Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Believe it or not, spring is here. The lovely season in which the birds sing and the flowers bloom arrived officially, we believe, at 9:06 p. m. last Thursday, but we haven't heard much of a chorus from the birds and the blossoms are still pretty rare. The weather seems somewhat reluctant to cooperate with the season.

Blossoming somewhat profusely, however, were those things on our lawn which we call wild verbenas. Those and the wild rye (or rescue grass, which some prefer to call it) just about had things in charge at our place, as well as over most of the town.

The situation drew the attention of a local colored man, Roy Ross, who wanted a "sort of pidlin'" job to meet our means of supply bread and butter for the table. Around 20 hours, and close to $15 later, things were looking a little better.

One of our used-to-be neighbors kinda hinted around the other day, too, that it was time we had the wife's hoe all sharpened up!

And with the coming of spring also comes gardening time. Heard someone lamenting the fact that they don't have their onions out, yet. Considering what that "fruit" does to us, the entire neighborhood might as well dispense with planting, so far as we are concerned. A lot of onions were shipped out of Munday last year, so there's lots of people who don't have the disagreeable effects of eating them that we do.

We have commented at times about the down-to-earth philosophy of "The Country Parson," a cartoon that's featured in some of the daily papers. We expressed the belief one time that the one who "authored" those sayings had at some time or other worn the parson's shoes.

One of his sayings which particularly impressed us the other day was: "In life, as in fishing, the real joy is in trying and anticipation — and they are reward enough if you never land a big one." Which sort of caused us to wonder if the old boy hadn't had some experience outside the pulpit, too.

Big question of the day: Who is it who has U. S. Army dog tag No. 53310761? Just to give you a little hint, we imagine the young feller is "All Shook Up."

Conversation around the square this week usually gets around to: "Are you going to the banquet?" meaning, of course, the Chamber of Commerce banquet on Friday night. Tickets may be had from any of the directors, and they're going rather briskly, too.

We learned a few days ago that the speaker, Joe A. Clarke is not a total stranger to us, and that his wife knows some of the ins and outs of the newspaper game. We met them a few years ago at Colorado City when the West Texas Press Association was observing its 25th anniversary and was honoring past presidents of the organization. Mrs. Clarke is the former Mary Whatley Dunbar, past president of the association and former publisher of the Palo Pinto Star, and they were really enjoying meeting old newspaper friends.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

With the reduction of total cotton production caused by soil bank participation, it becomes increasingly more important that cotton farmers produce a quality product that can compete with the synthetic fibres.

The combination of reduced production and bad weather during 1957 caused a marked reduction in overall quality of cotton throughout the cotton belt. This, in turn, has increased the market for synthetic fibres and restricted the outlet for cotton.

In selecting a variety of cotton, particular attention should be given the method of harvest to be used. If mechanical strippers are to be used, Western Storm-proof, Lockett 88, or Blightmaster should be planted. If hand pulling or picking is planned, Lankart, Paymaster, Northern Star, Deltapine or Acala types should be planted. If mechanical pickers are to be used, Acala 1517C has shown the greatest promise in this particular area.

Under irrigation, planting rates become more important from the standpoint of stalk size. Much of the undesirable, spreading, large stalk size can be eliminated by increasing the planting rate to obtain 4 plants per foot of row. This will normally require from 20 to 24 lbs. of de-limited seed per acre.

Fertilization according to soil tests is absolutely necessary for maximum efficiency of producing cotton under irrigation. Improper or inadequate fertilization can reduce the quality of cotton fully as much as bad weather at harvest time.

New Dial Phone System Opens At Weinert Wed.

Weinert became the latest area town to receive new dial telephone service, when the General Telephone Co. opened this service Wednesday morning. Service was cut in at 8:45 a. m., with W. B. Guess of Weinert making the first call.

This new system includes a modern new building, new equipment, etc., installed at a cost of approximately $50,000, according to District Manager Robinett of Seymour.

Weinert has a total of 62 subscribers, and Mr. Robinett stated an unusual incident was that 92 percent of the subscribers took the new colored phones. This is the highest percentage in the company's 624 exchanges, Robinett said.

Haskell is the master office serving Weinert. When new directories are printed Weinert will have the prefix, OR3, followed by four digits.

"FREE MEDICINE CAN MAKE YOU SICK"

Efforts to inject government into medicine on an all-inclusive scale continue. It is argued that this is the only way that the best and most extensive medical care can be provided for all the people.

Many people sincerely believe this. But all the evidence indicates that their faith is misplaced—as Dr. Charles G. Jones, a Pennsylvania surgeon, points out in an article appearing in the February issue of The Freeman.

Dr. Jones' compelling article has a vivid and dramatic title — "Free Medicine Can Make You Sick." He bases it on the experience in England, where "free" socialized medicine has been in effect for some years. The cost to the British taxpayer has been enormous. Still more important has been the cost in terms of the public health.

Dr. Jones says this: "The deleterious effects of the system are to be noted everywhere. There are so many free dental patients that dentists no longer have time for their customary work with school children . . . Waiting lists for admission to hospitals become staggering. The increased volume of patients invites second-rate care for many instead of first-rate care for the truly ill. The burdensome cost of caring for those who are ill, plus those who pretend, leaves no funds for research or preventive medicine."

Compulsory government health insurance, which is and has been advocated in this country, would produce identical results. There is small doubt that it would ultimately end in socialization, on something resembling the British pattern. We'd pay an exorbitant price for it — in money, and in inferior medical service.

VIRTUES THAT MADE AMERICA

The nation is observing the 100th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt.

Some thing he wrote has not lost significance with the passage of the years: "Americanism means the virtues of courage, honor, justice, truth, sincerity and hardihood — the virtues that made America. The things that will destroy America are prosperity-at-any-price, peace-at-any-price, safety-first instead of duty-first, the love of soft living and the get-rich-quick theory of life."

AZTEC, N.M., INDEPENDENT-REVIEW: "As an old timer we can remember when the only time we had for coffee was about an hour before daybreak and two hours after sundown."

ATOMIC MILESTONE

A leading California electric utility company has announced plans to construct a new atomic electric power plant. Its boiling water reactor is expected to produce some 60,000 kilowatts of electric power. Application has been made to the Atomic Energy Commission for the necessary permits and licenses. If the AEC gives the go-ahead, it is expected that the project will be completed not later than the middle of 1962.

Two significant aspects of this proposed project were emphasized by the president of the company, in a telegram to the AEC. He said it was believed that this atomic power plant would achieve competitively-priced power from its uranium fuel. Secondly, he pointed out that "no (government) financial assistance to us is involved in these contracts . . . No assistance from AEC for research and development is contemplated."

This is a milestone in the practical development of atomic-electric power generation. It shows the good sense in a plan which has allowed and encouraged private experiment with many different types of reactors in order that better design and more efficient methods could be developed. Secondly, it proves the desire and ability of the private electric industry to go ahead with the dramatic atom-for-peace program just as rapidly as possible.

ABOUT A DISHPAN

The following editorial is from the Cleveland, Ohio, Plain Dealer:

"Get a load of this, folks. The government has got out a pamphlet on 'Tools for Food Preparation and Dishwashing'. And it contains some information we'll bet you never thought of such as 'Dishpans should be large enough to hold the dishes but not too large for the sink.

"Well, what do you know? For years we had a dishpan that wouldn't hold the dinner plates and when we got a new one it was too big to fit in the sink. Now thanks to this advice from Washington, we'll go right out and buy an in-between-size dishpan and see how that works. We never would have solved the problem ourselves. And when it comes time to pay our income tax next year we'll be especially grateful to the bureaucrat who thought this up."

Some American steamship companies are working toward construction of nuclear-powered merchant ships within five years.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

French toast is a thrifty tasty dish. Combining bread and eggs, it makes a real breakfast treat and an always popular one. Basically a dish made by dipping white bread into an egg and milk mixture, it is equally good when made from whole wheat bread or English muffins. In fact, almost any sliced bread lends itself to French toast.

Use 2 slightly beaten eggs mixed with 2/3 cup milk for basic French toast. This makes enough for 8 slices of bread. Just dip the bread in the egg-milk mixture, turning it to coat each side evenly, then bake on a lightly greased moderately hot griddle or in a skillet.

Vary basic French toast by sprinkling the browned side with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar when the bread is turned for browning the second side. 1 teaspoon of cinnamon mixed with 3 tablespoons sugar will sprinkle 8 slices of bread.

French toast and maple syrup go together hand and glove but other toppings pair well, too. Honey, marmalade, jam and jelly of any flavor are good. For a really different flavor, use whole or jellied cranberry sauce for a topping. Beautiful to see and delicious in flavor.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Cheese English Muffin French Toast: Combine 2 beaten eggs, 2/3 cup milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon sugar in a shallow dish. Split 6 English muffins. Dip muffin halves into egg mixture, turning to coat both sides. Brown muffins on one side in small amount of hot shortening in a skillet about 1/4 cup. Turn, sprinkle browned side with grated American cheese. Continue cooking until second side is browned and cheese is melted. About 1/4 cup grated cheese will be enough for 6 muffins. Serve immediately with syrup, citrus marmalade or cranberry sauce.

Miss Mary Ellen Lain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lain, 5032 Catalpa, Fort Worth, and Walter K. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Warren, were married at 8 p. m. Saturday, March 15, in Victory Assembly of God Church in Fort Worth. Rev. T. F. Shultz officiated.

Miss Patsy King was her cousin's maid of honor, and Miss Linda Gayle King, another cousin, was bridesmaid. They wore full-length princess dresses of pink taffeta and pink feather hats. Billie Jo and Beverly Kathleen Lain, nieces of the bride, were flower girls, and Donnie Wayne King, the bride's cousin, was ring bearer.

The table was laid with a white embroidered organza cloth over pink taffeta, where pink punch and a large wedding cake were served by Mrs. Bill King and Mrs. J. B. Graham. Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holt, M. D., State Health Officer

AUSTIN — With proper care and prompt treatment from your physician, those unsightly varicose veins, the scourge of pretty legs, can be normal again.

Physicians report that they often have women patients who complain about varicose veins. Some of them admit to the doctor that they are embarrassed because the unsightly blotches on their legs are so noticeable through their nylon hose.

Mental health as well as physical health is involved. Such seemingly unimportant troubles can upset an individual until he or she thinks up excuses to keep from going to a neighborhood swimming party, where the varicose veins would be on display.

Varicose veins are caused by certain disturbances in the normal make-up of the individual. They can be treated. Continued trouble in the veins may lead to noticeable symptoms, such as pains in the legs. Swelling may occur because the skin is no longer properly nourished by the blood.

Continued malnourishment in the skin can lead to an ulcer. A danger signal for this complication is a brownish patch on the leg where one finds the varicose veins.

What can you do about varicose veins? Your first move is to go to your physician. He will want to make sure that there is no underlying disturbance present, before he can start measures for treatment of the varicose condition.

Treatment will be given to try to remove the difficulties which cause the bulging veins. There is no method for restoring the already troubled veins to normal; however, they can be obliterated so that the woman may again wear nylon hose and the man may appear in a swim suit without embarrassment.

There are several methods of treatment available and commonly employed by the physician.

Some of these are: injections of certain drugs which cause a diminishing of the bulging veins and occasional operations which tie off a portion of the affected vein.

Another popular remedy is the bandaging of the leg with an elastic bandage to prevent some of the swelling and help overcome the back pressure and pooling of blood.

So if you are not getting justice from the new super-sheer hose styles or are dreading the forthcoming summer for fear of showing your legs — see your physician. Frequently, he can do something about it.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

The recent rise in the cost of living has again directed attention as to what portion of retail food prices reflects the price that the farmer gets for his products. The last Report that has been issued on the spread between farm and retail prices points out that in 1948 when wheat was selling for $2.81 a bushel, the average price of a loaf of bread was 13.8 cents. Several years later when the average farm price of wheat had dropped to $2.14, the price of bread had increased to 17.5 cents. The Report also shows that a Twenty-two Cent box of corn flakes contains only Three Cents worth of corn and that the average city family in the late Forties spent $261. annually for meat products of which amount the farmer received $176. By the mid-Fifties, this same family was spending $263. for the same amount of meat, but the farmer was only getting $164.

Also, it is pointed out that a Four Dollar cotton shirt contains about Thirty Cents worth of cotton. All of this adds up to the fact that farm prices do not affect the end retail price of a commodity as much as we are sometimes led to believe that it does and that every time we buy a loaf of bread or a steak or shirt, much of the cost that we pay for it represents processing and labor costs, and in the case of many commodities, the actual price to the farmer for the raw product does not actually influence the retail price much one way or the other. For instance, a peanut candy bar contains only about One-half Cents worth of peanuts, and if the peanuts were provided free, chances are the price of the candy would not change one bit.

This week Governor Price Daniel of Texas and Governor Gary of Oklahoma testified before the Committee on Ways and Means on the devastating effect that oil imports are having on the economies of both Texas and Oklahoma. Both of these Governors made excellent statements. It will probably be late in April before the Committee finishes its consideration of the reciprocal trade program and the matter comes before the Congress.

Nature protects our body by enclosing most of it in our skin. As long as the skin is unbroken, infectious germs are kept out. Therefore, it is not wise to neglect any scratch, cuts, or skin abrasions which open the door to great mischief. Apply first aid as soon as possible.

Happy Birthday Mary!

Who gave her the party?

Her parents, of course. And they had the help of hundreds of other people — men and women that Mary's parents don't even know.

These people helped Mother bake the cake and cook the party food. They helped freeze the ice cream, sew Mary's dress, and wash and iron it. They helped heat, light and clean the house for the party.

These busy people are the men and women who supply electric service for Mary's house. It's hard to imagine life without the electricity they provide — for everyone depends on electricity for dozens of jobs all over the house.

If you stop to count all the ways you put electricity to work, you'll be surprised. Can you think of anything else that gives so much value, day in and day out, for so little cost?

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ray of Colony, Okla., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ruby Laverne, above, to Leborn Ray Fields, son of Mrs. Dessie Fields of Munday.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Burns Flat High School in Oklahoma and is now employed by Boone's Variety store in Wichita Falls. Mr. Fields is employed by Duff Construction Co. of Vernon. The couple plan to make their home in Munday.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

By this time of the year, you should have all of your W-2's from your employer or employers for 1957.

A lot of us only have the copy left because we have already filed our tax returns and are looking for our tax refund checks. Quite a few of us have already paid the additional tax that we owe and aren't going to worry about this tax business until next year, even if it is good business to keep records and read the tax instructions throughout the year before we make business and personal transactions.

In case you haven't gathered together your W-2 forms, your tax records, and started working on your tax, you better start gathering right now. The Internal Revenue Service requires all the W-2 forms. Don't forget to get all of them and send them along with your tax return so that Uncle Sam won't have to write you a nice little letter asking for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Welton Parker and son, Butch, and great grandbaby, Brenda Kay Cochran of Fort Worth visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Parker, over the week end.

Jersey Cow Ranked With Prize Sable

A registered Jersey cow in Texas is ranked with prize sable in the eyes of her owners. In fact the finest sable fur would probably be a lot cheaper to buy than this bovine.

The cow is named S. W. V. Prize Sable and she is owned by Victory Jersey Farm, Tulla, Tex. She recently won a Silver Medal and Medal of Merit from The American Jersey Cattle Club, Columbus, Ohio, for her 365-day record of 13,544 lbs. milk with 1,001 lbs. fat started at the age of 3 years and 10 months.

Sable was milked twice daily during her record which corresponded to over 6,299 quarts of the finest milk on the market. In completing such a record she lived up to the tradition of high milk production established by her family.

Her mother, Victory Lad's Sable, is internationally known in Jersey breed circles for high milk production, having made four consecutive records averaging 17,214 lbs. milk with 1,055 lbs. fat. Her sire, Sable's Welcome Victory, has also achieved considerable notoriety in transmitting high milk production to his daughters. Mr. and Mrs. J. Chester Elliff own Victory Jersey Farm.

PRICES, PROGRESS, AND PROBLEMS IN TEXAS FARMING

The "between-crops" period in farming is always a time for weighing prospects both on the farm, at the market place and in the country. Probably even more people have been set to wondering what's in store for them this year, considering unusual weather, uncertain legislation, and nervous economic conditions of which much has been said and little done. Following are a few brief sketches concerning late happenings in agriculture, dealing variously with commodities, weather, economy, and new developments in farm progress:

WET WEATHER has blessed many and burdened many others. Plains-West Texas wheat prospects look generally good, having already attained enough moisture to carry the crop well into spring. This is good news to Texas farmers if not to surplus-minded government chiefs who have been having some trouble marketing their goods abroad lately. Farther south, in the Rio Grande Valley, farmers are less happy with the weather. Onion harvesting has been seriously delayed, by as much as a month in some cases. During the delay, old-crop onion prices climbed higher in commercial trade.

THE RECESSION, along with better supply prospects, is expected to help lower beef prices somewhat from the present healthy level. Some livestock men say prices probably have reached their peak and will gradually drop by as much as 20 percent by early summer.

TEXAS POULTRY PROCESSORS are keeping an eye on the California state legislature which is considering bills to discourage imported chickens. Although California produces only a fraction of the broilers needed to satisfy the brisk local demand, home growers are fighting hard to keep out Southland competition, not a small part of which is Texas competition. A sample proposed bill would require retailed chickens to bear a "date killed" stamp, hinting that shipped-in products become stale in transit.

HYBRID COTTONS — crosses between older strains which offer higher yields and better quality — are becoming feasible on a larger scale. Researchers say spraying cotton with chemicals produces a no-pollen plant which can be then fertilized with pollen from another variety, resulting in a true hybrid. Hybrid cottons up to now have been possible only through tedious hand-pollination.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the Munday Times

PROPERTY RENDERING DEADLINES NEAR

April 1 will be the deadline for most Texans to render their property to certain taxing agencies. State laws require all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own tax deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up their own requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same time.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved — the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries their requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order, you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glass left last Thursday for Oklahoma City and other points in Oklahoma on two weeks vacation. Each of their parents live there. While away they will attend the 50th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coplin.

THESE — Two future Americans are Robert Coy Tuggle, age 4, and Alan Wayne Tuggle, 2, sons of Mrs. Bobbie Joe Tuggle of Munday. This is the final picture in the recent photo contest.

Being the editor of a small-city daily is sorta like those sidewalk cafes in Paris where, it is said, if you sit long enough, everybody you know will come by.

However, I would not take this too literally because nearly all the people I know — including me — will never get to Paris.

But, anyhow, the editor does see a parade of the notable — and perhaps the notorious go through his home town.

For example, Eastland, where I was editor in the 1920's; Barney Ross — who was lightweight champion of the world — stopped there, on a drive across the nation, to call on a physician to be treated for a severe cold.

Jack Curley, America's leading wrestling promoter at the time that Tex Rickard was the foremost boxing promoter, made a talk to the Eastland Rotary Club in 1921 or 1922.

Raymond Hitchcock, long a star comedian on Broadway, also attended a Rotary Club meeting in the 1920's. He was in Eastland with his big road show, "Hitchy Coo", which was presented that night at the Connellee Theater — (the theater was the largest at the time between Fort Worth and El Paso).

Illustrating the wide range of personages:

Jake Hamon — now one of the nation's leading oil men — visited Eastland when he was a boy.

Another visitor was Jeff Davis, "King of the hoboes", who was interviewed in the Stanley Hotel. (A newspaper dispatch recently quoted Davis, now 78.)

General Smedley Butler, who commanded the U. S. Marines, visited his brothers in Eastland as did their father who served many years in Congress from Pennsylvania. A Quaker, he was

Boy And Dog Are Winning Duo In Walt Disney's Picture "Old Yeller"

A boy and a dog make an irresistible team, and never have their adventures been more winningly filmed than in Walt Disney's "Old Yeller," which opens at the Roxy Theatre next Tuesday.

For this color by Technicolor drama about a tough, lovable range dog who helps protect a frontier homestead in Texas during the 1860's, Disney gave the title role to Spike, a 115-pound dog of mixed ancestry.

Tommy Kirk drew the pivotal role of Travis Coates, 15-year-old boy called upon to handle a man's job while his father is away on a cattle drive.

Dorothy McGuire and Fess Parker co-star in Disney's picturization of the acclaimed novel by Fred Gipson. Jeff York, Kevin Corcoran, Beverly Washburn and Chuck Connors round out the the chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee!

"Foghorn" Clancy, most famous of rodeo announcers, officiated in a rodeo at Connellee Park. In that park also, "Hap" McKeown demonstrated how he shaved himself and how he could bat a baseball — without arms.

Being the county seat, Eastland attracted nearly all the State's leading political figures. I remember hearing George E. B. Paddy, Senator Earle B. Mayfield, Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, Congressman Tom Blanton, former Congressman Oscar Calloway, Alvin Owsley (former national commander of the American Legion), Cullen Thomas, former Congressman Patrick Henry and Jim Ferguson. For "Farmer Jim" the street on the south side of the square was roped off that night and the crowd was estimated at 12,000.

Another speaker in a political campaign was the brilliant lawyer, Luther Nickles. The most eloquent of preachers was the evangelist, the Rev. Mr. Bulgin, and another powerful exhorter was the Rev. Mr. Crim, known as the "fox-hunter", who wore cowboy boots.

At the height of the Klan-and-anti-Klan fight, the Klansmen brought in Capt. Skripwith from Mer Rouge in Louisiana where two men were rumored to have disappeared. The anti-Klan side brought in a fiery speaker who had been a national prohibition administrator.

Such renowned law enforce-supporting cast. "Old Yeller," hailed as one of Walt Disney's most heartwarming productions, was directed by Robert Stevenson and is released by Buena Vista.

ment figures as Ranger Capt. Tom Hickman and "Lone Wolf" Gonsaulus also came to Eastland.

As big lawsuits and important criminal cases were tried frequently in the old red-brick courthouse, many noted lawyers from over the State appeared — Judge Ocie Speer, the Conninghams from Abilene, Senator Odell, known as the "tall pine"; Judge Hare, Dan Moody, Judge Shropshire and Preston Martin from Weatherford, V. L. Shurtleff of Breckenridge and many more.

Of an evening after supper in the lobby of the Charlotte Hotel, former Gov. O. B. Colquitt (who had oil properties in the county) would tell of political campaigns. Who meets as many celebrities as the editor of a small-town paper? The world comes to his door.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Up With Some Advice For Cities Afraid Of Getting Old-Fashioned

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has some advice for cities this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
I was out here on my farm last week watching spring arrive. I know spring will arrive whether you watch it or not, so will a flooded river rise if it keeps raining, but the same argument can be used on any night's television run, although I understand there are people who believe just the opposite, on the theory I guess the set will explode if they don't turn it on and let the programs out, and some of the programs I've seen ought to be let out, with the windows thrown open to boot; at any rate, I was out here feeling pretty confident that eventually spring will work its way around to being here without any help on my part, which is one of the things I like about the season, when I noticed a newspaper caught on a bush, and while some people claim buds busting loose on a bush is a wonderful sight, a good newspaper in the same spot is hard to beat.

FOR SALE — Mrs. F. F. Reeves house on Main Street in Munday, near school building. See L. V. Reeves, Weinert, Texas. 35-3tp

FOR RENT — Modern 3-room dwelling with garage. Ideal for young couple. See Wallace Moorhouse. 35-2tc

So I left the buds to nature and took the paper home and read it.
According to an article I read in it, a city planner was worrying over the plight of big cities, saying it's going to take a tremendous amount of work to keep them abreast of modern times. "Too many city street patterns are obsolete," he said. "Mass transportation systems are unwieldy, makeshift or patched-up water and sewer systems are prevalent," etc., and he thought something ought to be done about it.

But I'd like to suggest to him that it's surprising how long you can keep patching up things and still get by. I've got one fence that's moved 30 feet east in the last 20 years, just by fastening the wires to a different tree when the one I had them fastened to rotted and fell over. If I did everything that ought to be done on this farm out here, I estimate it'd take 15 years, and by the time I finished with the last one, the first one would be as run-down as when I started. I know a man who is doing everything he can, without letting up, night or day, to get his farm, all his fences, all his equipment, all his furniture, all his appliances, exactly like he wants them, and the way he's going I figure he'll do it, and will have possibly 2 or 3 years on the tailend of his life to enjoy them, if he's not in the hospital at the time.

I learned long ago whatever is modern today will be old-fashioned tomorrow, and if the system you've got works, let it.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.
