FARM SAFETY WEEK

There's one coming event which every farm family in this country should welcome with enthusiasm. It's Farm Safety Week, to be observed during the July 20-26 period.

Farmers face all the common hazards of modern living. In addition, in the pursuit of their calling, they encounter special accident hazards all their own.

For example, take tractors and other mechanized farm equipment. These machines are absolutely essential to successful modern farming. The machinery engineers never lose sight of the safety factor. New safety devices are incorporated in the designs as soon as they are proven. Careful instructions concerning safe operation are issued. But all the precautions on earth will do no good if the users violate common-sense rules.

Youngsters are permitted to operate machines — and every so often a tragic and totally unnecessary death or maiming results. Farmers drive unlighted or inadequately lighted equipment on public roads at night — and the immutable law of averages says that this practice must end in disaster at frequent intervals.

Mechanically minded farmers sometimes get ideas for making changes in their equipment, or in adding accessories of their own design and construction. More often than not, this creates new dangers to the operator. It's a rare farmer indeed who has the engineering knowledge, the skill, and the facilities to improve on what the factory has done.

During Farm Safety Week, authorities will deal with all manner of farm hazards and show how they can be eliminated or minimized. It's an opportunity that agricultural America can't afford to miss.

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "

The International Woodworkers . . . voted to extend their present contract with lumber and plywood employers in the Northwest . . . The IWA membership in the Northwest is about 45,000 men and it would have been a calamity for these workers to have to go on strike while the business is so hard-pressed anyway. It shows that the leadership in this union — which was once regarded as one of the most radical wings of organized labor — has either grown up or recognized the futility of demanding more money at this particular time . . .

A VACATION HAZARD

Preparing for vacations takes work. Luggage must be checked, clothes bought, reservations booked, milk and newspaper deliveries stopped, electricity and telephone shut off, house plants, gardens, lawns and pets provided for.

If you are going abroad you need passports, visas, guide books and a whole series of vaccinations. This year there should be a new vaccine on your required list — the Salk vaccine.

But even if you are not leaving the country, vacation time is still a dangerous time for polio infection. One reason lies in the nature of the virus.

There are actually three types of polio virus that cause paralysis. They are known as Type 1, or the Brunhilde type, named after a chimpanzee from whom it was first recovered; Type 2, or the Lansing type, from Lansing, Mich., where it was first identified; and Type 3, or the Leon type, named after a Los Angeles boy who died of it.

In different parts of the country one type may, at any given time, be more prevalent than the others. If, for instance, you are going from California, where the Leon type may be most prevalent, to New York, where the Brunhilde type may be most prevalent, your natural immunity may no longer protect you. Or, even if you stay home, an influx of vacationers may bring in other virus types heretofore less prevalent in your area.

The virtue of the Salk vaccine is that it protects you against all three types. But unless you have been vaccinated yourself, you cannot be sure of immunity. Play safe and make vaccination a part of your vacation preparations.

Ten years ago there were only two toll roads in operation in this country, with combined length of just over 200 miles, according to Tax Economics Bulletin. Now that mileage has been multiplied almost 15 times, and there are major toll roads in 16 states. Construction costs totaled $4,241,000,000.

Tide, the advertising magazine, offers three reasons why the American people aren't buying American cars at anything resembling past rates: ". . . they aren't ready to go into hock for an out-dated status symbol; they have other things they want to spend their money on; and many of them just don't care for the product they're being offered . . ."

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter
 HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

June is a month of much eating out-of-doors. June is also dairy month. The two go hand in hand, for dairy foods fit right into dishes for out-of-door meals.

A salad is almost a must with barbecue, fried chicken or sandwich meals. While not a good traveler, green salad goes well with any of the three and is good for backyard serving. A last minute tossing with dressing, then a quick trip from kitchen to table and its crisp and delicious. Add grated American, Swiss or Parmesan cheese to lettuce or mixed salad greens, season with salt, pepper, garlic, a dash of Worcestershire and toss with salad oil and lemon juice. 1/2 cup oil and 1/3 cup lemon juice is about right for 3 quarts salad greens.

Sliced baked ham served cold is delicious with sour cream horseradish sauce. Whip 1 cup sour cream, add 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar and gradually stir in 6 tablespoons grated horseradish. In case of a fish fry, this sauce is equally good with fish.

Almost as often as out-of-door meals are served, potato salad will be made. Cubes of golden American cheese do wonders for it. Add 1 1/2 cups of 1/4 inch cubes to about 3 cups diced cooked potatoes and proceed as usual. Sour cream fits potato salad too, but leave out the cheese. For a recipe using 3 cups diced cooked potatoes and the customary hard-cooked eggs, celery, pickles and seasonings, make a dressing of 1 cup sour cream, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar. Blend the dressing, pour it over the salad and toss until well mixed. Chill at least 1 hour before serving.

For dessert easy to eat and easy to serve, fresh fruit and cookies are hard to beat. Always popular, they are good to have a long for snacks if the out-of-doors occasion is an all day affair.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Malted Milk Drop Cookies: Sift together 2 1/4 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cream 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1 1/4 cups sugar and 1/4 cup malted milk powder. Mix in 2 eggs, 1 cup buttermilk and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients and 1 cup chopped pecans, if desired. Chill dough for several hours. Drop by teaspoons on light greased baking sheet. Bake in hot gas

Lynda Ann Warren Tommie G. Stevens Marry in Plainview

Miss Lynda Ann Warren and Tommie Gene Stevens were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony Saturday evening, June 7, in the First Christian Church of Plainview.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Warren and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stevens, all of Plainview.

Rev. Arthur Digby, Jr., First Christian pastor, directed the service as the couple stood before the altar decorated with floor baskets of pink and red carnations and gladioli and candelabras with pink 'apers before a background of greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white imported Chantilly lace and tulle over net and taffeta, designed with a figurine bodice terminating in a point at center front waistline, the portrait neckline outlined with applied medallions of lace, and the long sleeves extending to petal points at the wrist. The voluminous floor length skirt was made entirely of alternating tiers of lace and tulle.

Miss Pat Brock was maid of honor, and Misses Linda Goodwin and Edna Brown and Mrs. Earl Stanley were bridesmaids. Kelly Jo Leflar of Munday and Lori Peterson of Phoenix, Ariz., were flower girls.

The bride's brother, Johnny Warren, and the bridegroom's sister, Linda Stevens, lighted the candles. Jerry Warren, cousin of the bride, served as best man, and Dickie Warren, another brother, and Dell Graham, ushered.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Assisting in the houseparty were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Wayne Crawford of Kress and Mrs. Don Alexander of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Welton Leflar of Munday and Mrs. Marvin Warren of Plainview were in charge of the bride's book.

The bride's grandparents were among the out of town guests. They are Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Warren of Munday and Mrs. J. C. Morton of Goree.

After the reception, the couple left for Fort Worth to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hulse honored their house guest, Miss Joy White of Wichita Falls, and Miss Margaret Harrell, with a barbecue supper last Friday night.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with grateful hearts that we say thanks to our many friends for the many expressions of sympathy received in the recent loss of our loved one, Pat Hall, of Bakersfield, Calif. One-Step Method Makes Canning Easy

The latest method for canning vegetables is a one-step cold-pack method.

Directions are simple . . . As an example, take snap beans. Begin by washing all pint or quart jars in hot soapy water and rinse well. It is not necessary to sterilize jars since the pressure canner must be used in canning all non-acid vegetables.

Use only fresh, young, tender beans. The bean should just be beginning to form in the pod. Wash thoroughly, trim ends and cut into 1-inch pieces.

Thus far there is nothing different from the old method of canning snap beans. Now you will note that the fill is different.

Pack raw beans tightly into clean jars to 1/2 inch of top. Cover with boiling water, again leaving 1/2 inch space at the top of the jar. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints and 1 teaspoon to quarts.

Close jar with two-piece lid and place it in the pressure canner. Exhaust canner for 10 minutes, close petcock and process at 10 pounds pressure — pint jars 20 minutes, quart jars 25 minutes. Remove canner from heat, let pressure return to zero and remove jars. This new one-step method can also be used for canning fresh lima beans, carrots, cream style corn, whole kernel corn, black-eye peas and summer squash.

For further information check with me at the courthouse in Benjamin. You may also wish to ask for a copy of B-194, "Home Canning — Fruits and Vegetables." — S. C. Kinsey

County Council Meets On Friday

The Knox County Home Demonstration Council met Friday, June 6, in the assembly room in Benjamin.

In the absence of both the chairman and the vice-chairman, the secretary, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, called the meeting to order and Mrs. O. R. Miller of Gilliland was elected Chairman pro tem.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Ernest Beck of Vera giving Edgar A. Guest's poem "Myself," and a prayer by Mrs. L. A. Parker. All clubs were represented and reports were given by the club presidents. Each club reported two meetings for May and Mother's Day and National Home Demonstration Week were observed.

The agent Miss Kinsey stated that two club women from Foard County will be in Benjamin on June 25 at 9:30 a. m. to give a demonstration on dried flower arrangement. The living room leaders and others interested are asked to be present. A food leader training meeting will be given in the assembly room June 20th at 9 a. m. The council meeting was changed from July 4th to July 1st.

The agent gave a brief report on the food survey taken in several Texas counties. Mrs. Miller reported on time used by club members spent in food preparation, members doing home sewing and members who work outside the home.

All quarterly reports are to be given at the July council meeting. Each club member is to have a gift at council to be auctioned. Delegates to state meeting in Austin August 13, 14, 15 were elected: Mesdames. H. F. Elles of Vera, R. M. Almanrode of Munday and H. M. Black of Truscott. Mesdames. W. T. Cook of Gilliland and L. A. Parker of Benjamin were elected alternates.

More and more farm people are supplementing their incomes with off-farm employment, notes A. B. Wooten, extension economist. In recent years the ratio from non-farm sources, compared to farm sources, has been about one to two. This means that farm residents are making a $1 from non-farm jobs for each $2 they make on the farm.

New USDA Potato Grading Standards Effective July 15

Potato growers and handlers of this area will begin operating under a new schedule of grading standards on July 15, according to an announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The revised standards, the first major changes in potato grades in 25 years, were developed by the USDA with close cooperation of trade representatives. Suggestions for further improvements have been invited.

Under the new standards, there will be no U. S. Extra No. 1 grade. Instead, there will be a newly defined U. S. Fancy grade, similar to the former U. S. Extra No. 1, except that it calls for higher requirements for maturity, shape and cleanliness.

In addition, the new standards involve modifying the definitions of "damage" and "serious damage", to improve the accepted standards of U. S. No. 1, U. S. Commercial and U. S. No. 2 grades.

Scoring of defects in all grades now is based solely upon the individual potato, not on the general appearance of defective potatoes in the lot. Changes in size classifications also are included and tolerance for oversize is reduced from 15 to 10 percent. A new Size C classification has been established to include potatoes ranging from 1 inch to 1½ inches in diameter.

Copies of the new standards may be secured from the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA, Washington, 25, D. C.

Funds Exhausted For Polio Care

The Knox County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has used up all available local polio-fighting funds and has had to turn to national headquarters for help.

This was revealed today by Mrs. Neil Perdue, chapter chairman, when she announced the receipt of a check for $2,000.00 from the national headquarters of the March of Dimes organization.

"The money will be used to assist local polio patients with hospital, medical and appliance bills," Mrs. Perdue said. "Although there have been no 'new' polio cases in our area so far this year, this money is vitally needed for the rehabilitation of 'old' cases. Some of the patients now being helped were stricken in 1951."

Knox County's situation illustrates the national polio problem today, according to Mrs. Perdue. "New" cases continue to decline, but the cost of taking care of "old" cases has declined very little. Last year, about 90 percent of all March of Dimes patient aid funds went to help persons who were stricken with polio in 1956 or earlier.

Locally, 4 polio patients are being helped by the March of Dimes organization.

The polio chapter chairman also stressed the importance of all three Salk shots for residents of this area.

"The fact that there is a successful polio vaccine sitting on drugstore shelves is no guarantee that there will not be polio epidemics this summer," Mrs. Perdue said. "The vaccine has to be injected into people's arms to do any good. I urge all persons to see their doctor or the local health department about starting their series of three Salk shots right now."

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Denham and children of Leuders visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hannah, last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Cecil Voss visited her sisters, Mrs. Gene Camp and Mrs. Ben Tinney, in Wichita Falls last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bryum of Snyder visited her sister, Mrs. J. S. Kendall, and her nieces, Mrs. J. T. Offutt, Mrs. G. E. Rodgers and Mrs. Lonnie Offutt, last week.

Poor milking methods, including mismanagement of milking machines, are the greatest single cause of mastitis, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

chev told Americans via a television interview that Communism would eventually win its contest with Capitalism.

The Russian leader was not threatening a hot war. Instead, he based his prediction on the claim that the Soviet Union would in five years outstrip the United States in the per-capita production of meat, milk, and butter plus other agricultural products.

In a word, he was reminding us that a nation is only as strong as its agriculture. But while Russia still appears to have an edge in "Sputniks", that nation is far behind us in farming methods — yet is determined to catch up. Fortunately, we are not lagging in our scientific achievements in agriculture. The Russians will have quite a way to go if they catch us because our own progress in farming has been phenomenal.

In 1939, when World War II broke out in Europe, American farmers produced a 2½-billion bushel corn crop on 88 million acres. Last year, they produced 32 per cent more corn on 17 per cent less land. Since 1939, the national wheat crop has risen from 740 to 940 million bushels, but harvested acres have gone down from 52½ to 43½ million. Compared with 1939, farmers last year reduced cotton acreage by 45 percent, and still produced 95 percent as much cotton.

The story is the same with livestock. In 1956, dairymen had nearly 3 million fewer cows than in 1940, but each cow produced two-thirds of a ton more milk. For every two eggs a hen laid in 1940, her descendant is laying about three today. Nearly 100 million cattle and horses grazed the same acreage that in 1940 supported only 83 million head.

A pig crop of 90 million in 1956 compares with only 80 million produced on the same farm in 1940.

All told, our farmers today are producing 40 percent more from about the same acreage they had in 1939.

Figures on manpower required to do the job also are significant. In World War I, our farm commodities were produced by 13½ million workers; in World War II by 10½ million, and today by only 7½ million.

The efforts of our agricultural scientists underlie much of this spectacular gain. Their research has practically changed the face of American agriculture. But in the long run, it was the American farmer, himself, who completed the job.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

New bread standards go into effect July 1, to assure that you get the kind of bread you pay for.

After that date, if you buy a loaf of cinnamon-raisin bread and it doesn't have raisins in it, the baker is subject to action.

The standards will require all bread and rolls to be properly labeled so as to truthfully reflect their ingredients and nutritional qualities.

Patterned after federal food standards, they will be administered by the State Health Department's Food and Drug Division.

A majority of the baking industry fully supports the standards.

Labeling means much more than a colorful wrapping around a loaf of bread. It includes, among other things, the advertising claims made by the baker for his product.

A food is misbranded when its labeling is false or misleading in any particular, if it is offered for sale under the name of another food, or if it is an imitation of another food (unless its label bears in prominent type the word "imitation" and immediately thereafter the name of the food imitated).

Bread is also mislabeled if it purports to be or is represented as a food for which a "standard of identity" has been described and it fails to conform to that standard.

Standards not only protect consumers in the marketplace; they also protect honest manufacturer-ers by assuring fair competition. The consumer may select and serve standardized foods with complete confidence in their composition and integrity.

The law's basic requirements for clean handling, informative labeling and no adulteration gives consumers an insight into the purity, wholesomeness and nutritious quality of the product.

Bread labels must show net weight or numerical count of the product, such as "net weight, one pound," or "one dozen doughnuts," and the name of the product such as "Smith's Enriched Bread," or "Jones' Raisin Bread."

While there is no specific requirements as to type size, the standards do provide that the label shall be considered false if the information is not prominently displayed in such a manner that it can be easily read.

You, as a consumer of bread and rolls, can help make the new standards work by carefully reading the label on the bread you buy.

A year or two ago Uvalde celebrated its hundredth birthday and I was invited back as a "prominent" former citizen. (I had attended the fifth grade there.) In fact, the Committee invited me to make the principal address at the high school reunion — with H. B. Zachry, the owner of San Antonio's vast Transit Tower (formerly the Smith-Young Building) as a five-minute speaker, first. That really was a case of poor casting, as they would say in theatrical language for he should have been the headliner.

But downright embarrassing was taking part in the parade. Former Vice President John N. Garner, wearing an old-time duster, was in the lead in a horse-drawn coach, with the top down; then came a car with Lt. Gen. J. H. Collier, Major Gen. William D. Old and Lt. Col. Mattie Treadwell, historian of the Wacs — all of these celebrities being former Uvaldeans; and then in the No. 2 car sat "I Give You Texas." (I hope that Harry Hornby will publish this in the Uvalde Leader-News for the record so the several thousand viewers will know who that fellow was.)

An advantage of being up at the front of a parade — if you are in it at all — is that you get through first and then can watch the procession. There were numerous attractive floats: one of a steamboat and another showing water flowing down rocks (this represented Junction) being especially impressive.

It is interesting to note that two movie stars, Dale Evans and Dana Andrews, once lived in Uvalde. The town has wide streets and many trees and you can hear the doves cooing. Around the plaza are the courthouse, the post office and the city hall, each in a square.

The corner where my father's bowling alley (actually the game was boxball) stood in 1908 has a filling station now. But I recognized several landmarks — the Opera House where I attended several shows and the baseball park, where a mind-reader (blindfolded and driving a spirited team to a buggy) found a key which opened a lock-box which contained a ring which had been hidden — (which sentence probably holds the world's record for "whiffs").

I was glad I returned for Uvalde's Centennial.

And they promised to invite me back for the next celebration, 100 years later.

EVIDENCE
A trial aims to settle a dispute when the parties fail to do it themselves. For this the court needs facts.
Simple? Well, no. For if the parties could agree on the facts, a settlement out of court would be easy. But as a rule each side has its own story, and the trial judge or jury must hear witnesses and view physical evidence to decide what took place. In doing this the court applies the rules of evidence. It took centuries for the court to work out rules by which a judge can say what is proper or improper evidence.

FORMER GOVERNOR'S DAUGHTER CONGRATULATED: Miss Nancy Paxton Moody of Austin, daughter of former governor and Mrs. Dan Moody, is shown being congratulated by Texas Supreme Court Judge Joe Greenhill after she was granted a license to practice by the State's highest civil tribunal along with 200 other law school graduates in Texas. Miss Moody had the highest scholastic average of her graduating class at The University of Texas Law School.

1. In "hearsay," for example, someone who did not see the event reports what someone told him about it. Courts seldom allow such evidence, except in rare cases such as where the dying words, say, of a murdered person may be vital.

For one thing, courts frown upon hearsay because no one in court can cross-examine the eyewitness to find out what actually took place, or to judge whether his story merits belief.

2. Irrelevant testimony will also be barred by the judge. It is testimony which has no bearing on the case, even though it may be true enough.

Suppose in a battery case the jury has to find out whether Jones knocked Smith down or not. The judge would have to rule out any evidence that Jones, say, was rich and Smith poor. Such a fact, even if true, has nothing to do with the "issue." Moreover, such irrelevancies of ten confuse jurors or arouse their prejudices.

3. Only an expert like a doctor, an appraiser, a chemist, a pharmacist, or an engineer can give opinions as evidence, and he must show his qualifications as an expert before the judge will let him express his views.

Lawyers keep inadmissible evidence out of court by making "objections." When the judge "sustains" an objection, the jury may not hear the evidence. Or if he does, the judge may "instruct" the jury to ignore it. Should the judge "overrule" the objection, the jury may hear the evidence.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. Dub Gresham and children of Wichita Falls are spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Henson.

Mrs. Clara Williams and Dolores of Morton were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCall and Debbie.

YOU ARE IMPORTANT

(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our fast-increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

Does your town have a community center where teenagers can hold meetings and play games? It takes work to establish such a center, but it doesn't need to be elaborate. Sometimes a very simple one is the best, but somebody has to sponsor it.

Many more individuals are needed for work with young people. You can volunteer to serve in one of the numerous organizations crying for help on every hand — the Scouts, the YW and YM, club activities for boys and girls.

We should also remember that after a community center is established, your help will be needed. It doesn't just run itself, of course. Ideas and volunteer help are a MUST.

There is need likewise for constructive activities for boys and girls in the churches. Get together a group of young people. They will have ideas about what they want to do, but they need your suggestions as well as your assistance.

Gathering at Home
Make your home a center for young people. Have a barbecue party in the back yard; start a song fest around the piano in the living room — or sing without a piano. Teenagers enjoy home more than we imagine — if there is something to do.

This job of promoting activities for young people is a tremendous one, but it is well worthwhile.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Differs With U. S. Congressman Who Wants The Government Returned To The People

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an odd idea this week, which is not unusual with him.

Dear editor:
I was listening to the radio the other night — I don't listen to it very much on account of it doesn't leave enough time to think, by the time somebody has said something and you settle back to think it over he's off on something else, I prefer a newspaper, where you can read a paragraph, think it over, sleep on it awhile, get up and walk around, and still come back to the same place — at any rate, I was listening to a Congressman, I don't even know what state he was from, and he said something that suddenly made me come alert.

What he said was: "It's time we returned the government to the people."
Now I have heard this statement lots of time before, but somehow or other it stuck in my mind this time and I've been thinking it over for a couple of days and have come to the conclusion that as far as I'm concerned I'm not sure I want the government back. Not at this time.

That is, I guess if I was running the government and it was in the financial shape it is, I'd be looking around for somebody to unload it on, too, but with my present financial strain I don't see how I can take it on.
Understand, I think the government's sound all right, it still owns more than it owes and it has an awfully steady income, and I think it will eventually pay out, but it's the longest-term investment I ever heard about, and some of its stockholders are the hardest people on earth to please.

Nope, I don't believe it's the right time to return the government to the people. We're saddled with so many other debts and burdens I just don't believe
