INGENUITY PAYS OFF

It's easy for the pessimist to say that the days of opportunity in America are over. But opportunity is still very much around for the individual with a good product or idea and the enterprise to follow it up. Sometimes the results can nearly bowl you over, as demonstrated by one American housewife in a story told in the Carlsbad, New Mexico, Current-Argus.

Back in 1937, in Fairfield, Connecticut, Mrs. Maggie Rudkin, 40, decided home-made bread would help her asthmatic son. Although she had never baked bread before she remembered the way her grandmother used to make it when she was six years old. Proceeding accordingly, she used whole wheat flour, sweet creamery butter, fresh whole milk, salt, honey, cane syrup and other ingredients. Her son's doctor liked the bread and asked her to make some for his other patients. A local grocery store took some extra loaves, sold them quickly and wanted more. Other nearby stores and bakeries became interested and then her husband, a New York broker, began taking loaves to the city for sale to an outlet there.

Within a year she was baking 4,000 loaves a week. And here's the cap to the story. This backyard business grew into Pepperidge Farm, Inc., and was sold recently to Campbell Soup Co. for 357,413 shares of Campbell stock, worth approximately $28 million. In the words of the Current-Argus: "It still can be done in America!"

Don't eat that last roll because, "Any adult obviously obese might just as well wear a placard saying, 'I haven't any self-control,'" declares Dr. Edward J. Stieglitz, Washington, D. C., internist. "Ninety-nine per cent are the result of overeating; one per cent are the result of other disorders."

It costs the U. S. government for storage $14,000 a day for flaxseed and rye; oats $15,000; rice $17,000; soybeans $23,000; milk and butter $29,000; barley $64,000 cotton $76,000. "But these are peanuts," comments the Arlington, Texas, Citizen, "compared to the big boys. Have a good look: Grain sorghums cost $262,000 a day . . . Corn costs $444,000 a day . . . wheat $579,000 a day for storage." Total cost of storage for all these commodities comes to over $550,000,000 a year.

The railroads may have to discontinue a few of their runs for lack of patronage but as the Association of American Railroads said, "American railroads continue to serve 50,000 communities over 218,000 miles of railway, carrying almost as much freight as all other forms of transportation combined.

There is no accurate way of measuring unemployment—the figures representing it are as distorted as images in a fun house mirror. In the first place, many groups such as summer resort employees, fishermen, farm workers, guides and others who never worked 12 months out of the year, never considered themselves "unemployed" during slack periods until the advent of unemployment compensation. Secondly, when "benefits" approach the take-home pay, they subsidize and prolong voluntary unemployment.

When requested recently to explain remedies to our national dangers, of which there is an over-supply, Herbert Hoover said, "There are many reasons for my not doing that chore. I was not elected to that job last November . . . But I can make three observations:

"First, I am sure that the American people earnestly wish for the success of the new Administration. It is faced with one of the greatest challenges of our whole history.

"Second, our country has met and solved equally great crises in the past 185 years.

"Third, this nation, founded in strength, will not decline or fall if we remedy the slump in morals with its trail of crime and corruption."

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., UNION LABOR NEWS: "As a citizen, you are a shareholder in the United States. Do you take an active interest in its government, studying proposed legislation, spending programs, et cetera—while they are still being discussed, or do you just gripe about them afterwards?"

"Carry the analogy into everything of which you are a part—and then ask yourself whether or not you are an investor . . ."

GILBERTSVILLE, N. Y., JOURNAL: "Labor leaders better recognize the signs and realize that the public is being wised up to their demands which continue to add to the cost of merchandise and services. They should do it now before government regulations are demanded which, in the long run, would only make matters worse."

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES BALLMARK

What about the thief on the cross? This individual is continually set forth as an example of New Testament conversion. Thousands of honest persons are taught that his conversion is the pattern which we are to follow today. However, this is not the teaching of the word of God.

First, the thief did not live under the New Testament. The Will could not become operative until the testator, Christ, died upon the cross (Heb. 9:16-17). While Christ was alive he was at liberty to grant his blessings upon any conditions he desired. However, when he died the will went into effect, and the conditions could not be altered. The Old Testament remained in effect as long as Christ was upon the earth. Christ was born under the law (Gal. 4:4-5). Christ came to fulfill the law and the prophets (Matt. 5:17-20). The law and prophets were fulfilled in Christ's death upon the cross for the sins of the world. For this reason Christ observed the law of Moses and taught his disciples to do likewise.

Secondly, why single out the thief of the cross? The rich young ruler could just as logically serve as an example. Why not teach men to keep the commandments and sell all that they have in order to inherit eternal life? The account is found in Luke 18:18-23.

If you would learn what to do to be saved you must look past the death of Christ. The book of Acts records numerous examples of conversion for your consideration. For instance, read of the conversion of the Pentecostians (Acts 2:35-38), the eunuch (Acts 8:35-39), Paul (Acts 9:16; 22:16), the jailer (Acts 16:30-33), and the Corinthians (Acts 18:8). These examples establish that instruction, faith, repentance, confession and baptism are the conditions set forth in the New Testament for our pardon. Do not be misled!

WORLD FARM OUTPUT, 1961

An all-time record in world output of farm products for the year ending June 30, 1961 has been predicted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

World-wide production is forecast at 42 per cent above the 1935-39 level and two per cent above the previous record established last year, with all major regions of the world except Eastern Europe showing an increase.

At the same time, population also has continued to increase by leaps and bounds, and this has cancelled out a large part of the gain in production. Per capita agricultural production for 1960-61, even though as large as last year and only slightly below the record 1958-59 level, is only six per cent above the pre-war average of 1935-39.

This report indicates that the volume of U. S. agricultural output is about equal to Mainland China and almost 60 per cent larger than that of the Soviet Union. These countries are the largest agricultural producers, accounting for about 40 per cent of the world's output of farm products. On a per capita basis, however, production in the U. S. is about twice the Soviet Union's and about four times that of Mainland China.

Increases in commodity production this year are predicted for wheat, rice, corn, barley, sugar, tobacco, cotton, soybeans, peanuts, flaxseed, cottonseed, castor beans, citrus, and tea.

Livestock production is expected to continue its upward trend. Cattle, hog, and sheep slaughtering are likely to be larger in 1961 than in 1960. The same goes for milk production, also for poultry and eggs.

Heavy stocks on hand at the beginning of 1960 will add materially to the 1960-61 world supplies available for consumption. Even with an expected up-trend in trade volume, world stocks of such important commodities as wheat, feed grains, and coffee will probably be larger at the end of this season than at the beginning. However, the bulk of these stocks is largely concentrated in a few countries, and a number of other countries continue to be in a deficit position.

While substantial per capita increases in production are foreseen for the United States, Western Europe, Western Asia, Africa, Australia, and New Zealand, decreases are indicated in Latin America, the Communist Bloc countries, and the Far East.

The smallest good deed is better than the greatest intention.

Vera Rites Unite Miss Nelda Dowd And Jim Frank Coulston Sunday, January 26

The Vera Methodist church was the setting for the Sunday evening January 27, ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Nelda Dowd and Jim Frank Coulston of Vera. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferman Dowd and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coulston of Vera. Officiant for the five o'clock nuptials was Rev. Gene Louder, pastor of the First Methodist church in Kelton. The ceremony was conducted before panels of jade foliage. Tree candelabras holding white cathedral tapers completed the background for the ceremony. The couple knelt on a white satin bench for the exchange of vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a dress of antique white slipper satin and lace fashioned with a scalloped, modified boat neckline. Each scallop had a lace medallion centered with seed pearls. The long fitted basque bodice, which came to a point in the center front, had a full gathered skirt covered with lace, featuring a satin panel down the front. The long sleeves came to a point at the hand with small pearl button trimmings. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a tiara accented with seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a white Bible to bed with an arrangement of white carnations and lilies of the valley with long white satin streamers.

Mrs. Douglas Crow furnished traditional music and accompanied Mrs. Tom Hardin soloist.

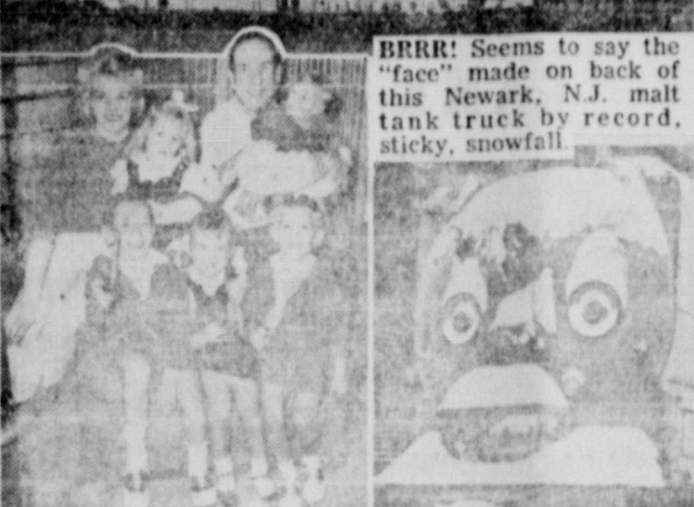

Serving the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Jo Carol Dowd of Vera. Bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Jackson of Wichita Falls, Miss Vicki Coulston sister of the groom, and Miss Carol McCaughey of Vera. The bridal attendants were attired in identical sheath dresses of light blue brocaded satin with bouffant tunic organza overskirts and matching shoes. Each wore a small light blue velvet coat with seed pearls and rhinestones, enhanced with matching net veils.

Tips on income tax. Get all the extra help you need. The internal revenue makes available some publications that will help you with your tax problems. The "Farmer's Tax Guide" is available at your local extension agent's office.

Don't jump at the "Standard" deduction or short form. Many people take the standard deduction automatically because they feel that itemizing is too much trouble or because they feel they have not kept records of these expenditures.

Pick the right form. 1040A is the simplest, but has no place for itemizing personal deductions, reporting sick pay, deducting travel or other business expense, for taking credit for retirement income credit. Check the use of 1040W if your income consists of salary or wages plus no more than $200 interest and dividends.

Get all your spending records together—if you haven't kept good records, resolve to do better for 1961.

Night Hunters Pay Fines, Lose Licenses

Night hunters fared roughly in the courts during December according to the regular monthly arrest report of the law enforcement division of the Game and Fish Commission.

During the month 124 hunters were arrested for hunting deer with headlights. Most of them paid fines ranging from $50 to $200 and quite a few of them had their hunting licenses suspended for a year.

During the month there were 576 arrests. Fines were paid totaling $21,339.94 plus $896 in costs for a grand total of $22,235.94.

A number of other persons also were arrested and fined for hunting from automobiles. Generally, violations came for exceeding bag limits or shooting game out of season. There were 140 persons also who paid fines for either hunting or fishing without a license.

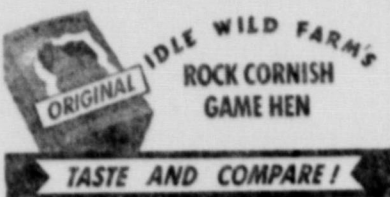

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Smith attended the Fat Stock show in Fort Worth last Saturday and remained over Sunday for a visit with relatives. Their son, Kenneth, and Rickey Couch, who had been there showing their pigs at the swine show, returned home with them.

Yet, to accomplish a real cure the true cause must be discovered and treated.

The best counsel you can get when you are sick is from a Physician. He has the knowledge to properly diagnose the cause and prescribe the medication specifically best for you.

We don't pretend to know every thing. But we do know medicine. We do have the knowledge to accurately and speedily fill your every medicine need.

Oldest Airline in the Americas

In 1919, six Colombian businessmen founded Avianca Airlines - which is today the biggest cargo volume carrier in the world - by investing 100 pesos a piece!

They bought a Junkers seaplane, similar to the one pictured above, and began operations between Barranquilla, Medellin and Bogota. The first year's business totalled 850 kilos (1,870 pounds) of freight and 12 passengers!

The oldest airline in the Americas and the second oldest in the world, Avianca (Colombian National Airlines) now has a fleet of 95 aircraft and 5,400 employees. It carried over 1,200,000 passengers last year over a route system of 32,250 miles.

The airline began service to Europe in March, 1950, and in 1957 linked New York, Bogota; Quito, Ecuador and Lima, Peru on a one-airplane flight.

Since 1950, Avianca has been operating between New York, the island of Jamaica and Colombia. The first non-stop jet service from New York to Jamaica, and then on to Bogota via Boeing 720-B (see inset) was recently inaugurated. This cuts five hours from the former 11 hour, 20 minute total flight time.

Proud of its contribution to the progress of Colombia and the development of Colombia-U.S. commerce and tourism, Avianca looks forward to still greater expansion in the 1960's.

BOY SCOUT SUNDAY

Sunday, February 12, is National Boy Scout Sunday. All Cub Scouts, Scouts and Explorers will attend their respective churches and will be dressed in their uniforms. Attend the church of your choice Sunday and greet these scouts on their day.

"THAT GOOD IT"

Calvin Stone went out to his pick up Tuesday morning and found the windshield covered with snow. He proceeded to get him a bucket of water and poured it on the windshield. Stepping back he said "That ought to do it." Right at that minute about a tub full of snow came sliding off the roof of the house right smack on his head getting all down his collar. That did it, Calvin!

Mrs. William Pusey, left for her home in Lexington, Va., last Monday after several days visit here with friends and attending to business matters.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

SMALL BUSINESS AND THE FEDERAL TAX LAW

The 1958 Federal Tax Law has introduced a new factor in selecting or changing the form of a business organization, a change which can mean substantial cash savings and other benefits for the owners of a business. Every person in business, whether presently operating as a sole proprietorship, a partnership or a corporation, should re-examine his business form in the light of the new federal tax law.

If a business is now operating as a partnership or a sole proprietorship, it can be incorporated, and still be taxed, substantially the same as a partnership or sole proprietorship. In this way, it can avoid the federal corporation income tax, and pay only the tax on income to the proprietor.

The new tax law, called "Subchapter S", gives the business the usual advantages of the corporate form - limited liability, ease in transferring interests and continuity of the business after death - without the double tax burden imposed on both the corporation and the stockholders.

If you are already operating your business as a corporation, in many cases you can cut your taxes substantially by taking the option to be taxed as a partnership or sole proprietorship without giving up the other advantages of the corporate form. Although there is no limit on the worth of the corporation, except for tax loss carry-over, the business must meet several qualifications, the most important of which are: the corporation must have 10 or fewer stockholders; be a domestic corporation; have only individuals and/or estates as stockholders; have only one class of stock, and not get more than 20 per cent of its receipts from rents, royalties, dividends, interests, annuities or profit from the stock market.

There are various other factors to consider in taking the option to organize as a corporation and make this tax election. First, all the stockholders must agree to the move. The decision must be unanimous and must remain so.

You should also investigate the possibility of putting your business back into its original form in the event that you are dissatisfied with the pseudo-corporation. Certain procedures must be followed to revoke the form. The corporate form of business gives advantages in estate planning not available to the partnership or the sole proprietorship.

In other words, the advantages of taking the option to form a pseudo-corporation should be studied thoroughly before entering into such a business entity. Only with competent advice and thoughtful consideration can you make your business work to the full advantage under the 1958 Federal Tax Law.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock left last Saturday for Amarillo for a visit with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lamoine Blacklock and children.

Mrs. Aline Koenig of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Russell Doran of Odessa visited their mother, Mrs. W. C. Bevers over the week end.

In tests conducted by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station workers, range ewes flush-fed before and during breeding averaged 7.5 per cent more lambs than those not flush-fed. Too, flush-fed ewes in 6 of 7 groups studied showed an increase in wool staple length and 5 groups showed higher condition scores.

American farmer differs from the Russian farmer. An American farmer, you ask him, just in a casual conversation, how much he made per acre on a given crop, and he'll stretch it a little. It doesn't make any difference what section of the country he's in, if you ask him how much corn for example he made, if he's a corn grower, it comes out a little better than it was. Or his apples turned out a little better, or his wheat, or his cotton, or his rice, or his calf crop, or his layers, etc. But this is only when he's talking off the record, for neighborhood consumption. Now when it comes to telling the government, he gets out his pencil and figures it down to the actual bone, with his sales slips in front of him, because exaggeration wouldn't lead anywhere except to extra income taxes. Now the Russian farmer, he's just the opposite. Let a neighbor ask him how much corn he made, and he'll say, "Comrade, I ain't doing no good at all, my crop is lousy," but let the government ask him, and he's liable to stretch the figures upward, because he knows from experience in Russia it's the people's job to keep the government happy, not the other way around. Russia is pretty good when it comes to shooting off satellites and spreading propaganda, but when it comes to farming, so far she seems to fall short. You can't propagandize a crop, it's got to be plowed. I know, I've tried both methods. Yours faithfully, J. A.

National Electrical Week

February 5-11, 1961

MAKE Electricity WORK FOR YOU

ELECTRICITY, probably more than any other source of energy, has been responsible for the high standards of living enjoyed by millions of Americans today. The nation is more productive, healthier, wealthier, and more secure—thanks in large part to the number of tasks electricity performs.

Today's people live longer because electricity accomplishes the labor that formerly drained their strength and impaired their health. Mass production would be impossible without electricity. At the touch of a button or switch, electricity goes to work in factories, homes, on farms, on the land, in the air, and under the sea—doing the work of millions of people and enabling millions more to enjoy more ease and convenience than ever before. In medicine and in science, electricity enables man to study areas as yet unexplored. Today's children can look forward to a future in which electricity will make even greater contributions to their health, comfort and security.

Electricity stands ready to do even more in the way of improving the world in which we live, whether it is the world of business, science, medicine, research, entertainment. Electricity is ready to create more jobs and whole new industries. It is ready to take on increased tasks on the job, in homes, on farms and in factories. Electricity and its abilities are boundless—they need only to be called upon to serve. This is the electrical industry's message during National Electrical Week, a message to its own employees and to the public: MAKE ELECTRICITY WORK FOR YOU.

Newly Designed License Plate To Be Issued in 1961; Registration Begins

AUSTIN — February-March is the renewal period for motor vehicle license plates in Texas, announced State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer today.

Texans will notice a newly designed license plate for 1961. A different style of letters and numerals have been used to make the plate more readable from a distance. Black letters and numerals on a white background is the color scheme for 1961.

A new numbering system will be used for some classifications such as trailers, truck tractors and buses. These classifications will have a one-letter prefix with from two-to-five digit numerals. For example: A trailer number could be A-10 or A-42345. The numbering system for other classifications will remain the same as 1960. The change in the system was brought about by the ever increasing number of registered vehicles in Texas.

The Texas Highway Department estimated that vehicle registration in Texas for 1960 will total 4,800,000. This places Texas third in the nation in registered vehicles following California and

New York. "Texas should reach the seven-million mark by the end of this decade," Greer said. "There are more vehicles in Texas today than there were Texans in 1920 and the percent of increase in motor vehicles in Texas in the last four decades is twenty times the percent of increase in population. There are two Texans for every Texas-registered motor vehicle."

Greer stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the country of the vehicle owner's residence. "Do not ask the County Tax Collector to violate the law. He is required to demand to see your certificate of title and 1960 license receipt before he can issue your 1961 plates."

The penalty for operating a vehicle without home-county license plates is the same as operating a vehicle with no plates at all. Court fine can be as much as $200, plus being required to register in the home county with a 20 percent penalty of the annual fee. Refunds cannot be granted for the illegal plates.

Owners registering illegally in 1961 can expect to face court charges.

"Don't risk an illegal registration," Greer urged. Remember too, that a portion of all registration fees stays in your home county to benefit your local community."
