

CATTLE OPEN STRONG, SPOTS ARE HIGHER
 Fort Worth — Cattle and calves cleared at fully steady to strong prices at Fort Worth Monday. Receipts were the smallest since early Spring due to storms and heavy rainfall in the territory. Trade was extremely active and most sales indicated some advances in prices as compared with late last week, especially on stocker calves and cattle. Except tion to higher prices were plain short-fed steers. Visitors to the market were in agreement that the rains of the past few days have assured pasture and stock water in most sections of the State until late summer or fall. The rains were deemed certain to increase the demand for stocker cattle in virtually all parts of the Southwest im-

ELECTRONIC AGE COMES TO LIVESTOCK MARKET

Close contact between livestock buyers and the packing plants has always been a problem which received a great deal of study, since in the delicately balanced scales of supply and demand, knowledge of surplus or shortage spelled power.
 Last week cattlemen and marketmen alike were surprised to see Armour & Company cattle and calf men start their rounds on the stockyards at Fort Worth wearing packs on their backs which sprouted red-tipped antennae.
 The electronic age of communication had come to the Fort Worth market and while the buyers literally chafed under their burdens, they truly burned over some of the wry kidding they got from competitors.
 In the early days the quickest communication possible between plant and buyers was runners. Many top men in the packing business started as fleet-footed runners with written or typed messages.
 Later the telegraph era came and runners carried telegrams from Chicago and other points keeping buyers abreast of needs and prices.
 Then most of this information switched to telephones and on the yards a man is seldom more than two dozen strides from a telephone and a public address system can tell him to call in in a matter of minutes.
 Now comes the instantaneous shortwave radio beam to make contact even quicker.
 Under today's highly competitive meat trade where chain stores may contract for millions of pounds of meat, the packer getting that contract may add handsomely to his profits if he can alert his buyers before competitors find out the contracts have been let.

 When these instruments were installed at Chicago, it was reported that a commissionman bought a transistor radio receiver, tuned it in on the packer's wave length and for a while had access to useful information. However a simple code offset this device.

Cab Drivers Pass On Safe Driving Pointers

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

CHAUFFEURING YOUNGSTERS to school, basketball games, scout meetings and the like is a big responsibility, calling for expert, careful driving.

Miss Smith

These professionals know that certain driving techniques and habits can prevent passenger injuries and serious accidents. Clarence Dunbar, director of safety for a leading Los Angeles cab company, has offered the following suggestions to insure the safety of young occupants in your car:

1. Learn how to make smooth, even stops. Children can be thrown to the car floor by a sudden, hard stop.
2. Always shut doors yourself, and never move until you are positive that all doors are securely closed and locked.

3. No excuse is acceptable for a runaway vehicle with youngsters inside. So never leave children in the car with the motor running. The reasons are obvious; children are fascinated by gadgets and seldom can resist the urge to investigate.

4. Likewise, when you park on a grade, turn the wheels toward the curb, put the car in reverse gear, set the handbrake—and remove the key from the ignition.

5. Under no circumstances should you discharge passengers on the traffic side of the street. Children are always in a hurry, but it's worth a few extra seconds to make sure that they leave the car safely on the curb side. Caution them to exit slowly and not to "run wild" once released.

Just as it's the cab driver's job to insure the safety and comfort of his passengers, it's your duty, when you're behind the wheel, to protect the welfare of your young passengers.

Lee Bowden And Jo Ann Booe To Wed In August

Wedding plans for Miss Jo Ann Booe and Lee Bowden have been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Booe. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Bowden of Munday.

Wedding vows will be exchanged at 4 p. m. Sunday, August 31, in the First Baptist Church, with Rev. Mart Hardin, pastor of the First Baptist Church of O'Brien, officiating.

The bride-elect is a 1938 graduate of Munday High School, and is now employed at the Rexall Drug Store.

Her fiance attended Texas Tech at Lubbock, and at present is employed with the Leflar Flying Service in Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wardlaw visited Mr. and Mrs. Dorse Wardlaw and family in Fort Worth over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Conwell accompanied by their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Adlong of Abilene, visited relatives and friends in Fort Worth over the holidays.

Banding Crews End Banding Of Whitewing Doves

Recent white-winged dove banding operations in Mexico by the Game and Fish Commission personnel have been completed, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration. During a 10-day period 934 white-winged doves were banded.

Bird counts on established census lines in northeastern Mexico indicated decreases in the breeding population ranging from 38 to 46 per cent below the 1937 counts. There was a three-day open season last year.

The project just closed was to determine the status of distribution of the whitewing in Mexico. Whether a season can be recommended again for this year will depend on further investigations of the crop in the Rio Grande valley.

Last year's season netted six banded whitewings from Mexico. "These were bonus birds," said P. B. Uzzell, Project Leader of the Mexican operation. "If any appreciable number of Mexican birds come to the Texas side, they will be bonus birds for Texas hunters."

A beautiful 30-minute 16mm sound color picture now is available for showing before groups. It can be obtained by writing to the film booking department of the Game and Fish Commission in Austin.

Joyce Lee Voss And Ray Lynn Hardin To Marry On August 16

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Voss are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their granddaughter, Miss Joyce Lee Voss, to Ray Lynn Hardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hardin of Vera.

The couple plan their marriage for 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening, August 16, in the Gillespie Baptist Church.

HOPES SOAR AS WILDLIFE MAKES RALLY

AUSTIN—Nature will not regret any of the smiles currently being bestowed on Texas, reports the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

"It begins to look like the old days," he said. "Fat deer, strutting wild turkeys, cooling doves, mating bobwhites—the entire Animal Kingdom is making Spring pop out all over."

"Field men describe almost ideal conditions in almost all parts of the state, as food and cover seems destined to be restored to the pre-drought status. Of course, the weather could turn dry again. But, man, this seems like the real start on a fine comeback for all species."

The Director, who is a national authority on wild turkey culture, said he was particularly happy over the first genuine prospects for a normal turkey hatch in the last six or seven years.

Texas was noted for having more wild turkeys than all other states put together before the drought scourged the ranges and decimated the flocks.

"Now," said the Director, "cover is generally adequate and native feed should be plentiful."

He said brood stock is "fairly satisfactory" for turkeys as well as for other game animals and birds. "With moisture," he pointed, "We can regain much of our losses in a hurry."

The Director explained that the usual negative phases accompany a wet spring. "Turbulent weather dislodges some dove nests, ground nesting birds get rained out, and wet periods are conducive to deadly screw worms in fawn deer," he said. "But those things are comparatively minor compared to the overall benefits."

He noted Game Warden Tom Waddell's report from Eagle Lake that Colorado County's exclusive stock of prairie chickens already have moved to higher ground for renesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Bell and children spent the Fourth of July in Breckenridge visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Bell and son.

Doctors Warn On Use Of Iron In Health Pills

Do you take—or are your children taking—iron in tonics or pills to relieve a diet deficiency, or as a body builder?

A recent article in the official organ of the American Medical Association warns: "the problem of acute toxicity" must be considered. And adds "an increasing number of near-fatal and fatal poisonings have been reported."

Ordinary iron compounds—given for iron-deficiency anemia—may result in severe gastric upsets. If accidentally taken in large amounts, they can be poisonous. However, a new iron compound called Iron Choline Citrate is reported in the same Medical Journal as far safer and equally useful.

In one test, it was given to 131 patients with "outstanding" results. Treatment was effective and no serious disturbances appeared.

Iron Choline Citrate is available by doctor's prescription as Ferrolip and Chel-iron.

Farm Safety Week Begins July 20th

"The health, prosperity, and well-being of our rural families are vital to the strength of the Nation and accidents suffered by rural residents result in thousands of deaths and injuries each year and constitute a serious social and economic problem," said President Eisenhower in his proclamation announcing National Farm Safety Week for 1958.

In setting the week of July 20 as Farm Safety Week, the President also said, "Experience has shown that these accidents can be reduced through educational programs directed toward safety precautions in the homes, in the fields, and on the highways of the Nation. I, therefore, call upon the people of the Nation to observe Farm Safety Week and urge all farm families and all persons allied with agriculture to join in a continuing campaign to prevent needless accidents."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council has pledged their support to this campaign and join the President in requesting all persons and organizations interested in the welfare of farm people to participate in National Farm Safety Week activities.

In the United States last year, almost 13,000 farm people lost their lives in accidents and more than a million suffered injuries. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council suggests that a little checking be done in every neighborhood for the purpose of finding and eliminating accident hazards. "How many persons do you know who have suffered crippling injuries and how many neighbors are gone forever because of an accident?"

"Only by finding the cause and then making sure the same mistake isn't made by someone else, can we cut the farm and home toll of accidents," say the Councilmen. "Safety," they point out, "works for you when you work for safety." Don't tempt fate in '58 but put safety to work on your farm. It will save you time and money, and could save your life or a member of your family. Safety is that important, conclude the Councilmen.

The sting nematode, one of the more damaging nematodes in the Southeastern States, was found recently in Texas corn fields, reports Don C. Norton, assistant professor, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

Traffic Accidents Take More Lives Than Tragedies In Texas Through Years

AUSTIN — J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today that Texans are becoming "case-hardened" to fatal traffic accidents. Accepting them as a part of routine news and not as state and national disasters.

"The Galveston flood of 1900 with its 6,000 fatalities; the Texas coast hurricane of 1915 and 375 dead; the New London school explosion in 1937 costing 294 children their lives; Texas City's 550 dead in 1947; and, the Waco tornado of five years ago with its toll of 114 lives; these represent some of Texas' worst disasters. They are headlines of yesterday and they won't soon be forgotten," Musick said.

"But the combined death toll (7,333) from these tragedies falls short of the 7,697 lives lost on Texas streets and highways in just the past three years.

"In fact, in the twenty years since the New London explosion, traffic smashups have claimed more than 40,000 lives in the Lone Star state. We are apparently becoming case-hardened to reports of these motorized, because we continue to tolerate them in spite of published, effective measures of accident prevention."

The safety expert was speaking in behalf of TSA's current Slow Down and Live campaign, which is being conducted by the state-wide organization during summer's peak vacation months — and urges drivers to reduce their speed.

Musick said that speed was the contributing factor in 57 percent of Texas' rural fatal accidents in 1957. Thus making the Slow Down and Live program a campaign that is directed at the heart of the traffic problem.

Publications recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service include B-892, "Weed Control in Texas Pastures," and L-311, "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects." Both may be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

The House pared almost One Billion Dollars off the request that the President had made for funds for the Mutual Security Program for next year. This amounts to almost a 30% reduction from what the President asked for. Even though this is a substantial reduction, there undoubtedly is room for more reduction.

Final approval was given last week to a bill which would extend the time for handling previously made emergency livestock loans. It is expected that the President will approve the bill which gives the Farmers Home Administration an additional two years for collections of emergency livestock loans made during the drought.

Now that Alaska is the Forty-Ninth State of the Union, it is interesting to point out that it is twice the size of Texas containing Five Hundred Eighty-Six Thousand square miles. Alaska was purchased by the United States from Russia ninety-one years ago for a little over Seven Million Dollars. Even though Alaska has only One Hundred Sixty Thousand people, beginning next year, she will have two Senators and one Member of the House representing her here in Washington.

The House passed a bill to clarify the confusion that had existed as a result of the recent Supreme Court Case which held that the holding of a defendant in a criminal case for a seven hour period before arraignment was unnecessary delay. One veteran law enforcing officer had correctly stated that if this case remained the law, that we just as well not try to ever arrest a criminal and put him in jail.

The President signed into law a bill extending the present rate of taxation on corporations and existing excise taxes on automobiles, cigarettes, and liquor. The same bill contained a provision repealing the 3% Federal excise tax on transportation of property which repeals this tax on August 1st.

A large part of us might prefer to forget all about income tax payments after April 15 and not worry about it again until at least April 14, 1959 when we have to file our 1958 Federal income tax return. Of course, it doesn't pay to do this.

When you read in the paper about John Doe being worth a few million dollars, you can bet that he didn't forget about his income tax except on April 15. It will arouse the wrath of sun worshippers, but this must be said: The healthful effects of a suntan aren't worth the time and trouble it takes to get one. After all, a sunburn — like any other burn — is a manifestation of a skin injury.

True, a sensible bask in the sun makes a fine mental pick-me-up, and there is no denying the supple appeal of a tawny life-guard. But to overdo it can lead to trouble. In fact it can kill you. More than one person has succumbed to prolonged and unaccustomed exposure to the sun.

Even at best, overexposure can mean two or three miserable days when a mere shirt or blouse is torture, and a friendly pat on the back can end in murder.

The medical term for sunburn is "erythema solaris." It's the ultra-violet light in sun rays which does the damage. And since clouds don't remove all ultra-violet rays, it is possible to get burned even on overcast days in mid-summer.

Some people are physically unable to tan. Known medically as "heliophobes," they could spend the entire summer on Padre Island, and all they'd get would be blisters on their blisters. The reason: Their skins lack the pigment necessary to produce the tan tint. They never had a tan and they never will, so they ought never attempt one. Each new exposure will only mean a new burn.

Assuming you are the type who can tan, a "heliophilac" that is — the well-known rule about doing it by progressively longer exposure times is valid and should be followed.

Sunshine is a source of vitamin D, as most people know. What is apparently misunderstood is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the D vitamin they need through routine activities such as hanging out the family wash, mowing the lawn, or walking to the store.

For persons suffering from pellagra, lung tuberculosis, high blood pressure, or hyperthyroidism sunlight may be definitely harmful.

In case you have wondered about the source of freckles, here's the answer: The color of everyone's skin is determined by the amount of pigment in skin cells. Dark-complexioned people have considerable blonde, very little, and albinos none at all. Under a microscope the pigment in skin cells looks like tiny flecks of brown paint. Sometimes, especially in children, it is manufactured unevenly and collects in the spots we know as freckles.

Ultra-violet rays can be filtered, fortunately, by smearing a thin film of olive oil over exposed skin. So if you're a heliophilac, and if you just have to have that golden sheen this summer, it might pay you to try it.

Mrs. R. W. Hightower, Suzanne and Kenneth, of Dallas visited her mother, Mrs. A. E. Wombie and other relatives the first of this week. Kenneth and Suzanne remained for a longer visit.

Costs of dairy farming now favor the mechanization of chore work, but operators planning to mechanize should carefully balance estimated cost against expected net returns, says A. M. Meekma extension dairy husbandman.

Mulling with Muller. By Edna M. Muller.

Thanksgiving is a homey day—a day when interests center around the family gathering and, of course, around the table full of scrumptious food. It's one of the special times, too, when a table centerpiece plays such an important part in the beautiful arrangement.

One of the prettiest centerpieces I think I've seen is one with fresh fruit and nuts generously cascading out of a cornucopia (a horn of plenty). So reminiscent of the first American Thanksgiving when our Pilgrim forebears gave thanks for a rich harvest.

Had so many nice notes on this turkey stuffing, thought it worth repeating. Add to package of good prepared stuffing, 1/2 lb. (loose) sausage, 1 finely cut onion, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 1/2 lb. melted butter, and 2 raw eggs (unbeaten). Blend ingredients together well. (Add a little water if you prefer the dressing more moist.) Ready now for a 10-14 lb. bird.

A recent survey shows that home furnishings and appliances rated high on the list of Christmas presents chosen by Mrs. Homemaker last year. In six cities out of fifteen surveyed, electric washers rated first choice among appliances, and dryers came in second. Seems to me many jokes have been made about a husband giving his spouse an electric washing machine as a gift, but usually the woman chooses such a gift herself and DOES consider it a luxury!

Aside from the tremendous new technical improvements that save time, energy and money, the new washers and dryers come in such wonderful decorator colors and have such advanced styling, like the Sheer Look of Frigid-aire, that they positively do look like luxury instead of utilitarian assets!

It's not too early for the woman without up-to-the-minute laundry equipment to start planning and "planting" the idea of her Christmas surprises now!
