The political pot is as full as it's gonna get.

It may boil with a great deal of vigor as election days draw nearer, but there won't be any more candidates names in the pot for this season.

The deadline for filing for places on the ticket was Monday of last week, and this date saw quite a few rushing to beat the deadline. And, we reckon, no one wanted on the ballot who didn't get his name in the pot. At least, we haven't heard of it.

Aforesaid deadline found quite a few contested races; however, a few of the lucky candidates got by without an opponent. Some three-way races developed in the county, which could continue the interest through the August runoff primary, but most of them will be decided in the July election.

People are getting jittery now — riot electionwise, as yet — but farmers who have promise of a good wheat crop and row crops yet to plant. With almost every cloud there is some hail, with heavy hail coming in parts of West Texas, so the jitters come when a cloud comes with threat of hail on the wheat.

Farmers get cotton planted in time to catch a rain, and in most instances that means replanting. We believe it was Chas. Moorhouse who advanced the best idea about planting a crop. Since the crop has to be planted, two or three, maybe four times, each year to get a stand, he suggests that the first plantings be done without using any seed at all. That would be saving the seed, at least!

It doesn't seem long since school started, but the closing exercises are right upon us. The seniors have returned from their trip, and are getting ready for final exercises. Supt. W. C. Cox has announced the following school schedule for next week: Wednesday and Thursday, final exams; Thursday evening, eighth grade graduation at 8 p. m.; Friday, teachers will grade papers and no students will be in attendance on this date; Friday night, commencement exercises for seniors, 8 p. m.; Saturday, beginning at 9 a. m., students will turn in books and receive report cards.

A group of public meetings, brochures and other media of bringing information regarding the Miller Creek reservoir project are being planned for the next several weeks, before the confirmation election on June 10. Every person should avail himself of all the information possible before deciding on this project.

If one town fails to approve confirmation, it has been pointed out, that town is automatically out of the project. Each town will have two opportunities to withdraw at later dates — when they vote on a water purchase contract and on a bond issue. We understand the confirmation vote incurs no cost or obligation, but is necessary before further procedure can be taken. Plenty of water for years to come will mean a lot to the towns of this area.

Noticed where the President ordered a thousand U. S. paratroopers and marines to be flown to Caribbean bases to assure protection of Vice President Nixon against further mob violence in Venezuela. In our opinion, it would have been cheaper and less complicated to have ordered Dick to come home.

Ladder climbing is for the younger generation, so Press Phillips learned the hard way one day last week. He was helping Nolan shingle his house when he fell from the ladder. After a few days in the hospital and having one limb in a cast, Press is about to get back to normal again. Act your age, Press!

Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Harper, Baptist missionaries to Tanganyika, East Africa, visited Mrs. Grace Moorman last Sunday afternoon. The Harpers and their three children plan to leave the states on June 5th after a year's furlough to begin their third three year term of service in Africa. Harper is a nephew of the late Cliff Moorman.

Ed Thompson Announces For Treasurer Post

Ed Thompson, well known Knox Countyman, has authorized the Munday Times to announce his candidacy for the office of County Treasurer of Knox County, subject to action of the voters in the coming Democratic primary.

"I have lived in the county for 20 years," Mr. Thompson said in making his announcement, "and am known to many of the voters. I feel that I am qualified for the duties of this office in every respect, and I pledge you my untiring efforts to fulfill those duties of the voters are good enough to elect me to the office."

"I shall make a sincere effort to see all the voters of the county between now and the July primary, but I realize that time may not permit me to do this. I ask that you take this announcement as a personal solicitation of your vote and influence if I am unable to contact you."

"My experience in farming and my contacts with people in a business way since retiring from farming, I believe are further qualifications for holding this important office. If elected, I shall give you a term of faithful and efficient service, and it is upon this basis that I ask your consideration of my candidacy. Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated."

Site For Miller Creek Selected And Confirmation Vote Set For June 10

First definite action on the Miller Creek Reservoir project, as a result of meetings last week, will come early in June. This was a decision of directors of the North Central Texas Water Authority in a meeting at Munday early last week.

At this meeting, directors set Tuesday, June 10, as tentative date for a confirmation election to be held in each of the seven towns comprising the water district.

Directors were given the final feasibility report on the Miller Creek project by Freese & Nichols, Fort Worth consulting engineers. Present to explain the report were S. W. Freese and Jim Nichols of the Fort Worth firm. Also at the meeting were Frank B. McMahon and Jerome Thornthorn of Dallas and Clarence R. Hendricks of Fort Worth, bond and securities consultants, who explained financing details of the project.

Reservoir project approved by the directors was at a site on Miller Creek for a 52,000-acre foot lake which would provide municipal water for the seven towns in the proposed district for the next 40 years or longer, even if total population in the area doubled during that period.

Total estimated cost of the entire project, including pipelines to each of the seven towns, would be $6,550,000.

In addition to the municipal water supply, the reservoir would have a large quantity of surplus water available for industrial use, including oil field water flooding, engineers explained.

Detailed reports on the project are being placed before the City Council in each town in the district this week relative to the project cost, in preparation for the election scheduled June 10.

If the June 10 date is approved by the seven towns, the election will be called by the State Water Board.

Qualified voters in each town will ballot on one question only; Whether to join the NCT water district.

At a later election, in all towns voting to enter the district, qualified voters will ballot on a water purchase contract between each town and the NCT water district; and on a district-wide bond issue to defray costs of the project.

Haskell City Council received the report at a called meeting Wednesday night. After discussion, the Council voted approval of the June 10 date for the confirmation election.

The family must have "exemplified inspiring Christian living, must have applied Christian ethics in every day life, and must have participated actively in church and community life. They must also have been known as warm, good neighbors."

He is assistant Sunday school teacher and was secretary-treasurer of the church for several years as well as usher for all services. On the community level he served on the school board until his appointment as auditor and was a member of the city council. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lee of Wichita Falls.

THE ANTI-GOVERNMENT COMPETITION ACT

How can we materially cut the cost of government without imperiling or eliminating any activity which the country really needs?

There is one good answer to that all-important question. It is this: By getting the government out of tax-exempt business-type activities which can and should be carried on by taxpaying private enterprise.

Bills designed to do just that are now pending in both House and Senate. They are known as the Anti-Government Competition Act, and they would direct all the Federal agencies to get out and stay out of most business-type activities not specifically authorized by statutes.

In a letter to members urging support of these bills, the President of the Chamber of Commerce of Del Rio, Texas, said: "Our free enterprise system depends on you and me. Its very life is being snuffed out by subsidized government competition." That is not an exaggeration—government has gone into business on a far greater scale than is generally understood, and the cost to the taxpayers runs far into the billions. Congress could do no greater service to the country than to reverse that trend.

Damon Stetson of the New York Times reports that "The automobile industry is facing a period of crucial decisions." There are three main reasons why: the growing popularity of the small economy car, a trend which may force the Big Three to enter this field; lagging new-car sales; the wage and other demands which Walter Reuther's UAW will make on the companies during new contract negotiations.

The most recent government estimate says that the federal highway program will cost $37,622,000,000. This is $10 billion above the figure given at the time Congress voted the program.

POLIO QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The questions everybody is asking about polio vaccination are answered in a quiz sheet just issued by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, that staunch organization which has been battling polio for 20 years and which made the Salk vaccine possible. Here are the main ones:

Q. Can adults get polio? A. They can and they do. And it hits them harder than it hits children.

Q. Are parents safe from polio if their children have been vaccinated? A. No. Everybody has to get his own vaccination. A vaccinated person, though protected against polio, can still carry the polio virus and infect the unvaccinated.

Q. Are you safe if you've had one shot? Two shots? A. Not as safe as the vaccine can make you. One shot is better than none. Two shots are better than one. But for maximum protection you need at least three shots of Salk vaccine.

Q. Is baby too young to be vaccinated? A. Last year babies one year old had the highest polio attack rate of any age group. Next came children aged two. Some health authorities recommend starting polio shots at two months.

Q. Where can you get Salk vaccine? A. From your doctor or at local vaccination clinics. Start shots early to have full protection before the next polio season.

THE SPIDER IN THE PAPER

The News-Herald, of Cuba City, Wisconsin, recalls the famous answer made by Mark Twain when he was asked if finding a spider in the newspaper meant good luck. The write said: "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over the paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace afterward."

The News-Herald adds: "It's even more true today. People are buying and reading more newspapers than ever before in history. Population has increased 47% since 1920 . . . but newspaper circulation has increased 94%."

"Almost everybody reads the newspaper. It's one medium people won't do without."

Wise producers and sellers of goods and services of all kinds know that newspaper advertising is the best way to keep the spider and his web away!

The Master Teacher

By ED KIRK
 Abilene, Texas

"Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps." (1 Pet. 2:21). In all things we can safely choose Jesus as an example to follow, but especially does he set the example for us as the Master Teacher. Let us consider:

1. His preparation. Jesus began to prepare for his work as the Master Teacher early in life. At an early age we find Him "sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions." (Luke 2:46) Later we find Jesus being baptized "to fulfill all righteousness." (Matt. 3:15) Everyone that would teach effectively must likewise gain knowledge and information and become a baptized believer.

2. His knowledge of the word of God. Jesus demonstrated this when upon being tempted of the devil, He was able to reply with "it is written" (Matt. 4:1-10). To effectively teach the Way of Life today, every teacher must be able to give a "thus saith the Lord" for what he teaches.

3. His methods. Jesus was an effective teacher because He knew how to teach as well as what to teach. He could sit in the midst of the doctors or wander among the shepherds and fishermen and not be found lacking. He taught His greatest lessons in His parables. (Matt. 13:34) In them He made His teaching simple enough for the most unlearned yet challenging enough for the greatest of minds. To be effective in our teaching, we must consider the needs of those whom we teach and make our teaching meaningful by illustrations and comparisons.

4. His humility. Jesus taught that true greatness is to be found in service to others. (Matt. 20:26-28) We might well keep this in mind as we go about teaching and be willing to simply guide our students along worthwhile paths of learning rather than to try to dominate them entirely.

5. His life. Jesus "went about doing good." (Acts 10:38) Jesus was a living example of that which he taught. So ought we as teachers to put into practice those things that we would have others learn.

6. His attitude. People were offended in His teachings. (Matt. 23:37), but as His life neared its end, He could still pray and ask of the Father "Thy will be done." (Luke 22:42). We can be sure that our teaching will bring some disappointment and some failures, but we must always remember to pray that God's will be done. May we all strive to follow the example left by the Master Teacher in our teaching! — Christian Chronicle

17,000 SHEEP & LAMBS STEADY IN MONDAY TRADE

FORT WORTH — Trade on sheep and lambs was rather slow getting underway at Fort Worth Monday. Shippers were out early and took a part of the supply at fully steady prices, and by mid-morning all interests were active and prices were generally steady on the big supply.

Buyers were rather critical of the quality of much of the offering and a good sized number of the old crops in particular were medium and low grades and displayed heavy water-fills due to the warm weather. Milk fat lambs topped at $22.50, and old crop fat lambs topped at $18, all interests meeting these requirements to get choice lots.

Good and choice slaughter Spring lambs sold from $21 to $22.50, and cull to medium Springers sold from $16 to $21. Stocker and feeder Spring lambs cashed at $18 to $20. Good and choice shorn old crop lambs cashed at $17 to $18, and cull to medium old crop sold from $12 to $16. Excessively heavy old crop ranged from $16.50 downward.

Stocker yearling wethers sold from $16.50 down. Yearling ewes sold around $19. Two-year-old muttuns sold from $15 down, and aged wethers cashed at $13.50 down. Old bucks sold around $6 to $6.50. Slaughter ewes cashed at $7 to $8.50. A few slaughter goats sold for $7.

CATTLE AND CALVES ARE UNEVEN, GRASSERS WEAK

Cattle trade was again a hit or miss affair at Fort Worth Monday with fully steady prices in effect on grainfed beefs, canners and cutters, bulls and high grade stockers. Weakness prevailed on fat cows, slaughter calves and grassy yearlings and heifers and prices ranged from weak to 50 cents lower on these kinds.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $25 to $28.75, a load of 931 pound steers at the higher figure from Franklin County. Common and medium kinds sold from $16 to $24.

Fat cows cleared at $18 to $21, a few heiferish kinds to $22. Canners and cutters cashed at $12 to $18. Bulls drew $17 to $22.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $24 to $28, and common and medium offerings sold from $17 to $24. Culls drew $14 to $17. Good and choice stocker calves sold from $26 to $32.75, and heifer calves ranged from $31 downward. Stocker steer yearlings of lighter weights sold at $28 downward, and some heavier weights sold from $27 downward. Stocker cows cashed at $17 to $21.

HOGS OPEN 50-75c HIGHER, SOWS ARE UP $1.00

Hogs were 50 to 75 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday and sows were around $1 up. Choice hogs scored $22 to $22.25, and medium to good butcher sorts sold from $19 to $21.50. Stags drew $11 to $14, and some boars sold from $10 to $12. Sows cashed at $18 to $20. Pigs ranged from $20.50 downward.

CHANGES IN MARKET REFLECTED IN SHEEP SALES

Just a few years ago about 95% of the sheep and lambs that came to Fort Worth, aside from a few stockers, sold to the major packers here and were shipped out either as dressed carcasses or in carloads alive to packing plants all over the nation.

The increased competition from off-market packers started well before World War II, but during that time and since, the distribution of sheep has become wider each year. Last week nearly 50,000 sheep and lambs were sold on the open market at Fort Worth and a check of the sales revealed that only 66.5% went to locals, and 33.5% went to the so-called "outside" buying trade.

The broadening of outlets has served two purposes, it has enhanced the popularity of Texas-type lambs in some of the principal consuming centers where the Texas product was little known before. And, the wider distribution has served to stabilize prices and prevent extremes in price fluctuations. The peaks and valleys in the price chart have been levelled out as wider outlets for Southwestern sheep have grown.

STOCKER EWES SALE DRAWS FARMERS INTEREST

Market agencies at Fort Worth reported heavy inquiries over the past weekend about the stocker ewe sale to be held at Fort Worth on June 5-6, and the inquiry was coming from farmer-stockmen who want to increase their flocks. Sheep have been increasingly popular with farmers in the Eastern half of Texas in recent years, since they have been consistent money makers.

Owners of breeding age ewes are urged to list them with market agencies early, so this information can be passed along to these farm flock owners before the sale date. Several registered breeders have announced they will offer some bucks for sale during this event.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neill were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Swafford in Albany.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hodin, M. D., State Health Officer

Suppose your youngster swallows a substance you know is poisonous. The label is missing and you don't know the antidote. All you know is the name of the product.

Grim supposing? Yes, but it happens every day to adults as well as children. How would you react? You should call your doctor at once, but what would he do? He must know exactly how much of what is in the poison before he acts. And time is all-important.

If your community had a poison control center, the problem would be much simplified. By checking a master index the center could give your doctor a quick run-down on ingredients in the substance. If necessary the child could be rushed to the center for emergency treatment with special equipment.

Unfortunately there was only one complete local center in Texas, operating in Austin's Brackenridge Hospital, until Galveston, Houston, and Fort Worth established poison information centers more recently.

This clearly is a dangerous situation. The State Department of Health, through its Division of Occupational Health, for over a year has been seriously intent on encouraging formation of poison control centers wherever there is local willingness.

The Department will furnish free an index information file, together with periodic supplements. Additionally, the Department offers counsel in organizing a center, and will make the resources of its extensive toxicological library available. The Division itself serves as a poison information center on an around-the-clock basis.

A complete local poison control center does three things:

1. It keeps information instantly available on compositions of poisonous materials, together with antidotes. It keeps up to date with a reference library on toxicology, and maintains a master index of poisons.
2. It maintains all emergency drugs, oxygen equipment, catheters, tubes, syringes, needles, etc., for immediate life-saving use in treating poisoning cases. A treatment center is usually located in a local hospital emergency room.

3. It conducts continuous public education on the hazards of literally thousands of poisonous agents available on today's market. Educational activities might be handled by persons other than the information or treatment staff.

For maximum usefulness, information and treatment phases must be operated 24 hours a day, supervised by a competent physician.

There you have it — a realistic, inexpensive plan for coping with the ever-constant danger of accidental poisonings. Your town deserves the advantages that come with having a poison control center.

Shower Honoring Miss Carlene Morgan Held Last Friday

Miss Carlene Morgan, bride elect of Jerry Gribble of Abilene, was honored with a shower in the Gillespie Baptist Church last Friday evening.

Mrs. Fred Reddell, Jr., stood in the receiving line and introduced guests to the honoree. Also in the receiving line were Mrs. Carl Morgan, Mrs. Lewis Gribble of Abilene, Mrs. H. E. Gribble (grandmother) of Vernon, and Mrs. Minnie Henderson (grandmother) of Abilene.

Mrs. Marion Elliott registered the guests, and Miss Pat Partridge played piano selections. The room was decorated with vases of roses.

A huge heart full of roses, topped with a wedding bell, centered the table, which was covered with a white cutwork cloth over blue. Blue candles and streamers with roses completed the serving table, which was laid with milk glass punch service. Mrs. O. O. Putnam served.

Miss Morgan wore a pale silk dress featuring a scoop neckline and a full skirt. Her corsage was white carnations.

The wedding will be at Gillespie Baptist Church at 4 p. m. Sunday, June 1. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan of Munday and is a junior at McMurry College, where she is a member of the T. I. P. social club. Mr. Gribble is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gribble of Abilene and is a student in McMurry College.

The hostesses gift was a mixer and pressure cooker. Hostesses were Meses Marion Elliott, Fred Reddell, Jr., Earl Claburn, Roe Myers, A. C. Tackitt, Bob Jarvis, Grady Phillips, T. J. Partridge, Herbert Partridge, Keith Burnison, Trammel Stockton, Wendell Partridge, O. O. Putnam, Fred Reddell, Sr., Charles McAfee, and Miss Joyce Voss.

Four Generations Attend Reunion Here On Sunday

Four generations attended the Mothers Day reunion of the M. W. Parker family held in their home in Munday last Sunday. All of their children were present, including:

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Heatley of Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bledsoe of Vealmoor, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rister and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Parker of Munday.

Fifteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren were present; also, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Bryson of Breckenridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dingus and daughters of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowan and son of Andrews, Mrs. Clyde Longbotham, Mary and Joe Clyde, of Guyman, Okla., visited relatives here over the week end.

Notes On Girls 4-H Club Activities

"Start the Day with a Good Breakfast," was the subject of the 4-H program last week when the following breakfast menu was suggested: Tomato juice, cheese omelet, melba toast, and milk. One hundred eight girls and two leaders in 7 clubs attended these meetings.

The following recipe was used in demonstrating the making of a cheese omelet:

2 eggs, 1 tablespoon butter or fat, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, Salt and pepper to suit taste.

Beat eggs slightly, add salt, pepper and cheese. Heat fat in skillet until moderately hot. Add mixture and cook slowly without stirring until firm. Fold and sprinkle with grated cheese. Serve hot.

In reviewing the 4-H food program of the past two years, we considered these points: Dairy food is important in the diet of each individual because it furnishes calcium for healthy bones and teeth, the B vitamin Riboflavin for healthy skin and nerves and protein for building and repairing body tissues.

Slightly more than 50 percent of the Knox County 4-H girls will receive completion certificates as a result of work done on their food projects. A 4-H girl may still qualify for a completion certificate by turning in her record of food work and exhibiting a food she has prepared.

Representatives from six of the 4-H girls clubs in their council meeting late in April scheduled the following summer activities: County 4-H girls Camp July 15, judging of garments August 2, and the County 4-H Dress Revue, August 4.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Scientists To Turn Their Efforts To Leaky Faucets, Dent-Proof Cars

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek assigns the scientific mind some old problems, his letter this week reveals.

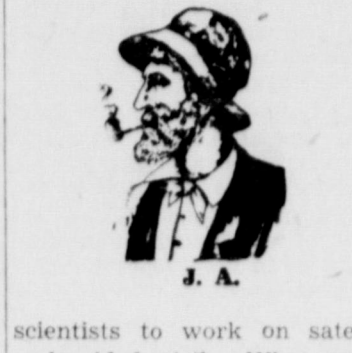

Dear editor: I know everybody is supposed to be concentrating all his efforts these days on keeping up with Russia in guided missiles and space exploration, but the way I see it is, even if we make a landing on the moon and open up a lot more planets for occupation, somebody is going to have to stay on this earth, and I've been thinking.

We don't want to get so busy we neglect life around here, and I would like to propose a few problems for the scientific minds to tackle. For example, up to now, the scientific mind, with all its vast accomplishments, has never been able to permanently stop a leaky faucet. They can stop one from leaking temporarily, but sooner or later it'll start leaking again. What I'd like to propose to the world of science is a rubber washer that'll last a lifetime, or else throw out the whole washer idea and invent a hydrant that works without one.

Also, while I have given up expecting the automobile industry to build a car that'll last a lifetime, if I was in the business I wouldn't be interested either, you don't catch me urging anybody to invent a cow that'll foreverly still I would like to see the scientific mind perfect a tail pipe that'll last at least four years, certainly longer than one or two.

Another thing the scientific mind ought to be turning its attention to is a wrinkle-proof car fender. If they can do it with shirts and pants, why can't they do it with car fenders?

I could go on listing a lot of other things, but you are as familiar with them as I am. I'm in favor of the schools turning out more scientists, but not just scientists to work on satellites and guided missiles. What we need is a great body of scientific brains tackling the every-day problems. I still contend there's nothing more ridiculous than a space scientist, just after launching a new satellite, having to come home to a leaky faucet and a bill for straightening out a car fender his wife has just dented because somebody apparently narrowed the garage door during the night.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SALES TAX A THREAT TO TEXAS FARMERS

Much in the air these days is a word that turns stale the sweetest Texas spring breeze — taxes. Concensus of opinion among many is that Texas governmental costs are rising above state revenues to such a degree that some new form of taxation will inevitably be the top order of business for the next legislature. And, sadly for the Texas farmer, the fashionable turn of tax talk lately has been for a type of general sales tax.

Any type of sales tax would impose on Texas farmers and ranchers a greater hardship than on almost any other occupational class. And they are the very people who can least afford it.

Farmers and ranchers must invest more money to produce their narrow profit margin than practically any other business, and most of their purchases are at the retail level where sales taxes normally occur. Regular purchases of every farmer and rancher on such essential items as feed and seed, farm implements, machinery and building materials could run up a staggering tax bill — staggering enough, in fact, to deal the final blow to already-squeezed farm profits.

In addition to the burden of taxes paid on everything they have to buy to produce a crop and make a living, our farm people would also suffer along with everyone else on taxes paid out for normal living expenses.

Taxation which discriminates against a working class of people is unfair taxation.

Times are trying enough for rural people as evidenced by continued migration away from the farms. With mounting federal taxation besetting farmers on one hand and rising production costs cramping them on the other, surely they must be spared an additional and unnecessary blow at the state level.

The shell game used to be as much a part of the carnival as the freak show.

For the benefit of a generation that may not know the exact procedure, the shell game is played with three walnut shells and a pea. There is also one other ingredient necessary: a sucker.

The operator places the pea under a shell, talks fast, moves the shells around and then invites the onlooker to select the shell that the pea is under, with the onlooker backing his eyesight monetarily. (In other words, he bets a given amount.)

The customer, having indicated the shell, is allowed to lift it. To his surprise, the pea is not there.

If he had chosen another shell, the result would have been the same. There was no pea under any of the shells. The operator had only appeared to have put it under one. Instead, he concealed it in the palm of his hand or behind his ear.

I did hear about a man who beat the shell game. He was of course a Texan.

After having seen several of his friends taken, he allowed as how he could pick the right shell. The result was a hundred-dollar wager.

"It's under the middle one," the big rancher said.

"Go ahead and see," the operator urged.

"I will," the customer replied, at the same time drawing a 45.

He proceeded to lift the left hand shell, then the right hand shell.

Then he remarked, "Since the pea ain't under either of them, it has to be under the one I picked — the middle one; that is, if you ain't runnin' a dishonest game."

His eyes directed at the six-shooter, the operator, said, "Of course, it's under that one" and paid off.

A man was playing a violin on a street corner in New York. Two or three would stop, listen a little while, then move on. For the most part, the throngs hurried by, paying no attention.

What is remarkable about that? You ask. The remarkable thing about it is that the man playing the violin was one of the half dozen greatest violinists in the world. He was just doing it

Crop Insurance Now Available To More Farmers, Crops

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will celebrate its 20th anniversary this year by providing one-third of a million farmer policyholders one-third of a billion dollar's worth of all-risk protection against crop disaster.

FCIC protection against loss from unavoidable causes of money invested in crop production is now available in over 800 U. S. counties, more than twice the number in which such insurance was offered in 1948, reports A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

This year the Corporation is initiating a new contract method, another thing that should make crop insurance available to more farmers. The change brings together a variety of crop insurance contracts into a uniform policy with separate endorsements for the crops insured. This will facilitate adding insurance for additional crops in many counties to provide broader protection for policyholders.

Over its 20-year history FCIC has paid nearly half billion dollars of indemnities to insured farmers who suffered unavoidable crop losses, according to Wooten. These insurance checks have enabled many farmers to survive crop disasters which otherwise would have put them out of business.

In the words of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson: "Every year though national production is high crop catastrophes take a heavy toll in some farming areas. Where crop disaster strikes, farmers and the business community feel the need for emergency assistance. Crop insurance was designed and developed to provide the opportunity to meet this need on a business basis . . ."

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

Your County Agent probably has a few 1958 "Farmer's Tax Guides" left over from 1957.

Studying about taxes may not particularly appeal to you, but if you are going to sit on the front porch one of these days when it is too wet to plough the north 40, you might grow one or two profitable tax deductions by reading a copy of this free publication. This booklet explains taxes in language that a dirt farmer can understand. If your County Agent does not have this booklet, write to the Internal Revenue Service in Dallas or visit your local Internal Revenue Service office for this booklet.

I believe you will find that you have plowed through tougher things than reading this booklet. Let's hope that if you do plow through these tax problems that you will reap some good tax deductions.
