tically a thing of the past. Seventy-two times so far this year the form has lost its impersonal character and become grimly personal. At first blush you may think 72 cases of polio among some eight million Texans | High School and is employed at is an insignificant number.

But is it really? Can even single case be "insignificant" Use The Classifieds to Buy, Sell! Wichita Falls last Tuesday, when it costs an active youngster the use of arms or legs, or an adult the ability to support a family?

The thing that heightens the tragedy is that it might have been avoided. That's where the human error, or "apathy," or "ignorance" comes in

Like a 37-year-old North Texas man who firmly insisted that all four of his children be properly vaccinated, while at the same time complacently considering himself to old to be in danger. Now his name, age, address, and telephone number fill blanks on Form Number 68-R573. There is also a check mark in the "bulbar" square on the form.

Or like the 13-year-old Little League infielder and his 3-yearold sister, neither of whom had had a single shot of vaccine. It would have added hurt to injury to ask their parents why.

This human error - and that is the charitable name for it has caused one major manufacturer of Salk vaccine to discon tinue production of the vital fluid for which parents all over the nation were piously praying just a few short years ago. The reason: vaccine stocks simply are not being used. By the literal gallons, vaccine is growing old and impotent on drug store shelves.

It is a sad thing to see the polio surveillance forms come in each week. It is sadder still to reduce people to numbers for publication and mailing each Thursday to city and county health officers of Texas and to the Federal government. Somehow it makes you think of those famous lines by Whit-"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these: 'It might have been.'

Many Violators Show Big Lack Of Fishing Licenses

Austin Despite continued warnings and reminders of old and new game laws, Texas fishermen topped the violations hit parade in May with that familiar old malady: fishing without a license.

The no-license charge was made against 113 reports the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. This figure was below April with 166 violations, whlie the previous month's report showed only 42.

The increase, the Director said, is due to a move to clamp down on violators of the new laws. Game wardens had previously issued warnings.

Runners up to the fishing license violations were pollution with 16 and trespassing with 13 violations.

The total game and fish law violations in May was 211, which added up to $4,328.45 in fines and $364 in court costs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson and their three grandsons, Allen, Wade and Barry Stevens, and Mrs. Floyd Patton and Penney visited Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hunter and Tim in Iowa Park over the week end.

Home Vegetable In Most Of Texas

A good home garden can mean a sizeable saving in the family 9. And, of course, don't mix food budget and can provide source of high quality, "garden fresh" vegetables for which there is just no substitute.

The county extension workers of Texas reported 499,910 home gardens in the state in 1957, of which 268,000 were grown towns or cities, according to Bluefford Hancock, extension horticulturist.

Growing a garden is a way to pleasant and satisfying results to some people, while to others it Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Morrow of is an important part of the fami

But regardless of the purpose of growing a garden, there are certain rules that should be fol lowed to get the most out of it

First, plan the garden in advance, advises the horticulturist

it later - so, don't over-plant. Make a heavy application of organic matter and commercia fertilizer, suggests Hancock, Excessive rains in 1957 have brought about some leaching of plant nutrients from the soil particularly from the lighter, sandy soils. Heavy application of well-rotted organic matter t the garden site will help improv the physical condition of the soi and will supply some nutrient elements over a long period of time. Adequate applications commercial fertilizer will hel furnish a quickly-available source of nutrients.

Some other points stressed by Hancock are plant a variety crops; obtain seed of adapted varieties; treat all seed with protectant; and make a succes sion of plantings to provide veg tables for a longer period.

Quality Cotton In Good Demand

Extra rewards await the cotton producer who succeeds in producing a high-quality crop this year, while discounts for low quality will continue to be stiff, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

' The abundance of low-grade cotton that was left over from last year's crop will continue to depress the market for lower grades, points out Elliott. However, he adds, the present outlook for the 1958 crop indicates a continued shortage of high grade

A late spring, shortages of good seed, and too much moisture have contributed to a poor start for cotton this year in many areas. But the specialist says there is still plenty of opportunity to aim for high quality through careful management and harvest practices.

These practices include weed, disease and insect control: fertilization at rates based on Extension Service recommendations; irrigating for good maturity in areas where it is done with special reference to cutoff dates: careful harvesting and ginning; keeping low and high grade fiber separate and selling on grade.

Almost a third of last years cotton crop classified as spotted, resulting in a lower average grade for the 1957 crop than for any year on record.

Much of this spotting could and how to preserve that quality have been avoided through better management practices, says El liott. Widespread failure to adhere to such practices weakens cotton's position with synthetic and other fibers in marketing for in Brownfield last Saturday. many uses. And this, in turn, contributes to cotton surpluses and depressed prices.

"He doesn't listen to me," she wrote. "He doesn't even know When I try to talk to him he just gives me a $5 bill and says he has to meet a business friend. Surely his children should be more important to him than his business friends."

Big Change in the Times

It used to be easy for parents and children to do things together — many tasks around the house or farm called for joint effort, and the times made joint recreation easy. But to-day, with home chores limited and so many outside distractions, it is easy to drift apart.

A young boy brought before me had become delinquent largely because his father, busy making money, thought to re-tain his son's love by giving him THINGS.

Bost Offis Don't Cost Money

He failed to give him time and understanding. The boy sought significance elsewhere, fell in with the wrong crowd, and stole tires and gadgets for the car his father had given

Economy is what you save not what you do without

That's why Ford economy is true economy! The facts are plain. With the 58 FORD:

1. You don't have to do without modern styling to own a car within your budget

World-famed Thunderbird styling, a Ford exclusive, gives luxurious beauty to every 58 Ford. Yet Ford has the lowest-priced* convertible . . . and the lowest-priced* V-8 sedans and station wagons on the market today! You'll drive these beautiful cars with pride!

2. You don't have to do without big-car comfort to obtain a low price

Every Ford car has Automatic Ride Control . . . Angle-Poised Ball-Joint Front Suspension combined with long, tailored-to-weight rear springs . . . for a real luxury ride. For still greater comfort, front seats are foam rubber padded in every Ford model at no extra cost!

3. You don't have to do without lively performance to save on gas

The liveliest, most powerful Six you can buy is Ford's Mileage Maker Six. It's the only truly modern Six in any car today. With its exclusive short-stroke, low-friction design, this engine delivered the most actual miles per gallon of any car in Class A in the last two Mobilgas Economy Runs! Six or V-8 the savings are great in a Ford!
