Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

As we have often said, we frown upon anonymous letters or notes. They sort of place us in a fizz.

k-k
If the items submitted to an anonymous friend is worthy of publication, we like to know to whom we are indebted for sending it. If it's a batch of stuff that's not newsworthy or does not deserve printing in a newspaper, we'd like to know who our contributor is. If someone asks where we got some item, we don't like to reply, "We don't know." It's kinda embarrassing to publish an item that we can not trace to its source.

k-k
But Mr. (or Mrs.) Anonymous sent us an item a few days ago that we believe to be worthy of reproduction. It is titled: Twelve Rules for Raising Juvenile Delinquents. It seems to have stemmed from Houston, and it is said the police department of Houston gave parents of each juvenile who ran afoul of the law these rules for them to follow which would guarantee the making of their son or daughter a delinquent. Here they are:

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up thinking the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up "bad" words or "dirty" words laugh at him. That will make him think he is "cute." He will run off and pick up some other words that will blow off the top of your head.
3. Never give him any spiritual training until he is 21 and then let him decide for himself. By the same logic never teach him the English language. Maybe when he is old he may want to speak Bantu.
4. Praise him in his presence to all the neighbors; show how much smarter he is than the neighbor's children.
5. Avoid the use of the word "Wrong." It may develop in the child a "guilt complex." This will prepare him to believe that when he is punished later on for stealing cars or assaulting women, society is "against him" and that he is being "persecuted."
6. Pick up everything after him; his shoes, his books, his clothes. Do everything for him, so that he will be experienced in throwing burdens on others.
7. Let him read anything he wants. Have no concern whatever for what goes in his mind. Provide him with lily cups for his lips, but let his brain drink out of any dirty container for words and ideas.
8. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will be prepared for broken homes later on.
9. Give him all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own.
10. Satisfy every craving of the child for drinks, food and everything that has to do with the sense of taste and touch, gratifying every sensual desire.
11. Take his part against policemen, neighbors and teachers. They are all "prejudiced" against your child.
12. When he gets into real trouble always defend yourself and say, "I never could do anything with him."

Vote For Confirmation Of Miller Creek Reservoir Set For Tuesday, June 17th

Voters of the seven towns involved in the North-Central Texas Municipal Water Authority will go to the polls for a confirmation vote on the authority on Tuesday, June 17, according to announcement made last week.

Towns are Goree, Seymour, Haskell, Munday, Rochester, Knox City and Rule.

The vote June 17, it was pointed out, is merely to confirm each of these cities as a member of the water authority. At a later date, each city will vote, in its own separate election, on two more proposals: A, to approve the issuance of bonds, and B, to approve a water purchase contract.

The water authority was started some time ago, when the need for a municipal water supply for each of the several towns was pointed out. Studies have been made, and many problems ironed out preparatory to selecting a site for the Miller Creek reservoir and bringing the proposition to the vote of the people.

The Miller Creek reservoir, according to engineers, will have a capacity of 52,000 acre feet, which will insure ample water for domestic, commercial and oil well flooding purposes for this area. This capacity can be increased in the future, if necessary, to 71,000 acre feet. The quality of water should be as good as, or better than, Paint Creek water in the Stamford Lake, it was stated.

The lake would be located on Miller's Creek, about 16 miles east and a little south of Munday.

The council is sponsoring a county-wide home nursing course with each club forming its own class. Mrs. H. A. Smith of Truscott, registered nurse, will teach the courses.

Mrs. J. A. Fuller of Vera, encampment chairman, gave her plans for the Knox-Baylor encampment to be held in Seymour in July.

THE MEAT SITUATION

Meat has been in comparatively short supply and, consequently, prices have risen. Growers are building up their herds and so are marketing fewer animals.

This matter prompted an interesting editorial observation in the Portland Oregonian. It pointed out that Department of Agriculture experts are afraid that meat producers may expand their breeding stocks too rapidly, and thus bring on a meat oversupply accompanied by plummeting prices about two years from now. Then the Oregonian said: "The ideal would be for producers to send just enough animals to market to maintain fair prices but not to boost them to the point where consumers will rebel . . . But stringent controls would be necessary to achieve such a situation, and this no one desires. Government controls and price supports have complicated other phases of agriculture. Cattle growers have got along without them and so they should continue, even though steaks are high now and may be cheap two years from now."

Meat moves in a free market. Like any free market commodity, meat prices will vary drastically on occasion. But one thing is sure — in the long run both producers and consumers get a fair price break. Another point needs mention here. Despite price increases, the average worker earns enough money in 29 minutes to buy a pound of round steak today — as compared with 36 minutes in 1948.

MOOREFIELD, WEST VIRGINIA, EXAMINER: "We attended the Committee meeting on the Flood Prevention program . . . held at Brandywine. This is the project sponsored by the Potomac Valley Soil Conservation District . . . and should not be confused with the Flood Control Project by the Corps of Army Engineers. The army engineers go in for huge dams which inundates large areas of land, whereas the Flood Prevention Project is a series of small retention dams in the upper reaches of a watershed which PREVENTS floods rather than CONTROLLING them."

The food chains plan to build 2,000 new supermarkets and to remodel 1,700 existing establishments this year. The bill will be about $635 million—over $100 million more than was spent for the same purpose in 1957.

CHARACTER PUT TO A TEST

No one knows what the future may bring, but aside from foreign threats to our national existence, the character of the American people will be put to a severe test as a result of political moves toward increased government responsibility for and control over the individual citizen's job, income and personal welfare.

The people have to face up to the question of how much control over their lives and incomes they are willing to relinquish in return for dubious efforts by the Federal government to maintain a perpetual boom. The size and pervasiveness of the Federal government, offer so many avenues for "pump priming" and deficit spending, that practically every corner of the economy can be inundated by Federal money and control, unless the people offer effective resistance.

People will have to be shown how they would be hurt by accepting further surrender of citizen responsibilities. Public issues and public policies are subjects of discussion and ultimately follow the will of the majority. Leaders of industry and business will have to be alert and aggressive in presenting the benefits that flow to the people from our private property — private enterprise system in the form of opportunities and personal liberty itself, if the steady pressure for more and more domination of industry by government is to be met.

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: "Did you ever hear how a vote in a union meeting is carried on? Usually an international representative is in charge, and when the time to vote comes he says in effect: 'All you loyal members who want to continue the strike sit over on this side of the room, and all you scabs who want to go back to work sit on the other side.' Most of the union members want to go back to work, but they also want to get home to their families without getting beaten up, so the strike is voted."

ALAMEDA, CALIF., TIMES-STAR: "We hope you remembered, when your congressman and senators were home for Easter, to tell them what you think about paying that 10 per cent luxury tax (of all things!) on all your telephone calls . . . Is it exactly a luxury to call the police or the fire department or the doctor — even to order groceries by phone or conduct business with which to pay for the groceries and all the other local, state and federal taxes?"

Munday Woman Is President Of Delta Kappa Gamma

Mrs. Ina Cowan, elementary teacher in Munday Public Schools, was installed president of Beta Chi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary society for women educators, recently at the regular meeting of the group at a luncheon in Hickman Restaurant, Aspermont. Hosts were Aspermont members, Mesdames T. C. Clark, Marvin Lott Jr., Wesley Robbins, A. D. Martin, Lee Smith, Jack McCough, and John P. Ward. Mrs. Cowan will serve the biennium beginning July 1. Weaver, Haskell, who recently was awarded a Delta Kappa Gamma summer school scholarship and Mrs. John P. Ward, Aspermont, who was named co-winner of "Teacher of the Year in Texas" in a contest sponsored by Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. It was also revealed that Mrs. Ward is the recipient of a six weeks all expense paid summer school scholarship to Abilene Christian College.

Mrs. Scott W. Greene Jr., Haskell, was director of the program "Quo Vadis?" that included a lovely tribute to honor the founders of the international society. A tiered birthday cake, topped with miniature red and white tapers that represented the founders and flanked by photographs of Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, mother of founder of the group, was the center of interest for the table used for the program. Red roses, official flower of the group, were used on luncheon tables and for all other decorations. Mrs. T. C. Clark offered the invocation be-

CATTLE OPEN STEADY WITH LAST WEEK'S LOSS
FORT WORTH — Cattle and calves were slow and about steady here Monday. Salesmen were asking higher prices following last week's declines, however, the buying side held firmly to the recently established lower schedule of values.

 Good to choice slaughter yearlings and steers cashed at $24 to $27, and medium and lower grades cashed at $16 to $23. Fat cows sold from $17 to $19.50, with a few fancy young cows to $20 and $21 and above when maintaining heiferish characteristics. Canners and cutters sold from $12 to $17.50. Bulls drew $18 to $22.
 Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $23 to $27.50, with heavies around 600 pounds and up at $26 down. Common and medium offerings sold from $17 to $23, and culls sold from $14 to $17.

 Medium and good stocker steer calves sold from $24 to $30, and medium and good stocker steer yearlings sold from $22 to $27, with some choice thin light weight yearlings to $28 and $28.50. Plainer stockers ranged around $20 to $24.
OLD CROP LAMBS STRONG SPRING LAMBS STEADY
 Sheep and lambs were steady with last week's close at Fort Worth Monday. Good and choice spring lambs sold mainly at $21 to $22, a few topping at $22.50. Less than choice spring lambs, while held in line with the lower range established late last week, were still finding the better outlet to packers. Old crop yearling lambs cashed at strong prices, and sheep were steady.
 Good and choice slaughter spring lambs sold from $21 to $22.50 and cull to medium springers sold from $15 to $20. Stocker and feeder spring lambs sold from $18 to $20.
 Good and choice yearling lambs sold from $17 to $18.50, and cull to medium old crop lambs sold from $15 to $16.50. Feeder yearling wethers sold at $16.50 down. Yearling ewes sold from $19.50 down.
 Aged wethers drew $12 to $13.50, and two-year-olds reached $15. Old ewes drew $7 to $8.

HEREFORDS SELL JUNE 19; ANGUS SELL ON JUNE 20
 The stocker and feeder cattle sales staged at Fort Worth this season will all be two-day affairs. This arrangement was worked out with the convenience of the buyers who must travel a distance in mind, since it will enable them to see good commercial Southwestern Herefords on Thursdays and good commercial Angus stockers and feeders on Fridays.
 Thus the travel expense will be virtually halved for buyers who attend these affairs.
 The consignors will also find that the additional time will enable the salesmen to work the cattle out in more leisurely fashion and thus enable the commission firms themselves to contact their customers concerning filling orders for these cattle. This should strengthen the selling side considerably, since often a phone call is all that is needed to make the cattle bring that extra $50c or $1 per hundred.
 The first of these sales takes place Thursday, June 19th, and will feature the whitefaces. The second sale will be Friday, June 20th.
 Both events will be jointly sponsored by the Fort Worth Market Institute and the breed associations.
 Complete information, entry blanks, etc., may be obtained by contacting the Market Institute,

Knox Prairie Philosopher Admits The Economic Situation Is Confused, But He Claims It Always Has Been

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek writes about confusion this week, a topic he may be an authority on, if you get what we mean.
Dear editor:

According to an article I read last night in the Wall Street Journal — and how a copy of that paper got out here on my Johnson grass farm is no harder to explain than how some men got to be Congressmen, how some teachers ever got into teaching, how some men got married, how some women stay married, how some editors . . . this has gone far enough — at any rate, according to this article, the present economic situation is confused.

I have been thinking this over and I've decided it's right. The present economic situation is confused.

You take the car manufacturers. I understand they have about 800,000 new cars on hand and they're not moving fast enough, so a campaign to buy now was launched. Even President Eisenhower urged people to buy now. And what happens? The United States sees its foreign aid money wind up in the hands of a spend-thrift son of the Dominican Republic's dictator, who comes to this country and buys a foreign-made car for an imported actress. This is called getting nowhere fast.

But speaking of the surplus of cars and other products now bothering manufacturers, you mean to say the business tycoons haven't got more judgement than us dumb farmers? You mean to say they pile up surpluses the same as you and me? Everybody knows a farmer hasn't got any more sense than to keep on producing regardless of how big the surplus is, but I always figured big business was different.

This is the reason you can say the economic situation is confused. Everybody has come to expect the farmer to keep plowing and planting, filling up warehouses and depressing the market and writing letters to Congress, but I always figured big business was smarter.

However, this is a democratic country, and what's fair for one ought to be fair for another, and I'm proposing that Congress set up a Car Relief program with a Car Bank, etc. for the automobile industry. You let the industry keep on turning out cars and filling up warehouses and it won't be long till the price drops to nothing and car manufacturers and car dealers will be forced to give up and find a job in the country. This would be bad for the land.

The family-size car manufacturer and the family-size car dealer are necessary to the economy of this country, and if Congress is on its toes it'll work out this Car Bank idea immediately and keep things on an even keel.

I would like to say though that I'm not worried just because the economic situation is confused. It's always been that way with me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

ONE STAR Agriculture

FARMER INFORMATION ON DOUBTFUL SEED URGED

The Texas Seed Act, administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture, requires in part that each bag of seed sold or offered for sale in the state be tagged with a tested seed label stating the purity and germination quality of the bag's contents.

In determining the accuracy of information on seed tags, the department has inspectors throughout the state who draw regular samples from seed offered for sale, and these samples are tested in the department's seed laboratories.

In addition to this regular means of seed tag regulation, the department welcomes information from any farmer having reason to doubt the advertised germination properties of seed he has planted. Such reports will receive prompt attention, and where clear violations are found to exist, they will be dealt with according to provisions of the law.

QUARANTINE CONSIDERED ON ORNAMENTAL PLANT BLIGHT

Consideration is underway for a possible Texas quarantine on host plants of camelia petal blight, an ornamental plant disease which has been found in Louisiana, Georgia and California.

While the disease has not yet been found in Texas, there is danger of infestation from plants coming into the state. The blight is a serious disease which can render camelia plants useless as ornamental shrubs.

If imposed, the quarantine will require close inspection of all host plants entering Texas from other states, and only those plants found free of the disease will be admitted.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollis, M. D., State Health Officer

She is five years old and pretty, full of childish zest. She is also almost deaf.

Three weeks ago specialists found this black-haired, black-eyed youngster's hearing loss might one day be restored to the point where she might hear without a hearing aid.

She is one of four children — all of whom might otherwise have faced lifelong handicaps — who have been accepted for help under a new program of the State Department of Health.

Operated by the department's division of maternal and child health, the new service is intended for deaf and hard of hearing children living in areas covered by local health departments whose parents have limited income. Eligibility and appointment for service under the program is determined by the local health department director.

The Dallas Society for Crippled Children, in cooperation with the State Health Department, is set up to do examinations and to fit children with hearing aids if necessary. Additional centers will soon be set up in other areas.

Priority for helping meet costs of doctors' fees, laboratory work, x-rays, hearing aids, and other expenses is being given to parents of handicapped children under six years of age. Youngsters

Gems Of Thought

"HOPE"
A propensity to hope and joy is real riches; one to fear and sorrow, real poverty. — David Hume

Whatever enlarges hope will also exalt courage. — Samuel Johnson

In all things it is better to hope than to despair. — Goethe

That to-morrow starts from to-day and is one day beyond it, robes the future with hope's rainbow hues. — Mary Baker Eddy

Eternity is the divine treasure house, and hope is the window, by means of which mortals are permitted to see, as through a glass darkly, the things which God is preparing. — William Mountford of other ages may be accepted at the discretion of the department.

These are some of the main services given at the center to deaf or hard of hearing children:

A thorough examination will be made by a child specialist. Separate examinations are given by ear specialists, and by specialists in mental and emotional health. Exams include necessary x-ray and laboratory work.

The extent and type of hearing loss is checked, and if a hearing aid is necessary the youngsters is given one of the type which will do him the most good.

The department is unable to pay for treatment — even if it is recommended — but it will provide the drugs necessary for treatment. Drugs are furnished directly to local health department directors for use in individual cases.

The department will also try to help hard of hearing children, particularly those who have never learned to talk because of their hearing loss, get special training.

In many instances, parents of hard of hearing children are able to give special training to their children with assistance from the State Health Department.

Funds to support the program are limited, so it is necessary to get proper authorization before children can be accepted for the services.

Tom Johnson bought a book on a train — and thereby changed the whole course of his life.

A "news butch" came through with an armload of books and offered the traveler a copy of one to examine. Johnson began to read, became interested and when the vendor came back through, he paid for the volume.

The book was written by Henry George, the Single Tax philosopher.

Johnson was a millionaire business man whose chief interest up until the moment he opened the book was to make money. But, as he read, he caught an entirely new vision of the meaning of life. And, from that time until his death, he devoted his chief efforts to serving others. As the mayor of Cleveland, he achieved national renown.

A man said, "I was in Houston recently and had a room which was only $4. The time before that, I stayed at the same hotel and paid $6 for a room. And I liked the $4 room better. You want to know why? I liked the $4 room better because it cost $4."

A good many years ago, a noted circus clown died. He requested that, at the service, "Moonlight and Roses" be played.

All the years that audiences had laughed at his grotesque clothes, his painted face and his antics, he had secretly yearned for music, beauty and romance.

On a train, I heard a lady ask the conductor, "What time do you have?"

He looked at his watch and told her. She inquired, "Is that about right?" He said, "Madam,

BUILDING YOUR HOME

When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details!

1. Your lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, but find out —

(a) Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvements for which you can be assessed.

(b) What "covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford to?

(c) Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings; for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in a residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Codes: Be certain that the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4. Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Unit had better be exactly right; this train is running on it."

If a man is a "sound sleeper", does that mean that he snores?

der a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some of your money back on the principal; but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in re-selling the house.

Well worked-out contracts can help your dream house come true. A construction contract or a so-called "earnest money" agreement or receipt is no job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved. Your lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and closing real estate deals.

You know what you want. You should be careful to get what you want through careful planning and a properly prepared and executed contract.

New USDA Potato Grading Standards Effective July 15

Potato growers and handlers of this area will begin operating under a new schedule of grading standards on July 15, according to an announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The revised standards, the first major changes in potato grades in 25 years, were developed by the USDA with close cooperation of trade representatives. Suggestions for further improvements have been invited.

Under the new standards, there will be no U. S. Extra No. 1 grade. Instead, there will be a newly defined U. S. Fancy grade, similar to the former U. S. Extra No. 1, except that it calls for higher requirements for maturity, shape and cleanliness.

In addition, the new standards involve modifying the definitions of "damage" and "serious damage," to improve the accepted standards of U. S. No. 1, U. S. Commercial and U. S. No. 2 grades.

Scoring of defects in all grades now is based solely upon the individual potato, not on the general appearance of defective potatoes in the lot. Changes in size classifications also are included and tolerance for oversize is reduced from 15 to 10 per cent. A new Size C classification has been established to include potatoes ranging from 1 inch to 1½ inches in diameter.

Copies of the new standards may be secured from the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA, Washington 25, D. C.

NEW OLIVER BALERS

Twine-Tie and Wire-Tie
Turn Shorter, Handle Easier,
Bale Faster

Here's real top-speed baling. You can turn out as much as ten tons per hour with Oliver's new models—the twine-tie Model 60-T and the wire-tie Model 60-W—even in small, hilly, irregular fields.

A short-coupled "pivot-balanced" PTO is the answer. You can cramp the tractor wheels right up to the bale case, roll around the sharpest corner without letup. You never need shut off PTO power. You save time on every turn you make...get hay safely in bales when it's at its best.

Both models are equipped with new, leaf-saving pickups with positive drive, new knife guides to slice bales cleanly, and many other advances. You get a swinging drawbar, weatherproof twine or wire can, 5-way protection from damage, and quick, easy adjustment of bale length—12 to 50 inches. Twine- and wire-tie units are easy to interchange. Overrunning clutch and engine available as special equipment.
