OPPORTUNITY WITHOUT TAKERS

Medicine today offers more opportunities and rewards than ever before. But the signs say that many young persons are failing to take advantage of them.

This unhappy piece of intelligence comes from the American Medical Association. The number of applicants for admission to the nation's 85 medical colleges has been dropping. In 1947, for instance, nearly seven per cent of all college graduates made applications to these schools. In 1958, only four per cent did. There are known reasons why. The low birth rate of the '30's is one. Also, multiplying opportunities in other professional fields are believed to be diverting possible medical candidates.

The pity of it is, as the AMA points out, that those who pass up medicine today are doing so at a time when it has become one of the most rapidly progressing fields of all, offering maximum promise for a young man or woman. In 1940, medical research amounted to $45 million—the 1960 figure was roughly $600 million, and predictions for 1970 go as high as $3 billion. The demand for medical researchers in the future will be matched only by the opportunities.

So far as the individual is concerned, the possible rewards are great, and the greatest one by far is the doctor's capacity to do so much good for so many people. All of us should want to leave the world a little better place because we passed through it. The M. D. degree offers one big way of doing that.

ONE VOTE!

In every election millions of Americans who possess the right of franchise fail to exercise it. Apparently they reason that one vote doesn't amount to anything.

Well, if they can think at all, the last election should cause them to think again. The official returns show that Mr. Kennedy's margin over Mr. Nixon was under 112,000 votes—out of a total which approached 70 million. The President-elect's edge was the smallest in relation to the total vote in all of our history.

An especially dramatic example of the importance of every vote is provided by the newest state, Hawaii. At first, Mr. Nixon was thought to have taken the state with a 141-vote majority. More recent tabulations give it to Senator Kennedy—by a 21-vote margin, out of just under 185.

 Whether or not a full vote would have changed the result is beside the point. The general election of 1960, in which the stakes were never higher, should make every non-voter who could have gone to the polls thoroughly ashamed of himself.

DIVIDENDS AND JELLY BEANS

Some time ago 40 eighth students in a school in New York State were faced with a bewildering problem. The solution they hit upon was an almost brand new approach in the study of the American economic system, according to The Exchange magazine, official publication of the New York Stock Exchange.

These youngsters had pooled some small change and bought a share of stock, after reviewing the prospects of various companies and selecting the one they thought the soundest. Then came their first dividend—one dime. That sum is not divisible by 40, so they bought a dime's worth of jelly beans and thus distributed their profit.

More and more school children are learning the risks and rewards of shareownership these days, The Exchange magazine adds. This means that Johnny can read the stock tables and that substantial numbers of youthful capitalists are turning to the financial sections of newspapers as well as to the sports and comics. The long-range significance of this growing movement is a big one. The adults of tomorrow will be better versed in the whys and wherefores of the American system than their forebears—and they'll have a better understanding of what capitalism means and does. A stronger America will be the result.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "Centralized government thrives on secrecy, as does dictatorship in a totalitarian country. In the aftermath of the second World War, Congress passed a law, which has enabled bureaucrats in the Federal government to withhold information to which the public is entitled. The law has been used even to withhold information from Congress. A right to know law, under consideration by the Federal Bar Association, would correct this and make available all legitimate news to the public."

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES HALLMARK

A little understood principle of the Christian life concerns the fact that the reception of eternal life is CONDITIONAL! It is not difficult for us to understand that one must comply with certain terms in order to become a Christian and enter into a saved relationship with Christ. However, many have a great deal of difficulty in understanding that the Christian must CONTINUE TO MEET CERTAIN CONDITIONS IN ORDER TO REMAIN IN THIS SAVED RELATIONSHIP! Consider some Bible truths in this regard.

The child of God comes into ACTUAL possession of eternal life "in the world to come" (Mark 10:30). It is FOLLOWING THE JUDGEMENT that the righteous enter "into eternal" (Matt. 25:46). While here upon the earth, the Christian has eternal life in promise (I John 2:24-25) and "in hope" (Titus 3:4-8). In order to ACTUALLY receive eternal life the Christian must be "faithful unto death" (Rev. 2:10) and "endure unto the end" (Matt. 24:12-13). Although he shall always be a child of God, he can give up his inheritance in God's kingdom through rebellion against the Father's will (Gal. 5:19-21 and Eph. 5:1-5).

Consider these significant "IF'S": "IF THAT WHICH YE HEARD FROM THE BEGINNING ABIDE IN YOU, YE SHALL ABIDE IN THE SON, AND IN THE FATHER." (I John 2:24). "IF ye live after the flesh, ye shall die" (Ro. 8:13). "BUT IF WE WALK IN THE LIGHT, AS HE IS IN THE LIGHT, WE HAVE FELLOWSHIP ONE WITH ANOTHER, AND THE BLOOD OF JESUS HIS SON CLEANSETH FROM ALL SIN." (I John 1:7). "IF ye abide in my word, then are ye truly my disciples" (John 8:31). "IF WE FAINT NOT . . . WE SHALL REAP" (Gal. 6:9). "IF ye do these things, ye shall never fall." (I Pet. 1:8-11). "IF WE HOLD FAST . . . WE BECOME PARTAKERS WITH CHRIST." (Heb. 3:14). "IF he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him." (Heb. 10:33).

"GIVE DILIGENCE TO ENTER INTO THAT REST" (Heb. 4:11).

IS THAT CHRISTMAS GIFT TAXABLE?

Although it may come as a surprise to some people, the federal government levies a tax which applies to gifts made by one person to another. However, the government has no desire to tax ordinary birthday and Christmas gifts. The law therefore excludes from taxable gifts the first $3,000 given to each individual in each calendar year.

The law also excludes from taxable gifts to the church, community chest, and similar charitable organizations, and allows each giver an exemption of $3,000 before the tax applies.

The tax applies whether the gift is of money or of property. If it is of property, the tax is computed on the fair market value of the property at the date of the gift.

The purpose of many gifts is to remove the property from the taxable estate of the giver at the time of his death. This may or may not be accomplished. The federal law provides that transfers made within three years before date of death shall be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death and shall be taxable in the estate of the one who dies.

It may be advisable to "look a gift horse in the mouth" for the gift may cost the one who receives the gift in income taxes as well as the giver in gift taxes.

For income tax purposes the cost basis of property received by gift is the cost to the giver regardless of the fact that the giver may have paid a gift tax on the gift. The other rule is that in case of property received by inheritance, the cost basis is the fair market value at the date of the decedent's death.

An example will show the application of the rules. Suppose a farmer acquired his land in the early days at a cost of $10,000. This property is now worth $50,000. The farmer wishes to retire and to escape estate taxes, so he gives the farm to his daughter.

Although he may pay federal gift taxes totaling several thousand dollars, when the daughter decides to sell the farm for its $50,000 value, she still has to pay income tax on $40,000 profit (difference between the sales price and her father's cost of $10,000).

On the other hand, if the farmer had not given the farm to the daughter, but had left it to her under his will, he would have saved the gift tax. The daughter would have taken the property at a cost basis of $50,000, so upon the sale she would not have had to pay any income tax.

Of course, there would have been some estate tax and administration expenses in the father's estate, but that would have been much less than the taxes which resulted from the gift. However, depending upon individual and particular circumstances, there may be occasions when a gift is advisable. Your lawyer can advise you on this matter.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

BOYCE HOUSE

There is no accounting for the ways of Hollywood.

When I was out there to serve as technical advisor and writing consultant on "Boon Town," the chief script writer had come up with a scene wherein two brothers, who were shoe-string operators, rushed in and said they had just completed two wildcats as gushers and were in the "big money."

I explained that, in actual life, the shoestringers would have had enough trouble to get up the money for one wildcat, also that the odds were very great against two-out-of-two wildcats hitting oil. Furthermore, the script said this happened in Arizona whereas up to the very moment when we were having this story conference, no oil had ever been hit anywhere in Arizona — so why not have them drill one wildcat and place it in Wyoming, New Mexico, Arkansas or almost anywhere except Arizona?

But the script stayed "as it was."

People I could get along with out:

The fellow who "uhs" all through his remarks.

And the guy who asks a question and then doesn't listen to the answer and asks his question again.

The marquee of a motion picture theater at Bastrop a while back read:

Never Steal Anything Small. Jackpot $370.

The typical Hollywood glamour photo shows a woman with parted lips and eyes half closed. If a man assumed the same expression, everybody would say he looked stupid.

Chap Clark, who was Speaker of the National House of Representatives in Woodrow Wilson's administration, said, in his book, that the largest man who ever served in Congress was named Slescher and he weighed over 400 pounds. Where was the biggest Congressman in history from? Why, Texas, of course.

Coy E. Riley of Southwick, Mass., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Riley, and other relatives this week.

Guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brown last week was his mother, Mrs. J. A. Brown of Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hackfield of Lubbock visited his sister, Mrs. Nora Broach, last Monday.

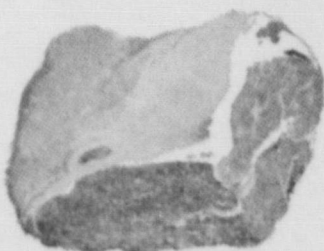

Mr. and Mrs. Verge Hosen of Brownfield visited his brother, N. E. Hosen, and family last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bruce visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Elliott and family in Abilene last Saturday.

A balance in the soil of lime and fertilizer can add greatly to the economical production of crops on East Texas and Coast Prairie farms, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. He adds that about 75 per cent of the soils in East Texas and a third of the Coast Prairie soils need limestone. A soil test will show where and how much lime and other plant foods are needed. Local county agents can provide information on soil testing and how to take samples.

Servis GYRO 60 STALK SHREDDER

3" stalks and brush—a cinch!

Heavy duty, for sure! Has been demonstrated on rows of 4" x 4" posts. Easily cuts tough growth like bois d'arc, salt cedar, broom corn. Yet, fits lighter tractors: 20 to 40 HP.

Fine shredding. Optional shredding attachment features patented intermeshing blades, makes fine litter of cotton and grain stalks to turn under for soil enrichment. Cuts 60" swath.

Fan-type blades available to lift light materials like corn stalks off ground.

A-shaped blade carrier and free swinging blades protect against stump damage. Extra heavy blades and carrier develop tremendous momentum, are the secret of the efficient "gyro action" cutting.

Also lift models and other sizes. 60" lift model fits all standard 3 pt. lift, 2 pt. Fast Hitch, and AC Snap Coupler. Larger models include 66", 84", 100".

Knox Prairie Philosopher Feels Both Man And The Insects Will Stay Around, Despite The Many Big Odds

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek strikes a confident note this week, or at least it sounds like it.

J. A.

Dear editor:
Here 1961 is barely underway and already the experts are predicting mournful things for the new year.

For example, according to an article I read last night in a section of a newspaper I had left over after I got through wrapping some Christmas presents in the rest of it, the world now has enough atomic bombs to wipe itself out four or five times. The United States has 50,000 more atomic bombing ability now than it had when it dropped that first bomb on Hiroshima, Russia has an untold amount of the things, France set off its first bombs just the other day, England has quite a few bombs it borrowed from us, Red China is expected to have the bomb before long, and possibly five or six other countries.

One expert added that sooner later, some of these bombs are going off, and not for practice, and when some go off, a lot more will follow. He said the human race couldn't stand it.

Well, I'm not going to predict the future of the world, not when I can't even predict the future of this Johnson grass farm for longer than three months at a time, although whatever confidence I have is based on the assumption of the world is better off than this place, yet I don't share the gloom of this expert.

You take insects, for example. I'm not sure that science will support me when I say people are as smart as insects, but they may be, and if they are, I believe they'll survive. What I mean is, man has been fighting insects for years, and if the insects could read, they'd find out that man now has enough insecticides stockpiled to wipe out all of them, but if the insect population is any less today than it was 50 years ago, I can't tell it. The more you fight them, the stronger they come back.

On the other hand, man may not be as smart as the insects, and with all those atom bombs stockpiled, somebody better keep his fingers crossed.

None the less, I predict me and the Munday Times both will be on hand a year from now, or at least one of us, and a fifty-fifty chance is all anybody can ask.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

Texas will begin the new year with 63 "packaged" hospitals on hand, ready for almost instant use following enemy action or a major natural disaster. Ninety percent of them are located at least 15 miles from assumed strategic target areas.

Outgrowths of the mobile army hospitals developed and tested during the Korean War, they can be completely installed by 40 or 50 people in four or five hours. In one test exercise an installation was made in an hour and 10 minutes by experienced personnel.

The hospitals, costing $21,000 apiece, were provided by the federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization as part of a nationwide stockpile program. They are administered in Texas by the state Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, with technical cooperation from the Texas State Department of Health.

Local civil defense organizations in designated locations provide storage and otherwise manage the hospitals and their equipment.

Besides the 63 units presently on hand, 11 others have been allocated to Texas for future delivery. The hospitals are designed to be set up in existing buildings.

Each hospital—already crated for shipment into stricken areas

CARD OF THANKS

as may be needed, is a complete 200-bed affair with facilities for three operating rooms, a pharmacy, X-ray service, clinical laboratory, sterilizing room, central supply room, and electrical power supply.

Each unit weighs 24,000 pounds and contains 8,000 individual pieces of equipment including a 1,500-gallon water tank and pump for emergency water supplies. There are also complete medical supplies, from surgical caps and gowns to inflammable items such as ether and alcohol which are separately packaged and marked to avoid fire hazards.

Local civil defense authorities provide refrigeration for items such as insulin and blood derivatives. Antibiotics and other materials with expiration dates are labeled "deteriorative" to indicate they must be periodically inspected and rotated.

State civil defense and health authorities estimate that emergency hospitals will have to provide at least half the total available hospital beds following a major emergency, since the bulk of existing conventional hospitals are located in metropolitan centers which may be targets of enemy action.

Doctors and nurses to staff the emergency hospitals will be recruited locally in the community where the unit is installed for service, according to present planning.
