

Kracker Krumps Odd Bits Salvaged By The Editor

We don't know what we and future generations are going to do with our spare time.

It seems that before long a person may be able to hold down two jobs, providing he's in the right trend, and still not do a week's work. There has been a clamor among organized labor, and maybe other forces, to reduce the work week from five to four days.

Then just a few days ago we picked up a news item to the effect that man may soon get by on two hours of sleep per day. This seems to be a gadget that will likely be in production "within two years" that seems to rejuvenate (or maybe destroy) the fatigue cells in one's body so that after two hours he wakes up as refreshed as if he'd rested as long as Rip Van Winkle.

So with a shorter work week, a shorter sleeping period, the advancement being made in satellites, etc., we'll be able to do our week's work, snatch off two hours of sleep and take a weekend vacation to the moon, or something. The moon seems to be the next target of our "Sputniks".

Time was we used to work from sun to sun six days a week, take off Sunday for rest and a trip to church in a wagon or surrey, and let the sun, moon and stars take care of things "up there". We weren't worried about how to get to the moon, or how soon we'd do it. We were sort of satisfied that its rays would penetrate the darkness of the night.

But it's a different world we're living in, so let them have their four-day work week if they want. We'll make a wager there isn't a groceryman or grocer clerk right here in Munday who wouldn't welcome shorter hours.

It looks like there's going to be a sub-cotton classing office in Munday which will serve farmers of Knox, Baylor and Haskell Counties. Farmers and ginners who met here last Monday were all in favor of it, believing it would expedite return of their grade cards and would promote the sale of quality cotton grown in this area.

"If the move is to get your cotton graded quicker," said John L. McCollum, "we may not be able to help you much under conditions such as last fall, when the crops from Waco to Oklahoma all came off at the same time and we hired every qualified cotton classer we could find." The local group believes the office will benefit farmers in many ways, and that farmers are willing to "go their share" in establishing such an office. The belief was expressed that a fee of five cents per bale would meet all expenses.

"Look at your hat — everybody else does." But it seems that W. M. Ford of Vera didn't look close enough. He attended the cotton meeting here Monday and got off with a hat that didn't belong to him. "I've lived around here 65 years," he said, "and haven't stole anybody's hat," and he wants the rightful owner to have it. He left it at the Munday Times office. Said owner may have it for the asking.

A group of enthusiastic farmers and ginners met at the American Legion hall here last Monday morning for the purpose of discussing possibilities of establishing a sub-cotton classing office in Munday. County Ginnings Net 28,813 Bales

Knox County farmers ginned a total of 28,813 bales of cotton through mid-January, according to County Agent Roy England, as compared with approximately 18,000 bales in 1956.

Although yields increased more than 50 per cent, net profits dropped off sharply due to extremely low grades brought on by wet weather and an unusually early freeze.

The following is a list of the gin reports over the county:

Goree, 2,660; Hefner, 800; Farmers Co-op, Munday, 7,159; Paymaster, Munday, 1,703; Rhineland, 4,006; Brzaos Valley, Knox City, 2,902; Paymaster, Knox City, 2,191; Farmers Co-op, Knox City, 1,300; Gilliland, 1,577; Red Springs, 1,215 in Knox County bales; O'Brien, estimated 3,300 Knox County bales.

Conservation Program In Knox County Gets Under Way; Farmers Plan Action

The Great Plains Conservation Program in Knox County is ready to move.

Approval by State Program Committee of a list of soil-stabilizing, moisture-saving practices for the county was announced today by Ray Blackwell, who as leader of the Soil Conservation Service staff is chairman of the Knox County Program Committee.

Also approved were the rates at which the Federal government will share the cost of installing the practices.

These rates, based on average cost of the work in this county, range from 50 to 80 percent of the total cost of installing each practice. Cost-share rates for Knox County have been worked out by the County Program Committee and submitted to the State Program Committee which is headed by State Conservationist H. N. Smith as chairman.

Blackwell said that the approval of practices and cost-share rates clears the way for first applications.

The purpose of the Great Plains Conservation Program, Blackwell explained is to develop an agriculture that resists the weather extremes that are a constant hazard in the Plains area. This will contribute to a more stable economy.

"The County Program Committee is looking forward to enthusiastic response to this opportunity to make a good start on this program. Our records in this county show that there is a drought somewhere in the Plains every year. When moisture is good is the time to get ready for the years when conditions are less favorable."

"Indications are that several farmers and ranchers in this county are ready to take advantage of this chance for real help in getting a conservation plan on his farm or ranch," Blackwell added.

Foundation of the program is a complete soil and water conservation plan for each farm or ranch. The farmer or rancher agrees to establish all needed measures in his plan within a period of not less than three nor more than 10 years.

Blackwell pointed out that when the farmer or rancher becomes a party to the contract the money for the government's share of the cost is set aside for his part of the program.

Congress, in providing for the launching of the program, authorized $150,000,000 for a 10 year period, but specified that not more than $25,000,000 will be spent in any program year. Appropriations for the first kickoff year was $10,000,000.

A total of 233 counties in 10 Great Plains States has been designated by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson for the program.

Members of the County Program Committee, in addition to Blackwell are: H. H. Partridge, Chairman of the ASC Committee and W. A. Satterwhite, who is County Supervisor with F.H.A. Also participating in the committee's work are Roy England, Knox County Agent and Supervisors of the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District.

Here is the list of practices, with cost-share rates, for this county:

1. Initial establishment of a permanent cover - 80%.
2. Improvement of vegetative cover on rangeland by reseeding - 80%.
3. Establishing a stand of trees or shrubs on farm or ranch lands for windbreaks - 80%.
4. Establishing waterways - 80%.
5. Constructing terraces - 70%.
6. Constructing diversion terraces - 70%.
7. Chiseling or pitting on rangeland - 50%.
8. Erosion control structures - 70%.
9. Constructing spreader terraces - 70%.
10. Reorganizing irrigation systems - 50%.
11. Land leveling - $20.00 per acre.
12. Constructing ponds for irrigation - 50%. (Legal right to use of water for irrigation must be established before this practice is included in a plan.)
13. Constructing farm ponds - 50%.
14. Constructing permanent fences as a means for protecting vegetative cover - 50%.
15. Controlling competitive shrubs to permit growth of desirable vegetative cover on range and pasture land - 50%.

"JAYHAWK EDITOR"

The "Country Weekly" is typical of the United States. It is the voice of the local community. In the 48 states there are over 11,000 weekly and smaller city daily newspapers.

The "Country Press" gains in stature as the years roll by. Nothing else in the world duplicates its service. It is a living record of community life—births, marriages, deaths, local events, news and legal statistics. Its editorial opinions are a guidepost for consideration of political issues and local problems.

Representing the highest traditions of the "Country Weekly" is the Belleville, Kansas, Telescope, established in 1870. And hereby hangs a tale.

Active editor and publisher for over 60 years, A. Q. Miller, Sr., is now co-publisher of the Telescope after turning it over to his journalistic sons who have followed their father in keeping it one of the outstanding weekly newspapers of the country with many honors to its credit. In addition, they are active in publishing 7 other weekly and one-daily paper.

Now in his eighties, Mr. Miller continues his activities in journalistic and public life. His book "Jayhawk Editor", recently published by Sterling Press, Los Angeles, is a monument to the country editors of the nation. From printer's devil to owner of weekly papers in Kansas when the railroads were reaching into the western states, Mr. Miller's biography is virtually a motion picture of events which are unfamiliar to most younger editors today.

To an older newspaper man who knows what it meant to set a stick of type, or mix flour paste for single wrappers, the book is a delight to read. For the younger generation it gives insight into the character and courage that goes into individually owned papers which keep the meaning of a free press and free speech untarnished in this country. "Jayhawk Editor" is a must for country editors to read—it will make them proud to be one of that clan.

GUNS SLATHERED WITH BUTTER

The old saying about having our cake and eating it too has taken on a new and deep significance.

There is no doubt whatsoever that military spending is due for a big jump—perhaps much bigger than the President indicated in his budget message. And, along with this, there is considerable doubt whether non-defense spending will be materially reduced in any direction.

Those who want the government to everlastingly take on more and more responsibilities, at everlastingly increasing costs, are mobilizing now. A last ditch fight will be made to get maximum appropriations for welfare, grants to states, socialized power projects, greater farm subsidies, pork-barrels as usual, and all manner of handouts.

If this fight is successful, the nation will face two choices. One is higher taxes on top of already staggering taxes. The other is deficit financing and a further cheapening of the dollar—that is, more inflation.

This isn't a question of whether we shall have guns or butter. It is a question of whether vast gobs of political butter will be slathered onto the guns. Economic undermining of this country would serve the Soviets as surely as military undermining. Never did a Congress, an Administration or the people face plainer facts. Will they recognize them and act accordingly or will they continue on the road to bankruptcy via inflation.

Leading economists of business and universities recently met at the University of Michigan for a conference. The consensus of their views, as reported by the Wall Street Journal: "A mild business recession definitely is under way and no upturn is likely before late 1958."

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

Potatoes have long been the favorite vegetable on American tables. When buying potatoes, look for those that are firm, smooth and well shaped. Potatoes having cuts, decay or other skin defects are of poor quality and will have greater peeling waste. The skin should be bright with no discoloration. Potatoes showing a green color have been exposed to light and the green portions must be cut away for they have a bitter flavor.

For general use, medium-sized potatoes are the best buy. Small potatoes may be preferred for boiling whole, large potatoes for baking. With medium-sized potatoes it is easier to estimate quantities for serving and there is less waste in paring them than with small potatoes.

As a guide for quantities: Medium-sized potatoes will average about 3 to a pound and will make 3 servings of boiled, baked, roasted or steamed whole potatoes; 3 to 4 servings (½ cup each) of mashed, creamed or has-browned potatoes; 4 servings (15 to 18 strips 3-8 inch thick and 2½ to 3½ inches long) of French-fried potatoes.

Those who are counting calories sometimes shun potatoes. Potatoes are no higher in calorie than many food. Of course, adding fat or gravy can make the calorie count soar. A potato of medium size provides only about 100 calories, about the same as a large apple or orange or half a large grapefruit.

However potatoes are to be cooked, first remove any sprouts or green portions. If they are pared, keep parings thin. For greatest food value, cook potatoes in their jackets. If they are cooked in water, use just ½ inch boiling water in a covered saucepan and simmer until the potatoes are tender.

Pared potatoes usually retain their whiteness better during boiling or steaming than potatoes cooked in their skins. If potatoes are not cooked immediately after paring, cover them with water to prevent darkening.

If potatoes are to be baked, scrub them well so the skins may be eaten. For added flavor, grease the skins. Bake them in a hot gas oven (425 deg. F.) 50 to 60 minutes for medium-sized potatoes. If other foods are to be cooked in a moderate oven (350-375 deg. F.) potatoes may be baked along with them. In a moderate oven, medium-sized potatoes will take 60 to 80 minutes.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Potato Pancakes: Combine in mixing bowl, 2 beaten eggs and ¼ cup milk. Pare and grate enough potatoes to make 2 cups. Mix only the potato pulp with the egg-milk mixture. Add 1 tablespoon grated onion, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Mix well. Drop from tablespoon on hot lightly greased griddle (350 deg. F. dial setting on automatically controlled top burner). Stir the mixture before dropping each pancake. Cook until they are brown and crisp on the bottom, 3 to 4 minutes, turn and brown the other side. Pancakes must not cook too fast or they will scorch before they are cooked through. Makes approximately 16 pancakes about 3 inches in diameter.

Rev. Rex Ray, Baptist Missionary To China, Korea, Passes Away On Friday

Last rites for Rev. Rex Ray, 82-year-old former Munday resident and retired Baptist missionary, were held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday from the Seventh and Main Baptist Church in Bonham. Rev. Ray died Friday, January 31, in Baylor Hospital in Dallas.

Dr. Baker James Cauthen, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Foreign Missionary Board of Richmond, Va., officiated. Other officiants were Dr. Karl Moore, pastor of the Highland Park Baptist Church in Dallas, Rev. Jack Carson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rev. J. D. Stewart of Dallas and Rev. Obie Nelson, Baptist pastor of Hubbard.

Interment was in Willow Wild cemetery in Bonham, with nephews serving as pallbearers.

Survivors include his wife of Bonham; one son, Rev. Daniel Ray of Pusan, Korea; two daughters, Mrs. Buford McKenzie of Hawkins and Mrs. Thomas Dodson, Jr., of Unalaska, Alaska; five grandchildren; three brothers, Hez Ray of Bonham, Dave Ray of King Cove, Alaska; Dennis Ray of Tucson, Ariz.; two sisters, Mrs. Claude Hicks of Grand Prairie and Mrs. Alpha Cox of Grass Valley, Calif.

Rev. Ray came to Munday when a young man and was employed by J. C. Woodriddle Lumber Co. He made his home part time with the late W. S. Reeves and family and remarked a number of times that "Cousin Willard" partly reared him.

It was here that Rev. Ray surrendered to service in the missionary fields. He served as a missionary to China for some 30 years and on his several visits to Munday told many of his colorful experiences. At one time he was prisoner of a bandit group in China and held for $250,000 ransom. He miraculously escaped from captivity and resumed his missionary work. During World War II, he was again taken prisoner, this time by the Communists.

After his return from China, Rev. Ray was missionary to Korea until his recent retirement. In recent years, he gave a week of lectures at the First

The Abilene Christian Band presents several concerts during the year. Under the direction of Douglas Fry, the 100 piece organization performs at many events and on several programs throughout the Southwest annually.

Baptist Church in Munday, and many enjoyed the experiences he related. The memory of Rex Ray and his usefulness to his fellowman will be kept alive by peoples of many nations.

News From The U. S. Congress

The first piece of major legislation to receive approval by the Congress during this session will be spending authority for the Defense Department. This measure includes only top priority matters which are critically and urgently needed. Briefly, a breakdown on the bill is as follows: One Hundred Eighty-Nine Million for a ballistic missile detection system. This will make possible the installation of sensitive electronic gear at carefully selected sites to immediately detect and track the course of any missile fired any place on earth.

Thirty Million Dollars for a speedier aircraft warning system which is designed to shorten the time interval between the discovery of attacking enemy aircraft and the use of planes or missiles to bring it down.

Twenty-Five Million Dollars to improve the alert facilities of the Strategic Air Command. Under this program, it will be possible to get the planes of the Strategic Air Command into the air almost immediately after an alert.

One Hundred Ninety-Four Million Dollars for the dispersal of the Strategic Air Command Forces. Since the Strategic Air Command is our chief striking force, it is important that it be scattered out so that no base in the United States will be occupied by more than one heavy bomb squadron or one medium bomb wing.

One Hundred Twelve Million Dollars to speed up our ballistic missile program. Included in this are the Atlas Intercontinental Missile and both the Thor and Jupiter, intermediate range models. These funds will be used to speed up the development of these weapons.

Those of us from cotton producing areas have been distressed at the inept handling of the Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Program. The Department of Agriculture started the sign-up without having even allocated the available funds by States. Certainly this allocation should have been made before the sign-up. As it worked out, many Counties had overrun their allotments before the distribution was made.

Mr. Herbert Story of Wichita Falls was a Washington visitor this week.

Civil Defense Program Given To Munday Study Club

A Civil Defense and Public Welfare program was presented to the Munday Study Club Thursday afternoon, January 30, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Paul Pruitt and Mrs. H. R. Hicks who presented the program.

Mrs. Hicks spoke on "My Role in Civil Defense." She said that civil defense is set up by Federal and State law but no law in the world will work unless you back it up by your own actions. That is why in the end the responsibility for civil defense is yours. The thing to remember is this: If the bombs from enemy planes ever fell on your city, they would not fall on a plan or an organization of a system of government. They would fall on you and your family and friends.

Mrs. Pruitt introduced her son, John Pruitt, who showed a very interesting film on "Are you safe at home?"

Mrs. Pruitt then spoke on "My Responsibility to Others." She said that we all come under one of two types of people in case of disaster, those who need help and those who are calm enough to give help.

In the business meeting presided over by Mrs. W. O. Ratliff, president, the club voted to buy the Texas and United States flags for the club house.

Prospects Good For Cotton Crop

Cotton farmers can look forward this year to the benefits from last year's drought breaking rains, research records indicate.

"Invariably, it's the year following good rainfall that we record top cotton yields," says Dr. E. D. Cook, Agronomist at the Blackland Experiment Station at Temple.

Dr. Cook said records at the station with one variety of cotton over the past 32 years bear out this statement.

He said moisture conditions over the entire Blackland Area are good and that farmers have an opportunity to make more money from their cotton crop this year than they have in any recent year.

This is actually the first year in the past 10 when the underground moisture conditions have been good enough to assure a cotton crop.

Cook says that with normal rainfall in the late spring to get the cotton up to a stand, prospects will be excellent for good yields.

He said that there is a chance, too, that this will be the cheapest crop in history because of the good moisture conditions.

Better moisture conditions should result in better grades of cotton, he said, with farmers getting a better price.

Bearing out his contention that higher yields follow high rains, Cook pointed to acre yields of 192 pounds in 1941 when rainfall amounted to 44.29 inches as compared to yields of 268 pounds in 1942, when rainfall totaled 36 inches.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Willson of Dallas visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams, last Sunday night. They were enroute home from Santa Fe where they had been skiing.

$1,129 Given To March Of Dimes

Money received in Munday's March of Dimes drive has already exceeded that of last year, and there still remains the variety show slated Thursday, February 6, which was postponed last week.

Munday people have responded wonderfully this year. They seem to realize the great need which the Knox County chapter and the National Foundation has for funds to carry on their work.

Mrs. Frank Garrett, local chairman, and her workers did a splendid job in promoting the drive, according to Mrs. John Peysen, county chairman.

The entire county has gone over last year's amounts, according to Mrs. L. A. Parker of Benjamin, county drive chairman.

Contributions were made at Munday as follows:

Crutch sales, $72.19; home coffees, $20; all-star basketball game, $37.36; grade school, $80.49; junior high school, $25.28; high school, $5.80; Kindergarten, 70 cents; Church of Christ, $25; business houses, $236.75; containers in stores and coffee day in drug stores and cafe, $117.58; mother's march, $508.31; total, $1,129.26.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

COURT RULES HAVE PURPOSE

Are you hopelessly confused by court room procedure? Words such as "objections," "overruled," "sustained," "hearsay," "irrelevant" and "opinion" are meaningless to many persons. The purpose of a trial is to settle disputes that the parties cannot settle by themselves. Before these disputes can be settled, the facts which give rise to them must be established. This sounds simple, but on the contrary it is a difficult task. If the parties agreed on the facts the job would be easy, but each side has its own version. The trial court has the job of establishing the facts. This is accomplished by questioning witnesses and the introduction of physical evidence. This requires application of the rules of evidence. Through the years the law of evidence has been established. The rules place restraints on what type of evidence is proper. They have the effect of protecting the rights of the parties by insuring a fair trial. Hearsay is a word often heard during a trial. Hearsay may involve a statement by a third person of a conversation between two other persons. It would be hearsay if Jones were asked to tell the court what he overheard Smith tell Greene. With certain exceptions, evidence of this type is excluded because it is not reliable, and might open the door to false testimony. A lawyer objects to evidence he does not believe is proper. If a lawyer objects to evidence because it is irrelevant, he means that the evidence is of such little importance that it has no bearing on the case, and if admitted it would bog down the trial so that the time needed doesn't justify its admittance. Opinion evidence of one not an expert is not admissible since such opinion carries no weight. When an objection is sustained by the judge the evidence is not received. Should the objection be overruled, the evidence is allowed to be presented. The rules of evidence have been built up through many years of court trials. These rules are not arbitrary but are designed to see that justice is done in our courts. The judge is seeking to have the truth established and insure that all parties and witnesses in the trial are given a full and fair opportunity to present the facts. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out For Saltier Newspapers For His Cattle, Explains His Laziness

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses a topic he's an authority on this week, laziness.

J. A.

Dear editor:
I don't care how brainy a man is, how important his job is, whether he's mayor of a town without enough money to operate on or the Secretary of State in the same shape, or a college professor or a business tycoon or a scientist who thinks in mathematical formulas instead of words, there are times when, if you can catch him at it, he's not doing anything. He's tired. He's loafing.

It was therefore with a considerable amount of interest I read in a copy of a newspaper which my milk cow was chewing on the other day, it's obvious she needs some salt and if newspaper publishers wanted to really be of service to farmers they'd print their papers on a saltier quality of paper, with maybe a few trace minerals included, and when you get through reading it, hand it to your cows, improve, if not your rural readership, at least your rural usefulness, but to get on with this sentence, what I read in this paper which I took away for my cow was a statement that a group of scientists are making a study of laziness, to discover its cause and cure.

I don't know what their findings will be, and I won't go out of my way to find out, but if they think eliminating laziness will solve the world's problems, they're forgetting how energetic Hitler and Stalin and Mussolini and Julius Caesar and Attila the Butcher were.

You can blame a run-down farm on laziness, but I never heard of a war you could blame on it.

Understand, we need energetic people, but did you ever stop to think how much worse the farm surplus would be than it is if all farmers were equally energetic? If Mr. Benson thinks he's got problems now, he ought to eliminate laziness and see where he stands. Energy is what puts a gas service station at the spot where you need it, but energy is also responsible for putting another one across the street and cutting the first one's income in half.

I'm not saying that laziness is all right, I'm just saying energy can be carried too far. At least I've heard it can, personally I've never tried it and don't intend to.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.
