxes. Then, if the higher taxes were imposed, smaller sales in all probability would show a further jump and great numbers of people would do less and less driving.

The law of diminishing return applies to taxation, and especially excise taxation, just as it does to so many other things. The lawmakers can fix the gas tax at any level. But they can't stop the public from defeating its purpose by cutting consumption.

CHEMICALS IN OUR FOODS

There has been a great deal of discussion of the use of chemicals in food production. Some of it has been of a "scare" nature. Numbers of people, no doubt, have been led to believe that basic foods, such as meats and vegetables, are actually being poisoned.

If you're among them, some statements recently made by leading authorities should set your fears at rest.

For instance, Dr. Charles Glen King, executive director of the Nutrition Foundation, says: "No nation in history has had for its entire population a food supply that would compare with our present supply in terms of nutritive value, safety, convenience, stability, variety, attractiveness and economic availability for everyone.

Dr. M. R. Clarkson, of the Department of Agriculture, says: "The laws enforced by the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health give effective protection to the public."

Dr. Frederick J. Stare of Harvard says: "As a physician and student of nutrition for the last 25 years, I would like to state categorically that I do not know, nor have I ever heard, of one single case of ill health that has been shown to have been due to the addition of approved additional chemicals to foods."

So you can eat that succulent steak and those appetizing dishes of vegetables and fruits without worry!

LEADING THE WORLD

The Edison Electric Institute recently held a three-day meeting in Atlantic City. The theme was "Leading the World in Electric Power—the American way."

That may sound grandiloquent to some. But it is thoroughly justified and it rests on a solid foundation of fact.

Our present power-producing capacity, amounting to 127 million kilowatts at the beginning of this year, is the greatest on earth. But it will be dwarfed in the foreseeable future. By 1970 it is expected to reach 263 million kilowatts and an astounding 492 million kilowatts by 1980—four times the current figure. Of today's vast capacity, some 80 per cent is from our country's privately owned, stockholder financed, taxpaying electric power industry.

Consumption of power is one of the best measuring sticks of any nation's living and working standards. We are ahead of all other major nations now, and the prospect is that our lead will steadily increase.

TOPEKA, KANS., INDEPENDENT: "J. Edgar Hoover, whose experiences with law enforcement and with criminals in every category, rates him as top man in the nation in that capacity—and also perhaps as top man in the Universe, says that the United States should go slow in frowning on capital punishment. There are elements in every nation that demand supreme sternness and the crimes that demand capital punishment is one."

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES HALLMARK

Even the casual student of the Bible is aware of the fact that the word of God is divided into two portions: the Old and New Testaments.

However, I wonder if you have ever explored the significance of the term "Testament" as used in this sense. Webster defines a "testament" in this manner: "an act by which a person determines the disposition of his property after his death; now, usually, a will." This harmonizes with the terminology of the writer of Hebrews. "And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. For where a testament is, THERE MUST ALSO OF NECESSITY BE THE DEATH OF THE TESTATOR. For a testament is of force AFTER men are dead; otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth. Whereupon: neither the first testament dedicated without blood." (Heb. 9:15-18).

The New Testament not only reveals God's promises to man, but also states the conditions with which man must comply in order to receive the inheritance. Now that Christ has died His will is operative, and cannot be altered. Following His death, burial and resurrection and just prior to His ascension, Christ stated a portion of His testament in this manner: "And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark 16:15-16).

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

U. S. Supreme Court Tops Nation's Court System

The Supreme Court of the United States sits at the pinnacle of the nation's court system. Its justices, as they are properly called, have the final say as to questions concerning rights arising under the U. S. Constitution and as to matters over which the federal courts are given jurisdiction.

The Court sits at Washington, D. C., in a magnificent building located near the Capitol. At present the Chief Justice is Earl Warren while the eight Associate Justices are, in order of their service on the court: Hugo L. Black, Felix Frankfurter, William O. Douglas, Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, William J. Brennan, Jr., Charles Evans Whittaker and Potter Stewart.

The Court hold one regular term each year, commencing on the first Monday in October. The term usually continues until sometime in June. During its course the Court will hear oral arguments on well over a hundred cases and will dispose of many hundreds more without hearing argument

Certain cases may be appealed automatically. But in most cases it is discretionary as to whether the Court will grant reviews. The seriousness of the legal question, conflicts of interpretation among the lower courts and on some occasions erroneous results will motivate the acceptance of a case for full hearing and argument.

Court Procedure

The general practice is for the Court to hear arguments for two weeks, then recess for two weeks, alternately until near the end of the term. When cases are being argued sessions are held Monday through Friday. On these days precisely at 12 noon, the Marshal cries the opening of court and the black-robed Judges step forth from behind the velvet drapes behind the judicial bench to assume their duties.

In the usual case each side is given one hour to present its argument. The presentation is frequently interrupted by sharp questions from the bench and the lawyer with a weak point often finds himself seriously embarrassed by cutting remarks from some impatient justice.

Argument continues until 2:00 p. m., when the Chief Justice announces a recess for a half-hour lunch period. Then at 2:30 court resumes an its finally adjourned at 4:30 p. m. With arguments concluded the Court then takes the case under consideration, and prepares the decision and opinion of the Court.

Campbell Reaches Retirement Age For West Texas Util. Co.

Price Campbell has been named Honorary Chairman of the West Texas Utilities Company Board of Directors, stepping down from active chairmanship he has held since 1955.

Cal Young, WTU President, said there are no immediate plans to name an active chairman to replace Campbell.

Campbell began his forty-five years of service in the electric industry when he was employed at Marshall, Texas, by the American Public Service Company, predecessor of the West Texas Utilities Company.

He came to Abilene in 1920 as an engineer for the companies that were to become the West Texas Utilities. In 1930, Campbell was named President of the company and held that position until 1955, when he reached the mandatory retirement age of 65 and was named chairman of the Board.

His election as Honorary Chairman came as a result of his attaining the mandatory retirement age for the Board Chairman. As Honorary Chairman, Campbell will be relieved of his administrative duties but will continue as an active director of the company and will maintain an office in the First National-Ely Building.

Widely known for his work in the development of West Texas, Campbell has been interested in numerous civic and area development programs.

Among other activities, Campbell is a Director of Texas A & M College, Board Member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the United Fund of Abilene, and a Trustee of the Abilene YWCA.

Travelers Urged To Take Safety Along On Journeys

"Summertime is the time for fun and relaxation, but not when you're driving."

With these words, J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, reminded Texas drivers that everyone wants to get in the car and go places for a day, or a month, of relaxation. Thereby crowding streets and highways throughout the State.

"Since August is one of the biggest vacation months, we're urging all travelers to take safety along on their trips. It's fun to drive for relaxation, but don't relax your safety-guard," Musick said. "Too often vacation trips are planned without any thought for safety on the road and what often starts out to be a pleasure trip ends up as another traffic tragedy."

The safety expert said that the best way to avoid danger on a vacation trip is to understand certain basic safety measures and remember them. He listed these basic measures as being: Control of speed; keeping the car safety-checked and in good condition at all times; scheduling your driving for daytime hours and allowing for occasional breaks to minimize fatigue, and obeying traffic signs and signals.

"If a driver starts out on the road fully determined to follow these common sense rules to protect himself and his family in highway traffic, there is little doubt that his vacation will be safe, relaxing and fun," Musick said.

Everyone who has any stature as a Texas writer must have at least one buried treasure experience. For example, O. Henry hunted for Spanish gold near Austin when he lived there in early manhood. And J. Frank Dobie has traversed remote regions where there are supposed to be great quantities of buried gold and silver.

Not to be outdone, the great House also has his story of lost treasure.

Not long after I resigned—I did, too, resign—as editor of the Ranger Times to take a place on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, a letter arrived. The name of the writer was unknown to me, but said he knew me. The letter was mailed from Philadelphia. It was two pages long, single-spaced and unfolded quite a narrative.

"You will, of course, recall Pete the Hermit who lived out from Ranger," the epistle began. (I could not remember anyone of such a name—in fact, I had never numbered a hermit among my circle of acquaintances.) The letter continued that the writer had, now and then, befriended Pete by giving him old magazines to read and a little money for smoking tobacco.

One day, going to visit the old man at his shack, the writer said he found the hermit critically ill. Pete declared that he had hoarded a good deal of money and, as the younger man was the only one in Ranger who had ever befriended him, the hermit wanted him to have the gold. By this time every word was an effort for his breath was going short but Pete described the location and his listener made notes. In a few minutes, the old

Electronic Classroom Gives Every Student A Tutor

An attentive class (above) gets ready for pre-recorded language drill session via Dictaphone electronic classroom. Student (right) hears his teacher's voice through individual earpiece.

Plato's Academy, in ancient Greece, worked on the principle that the best teacher-student ratio was one-to-one.

Today, thoughtful educators are exploring ways to educate vast numbers of young Americans without diluting teaching quality. This has led to completely new classroom techniques, most recent of which is the Dictaphone "electronic classroom," which enables a student to hear his teacher's pre-recorded voice through an individual listening device hooked into his own desk.

Electronic classroom tests produced these results: Gifted students went on at faster rates; slow learners repeated drills until they mastered them; absentees made up lessons easily; and all retained better what they learned.

Teachers fared just as well: One language teacher reported an approximate doubling in her efficiency, found she could put a whole year's drill sessions on plastic recording belts and file them in a single notebook. A shorthand teacher was able to give practice dictation to several groups at the same time.

But, on the testimony of both students and teachers, the greatest value of this new electronic educational tool is that it brings the teacher and student closer together. The teacher, freed from the burden of repetitive detail, becomes more sensitive to student reaction, is able to rove the room giving help where needed. It's almost a return to the tutorial system of old—brought about, paradoxically enough, by modern technology.

Decision Making Time For Cotton Harvesting Near

The time for harvesting this year's cotton crop is fast approaching, and the farmer should be considering how this harvesting is to be done. If the crop is to be machine harvested, the problem arises of whether it would be better to own or hire the machine.

Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, says that often it is cheaper to have the crop custom harvested than it is to own the equipment. By hiring the custom work, the farmer can avoid the investment in machinery and use the capital elsewhere in the farm business. The farmer's labor problem is eased if the custom operator furnishes all the labor for the job. Also, because the custom operator is skilled in operating and maintaining the machinery, the farmer may get a faster, more efficient job, Parker points out.

Before deciding on hiring custom work, however, the farmer must make sure that the answer to each of the following questions is "yes." Is equipment for custom work available? Will it be available when I need it? Are the operators dependable and efficient?

A machine may be purchased, however, with the idea of doing custom work in addition to personal work. This would lower the farmer's cost of harvesting his own crop. Parker continues. Other factors, such as alternative use of labor and capital, should be considered before the farmer decided between owning or hiring a machine.

Parker suggests talking with the local county agent before any decision is made.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tweed and family returned to their home in Modesto, Calif. last Friday after spending their vacation here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reynolds.

Nothing smells better on a soft summer evening than a steak or chicken cooking over a charcoal fire but an accident can easily spoil an otherwise pleasant occasion if the "grill-chef" becomes careless, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer and safety expert. Never use gasoline, paint thinner or any other highly combustible fluid to kindle charcoal and if lighting fluid is used, follow the manufacturer's recommendation, advises Ulich.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4, proposing an Amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, increasing to three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) the maximum permissible interest rate on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board, providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended by adding thereto the following:

"The foregoing notwithstanding, bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board pursuant to the authority of this Section 49-b of the Constitution may bear a rate or rates of interest not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum.

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas by adding thereto the authority of the Veterans' Land Board to issue the bonds authorized under such Section to bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum."

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas by adding thereto a provision authorizing the Veterans' Land Board to issue the bonds authorized under such Section to bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date set forth in said Amendment, and the Governor shall issue a proclamation in keeping therewith.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of the state.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1960.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 19, proposing an Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto new Sections to be known as Sections 5, 6, 7, and 8, to provide that the Legislature may authorize the creation of Hospital Districts co-extensive with Lamar County, Hidalgo County, and County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, having certain stated powers and duties and subject to certain stated limitations, providing that any enabling Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character; providing for an election; prescribing the form of ballot and providing for the necessary proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be, and the same is hereby, amended by adding the following Sections which shall read as follows:

"Section 5. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Wichita County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Lamar County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be seventy-five cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District, subject to district taxation.

"Section 6. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Hidalgo County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Hidalgo County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Hidalgo County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be ten cents (10c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District subject to district taxation.

"Section 7. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar County, Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, Texas.

"If such District is created, it may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed seventy-five cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections as long as obligations are not impaired and not to exceed the maximum limit of seventy-five cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the County Commissioners Precinct

No. 4 of Comanche County.

"If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within the boundaries of the District may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, or shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the District shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the obligations and liabilities (including bonds and warrants) of such subdivisions or municipalities or both, sufficient to discharge such obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the District to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said seventy-five cent (75c) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the District.

"(b) The Legislature may by law permit the County of Comanche to render financial aid to that District by paying a part of the expense of operating and maintaining the system and paying a part of the debts of the District (whether assumed or created by the District) and may authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed ten cents (10c) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation in addition to other taxes permitted by this Constitution) upon all property within the County and without the County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County at the time such levy is made for such purpose. If such tax is authorized, the District shall by resolution assume the responsibilities, obligations, and liabilities of the County in the manner and to the extent hereinabove provided for political subdivisions having boundaries co-extensive with the District, and the County shall not thereafter levy taxes (other than herein provided) for hospital purposes nor for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the County.

"(c) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such laws shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at the general election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar and Hidalgo Counties, and co-extensive with County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says Most Business Could Be Run From Underground, But Surely Not Farming

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has found something new to worry about this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor: There's a move on in the world that has me worried. It's the theory that to be safe in this nuclear warfare age, everything has to go underground.

It's a fact, I read only last that it's possible that all homes some day will be built underground. Why not, the argument went. We've already found our buildings don't need windows, you can air-condition them the year around, so why not build houses underground? Eliminate all the costs of style and outside architectural appearance, the need for painting, re-roofing, etc. Just build them out of concrete, cover them up with dirt, turn on the air-conditioning and be cool in summer and warm in winter. Not even any laws to mow.

Moreover, we've already got underground munitions manufacturing plants, underground airports for bombers, underground launching sites for guided missiles, underground government offices for emergency use, why only last week they launched some guided missiles from under water via submarine.

Now I've been thinking about this, maybe it is possible to live underground, to keep all the grocery stores, drygoods stores, highways, filling stations, churches, football fields, schools, etc., below ground level, at considerable initial expense, I'll admit, but what's money against survival?

But it has just occurred to me that there's one occupation that can't be put underground, namely, farming.

Consequently, I can foresee the day when everybody else is living safely and snugly underground, while us farmers are up on top exposed to the hot sun and Russian fall-out.

This is a prospect on which I do not lock with favor. Going to the added expense not only of keeping a high-priced tractor running, but also of equipping it with radar and a geiger counter and a lead-lined radiation-safe cab, plus an anti-aircraft gun will be more than a farmer can stand, regardless of how much help both parties are offering him during the next few months.

Farming is lonely enough as it is, but the thought of us being up here on top of the ground plowing away while the rest of you are down there safe and carefree in the ground, telling Russia and China to blast away, is highly unpleasant. It is something which will not only get all the inefficient, marginal farmers off the farms, but most of the efficient ones too.

Can't they think of some other way to run the world? Yours faithfully, J. A.

Mrs. Joe Canafax left last Sunday for Houston to attend a week's Home Economic Conference.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

At the end of June — July 2 — there were only 19 cases of paralytic polio in Texas compared to 92 cases during the same period last year. State Health Department figures show.

Only two cases were registered in the week ending July 2. The five year median for the corresponding week has been 19 cases of paralytic polio.

Nonparalytic polio also shows a significant drop with a total of 14 cases compared to 39 cases last year at this time.

Despite the encouraging figures, polio continues to strike hard and too often—most often at children below four years of age.

The series of three Salk anti-polio shots has proven overwhelmingly successful. Parents are urged to have their children of preschool age polio protected.
