MOTIVE FORCE

Not long ago the production of electricity from nuclear energy was pretty much of a dream. Its practical application, many thought, lay far in the future.

Today, due to the initiative of the private industry, working in full cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission, the dream is becoming a reality.

This fall, to take one example, a power plant using an atomic reactor is scheduled to go into operation in New England. The reactor will produce enough power for a city of 250,000 people, and is designed to operate for a year and a half before it needs refueling. And comparable power plants are being built in all sections of the nation.

The publication Investor's Reader recently summed up the situation. All told 17 separate reactor projects are being built or planned. These, it says, will involve an investment of some $650 million on the part of the utilities. Additional sums will be spent by the AEC for research and other aid.

This doesn't mean that all the problems connected with nuclear production of power have been solved. Many remain, both economic and scientific. But the power industry is driving ahead, and the progress made so far has been greater than almost anyone anticipated a few years ago. Private enterprise is the main motive force.

WHAT'S WRONG?

During the next Congressional session a determined effort will be made to repeal that section of the Taft-Hartley Act which authorizes the states to adopt right-to-work laws — laws which guarantee that a worker can join or not join a union, as he so chooses, without coercion from either labor or management. So far, 20 states have adopted the laws.

If the coming effort is successful, unrestrained labor monopolies will be in the saddle with a vengeance. Compulsory unionism—which means that man must join or starve—will become the rule. And this would be only the beginning. Senator Byrd of Virginia, in announcing that he would oppose repeal of the section "with all my strength and ability," said: "Power breeds power and labor leaders are insatiable in their demands for special privilege and special legislation for immunity. Repeal . . . would be followed by a drive to repeal all protecting provisions in the Taft-Hartley Act and other statutes in the whole labor."

There's nothing anti-labor or anti-union in the right-to-work laws. All they do is to assert the principle that each individual has the right to decide for himself whether to join or not. As the Dallas Morning News observes, "If this is to remain a free country, what's wrong with that?"

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES RALLMARK

"Why oppose a Catholic for President?" This one question divides both the religious and political world. This certainly is a significant question. Is any opposition voiced born of religious prejudice? Or do we, as Americans, have a right to question the political ambitions of any religious body?

I do not feel that I am either "prejudiced" or "intolerant," when I state that I am apprehensive of the prospects of a Roman Catholic President. This does not mean that I question an individual's integrity or "Americanism." I am convinced that there is ample reason to believe that the Roman Catholic Church has no intention of changing its historical position in regard to church and state.

"The state has not the right to leave every man free to profess and embrace whatever religion he may desire." (Pope Plus IX, Syllabus of Errors). . . . The church usually acquiesces in certain modern liberties . . . because she judges it expedient to permit them. She would in happier times exercise her own liberty." (Pope Leo XIII, Great Encyclical Letters).

Such statements go undenied by the Roman Catholic Hierarchy. When the Vatican remains silent on these official policy statements, I must confess that I become quite uneasy, especially in the light of Catholicism's political activity historically and presently.

Don't let words such as "intolerance" and "prejudice" frighten you away from an honest investigation of the matter. A special Lectureship Program will be presented by the Munday church of Christ October 3-7. All interested persons are invited to attend. (See ad in this issue).

Chevrolet Trucks For 1961 Are Now On Display At Hogsett Chevrolet Co.

Refinements in the highly successful chassis design introduced a year ago, further expansion of models, and styling identification changes mark the Chevrolet truck line for 1961 now on display at Charles Hogsett Chevrolet Co.

The wide acceptance of our 1960 chassis redesign, featuring independent front suspension with torsion bar springing and significant innovations in rear suspensions, confirms our conviction that truck owners approve extensive design changes which translate into economic benefits for them," James E. Colan, assistant general sales manager for Chevrolet trucks, said.

"This highly successful design is continued in our 1961 trucks, with evolutionary refinements throughout the line to enhance the ride, handling, durability, comfort, and hauling efficiency," he added.

New car features for 1961 emphasize a lower and narrower floor tunnel on most light-duty models for improved foot and leg room with the 3-speed or Powerglide transmission. New optional equipment includes a windshield wiper-washer combination with 2-speed electric wipers, and a comfort package which includes a six-in foam rubber seat and special body insulation.

Suburban models also feature improved comfort for second and third seat passengers as a result of seat modifications giving more foot room and more third seat headroom.

Included in the 1961 line are three new 4-wheel drive models for light-duty, maximum traction application. The 127-inch wheelbase, 1 1/2-ton vehicles are available as cab-chassis wide-box pickup and conventional box pickup models rated from 4900 to 5600 pounds gross vehicle weight.

All Chevrolet 4-wheel drive units for 1961 feature a new 10-inch diameter clutch, standard 3-speed transmission, and 7.10 x 15-inch tires on the 1 1/2-ton models. Thus equipped, they meet the majority of light-duty, maximum traction requirements.

Identifying styling refinements for all except tilt-cab models highlight a new front appearance, new group classification nameplates and new seat trim design. Eight new exterior colors are offered buyers in addition to the seven previously available.

Higher net engine power, fast warmup, and increased economy result from a new, optional temperature-controlled hydraulic fan drive for light-duty models with the V8 engine. The fan is disengaged unless it is actually required by radiator air temperature.

In line with truck industry interest in problems of exhaust emissions in areas of high vehicle concentration or unfavorable climatic conditions, Chevrolet will offer an optional crankcase ventilating system. It will duct unburned hydrocarbons from the crankcase to the inlet manifold where they are funneled into the combustion chamber and burned with the fuel mixture.

On all 1961 regular production truck engines, high resistance type spark plug wires and a coil secondary wire suppress radio interference in the vehicle itself as well as in nearby vehicles and television sets in adjacent homes. Longer spark plug gap life also results from the new wiring.

Among modifications made late in the 1960 model run on certain models and now incorporated across the entire line are: Revisions in heaters to provide cab temperatures up to 10 degrees warmer at normal operation speeds; increased capacity torsion bars for most medium and heavy-duty trucks for normal, severe and extra-severe service; new optional heavy-duty 12-leaf rear springs with ground capacity of 19,500 pounds each for tandem axle models, and redesigned 4-wheel drive lockout hubs to withstand greater torque.

Air brake compressor assemblies for the air-hydraulic and full-air brake systems and modified to improve braking efficiency through increased reservoir tank pressure. Heavy-duty vacuum power brakes on medium-duty models are revised to provide increased pedal reserve and higher braking forces.

The 261 cubic inch and 283 cubic inch engine cylinder heads have been improved for heavy-duty service by increasing the chrome content of the metal. This change in specifications results in a less ductile material, improving valve seat durability.

HERE! '61 CHEVY TRUCKS

WITH WORK-PROVED
 INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more . . . the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models for '61—long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive units—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on owner reports) that Chevy's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around the block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

New Ford Cars For 1961 Now Being Displayed By Wood Ford Sales Here

The 1961 Ford cars now on display in the showrooms of Wood Ford Sales in Munday, feature crisp new styling, new dimensions for greater maneuverability, and major engineering improvements such as a 30,000-mile lubrication, that will result in lower maintenance costs and more carefree operation.

James O. Wright, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said the new Ford, nearly four inches shorter and two inches narrower than in 1960, will offer "a completely new, fresh appearance in the classic Ford tradition of straight-line design."

Mr. Wright also announced the 1961 Ford styling has been recognized for its "functional expression of classic beauty" by a world-renowned fashion authority. In Rome, Italy, against a backdrop of the new fashion center of the world, the Centro Per l'Alta Moda Italiana recently presented Ford Motor Company with a special medal honoring the 1961 Ford.

Mr. Wright said engineering and design improvements in the 1961 Ford make it "a car that virtually takes care of itself." Improvements include:

A new grease and lubrication system that extends the normal chassis lubrication interval to 30,000 miles.

New, heavier brakes that adjust themselves.

Specially processed underbody parts, including galvanized body panels below the doors, that resist rust and corrosion.

Aluminized mufflers that are double-wrapped for three times normal life.

A 250 per cent increase in the thickness of anodizing on aluminum surfaces for brighter, longer-lasting grille, headlamp and tail lamp trim.

"These features," Mr. Wright said, "combine with Ford's Diamond Lustre finishes that never need waxing and the Full-Flow oil filtering system that permits a 4,000-mile oil change interval, will mean fewer inconvenient service stops and more savings with the new Fords."

The new Ford line, to be introduced by Ford dealers on September 29, consists of 16 models in four series — Fairlane, Fairlane 500, Galaxie and station wagons. Added to the line are two new models — a Galaxie Club Victoria (two-door hardtop) and a six-passenger Country Squire station wagon.

All six station wagon models, from the two-door Ranch Wagon to the nine-passenger, four-door Country Squire with simulated wood paneling, have a new roll-down rear window in the tailgate. The tailgate itself is seven inches wider than in 1960. The front-facing third seat in nine-passenger station wagons has been improved and, when not in use, folds quickly into the floor.

A power operated rear window is standard on the Country Squire models and the 9-passenger Country Sedan and optional on others.

Ford introduces a new 390-cubic-inch Thunderbird Special V-8 engine in 1961 that is designed for effortless performance. The Thunderbird 352 Special and the Thunderbird 292 V-8s, as well as the Milage Maker Six are designed to deliver greater economy on regular grade fuels.

Ford has improved all four transmissions for 1961 — the manual, overdrive, two-speed Fordomatic and dual-range Cruise-O-Matic. The Cruise-O-Matic transmission is equipped with a new vacuum control throttle valve linkage which provides smoother, more precise shifting than before, and elimination of periodic adjustment.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

In Texas there are 623 licensed nursing homes with a combined capacity of 15,943 beds according to the latest quarterly figures.

Charged with the responsibility of licensing and keeping a health-check on these homes is the Division of Nursing and Convalescent Homes of the Texas State Department of Health.

To carry out this responsibility the Division has duties that are many and varied in addition to being statewide.

The philosophy guiding the inspection of nursing homes is one of cooperation between home and agency. Seldom is legal action necessary.

For instance during the last quarter—June, July and August—the Division issued 20 original licenses covering new operations; issued four provisional licenses; and renewed 163 licenses.

During the same period 35 licenses were cancelled. Only in two instances was it necessary to file complaints against persons found to be operating in violation of the law.

The primary reason for license cancellation was that buildings currently in use were sub-standard and the licensee voluntarily went out of business.

Some have already re-located in remodeled buildings, and in two cases new homes have been completed and are now licensed and occupied.

The major work load of inspection is borne by local health departments, city and county health officers and fire marshalls who render vital cooperation service in the inspection and licensing program.

However, 170 licensed homes are located in 87 counties without the services of a recognized full-time local health department. This means the Division field staff must assume primary responsibility for keeping these 170 licensed homes under routine supervision.

In addition the Division receives daily requests for the inspection of potential facilities and for the investigation of illegally operated homes.

The Division is also responsible for processing and issuing emergency ambulance permits.

It's the Law in TEXAS

LAW GROWS

You want the law to grow to meet new challenges, but you do not want it to change completely. The law is like a boy; it must grow up to meet the changing world, but you do not want it to change overnight.

When you buy or sell a house, you want the law to stand firm. You do not want your deed upset by some new law overnight. When you make a will you would like its terms carried out long after you are gone. In short, you do not want your law to upset your plans. So you want a stable law.

Yet the law cannot foresee all the changes that are to come, and it must be able to grow and meet new circumstances. Sometimes old rules, in terms of modern life, are too harsh and should be changed. It is a good thing that our laws can change — by court decision, legislation or by constitutional amendment.

Take an interesting case: Until recently a farmer believed he owned his property rights straight up as high as he wanted to claim them — to the sky even. But, meantime, the airplane flew these slices. If your ownership went to the sky you could stop anybody's flying over your property. Or you could charge him a toll. But if landowners got a toll on airplane fare, travel would soon become too costly.

How do we change a system of laws to keep the essential use of our property and yet make people enjoy airplane trade, and travel?

You could not tell briefly how this was done. But, within the past few years, we have carved out a whole new body of law by court decision and by law making. We have met the new problem without impairing unduly the older property rights of holders.

(This new feature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may Announcing the 1961 Ford . . .

Beautifully proportioned to the

CLASSIC FORD LOOK

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Good-bye grease racks! What's more, it cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

- LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.
- CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.
- ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
- GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminum—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
- PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.
- TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Finds A Grave International Problem To Ponder; Castro's Chicken Feathers

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller creek has a problem this week which is beyond us.

Dear editor:
If you want to confuse me and the average Congressman or foreign affairs expert, ask me what ought to be done about the foreign situation, but there's one question about foreign affairs that while maybe a Congressman can answer, I don't mind saying I can't. It has me completely stumped, buffaloed, floored and until I get an answer, I have little hope for any truly international understanding among the peoples of this earth.

The question is: What were Fide, Castro's men doing scattering chicken feathers around in their hotel rooms in New York when they were there last week for a United Nations meeting?

As I understand from what I could read about it in the papers, these Castro men brought along their own electric hot plates and freezers and supplies and cooked their own meals in their rooms, but what I want to know is did they go into the hotel carrying live chickens?

I do not understand the lack of enterprise of American newspaper reporters operating in the big time, that would leave this question dangling. Just to say that Castro's men scattered chicken feathers around their hotel rooms in New York because they were cooking their own meals, without going into more details, is another example of the world's having to get along on half-truths when it comes to the international situation.

Now I ain't no international expert, I'm not sure there are any but I know that if you bring along your own freezer full of food, you're not likely to have live chickens in it, not for long, and I can't imagine any nation so backward its governmental leaders would try to quick-freeze chickens with the feathers on. Be the awfulest mess you ever

40,000 VETERANS LINE UP FOR FARMS

In the face of mounting anxiety on how to save the family farm the Veterans Land Board in Austin has some 40,000 veterans lined up waiting to buy Texas farm and ranch land.

This waiting list of 40,000 is now on file at the General Land Office, and requests currently are coming in at the rate of 250 a week. The whole program has been slowed down pending the outcome of a proposed constitutional amendment which will be voted on in the Nov. 8 general election.

The amendment would authorize the Legislature to lift the rate of interest it pays on State bonds sold to purchase land for resale to veterans from 3 per cent to 3 1/2 per cent. The Land Board at present has on hand $62,500,000 worth of these bonds which have failed to attract buyers because of the 3 per cent interest rate. Sale of these bonds at a higher rate of interest would once more accelerate the land buying program.

It is a fact that few of the veterans buying land through the program actually intend to live on or make a living from their small tracts. For one thing, the limitations are too stringent. The maximum State loan is $7,500, although this may be applied to purchases up to but not to exceed $15,000. Except in extremely rare cases, this is far from enough to provide sufficient land or improvements to make a livelihood.

But the terms are attractive—the down payment required is only 5 per cent of the purchase price, and the veteran is given 40 years to pay the balance at an interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent. Through July this has resulted in the sale of 22,427 tracts through the Veterans Land Board, a total purchase price of $132,390,612 and a State investment amounting to $122,102,109. Of these 22,427 tracts, only 158 have been forfeited back to the State because of non-payment of loan installments. More than two million acres of land are involved.

Average price paid for the 22,427 tracts has been $70.03 per acre. The veteran is not required to live on the land he buys, and it is figured that the vast majority are buying as an investment or with plans of eventual retirement with income from elsewhere.

Statistics show that not more than 15 to 20 per cent of veterans requesting application forms actually complete the applications. Approximately 100 application forms are mailed out each week by the Land Board, but the weekly rate of return is only 15 to 20. It may be that the idea of going back to the farm loses some of its appeal when it comes to putting up the cash, even when the amount is small.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Jack Moore, Knox County Agent

4-H Clubs Elect Officers

In the 4-H Club meetings this last month, the Knox County 4-H clubs were organized for the coming year. Due to the fact that for the first meeting, the time was limited in several cases, not all of the clubs were able to elect their officers for the coming year.

All of the clubs that were met did get to complete the enrollment forms and have several questions answered. The meeting schedule is as follows:

Benjamin, first Tuesday at 10 a. m.; Goree, first Tuesday at 12:30 a. m.; Rhineland, first Wednesday at 11 a. m.; Gilliland, first Wednesday at 1:45 p. m.; Sunset, (Munday Jr. High) first Thursday at 11:45 a. m., and Munday at 2 p. m. on the first Thursday.

The boys elected to offices in their clubs are:

Benjamin, president, Leon Groves; vice president, Tom Moorhouse; Secretary, Bob Moorhouse; council delegate, Skeet McGaughey; reporter, David Dikes; recreation leader, Bill Roberts and parliamentarian, Gerald Wiles.

At Rhineland, Anton Friske was elected to do the job of president and Marion Kuehler was selected to be vice president; secretary is Gifford Wilde and the council delegate is David Albus; reporter is Dwight Albus, while the recreation leader is Kenneth Moore and the parliamentarian is Lyndon Moore.

Soil Sampling

Dr. William Bennett in his state-wide report to the county agents this week shows where there were 13,192 samples tested this last year in the soil labs of Texas, which is almost double the samples tested the year before.

The Baylor County lab processed more than double the previous years mark. The farmer in Knox County processed 50 samples in the previous year and 81 samples this last year.

What does this all mean? It means that this is another sign of the progress and growing problems in agriculture and that it is through the technology of the modern farmer that these problems can be solved.

Some of the latest samples tested in the soils lab was for Clyde Yost and for the Bush and Burnett Ranch. Soil sampling is cheap when compared to the increased yields and the knowledge gained through sampling. Samples may be taken for yard and flower bed as well as for the field crops. Soil samples are easily taken and full information can be obtained from the county agent.

Fact

"The American people buy every year around $100 billion worth of products that originate on the farms — domestic or foreign. Close to $75 billion, or about $3.00 out of every $4.00, go for costs that are added after the products leave the farm."

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The Internal Revenue Service asserts a penalty on taxpayers who have income of more than $100 not subject to withholding tax who do not file a declaration of estimated tax and pay their tax during the year.

According to the law, the owner of a business must file a declaration of estimated tax by April 15 and pay one-fourth of the income tax he is going to pay for the entire year. He then pays one-fourth on the following dates: June 15; October 15; and January 15.

Congress' purpose in putting this into the law was to treat the grocery owner and his grocery boy (who has his tax withheld) the same by requiring each to pay his taxes as he receives his income.

There are a number of exceptions allowed taxpayers in making an estimated tax. However, if you have income on which tax is not being withheld you probably should check your instructions on filing an estimated tax return. Any Internal Revenue Service office can help you.

Gilliland 4-H Club Meets September 21

The Gilliland junior 4-H Club girls met on September 21, and the following new officers were elected:

Norma Navratil, president; Mary Nell Miller, vice president; Karen Cook, secretary and treasurer; Sharyn Burgess, council delegate; Kay Cook, alternate, and Anita Bartos, reporter.

Plans for the 4-H projects for the coming year were discussed.

Guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith over the week end were Mrs. Maurise Blacklock and her daughter, Mrs. Tommy West and son, Tommy Carroll, of Snyder and Mrs. Doug Moore and daughter, Melinda, of Dallas. Mrs. West and son remained until Wednesday and left for California to join her husband who is stationed there.

Home is the dearest spot on earth, and it should be the center, though not the boundary, of the affections.
