Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

If you like those dinners of fried chicken, country sausage and all the trimmings, those home made pies and cakes like can only be served by those Rhineland people, then you'd better mark a ring around your calendar for noon-day Sunday, August 10.

That's the date of the formal dedication of the new Knights of Columbus Hall in Rhineland, and the folks out there are celebrating by serving one of those notable feeds. If you've ever attended one of these, you know what to expect, and the price is not prohibitive.

You see a picture of the new hall in this paper; but, of course, it doesn't show the interior, which you'll get to see if you go to the dinner and entertainment. You won't suffer too much from the heat either. When we made the photo Monday, we noticed three air-conditioners on top of the building.

"How's the cantaloupe business?"

It seems to have kinda gone to pot in this area this year. We asked that question of Wink Partridge last Monday, and he said he guessed he had some 8,000 or 10,000 pounds of the delicious melons go to ruin last week.

Trouble with cantaloupe is that when they're ready for market, they're ready, and won't wait in the fields like cotton and other stuff. And the melons seemed to get ready at the wrong time this year — just when they are coming off at other places, and there's not much market for them.

Some were marketed earlier in other towns. Wink went as far as San Angelo with a load. Some have been processed at the local vegetable sheds, but right now there seems to be cantaloupes to let — and there are no takers.

Cucumbers are still being processed at the transient labor shed. Those things, when they are bearing, need to be gathered almost daily in order to have the right pickling sizes.

Some grain is "being processed" in the fields right now. We noticed a combine running Saturday afternoon, and other fields of early maize are turning that ripe-red color, while combines are being prepared for the harvest.

It's too hot to pick cucumbers, too hot to run a combine, too hot for most anything, but the operations must go on.

Which reminds us of a crazy question B. O. Norvill asked us Monday. "How would you like to get out and head a few loads of maize right now?" He had reference, of course, to that "pocket knife" maize we used to grow before combines were known. During the conversation, we exhibited a scar on the ring finger of the left hand, where as a kid we got a bad enough cut while heading maize that we were told to quit and go home. Our job at that time was to take the "down row" — if you know what that means. B. O. did!

Ken and Hilton Stubblefield were not trying to beat that advance in postage rates last week, but just attempting to prevent a bog-down in operations. Anyway, they mailed their letters inviting people to their Humble Station's open house celebration. Some people received their letters on Friday — in time to believe the event was last Saturday. Open house is Saturday, August 9, so if you were one of those who visited the station last Saturday, these boys are looking for you back next Saturday.

GRAIN WAREHOUSE TO BE ERECTED

CHURCH MEETING

The Unity Association of the Trinity Baptist Association will be held at the Bethlehem Church, 5 miles northwest of Munday on August 8, 9 and 10th.

Cotton Quota Penalty Set At 19.3 Cents

Farmers who grow "excess" upland cotton this year will be subject to a marketing quota penalty of 19.3 cents per pound, according to word received by the Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office. As required by law, the Department of Agriculture has set the penalty at 50 per cent of the parity price effective as of June 15. The penalty rate on extra long staple cotton is 41.6 cents per pound.

Growers approved marketing quotas for the 1958 crops of upland and extra long staple cotton in referendums last December 10. When cotton marketing quotas are in effect, ASC Committee Chairman H. H. Partridge, explains, a farmer who does not comply with the cotton acreage allotment established for the kind of cotton grown on his farm is subject to a penalty on his farm marketing excess. The cotton crop from such a farm is also ineligible for price support.

Each type of cotton is treated independently. Mr. Partridge points out. Upland cotton cannot be substituted for extra long staple cotton or vice versa.

She was assisted by Mrs. V. F. Albus in presenting the awards. Mrs. Carl Coulston presented music throughout the program.

Miss Shirley Yeager left last Wednesday night for Fort Worth, where she joined Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Yeager and left Friday evening for a vacation trip to Ft. Pierce, Fla., and other points of interest.

FORMAL DEDICATION — of the new Knights of Columbus hall at Rhineland, above, will be held next Sunday with dinner being served at the hall from 12 to 1:30 p. m. This new hall replaces the old one, a landmark of Rhineland, which was destroyed by fire some time ago. Entertainment will also be given during the day, and the public is invited to view the new hall during their visit.

Northwest Texas Lay Retreat Set

HAPPY — Approximately 600 laymen from throughout the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference are expected to gather at Ceta Canyon Methodist camp near here Friday, Aug. 8, to Sunday, Aug. 10, for their eleventh annual retreat. Program activities will get under way Friday evening and will close Sunday noon.

Featured speakers for the event will be Dr. Roy L. Smith of San Diego, Calif., former editor of the Christian Advocate, national magazine for Methodists, and R. J. Genins of Chicago, Ill., Associate Director of the Department of Stewardship and Finance, the General Board of Lay Activities, The Methodist Church.

No registration is necessary. Laymen are asked to take bedding and personal towels. Only charge is for meals.

Ray H. Nichols of Vernon, conference lay leader, says the three day meet will involve study, worship, inspiration and fellowship and that this year's program is one of the best in 11 years.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

It has been a long, hot summer and there are probably no "blue northerners" in sight for two or three months yet.

When you have moved to town you don't lay by the crops at this time of the year like Pa and Ma did a few years ago. However, if you are still turning the sod for a living you are probably awfully glad to get an opportunity to sit on the front porch for a day now and then instead of riding a tractor in the sun.

Most farmers break out in a cold sweat at the mention of income taxes, but the "Farmer's Tax Guide" that a lot of farmers picked up at the County Agent's office last winter has a lot of cold facts for front porch study on a hot summer day. The "Farmer's Tax Guide" will save farmers dollars come next January.

"You can be assured of complete comfort throughout the afternoon's entertainment," those in charge stated "as the hall is air conditioned and complete with ladies' lounge. This is their first open house, although the boys have been operating the station some two months. The entire family is invited to this open house, and all will be warmly welcomed.

Absentee Voting Started Monday

Absentee voting in the August runoff primary started last Monday, and a number of persons who expect to be out of the county on August 23 are voting absentee.

The runoff primary will have a very short ballot, although interest in the election is expected to be high since there is a runoff in the state representative's race and in two precinct commissioners races.

Only one state-wide race is scheduled, and that is for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court (Place 1). This is between Robert W. Hamilton of Midland County and J. Edwin Smith of Harris County.

For State Representative, 83rd District are Ed Cloud of Rule and Donnell Dickson of Seymour.

These are the only two that will appear on the ballot for voters of Commissioners Precincts 1 and 3.

Voters of Commissioners Precinct Two will select their county commissioner. This race is between W. W. Trainham and Clyde Beck.

Precinct 4 voters will also select a commissioner. In the runoff race are George Nix of Goree and Billy Mitchell of Munday.

Joe is a native of this area, and left Munday some time ago to receive training in radio and television service in Fort Worth. The family just recently returned to Munday.

"We are specialized and trained to give you fast and dependable service on all makes and models of T. V. sets" Morrow said, "and also specialize in service on auto radios. We solicit your patronage and will give you satisfactory service."

Flow was through 16-64 inch choke from perforations at 2177-81 feet. Hole was bottomed at 2246 feet.

Rupe's No. 1 J. W. Ward, in the S-B (Lower Tannehill) field, five miles northeast of Knox City, flowed 85 barrels of 40 gravity oil, plus 5 per cent water, during 24-hour test, from pay perforated at 2189-93 feet. Total depth was 2250 feet.

L. M. and C. E. Williams potentialized two wells in the Plumlee (2nd Tannehill) Field two miles north of Munday. No. 16 L. W. Hobert flowed 132 barrels of 36 gravity crude per day from perforations at 2024-32 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 205-1, and well was bottomed at 2110 feet. No. 19 L. W. Artes Oil Co. has staked No. 1 J. W. Howell as a 2350-foot wildcat 5 1/2 miles northeast of Knox City.

Front Range Oil and Uranium Co. of Denver Colo. had completed No. 8 Urbanczyk in the Hack-a-thorn (Tannehill) Field 4 1/2 miles northwest of Munday. The well pumped 85.62 barrels of 35 gravity oil per day from pay perforated at 2018-21 feet. Total depth was 2065, and gas-oil ratio was 300-1.

County Democratic Convention Held In Benjamin; State Delegates Named

BENJAMIN — Liberal forces here took charge of the Knox County Democratic county convention Saturday afternoon and unreeled the election of state delegates and adoption of resolutions without an opposing voice.

Collins Moorhouse of Benjamin was elected as the permanent county chairman and Bill Sams of Knox City was named the permanent secretary.

"I understood there were some conservatives coming from Goree and Munday, but they failed to show up for the meeting," Moorhouse said.

About 35 people — including a large percentage of ladies — were present in the Knox County courthouse at 2 p. m. The only precincts not represented were one from Goree and two from Munday, Moorhouse stated.

Two DOT sponsored resolutions were passed while a third was rejected by the group.

Delegates to the state convention are to be Jack Barker of Benjamin (chairman), Bill Sams of Knox City, and H. H. Partridge also of Knox City.

Alternates elected were Sam Leaverton of Benjamin, C. J. Reese of Knox City and C. P. Baker of Munday.

The convention adopted a resolution which condemns Gov. Daniel's proposal to dispense with precinct conventions and elect delegates by placing their names on the ballot.

They also adopted a proposal to the effect that the voter's poll tax receipt be stamped with the party preference or "no preference" as the case may be. It also stated that a member of one party could not participate in affairs of the other.

The rejected proposal specified that delegates to the state convention must vote as was previously determined in their senatorial district caucus.

"The big cities like Wichita Falls would dominate the senatorial caucus and then we would be required to honor their choice in the state convention," Moorhouse said.

"We just wouldn't have any voice in the state convention that way."

"Please come early," Mr. Jungman stated, "and bring a basket lunch, your card table, and folding chairs. The basket lunches will be served at noon."

NEW MIRACLES IN THE MAKING

The agricultural revolution, far from being spent, is just beginning. The past 50 years have seen hand and horse labor disappearing from the fields; trends today indicate that the future will bring complete mechanization and precision control of nearly all farmstead operations.

This forecast comes from Earl D. Anderson, president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. As he sees it, four major trends are now in being: mechanization of farm chores and materials handling; providing proper environmental conditions for livestock; storing and processing crops for a marketing profit; and strong emphasis on quality control of farm products.

Of these four, he considers the first is probably the more important. In his words: "The farmer who steps down from his tractor equipped with finger-tip control of the hydraulic mechanism is loathe to feed his cattle with a bushel basket." And this farmer no longer needs to do chores the old hard way. The engineers have developed all manner of highly efficient machines to take the place of human muscle and more are coming.

President Eisenhower has pointed out that farm productivity per man hour has actually doubled since 1940 — and this increase is as great as the total increase between 1820 and 1940. Mechanized equipment, electricity, improved fertilizers and pesticides — these are forces that have transformed farming to an almost miraculous degree. And new miracles are in the making.

COMING OR GOING?

The following brief editorial is from The Wall Street Journal:

"We were scanning the papers the other day, duly noting the crises that abound and mulling the words of famous people who keep getting themselves and their countrymen in hot water, when we came across the news that this month marks the 100th anniversary of Charles Darwin's theory of evolution.

"Further reading of the day's news led us to wish Mr. Darwin was still around so we could ask him just one question: Are we coming or going?"

U. S. News & World Report says that the farm-machinery industry sees better times ahead. The reasons: large 1958 harvests, and the improved financial position of farmers in general.

A SHORT STORY ABOUT PROTECTION

Out of Africa comes a story about a cattle rancher who was plagued by lions. They raided his corral, broke down his fences and made off with his prize bullocks and heifers.

The rancher got himself the most powerful gun he could buy and kept it loaded at his bedside. But now, for one reason or another, no lions attacked.

After a time, the rancher put his rifle on the shelf. Then he took the cartridges out, and when the rainy season came the bore rusted.

One quiet summer night the lions came prowling again at his farm. He rushed for his gun but couldn't find the bullets, and when he did, the rifle was so rusty it wouldn't fire. The rancher suffered fearful losses.

This story parallels the history of the Salk vaccine. The American public contributed millions to the March of Dimes to find a preventive for polio paralysis. The Salk vaccine, developed on a March of Dimes grant, was the long-sought-for answer.

But now that we have this weapon, we allow it to spoil on warehouse shelves. Three out of seven polio-susceptible persons have failed to get their shots. So alarmed are polio authorities like the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that they warn against new polio epidemics this summer.

Nobody else's vaccination — not even your children's — will protect you. Each person has to get his own. Don't take a chance — take your polio shots.

WHO IS THE WINNER?

If Elfrida Von Nardoff, record quiz show "winner" of $220,500, thought she was going to have a big bank account from her once-in-a-lifetime accomplishment, she had a sad awakening.

After the tax collectors skimmed the cream from her earnings she had left about 50,000 forty-eight cent dollars. That's the price of big wars, big centralized government and piecemeal acceptance of the socialistic philosophy which saddles us with the "welfare state".

This is the biggest summer ever for outdoor eating, says Chain Store Age. Sales of barbecue grills, charcoal and accessories by food chains with two or more stores will total over $20 million this year.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

Onions are so often used for seasoning or served as a relish, but they are usually overlooked as a real leafy green vegetable. They are just that and may well fill the need for a leafy green vegetable in a well-balanced diet.

Knowing how to select onions is important. Mild yellow red or white Bermuda types are best for serving raw. Smaller or "hot" onions have a stronger flavor and are more satisfactory for cooking. Dry onions should be bright, clean, well-shaped and have a hard, dry skin. Green onions should be crisp and tender with fresh green tops, medium and they should be white two or three inches from the root.

Store dry onions at room temperature or slightly cooler. They keep best if spread out rather than being piled together. Store green onions in the refrigerator in a tightly covered container.

The substance that gives onions their distinctive flavor is a volatile oil and it is this oil that cause tears. Holding onions under water while peeling and cutting prevents the oil fumes from rising and so prevents tears.

It is not necessary, as we once believed, to cook onions in a large amount of boiling water in an uncovered pan. Cook them in just half an inch of water in a covered pan. Bring the water to a boil, reduce the flame to simmer and simmer the onions until tender, 20 to 40 minutes, depending on size. This method of cooking retains food value, flavor and shape. One pound of onions makes four servings.

Onions Polonaise are easy to prepare. Brown 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs in 1/3 cup butter or margarine. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, a dash of paprika and mix well. Sprinkle mixture over hot cooked onions. Makes four servings.

Quickly dress hot cooked onions for four by sprinkling them with 1/2 cup grated American cheese and 1/2 teaspoon celery seed. Toss lightly until mixed and serve at once.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Glazed Onions: Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine over a low gas flame. Add hot cooked onions to serve four. Sprinkle onions with 6 tablespoons brown sugar. Cook over low gas flame 10 minutes, turning and basting frequently. Sprinkle with coarsely ground black pepper. Makes 4 servings.

WHAT ABOUT THE PEST SITUATION?

Some expressed opinions to the contrary, there are not armies of imported fire ants gnawing at the very steps of the Texas State Capitol Building nor are there frightened South Texas mothers guarding their cribs against hordes of rats which come in the night. The pest situation is not at such hair-raising proportions.

But we do have serious problems with fire ants, rats, and other of nature's pests which will cost Texas agriculture hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage alone in this critical year.

The imported fire ant, subject of a great deal of national notoriety during recent months, has established itself in eastern Texas, and a concerted effort is being made, through quarantine inspections of soil-bearing plants, to curb any further westward movement. Where he finds a home, the fire ant builds its near-impenetrable mounds and makes misery for every creature that comes near. Results of the anti-ant push in recent weeks are encouraging.

Down in the Winter Garden area have appeared a number of nature's most unpredictable and most despicable pests — rats. Much to the chagrin of street-roaming, these vermin have taken to the fields, wreaking serious damage to melons, peanuts and other crops. This worst Texas rat infestation in forty years is being combatted through the best known means of control through combined efforts of the U. S. Rodent Control Division, the State Health Department and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

On the West Texas Plains it has been the grain-hungry grasshopper, and the fight against this prolific pest has been a costly necessity this year. Spray units blanketed the Panhandle this summer to prevent the grasshopper from reaping man's harvest.

And there are others — at least one serious pest for every major commodity.

South Texas pecan growers, for instance, are uniting to fight the destructive walnut caterpillar which has forsaken his namesake in favor of the best of all edible nuts — the Texas pecan. Cotton farmers have the boll weevil and the pink bollworm to contend with.

There is no point in denying the annoying presence of undesirable pests. The important thing is not to accept or give in to them. Because they can and will be coped with.

DESIRE TO TEACH

"Not because I desire a gift; but I desire fruit that may abound to your account." (Phil 4:17). Most of us who teach or preach do so not that we might receive some gift or compensation; there are many endeavors that are far more profitable. We teach because we desire and like to teach and because we hope to bring forth fruit that will abound to the account of our students in the day of judgment. No one can be a successful teacher that does not have such a motive to sustain him. Such a desire to teach will cause one to regard the many problems that arise in teaching as challenges rather than as excuses to quit and let someone else do it. The real teacher knows that there are going to be many problems and comparatively few rewards.

One who desires to teach is willing to make preparation for teaching. He is willing to prepare an exemplary character by becoming a genuine born-again Christian. He is willing to prepare his mind for teaching by "studying to show himself approved unto God." (II Tim 2:15) He is willing to give himself to "reading, to doctrine." (I Tim 4:13), and to make a careful and thorough study of each lesson that presents itself. Not only will a teacher become thoroughly familiar with the Bible, but he will also be a careful reader of all good literature that he may enrich his teaching with timely illustrations and comparisons.

When one desires to teach, he will himself be a student of human nature. He will know and understand people and present his lessons according to the level of ability of his hearers. Jesus, in his parables, broke down the weightier matters into the simplest of everyday things that He might reach His hearers. The good teacher realizes his responsibility to "warn every man, and teach every man in all wisdom; that he may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus." (Col 1:28).

We've heard of the need for more and better teachers in our schools, the need is echoed a hundredfold in the church. We need men with a desire to teach who will "cease not to teach and preach Jesus Christ." (Acts 5:42), not for the gift they might receive but for the fruit that might be brought forth. — Ed Kirk

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A reliable service bureau of the State Bar of Texas

LOOKING AHEAD (Legally Speaking)

You can tell a lot about people by the way they regard time.

Do they put stock mostly in the past — their record; the present — they direct joy in work or play; or the future — their plans.

Why not use all three dimensions of time? Past experience to guide, the present for zest, and the future to realize dreams.

Lawyers report a sharp shift in the way people regard time and the law: Of old they thought of law in terms of past facts like failures to meet legal duties, misdeeds, etc. — facts useful chiefly in lawsuits.

You still have to think of the record, since you may have to go to trial some time. So keep good records of your affairs. But more and more people now also think of the law in future tense — in terms of built-in safeguards for plans which they want to go through without legal hitches.

Our heavy income and death taxes have made people plan a head legally, rather than wait for the ax to fall.

Any time you buy or sell a home or a business or make an investment you have choices of how you may do it — some wise, some not, in view of your circumstances. Should you insist on an abstract or accept or offer instead a title insurance policy? (Your lawyer has a definite part to play in either event.)

Should you do business as a sole proprietor, a partnership, or corporation? Do your contracts set out ways of meeting unexpected events? How best may you serve your estate (and also carry out your wishes) — by a will or trust, or by direct gifts?

While all of these things point forward, the past in the form of court records can serve you by showing where trouble may come from.

As more and more people know the symptoms of legal trouble — where to look for legal hitches in plans before big trouble starts, there will be fewer law suits and better human relations.

And where does trouble sometimes start? Most often where you lack a clear grasp of your relationship, your rights and

SURVIVAL STOCKPILE

ODCM Has Vast Supplies In 'Bank' If U. S. Is Hit

One of the nation's largest "bank accounts" against the possibility of enemy attack is the Office of Defense and Civilian Mobilization's stockpile of strategic materials.

Stored away in 43 ODCM warehouses across the United States are about $225,000,000 worth of medical and engineering supplies — enough to aid millions of Americans after an attack.

MEDICAL STOCKPILES include 1,832 civil defense emergency hospital units and back-up supplies estimated sufficient for the emergency medical care of 4 1/2 million persons for three weeks.

In the engineering stockpiles are approximately 25,000 tons of equipment and supplies. They contain material essential to restoration of public facilities — water pumps, generators, purifiers, storage tanks, pipe and similar items.

To assure that this survival "hardware" will be located where it would be most needed after an attack, ODCM has chosen warehouse sites convenient to but outside the nation's 92 critical targets.

Among these storage sites are three "general reserve" warehouses with stockpiles designed to supply any section of the country. Most unusual of these reserve storage areas is the vast underground warehouse in a converted limestone mine near Neosho, Mo.

IN THIS HUGE privately-owned cave, shared by ODCM with the stockpiles of industrial concerns, is 14 acres of space served by special automatic sprinkling and ventilating equipment.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Bcard

It now appears that Congress will probably adjourn sometime within the next ten days; therefore this will be the last of these weekly reports until January when the new Congress convenes. Immediately after Congress adjourns, I expect to return home and to be there most of the time until the first of the year. During the recess, I will be in every County in the District and hope to have an opportunity to visit with as many people as possible. My address there will be 206 Federal Building, Wichita Falls. My phone number is 322-8379.

As usual, the last week in Congress is a rather hectic one with the sponsors of literally hundreds of bills trying desperately to get them considered before adjournment. Since this is the second session of Congress, any bill that is not approved before we leave will die.

This week the House will act on the agriculture bill, the authorization for the new Space Administration, matters pertaining to veterans, education, merchant marine, creation of new courts, new design for the Flag that was made necessary by the admission of Alaska to the Union, increase in the public debt limit, housing, and distressed area developments. Many of these measures have already passed either the House or the Senate, and some have even passed both and have gone to Conference Committees. If this log jam can be broken, it is possible that adjournment may come this week end. If not, it will probably be delayed for another week.

It appears that the Mid East situation has stabilized and that most of the American troops can be moved from that area within the next few weeks. The Summit Meeting, which now appears to be a reasonable certainty, could be very productive and it is hoped that it will not be used as a propaganda forum by the Russians.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Dudley and sons, Dan, Jr., and Bill, of Denton; Mr. Curtis Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Dabney and daughters, Mary Jane and Diane, of Vernon; and Mr. and Mrs. Garland Eubank, and Rev. and Mrs. Earl Hoggard and children

Motorists Warned Of Farm Machines Now On Highways

This is the season of the year when both vacationing motorists and farmers are driving on the nation's highways; but if safety precautions are not followed, only one of them may drive off, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

Tractors are slow-moving vehicles made to do heavy field work and in most cases are unstable at high speeds and not meant for highway travel. Most of the time when there is a collision between a farm tractor and an automobile, the tractor driver is killed.

A little mutual consideration can help prevent many of these accidents, points out the council. Automobile drivers should be alert and watchful for equipment which may be on the highway and farmers can help by carrying warning flags in daytime and proper warning lights at night.

Lack of electrical equipment doesn't relieve the farmer of the responsibility of carrying warning lights. A lantern in conjunction with good reflectors can be a big help in warning approach-

Farmers should plan ahead to avoid unnecessary movement of farm equipment on heavily traveled roads, advises the council. Too, they should slow down for turns and leave the tractor in gear when going down hills. Only experienced operators should be given the responsibility of handling farm machinery on public roads.

Better entrances to driveways and fields plus courtesy on the part of both motorists and farmers may save lives.

IN CADET TRAINING

Gary Offutt left last Saturday for Camp Bergstrom, near Austin, to spend the month of August in R. O. T. C. cadet training. He will receive his commission and B. S. degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Texas in June 1959. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Offutt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rayburn of Albuquerque, N. M., visited his brother, John R. Rayburn, and family several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holcomb and family were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

OVER 65 VOTED EXEMPT LICENSE TO FISH, HUNT

Austin — Texans who have reached 65 years of age now may have a sportsman's proof of his age.

The Game and Fish Commission has approved a suggestion that a card be prepared which will be offered as proof of age, according to the Assistant Secretary of the Commission.

Hunting and fishing licenses are not required of Texans who are over 65 years of age. Heretofore when these persons are questioned by game wardens, it was necessary for them to show some proof of their age, such as driver's license. The proposed ID card is a courtesy card not required by law.

Under the new program, which will become effective Sept. 1, an exempt card now may be obtained from license deputies. The card will be issued on proof of age, which can be obtained from driver's license, social security, insurance certificate, or poll tax receipt.

Once the card is obtained renewal will not be necessary, according to the Assistant Secretary.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

4-H's Trained In Leadership Reaches New High

CHICAGO — It is expected that more 4-H boys and girls than ever before will receive county medals this fall in recognition of leadership abilities. The reason is that enrollment in the 4-H Leadership program is expected to break the 1957 record high of 140,230 for the 48 states, according to the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Club members competing for state honors will receive a fine pen and pencil set — one for a girl and one for a boy. Because leadership activities of these young people reach beyond their local communities and clubs, sectional and national awards have been provided for exceptional achievement.

Eight sectional winners — four boys and four girls — will be delegates to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, next December with expenses paid. Each will also be eligible to try for a $100 college scholarship awarded to the boy and girl selected by a committee of judges for national honors.

In addition, the national winners will be formally presented with a beautiful silver tray appropriately inscribed, and will be invited to visit Washington, D. C., with four other national 4-H champions during 1959 4-H Club Week beginning February 28.

FALL FORECAST

Something new has been added to this smartly tailored car coat of Everglaze Futored Corduroy cotton. The coat, a Buck Skein Brand design, has a detachable hood.

ners will be formally presented with a beautiful silver tray appropriately inscribed, and will be invited to visit Washington, D. C., with four other national 4-H champions during 1959 4-H Club Week beginning February 28.

All awards are given by Edward Foss Wilson through the National Committee and the Cooperative Extension Service.

Child Safety Arouses Women

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

WHEN CHILD SAFETY becomes an issue, women go to work.

Take the case of Janelle Brim-bake of Provo, Utah. Hoping to make a neighborhood of youngsters more safety-conscious, she taught bicycle maneuvers to a small group of children. She coached them in proper signaling and handling of their bikes.

Soon more requests than she could handle poured in from other sections of town and Janelle's program was taken over by the Police Dept., P.T.A. Board of Education and the City Recreation Committee.

A special program on bicycle safety was launched, which included classroom instruction, oral and performance tests, a film on bicycle safety, and an S.O.S. (Safety on Streets) club with membership cards, letters stenciled on bike fenders and summer outings.

At last count, there were 800 S.O.S. members.

In Bellaire, Ohio, the Pilot Club, a group of business and professional women, appalled by the rising number of accidents involving child pedestrians, decided the community needed added safety instruction.

They distributed several thousand copies of safety books to the high schools, and sent coloring books on pedestrian safety to the grade schools.

Literature was distributed to adults, safety posters put up, radio spots arranged for, and weekly good driving awards were given.

To climax the program, the mayor proclaimed an "All Bellaire Safety Day", and most citizens attended neighborhood safety meetings.

son home last Thursday and visited here several days.

CATTLE RUNS AGAIN BIG IN NORTH, PRICES SAG

Fort Worth — Predictions made last week by observers at Fort Worth that the current break in cattle prices would carry over into this week, came about in the trade at major terminals of the nation Monday.

Cornbelt and Western States feeders sent nearly 120,000 cattle and calves in to the twelve major terminals, one of the largest runs of the year. Early estimates of 25,000 at Chicago Monday were surpassed before the day was over. Some 18,000 cattle appeared at Omaha. Most of the offerings were fed steers and heifers and prices reeled downward again at all markets.

The heavy pressure on fed cattle bore the rest of the cattle and calves downward, despite the fact grassers were in small supply again at most points. Again the trade displayed the marked sensitivity of feeder cattle buyers and most points reported declines in feeder cattle almost as steep as in the finished beefs.

At Fort Worth shorted steers and heifers predominated, and many of the cattle were short-feds or supplementally fed grassers. Declines of 50 cents to $1 per hundred were common through the list. Canner and cutter cows bore up a little better than some other classes and were not appreciably lower. Many sales of shortfed cattle, either packer or feeder kinds, were fully $2 under ten days ago.

Good and choice slaughter steers cashed at $23 to $27, and a load of choice fed heifers sold at $27, the top selling fed cattle were mates to cattle that sold in the $28 range one week ago. Common and medium sorts cashed at $16 to 22.

Fat cows cashed at $17 to $19, with just odd strictly choice to $20. Cannons and cutters drew $11 to $17. Bulls sold from $17 to $21, odd head to $21.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $23 to $26.50, and common and medium sorts cashed at $17 to $22. Culls drew $14 to $16. Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $28.50, and stocker steer yearlings ranged from $26.50 downward. Some feeder steers ranged from $23 to $25. Plainer stockers ranged downward to the $18 to $22 bracket.

HOGS OPEN STRONGER, WITH TOP $23.50 & $23.75

Trade was rather slow getting under way at Fort Worth Monday as somewhat larger supplies around the marketing circle were reported. However, good butcher hogs opened steady and closed 25 cents higher, as the national packers contended for the better meat type butchers.

Good and choice butcher hogs cashed at $23.25 to $23.75 and medium to good sorts sold from $22 to $23. Sows ranged from $19 to $21.50. Stags cashed at $12 to $15. Bears sold from $10 to $12.

of activity as he planned the Casa Manana which was to open in a few weeks under the stars on the world's biggest revolving stage. It was afternoon but the little producer, not yet dressed for the day, was wearing a robe as he strode around talking, long distance, over a phone with a cord 20 feet long. (The reason I was there? I was the publicity director.)

The place was filled with people; John Murray Anderson, the director who had the task of making Rose's dreams realities; songwriters; a New York drama writer getting an interview in the bedlam — when there came a buzz.

I opened the door and before me stood a man who was wearing a smock and a beret. Under his arm he had several big pieces of cardboard. In a piping voice, he said, "I want to see Mr. Rose."

To myself I muttered, "Another crack-pot," and to protect Rose from a nuisance, I responded, "I'm sorry; he's busy and can't see you" and closed the door.

Rose, who had heard the voice, shouted "Let him in! He's the costume designer!"

He was the foremost one in this field in the theater; his designs were bizarre, striking startling and the coloring fantastic, rich, spectacular. I had shut the door in the face of a genius!

All of that far-away, long-ago scene came back when I saw a poster in front of a theater showing a Broadway hit: "Costumes designed by Raol Pene du Bois."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

Many Texans like to spend their vacation time with an extended trip to far away places.

There are several health risks in travel to strange places, but knowledge teamed with common sense can make your trip both safe and pleasant, provided you take the trouble to follow a few simple rules.

Immunization requirements for foreign travel vary from country to country and should be determined in advance so that you have ample time to receive the proper immunizations.

By all means, you should be protected against typhoid, smallpox and polio. Your family doctor, local director of health or the State Department of Health can advise you on these recommendations.

While it is probably safe to drink water in the big tourist hotels and the big cities everywhere, the traveler who gets off the beaten path should, in most areas, be careful!

The only safe water should be filtered and treated in an approved manner and approved by the local health department. Coffee and tea are not necessarily safe because of boiling, and carbonated or noncarbonated soft drinks from unfamiliar sources should be avoided. And don't forget that ice cubes from polluted water can contaminate any drink.

Unless you are sure that the local milk is absolutely safe, and that the custards, ice cream, etc., are made from safe milk, you had better steer clear of them.

There is no rule that cooked food is safe food, but you should be especially careful of uncooked foods: refrigeration standards may be poor and, especially in sub-tropical climates, foods will spoil quickly. Many local farming habits bring sewage into close contact with vegetables, so eat only fresh vegetables and fruits that you are sure of.

Bathing in salt water is usually safe unless the water is grossly contaminated with sewage. Water infested with dangerous fish-sharks, barracuda, piranha — should of course be avoided.

In some places of the world, blood worms or flukes are prevalent and bathing in fresh water pools or rivers may be dangerous, so seek local advice.

Also, walking barefoot in southern climates where hookworm is prevalent should be avoided. If all this sounds dangerous, perhaps you should see America first!

MRS. BAIRD'S ENRICHED BREAD

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

A special eight-member committee within the State Health Department is now at work trying to unravel one of the knottiest problems of the day: What causes accidents and how can they be prevented?

Accidents are the fourth leading cause of death in Texas and the nation generally. Of all the patients in America's 6,000 hospitals, almost seven percent are victims of accidents. Thirty-two of every 100 patients seen in hospital emergency rooms are accident cases. The care of accident victims in hospitals cost upwards of $350 million every year.

If it were not for preventable accidents, our shortage of hospital beds would not be nearly as acute as it is. At least 50,500 beds are presently devoted to accident patients — beds desperately needed for sufferers of non-preventable chronic diseases.

There is one bright spot in the accident picture, however. State Health Department records show a noticeable decrease in death rates from motor vehicle mishaps for the past few months. Perhaps this is due to state and national educational campaigns.

As for accidents of other types, little improvement can be seen, despite the time and money spent on massive educational drives to alert the public to hazards of their environment. Accidents still happen with appalling frequency even where no hazards exist. We know the ages most susceptible to accidents, the most prevalent types, and that males are more liable than females. We know the results — how accidents maim and kill — but much of their cause and methods of prevention remain puzzles yet to be solved.

This is the mammoth task assigned to the new health department committee. With each member an authority in his own field, the committee composed of specialists in nursing, health education, occupational health, vital statistics, engineering, mental health, maternal and child health, and foods and drugs.

Studies by competent researchers show that only 15 of every 100 accidents happen purely by chance. The rest are products of human failings — haste, inattention, preoccupation, distraction — all of which may result from the emotional strain of anxiety, anger, fear, frustration, hate aggression, or guilt.

As a start on their enormously complex task, the new health department committee will attempt to correlate accidents with biologic conditions such as fatigue, temporary stress-produced inattention, impaired vision or hearing, or underlying disease.

Their findings may open up a whole new approach to the control of accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. Detry Trammell and Deann and Mrs. Frank Trammell and Audrey visited Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Trammell and family in El Paso last week. They also toured Carlsbad Caverns and visited points in Old Mexico.

Glenn Amerson visited friends in Lubbock over the week end.

DISASTERS, natural or man-made, call for immediate stocks of medical supplies and often other equipment for furnishing safe drinking water, electricity or other essentials in order to save lives and aid the victims. Civil defense stockpiles of litters and other supplies are located in 43 fully-manned U. S. warehouses for use in times of national emergency or major natural disaster upon presidential approval when other supply sources are exhausted. (American Red Cross Photo)

Extra Luggage—Safety—Should Be Taken On Vacation

AUSTIN — J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association said today that each vacationing Texan will do well to take along an extra piece of luggage on this year's trip.

"The bag I'm talking about won't take up any room and won't cost a cent in expenses," Musick said. "In fact, it will save you from a lot of unnecessary expenses and may even save your life. The extra luggage, of course, is Safety."

Musick urged motorists to pack at least five safety packages inside the extra suitcase along with other vacation equipment.

(1) Legal Safety: Adapt your driving to road conditions and obey all traffic signs and rules.

(2) Mechanical Safety: Make certain your automobile is in good mechanical condition — have it safety checked.

(3) Viewing Safety: Load your car so that vacation equipment and luggage won't block your driving vision.

(4) Sober Safety: Don't mix drinking with driving. Remember, drinking motorists were involved in more than a third of all rural fatal traffic accidents in Texas during 1957.

(5) Time Safety: Allow plenty of time for your trip. Get the proper rest and try to maintain a maximum of patience on the road. Don't rush to "make time."

"It is amazing how many drivers make real work out of their vacation driving," Musick said. "Some of them return home exhausted and more in need of a rest than when they started out. It will pay to remember to: Slow Down and Live!"

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore, Mrs. Boyd Moore and Linda Kay and Mrs. Earl Brewer attended the home coming at Forestburg last Sunday. They met their sister and daughter, Mrs. Hazel Orrell of Texas City, there.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Yandell and daughter of Graham spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yandell and Mrs. Bess Guinn.

4-H'ers Strive To Be Good Citizens And Able Speakers

CHICAGO — Good citizenship is emphasized in all 4-H Club work, while just about every project or activity requires a certain amount of talking and demonstrating before club members and other groups. Many 4-H'ers also are invited to appear on local radio and TV programs.

To encourage personal development in these two activities, the Cooperative Extension Service directs the 4-H Citizenship and Public Speaking programs. In many states, urban as well as rural boys and girls between the ages of 10 to 21 participate.

Incentive awards are offered in both programs. In citizenship, certificates of honor will go to the best qualified boy and girl in the state who then become eligible to try for national $400 college scholarships.

Club members competing for public speaking awards will qualify for county, state, and national honors. All awards are for one boy and one girl in each classification. County winners receive medals. The top boy in the state will get a handsome 19-jewel wrist watch and the girl a beautiful set of silverware. Both will then be eligible to compete for national awards which are $400 college scholarships, and expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Donor of the public speaking awards is the Pure Oil Co. Awards in the citizenship program are given in honor of Thos. E. Wilson, a pioneer in aid to 4-H youth. Both programs are arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Scholarship To Be Awarded To Printing School

Huntsville — A five-thousand dollar annual scholarship plan has been authorized for the Southwest School of Printing, a division of Sam Houston State Teachers College.

The Scholarship plan will give ten top-ranking high school graduates more than five-hundred dollars a year to attend the school said Phil North of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, chairman of the school's scholarship Committee.

Robert L. Gleason stated, "applications should be mailed immediately to me in care of the college, Huntsville." Gleason also stated, "the college will have a special air-conditioned dormitory for printing students next year."

Afton Schulz, publisher of the Temple Daily Telegram, and retiring president of the printing school said, "Our school has doubled its enrollment in the past eleven months and I predict that within the next two years it will be the finest school of its kind in the south if not the nation."

Forty-Five newspaper publishers and commercial printing plant operators attended the recent one day meeting, and pledged their moral and financial support in order to perpetuate the school's proposed scholarship program.

Officers elected for the 58-59 term are: H. Ben Decherd, Jr., of the Dallas Morning News, president; R. H. Porter, Steck Company, Austin, vice-president; Phil R. North, Fort Worth Star Telegram, secretary; treasurer and Bryan Snyder, Jr., Johnston Printing Company, Dallas, assistant secretary-treasurer. The executive committee included officers Schulz and W. H. Egan of the Egan Printing Company, Dallas.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Defends The Intelligence Agency For Refusing To Face Up To The International Facts

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is back on the international level this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
What I know about the international situation is about like—well, let's put it this way, I don't know nothing about it, do you, although I'm quick to say this isn't embarrassing, or at least I don't feel lonesome about it, as I guess man's greatest achievement today is his ignorance of what's going on in other countries, and I have achieved even more than that as most of the time I don't know what's going on in this country either. No use expecting more of me than you do of Congressmen and editors.

But what I started out to say is that last night I was reading in a newspaper where a Congressman in Washington is disturbed because the American intelligence system abroad has been falling down. As I understand it, the Central Intelligence Agency is a secret organization spread out over the world to send Washington information on what's going on in other countries, but lately the organization has been sort of slow to find out, apparently getting its information mostly from the newspapers, the same as the rest of us, and consequently has been taken by surprise by some sudden revolts in the Middle East.

Now this Congressman was pretty critical about the Intelligence Agency operators, complaining that apparently they've been "whistling in the dark and hoping things aren't as bad as they are instead of facing the facts."

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

What I'd like to know is what's wrong with such a system? That's the way I function. All my life I've been hoping things aren't as bad as they are instead of facing the facts, and I'm here to tell you the system works.

The only way I know to make a crop year after year is to refuse to face the facts and hope it's a lot better than it is.

The only way to vote satisfactorily is to hope the candidates aren't as bad as they are and whistle while you mark your ballot.

The only way to raise a bunch of children is to hope they aren't as bad as they are, and look the other way instead of at the facts. You can whistle too if you want to, but it'll be drowned out, and in the final wind-up the kids probably won't turn out much better than you.

The only way to get along with a wife is to . . . well, I'd better cut this off now, you never know who's going to read it.

What sort of world for them?

With mingled pride and wonder you watch them—absorbed in their play. How sure the young builder's touch...how graceful the deft girl-gestures! You treasure each promise for the future that shows in their choice of toys and activities.

And always in your heart is the prayer that they will grow up to a world as happy as the one you've made for them. A world full of opportunity, where each may choose the life work most satisfying and fulfilling.

There's one way to help make your dreams for them come true! Be on the watch for ideas that could deprive them of their right to free and independent action.

The idea, for instance, that "government should run such and such—a business, an institution, a service." Yet experience has shown that the more things government controls, the less freedom there is for the individual.

Use your "woman-power" to refute this idea that "government should run things." Remind those who are for such a theory that the loss of anybody's independence is a threat to everybody's freedom.

Very much aware of this danger are the independent electric light and power companies, because government already runs part of the electric business. And powerful people are pressing to take over more.
