ASAFETIDA OR SALK VACCINE?

Asafetida is a foul-smelling gum resin derived from a plant native to the Middle East. Superstition and old-wives' remedies once endowed it with sweeping medicinal powers, but science has long since demonstrated its utter worthlessness.

Yet when a terrible polio epidemic struck New York City back in 1916, thousands of people put their trust in little bags of asafetida, tied with a string about the necks of their children. While the toll of the crippled mounted daily, while the virus killed one of every four of the stricken, frightened parents resorted to any measure that gave hope, turning even to the ridiculously futile bags of resin in their desperate effort to hold off the disease.

Today, we recognize the pathetic ignorance which dictated that action. But how much have we profited through new knowledge available to us?

Across the country, drug store shelves and physicians' offices are stacked with bottles of a substance that will protect against polio. It is called Salk vaccine. Its safety is unquestioned. Its effectiveness has been demonstrated dramatically by the rapid decline in cases among the vaccinated. The vaccine is inexpensive, and quickly administered. Yet millions of Americans are neglecting to make use of it. Millions walk the streets with no more protection against crippling polio than the thousands whose lives were destroyed or distorted by the epidemic of 1916.

The threat of polio has not been eliminated. The virus still stalks among us. If you have not taken Salk shots, you are still in danger.

The only way to have peace of mind is to get vaccinated NOW.

McCOMB, OHIO, HANCOCK COUNTY HERALD: "Drugstores across the country which have served their communities long enough to fill a million prescriptions are receiving some deserved recognition. They are being given plaques attesting this by Lederle Laboratories. One went the other day to a Savannah Georgia, pharmacy which filled prescriptions for General Robert E. Lee and which has preserved one of them as a cherished relic of the Confederate hero."

ELLCOTTVILLE, N. Y., POST: "Anger is a wind which blows out the lamp of intelligence."

HOW ABOUT PARCEL POST

The new postal bill passed both Houses of Congress without opposition, was signed by the President, and will become effective August 1. Charges for carrying mail, newspapers, magazines and advertising material will all be substantially increased.

The bill is designed to increase postoffice revenues by $350 million a year. However, almost half that sum — $265 million — will be absorbed by pay increases granted postal workers. Thus, a very big postal operating deficit will remain. This deficit has been running at around $700 million a year.

The new bill does nothing about a postoffice service which has contributed materially to the deficit for many years. That service is parcel post. The current charges, as the Hoover Commission and other authoritative bodies have pointed out, do not meet the cost of providing the service. So, in effect, all the taxpayers of the country are paying a part of the bills of those who use parcel post.

On top of that, parcel post is not a basic post-office function. It came into being late — in 1913. And stipulations laid down then by Congress — that it should pay its own way, that it should supplement, not supplant private parcel services, and that it should not unduly compete with private enterprise — have consistently and flagrantly been violated ever since.

The least the taxpayers should demand is that parcel post charges honestly cover all cost — direct and indirect.

ELOY, ARIZONA, ENTERPRISE: "Hard-to-understand government actions frequently result in the U. S. taking sideswipes at the very spirit of private enterprise which it so piously fosters in voice and print.

"Typical is a little-publicized but significant ruling by the Internal Revenue which disallows certain advertising expenditures made by a privately-managed public utility company, a ruling vigorously protested and now under test in the courts in the form of a suit filed by an affected company. The outcome of the case can indeed be far-reaching, and, in the opinion of many, result in a definite curb on a basic freedom, freedom of speech."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

If you are the parent of a youngster who will start school for the first time this fall, you can help yourself and the State Department of Health by requesting a copy of his birth record now.

Most school systems require a birth certificate to prove the child was six years old on September 1. By making early requests for birth records, parents can save themselves needless anxiety, their children some missed classwork, and the Department a great deal of time.

Several hundred parents have already requested and received records of their children's birth, but tens of thousands of additional records will have to be processed between now and the time school doors swing open for the new term. If too many people delay until August — as they usually do — the resulting bottleneck could very well mean your youngster will be barred when this first school-bell rings.

The reason is obvious. The vital staff of the Division of Vital Statistics — despite long hours of night and week-end work without overtime pay — can search just so many files, extract just so many records, and photostat just so many copies in time for school's opening.

Birth record keepers shudder when they think of the 247,500 children — an estimate supplied by the Texas Education Agency — who will be eligible to enter school for the first time this September.

Many of them have copies of birth records and will create no problem. Others live in areas where school officials do not require proof of age before admitting the child to classes.

But the majority do not have certified proof of age, despite the fact that they live in areas where school authorities insist on such proof. This is the category that means sleepless nights for health department statisticians and clerks.

The Department is prepared to give immediate service to requests coming in between now and mid-July. All parents have to do is give the child's name and date and place of birth, the mother's maiden name and the name of the father. That information, plus the legal fee of one dollar will buy anyone a copy of their birth record, providing the original is on file.

It's a good bet the original will be filed, since the Department keeps track of some 10 million birth and death records, some dating back to 1903.

There is just one more thing: If you don't care to write to the State Department of Health in Austin, check with your local registrar or county clerk. Chances

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

There are several types of summer squash, each of them attractive in color and interesting in flavor. Patty pan or scallop squash is round with a scalloped edge and greenish white in color. Crookneck or straight-neck is egg-shaped with a crooked or straight neck as its name implies, and is yellow in color. Zucchini or Italian is cucumber-shaped and dark green in color, sometimes with light stripes running lengthwise. Select squash with firm thin skin.

Fresh young squash needs no peeling, just scrubbing. Cook it in a very small amount of water. Between 1/4 and 1/2 inch boiling water in a covered pan is about right. Squash will simmer to tenderness in 10 to 15 minutes.

Stuffed Patty Pan Squash is a choice vegetable dish. Cook whole squash until tender, drain and scoop out the centers leaving a shell about 1/2 inch thick. Mash the scooped out centers and to them add chopped onion and celery that have been cooked tender in a small amount of butter, margarine or bacon drippings. Add salt, pepper and a dash or two of allspice. Fill shells with the mixture and sprinkle the tops with buttered bread crumbs or grated American or Parmesan cheese. Bake in a moderate gas oven (350 deg. F.) 20 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned.

Dorcas S. S. Class Meets June 29th With Mrs. Bowden

The Dorcas Class met in the home of Mrs. J. O. Bowden on June 26th. Each lady was asked to bring a covered dish and a thimble and upon arrival they found two quilts ready to be quilted.

After quilting for some time lunch was eaten and a business and social meeting was held. Mrs. Fincannon gave the devotional and Mrs. J. B. Bowden led the opening prayer.

Secret pals were then revealed and the ladies resumed their quilting. A wonderful time was reported by all.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hill visited Mrs. Earl T. Williams, who is seriously ill, in Amarillo last Tuesday. Mrs. Williams is a sister of Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Hill.

Twenty-four outstanding 4-H club boys and girls, representing the 12 Texas Extension Service districts, have been named recipients of the State Fair Award of Honor for 1958. Floyd Lynch, state 4-H club leader, said they were selected for outstanding achievements in general club work.

HOME GARDEN INSECT GUIDE AVAILABLE

A good home garden can be a source of much pleasure and reducer of the family food budget. But both the pleasure and saving can be greatly reduced by harmful insects if proper control is not exercised, say Texas extension entomologists.

With few exceptions, vegetable insect control is a preventive program. Control measures should begin before insects appear in damaging numbers. Dusts and sprays, in most instances, are equally effective.

A new leaflet has been released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops". It has a thorough rundown on insects that might harm almost any vegetable crop. It includes information on home garden mixtures, methods of application and precautions and contains a chart outlining a dust or spray program for controlling vegetable insects.

This leaflet should prove most helpful to all home gardeners. It can be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-255.

Decline Shown In Cotton Carryover

The supply of cotton in the United States during the 1957-58 marketing year is estimated at about 23 million bales — 4.6 million bales smaller than the record of last year and the smallest supply since 1953-54.

The carryover at the end of the present marketing year, August 1, 1958, is expected to be around nine million bales, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. This is the smallest since 1953 and 5.7 million bales below the record high of 1956 and two million bales smaller than that on August 1, 1957.

The disappearance of cotton during the present season is estimated at about 14.1 million bales, says McHaney. This is 2.1 million bales smaller than the 16.2 million bales last year.

In 1956-57, domestic mill consumption of cotton declined to 8.6 million bales as compared to 9.2 million the previous season and it is estimated that this year's figure will be about the same, points out the economist. So, mill consumption will probably be the smallest since 1953-54.

Exports during the 1957-58 marketing year are expected to be about 5 1/2 million bales — more than two million bales below the high exports of 1956-57 McHaney says. This compares with the 1935-49 average of about 5.3 million bales.

As of November 8, 1957, continues the economist, the U. S. government had allotted about 254 million dollars to finance cotton exports for the year ending June 30, 1958. If completely used, these funds will finance the export of about 1.7 million bales, as compared with exports of about 2.7 million bales financed with 406 million dollars last year. However, he adds, additional funds may be made available before the end of the current fiscal year.

In 1957, farmers produced an estimated 11.7 million running bales from the smaller acreage since 1878 and allotments during 1958 is 37,006 acres smaller than the 1957 allotment. Meanwhile, manmade fiber consumption increases annually, concludes the economist.

Mrs. Leona Manis and daughter, Sandy, attended a family reunion in Haskell last Friday and Saturday.

Week end guests in the home of Mrs. T. I. Phillips were her daughter, Mrs. Wilburn Morrison of Faxon, Okla., and granddaughter, Mrs. Clifford Richardson and children, Joyce and John, of Blythe, Calif.

Mrs. Andy Habib and daughters, Cindy and Sherry, of Corpus Christi are spending this week with her mother, Mrs. C. N. Smith, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pate of Abilene were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Moore.

Eddie Spotsnki has returned to his home in Fort Worth after an extended visit with relatives and friends here.

The newest, easiest, cheapest and most effective way to control Johnsongrass in row crops is to spot treat with oils or dalapon, according to Fred Elliott, extension cotton work specialist.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

Elimination of the 3% excise tax on the transportation of freight was finally approved last week by both Houses in Congress after a Conference Committee filed a Report calling for the outright repeal of this wartime levy. The public generally should feel the indirect benefit of this action in that this tax was levied on all shipments, and as a result, all consumers paid this hidden tariff. Also, the transportation industry should benefit in that it has been estimated that the tax was equivalent to the profits made by the common carriers in this country. The repeal of this tax becomes effective August 1. Efforts were made to remove the tax on passenger fares as well as some of the other excises.

The House last week defeated an attempt on the part of the Agriculture Committee to call up for consideration the new Omnibus Farm Bill. The refusal of the House to even debate the farm program in all probability means that there will be no general agricultural legislation during this session of Congress. No one can question the acute need for a complete overhauling of the farm program. Unfortunately, however, this question has become charged with politics. Also, different commodity groups continue to fight each other. Until the time comes that this whole question can be viewed objectively, there is little chance that there will be much accomplished.

It now appears that there is about an even chance that the Forty-Ninth State may be added to the Union as the Senate continues this week with its consideration of the Alaskan Statehood Bill. This measure has previously passed the House.

The present situation in Lebanon in many ways parallels the Korean Crisis of 1950. It is apparent that Nasser intends by the use of whatever means necessary to dominate the entire Middle East and to reduce every other Arab State to a satellite of Egypt. It is also evident that Russia intends to help him accomplish this. If the U. N.'s efforts to achieve the settlement of the Lebanon Crisis fails, then anything could happen in this area.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. Fred Buckles, Mr. R. R. Coker, Mr. Jim Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Wagner, Mr. Russell J. Henry, and Mr. Alfred J. Egerton, all of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Mr. Stanley Smith, and Mr. Kenneth Smith of Gainesville.

HEAVY IMPORTS OF MEAT HURT COAST PROCESSORS

Fort Worth — Word received in Fort Worth this week is that stepped up shipments of boned beef entering the United States on the West Coast have slowed down the operations of processors, in some cases 75 to 80 percent. One spokesman said, "Even if cows were 10 cents a pound cheaper, it would not slow down the imports."

The meat is used primarily by canners and sausage makers. The Florida Cattlemen's Association recently passed a resolution demanding that imported meats be labeled plainly as such, so as to minimize competition with United States meat.

New Zealand newspapers are also claiming that final arrangements have been made to ship 1,300 cattle from North Island, New Zealand to San Diego, California.

fornia. These reports indicate the Modern Imperial Cattle Company of California is expected to supervise the shipment which will be the first shipment of feeders to the United States. United States tariff is 15 cents per pound.

Projected imports of live cattle had been talked some months ago but it was reported later the prospective importers had abandoned the notion.

CATTLE OPEN FULLY STEADY TO STRONGER STOCKERS ACTIVE

Cattle trade was active and prices were generally fully steady at Fort Worth Monday. Fat steers and yearlings were highly uneven, as some buyers showed little interest in the offering at current prices. However, the few lots that were on hand cleared without mishap.

Cows and bulls were active, and stocker and feeder classes of cattle and calves again enjoyed very broad demand. Choice fat calves were in small supply.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $24 to $27, and common to medium sorts cashed at 16 to $23. Some pasture fed steers cashed at $25 and $26.25.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $24 to $27.50, a few higher. Common and medium grades sold from $17.50 to $24. Culls drew $14 to $17.

Medium and good stocker steer calves cashed at $24 to $30 and a few steer calves of lighter weights sold to $32. Stocker heifer calves of medium to good grade sold from $23 to $29. Medium to good stocker and feeder steers cashed at $22 to $26, and common quality sold from $18 to $21. Stocker heifers ranged

Texas Girl Wins 4-H Congress Trip

George Ann Hitchcock of Brown county, is well on the way to a successful career as a homemaker. She was named 1957 state winner in the 4-H Home Improvement program. For the 17th year, Sears Roebuck Foundation is providing the all-expense trip award.

George Ann Hitchcock

A 4-H'er for eight years, George Ann painted and revarnished walls and woodwork in her bedroom and improved four other rooms. She learned a lot about light and color combinations. Shelves, towel racks, additional closets and cabinets for the bedroom and kitchen became a reality under George Ann's expert hands. The entire family has benefited from this resourceful young lady's project work.

SHEEP AND LAMBS SELL FULLY STEADY

High grade offerings were virtually lacking in the sheep barns at Fort Worth. Trade was active and prices fully steady Monday on all kinds, quality considered. Good to choice slaughter lambs cashed at $21 to $23 and cull to medium Springers sold from $13 to $20. Feeder lambs cashed at $17 to $19.

Good fat yearlings sold from $17 to $18, and cull to medium yearlings sold from $12 to $16. Aged wethers sold mostly from $10 to $12.50. Slaughter ewes sold from $6.50 to $7.50. Aged bucks sold around $6 and a few solid mouthed bucks sold to $9. Goats cashd at $7. to $7.25.

HOGS FIRM, TOP $24.50, SOWS $21 DOWN

Hogs were steady and choice butchers cashed at $24.25 to $24.50. Medium to good hogs cashed at $22 to $24. Sows sold mostly from $19 to $21.

JUNE 15 PARITY ON LIVESTOCK REPORTED

USDA offices in Fort Worth made available the June 15 parity ratios this week. Beef cattle and calves were standing at 96 percent of parity, hogs were at 98 percent of parity, and lambs held at 82 percent of parity. Wool was only 53 percent of parity.

Well, I finally made it. I had been to Los Angeles and San Francisco — to Jacksonville and Miami — to St. Paul and Chicago but not to New York City; probably the only person of voting age in the United States who had never been there.

It was quite a thrill to see at last the marvelous skyline and to visit the scenes whose names were so familiar — Wall Street, Central Park, Harlem, the Bowery, Chinatown, Times Square, St. Patrick's Cathedral, Greenwich Village, Madison Square Garden, Radio City, the Tombs, Brooklyn Bridge, the Statue of Liberty, the Little Church around the Corner, and Broadway.

I saw five stage shows and watched the Yankees lose a double-header — (a glorious experience).

Yes, I took in the town — and conducted my own tour. The procedure effective in smaller cities, worked well. That procedure is to take one of the sight-seeing trips so as to get your directions and a knowledge of the city and thus be able to return to scenes that appeal to you for a more leisurely visit.

I never once got lost; even took the subway back from Yankee Stadium and got off just a block from my hotel. In fact so thoroughly at home was I that folks — (well, to be truthful about it, one man — a Central American, he seemed) asked me for the location of his hotel and I was able to tell him.

General impressions: There were the crowds I had expected all right but there was no jostling (except in getting on the subway) and the streets were no more dangerous to cross than those elsewhere; furthermore, I heard no bickering, much less angry exchanges — in fact, one got the impression that these people were friendly — or would like to be, if only they didn't have to be in a hurry to get somewhere so they could start back.

One thing, though: you will find that everybody speaks a dialect, except you.

I will have to go back to New York City, I forgot to see the Aquarium!

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Graham of Ennis visited relatives and friends here several days last week.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Unhappy With The Economists' Latest Theory That Good Times Can Cause Bad Times

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek reports on economics this week, without any affect on the situation.

Dear editor:
As I understand the reports from Washington, the recession, if we had one, has now hit bottom and things are picking up, although you've got to understand us economists speak only in general terms and it's possible to have a private recession in the middle of a boom and I suppose a private boom in the middle of a recession.

At any rate, I've been interested in what caused the thing and yesterday afternoon I found out from a newspaper the wind had blown against a fence out here on my farm. When a fence has no more wind resistance than mine, it's not good farming practice to leave a newspaper lodged against it, so I pulled this one off and read it.

According to it, nine economists were called on by a Senate Committee to explain what caused the recession and they thought it over and reported "the recession was caused by the good times of previous years."

This seemed to suit the Senate Committee, but it doesn't suit me. That is, I'm not arguing over whether it's right or not, what I want to know is: if good times are to blame for bad times, and everybody is always struggling and hoping for good times, aren't they just inviting a recession? When Congress passes a law trying to end a recession, isn't it just arranging for good times which will in turn bring on another recession?

I tell you, I don't like this theory of economics. It's like arguing the only way to end a rainy spell is to have a drought, or the only answer to a drought is a flood. It's sort of like blaming war on too much peace, or divorce on marriage.

Generally you might be able to argue that too many Democrats too long in power will bring on too many Republicans too long in power, with the things switching back and forth every few years, and that might be right, but I'd just as soon have some other arrangement for the econo-

TEXAS—TOPS IN SOUTHERN FARM PROTECTION

In the few years since 1951, Texas has moved from seventh to first place among 12 southern states in the amount and enforcement of protective farm legislation.

Our state is no longer regarded as an agricultural dumping ground. Today, Texas has come into its own both as a producer and consumer of high quality farm products.

We have asked for and received from the Texas Legislature the necessary weapons to clean up many of our farm problems.

Ten years ago, we were a convenient inviting garbage pail for the nation, serving as a wide-open disposal point for bad seed, unhealthy nursery plants, poor quality eggs and a host of other inferior products.

Until the necessary laws were passed and put into effect, the old saying was "If you can't sell it here, send it to Texas." Now this picture has changed. We can put more trust in our own production and know, too, that farm goods shipped into the state must meet certain standards of quality.

The clean-up of the grain scandals through the Texas Grain

Warehouse law is a case in point. Texas was one of the first states to strengthen grain legislation after the national scandals of 1952, and no major outbreak of public fraud had occurred since that time.

Through the Texas Seed Act, seed buyers have learned that testing and inspection protects them from fraud and deceit which earlier ran rampant.

Our nursery industry was offered greater protection by the revamping of the Texas Nursery Law in 1953. Strict inspections and impartial enforcement have prevented any major outbreaks of plant diseases and have protected unknowing home-owners from being defrauded by misrepresented stock.

The Texas Legislature five years ago approved a modernization plan which gave the Texas Department of Agriculture its first major overhaul in 47 years. As a result, many departmental programs offer greater services and yet are on a self-supporting basis, bringing the need for tax money to a bare minimum.

We are now leaders in the South. But we must look to the day when Texas will find its rightful place at the top of all the 48 states in providing protection to producers and consumers alike.

Mrs. Lucille Stodghill, Mrs. Roddy Griffith and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Groce and children of Torrance, Calif., visited Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Peak and children in Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lemaster and Bill in Lake Jackson several days last week.

Miss Diana Guffey of Megargel spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Howard Thompson, and family.

Two Billion Gain Is Forecast for Philanthropic Assets

Physical assets of the privately supported hospitals, educational and religious institutions in the United States will be increased by more than $2.5 billion in 1958, according to estimates of the American Association of Fund-Raising Councils.

Present indications are that there will be close to $2 billion worth of new construction alone this year by churches, private hospitals and educational institutions, says Carlton G. Ketchum, of Pittsburgh, President of the Association.

On the basis of current figures it appears hospital construction will show a considerable increase over last year, while there may be a slight decrease in the church and educational construction over the figures of the boom year 1957.

Of the $2 billion which will be spent for new philanthropic and religious construction in 1958, it is probable that more than half this sum will come in gifts from individuals, foundations and corporations.

The twenty-seven member firms of the American Association of Fund-Raising Councils assisted in raising nearly $1 billion last year for hospitals, colleges and universities, churches and other gift supported institutions. W

Smith had a set of books which Brown wanted. Brown wrote and offered him $200 for the set. Smith didn't answer for six months, and meantime Brown bought a similar set. One day Brown got a letter from Smith saying "I accept your offer of $200 for the set of books."

Brown told Smith he'd bought the books elsewhere, but Smith still claimed that his belated "acceptance" had nevertheless sealed the contract with Brown.

Was there a contract? No, the offer had lapsed because it had not been accepted in the circumstances within a reasonable time.

There are many ways to end an offer. You may withdraw it, you may say that the offer expires at a given time or you may die, or the other party may turn it down directly or by making a counter offer.

Here Smith had failed to accept Brown's offer within a reasonable time, which ended it just as though it had been withdrawn.

What is a reasonable time? It varies. The offer could expire in a few minutes in the stock market or last for quite a while, depending upon what a court would think is a reasonable time.

But in Smith's case six months was unreasonable.

REASONABLE TIME

Before a contract arises someone must make an offer and another must accept it.

Without an offer, no acceptance; with no acceptance, no agreement.

But there is often a time within which you can accept the offer. And if not, the offer ends anyhow within a "reasonable time" which is determined by circumstances and the parties' intentions.
