INTER-CITY MEET LIONS HELD HERE

VISITORS FROM BENJAMIN, SEYMOUR, HASKELL AND ELECTRA HERE.

Fine Program Given

Electra Artists Add Materially To Entertainment Arranged For The Evening.

One hundred and twenty-five Lions and their wives placed their feet under the festive board at the inter-city meeting of Lions of District 25 here on Friday evening of last week. Representative delegations were here from Benjamin, Seymour and Haskell.

The hall had been artistically decorated for the occasion with decorative paper strung from the center of the hall in all directions and colored lights and Japanese lanterns over the entire hall interspersed with dangling balloons which harmonized with the other decorations. Mrs. W. H. Chapman was chairman of the decoration committee and was assisted by Mrs. W. R. Moore, J. D. McStay, Ben Guinn, Joe Davis and V. Greenfield and Misses Lorena Wilson and Rosalind Houser.

The banquet was prepared by Mrs. J. O. Bowden and Mrs. Walter Henderson, and consisted of a half of fried chicken on each plate with cream gravy, creamed peas, tomatoes, fruit salad and other good thing to eat, and ice cream and cake as dessert, and this part of the evening's program was indeed a success.

The Lions Club Orchestra, composed of Mrs. Joe Davis, piano, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, trumpet; Miss Maxine Pendleton, mandolin; Miss Rosalind Houser, drums and Paul Pendleton, violin, rendered pretty music during the time the crowd was gathering, and their efforts were liberally applauded.

The meeting was presided over by W. S. Dickerson, president of the local Lions club, who acted as toastmaster, and the various entertainment numbers included a singing and dancing number by little Mickey Joe Macon; a vocal duet by Misses Jewel and Eunice Perdue; quartette numbers by the young men's quartette of the Church of Christ, composed of Roy and Elkin Warren, Hammond and Cleophas Harrison and Eugene Montanoni; Charleston dancing by Miss Rosalind Houser and a reading by J. O. McMahon, Jr., all of which were liberally applauded, and which constituted the entertainment provided by the local club, but which was only a part of the entertainment for the evening. Had brought along some excellent talent from his town, and the entire evening was well rounded out in the way of entertainment.

With Lion Davidson came Miss Ross, who favored the audience with a violin solo, accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Aiken. Also there was Lion E. Forbes of Electra, who is a student in Rice Institute in Houston, and who gave solo numbers, which were followed by some real tap dancing by little Miss Dorothy Parr, who is a niece of Rollo Davidson.

At the conclusion of the interesting program some short talks were made by the representatives of the visiting clubs, including J. L. Southern and Carlton Couch of the Haskell delegation, Dr. O. W. Koberg for the Seymour delegation and John Atterberry for the Benjamin delegation.

At the conclusion of the program the meeting was turned over to Lion John Atterberry of Benjamin, chairman of District 25, and the matter of choosing the next meeting place was settled amicably when Seymour's invitation was readily accepted by a unanimous vote.

Out-of-town guests who registered in the guest book, which was presided over by Miss Mildred Moore, were: Sheriff and Mrs. C. R. Elliott, Prof. and Mrs. S. G. West, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sams, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sams, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Atterbury, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moorhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. G. R. Davidson, Mrs. Y. B. Akins, Misses Beulah Ross and Dorothy Parr and E. Forbes of Electra; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Couch, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Daugh-

Reduction Made In Electric Rate By Utilities Co.

Abilene, Texas, August 19.—A new system of domestic electric rates, measuring all service through one meter and affecting a 20 per cent reduction on the second and third blocks, has been announced from the General Office of the West Texas Utilities Company at Abilene. The new rate schedule is effective on current billings.

With the object of encouraging a greater use of electric service, the new rate schedule allows a premium to those domestic customers taking fuller advantage of the conveniences of electric service. The new schedule makes it possible to use all household appliances including electric refrigerators and ranges on one-meter service. The company has been working the last two years adjusting its rate schedules through the properties so as to be able to perfect a plan allowing one-meter service and at the same time have a rate with a strong incentive for a customer to use several times as much service as under the old rate without materially increasing his total bill.

This is in line with the long-established policies of the West Texas Utilities Company to lower rates as economies and increased business will permit.

It was pointed out that "costs are established by the customer's acts; by the amount of electricity he elects to use; by the time and place at which he chooses to use it, and by the duration of his use. The consuming habits of the company's patrons—and principally those patrons who comprise the domestic market—really control the cost of providing electric service."

The company plans to release, through the local newspapers in the towns served, a series of educational advertisements explaining the new rate schedule and encouraging upon the economical conveniences of increased electric service.

All bills for August will be figured on this new rate.

3 Contests In Knox

Only Three Contests to be Decided In Saturday's Balloting In Knox County.

The voters of Texas will go to the polls Saturday following one of the bitterest political battles in the history of the state, wherein the Fergusons are making a desperate attempt to come back, and they are opposed by Ross Sterling, who ran second in a free-for-all campaign in which some ten candidates participated, and indications point to the heaviest vote Saturday that has ever been polled in a run-off primary.

Other state races to be decided Saturday are between Edgar Witt of Waco and Sterling P. Strong of Dallas for Lieutenant Governor; Pat M. Neff of Austin and W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas for Railroad Commissioner; R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo and James V. Allred of Wichita Falls for Attorney General; J. E. Davis of Mesquite and Charley Lockhart of Austin for State Treasurer; J. E. McDonald of Ennis and A. H. King of Trovackton for Commissioner of Agriculture.

In the 23rd Senatorial District, of which Knox county is a part, the contest for State Senator is between Ben G. Oates of Wichita Falls and Raeben Loftis of Henrietta.

Two Citizens of Arizona Visit Old Home Town

During the past week two Arizona citizens have been here visiting old friends and relatives, and by coincidence, both of them were former citizens of Munday and both have been honored by the citizens of their adopted state.

Henry Jones was here visiting in the homes of his brothers, Alex. Edgar, Grover, Raymond and the others. Henry has been away from Munday for many years and has resided in Arizona since leaving here and is at present State Livestock Inspector for the State of Arizona.

The other visitor was Ed Barton, who lived here when he was quite a young man. In looking over Munday Mr. Barton stated that he had cut wheat on the section where the city hall now stands, and he is remembered by many old timers as being one of that champion cotton pickers of that day in this section. He was tall and slim in those days, but now he is a large and portly gentleman and holds the responsible position of Chief of Police in Tucson, Arizona.

Jones Family Enjoys Outing And Reunion

In September 1888, just 42 years ago, Stanley Jones and family landed in Haskell County—not by air plane but in prairie schooners. They left Hunt County and came west looking for "elbow room."

Mr. Jones and wife brought with them eight boys—later two girls were added to the family. All of these ten children are living today. This seems to be the reason for family reunions, so the Jones family planned a little-get-together meeting for Sunday, August 17th.

In casting about for a suitable place it was decided that Cottonwood Hole, on Lake Creek, near the old Jones homestead would be the most appropriate place. It was at this hole that the cattle were watered when they first reached this county. All the boys that were then large enough had a part in this watering business, and, as time went on, each learned to swim in this old hole. Many happy hours were spent in and near this spot.

About twenty years ago Mr. Jones passed away, but Mrs. Jones lives and enjoys good health today considering her age.

Those of the family present were: Mrs. Stanley Jones of Munday, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jones and children, Rozelle and William of Weintert, Alex and wife of Munday, Pat of Sierra Blanca, Henry, of Globe, Arizona; Lewis, Jersey with their children, Edna, Jayce and Clemmie, wife of Goree, Raymond and wife with their children, Dimple, Dorothy and Emmogene, Mrs. M. T. Wilson of Roby, Johnnie Jones and family of Quanado, New Mexico were not present. Johnny has six children, two boys and four girls.

Mrs. Pat Jones and M. T. Wilson were the special friends who were guests of this pioneer family for the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weintert and daughter, Beatrice, of Weintert, Mr. and Mrs. N. Furrh of Weintert, Mrs. Bess Wilson of Munday, Lewis Cartwright, wife and two sons, Alonzo and Keith of Munday, A. B. Millan of Ellaville.

Plenty of ice water, lemonade and iced watermelons were enjoyed throughout the day. At the noon hour a veritable feast was spread—Turkey 'en everything good—and every boy ate to his heart's (?) content.

Alex said, when he, in the early days, sat under those trees at the noon hour watching his sheep and eating his beans and bread that it never occurred to him that such a feast would ever be spread there—but times have changed.

The afternoon was spent in talking of old times and electing the coming governor of Texas.

The rising generation had a great time in the swimming hole—that is part of them did, some of the parents objected—especially Alex and Grover. Raymond suggested that they try out in swimming again to see if they had improved any with age. All agreed and Mr. Weintert, Mr. Furrh and Mr. Millam were to act as judges, however the match was called off when it occurred to the Judges that Alex was the only Ferguson man in the "bunch" and they just knew that he could

Rule Publisher Elected President To Succeed Physician Who Is Out of District.

More than one hundred Odd Fellows and Rebekahs met here on Tuesday morning for the semi-annual meeting of the Four County Association L. O. O. F., composed of Haskell, Stonehill, Jones and Throckmorton counties and the Munday lodge in Knox county, and following the registration of delegates in the morning the body was entertained by the Glee Club of the Orphan's Home, of Corsicana. More than thirty of the girls, accompanied by "Pop" and "Mom" Harris made the trip here in a large bus chartered for their Retireary over West Texas, and these youngsters kept the large audience spellbound by their musical numbers for more than an hour. An early luncheon was served to them at the L. O. O. F. hall in order that they might continue their trip, which carried them from here to Wichita Falls, where they were scheduled to appear on Tuesday evening.

Among the officers of the Grand Lodge who were here for the session were Grand Master Ray Grover of Stamford; Mac Self, President of the Rebechak Assembly of Texas; Maggie Jordan, vice-president of the Rebechak assembly, and Mattie E. Knapp, Grand Secretary of the Rebechak assembly.

The business session was held during the afternoon at the community auditorium, and among the other business transacted was the election of E. B. Harris, publisher of the Rule Review, as president of the association to succeed Dr. Spear of that city, who has resigned from the association.

Haskell was chosen as the next meeting for the association, which will be held in February.

The contest in degree work was abandoned by reason of the fact that the Rule team was the only entry in the contest, and as this team has won the prize repeatedly they urged that the prize money be retained by the association to carry on the work.

At noon a barbecue dinner was served at the hall, during which time music was provided by the Lions Club Orchestra and the Morrow Brothers String Band.

Those in charge of the meeting here say that this was one of the most enjoyable meetings in the history of the association and the visitors were loud in their praise of the hospitality extended to them by the citizens of Munday.

out-swim the others. Mayor Grover Jones of Rouston City was to have made us a talk concerning his success as mayor but was called away. All happy occasions must end, so about five o'clock the separation began. Monday found those who were here from a distance starting far home. Even the separation brings sadness in a few days hearts will be filled with gladness when thoughts go back to this day spent at old Cottonwood Hole. —Contributed.

MOVE STARTED TO AID NEEDY

LIONS CLUB INAUGURATES MOVE TO HELP NEEDY CITIZENS OF CITY.

Chest Plan Adopted

Committees Appointed to Finance And Investigate Cases Needing Assistance

At a special called meeting of the Lions Club of Munday held on the lawn at the West Texas Utilities Company on Thursday evening of last week a movement was started with a view of relieving some of the distressed families of this city and to care for those who might be in our community later.

The meeting had been called by officials of the club in response to a long felt need in this community, and which has become more acute during recent months, during which time work has been scarce and many men who have always been able to find employment have been without work and they and their families have been in dire need. Heretofore there has been no organized move made to care for this situation, and as the Lions Club is intended and designed as purely a service club, the membership felt that its efforts could not be directed in a more worthy direction than in helping those who are in need of help.

At this meeting plans were discussed for carrying on the work and a finance committee composed of H. A. Pendleton, J. A. Kennedy, and Dr. E. M. Ammons was appointed to look after the financing of the movement. An investigating committee was also appointed whose duty it will be to look into all cases which may arise and to render such aid as they may deem proper. This committee is composed of G. B. Eiland, Rev. W. H. Albertson, Rev. W. J. Mayhew, Fred Warren, E. H. Bauman and D. T. Mauldin. This committee was appointed and authorized to work in conjunction with the various church societies of the city in rendering whatever service they might be able to render.

The finances of the movement started off with enthusiasm when D. T. Mauldin, who has probably had more dealings with cases requiring aid than any one else in the city, started the movement with a donation of $2.50, and several other donations of like amount were made on the spot, and others would have been made had not a shower broken up the meeting rather abruptly and forced the participants to flee to shelter.

To date the following contributions in cash have been received by the committee:

D. T. Mauldin	$2.50
H. A. Pendleton	2.50
G. B. Eiland	2.50
Peggy Wiggly	2.50
R. D. Rawls	2.50
J. E. Edwards	2.50
E. M. Ammons	2.50
Lions Club	3.86

Following a suggestion made by V. Greenfield, who assisted in a similar movement through the Rotary Club at Post, milk bottles have been placed in various business houses in the city with placards thereon soliciting funds for this work, however, those who wish to make more substantial donations to the fund may hand it to any member of the finance committee above named and it will be acknowledged through the columns of this paper.

There has, in addition to the cash contributions, been a number of good citizens who have tendered milk, meat and other provisions to the committee as it may be needed, and others having anything that might be needed may notify G. B. Eiland, who is chairman of the committee in charge of distributing the aid.

Mrs. E. R. Wilhite is in Dallas and Fort Worth this week making fall purchases in the markets for the Tennessee Store here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Rawls left on Friday afternoon of last week for Mississippi, where they will visit relatives and friends.

Home Service Director Comes To W. T. U. Co.

Abilene, Texas, August 19.—Effective August 15th, Miss Eudora Hawkins was appointed Home Service Director and Chairman of the Women's committee for the West Texas Utilities Company, taking the place of Mrs. Mabel Holmes Roper, resigned.

Miss Hawkins comes to the Company from the Texas-Louisiana Power Company at Breckenridge. She brings to her new responsibilities a wealth of experience and an intense interest in Women's Committee and Home Service Work.

Born in Dallas and educated in the University of Texas, Miss Hawkins is a West Texan by preference and adoption, having lived in Breckenridge since 1920.

Home Service Work, as pictured by the new Director will "teach the women employees of the company how to use electric appliances to the best advantage and will help to establish friendly, neighborly relations between Home-owners and the company."

The Women's Committee Work will "give every girl a better understanding of her job and of the company; educate each employee to an understanding of the principles and economics of utility systems; so that they will understand organization policies, financing, and all other branches of the utility business; and train each member in safety and first aid measures."

It is expected that under Miss Hawkins able leadership the Home Service Department and Women's Committee work will show unprecedented development.

RHINELAND HAPPENINGS

The Rhineland baseball boys are still playing hard in spite of the fact that several of their regular players are missing. However, the Goree team defeated our boys on Sunday afternoon the score of which was 7 to 10. The game was played on the home diamond and was witnessed by a large crowd.

We are glad to report that Mr. Joe Blaschke who has been in the Knox Co. Hospital at Knox City has sufficiently recovered to return to his home here.

From 20 acres of Sudan Mr. Henry Birkenfeld threshed 11,940 lbs of Sudan and made 750 bales of Sudan hay. Considering the dry weather this is, in our opinion, a very good yield.

Mr. Ruden Loftin, candidate for State Senator, made an interesting speech to a large audience here on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Herman Meyer of Kansas City, Mo., and Miss Cecelia Hoffman of Scotland, Texas, are visiting in the home of their brother, Mr. John Hoffman.

Mr. Bernard Klug of Dallas, Texas, is here visiting parents and friends.

Messrs Albert Birkenfeld, Pat Schank and Tony Slatts of Scotland, Texas, spent the week-end visiting with friends in this community.

Miss Elizabeth Kubala of Seymour, Texas, is also a visitor here. Messrs Leo Kuehler and Tony Peyzen have been enjoying themselves the past few weeks in Cool Colorado. —Reporter.

WILL CLINT SMALL VOTE GO FOR FERGUSON?

One of the arguments which are being made by those who are saying that Mrs. Ferguson will win, or that she has a chance to win, may be stated as follows: Mrs. Ferguson will carry West Texas and the Panhandle. A large percentage of the Ferguson followers in that section did not vote for Mr. Ferguson in the first primary this year, but supported Clint Small instead, due to a sense of regional patriotism. They will vote for Mrs. Ferguson in the runoff, and a large percentage of the other supporters of Clint Small, appreciating the support which the Ferguson people gave Clint Small in the first primary, will also vote for Mrs. Ferguson. It sounds plausible, doesn't it? The only trouble with it is that it is not true in any particular. It is not true that any considerable percentage of the Ferguson crowd of West Texas and the Panhandle joined their neighbors in the support of Clint Small. If they had done so, Small probably would have gone into the runoff. The one thing which the complete returns show strikingly is that the Fergusonites of West Texas and the Panhandle apparently were the only class of the average community that did not join the movement for Small. They did what most of the Fergusonites did in other parts of the state, voted solidly for "Ma," just as they voted solidly for her against Dan Moody four years ago. The returns show this beyond the shadow of a doubt.

Let us examine the returns and see. In Clint Small's home county of Collingsworth, it is true, there is evidence that some Ferguson supporters voted for the home candidate—probably about 250 of them. But the same does not hold true of Small's senatorial district, or of the Panhandle and West Texas as a whole. Take the counties immediately adjoining Collingsworth. In Childress county Mrs. Ferguson received 737 votes, as compared with 761 in 1926, a decrease of 24 votes, or less than four per cent; in Hall county Mrs. Ferguson received 786 votes this year, as compared with 766 four years ago, an actual increase of 20 votes; in Donley county Mrs. Ferguson received only seven votes less this year than she did four years ago, the vote this year being 343 as compared with 350; in Gray county she received 343 votes this year as compared with 365 in 1926, and so it goes. The complete returns from Wheeler county, just north of Collingsworth, are not available at this writing, but I will hazard the guess that they will show the same thing—that the Ferguson crowd voted for "Ma" as usual. The counties enumerated all border on Clint Small's home county, and yet such decrease of the Ferguson vote as they show is not even as great as the average for the state.

Taking Panhandle and West Texas counties at random discloses the same situation. In Lubbock county Mrs. Ferguson's vote this year was 1,096 as compared with 1,165 four years ago. In Potter county it was 753 as compared with 892. In Taylor, Tom Green, and Tarrant counties there was an actual increase of the Ferguson vote. She received 1,698 votes in Taylor this year, as compared with 1,181 in 1926, an increase of more than 43 per cent. Tom Green gave her 1,305 as compared with 929 four years ago. And Tarrant county, "where the West begins", increased its Ferguson vote from 5,914 to 6,305. The same general situation prevailed throughout West Texas and the Panhandle. The strong local movement for Small did not affect the Ferguson crowd at all. They voted as they always vote, and as they probably always will vote—for "Ma" or Jim, whichever one of them happens to be running for office. It is significant that in 69 counties out of 83 in which Small was high man, Mrs. Ferguson ran second, and that in 31 counties, out of a total of 34 in which Small was crowded into second place, it was Mrs. Ferguson that took first place.

What becomes of the talk about the "gratitude" of the Small supporters to the Fergusonites in the face of such facts? There is nothing to such talk, and taking West Texas and the Panhandle as a whole, that region is going to vote as it has always voted with respect to the Fergusonites—against them. People who talk about the "resentment" of the people of that region feel over Clint Small's failure to get into the runoff, and who contend that "thousands and thousands of them" are either going to vote for Mrs. Ferguson or remain away from the polls, certainly do not know these people. They are as loyal to Texas as the people of any other section, they are among the highest class people to be found anywhere, they are good losers, and they can be depended upon to respond to the call to duty in this case. So those who are looking to West Texas and the Panhandle to supply the enormous increase in votes which Mrs. Ferguson must obtain to win, are going to be disappointed.—The Texas Weekly.

WEEKLY PRESS OF TEXAS

Practically every weekly newspaper in Texas is supporting E. S. Sterling in the present campaign. Prior to the July primaries practically all of the weekly newspapers in West Texas were supporting Clint Small, and as he was eliminated they gave their support to the candidate of their choice remaining in the race—Sterling and Ferguson.

We have on numerous occasions heard the intimations by supporters of the Fergusonites that the weekly papers had been "bought" by the Sterling forces. As supporters of the Fergusonites they should be the last mortals on earth to raise a question about anyone being "bought," when as a matter of fact it is common knowledge that their idols have so many acts on the records of the State of Texas that might be brought into question.

But, lets see if the weekly papers have been bought and paid for by Mr. Sterling. This paper received advertising to the extent of $15 from Mr. Sterling in the first campaign. In the same issues in which we ran this advertising we actively supported Clint Small. Since then we have received no advertising, direct or indirect, from Mr. Sterling.

To those who would believe that this paper, or any other weekly paper can be bought for fifteen dollars—or any multiple thereof—our first feeling is one of resentment, which afterwards is transformed into one of sympathy.

For indeed they who charge that we have sold out to the Sterling forces have sanctioned the awarding of road contracts to those who purchased space in the Ferguson Forum at $1,000 per page. They charge that we, the Texas newspapers, have sold out for $15 each, while they sanction the peddling of pardons without restrictions to murderers, rapists, yegmen and all other forms of criminals who can command the price.

They charge the newspapers with having sold their influence for fifteen dollars each and at the same time place the stamp of approval upon an administration which became so corrupt in Texas that the Federal government withdrew its cooperation in highway construction.

Indeed, if we were supporting the Fergusonites we would not make the charge that any honorable group of men had sold out at fifteen dollars per capita, and, as we said before, our contempt for such insinuations is only exceeded by our sympathy.

Our advertising columns are open to the world. Our editorial columns are reserved to express our own opinions, and are not for sale at any price.

SECOND IN COMMAND

While the Sterling-Ferguson race will dominate the runoff primary, don't let Texas forget for a minute the importance of nominating the right man for Lieutenant governor.

In the coming primary we have two candidates for lieutenant governor. One is Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, an elderly ex-traveling salesman with no legislative background but only the record of having briefly attempted to win a seat in the United States senate as the enthusiastic champion of the Ku Klux Klan. The other is Edgar Witt of Waco.

Considering the circumstances, with its possible eventualities, Witt's nomination for second in command is significantly important. West Texas voters should line up with him in a body, for here is his legislative record:

He actively supported the legislation creating Texas Technological college.

He was a leader in the movement in behalf of overburdened women and helped put over the act to re-value their lands.

Senator Small's river-bed bills had his enthusiastic support, and he was one of the senators to vote for their repassage over the governor's veto.

It was Witt, who, in the regular session of 1929 introduced the resolution asking congress to place an import duty of $1 per barrel on crude oil; and he was one of the authors of the pipe line bill sponsored by independent oil operators of Texas before the last special session.

West Texas cotton farmers have not forgotten pink bollworm regulation. Witt supported the bill setting up appropriations to pay them for losses incurred in enforcement of the quarantine.

Witt's home folks are sold on him. He has been in the senate of Texas for 12 years. He was away, in army service when his friends put his name up for his first term; and against a candidate who campaigned the district, he won by a seven-to-one vote. In the primary of July 26 Melanran county endorsed his candidacy for lieutenant governor by a vote of ten to one.

Senator Witt has been a member of important committees of the upper house, chairman of most of them at various times. He has the support of nearly every colleague in the upper house, is entitled to the place he seeks, and is completely deserving of West Texas support. Texas will never be shamed by the type of candidacy represented in Edgar Witt—Ablesse Reporter.

ANOTHER FAMOUS 14 POINTS

... DEVELOPED FROM MORE THAN 10 THOUSAND OBSERVATIONS DURING THE PIKE'S PEAK TEST, NOW BECOME YOUR GUIDE WHEN BUYING MOTOR OIL

Technical Report and Certificate of Performance . . . Certified Test No. 2268 Summary of Results

Between September 6 and October 5, 1929, three popular nationally known brands of motor oil were tested side by side with CONOCO GERM-Processed oil on Pike's Peak under the supervision of the American Automobile Association Contest Board.

The Board's findings have been expressed briefly in the "fourteen points" below.

- 1 That the test procedure was followed accurately and that no deviation therefrom occurred which might seriously affect the soundness of any conclusions based upon the data.
- 2 That a reduction in the rate of wear occurring during the use of CONOCO GERM-Processed Motor Oil over that occurring with the other oils used to the extent of 74.4 per cent was shown during these tests.
- 3 That the greater stability of the subject oil during these tests was shown by records of consumption of drained oil being greater the viscosity of the original oil and by chemical tests of drained oils with the fresh oils.
- 4 That frictional temperatures occurring during the use of the subject oil were lower than temperatures occurring during the use of the comparables.
- 5 That higher compression pressures were obtained with the use of the subject oil during these tests than with the use of other oils. It would be directly inferred that this was caused by better ring seal.
- 6 That using the subject oil and during each test, greater gasoline mileage for economy was obtained than during the use of the comparables.
- 7 That less oil consumption as shown by the records of these tests occurred with the use of the subject oil.
- 8 That carbon deposits collected from the combustion chamber and cylinder heads and weighed by the official chemist were shown by the records of the test to be less after the use of the subject oil than after the use of the comparables.
- 9 That the subject oil showed a reduction in the case of crank-case dilution during these tests.
- 10 That during these tests the subject oil showed improved compression pressure, decreased rate of crank-case dilution and decreased gasoline consumption, indicating an improved ring seal.
- 11 That a reduction in the increasing fuel and oil consumption during these tests with the use of the subject oil is substantiated by the records.
- 12 That with the use of the subject oil there occurred less deviation from cycle to cycle in compression pressure at starting cycles (as shown by the records), would indicate that improved compression at higher speeds might have occurred during these tests.
- 13 That the reduction in the rate of wear would not show under other conditions, it is important that references to these findings be accompanied by the statement that, so far as the report is concerned, they cannot, in conclusions, be extended generally. However, the inference that they might be so is reasonable and rational, although not conclusive.
- 14 That while there is no reason to suppose would not show under other conditions, it is important that references to these findings be accompanied by the statement that, so far as the report is concerned, they cannot, in conclusions, be extended generally. However, the inference that they might be so is reasonable and rational, although not conclusive.

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

Announcing a new production record

2,000,000 Chevrolet Sixes now on the road

Since January, 1929, Chevrolet has produced and sold over 2,000,000 six-cylinder automobiles—nearly five times as many as any other manufacturer has ever built in an equal length of time.

These 2,000,000 buyers have chosen Chevrolet because it offers many desirable qualities not obtainable in any other car so low in price—

—the smoothness, silence and flexibility of a modern six-cylinder engine—the comfort and roadability of a modern, full-length chassis—and the style, safety and distinction of bodies by Fisher.

Yet, despite these fine car advantages, the Chevrolet Six is unusually economical. Its gas, oil, tire and upkeep economy is unsurpassed. And

The Lighter-Draft Plow For Your Small Tractor

If you have a small tractor you will want the John Deere No. 40-C—the lighter-draft two-bottom plow. Genuine John Deere bottoms, famous for light draft, good work and long life, the rolling landside which relieves bottoms of dragging friction, and the self-adjusting hitch which insures proper line of draft regardless of depth of plowing—these are the big features responsible for the lighter draft of the John Deere No. 40-C.

Special process John Deere steel used in beams and braces reduces the weight of the 40-C yet adds to its strength—another reason for light draft. The cushion spring-release hitch protects the plow and tractor when a field obstruction is met.

See us when you are ready to buy a plow for your small tractor.

Life Story of R. S. Sterling One of Triumph Over Difficulties

Practical Understanding of People's Problems Fits Him
For Governorship

R. S. STERLING was born on a farm near Ansonia, in Chambers county, in 1876, one of 12 children of parents impoverished by the Civil war. His father was a captain in the Confederacy, and an uncle on his mother's side fought with Sam Houston at San Jacinto.

Early in life he left the farm to engage in freighting and mercantile work across the bay between Ansonia and Galveston. In 1903 he was married to Miss Maude Abbie Gage. Five children have been born to them.

Mr. Sterling launched into the oil business in 1910, purchasing two producing wells. Adding to these properties, he organized the Houston Oil Company.

He has been a member of the Houston Port commission since its inception in 1912, and chairman of the commission since 1921, during which period the port of Houston has been developed from a village into one of the major ports of the country, and the city's size has been doubled.

For a number of years Ross Sterling has served as chairman of the board of trustees of Hermann Houston, which has built and is administering a $1,500,000 charity institution. He is a director and for several years was president of the Y. M. C. A. of Houston.

In memory of Ross State, Jr., who died in 1924, Mr. Sterling gave the Y. M. C. A. of South Texas a beautiful wooded camp on Galveston Bay. Recently he purchased 100 acres of the old Sam Houston homestead, adjoining this camp, for donation to the State of Texas as a park.

Governor Dan Moody appointed Mr. Sterling chairman of the state highway commission early in 1927. He and his colleagues, Commissioners Com. Johnson, of Tyler and W. B. Ely of Abilene, reorganized the department, sponsored an increase in the gasoline tax and for the past three and a half years have carried on an intensive program of highway construction and maintenance.

Having achieved success in all his private and public endeavors, Mr. Sterling became a candidate for governor through an expressed desire to be of further service to his state. He has declared that state progress and growth demands a businesslike administration of the state's affairs, and that the man best fitted to give such an administration and meet the demands of the changing times should be elected.

He advocates relieving the burden of financial responsibility for building state highways, and believes the people should be given the opportunity to decide at the ballot box, to be retired wholly with proceeds of a motor fuel tax. He proposes the refunding to counties of money already spent on state highways, as a means of lifting the heavy burden of county road taxes, and developing a system of lateral roads.

His platform pledges constructive and progressive executive efforts toward equalizing the tax burden, to the end that the small farm, ranch and home owner be relieved and general wealth may rear its just share of taxation.

He proposes a modernization of the prison system, useful employment of prisoners, and segregation of youthful offenders.

Mr. Sterling promises hearty support of the rural and urban schools and the colleges of Texas. A lifelong prohibitionist and total abstainer, he promises vigorous enforcement of the dry laws and all other laws.

His words give earnest attention. If elected, to problems of labor, elementary institutions, agriculture, conservation of natural resources, judicial reform, regulation of public utilities, and departmental efficiency.

Finally, he pledges his utmost energy to end factional strife in Texas Democracy, and to restore harmony.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Choat of Denton county are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hunter in the Gillespie community. Mrs. Choat is Mrs. Hunter's mother.

Miss Alice Caughran returned home Wednesday from Lubbock where she attended the summer school at that institution. Miss Caughran will teach at the newly organized Sunset school, five miles west of Munday.

Miss Maurine Smith has returned from a visit with friends in Houston, Terrell and Dallas.

Miss Sarah Wright of Beckham was in the city on Tuesday.

Golden Words Uttered
by Tongues of Unknown

There are hundreds of people whose names we do not know though their words have passed into history.

There is the nameless, well-dressed woman who, meeting Wordsworth walking by Loch Katrine one fine evening, observed, "What you are stopping westward?" She gave the poet the idea for his poem, "Stopping Westward."

There is the watchman who passed under Peppy's window crying, "Past one of the clock, and a cold, frosty morning!"

There is the man who first invented the Breton fisherman's petition as he put out to sea, "Oh, God, do thou help and guard me; the sea is so wide and my boat is so small."

And who was the poor old dame who, when questioned by a kindly bishop, held up her dry crust and said, "I have all this, and faith!"

And there are, of course, all the unknown whose words are sung and said around the world and will not pass away.

Meeting
the Needs of Millions of People

The low-priced automobile has brought greater opportunity and added hours of recreation to millions of men and women.

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car.

There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business—design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.

The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.

The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.

The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. Hard work usually finds the way. Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated. Finally the way was found.

A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankshafts reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.

Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car.

All of these things are done in the interest of the public—so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.
