

Agriculture

Released by
The Texas Department of Agriculture
By John C. White, Commissioner

The nationwide search is on again for four young men who will be named America's outstanding young farmers of 1957. From now through early February, the public is invited to nominate young farmers within their own communities whose progress in agriculture merits public recognition and awards on local, state and national levels.

This is the fourth annual "search" of this type, sponsored jointly by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Petroleum Institute Committee on Agriculture. For the past two years, the state winner from Texas has been named as one of the top four young farmers in the United States.

This year, Texas Jaycee chapters are again hoping to find a winner that will lead the field in the national contest. Any farmer deriving two-thirds of his annual income from farming and who is between the ages of 21 through 35 is eligible to be nominated.

Three questions are the basic elements in picking a candidate. (1) Has the young man made outstanding progress in his agricultural career? (2) Has he carefully practiced conservation of both his natural and soil resources? (3) How has he contributed unselfishly to the well-being of the community?

After nominations are concluded, each community, through its Junior Chamber of Commerce, will select and publicly honor its most outstanding nominee. The man will then be entered in state or territorial judging, and from the 50 winners, the national panel will pick the four young men who will receive the top honors. The national awards program will take place in Indianapolis, Indiana, April 14-15-16, 1958.

Competition for the many intermediate awards and honors is keen. In 1957, some 10,000 young farmers were nominated in all 48 states, Hawaii and Alaska.

Local Jaycee chapters who wish to make an entry — or any individual — can secure the proper material by writing for the Outstanding Young Farmer Kit, U. S. Jaycees, Bolder Park, Box 7, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Out of town guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Haynie, Sr., for Christmas were Miss Janie Haynie of Wichita Falls, Don Haynie of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Butch McCallies and daughter of Benjamin.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. ... M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Texas now has six stations operating in a gigantic, coast-to-coast air sampling network designed to measure the extent and type of air pollution at points of collection in American cities and towns.

There are now 110 stations located throughout the nation, 51 of them in comparatively remote non-urban areas, operating in co-operation with the U. S. Public Health Service. The Service provides the equipment, analyses, and reports on findings.

Texas stations are located in Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, Houston, Port O'Conner, and Waco.

The stations work like this: Each is equipped with an improved, high-volume sampler, a small device which works like a vacuum cleaner. It draws air through a special glass fiber filter, which can easily be removed for analysis.

As air rushes through the filter pad, tiny particles of atmospheric matter adhere to it. After each 24 hours of operation, filters are removed and sent to network headquarters at the Robert A. Taft Engineering Center in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Analyses are made of chemical, physical, and radiological content of filters. State and local officials are informed of results so as to have a clearer picture of air pollution at collection points in their areas, and thus relate conditions to climate, geography, population densities, and industrial development.

The sampling stations are also capable of detecting radioactive fallout. "Fallout" is the name given to particles of matter, either from a bomb or other source in the air or from dust, earth, building material, or rocks atomized and made radioactive by exploding super weapons and sucked skyward by updrafts. The particles eventually settle to earth, sometimes after having been wafted great distances at tremendous heights.

Texas air sampling stations also provide valuable experience in studying normal background radiation, such as that produced by cosmic and ultra-violet rays to which the whole earth is constantly subjected.

Primarily, however, stations serve as general indicators of man-made air pollution, becoming more acute as technology advances.

Texas' industrial growth in the past 15 years has aroused interest in the problem. Industry itself is hard at work on a solution. One industry has already spent $6 million to control pollution in and around its plants.

Before any statewide effort can be made to finally end air pollution, we must know the type and extent of the threat. The air sampling stations are helping us find that answer.

RETURNING AND EXCHANGING GIFTS

With every wedding, birthday, or holiday season, there comes the day-after-the-day-before — the returned gift headache. The season for returning Christmas gifts to stores for exchange is now upon us.

Most business establishments are as cooperative as possible about this annual American pastime, but before getting into any arguments with a reluctant clerk or manager, better take a look at the legal situation involved. You may find that persuasion is more in order than demands for adjustment.

Department stores are under no legal obligation to take back a purchase and refund your money or deliver other goods in exchange just because you changed your mind. Most stores do make refunds and exchanges, but that is because it is their policy to do so — not because they are required to. However, a promise to refund or exchange merchandise made by the store or the salesman should be honored. Similarly, if a store misrepresents the quality of certain goods or if the goods are defective, you are justified in expecting a satisfactory adjustment. But you have no more legal right to expect a store to refund or exchange because you change your mind about a purchase than the store has to ask you to give back the goods that were sold to you because it didn't want to sell them after all.

Suppose you buy a coat in one store and find that another company has it on sale for five dollars less. Must the store where you bought it take back the coat and give you a refund, or refund the difference in price? The seller is under no obligation to refund the difference, any more than he could make you pay the difference if he discovered that a competitor offered the same coat at a higher price than he had charged for it.

Much the same rules apply to the refund of deposits. Unless it is the policy of a store to refund deposits on articles, or at least apply the amount on the purchase of some other item, the buyer is obligated to go through with the terms of the contract, even though he has changed his mind about the purchase.

When one selects, orders, and deposits money on the purchase of an article, the store is under obligation to deliver the article in accordance with the terms of the sale. If the buyer refuses to accept the article or pay the remainder of the purchase price, the seller can take legal action against him, according to the terms of the contract.

The same principles apply to a trade-in allowance on used merchandise towards the purchase of a new article. Such a trade-in allowance is considered the same as a deposit.

Texas 4-H'ers Win High Honors

Hard work and perseverance brought highest state honors to three 4-H Club members. Their records in 4-H Boys' Agricultural, Frozen Foods, and Poultry were judged best in the state.

Outstanding work in the 4-H Boys' Agricultural program won an exceptional honor for Pete Plank, 15, of Deaf Smith County, who has been named the 1957 state winner. Pride and respect for agriculture on his home farm and in his community were among the ideals that aided him in winning this honor.

From wool growing to cotton crops, Pete is a diligent farmer. He said even his first onion crop came out on the right side of the ledger.

Raising livestock and growing crops makes a rounded farming operation for Pete who now rents his own 160-acre farm and is working faithfully to make it a financial success. Pete won a $150 U. S. savings bond, which he accepted in lieu of a trip to the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago provided by the International Harvester Co.

Plenty of fresh frozen fruits, vegetables, meats and baked foods are served the year around in the home of Patricia Madison, 17, of Brown County. The reason is that she learned how to grow and prepare good quality foods for freezing.

Having certain foods only in season is a thing of the past at the Madison household since Patricia started her poultry and livestock projects. With a garden that grew from eight rows to an acre, and an average of 1,000 pounds of frozen food per year, this resourceful young lady learned how to reduce the family food bill considerably.

Patricia conducted many safety demonstrations in her community and helped in several camp and citizenship programs. Her excellent record in the 4-H Frozen Foods project brought her state honors and a trip to Club Congress provided by Whirlpool Corp., awards donor.

Putting all of his eggs in one basket was a winning factor for Weldon Schmidt, 18, of Bell County, who is state champion in the national 4-H Poultry program. A trip to Club Congress provided by the Sears Roebuck Foundation is his reward.

A Club member for six years, Weldon learned in the beginning of project work to raise his poultry on a paying basis and to reciprocate in farm production. He tends his birds with pride and is now a partner with his father in managing a 1,200-bird flock.

Weldon was responsible in organizing the Whitehall 4-H Club and planned their prize winning float for a local fair. His experiences are a guide and example for many other club members.

These 4-H programs are under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Miss Shirley Hill Becomes Bride Of Scotty Ponder In Church Ceremony

The First Methodist Church in Munday was the setting for the marriage ceremony uniting Miss Shirley Lynn Hill and Scotty Eason Ponder, both of Lubbock, on Sunday afternoon, December 22, at 6 o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Don R. Davidson, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church in Lubbock and former Munday pastor. Organ music was provided by Miss Melissa Lee, and soloist was Mrs. W. O. Ratliff.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hill, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ponder, all of Munday.

Vows were exchanged before a palmed arch with two baskets of white gladiola and stock with red carnations, with palm background on either side.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white chantilly lace over tulle and taffeta gown. It was fashioned with a scalloped, low cut neckline. The fitted lace sleeves came to a point at the wrists. Tightly molded bodice extended in torso lines to a bouffant waltz length skirt accented at the hemline by deep scallops of lace. The waist length veil of illusion was attached to a lace covered head-piece sprinkled with seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white rosebuds centered with a white orchid with streamers of white satin.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Charles Hardin of Waco. Her gown was waltz length, of red lace over red satin and net and red satin sash. Her headdress was a red satin flat bow, and she wore red satin shoes. Her bouquet was of white carnations and nosegay.

Miss Joyce Marie Michels of Dallas, Miss Freddie Nell Dane of Lubbock and Miss Charlotte Hannah of Lubbock were bridesmaids. Their gowns were styled the same as that of the matron of honor.

Best man was Richard Ponder of Houston, brother of the groom. Groomsmen and ushers were Dr. Wm. E. Ponder of Port Arthur, brother of the groom; Charles V. Hardin of Waco and Jimmy Boyles of Austin.

The couple are both graduates of Munday high school, and the bride attended school at North Texas State College in Denton. She is now employed at Leroy Waggoner and Co. in Lubbock. The groom is a senior student at Texas Tech.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white net and satin cloth sprinkled with red baby ribbon bows. The four-tiered cake centered the table, with red and white roses and love birds and wedding bells on the tiers.

Assisting with the reception were Misses Arlita Albus, Kenneth Stubblefield, Don Boyles, Earl Brewer, D. E. Alexander, R. E. Foshee, I. V. Cook and Miss Arlida Moore.

After a short wedding trip, the couple returned to 1816 San Jose Drive in Lubbock where they are making their home.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Ponder of Port Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Eason of Ralls, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Eason of Lorenzo, Mrs. W. A. Eason of Lorenzo, Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Cook of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. LeeRoy Waggoner, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Dane, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bryant, Mrs. Edna Chatman, Miss Alice Lynn Sparadlin and Don Haynie all of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardin of Waco, Mrs. Sam McLaughly of Spur, Mrs. Jim Adams of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Albus of Fort Worth and Miss Bera Fay Spann of Abilene.
