Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Looking at the calendar more than a month ahead of time always kinda gets us bumfuzzled.

k-k
And we reckon that's what happened last week when we started to write about the school trustee election. Said election is always on the first Saturday in April, and that happens to be April 5th this year — not April 1st, as we stated in the story.

k-k
So you'll get to vote twice in one week — if you're eligible — come April. The city election, in which we will name a mayor and two aldermen for two years, will be held on Tuesday, April 1, and the school trustee election will be on Saturday following. So just get your voting mind made up. We understand pencils will be furnished you at the polls.

k-k
There's a rather lengthy article appearing in this week's paper that was a sort of eye-opener to us. We're getting to be more and more of a stay-at-home of nights and know very little of what transpires in our little city after dark. If we're not at home, we're possibly in some sort of meeting or our enjoying a social hour and, consequently, have no time or inclination to just drive or roam the streets.

k-k
We suggest that parents and those in our particular type of "stay-at-home rut" read this article in its entirety. We have withheld our editorials this week in order to give the article the space it needed. It deals with juvenile problems, and those that are not entirely juvenile, as seen by our police officers.

k-k
Munday isn't the only town with its juvenile (or teenage) problems. We understand these are on the increase in almost every city, town and hamlet. But it's up to the people of Munday to help police of Munday and of Knox County solve our local problems. Like we say, a lot of folks, like ourself, are not fully awake to the problems.

k-k
An important week is coming up real soon — Public Schools Week. It's a time when thoughts turn to activities of our schools for one special week, a time when we acquaint ourselves more with the workings of our schools.

k-k
As usual, Supt. W. C. Cox is issuing a special invitation to parents and all others interested to visit the schools during this week — March 3-7. No special observance is planned, as local school officials believe visitors are interested more in the workings of every-day classrooms than in some program. So your visit to the school will be to observe what goes on — not on the day of your visit, but every school day.

k-k
Our schools are the biggest manufacturing concerns of our day. They are turning out the boys and girls who will be taking our places in the business world, the professional world, the agricultural world, etc., in the future. How well they do in these special fields depends to a large extent on how the "finishing touches" are placed on them in our schools.

k-k
Show an interest in your school. Pay it a visit during the week of March 3-7. Our school officials have the "welcome mat" out every day of the school year for those who desire to visit, but this special week is observed throughout the state.

PROF. EWING TO SPEAK AT P. T. A.

A. meeting tonight at the school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. This will also be observed as "Fathers' Night" and the subject will be "Partners in Education."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

This year, the week of March 3rd through 7th, has been proclaimed "Public Schools Week" in Texas. During this week every Texan is urged to visit a public school. Masons have long been active supporters of this particular activity in the belief that the more we know about our schools, the more interest we show in them, the better our schools will be.

Let every one of us do our part by visiting a Public School during Public Schools Week. — Contributed

Feb. 20 Deadline For Cancelling Of Cotton Agreements

February 20 is the deadline for canceling or changing 1958 cotton Acreage Reserve agreements as well as for filing new one, H. H. Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reminded farmers Feb. 5. The deadline has been moved up several weeks because of the unexpectedly large program sign-up in some areas. Indications are that producers will participate to the full extent of the allocated funds for the cotton Acreage Reserve program during the shorter sign-up period.

Chairman Partridge emphasized that farmers who wish to cancel their 1958 cotton Acreage Reserve agreements must file a written notice of such termination with the County ASC Committee not later than the February 20 closing date. After that date, no withdrawals may be made, and the farmer must comply with all provisions of the agreement in order to receive the entire payment specified in the agreement.

Failure to comply with some provisions of the agreement could result in a reduction or forfeiture of the payment. Violation of any one of a limited number of the agreement's provisions may make the farmer subject to a civil penalty and the loss of the payment.

John Deere Firm In New Location

Tommy Harper, the "main cog" around the John Deere implement house, announced this week that he has completed moving the Quality Implements into the new location, the newly constructed building northeast of town on the Seymour highway.

Mr. Harper constructed a building especially for the implement firm which gives them ample room for displaying implements and parts and for carrying on their repair work. Two large doors to the shop enables large tractors to be moved in and out very conveniently. More space is provided outside the building for tractors and implements.

"We've constructed this building with the view of giving better service to our customers," Mr. Harper said. "We still have some work to do, both inside and outside, but when entirely completed we believe you will enjoy the conveniences of our new location. Come visit us and take a look at our new building and facilities."

World Day Of Prayer To Be Held Friday

Observance of the "World Day of Prayer" will be held on Friday, February 21, in the First Methodist Church of Munday. This will be a community-wide event.

New Irrigation Service Formed

Announcement was made this week that Charles Spraggins, Bud Payne and Jack Thomas have formed the Texas and Oklahoma Irrigation Co. to serve the needs of farmers of this area. The new firm is located at 514 Main St., just east of West Texas Utilities Co.

These three men are well known to farmers of this area, having formerly been with Oklahoma Irrigation Service.

"We plan to handle a complete line of irrigation needs," they said, "including aluminum and plastic irrigation systems, plastic irrigation pipe, and plastic gas and oil lines. We will appreciate the opportunity of serving you."

Cotton Insect Control Guide Now Available

No cotton farmer has to be told about the reduction in profits that insects can cause. But luckily, cotton insects can be controlled economically by the use of the proper poisons at the right time.

Controlling damaging infestations of boll weevils, bollworms and other insects on cotton growing on fertile soils returns substantial profits even when a large number of applications is necessary for maximum yields. On upland soils where insect infestations do not last long, fewer applications may be needed.

Giving information and recommendations for the control of the various cotton insects is the theme of two leaflets recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service — L-218 "Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects," and L-219 "Ways to Fight the Pink Bollworm in Texas."

L-218 deals with the more harmful cotton insects. It contains a chart giving the recommended controls and also general information including points on the safe handling of insecticides.

L-219 deals with the pink bollworm specifically. It tells about the habits and damage of the insect and gives special attention on the ways to fight it.

Copies of the leaflets may be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Who Did It? . . .

We have asked ourselves the same question in the past five or six months, while making investigations and apprehending the subjects involved in the following cases:

Thefts — hub caps from parked cars around churches, from cars of people who have gone to the show, doing shopping or visiting, from people who are able to replace them and people who are not. Also mirrors, gas caps and any other article that is in the car. Gasoline, batteries, tools, oil, tires and many other items are taken weekly from homes in town and from farms.

It has reached a point where several farmers have to go to the field two or three hours early to see if they have enough equipment left to work with, or see if they need to spend the first half-day reporting to local officers their losses and try to gather up enough fuel and equipment to finish the work. Hub caps seem to be the starting point for most of the ones involved in these cases. These are only a small portion of the things that need to be spoken of.

We are dealing with a large number of boys and girls, and some adults, who do not realize what they are doing to themselves by drinking, gaming, petty thefts, breaking and entering buildings for the purpose of burglary, and sometimes for the sole purpose of destroying property to amuse themselves.

We are dealing with some from 18 to 22 years of age who have grudges against the teachers who try earnestly to give them an education. These are, and have been for several years, seeking revenge because the teachers tried to make them understand the importance of their education and character, to the extent they have broken windows of teachers' homes, damaged the furniture, damaged their cars, stolen their property and thrown damaging fireworks on and into their property.

We are dealing with adults who are giving and selling your children, from the ages of nine to 20 years, any form of alcoholic beverages any hour of the day or night, and even teaching them to obtain and deliver the stuff for spending money.

We are dealing with very small children, who, with air rifles have been responsible for over $2,000 worth of property damage in the last four months. Again we ask the question, "Who did it?". We could give the names. Will that accomplish anything? Much too often we come up with the one party who did the crime, but we are not satisfied at stopping there. The one who is responsible should carry his or her portion of the load.

Boys and girls from the ages of nine to 20 are driving the streets all hours of the night, while most of you are sleeping. We used to wonder why. Where do they get the money to buy three or four dollars worth of beer, a tank of gas and enough money to see the show and satisfy the appetite of a fast-growing child? You figure it up, and some of them spend more than the average salary of a working man. They are having fun, and destroying themselves.

We are dealing with large and small children who are training themselves to be criminals by stealing their school supplies — from paper clips to notebooks — from the counters of your local merchant. Some of these come from very prominent families.

We are dealing with groups of teenagers who soon will be the business men of your community. At the present, they are drinking two or three nights a week and get on a sloppy drunk once or twice a month, and steal and destroy the things you think are safe to leave out on your sidewalk, or in the street.

What makes you think your boy or girl won't do some of the things you did when young? The possibilities for them are much easier and much more inviting than when you were young. If we do not wake up to what is going on and spend a little effort in doing something about it, what can we expect of our merchants, farmers, government in schools, cities and the leaders of community affairs of tomorrow?

While you sleep, we continue our work and handle these problems as best we know how. We are few — they are many. The trouble is growing fast and surprisingly large. Will you help us? Or will we have to use a little more of your tax money to put sideboards on our juvenile files and enlarge our penitentiaries?

Our department has handled over 90 youths on the cases mentioned here, and we have seen fit to withhold the names of most of them, primarily because we have faith that the majority of them will not be involved again. On the other hand, they had no motive for being involved in the first place.

When asked why, these are some of the answers they gave: "We don't know why." "We didn't have anything else to do." "We were with the bunch." "We would be called a sissy if we didn't." "My parents do worse things than that." "Nobody cares anything about us." "We are not of age, and you can't do anything to us."

Some try things just to see if they can outsmart a cop. If they succeed, they continue until they are caught and in more serious trouble, and then blame the officer for not stopping them on the first offense.

We are trying our best to stop this fast-growing trouble before it gets out of hand. We earnestly beg of you to take more interest in your child. Find out where he spends his time. Know where he or she is and what they are doing. We feel that a car and expense account is giving them the ropes unless first they are properly instructed and supervised. We feel that if the child is not happy at home, then surely he is not to be turned loose to find his or her happiness and entertainment roaming the streets late hours at night and early hours in the morning, drinking and getting into trouble with the officers.

If we parents do not see fit to spend more time with our children and take in consideration that they are looking to us for love and the proper kind of leadership, then we can lock our doors and post guard over our property, for the idle minds of youth of today are going to find something to occupy their time. The papers are full of the actions of the idle minds of youth every day, but somehow we don't become alarmed about the things until they get close to home. We as officers pledge ourselves to an all-out effort to stop this thing before it gets out of hand. We feel that in some cases it will take drastic measures to stop it.

We no longer see fit to withhold the names of any who are involved. They will be handled according to the measures it takes to stop it.

We hand this information to you because we know it is your responsibility, and you can do more about it than we can. We hope you will read this to your family; and, in some way, help each of them to realize the importance of making themselves a part of a clean community, one in which we may be proud to

1958 COTTON PLANTING AND PLOW-UP DATES SET

Texas farmers in 106 cotton producing counties will participate in the pink bollworm control program this year.

Cotton planting and plow-up dates have been set by Agriculture Commissioner John White in areas where the pink bollworm poses a serious threat to crops. The control zones include counties in South, Central and East Texas and along the Coastal Bend.

Uniform seeding and harvesting methods help hold down the insect population growth. By delaying the first planting as long as practical in the spring, the insects emerging from hibernation find very few young cotton plants on which to lay their eggs. Early destruction of cotton stalks helps destroy the winter quarters of the pest.

The control area is divided into seven zones, according to weather conditions. Each zone has slightly more than two months during which the farmer can plant the crop. Stalk destruction dates allow ample time for the cotton to mature and be harvested, barring undue interference from bad weather.

Beginning in South Texas, which is generally the site of the first cotton planted annually in the United States, farmers started planting on Feb. 1st and have until March 31st to complete operations. Zone 1 includes Cameron, Willacy and the southern portions of Hidalgo and Starr counties. Plow-up deadlines is Aug. 31.

JUST LIVING IS A BUSINESS

Back in pioneer times our forefathers found they could keep track of the family history pretty well with a few notations on the flyleaf of the family Bible. But life's not quite that simple any more. Great-grandpa wasn't covered by social security or workmen's compensation. He didn't have a bank account or safe deposit box, a car and a dozen home appliances being bought on time payment, or a half-dozen insurance policies. We have taxes great-grandpa never heard of and wouldn't have believed if he had. And had you asked him for a certificate to prove his birth, he'd have thought you'd taken leave of your senses.

The point of this is that the average American today has a good many important papers to keep track of. There are birth certificates, receipts, copies of tax returns, sales contracts, and a host of other papers. With a little tidy record-keeping, you can make life easier for yourself and your family when you are gone.

Here are some suggestions:

1. Get a heavily bound notebook folder or file folder as a central collecting point for all the records of your affairs.
2. Put your especially important papers in your safe deposit box, but make a list of those papers and a brief summary of their contents to put in your home file.
3. Get for your files copies of birth certificates for all members of the family, and add them to the file. Add your marriage license or at least a statement as to when and where you were married and by whom.
4. Insert your will or a copy of it. If your will is kept elsewhere, include a note telling where it may be found.
5. During the year, put into the file your income tax withholding statements and receipts for expenditures which may be deductible. Then keep a copy of each year's tax return in the file.
6. Make a list of all the stocks and bonds you own and where they are.
7. List all the places you have lived and worked and the names of persons there who you know. Include the schools you have attended and the dates you left or were graduated.

8. If you may have benefits coming under a profit-sharing plan where you work, make a note of that too.

9. If you're in doubt about whether an item should be included, put it in.

This takes time initially, but it will save you both time and worry in the long run.

LIVESTOCK INVENTORY SHOWS TEXAS' IMPROVED POSITION

FORT WORTH — Livestock numbers reported by the USDA in the annual inventory released at Fort Worth this week reveal the upswing in numbers of sheep and goats, and stable numbers of cattle, in Texas reflect the improved pasture situation.

The estimate reveals that on January 1, 1958, Texas had about the same number of cattle as a year ago, the numbers of stock sheep were up five percent to a total of 4,700,000 head. Texas' goat population was up two percent with an estimated figure of 2,864,000 head.

For the nation the cattle population was believed to be 93,967,000, which was about one percent below the 94,502,000 a year earlier. Milk cows, two years old or older, totaled 22,357,000, a gain of 22,916,000 a year earlier.

Hog numbers were estimated at 51,559,000 practically unchanged from a year ago when 51,703,000 were on farms. All sheep were estimated at 51,559,000, up two percent from a year ago. Stock sheep were estimated at 27,390,000, up three percent from a year ago.

Horses and mules declined 5 and 6 percent respectively, with a total of 3,348,000 on farms January 1, 1958.

CATTLE AND CALVES OPEN MOSTLY STEADY

Supplies of cattle and calves were of moderate proportions at Fort Worth and all around the major market circle Monday. Trade at Fort Worth was fully steady to strong on fed cattle, bulls and high grade slaughter calves and stockers. Plainer stocker, and medium and lower grade calves and cows showed some weakness before the session was completed.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $24 to $27, and common and medium offerings cleared at $16 to $24. Fat cows brought $16.50 to $18.50, and canners and cutters drew $11 to $17. Bulls sold mostly from $14 to $19, a few tippy individuals to $19.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves at $24 to $27, and common and medium offerings cashed at $17 to $23. Cull sorts cashed at $14 to $17. Medium and good stocker steer calves sold from $22 to $27.50, with few choice to $28. Heifer calves ranged from $25.75 downward. Stocker steer yearlings of medium and good quality sold from $20 to $25.50, and some choice 578-pound dehorned yearling steers in a load lot cashed at $27.

HOGS AT BEST LEVEL SINCE LAST SEPTEMBER

Hogs were steady to 50 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday and sows were steady to 25 cents higher. Choice butcher hogs topped at $21.50 to $22, and equalled the best prices achieved last week. The $22 top equalled the best prices here since last September. Medium and good hogs sold from $18 to $21. Sows sold from $17.50 to $18.25, with virtually all weights of sows getting $17.50 to $18 as the sausage makers sought supplies.

HEAVY LAMBS AND YEARLINGS WEAKEN, SOME OFF $1.00

Sheep and lambs were in the largest supply in some months at Fort Worth Monday and packers were burdened with heavy supplies of directs, and prices turned downward. Prices ranged from barely steady to as much as $1 lower, with heavy lambs and yearlings scaling above 100 pounds under the most severe pressure. Half-fat and rough quality offerings shared the long end of the drop along with the heavyweights. Small numbers of good feeders was the principal factor in relatively quiet trade on those types.

Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $21 to $23.50, the higher figure on lambs with No. 1 or fall shorn pelts. A few choice milk lambs cashed at $24. A few woolled old crop lambs sold around $22.50 down. Yearling muttons weighing 110 pounds and with No. 1 pelts sold for $20.50. A few aged slaughter ewes sold from $9 to $10. Slaughter goats cashed at $7 to $7.50. A few small lots of medium to fairly good feeder lambs cashed at $19 to $21.50.

EARLY MARKETING WILL HELP ON HEAVY LAMBS

Market observers at Fort Worth considered the setback in price in heavyweight lambs and yearlings in the Monday trade a forerunner of things to come as the season advances. Topping out the heavier lambs and marketing them now will probably be profitable, since ordinarily lambs which weigh above 105 pounds are discounted considerably under the more desirable weights of 85 to 100 pounds of yearling lambs.

Easter is early, April 6 this year, and old crop lambs in many cases were fairly heavy before going into pastures and fields. Some of these are already appearing that weigh over 130 pounds, which packers say is far too heavy to bring top carcass prices.

Farm and ranch safety, according to the Texas Safety Association, is the difference between weeping and reaping. Cultivate Safety and you can harvest profits and happiness.

out of production for several years, will be stocked with brood fish.

The heated brood pond at San Marcos also is in operation. Other hatcheries will be stocked as quickly as weather conditions will permit.

The San Angelo hatchery will be in complete operation again this year, renovated and enlarged. Plans now are being drawn for extensive improvement of the Dundee hatchery near Wichita Falls.

At Huntsville, where water for the hatchery is obtained from a nearby creek, drag lines are now busy opening up the creek. It had silted badly during last year's heavy rains.

The hatcheries at Tyler, Jasper, and Eagle Mountain also will be thrown into heavy production.

Last year it was estimated Texas fish hatcheries produced some 14 million fish for lakes and streams in the state.

The demand is expected to be much heavier this year because of the number of small lakes and ranch tanks which were filled by rains in recent months.

Fish from these hatcheries can be obtained by the landowner by writing to the Game and Fish Commission in Austin. Application blanks then will be provided. Black bass, bream, and catfish are produced in the Texas hatcheries.

Miss Judith Shropshire And Jack M. Hardison Marry On Saturday At Llano

Miss Judith Shropshire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Shropshire of Munday, and Jack Morton Hardison, Jr., were married in a double ring ceremony at the First Methodist Church in Llano at 8 p. m. Saturday, February 15. Rev. M. D. Lowry, pastor, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of French hand-clipped lace and tulle over satin. The moulded bodice was topped by a Victorian neckline outlined by iridescent sequins. Long sleeves tapered to points below her wrists. The bouffant skirt of lace panels over tulle fell into a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was attached to a tiara encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid fashioned atop a white Bible, given her by the groom.

Mrs. C. S. Ligon, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Her gown of pale blue brocade faille was fashioned with a cape collar, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She wore a crown of blue horsehair and carried a blue brocade muff decorated with flowers.

John J. Lamdon of Llano served as best man.

Mrs. L. H. Shropshire, mother of the bride, wore a dress of red lace over taffeta fashioned in a princess line with a "V" neckline. Red and white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias completed her costume.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. J. M. Hardison, Sr., wore a dress of blue lace over taffeta fashioned in princess line with a stand-away collar. She wore a corsage of white gardenias and her accessories were white.

Richard A. Shropshire, brother of the bride, sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Orville Buttery was at the organ.

Ushers were David Hardison, brother of the groom, Loman D. Millo and Jimmy Watkins.

The reception was held in the church parlors with about 200 guests present. Misses Marge Collins, Patricia Hudson, Francine Johnson and Johnny Beth Nossis and Mmes. John Lamdon, Jim Stumfall, Thomas Gould, Ester Dauchan and Clarence Reith were in the house party.

The bride graduated from Llano High School in June, 1957. She attended Tarleton State College in Stephenville the past semester.

Mr. Hardison graduated from Llano High School in 1953, and attended the University of Texas in 1953-54. He is now employed with the Texas Highway Department in Llano.

The bride and groom spent their honeymoon on the Texas coast, and are now living in Llano.

The bride was honored with two pre-nuptial showers, one given at Tarleton State College by friends in her college dormitory, and the other at the Culture Club in Llano given by Miss Ester Dunchau and Mmes. Jim Stumfall, Thomas Gould, Odie Almsworth, Clarence Reith and F. G. Davis.

The couple was feted with a rehearsal supper at the Culture Club, given by the groom's parents. Members of the house and wedding parties attended.

Air Age Styling Marks New Truck

Modern sculptured styling, 50 percent more load space, and stronger construction feature the new Fleetside pickup trucks added to the Chevrolet line. The cargo area is two feet wider and slightly deeper than conventional models. Running boards and fenders are absorbed into the body. Contoured jet-pods add sculptured style and strength to side panels.

March 1-8 Is 4-H Club Week

The nation's 4-H club members, more than 2,200,000, will observe National 4-H Club Week from March 1 to 8. They will not only salute their parents but all parents and will recognize the important part that parents play in guiding and influencing youth.

The 111,535 Texas 4-H club members were recognized by Governor Price Daniel in his greeting to them when he said, "As 4-H members you have contributed much to the material wealth of Texas and the Nation in raising the quality of agricultural production, but you yourselves are our richest resource. May you continue to build yourselves, your homes and communities during the coming year, and thus help build a greater America." The Governor also saluted the parents, adult leaders and friends of 4-H for the contributions they have made to the 4-H program in Texas.

The Texas 4-H members last year completed more than 154,000 demonstrations involving practically every phase of farming, ranching and homemaking. They are members of 4,027 local 4-H clubs and received assistance from 10,958 local adult leaders, and 3,210 junior leaders. Local county extension agents provide the leadership for 4-H club programs in the counties.

Members of 4-H clubs individually and as a group, participate in community service activities. Any boy or girl between the ages of 9-21 years of age may become a member by agreeing to follow 4-H ideals and standards. The chief requirement is a willingness to "learn to do by doing," which is the club slogan, and "to make the best better", which is the club motto. Character development and good citizenship are long-time goals.

Observances of the special week are being planned in most counties in Texas. The general public is invited to participate in the local observances and to learn more about this great rural youth organization which over the past half century has helped 20,000,000 youth develop into useful citizens.

We wish to thank everyone for the cards, flowers, calls and visits while Walter was ill. He is better now.

CANDIDATE — J. Edwin Smith, one of Houston's most prominent and active trial and appellate lawyers, today announced his candidacy for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas. He will seek the position being vacated by Associate Justice W. St. John Garwood, who has announced his retirement at the end of his present term.

Grasshoppers May Cause Some Trouble Later In This Year

Cooperative grasshopper adult surveys made during the late summer and fall of 1957 revealed that the Panhandle and upper South Plains counties may undergo widespread and damaging infestations of grasshoppers this spring.

The survey reveals where and how many grasshoppers infest an area, and indicate the potential severity of infestations for 1958, according to F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist. Surveys next spring for newly hatched grasshoppers will provide a final index of populations and identify areas where control will be necessary to prevent severe losses during the 1958 growing season.

Fuller says the survey showed infestations in 5,972,000 acres of Texas. This is more than last year when approximately five million acres were infested with the pests. Control was administered to about 50,000 acres in the Panhandle.

He points out that predators and grasshopper parasites and weather conditions can have a pronounced effect on the infestations. Cool, wet weather with heavy rains during the hatching season can greatly reduce hopper population.

Fuller points out that six or seven grasshoppers per square yard in a pasture can consume grass at about the same rate as a cow. The fall survey showed that many acres in Texas in the regions mentioned have potential populations of 28 or more per yard.

So, farmers and ranchers should be prepared to act promptly if spring surveys show that damaging numbers of hoppers are hatching, advises the entomologist. The savings in grass could amount to much more than the cost of control.

Alfred Guinn of Wichita Falls was a week end guest of his mother, Mrs. Bess Guinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hollar and Randy were visitors in Wichita Falls last Tuesday.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

Crisp lettuce salads add interest, color and food value to winter meals. But crispness is important. Too often are lettuce salads wet and soggy with dressing diluted with water.

In selecting a head of lettuce, look for one that is fairly firm, crisp and with some green outer leaves. A large very solid head is usually overmature and may have a center that resembles a head of cabbage and has a bitter taste.

To store lettuce, do not soak it nor remove the core. Just rinse the head under running water, drain it and store in a covered container in the refrigerator. Rather than a covered container, wrap the lettuce in plastic film, waxed paper or aluminum foil or place it in a plastic bag.

Allowing plenty of time for draining before using, for lettuce cups remove the lettuce core, hold the cored side up under running water and leaves will loosen. Slip leaves off and drain well before using. For wedges, remove the lettuce core, wash the head, drain well and cut into quarters. Poorly drained lettuce is the cause of wet soggy salads and diluted dressings.

Proper washing, draining and chilling of lettuce gives it appetizing crispness. Cutting it with a knife for tossed salads will bruise the tender leaves and destroy much of this crispness, so tear or break lettuce into bite-sized pieces.

Too much dressing makes salad soggy and hides the flavor of the lettuce. Add just enough, a little at a time if necessary, to coat each piece of lettuce or other ingredients, with none left standing in the bottom of the bowl. Use a gentle hand when mixing in the dressing, tossing the salad lightly with two forks or a fork and a spoon. A heavy hand or overmixing will make a limp bruised salad.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Western Salad: Into a salad bowl tear or break half a head of lettuce in bite-sized pieces. Add 2 peeled and quarter medium-sized tomatoes, segments of 1 grapefruit, 1 peeled and cubed avocado. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons finely minced green onions, part tops, and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Toss lightly with 1/3 cup French dressing. Makes 4 servings.

For the first time in several years, most areas of the state have adequate subsoil moisture. The crop potential for 1958 is good, but Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist, points out that plant nutrients instead of moisture could be the limiting production factor this year. He strongly advises the use of soil tests for determining what kinds and how much plant food should be added for maximum yields.

BOYCE HOUSE

Had lunch recently with the man who made Sam Bass famous.

Bass has always been famous in Texas but not until Wayne Gard wrote the outlaw's life back in the 1930's did the "Robin Hood of Texas" become nationally known. Since then, Bass has been the subject of a dozen motion pictures.

Gard's next book — (it will be out in the Spring) — is the biography of a horse: Steeldust, the old-time racer that has become almost a legend.

"Cap" Curry of Fort Worth who lived in Breckenridge during the oil boom and afterward, recalls a wagon going through the streets with a sign reading: "Water or oil, $1 a barrel; take your choice."

There was a rock-and-roll song which, when it came out, I thought had reached the absolute limit in simplicity of words. It went like this:

"Jim Dandy to the rescue" (Thump-de-thump by the drum)

"Jim Dandy to the rescue" (Thump-de-thump)

But one has come along since then that makes Jim Dandy's words complicated. The words of this later song are just two and they are as follows, to-wit:

"He's mine."

"This is said over and over with now and then, 'Yes,' thrown in for good measure."

I am planning to write a song of only one word — a one-syllable word and then sit back and watch the royalties from the juke box records roll in — you might say, rock-and-roll in.

A young newspaperman was going to go from Fort Worth to San Angelo and decided to see something of the country by going by way of Amarillo. At Wichita Falls, he went by the newspaper office on the chance that he might earn a little travel money by a few days' work and found that the owner had been trying to call him by long distance in Fort Worth to offer him a job.

He accepted the job — temporarily; and remained with the paper the rest of his life, which spanned many years. He was B. D. Donnell, who was editor for a long time. He was one of the most gentlemanly men it has been my privilege to know.

TOP ROW — Of these future Americans all belong to the same family. They are: Darlene, James and Roger, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meeck. In second row are Gayle Tankersly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tankersley, and Glen and Roy Herring, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Herring.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Roth, M. D., State Health Officer

Progress in medicine and public health are difficult to measure.

As each succeeding generation grows it falls into its own pattern of development, forgetting all too easily that only a few years earlier many of the conveniences of "modern" living — particularly of good health — simply did not exist.

How many of us recall the scourges that swept over whole communities in the form of smallpox, malaria, typhoid, and other diseases of which we are only vaguely aware today?

In fact, the only information most of us have of these diseases is gained from reading of epidemics in foreign lands, of tasting the protective chlorine in our water, and of the small scar left by a long past vaccination.

Even today we modernists are witnessing the decline and fall of still another ominous disease foe — paralytic polio. Since the advent of Salk vaccine, the drop in incidence has been so dramatic that the odds are good that tomorrow's children will be as safe from paralytic polio as our children are from smallpox.

Our ability to control infectious disease has been attained in a period of history marked by wide and intensive scientific and technical progress, accompanied by profound social change.

New stresses have been created that lead sometimes suddenly and at other times slowly to disease and premature death unless there is someone to stand guard.

As an example, the chemical stresses to which we are exposed are legion, and are mounting rapidly. Thousands of industrial plants discharge chemical wastes into rivers and streams that provide our drinking water. Many chemicals that have not been adequately tested for their effect on man are added to food in order to preserve, color, and flavor it.

A recent Railroad Commission survey shows that well over five million barrels of salt water are produced each day in Texas oil drilling operations. Some of that amount finds its way into river systems and underground water supplies, altering the chemical quality of the water.

More than a thousand million pounds of chemical insecticides are used annually throughout the world in the cultivation of fruits and vegetables. Some three million pounds of gases are discharged into the air of a single large American city each day by motor vehicles and industry.

These are the new stresses with which we must now contend. Solutions will come slowly and with difficulty. But they will come.

With continued large consumer incomes and about a five percent reduction in per capita egg supplies, egg prices to farmers in 1958 are likely to increase and the rise will be most pronounced during the first eight months of the year, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist.

Efficient irrigation systems just don't happen, says R. V. Thumond, extension agricultural engineer. They are the result of study, planning and engineering.

Light Leads Our People

Each day a new door opens. What it reveals on the other side, for the people who must pass over its threshold, depends upon the conditions under which they lived their yesterdays.

Those in some countries look through the door upon a new day shadowed with oppressions, where there are few freedoms, tyrannies abound and living is hard and cold.

Those of us in America are more fortunate. Opening the door each day, we are met by the light of freedom which has led our destiny for many years. Protecting that freedom has been — and always will be — a Press that will not succumb to dictation or overpowering despotism.

For the light that leads to all freedoms is Freedom of the Press: Education . . . information of all kinds . . . news of all that transpires . . . and the open discussion of opinions and ideas that sharpens understanding.

Complete freedom of speech and of the press is the light that builds understanding, helping all mankind to advance onward and upward through the opening door of each tomorrow.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

The President recently announced a program for the modernization including replacement or rehabilitation or expansion of many post office and Federal buildings. There can be little question but what there is a great need in many areas for new postal facilities. Not since 1938 have substantial public work funds been appropriated for new Federal buildings and post office buildings. During this period of twenty years our population has increased by forty million, and the volume of mail handled in our post offices has increased by 135%. During this period also many communities have completely outgrown their present buildings, and it is not uncommon in some cities for people not even to be able to secure a mail box. As I see it, there are, however, two serious defects in this program. One is that any new buildings would be built in the areas where unemployment was most acute. Even though it would relieve the unemployment situation, it is probable that many of the cities and towns that need new postal facilities most would not be able to get them. Also, the program would be financed under a means similar to the present lease-purchase program which has not been successful, and over a period of time would materially increase the cost of the buildings. The Administration's proposal is now being considered by Committees both in the House and the Senate, but it is too early to tell what action Congress will take. As we have pointed out heretofore, there can be little question but what one of the real contributing factors to our present depressed economic situation is our high rate of Federal taxation. Reasonable and responsible tax reduction that would restore some of the incentives to business and provide relief for individuals would be a real stimulant to our economy. It would not necessarily mean that the revenues of the Federal Government would be greatly reduced. On Monday, February 17th, the Committee on Ways and Means began hearings on legislation that would extend the Trade Agreements Act. During these hearings we will deal with the oil imports question which is so depressing to the whole economy of Texas. I am hopeful that we can work out a reasonable plan to regulate and control imports. Mrs. A. C. Thomson, formerly of Wichita Falls, was a visitor this week.

shows how effective this joint effort has been. During the 12-year period, the average lint yield per harvested acre in Texas has climbed from 134 pounds in 1946 to 291 pounds for 1957. The 1957 figure has been exceeded only once, the records show, and that was an estimated 325 pounds an acre for 1866. Last year, Elliott reports that county agents in 193 Texas counties assisted producers with various phases of the 7-Step Program. Involved in the total program were 5.8 million of the 5.9 million acres harvested in Texas last year. Spreading burs on the land for soil improvement and to reduce gird fire hazards was stressed and 10,250 farms in 125 counties were treated. Cotton followed phosphated legumes on approximately 29,000 farms in 153 counties; barnyard manure was used on more than 8,000 farms to increase yields; and defoliants or desiccants were used on more than 21,000 farms in 104 counties as an aid to mechanical harvesting. Too, 1,587 spindle pickers were used in 57 counties and 23,132 stripper harvesters in 123 counties to harvest an estimated 1,200,000 bales of cotton at a saving of $30,000,000 in labor. Mechanical and chemical weed control practices cut the farmers' hoe bill by an estimated $15,000,000. Elliott says producers in 150 counties used 44,978 rotary hoe equipped tractors; that 87,954 acres in 143 counties were spot oiled for Johnsongrass control and that 13,346 acres in 41 counties were laterally oiled with post-emergence chemicals. Elliott gives full credit to the 7-Step Committees for the achievements and predicts the progress will continue.

Losing Money By Delaying Claim To Social Security

Some of the 50 to 65 year old disabled people in this area are losing money by delaying their claims for their social security disability payments according to Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls social security office. Mr. Tate pointed out that the law requires a 6-month waiting period before benefits can begin, but that eligible people who have already been disabled that long can get payments beginning with the month in which they apply. Benefits are not payable for any month before the actual month of application. If they delay beyond that time, they may lose one or more monthly checks.

In explaining who can qualify for the payments, Tate said that the disabled person must be between 50 and 65 years of age, must have had a prescribed period of coverage under social security, and must be unable because of disability to do any substantial gainful work. Anyone who had social security credits for 5 out of the 10 years before he became disabled, including 1 1/2 years out of the last three of those years, meets the work requirement, he pointed out. Those who think they meet this requirement and who have been severely disabled for as much as 6 months should get in touch with us promptly. All necessary forms and assistance for claiming the benefits can also be had by seeing the representative who is in Munday at the City Hall on Wed., March 12th. Anyone who is unable to get in touch with the office or representative personally may have a relative or friend apply on his behalf.

7-Step Cotton Program Is Aid To Improvement

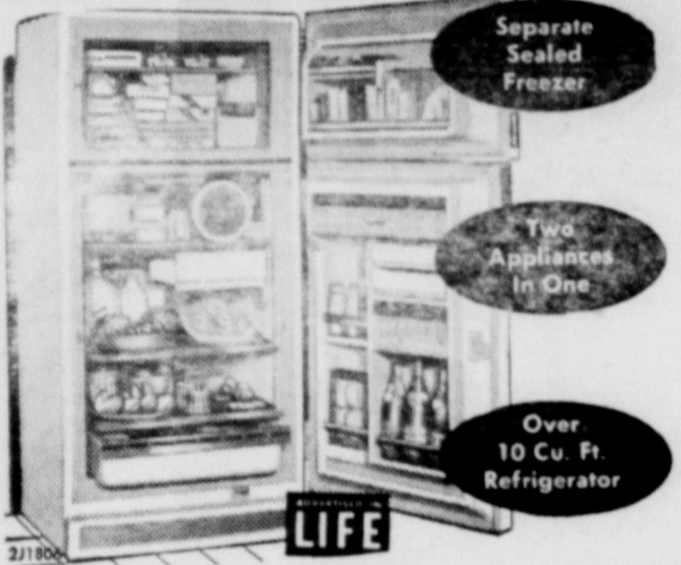

Twelve years ago a program was initiated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service that has through the years grown in scope and importance to the cotton industry of the State. It was known as the 7-Step Cotton Program and was an effort to bring together on the county and state basis committees representing every segment of the cotton industry to work for the betterment of their industry. Knox Prairie Philosopher Advises Boys At Washington That Feelings Are No Indication For An Economic Upswing

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek reviews the economic situation this week, without any noticeable change in it.

J. A.

I don't know anything about the economic situation. I know when hard times are here and when they've left, but me and the economic experts have never been able to figure out exactly when they're coming or when they're fixing to leave, at least not to the point where we could make any money with our inside dope, so all this talk about a "re-adjustment" or a "minor recession" leaves me on the outside.

However, there is pretty general admission at the top level in Washington that a mild recession has hit the country, in some spots at least, although I've seen times so hard a mild recession like this one would look like a prosperity boom, but what has me puzzled is a statement I read in a copy of a frozen newspaper a north wind blew in during the cold spell last week and which I read just before I started a fire with it.

According to it, "the feeling of the administration is that business will pick up in the mid-year period and be booming again."

before the end of the year." Now I'll tell you, maybe Washington can depend on its feelings to tell how the year is going to turn out, but the system won't work on this farm out here on the creek.

I've never started a crop year yet that I didn't feel that this year I'm really going to make something, but after years of experience I've found that a man's feelings in January and February are mighty sorry barometers about what's going to take place at selling time later on in the year.

Understand, there's nothing wrong with these first-of-the-year feelings, they're necessary if a farmer is ever going to get any planting done, but they don't have any more bearing on the outcome than wishing for rain if it's dry or for dry weather if it's raining. What I mean is, how a man feels about his crop prospects before he gets his seed in the ground has mighty little loan value at the bank.

I'm like Washington, if we have got a mild recession, I feel like it'll end by mid-year, but it's pretty hard to feel your way into better times or into outer space or a good crop year. Sometimes you can't even work your way into it, although this is hearsay with me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
