Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson is right in his contention that the nation needs a realistic and courageous program to control floods and conserve waters.

"He is also correct in saying water is the number one resource of the country.

"Most of the country, including Texas, has experienced bountiful rainfall during the past year and reservoirs almost everywhere are filled to overflowing. Therefore, the average American is likely to consider that water shortage no longer is a problem. But, over the long haul, providing water for the farms and industries of the nation still is one of the biggest domestic problems the U. S. faces.

"Texas has a way of gravitating between feast and famine in relation to water supply. Just at present, it is enjoying a feast; but only yesterday there was famine, for all one knows.

"Since water is such a vital resource, every effort should be made to control and preserve it. The need is certain to grow as the nation's population expands. The nation needs a long term water conservation program — not just one designed to fit a temporary condition."

The above is an editorial found in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, and we are reprinting it for your thoughtful consideration. The water problem, though apparently not so this very day, is just as serious here as in other parts of the state.

Remember last year, when city officials warned us that all the water we had for domestic and other uses in the city was coming directly from the pump into the water mains? During those crucial periods, it was estimated we had enough water to fight a serious fire for only a few minutes. Several times during the past two summers, it was thought we would have to have water rationing.

On Tuesday, June 17, Munday and other towns of this area voted on confirmation of the posed Miller Creek reservoir. This is the first step, and is only a confirmation vote to decide whether the town will go into the water district.

Think of the water situation as it has existed the past two summers before you decide either way in the confirmation vote.

The following 10 safety precautions will prevent most drownings:

1. Learn to swim. To save your life, you can't think of a better sport.
2. Always swim with another person. Make sure someone is nearby to help if you get into trouble.
3. Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming.
4. Know the area. Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and that there are no hidden objects such as submerged rocks.
5. Respect the water and know your limitations. Water can be a good friend or a deadly enemy. Don't go beyond safe limits or your ability.
6. Use discretion. Don't swim right after eating or when overheated or overtired.
7. Try to remain calm in case of trouble. Assume a face up floating position, keep your hands under water and slowly move your hands and feet.
8. Keep safety equipment in your boat or canoe. Unless you're really an expert swimmer, it is wise, when riding in a small craft, to wear a life vest.
9. Stay with your boat or canoe. Most small craft will float, even when filled with water or overturned.
10. Don't over power your boat. A motor too powerful for your boat makes it difficult to control and may cause upsets or other accidents.

He said his hair, eyebrows and eyelashes were singed when flames shot back into his face. He jumped from the tractor and started to throw dirt on the burning motor. His wife notified the Munday Fire Department, and two trucks made the run and extinguished the flames.

Pryor said he believed the motor and radiator were ruined but that the tires were saved. Fire Chief Ed Johnson said dirt thrown on the machine by Mr. Pryor probably kept the gas from exploding.

First '58 Wheat

The first load of 1958 wheat to come into Munday was received at about 4:20 p. m. Tuesday, May 27, by Graham Mill and Elevator Co. It was grown by S. E. Williamson, 7 miles northwest of Munday, and was cut and hauled by J. W. Zeissel and sons. Billy Mitchell, manager of the elevator, stated the wheat tested 60 pounds and only 10 per cent moisture.

Given to the one voted the outstanding senior each year, the award was made principally for Miss Claburn's work as editor of the 15th Munday High School yearbook. Her selection on the annual staff was made according to the following qualifications:

A. Her scholastic rating. A staff member must have an average of 85 or above, and be someone who can afford to lose time from studies when it becomes necessary. Work on the annual requires patience and accuracy. As a general rule, students with high averages possess these qualities.

B. Member's personality. He or she must be able to get along and work well with others.

C. A member also needs creative ability. Publishers of the yearbook are always looking for new and different picture arrangements which must be interesting, in keeping with the art principles of rhythm and balance, and also consistent with other pictures in the book.

Farmers To Make Important Decision In Wheat Referendum

County wheat farmers will help make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing quota referendum, H. H. Partridge, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve quotas for the 1959 crop, Mr. Partridge explained, the 1959 wheat program will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas (with penalties on "excess" wheat) and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The price-support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law.

Chairman Partridge pointed out that wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in commercial wheat States — those with allotments of more than 25,000 acres. Texas has an allotment of 4,099,094 acres for the 1959 wheat crop.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective. Thus, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959 and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots in the 1959 wheat quota referendum of June 20.

DON'T BE A RACKET VICTIM

Stock exchanges, reputable brokerage houses, and various Federal and state commissions all war vigorously and unceasingly against the high-pressure salesman of valueless securities. But these gentry are still in business on a big scale, and the unwary are still being victimized.

Yet the fact is that there is no need for this to be the case. A 10-point guide produced by the New York State Attorney General and the Securities and Exchange Commission, if followed, will end the fraudulent securities racket. Here it is: Think before buying. Deal only with a securities firm which you know. Be skeptical of telephone offerings made to you by unknown salesmen of firms. Guard against all high-pressure sales. Be aware of promises of spectacular price rises. Be sure you understand the risk of loss as well as the prospect of gain. Get the facts — never buy on tips or rumors. Request the person offering securities over the phone to mail you complete written information about the corporation concerned. If you don't understand this written information, consult a person who does. Give as much thought when purchasing securities as you do when acquiring any valuable property.

This proven advice, if religiously followed, the prospective investor will avoid pitfalls which have trapped thousands of people and, in many cases, robbed them of their life's savings. There's no need for you to join that unhappy company.

Tax Economics Bulletin says that diversion of highway user tax revenue (of which the gasoline tax is the major producer) has been steadily growing. In about 20 years this practice has drained off more than $4.5 billion which otherwise would have been available for improvement of roads and streets.

The Edison Electric Institute has compiled data showing the percentage cost of purchased electric power to the value of products of a large list of important industries. The percentage runs from 0.100 in the case of tobacco manufactures to 3.174 in the case of chemical and allied products. The average of all the industries is 0.77.

The Class I railroads of the country install something like 25,000,000 cross-ties each year. The total cost runs to around $10.00 each.

AN UNSUNG HERO

A medical missionary named Roy Cornell is one of the unsung heroes of America. Everybody should know about him, but few have ever heard his name.

In the spring of 1957 Dr. Cornell was practicing in the new Seventh Day Adventist mission hospital he had help to construct at Benghazi, Libya. This was the realization of a dream he had had since student days in Seattle — the dream of serving mankind in Africa.

Fearing that the missionaries and their children at Benghazi might contract paralytic polio (the native population had a high degree of natural immunity) Dr. Cornell ordered a shipment of Salk vaccine from the United States. When it came he discovered that it was one dose short.

Somebody at the Benghazi mission had to forego vaccination. Dr. Cornell decided that that somebody should be himself.

On May 19, 1957, he was stricken with acute paralytic polio. He lost even the power to speak or breathe and was kept alive in an iron lung.

Last summer he was flown to the March of Dimes-supported Northwest Respirator Center in Seattle. Though his dream of serving mankind has turned to ashes, he is still unvanquished in spirit as he makes the grueling fight to recover whatever muscle power there may still be left in his body.

You do not have to make Dr. Cornell's decision. Today, in America, there is enough Salk vaccine for everybody. You can get protection against polio paralysis without heroism or pain and at small expense. Call your doctor now.

In a recent speech, Vice President Nixon said that several publishers had told him that national advertising was down as much as 40 per cent in the first quarter of the year, while local advertising had held up reasonably well. He added: "I can think of no more short-sighted action than this on the part of national advertisers. The very people who have most at stake in the survival of our free economy should be betting on its growth rather than hedging on its possible failure."

More than 59 per cent of all stocks listed on the "Big Board" of the New York Stock Exchange have paid cash dividends every three months without exception — in war and peace, good times or bad — for a decade or longer.

COUNTRY PURCHASES OF LAMBS BREAK MARKET

FORT WORTH — Slaughter classes of sheep and lambs were weak to 50 cents or more lower at Fort Worth, with some bids and sales on medium and lower grade slaughter lambs $1 or more lower. The weakness was aggravated by several thousand sheep and lambs bought in recent days in off-market transactions, which overflowed packing house holding pens. These supplies soon broke prices despite an early start at firm prices by shipping interests.

A few choice fat spring lambs went to shippers early at $22 and $23, but the range on the bulk of the good to choice spring lambs was $20.50 to $21.50. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $18 to $20.25. Cull to medium spring lambs sold from $14 to $19.

A few fancy old crop lambs sold early to shippers at $18 and $18.50, while the rand and file good and choice old crops sold from $16.50 to $17.50. Cull to medium old crops sold from $13 to $16. Feeder yearling lambs sold from $17 down, and yearling ewes sold from $18 to $20.

Slaughter goats cashed at $7. Slaughter ewes drew $6 to $8. Aged bucks sold around $6. Aged wethers drew $13 down.

SHEEP BREEDERS INVITED TO DISPLAY BUCKS

Members of the Texas Pure Bred Sheep Breeders Association were invited this week to display breeding bucks at the special stocker ewes sale at Fort Worth June 5 and 6. Increasing popularity of farm flocks of sheep in recent years is reflected in the demand for better sires to improve the Texas lamb crop quality.

The Market Institute informed the purebred growers that bucks could be displayed on the yards during the week of the sale and exercise the privilege of the market without cost except feed, unless they are sold. A number of sheep breeders have expressed their intention to offer some bucks in this way, since many buyers of ewes will be on hand during the special sale days. The Market Institute announced that only the regular market charges are in effect for the sale, with no extra expense added.

CATTLE STEADY, SLAUGHTER KINDS AGAIN SCARCE

About 75% of the cattle and calves offered in the some 5,000 head at Fort Worth Monday were of stocker and feeder classification, and demand for these replacement kinds continued broad at strong prices. Packers were talking lower prices on the early rounds, but were unable to get supplies on that basis. The trader on killing cattle and calves wound up steady.

Fed cattle were in very small supply, and cows were also extremely scarce and made up less than 15% of the total.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $24 to $27, and two loads of plain quality fed steers cashed at $25.25. Common and medium offerings drew $16 to $23. Fat cows sold from $17.50 to $21.50, and canners and cutters drew $13 to $17.50. Bulls cashed at $17 to $22.

Good and choice slaughter calves ranged from $24 to $27.50, and common and medium sorts brought $17 to $23. Culls cashed at $14 to $17. Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $28 to $32.50, and stocker heifer calves ranged from $28 downward. Stocker steer yearlings of good to choice kinds sold from $25 to $28, and some light weight yearlings sold to $30. Stocker cows were scarce.

HOGS OPEN STEADY, TOP $22.50 - $23.00, SOWS $20.00

Trade on hogs at Fort Worth Monday was fully steady. Trade was slow getting underway as most of the Northern points report steady to easier prices, however, choice hogs sold at $22.50 and $23 and the in-between kinds cashed from $20 to $22. Pigs sold from $20 down. Stags drew $12

CATTLE TROPHIES GIVEN BY BREED ASSOCIATIONS

The first double-header stocker-feeder cattle sale of the year at Fort Worth will feature commercial whitefaces on June 19 and commercial Angus cattle on June 20. The Texas Hereford Association and the Texas Angus Association will do the judging and award trophies to the winners in the shows.

The double-header sales are arranged to make it more convenient for buyers who must travel a distance to the market to see more cattle, and will also put additional buying power in the sales by extending the interval in which they can be shown.

Four thousand stocker and feeder buyers all over the United States are being sent information and invitations to the sales this week by the Market Institute, which jointly sponsors the sales with the breed associations.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hobbins, M. D., State Health Officer

The advent of penicillin and other so-called "wonder drugs" has revolutionized modern medical practices. These new drugs—called "antibiotics"—have caught the public's fancy, and have given physicians powerful weapons in their conquest against disease.

But into this symphony of praise has crept a sour note. Cases of incorrect dosage and self-prescription are becoming common, raising the danger of serious reactions.

It is a waste of time to run for a shot of penicillin for an on-coming cold. The drug is ineffective against the viral diseases, including common colds, flu, measles, and mumps. Taking penicillin in lozenges or other forms for scratchy throats, for upset stomachs, or a variety of mild illnesses which would quickly run their courses anyway, is unwise unless prescribed by a physician.

There are at least five good reasons why drugs should not be taken without prescription.

1. When improperly used, they may prevent or retard action of the body's natural immunity. This sometimes happens because drugs work on germs while the natural defense mechanism remains inactive.

2. Germs vary in strength and ability to cause disease. Stronger ones may become resistant to drugs, just as some insects have become resistant to DDT. They multiply and produce new generations also capable of resisting antibiotics. Recent outbreaks of infection in hospitals are proof of this.

3. Some diseases call for massive doses of drugs for prolonged periods. Taking small quantities on your own initiative might mean germs you are trying to kill may actually flourish.

4. Some people are allergic to drugs. One person in 25 is allergic to penicillin, and one in ten may develop allergic reactions after repeated doses.

5. Self-administration of antibiotics can often mask a really serious illness by obscuring symptoms, thus making an accurate diagnosis difficult or impossible.

Increasing use of wonder drugs have shown up their limitations. A most appropriate rule of thumb to follow in the use of any drug is never to take them without a physician's recommendation.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Finds His Plans And Ike's Have Habit Of Failing To Pan Out In Financial Way

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek manifests some sympathy with Washington this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor: I have decided that running the government in Washington is not much different from running a farm or a family out here on this Johnson grass farm, financially speaking.

Last year, if you'll recall, President Eisenhower sat down to figure up what it was going to take to run the country for a year, and he said that while spending would be up some, this could be handled all right because incomes would be up, consequently taxes would bring in more, and the budget would balance with maybe a half-billion dollars left over.

Now though, with incomes not quiet as high and hence tax revenue less, it looks like the government will go in the red around three billion dollars.

That's exactly the way it turns out for me. I can sit down and figure up what my expenses will be, what my income will be, and show a paper profit, but invariably as the year wears on things keep happening.

Expenses are a little more than I figured on, income is a little less, and by the end of the year me and the national government are in about the same shape. It's a funny thing, but I can always see fewer expenses and more income than ever results. Just like President Eisenhower couldn't have been expected to see a mild recession coming, I couldn't see that tractor tire I was going to ruin. It was a good tire, lots of rubber still left on it, and I figured it was good for two or three more years at the least. I got two dollars on it on a trade-in.

The same thing was true about that piston rod, that cow that got sick and died, the roof that blew off, the fence that fell over, my wife's breaking her eye glasses, those relatives that piled in on us . . . I tell you, you never know what's going to turn up next on this farm or in the White House.

Of the two jobs, though, I believe I prefer this one. It's one thing to have your wife nagging at you when you take off on a little vacation, but another thing to have the entire United States population to answer to. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Loans Available For Local Activity In Farm Housing

More farm construction — with better homes for farm families, better shelter for livestock and improved storage facilities for machinery and grain. That's the prospect in coming years says Wilburn A. Satterwhite, County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration.

Recently, as an anti-recession measure, his agency expanded its farm housing loan program to the fullest extent possible under existing laws set up by Congress. And Mr. Satterwhite reports that he already has received several inquiries from interested people in the area. To be eligible now, an applicant must own a farm that is in agricultural production and must plan to produce at least $400 worth of commodities for sale and home use, based on 1944 prices. Many part-time farmers who previously were ineligible can qualify for loans under the expanded program.

Bureas E. Smith, Cleveland C. Hutchinson, and Earl A. Burgess, FHA Committeemen in Knox County review and act on all applications. The construction work can start after the loan is closed. The loan bears 4 percent interest on the unpaid balance and may be repaid over a period up to 33 years.

In addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help a farm owner repair and up-date buildings. For example, he may wish to add a bathroom including a waste disposal system, modernize the kitchen, add an extra bedroom, improve the heating, insulation and electric wiring, put a basement under the house, and cement floors in service buildings, or paint the house and service buildings.

Mr. Satterwhite reports that the agency has $400 million available nationally which can be used over the next three years for farm housing loans. He said there is no specified limitation on the amount which can be loaned in any one state or community. Mr. Satterwhite said that Walter T. McKay, State Director, for Texas estimated that if present farm housing loan activity continues as it has in the past two months, that more than $2,000,000 will be channeled into this state by the end of the calendar year 1958. Practically all of the money will be spent locally to purchase supplies at lumber yards and business places, and to hire skilled labor.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England, Knox County Agent

Possibilities for a good pecan crop were never better than at present, but in order to preserve this good possibility, it will be necessary to observe the trees very closely for signs of damage from the pecan nut casebearer and apply the needed control measures when necessary. The casebearer strikes at the time when the ends of the small pecans turn brown, following pollenation. The small, Greenish-white eggs can be found attached to the nuts of the casebearer is present. This is the proper time for applying DDT as a spray at the rate of 3 lbs. of 50% wettable powder per 100 gallons of water, sprayed liberally over the entire tree.

Weeds have become quite a problem in pastures over the county, and one of the most economical methods of eradicating them and aiding the recovery of our native grasses is through the use of sheep in the grazing program.

Sheep will graze practically every type of weed found in this section when they are in a young tender stage, and will very effectively control them when properly stocked. Sheep also have the advantage of returning a dual dividend in the form of both wool and a lamb crop.

Notes From Home Demonstration Clubs

Mrs. H. P. Gillespie, Truscott, has early tomatoes to be proud of. They were set early and covered with hot caps for two or three weeks. They were blooming when most of us were setting out tomatoes. She hopes to have ripe tomatoes soon. In a day or two, her first early squash will be ready to gather.

Vegetables and young summer flowers are making rapid growth, but it will pay to keep a close check on insect damage. It is easier to keep insects in check if control measures are used while they are young. A good plan is to use regular applications of an all purpose garden insecticide dust every 7 to 10 days. These all-purpose garden insecticides contain a combination of insecticides that will control both chewing and sucking insects. One important point to consider when selecting a garden dust is that it should not contain sulphur if it is to be used on tender squash, cucumbers, cantaloupes and watermelons.

At this season of the year, thrip may be found on gladiolus. If present, they cause leaves and flower buds to be streaked with gray, and after the buds turn brown they become dry and often fail to open. Thrip on gladiolus can be controlled by applications of DDT, lindane or toxaphene dusts or sprays used according to the manufacturer's directions.

Mrs. A. E. Bowley and Mrs. J. O. Tynes spent Saturday night and Sunday with relatives in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Ray Snyder visited with relatives in Wichita Falls several days this week.
